Chapter 1551 Focus on the Wrong thing

“What’s that supposed to mean? Who are you going to punish?”

Morty came up.

Samuel frowned and grunted, “That’s my son, not yours! Even if he were, make him behave himself! Ask him what he did!”

Ignoring Samuel’s wrath, Morty went straight forward to ask Lucas, “Tell me what happened.”

Morty said that calmly, but Lucas still kept his mouth shut. He went towards the mansion. Thinking that this mansion actually belonged to Yasmeen’s father, he stopped at the gate. He turned around and asked Nicole, “Can I find another place to be grounded?”

Nicole realized that she came here in order to pick up his son and then this got in the way.

“Go and wait in the car. I have something to say to Uncle Morty.”

Lucas did what she said.

Michele was upset seeing him like that.

“Daddy, the thing is…”

Michele explained what happened.

Morty kept frowning. He looked at Nicole and Samuel and asked, “You called Lucas a jerk?!”

“So what? You want us to praise him for what he’s done?”

Samuel was still mad thinking about what he had done to Yasmeen and Lucas didn’t even admit he was wrong. Samuel hit her by mistake and now they had to see William in person.

Morty glanced at Nicole, “And Mrs. Green thinks so?”

Nicole didn’t answer but she seemed to agree with her husband that Lucas was wrong.

Morty laughed suddenly, “You guys are so busy putting your hands on each other that you have degenerate into cavemen, aren’t you?”

That was pretty harsh.

Even though he was smiling, Nicole, Samuel and Michele could all sense his anger.

Samuel quickly stepped in front of Nicole.

“If you are mad, you can just yell at me. Leave my wife alone. I know you like Lucas but he is our son. We have the right to teach him what is right and what is wrong.”

“You have the right to teach him a lesson.”

Morty’s chest started to feel tight.

He lit a cigarette. Even though Nicole hated the smell of smoke, Samuel didn't do anything to Morty and just said in a cold tone, "Better keep your distance before you do that. You've got a wife and a kid and you're still smoking? You're a dad now!"

"Let's go!"

Now the first thing to do was to find Tim and Evelyn.

Even though Lucas didn't know what was going on, he sat straight when he heard Tim's name and turned to Nicole.

Nicole looked quite worried and wanted to be there for them right away.

Lucas suddenly felt a little guilty.

Didn't his parents come here for sight seeing? Why was Tim involved? Did something bad happened to him?

He was sad at the thought of his mom worrying about him back then.

Maybe it was not a big deal to just make an apology to Yasmeen. He was a big boy now and it would make his mom feel better.

Then Lucas pulled out his phone and called Yasmeen, only to find out she had blocked his number. She must feel terrible at his words. Now that he was calling, Yasmeen put him on the blacklist with no second thought.

Lucas felt humiliated.

He knew he would never get along with Yasmeen. Such a spoiled princess!

Nicole noticed he was in a mood and asked, "What's wrong?"

"Yasmeen blocked me. I'll apologize to her later."

Hearing that, Nicole laughed, "Good boy. Don't treat Yasmeen like that ever again, okay?"

"I know."

Lucas lowered his head. He nodded and didn't say anything else. He wanted to ask what happened with Tim but he kept his mouth shut because of the tension in the air.

They hurriedly drove back to the mansion.

Samuel was not happy to see this.

Morgan had been standing by and she immediately came forward to check out Aiden's condition even though her face went pale at this situation.

Nicole didn't see clearly what exactly Morgan did to him because she was moving so fast. She could only see Morgan pull out a white bug, put it into Aiden's mouth and force him to swallow it.

Not long after, Aiden stopped twisting but he was still sweating so hard that it looked like he was drowning.

Though no one said anything, Aiden knew Morgan saved him. If Samuel didn't tell her to do that, Morgan wouldn't give a crap about him. So this time, he hastily admitted, "Fernanda and I grew up together. Technically, we're not biological siblings. We use that as an undercover. We are actually orphans and we were adopted when we were young."

