

Escape Wife 1471

Chapter 1471 Don't Be Too Smug

A girl's face suddenly occurred to Lucas.

Without saying a word, he blocked that guy, and then he arrogantly left a word.

"Scram!"

After doing that, Lucas lay down and decided to take a rest.

He hadn't had a sound sleep since he came back. Lucas could tell from Samuel's look that the whole thing wouldn't end easily. He'd better recharge his battery now.

When Samuel noticed that his son was not here, he gently shook his head and lifted the corner of the mouth slightly.

He blocked all the surrounding signals before dialing the number Tim sent to him.

"Tim gave me this number. He told me to call you if I need help."

Samuel said with a voice changer.

He wouldn't reveal himself so quickly unless he knew the person on the other side of the phone was on his side.

It was a girl who picked up the phone. Hearing Samuel's words, she hurriedly said, "I know what you want to ask. Everything here is as normal as usual except that the principal is out for a business trip now. However, there seems to be someone at the principal's office. No one is allowed to come in."

"Alright, thank you. I hope that you could forget what happens today."

As soon as Samuel hung up, he searched for the location of the principal's office online and sent it to Ernesto.

"Go and see whether there is something weird about this office."

"Yes, sir."

Ernesto put what he was doing aside and quickly set off.

Not long after, Samuel received a message from Ernesto saying that there was nothing at the principal's office. Ernesto tried to get something by collecting fingerprints, but there were no one else's fingerprints found except for the principal's.

That confused Samuel.

Either his men lied to him, or the other party was so cautious that they ran away.

Anyway, this clue could not be followed up. Samuel didn't know where Laurence was now, so he could only follow the tracker.

Samuel checked the location of Laurence which was marked by a red dot. Samuel could tell that Laurence crossed the border of Country F, but he stopped somewhere.

He quickly zoomed in to have a closer look and found that Laurence was Prince Jayden's Palace.

'So Dr. Miller and the person who backs him up has something to do with Jayden?'

Samuel couldn't figure that out, so he sent a message to Davon and Phoenix.

That night, Prince Jayden's Palace caught fire. The fire raged, fueling the existing conflict between Leo and Jayden.

Jayden thought that Leo was the culprit of the fire. As soon as the fire was put out, Jayden began to strike back with his cabinet. At the same time, Davon and Phoenix sneaked into the ruins of Prince Jayden's Palace.

Davon looked at Phoenix who insisted on following him and signed, "Didn't I tell you to wait outside?"

"Why should I listen to you? Little Davon, don't you think you've given me too many orders recently?" rolled her eyes mischievously. She

Phoenix was a little nervous and tightly grabbed onto Davon's clothes. Her serious face was pressed against Davon's chest, and her warm aura was seducing Davon.

Davon's face was a little flushed.

Obsessed by Phoenix, Davon's blood was boiling. If it weren't for the urgency, he would have assumed that Phoenix had done it on purpose.

Phoenix was too engrossed and didn't realize it. But Davon felt a twinge at his heart at the sight of her alert look.

Phoenix had been living in fear and caution these years. She was tense basically at every moment.

He reached out and held Phoenix in his arms. They exchanged hot breaths, with an air of temping.

Later, Phoenix realized it and wanted to break free, but Davon tightened her grip. She could feel the burning aura on his body.

Her face blushed.

Davon would take a good look at her shyness if it weren't for they were in the basement.

He calmed down and heard that the basement door had been opened. Then, some people came up from below.

"Be careful, the blood is not easy to get. Don't spill it."

The leader wore a mask and couldn't see what he looked like, but Davon knew the blood in his hand from.

This was Laurence's blood!

The blue blood shone with a strange light.

Davon narrowed his eyes slightly.

He didn't know whether the blood was taken here or brought here, so he couldn't know where Laurence was.

Phoenix also saw it and couldn't help but want to follow out, but she was stopped by Davon.

He shook his head at her and waited for those people to leave before saying, "Finding Laurence is the most important thing now."

"But if those people have studied the composition of the blood thoroughly, it would also be a disaster."

Phoenix was very worried.

Davon had told her that Laurence's blood was valuable. If it was used by someone malicious, it would cause disaster.

"It's fine. Their research won't succeed."

A trace of coldness flashed through Davon's eyes.

He followed quickly and knocked out the unprepared last person. He took off the man's white coat and put it on before Phoenix dragged the man away.

