Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1561 Confrontation in Martin's Old Mansion

"Don't worry, Lucas is with his mother, he is gonna be fine. But anyway, thank you for that, Yasmeen."

"Don't mention it, Mr. Green. I also hope Lucas is safe. My sister told me that she keeps trying to locate the signal, and will inform us once she gets any news."

What Yasmeen said really gratified Samuel.

Tim had a look at the map, frowning and said, "I know this place, it's Martin Close's old mansion, and Evelyn is also there."

Samuel looked up right away, staring at Tim, and said, "Are you sure?"

"Yes, I had been there, I am not going to lie to you. Maybe it's because of our blood relationship, he allowed me to enter his old mansion. It is said that very few people have the qualification to enter in."

Tim's lips rose, appearing a sarcastic look.

Relatives he hated always disgusted him, and hurt relatives he loved and tried to protect.

Sometimes Tim felt confused and didn't know what role he should play among them. But now, when Martin decided to hurt Evelyn, he knew what to do.

Samuel was a little worried.

"Are Nicole and Lucas gonna be alright?"

"Sure, if I wasn't wrong, he detained Nicole and Lucas for threatening me. After all, I care about Nicole the most, and you are her husband. The Green family will stop him from many things that he wants to do, and besides, the Don family and the Shaw family will also stop him. Only when Nicole, the key person, is controlled, can he have the chance to bargain with these families. What a good move he is taking now."

Tim laughed grimly. He badly disliked what Martin was playing.

In fact, Samuel thought it the same way, and the reason why he asked Tim was to confirm it.

"Shut the fuck up! Or I will have Evelyn killed! If I die, she also dies!"

Finally, Martin made Tim's mouth shut, but Tim scowled as cold as marble at him.

"You'd better pray that my wife is all right, otherwise I may do something unethical."

He didn't mention what unethical thing he would do, but everyone there understood it, and it meant that if he was pushed too far, he would have Martin killed.

Seeing how emotional he was, Samuel stepped forward hastily, "Where are my wife and son?"

Martin then looked into Samuel's eyes.

"You'd better not meddle in what I want to do, otherwise..."

"What?"

Samuel said in a cold, curt voice, glaring at Martin.

Martin was annoyed a bit. It seemed that he didn't see that Samuel would be this arrogant, even though he had his families in hand. Martin couldn't help making a sneer, "It sounds Mr. Green doesn't love Mrs. Green as people said."

Samuel didn't reply.

At this time, a man ran in quickly, and whispered to Martin, "Mr. Close, Nicole and the young lad have run away."

"What the fuck?"

Martin was astounded.

This place was guarded heavily, how could it be possible that Nicole, a woman, and Lucas, a young lad, could run away?

No!

They must still be here in the mansion.

"Go! Check every room of this mansion and find them out!"

Hearing this, Samuel and Tim understood what had happened.

“Uncle Laurence?”

Lucas shouted in a low voice, in amazement, and eventually, Nicole also confirmed her thought.

Just know, she thought the voice was familiar, but she was not sure. Now, she was right. It was Laurence Kent!

Why was he here?

Nicole reckoned all the time that Laurence was hid and protected by Audrey and Xander. In that case, she thought it would be good not to receive any news of him, but to her surprise, he was here in the mansion of Martin Close.

In another words, Martin was illegally confining Laurence.

And it all made sense now.

Martha, on the ground of her mental illness, developed a research laboratory for Martin in the convalescent hospital. And Dr. Miller also had connection with Martin. Perhaps all of this have something to do with Laurel Miller, but she didn't know it. When Laurence's cell division started accelerating, Martin had already fixed his eyes on him.

When Davon planned to show up personally with a new identity, Martin released Laurence to fake Davon's death. And after that, Nicole and Samuel were brought back to Capital City for isolation and investigation. She thought Laurence was well-protected by Audrey, but now, it seemed that Martin had already benefited from their conflicts at that time.

So, how well did Martin know about Davon?

And what had Laurence gone through here?

Seeing Laurence's red eyes, which was supposed to be blue, Nicole knew he could not be able to recognize her.

How could this happen?

Since Laurence was here, where was Cara?

What had she gone through?

Nicole had no idea of it. She was in a great confusion.

Chapter 1564 Cara Was Stunned

Nicole dodged quickly, but when she pulled the old injuries on her body she hissed silently. The woman stopped when hearing Nicole's voice, and Nicole brought her under control.

“Cara, it's me.”

Nicole knew the woman was Cara Clint when she spoke after coming in. Actually, it was easy to understand why she was there, and it's because Laurence was there too. On the other hand, Nicole admired Cara, for she never gave up Laurence, the man she loved.