Speaking of that, he was kind of sad.

"When we were adopted, we were just little children. People at the orphanage didn't treat us well and suddenly we were taken to a big house and we could finally have something nice like great food and even pretty clothes. We were overwhelmed by joy. Meanwhile, we were not the only children who were adopted. There were a lot of other children and some people started to taught us things. For us, this was like a dream come true and none of us wanted to go back to our old life. But after a year, as we adapted to this lifestyle, we found out the children around us started to disappear."

Aiden tried very hard to memorize the details.

“Fernanda was the youngest child but we were assigned as a team and taken to the Seapolis City. At first, we were thrilled about that. We didn’t know what was going to happen. Before we left, we saw the one who adopted us.”

“I really don’t know.”

Chapter 1554 There’s One Thing I Haven’t Told You

Samuel wasn’t at lost like Nicole. Instead, he looked kind of serious.

He had already known something.

There was something weird going on on the sea and Morty wanted to send some people there to see what happened. But then everything suddenly got back to normal.

He didn’t overthink about this. But now it turned out to be an elaborate scheme.

Someone disrupted the regular ship routes and had everyone’s attention fixed on the ship routes of the Mason family. Samuel still remembered Mr. Ethan went to meet Emory in person and offered to make the ship routes of the Mason family one of the state cooperation routes, which would turn in 40% of the income to the country. And that in a way protected the ship routes of the Mason family.

If it weren't for Mr. Ethan who went to the government first and was generous enough about the money, the other prestigious families would force the Mason family to surrender. It would be impossible for the Masons to protect the ship routes that their ancestors fought for with blood and tears.

Now, it turned out that Nick was targeting not at the Mason family but at the ship routes. But he could never anticipate that Mr. Ethan would make such a quick and wise decision which helped him get out of the trouble. And Dylan mustn't be their only option.

"Did you have any other orders? Or, to put it in another way, did you inform other families besides the Bell family?"

"Yes, but I didn't need to do that by myself. That rich guy did that for me. Those guys all came from wealthy families and they partied all the time. If he told Dylan, then other people would hear about this and tell their fathers."

Aiden clearly didn't hold anything back.

Now it was crystal clear that Nick set this whole thing up. He made Aiden spread the word and had his men messing around on the sea which disrupted the regular ship routes. And then everyone would keep an eye on the Mason family.

And if the Mason family couldn't take the heat, the other families would attack them at once. Then, the Mason family would have to hand over their ship routes and be replaced. And Nick might be the biggest winner.

Whereas, Mr. Ethan was decisive and quick-thinking enough to do something unpredictable. His actions caught Nick off guard and protected the Mason family. Now if they thought about it, Mr. Ethan might be the reason why the cargo of the Bell family went missing.

Having realized it was impossible for him to see Molly again, Dylan felt extremely regretful but it was too late now.

“Mr. Green, if you’re gonna catch Nick tonight, I want to take part in this operation. After all, our family was destroyed because of him eight years ago. I want to know what he looks like.”

“Fine.”

Samuel didn’t refuse his request.

After getting the answer he wanted, Dylan returned to his room. Then, Morgan followed Samuel and Nicole to the hall.

“How did it go? Can you tell how long he can last?”

“I can’t. But now he seems to be a little too weak.”

Nicole paused for a while and asked, “Can he last till the night?”

“I think he can.”

Samuel nodded and asked Morgan to get prepared.

Nicole frowned, “There are still some unfinished businesses. What’s the relationship between Jeffrey and Nick? Did Jeffrey plot against Molly only to become the master of their family? If we don’t clear things out, Morty...”

“No need to hurry. As long as we catch Nick, everything might be clearer. After all, Aiden is just a stooge. He doesn’t know much about the essential intelligence. I think Nick might be our breakthrough.”

“How come?”

Nicole was confused and didn't know what he meant.

Samuel patted her head and smiled, "Do you think Nick and Martin happened to share the same family name?"