The moment Kim saw Davon come out, he was finally relieved.

"Are you alright?"

"Fine. Have you brought the thing?"

Davon couldn't help but curl up his lips when he saw the light in Kim's eyes.

"Yeah. This time, I have the old devil to wish he was dead."

A trace of anger flashed through Kim's eyes.

He would never forget the last scene when his father Eason died.

Although Kim had been by his father's side these years, his father didn't know Kim was his son. In the end, they recognized each other. Unfortunately, his father was killed by Leo. No one understood Kim's pain except for Davon.

"Kim, Leo can't die now for some special reasons, but sometimes living is the biggest punishment, right?"

Davon felt guilty for Kim.

Of course, it was reasonable to kill Leo. But he needed to give the country and the people an explanation.

Kim knew what he was thinking.

"Don't worry, Davon. I understand what you mean. Death is a relief for him. Living in such pain is the best punishment and revenge to him."

"I'll keep an eye on you from outside. Just do it yourself."

Davon's words instantly made Kim's eyes wet.

"Thank you, Davon."

"It's OK, silly boy. Hurry up. We have to go home later."

"Okay."

They quickly entered the palace. This was due to the plan from Phoenix and her secret deployment in Country F over the years.

Although Leo made some changes in his room, Davon and Kim dodged and quickly entered.

"Who is there?"

Leo suddenly looked up. When he wanted to pull off the alarm, he was blocked by Davon who had already covered his mouth.

Kim shut down the alarm system just now.

The moment Leo saw Kim, his eyes suddenly widened.

He tried to cry out.

He wanted to say something, but he couldn't say a single word clearly.

Davon sneered and said, "Are you surprised? The Sawyer family should have been killed by you long ago. How could we appear in front of you?"

Jayden was accused of conspiring to usurp the throne. Later, Zayn became the King as the only surviving descendant of the Freeman family. Since then, the civil war in Country F ended.

Phoenix was shocked that everything happened so quickly. After Davon returned, he said nothing and just dotingly touched her head. Then he took Laurence's blood to the laboratory and started his research.

He felt that he had nothing to do with situations in Country F anymore.

Leo was sentenced to life imprisonment. Phoenix visited him as a relative.

She never thought that King Leo, who was once masterful, would be in such a miserable state now. He needed someone to take care of him when he went to the bathroom. But his carer didn't work hard at all. Leo had suffered abuse but it wasn't enough to kill him soon.

This should be the cruelest punishment for him. He had to repent and atone for his sins alive.

Phoenix felt that she might be cold-blooded because she seemed to be like a stranger the moment she saw Leo. Perhaps when Leo sentenced her mother to death, she became as cold as stones.

Once she walked out of the prison, she saw a person in white by the car waiting for her.

Suddenly, she was enveloped with warmth. Her bad memories and sadness seemed to dissipate with the appearance of that person.

"Davon!"

Phoenix suddenly shouted, her eyes shining with delight and tears.

Davon suddenly opened his arms. Phoenix jumped into his arms like a child. He watched her and hugged her tightly, "Let's go home."

"Alright, home."

Phoenix never knew that one day, she would feel warmth and delight when hearing the word "home". She had always thought that home was a cold place. Now, Davon changed her thoughts.

After they returned to the Sawyer's, Kim had begun to take over the Sawyer's business. Because of their special relationship with Zayn, the Sawyer family had offered half of their property to support Zayn to issue the new policies which could recover the country.

Zayn kept his promise. He helped the Sawyer family to become the leader of the four great families.

Davon saw Zayn again on the third day after the civil war finished.

Davon suddenly came to visit Zayn at night. Zayn seemed to have known about it and asked all guards to go.

"You are here."

Zayn looked at Davon who was related to him. He knew that everything he got was the result of Davon's cooperation and Samuel's support.

He was grateful to Davon, but he didn't know how to face Davon. It made him feel uncomfortable.

Davon didn't care about Zayn's thoughts, and he directly went to the wine cabinet and poured a bottle of red wine for himself.

"Hey, that's the last one in my collection."

Zayn frowned and felt somewhat distressed.

Davon was really a devil!

Every time, Davon would grab things he valued most.

Davon smiled mischievously.

"I won't drink it unless it is the last bottle."

"You are simply..."

"What happened?"

