Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1491 Sure Enough, They Did It on Purpose

However, Samuel did not say anything. He only glanced at Xander and found that he was sitting there calmly whispering something to Audrey. Then, Samuel shook Nicole's hand and said, "You are not strong in the first place especially after all this trouble. Now after the meal, you can go back to your room to rest."

"I..."

Originally, Nicole wanted to say a few words to her parents, but seeing the two so intimate, she really felt that she was redundant.

Alright, they hadn't seen each other for so many years. It turned out that her birth should be an accident. Just let the couple be glued for a while.

"Mom and Dad, Samuel and I will go back to our rooms. Lucas, let's go. Let me check your recent schoolwork."

Nicole did not forget to take Lucas as she was leaving.

Audrey's face flushed a little. She was a little shy.

Nicole felt that Audrey now was much better than before.

Sure enough, Xander was Audrey's medicine. And Nicole thought that she needed to ask Davon about the poison in her mother's body another day.

After the whole family left for their rooms, Lucas got a little depressed. He saw with his own eyes his parent being so intimate upstairs and his grandparents acting the same way downstairs! How would he live the day!

"Mommy, what are you doing with my schoolwork?"

Lucas approached Nicole but was dragged by Samuel by his collar to Samuel's laps.

"Your mommy is not well, so she can't hug you. Stay on my laps."

Hearing Samuel's words, Lucas wore a scornful expression. He really didn't want to sit on Samuel's laps, and he had no intention of letting Nicole hug him.

Lucas felt that he needed to face up to this problem. Just as he was about to say something, he heard Samuel say, "You sleep here tonight."

This sentence frightened Lucas quite a bit.

Ever since Lucas knew that Samuel was his father, Samuel had possessed Nicole all by himself. Even his sister didn't have the luck to sleep in their bedroom. So what was exactly going on?

Nicole was also stunned.

This was not the usual way Samuel acted.

Seeing his wife and son looking at him, Samuel was a bit embarrassed and said, "Didn't Dad say it was cold outside? I think Lucas' bedroom is too large and empty. And if he is with us, he will be safer."

Since when did Samuel care about his son like that?

Nicole and Lucas said in unison, "Try to speak like a human!"

Lucas was somewhat speechless.

Didn't he look like a loving father?

"Samuel, are you alright? Don't use me as a cover. You always want me to be away and you can be with Mommy alone. Just tell us what's going on."

Nicole nodded.

Samuel gave an awkward cough and said, "It's hard to say but I just feel a little strange and am about to go out for clues tonight."

"Are you suspecting my parents?"

"Laurence!"

Samuel shouted urgently. He didn't dare to stop and quickly moved aside.

Laurence paused, staring at Samuel with his scarlet eyes. But Laurence was just in a daze for a moment. Soon he quickly attacked Samuel again.

Audrey and Xander came over. When they saw Laurence and Samuel fighting, they were stunned for a moment. Then Xander hurriedly said, "Go to distract Laurence and protect Samuel."

Some people beside Xander quickly followed him to help Samuel. And Samuel was relieved a bit immediately.

Xander took the opportunity to pull Samuel out.

"Xander."

Samuel's expression was complicated. He didn't know what to say, and he couldn't say anything in this situation. Laurence was so strong that he threw all people away directly.

At this moment, Davon came out of nowhere. With a needle in his hand, he quickly jumped behind Laurence and gave him an injection.

Laurence howled like a wild beast.

He kicked Davon away. His scarlet eyes became more frightening.

Samuel's heart skipped a beat. He didn't have time to think about why Davon was also here. He wanted to help Davon, but he saw Laurence stagger for a moment and fall to the ground with his eyes closed.

Only then did everyone felt relieved.

Samuel was a little shocked. Davon shout painfully, "Samuel, come over and help me. My ribs almost break."

Hearing this, Samuel smiled.

If Davon's ribs were broken, his voice would not be so clear.

Samuel walked over and pulled Davon up. Seeing that there were many wounds on Davon's hand, Samuel couldn't help but pause.

"Are you bleeding yourself for fun?"

"I'm not you, OK? I'm not masochistic."

Davon patted the dirt on him and whispered, "I do it just to give Laurence a blood transfusion. Only my blood type matches his."

Speaking of Laurence, Samuel became serious.

"What happened exactly? Didn't you say that he won't go berserk?"

"If I don't say that, will Nicole feel at ease?"

Davon sighed, but his words made Samuel understand something.