Chapter 1556 Mrs. Green Is Here

Lucas clearly sensed something was wrong. He wanted to say something but stopped when he saw the look on Nicole's face.

The bodyguards outside didn't make any sounds. This servant could slip in without being noticed, from which Nicole could tell that it was nearly impossible for them to escape. Even though Lucas and her could fight, she didn't want to take the risk. Also, she didn't know what would happen with Samuel. Right now, they had to sit still.

When Nicole asked her those questions, the servant subconsciously paused and bowed her head.

“I'm new here.”

Her voice was unnaturally hoarse. They didn't know if she intended to do that or it was her natural voice.

Nicole held Lucas's hand and said calmly, “Let's get this straight. How are my people out there?”

The servant froze for a second and then looked at her in the eyes. She was impressed by Nicole.

Nicole finally got to see her face clearly. She looked completely normal and would get no attention when walking on the streets. But her eyes seemed kind of dull.

“What? Are my questions too hard?”

Nicole lowered her voice.

“No. They fell asleep.”

The servant was surprisingly cooperative. She gave her the answer quickly and didn't make any other moves. Maybe from her perspective, Nicole and Lucas were just a harmless woman and an innocent boy. But if they had really investigated Nicole, they would know that she could fight. The calmness in the servant's eyes meant that this place was completely controlled by their people.

Nicole was thinking to herself quickly and then asked, “What do you want from me? Don't hurt my son and I'll cooperate.”

Her words amazed the servant.

To show her sincerity, Nicole switched her phone in front of her. Lucas did the same thing but her fingers slightly twisted.

Chapter 1557 You're Talking Nonsense

When hearing Lucas's question, Martin laughed, "There is a signal jammer device installed in the car, so you can't send any message out. There are even signal jammer devices around the house. In fact, even if there weren't those trackers, you can't send anything back. I just want to see how clever Mr. Lucas is. If my grandson in the future can be as smart as you, it will make me a lot happier."

Hearing Martin mentions Tim, Nicole got a little nervous.

"Grandson? Do you remember that he is your grandson? If you really remember, how could you do that to him?"

Seeing Nicole got angry, Martin appeared calm and just smiled, "Mrs. Green, don't be angry. The reason why I let you come here is that I feel so lonely. I want to have a chat with you. Anyway, we are relatives, aren't we?"

"No!"

Nicole said resolutely.

Martin didn't make any reaction. Maybe he didn't want to haggle over with the juniors. But Nicole couldn't tell how Martin felt.

The servant had already served tea for Nicole and Lucas. They knew it was the good tea from the smell.

"He doesn't like tea."

Nicole directly pushed Lucas's tea away. Martin didn't say anything.

It seemed that he was really an old man without any threat judging from his look. But Nicole didn't dare to relax her vigilance.

"I'm afraid you didn't call us here just to chat with you."

Martin didn't care about Nicole's attitude. He told the servant beside him, "How can you make Mrs. Green so angry? Why couldn't you do such a petty thing?"

As soon as he finished speaking, the servant immediately knelt down, trembling all over, but did not dare to beg for mercy.

Chapter 1558 Samuel Had A Good Son

Nicole was stunned for a moment, but when thinking of the particularity of her grandfather's work when he was young, she said again, “People like you couldn't understand my grandfather's job at all. You are not qualified to blame him. Even if my grandfather ignored my grandmother because of his work, you still can't avail yourself of the opportunity to get in.”

“What? He can take advantage of the opportunity to get my woman, but I can't pay him back in his own way? That is ridiculous!”

Martin hadn't been so angry for many years. At that moment, he even wanted to kill someone to vent his anger.

Because of his anger, the atmosphere in the room was oppressive, so that everyone was afraid to speak something.

Nicole laughed angrily, “What? How on earth did you have the face to say this? Is my grandmother still willing to have an affair with you? If so, why didn't my grandmother have the face to see my grandfather. She even divorced my grandfather and run away from home. Since she was in love with you, why hadn't she taken Martha to see you after divorce? Instead, she lived a hard life alone with my aunt. Finally, she even didn't have money for treatment and died of depression.”