The person who came was Zayn's assistant who had been promoted after he returned to his country, and he was someone Zayn trusted. At this moment, he ran in with a panicked expression, and Zayn's heart lurched.

When the assistant saw Davon, he wasn't surprised at all. He only paused for a moment and looked at Zayn. Seeing that Zayn didn't want to hide it from Davon, he quickly said, "The Dark Forest in the north has exploded."

"The Dark Forest?"

Zayn's expression suddenly changed.

"What's wrong? Is there anything wrong with this Dark Forest?"

Seeing Zayn's changed expression, Davon instantly became nervous and uneasy.

Zayn looked at him and whispered, "The Dark Forest is a primeval forest. Normally, no one can enter it, and no one dares to go there after the beast incident. That was why Leo moved the Military Research Institute into the Dark Forest last year."

"Military Research Institute? Isn't it in the palace?"

Davon could remember how he got in and out. Now that he heard Zayn say this, he couldn't help but feel a little surprised.

Zayn shook his head and said, "The Military Research Institute in the palace is just a shell. How could a person like Leo, who cherishes his life, put such a dangerous biochemical facility under his nose? Isn't he afraid that an explosion will blow him up someday? The real research facility is in the Dark Forest, and I only learned about it recently. Because Leo didn't pass the throne to me, I don't know the route, but I didn't expect it to explode. If the liquid under research leaks out, the consequences will be unimaginable."

"Where's Laurence?"

Davon suddenly thought of Laurence.

It was impossible for the Military Research Institute to explode for no reason. Furthermore, they had no clue about who was behind Laurence. Wasn't Dr. Miller not there? So, did Laurence do it?

Davon always felt a little uneasy.

Hearing that, Zayn hurriedly asked his assistant to look for Laurence, but when Davon and Zayn arrived, he was nowhere to be seen.

Corpses were everywhere in the Military Research Institute in the palace and the victims died miserably. They wore white coats with numbers on them. They were probably all members of the institute.

But these people died.

Broken arms and legs made people feel nauseous.

The bloody scene dimmed Davon's eyes.

Laurence did it?

But why in such a bloody way?

He knew from Samuel that Laurence had gone to the island for special training, so if he wanted to kill these people, he could kill them with a single slash. There was no need for such a cruel method of dismembering them unless Laurence's hidden killing spree was activated. He could lose his mind and become a killing machine.

Thinking of this, Davon became solemn.

"I'll go home. Don't go to the Dark Forest. I'll bring someone there."

Chapter 1476 Have No Rationality at All

Davon used all his strength to exhaust Phoenix.

When he saw the hickeys on her body and how tired she was, Davon's eyes flashed with a wisp of heartache.

He stood up and lit incense, kissed Phoenix on the forehead, and then left the room with reluctance.

"Mr. Kim."

Ever since Kim took over the Sawyer family, Davon had the servants address him as Mr. Kim.

"If I don't come back in two hours, tell the maid to go in and dress the young lady and take her away from the secret passageway. I've told the King that there will be a helicopter waiting on the lawn behind. No matter what happens, you must safely send her to the Don's in Z Country. Do you understand?"

Davon's voice was very cold, and his men immediately agreed.

"Yes, Mr. Davon, we guarantee that we will protect the young lady even if it means death."

"Please."

Davon looked in the direction of the bedroom again, then resolutely turned around and left.

He was afraid that he would be reluctant to leave if he stayed any longer.

Phoenix was his weakness and also his concern. No matter what would happen, he hoped that she would be safe and sound. Although Zayn was in Country F, the country still needed time to recover. As Zayn did not succeed smoothly, many things were in a mess. It was not wise to let Phoenix stay at this time.

However, he knew Phoenix's temper. Once she knew what he wanted to do, she would probably follow him like Kim.

Laurence's situation was too unstable, and he did not know what had happened. In the face of unknown dangers, Davon neither dared to nor could take risks.

After arranging all of this, he lifted his foot and walked out of the door. He saw that Kim was already waiting.

"Brother, are you done?"

"Yep."

Davon nodded.

He rarely smoked. Ever since he was with Phoenix, he had planned to give up smoking, but at this moment, he felt somewhat uneasy and irritated.

Davon extended his hand towards Kim.

"Give me a cigarette."

Kim hurriedly lit it and handed it over.

Davon looked at it, took it and put it in his mouth, then threw Kim's cigarette and the lighter away.

Kim was immediately stunned.