Xander and Audrey asked their men to send Laurence into the underground laboratory, and Samuel followed them.

Chapter 1493 Don't Give Up Easily

Xander froze. Seeing Audrey's suspicious looks, he was so painful.

"What do you think of me?"

The question took Audrey aback.

How was Xander?

He was upright and persisted in his ideals with faith in his heart. And he never gave in to the evil forces. All of these attracted her. But why did she feel embarrassed as Xander asked her the question at this moment?

"I just feel that the way you look at him is different. Xander, I don't want to doubt you, nor do I want to see you and Nicole grow apart. Laurence is her good friend. What do you want to do with him?"

After so many years, Audrey didn't know what inhumane torture Xander had suffered on the island, but she knew that the question she asked today would probably hurt him.

"Sorry."

"You don't have to apologize."

Although Xander was sad, seeing Audrey like this, he didn't feel good.

Looking at the sleeping Laurence, Xander sighed and whispered, "He is Carl's son."

"How could that be possible? When Dr. Miller caught his parents, the man was not Carl. At that time, Carl was..."

"I know."

Xander's voice was somewhat low.

"The man Dr. Miller caught was not Laurence's father, but his good friend who took care of Laurence and his mother instead. Later, to protect Carl, the man admitted that he was Laurence's father."

Hearing Xander's words, Audrey asked in puzzlement, "But Dr. Miller is researching on genes. Can't he know that the man isn't Laurence's father?"

"That man and Carl have the same blood type."

Audrey instantly understood as she heard what Xander said.

"Oh, I see."

Laurence's biological father was dissected for the sake of Xander. He had never seen his wife and children until his death. Now that Laurence was in such a situation, it was no wonder that Xander was desperate to save him.

Chapter 1494 Why Don't We Just Stop?

Noticing Samuel was staring at him, Davon stopped to look at him and asked, "What do you want to know from me?"

"Don't you have the least idea what I am going to ask?"

Samuel glared at Davon.

Davon was Nicole's brother and he had also married Phoenix, who saved Samuel's life. For these two reasons, Samuel couldn't just watch when he knew Davon was unreliable.

"I find it necessary to have a talk with Phoenix about her marriage."

Samuel rubbed his chin and considered. He treated Phoenix as his sister.

Davon felt angry.

"Don't interfere in our affairs."

"You bullied my sister. Of course, I should interfere. If you and I switch identities, what would you do if I treat Nicole like this?"

"I would beat you to death."

"It seems that I should have a stretch."

Samuel rubbed his wrist and was ready to beat Davon. But Davon said, "I did it for her own good."

Samuel stopped.

He frowned and whispered, "Nicole always said that you shouldn't hurt her but claim it's for her sake. Tell me exactly what you did."

Davon looked outside. Seeing that there was nobody, he closed the door and turned off all the systems and equipment. He was so cautious that Samuel became serious.

"What happened on earth?"

"There's something I just found out."

Davon sat at the side and handed a data report to Samuel.

Samuel squinted and read the report. He said gloomily, "I can understand a contract involving hundreds of millions. I can also read the figures in such a complex report, but I don't know what they mean."

Davon looked at Samuel with disdain and said in a low voice, "This is my blood test data. There is the only case in the world."

"Only one case in the world? You're kidding me."

Samuel wanted to mock more, but Davon said, "I'm telling the truth. My blood type is a special one, different from my parents'. Many people have special blood types too, but they are not alone. I can't find a second person sharing the same blood type with me in the blood bank all over the world. I don't even know what this blood type is called. It has been incorporated into the top secret protection system. And I have no access."

Just as Samuel clicked open the file, the computer started beeping. And then Lucas said something anxiously.

"Samuel, this file is self-destructed. You only have twenty-five seconds to save it before it's destroyed. Even your computer might crash."

Samuel's countenance changed when he heard this.

And Davon's heart skipped a beat.

'What important document has a self-destruct system?'

'And this file is about me, so...'

He was having mixed feelings.

Unlike him, Samuel didn't have time for anything but copy and transfer the document in the last twenty seconds.

When it was ninety-nine percent done, the computer suddenly exploded.

At the critical moment, Davon protected Samuel, and they fell to the ground together. Fortunately, they didn't get hurt.

"Lucas, how's it going?"

Samuel hastily called him.

Lucas said, "I'm fine."

Hearing this, Samuel felt relieved.

Because of the explosion of the computer, the defensive system was automatically switched on. Beepings were everywhere.