Facing a series of questions from Nicole, Martin suddenly felt severe pain in his chest.

Why?

Because that woman hated him!

After so many years, he thought he had forgotten everything, but now he found that he was just deceiving himself.

He still remembered that woman even wanted to die rather than surrender to him. He remembered that when he forced her, she bit a piece of flesh off his shoulder. Even though it had scabbed now, it had become an eternal trace there. He remembered how he threatened her with Audrey's life and asked her to give birth to their daughter, Martha.

Martin was really happy to learn that she was divorced. He even sent someone to take her and her daughter home, but what did that woman do?

She put a knife against her neck and said that if he didn't leave, she would kill herself. She even prevented him from contacting their daughter Martha!

She hated him and Martha! So, she always beat and scolded Martha, and even asked her not to continue her study after graduating from junior high school. Martin wanted to pay for Martha's education, but she found out and broke her own hand. She didn't even let him be kind to Martha and didn't let him pay money to help Martha. She just let him watch her abusing their daughter and herself.

Lucus saw it, but he didn't say anything.

After the meal, Nicole didn't bother to look at Martin. She directly went into her room to have a rest.

Lucus followed Nicole into the room. After closing the door, he found some cameras. He couldn't help but sneer. Then he raised his hand and put a piece of gum onto the camera, blocking the electronic eye of the camera.

Nicole didn't stop him from doing that. Anyway, after arriving here, she still got something. After all, she met Martin face to face.

As for why she was so sure, it may be an intuition, but this feeling was quite strong.

She couldn't vent her anger, and could only drink a glass of water.

After blocking the surrounding cameras, Lucus came to Nicole and sat down. He whispered, "Mommy, what are you going to do?"

"Since I saw Martin, naturally I want to find out what happened between him and grandmother. You're right. He won't hurt us when he can still make use of us."

Nicole felt that a glass of water was not enough to calm her down, so she couldn't help pouring another glass of water

When Lucus saw that there was a computer in the room, he tried to open it, but he found that he couldn't connect to the Internet at all. Obviously, this was just a decoration, or Martin deliberately did this.

Seeing Lucas's frustration, Nicole said, "Don't care too much about these. We will know the truth even if he doesn't want us to know. And I believe your father will come and save us."

"Do you mean that box of fruit?"

Lucus's words made Nicole laugh, but she didn't answer.

When Samuel rushed to the bar, he led Nick in as drilled before and caught him alive.

Samuel kicked open the door of the box. When seeing what had happened inside, he was a little stunned.

He saw that Tim was angrily beating his guards. A few of them were lying on the ground. But Tim was still not relieved. He kept punching and kicking those people while shouting and screaming. Tim was surprised to see Samuel, and then asked, “Why are you here?”

“So, I should walk away from things that don’t concern me?”

Samuel could finally realize what was going on. He looked at the mess on the ground and said somewhat indifferently.

He and Nicole worried so much about him. Seeing Tim bearing those people, Samuel thought he put his finger into another pie. He even thought Tim was in danger just now.

If he was in danger, then what happened to these bodyguards?

Tim obviously did not expect Samuel would say so, but he knew that Samuel was over to save him, so he didn’t say too much. He waved his fist and said, “No. If you do not come here, I still have to take some effort to get out. You should hurry up and go. I still have to save my wife.”

After saying that, Tim walked outside.

Samuel saw that Tim had injuries on his body, so he gently stretched out his hand to hold him.

Tim froze for that moment and then smiled at Samuel.

“What’s wrong with you? Why are you smiling at me like this?”

“Don’t say that to me.”

Tim muttered, and then heard Samuel say, “Why?”

“Samuel, you can’t think it great for you just because you came to save me. Be careful I...”

“What?”

Samuel’s rhetorical question made Tim suddenly taciturn.

Tim’s silence made Samuel a little curious, but he stopped asking him. He knew Tim has a clear idea. If something was wrong, he would definitely tell him.