"Brother, they are mine!"

"It's not good to smoke. Quit it."

Davon lectured as he smoked.

Chapter 1477 This Is Definitely Not True

Phoenix suddenly woke up from a nightmare. Her entire body was covered in sweat.

She had a dream that Davon was standing in front of her covered in blood. He looked at her affectionately without saying anything.

Phoenix was chasing after Davon in her dream, but he was floating farther and farther away.

Yes.

He was floating.

Such a dream worried Phoenix.

She looked around and did not find Davon. Then, she got up and left the room. When she was about to ask, she saw the Sawyer family's signal soaring into the sky from one direction.

"Something went wrong. Mr. Davon is in danger. Please hurry up and follow me to help."

A team leader hurriedly said, and then he quickly led his men out of the door.

Phoenix suddenly became nervous.

'Did Davon go out to do something dangerous?'

Thinking of how he used to play with her not long ago, she thought, 'How could he be in danger after such a short time?'

Without putting on her coat, Phoenix followed the men into the car, heading straight to the Dark Forest.

When she arrived at the Dark Forest, she trembled.

'Davon went to the Dark Forest!'

'Is he crazy?'

'Didn't he know that the Dark Forest is a primitive forest?'

Phoenix's palms were covered in sweat, and her face was as pale as paper. Intense uneasiness filled her heart, making her feel uncomfortable.

When the team leader saw that Phoenix had no time to say anything, he directly grabbed one of his men and asked, "Where are Mr. Davon and Mr. Kim?"

"Mr. Davon went in first. Something seems to have happened. Mr. Kim followed closely in and hasn't come out yet."

That man didn't go in, so he felt a little guilty about not knowing what was going on inside.

Phoenix ran inside like crazy.

Along the way, Kim had cleared the path out of weeds and other things.

Phoenix walked along this path, only to discover that Kim and the others were standing there with their backs facing her. No one spoke, as if they had been frozen.

The surroundings were filled with a strong smell of blood.

Phoenix swallowed. She tried her best to suppress the unease in her heart and walked towards them step by step.

She could even hear her heartbeat as if her heart could jump out of her throat at any time.

"Kim, where's Davon?"

Phoenix said softly. It was as if a magic curse had been suddenly broken. Those people quickly turned around. They were in sync as they stopped Phoenix from going inside.

"Phoenix, why are you here? I'll have someone send you back."

Kim's eyes were red, and there were even traces of tears that he hadn't even had time to wipe.

Phoenix's heart skipped a beat.

"Mrs. Green!"

When Morgan heard the sound, she ran up to Nicole's room. Her face turned pale with fright because she found Nicole was on the ground. She hurriedly asked someone for help. After Nicole was put onto the bed, Morgan inserted the needles at some of her acupuncture points.

When Samuel heard the news, he quickly rushed back.

"What's going on?"

Nicole's face was pallid. Samuel looked at her nervously.

"I don't know. Mrs. Green suddenly came out and fainted."

Morgan's heart was beating wildly. Nicole was still weak. She did not know what could make Nicole put her child in danger.

Samuel seemed to know the season.

Nicole must have got the news, he thought. When he knew what had happened to Davon, he was at a loss. How was he supposed to tell her? However, he didn't expect her to be so excited.

"Is she alright now?"

Samuel put on a serious face.

Morgan took a deep breath and said, "Mrs. Green should be alright now. Recently, she has been supplementing with her nutrition, so the child should be fine. But she can't go out for the first three months."

Samuel did not know if Nicole could endure this. After all, Davon was the only boy of the Dons and William had never seen his son before.

"Take good care of Nicole."

Samuel said. Then he got up and went to the study.

He made a call.

"What's going on with Davon? Where's Laurence and what happened to him? And what about Dr. Miller?"

Samuel's cold voice was so scary.

"Mr. Green, the sanatorium is heavily guarded. We failed to sneak in. Our people are all dead. We have no idea about what's going on inside."

"You haven't figured it out? Something has happened to Davon. Laurence hasn't contacted our people and he disappeared. Now, you told me that you found nothing. What are you guys doing?"

Samuel knew that everyone had done their best. Their opponents were too powerful. Although he usually fought with Davon, he hoped Davon would be safe. As for Laurence, he was their friend. Now if Laurence knew he had become a killing machine, how painful would he be?

How about Phoenix? Was she all right?

Thinking of this, Samuel quickly called her.