Davon smiled bitterly, "Damn. Uncle Xander will kill us."

"No, he will kill you, not me."

Samuel stood up.

And he asked in confusion, "What do you mean?"

As Samuel walked out, he said, "It means that you wanted to hack into the state's top-secret documents, and your computer ended up exploding. I was just passing by."

"What?"

Before Davon knew it, Samuel had run out and closed the door.

"Fuck!"

Davon rarely felt so depressed. He would remember what Samuel did to him today.

He thought, "I was even moved just now. Who knows that he is simply a liar!"

Nicole raised her head and saw Samuel coming. That tall figure made her feel a little more comfortable.

"What's going on outside? I heard the alarm and the noise. I didn't dare to go out because I was afraid that people would hurt me."

Nicole put down the book in her hand and held Samuel's hand. She found that his hand was warm, which meant that he was in the room all the time.

Thinking of this, Nicole felt somewhat relieved.

Samuel looked at Nicole's worried face and thought about what to say to her. However, thinking of what Nicole had said before, and that he could not make the decision by himself and claim that it was for her own good, Samuel decided to tell her everything.

Although his father-in-law had warned him, he should still prioritize his wife's demands.

Nicole frowned when she heard Samuel's words.

"Is there really no problem with my brother's blood?"

"The document was installed a self-destruct device, which is good news. That document has always been a threat to Davon. The current leader will not do anything to Davon. Mr. Morty also won't, but who can guarantee that leader in the future will not do anything to Davon? It is not safe to keep the document. It's good now that it was destroyed. However, in the future, Davon had to be extremely careful. His blood could not be drawn casually."

Samuel took a lot of things into consideration.

He believed in the current leader and also believed in Morty, but no one could guarantee that something unpredictable wouldn't happen in the future. If there was a slight mistake, it would be a calamity for Davon and the Don Family. Now that the document was destroyed, there weren't many people who knew that Davon's blood problems. Even if the authority wanted to do something, it depended on whether Davon would cooperate or not. After all, Davon was no longer the same as he was when he was a child.

When Nicole heard this, she felt relieved.

"Leo had harmed so many people. He deserved a more miserable death."

Nicole hated Leo and Jayden so much, especially when she thought about what her family had to endure.

Samuel wrapped her in his arms and whispered, "Everything will pass. Although these black sheep can come into power for a while, they can't escape the law."

"However, more innocent people have suffered for nothing."

"There is not so much justice in this world. The law of the jungle has always been the law of survival. Fortunately, we live in a peaceful society and a benevolent country. If we were abroad, who would care about those people's lives?"

The topic between the two became heavier and heavier, so Samuel quickly changed the topic.

"However, I downloaded the document of Davon's blood information before it went into self-destruction. I really want to know how the authority sees Davon. If there is a slight sign of coercion, I will ask my parents and my uncle to make preparations in advance."

Samuel's words caused Nicole to suddenly pause.

All of a sudden, she understood what Samuel meant.

Once it involved Davon's safety, Samuel would stand on Davon's side without hesitation.

She thought, 'If my husband is like this, what more can I ask for!'

Nicole's heart was filled with warmth.

"Darling, you're so kind."

Nicole and Samuel looked at Davon nervously.

They could feel a sense of coldness on his face. Then Davon gave a smile, charming but bitter.

"So, Davon should sacrifice his life for his country."

Nicole heaved a sigh of relief as soon as he said this.

Fortunately, he thought the same as her.

"But if that's the case, Phoenix will be devastated."

Samuel knew that it was the best way to protect Davon, but he had to conceal the news that he was still alive from everybody. Because once it leaked out, everyone would focus on Phoenix. Any single action she took would ruin Davon's efforts.

Thinking of Phoenix who was so sad that couldn't eat anything because of him, Davon's mind was in turmoil.

"For our happiness in the future, I have to hurt her now. But I swear I will love her for the rest of my life."

Nevertheless, he knew it was hard for a woman to bear the pain of losing her husband.

Nicole felt sad for Phoenix, too.

Samuel whispered, "Dad knows you're still alive. Haven't you ever thought about telling him about this?"

"No, it was not necessary."

Davon shook his head.

"Uncle Elvis has suffered for so many years, but he still doesn't change his mind. I know he will leave his favorite military compound for me and even will do something to protect me, but that's not what I want. Uncle and aunt had a hard life. They should enjoy their happy life together after all these years of suffering. There is no need for him to sacrifice all these for me. This document was a top secret. Since Uncle Elvis had never seen it before, then he should never see it. I, Davon, won't drag down the entire family for my own safety."