When Phoenix saw Samuel's phone number, she paused. She didn't want to answer it, but she did, because she didn't want Samuel to worry about her.

"Mr. Green."

Phoenix's voice was hoarse.

"Mr. Lucas, I..."

Cara didn't know what to say. Lucas pushed her away and quickly went to the study to call Samuel.

"Samuel, Cara told me that Uncle Laurence had killed Uncle Davon, is that true?"

There was no response on the other side for a long time. Lucas would have thought that Samuel had hung up if he couldn't hear the breathing.

"Speak! Daddy!"

Lucas was on the verge of tears.

He knew better than anyone how much Mommy longed for and cared about her loved ones. He had never seen Davon before. It was said that he was Elvis' son. And Elvis looked the same as grandpa. Therefore, for Mommy, Davon was different.

No wonder Mommy fainted.

Samuel didn't know how to reply to Lucas.

"Lucas, Be good. Take good care of your Mommy. Don't let Mommy go out, okay?"

"Do you think whom I can stop at this time? Mommy or Auntie Cara?"

Lucas burst into tears.

"Why? What's wrong with Uncle Laurence? How did this happen?"

No one could answer his question.

Samuel was confused. He had set everything out properly, including every link. He even arranged his men as backup in Military Research Institute. That was why he dared to let Davon meet Laurence. And he avoided Laurence's berserk time. So, where did the problem come from?

"Lucas, I'm kind of busy right now. I'll talk to you later. Be good. You're a little man. You'll protect Mommy, won't you?"

"Yes."

Lucas hung up the phone and looked at Nicole's room, not knowing what to do suddenly.

Just as Samuel hung up the phone, his man came to report.

"Mr. Green, there is no one in the sanatorium."

"What are you talking about?"

He came here wounded. Before entering the sanatorium, he got this news from his man. He was stunned.

"Dr. Miller isn't here. He left in a helicopter a few minutes ago."

"Where did he go?"

"I don't know. Our people have followed him."

From the man's words, Samuel knew that Neville had been in the sanatorium. So, he had nothing to do with Laurence's berserk state. Or Jayden contacted Neville before he died?

However, his men were in the Military Research Institute. If Jayden's men attacked Laurence, his men would tell him. There was no way they just sat by.

Nicole looked at Samuel with gratitude and guilt. The person who understood her best sure was Samuel. Because of this, she felt even guiltier about Samuel.

She had insisted on keeping the child, but now, she couldn't care about the safety of the child.

It would be fine if Samuel had never expected it. Right now, he was waiting for the arrival of this child. However, it would happen to them that he might lose his child, which an ordinary person could not bear.

"Samuel, I..."

"Don't say anything. I know your heart and I understand, so this is also my choice. Nicole, you have to promise me that no matter what happens, you have to calm down. You need to take care of yourself, understand?"

Samuel looked at Nicole and didn't feel any better.

This was his wife, the woman he cherished and wished to take good care of, but she was worried and afraid because of his negligence. Now that even their child might be involved, how could he blame Nicole a little bit?

"I know."

"And Cara, you too. I know that you are worried about Laurence and yearn to make him rational. But if possible, I don't want you to go over. Sometimes there is no good to be emotional. He is no longer Laurence, so you'd better be prepared. Don't lose your life in vain. Although you might think that it's no big deal to be killed by Laurence, Nicole will be sad. "

Samuel looked at Cara and said slowly.

Cara was stunned for a moment, and her heart seemed to be ripped.

The man she loved was not a beast at all!

However, she could not say it out loud. After all, someone had died.

She still couldn't believe how Laurence, such a good man, could turn into a murderous maniac.

She didn't accept it! And she didn't want to, either!

But what Samuel said was right. Cara found it hard to refute while Nicole was looking at her with worries, so she could only nod.

"I see."

"Pack up and set off later."

As soon as Samuel finished speaking, Cara ran out. Her tears wet her face, but she didn't know who to talk to.

'Laurence, what's wrong with you?

Did you forget me? Did you forget everything between us?'

Cara felt that it was the most unbearable moment for her.

Lucas also went out.

When only Nicole and Samuel were in the room, Samuel told Nicole about Neville.

There was no need to hide it from Nicole at this time. The more she knew about it, the safer she would be, and she would look at the problem more rationally.

Nicole frowned slightly.

"Dr. Miller is dead?"