"But my parents know that you're still alive. If I said you're dead, I'm afraid they won't trust it," Nicole said.

Davon smiled and said, "I'm still here now. Uncle Elvis wants us to return to Capital City together. If I didn't know about the truth, I would have gone. But now, my life isn't just mine. I have to detoxify my father and take care of my wife. So I must be a martyr. As long as Davon is alive, he is a special person that will attract the attention of tens of thousands of people. Even my family will have to live under this attention. It's not fair to them. "

"Is that fair to you?"

Nicole started to feel sorry for Davon.

Davon smiled faintly and said indifferently, "It's not fair, but with all these years of cultivation, let's treat it as a draw."

"Davon!"

Nicole couldn't help but hug him.

Samuel frowned slightly. He really wanted to kick Davon out, but for Nicole's sake, he didn't do it.

"So what's your plan?"

Samuel gritted his teeth as he spoke. He glared at Davon who was holding Nicole tightly, which surprised Davon. Then, he understood and burst into laughter.

Davon thought Samuel was a really jealous husband. But if it was Phoenix hugging Samuel now, he would probably be in the same mood as him.

Chapter 1498 It Has Been a Tiring Night

The chief guard hurriedly said, "There is a declining family surnamed Don in our capital. The head of the family is an honest person and only has one daughter. He now runs a small business. Back then, I heard that his wife was pregnant with twins. Unfortunately, the boy was unborn. However, worrying about his wife being sad, the head of the Don family registered two children for his household and told his wife that their son had been stolen. All these years, he had been wasting money looking for a son that never existed to buy his wife some comfort and hope of getting their son back. I think it would be better to give this identity to Mr. Davon. The Don family will cooperate as long as they are given an explanation."

Zayn was no longer the ignorant boy in the past. His eyes lit up when he heard the chief guard's words, and he asked in a low voice, "What is the relationship between the Don family and you?"

The guard captain was so frightened that he broke out in cold sweat.

"King, I..."

"Tell the truth, or you'll be punished."

Zayn's eyes glowed with coldness. The guard captain could no longer stand in fright. He knelt, trembling, and said, "My King, I am Don's cousin. The Don family hardly survived under King Leo Freeman's rule. I just want to take the opportunity to seek some benefits for my cousins. King, please forgive me."

Zayn knew what to expect after hearing from the guard captain.

"I can promote your relatives, but I'd like to know - why not your uncle's family? Or even your own family?"

A trace of grief flashed across the guard captain's face.

"King, my family is gone. When King Leo Freeman rules the country, he was afraid of the possible excessive power of the chief bodyguard, so he placed our family under house arrest for various reasons. However, our families suffered suspicious deaths. I didn't even meet them before they died. Some said they were sent to the laboratory. Some said they were killed. I was already alone in the world. The Dons are my last relatives."

Zayn felt sad.

"I will investigate into this matter. If what you said is true, I will promote the Don family. I will not mistreat you as long as you are loyal to me."

The chief guard hurriedly said yes.

Zayn quickly went to investigate this matter. Everything was as the chief guard had said, so he sent a message to the Don family. Not long after, Don's head gratefully agreed. Zayn even decided to let the head's daughter marry the son of an Elder. People soon realized that the declining family had had their rebirth.

Xander and Audrey chased Davon to the outskirts of the Dark Forest. Along the way, they saw many broken limbs and bones dripping with blood. That was shocking.

Audrey involuntarily kept swallowing and said, "Xander, do you think Davon is..."

"No!"

Xander was suspiciously worried. But he hurriedly denied his suspect, as if in that way, he could be more confident.

The more forward he walked, the more corpses he saw. Even though he got used to these scenes in the past few days, Xander still felt uncomfortable.

Xander and Audrey found Davon's body in the peripheral forest. The body was damaged and shattered beyond recognition. However, its clothes belonged to Davon.

Xander staggered and almost fell.

"This can't be true!"

He quickly ran over and saw that around the body scattered a lot of blood and syringes and reagents that Davon had taken with him before he left.

Xander tried his best to keep himself calm. He quickly collected the blood and took it back for testing. The test results turned Xander's hair grey overnight as if he had aged ten years all of a sudden.

Chapter 1499 It's Hard for You

After Xander reported it, Capital City sent a helicopter to pick up Samuel and Nicole just as Samuel had expected.

Lucas was too young to go with them, so Nicole entrusted him to Phoenix. Nicole texted Phoenix and asked her to bring Lucas back to the Seapolis City. And Nicole asked Zayn to help Phoenix with that.

Even though Zayn was the King of Country F, he had no power to intervene in the affairs of another country. But he promised to help.

Samuel and Nicole were very calm. Considering Nicole's physical condition and Samuel's contribution to the country, the superiors agreed that Samuel and Nicole could be inspected together.

Phoenix had been waiting for news from Nicole and Samuel. She had thought they could bring Davon back, but she got disappointed. Hearing that Nicole and Samuel were to be reviewed in isolation in Capital City, Phoenix couldn't understand it. But by the time she arrived at the center of the Dark Forest, Nicole and Samuel had left. Only Lucas and Xander were there.

Audrey looked at Phoenix. Knowing her identity, Audrey selectively told Phoenix what had happened, including Davon's death.

Phoenix almost fainted.

When she learned that the broken leg was not Davon's, she had hope. Now they told her they couldn't even find Davon's dead body. Phoenix couldn't accept it.

She was in a daze and almost fell over. Then someone held her tightly.

"Aunt Phoenix, hold on. Daddy and Mommy are not here. I'm afraid of being alone."

Lucas said in a soft and broken voice, which made Phoenix's heart ache.

She probably wouldn't have any child. Now that Davon was gone, she didn't have the slightest hope of being a mother. However, a woman was born with maternal instinct. Lucas was so lovable, and she couldn't turn a blind eye to him.

Phoenix hugged Lucas and cried loudly.

Ever since Davon's accident, she had told herself to be strong and to wait for Davon to come back. But now, her hopes had been shattered. All her faith and expectations were gone. She was overwhelmed with sorrow, but she had to be strong for Lucas.

Nicole and Samuel helped her a lot. Although she didn't know why they were brought back to Capital City, she couldn't let Lucas feel helpless in a foreign country.

After Phoenix calmed down, she asked Xander and Audrey in a choked voice, "Couldn't you find Davon's body?"

Xander shook his head, feeling grieved.

Phoenix felt she had to leave Country F. There was only pain and sadness here. She would rather return to Davon's hometown and be with the Dons. At least they were her family.

But she didn't know if she still was their family member or not.

Phoenix carried Lucas in her arms and whispered, "I want to bring Lucas back to the Seapolis City."

"They couldn't find Davon's body, but you can set up a cenotaph for him. Are you sure you won't stay?"

Chapter 1500 Love Hurts

Davon had a high fever that had last for days, but there was no other symptom. Morgan didn't know what to do, so she could only use the clumsiest method to keep him alive.

Three days soon passed. Morgan was so tired that she could hardly stand. She thought that Davon would continue to have the fever, yet she found that the fever stopped.

Morgan cried out in joy.

The families of the deceased are about to start the funeral.

Morgan put Davon on the hearse according to her plan and followed the deceased to the crematorium.

After the hearse entered, a staff member came to check. After exchanging a glance with Morgan, he took Davon away.

Morgan got out of the car and followed the staff to the urn hall with Davon through the internal channels.

There weren't many people here, only one or two waiters.

Morgan covered Davon with a white cloth and pushed him into a special room at the side.

The temperature in this room is a little low, but it is still good for Davon. Others would probably not believe that Davon would stay in the crematorium.

"What happened?"

After the staff left, Morgan saw Jarrod.

She was a little surprised and even shuddered, but she still asked doubtfully, "Mr. Jarrod, why are you here?"

"Samuel called and asked me to take care of him. From now on, you will be following my orders. He will be safe here during this time. Let me know if you need any medicine or equipment. No matter at what cost, you must save him."

"Yes."

Morgan was afraid of Jarrod.

He was brought up by Jayden and was extremely familiar with the bugs. He could easily and silently inflict the bugs on people, making them suffer a lot. Such a man was truly a terrifying existence.

Jarrod did not put too much pressure on her as he turned around and walked out.

Amelia had been much better, and when she saw Jarrod come out, she hurriedly welcomed him.

"That wasn't proper. She was the Satan King after all."

"Just in case, why didn't you put on your coat again?"

Jarrod couldn't help but frown when he saw Amelia's thin body.

Amelia smiled and said, "I don't feel cold."

"But I do."

Then Jarrod draped his coat over Amelia's body. The warmth made Amelia blush.

Right now, she was very happy. All she wanted was to spend the rest of her life with Jarrod.