Cara knew it was Nicole, so she quit fighting back, and whisperer, “Mrs. Green, what happened to Laurence?”

“I injected sleeping potion into his body, he won't be awake for a while, and we intend to take him away with us, do you have any idea?”

Cara shook her head gently.

“There are bodyguards all over this mansion looking for you and Young Master, it’s not gonna be easy to get out, but there is one person who can help us out.”

“Evelyn Mason.”

It shocked Nicole a little bit.

“Mason is here?”

“Doesn’t Mrs. Green come here for rescuing Evelyn Mason?”

Cara was a little astonished. Apparently, she didn’t know that Nicole was invited here by Martin.

Nicole got no time to explain why she was there. Knowing that Mason was there as well, she thought of her when she met her lately.

“Do you know where she is?”

“Yes, come with me.”

“Okay.”

Nicole asked Lucas to go back and stay in the vent and went out with Cara.

It looked like Cara knew this place pretty well. Every time when they were about to be seen by the bodyguards, Cara could take Nicole into another room safely.

Seeing all of this, Nicole had doubts, but she asked nothing.

Chapter 1565 Martin Talked About the Past

"What? You can't tell me about it?"

Samuel smiled coldly, gazing at Martin's eyes.

There was no need for Martin to hide it from them anymore.

"I was part of it, so what? I just let out some information, and what and how others would do were out of my control."

Samuel glowered at him.

“So, you are the one who finds the mine first?”

“Kind of.”

Martin didn't deny.

Samuel took a step forward, and continued, “Why did you not develop it yourself? On the contrary, you leaked out the information, for what?”

“Because the Harper Town is very difficult to deal with, and I myself don't like troubles.”

His answer was rather farfetched.

“What you try to say is the Harper Town's bugs, right? As far as I know, you are good at bugs too. You learn it from the Harper Town, don't you?”

These questions made Martin feel a bit anxious.

“What? I am right?”

Chapter 1566 Excuse For Yourself

"What have you done after she fell in love with you?"

Samuel kept interrupting Martin's recollection of previous wonderful memory, and Martin felt annoyed. He only sneaked a glimpse of Samuel's chilling eyes that trembled slightly.

"What?"

Martin seemed to recall his past.

He wasn't really willing to do so.

"We were fine and considered as the best lovers in the world. I even deemed she came to this world for me. So kind-hearted, considerate and fascinated was she."

"So that is why you can hurt her wantonly?"

"How do you know I hurt her?"

"If not, would she leave her own country, her parents and go to my country? Would she marry my grandpa?"

Martin was bitterly uncomfortable when hearing what Samuel said.

"It is because of that mean old guy who swooped."

"What do you mean by saying 'swoop'? Is it because you assassinated her dad when she loved you and intended to marry you, or that she hated you after knowing that you murdered her dad, detained her and later conquered the country?"

Tim's words surprised Samuel.

Chapter 1567 They Must Die As Well

Everyone's surprised, including Nicole, who was astonished. But others knew the relationship between Tim and Martin, and although they were alert on the former, they never thought Tim would kill Martin. Then this was what happened then and there.

No one stood out to protect Martin as everyone was surprised, while Tim used a dagger to pierce into Martin's chest.

The bright blood wetted the shirt and Martin was completely stunned.

"You dare to..."

"People like you should be killed for one thousand times!"

Tim kept jabbing Martin's chest deeper. Martin wanted to fight back, while Tim walked backward and instantly took out the dagger.

Blood gushed out.

The surrounding people were stunned.

Nicole was pale-faced, Samuel came near and tried to protect Tim.

"Are you insane? You don't have to do this. It is a matter of murder!"

Samuel was confused.

Tim was a cool-headed person, and how could he kill Martin?

They tended to gather enough evidence, submitted and resorted to law to punish the bastard like Leo. He felt surprised that Tim would kill Martin.

Tim looked at Martin struggling painfully and he uttered each word angrily, "He poisoned Evelyn, and the 'devil', the mother bug, stayed right inside him. Evelyn would never be free from his control if he didn't die! You want to control the Masons? Go the hell! He was so sure that I dare not kill him, but villain should be punished. "Honey!"

She must be ashamed at the moment, for she was originally poisoned and doubted Tim wasn't loyal enough to her and he loved Nicole more than her.

His affection to her changed as well as Tim and Nicole became family members. It was Evelyn who was petty-minded and unconfident. Martin took this opportunity to deepen her suspicion and nearly hurt Tim and Nicole, as well as Tim who would leave the Seapolis City and accompany her to soothe her mind. Then they met Martin and his fellow and got themselves subject to their trap.

"Sorry, I was being too sentimental."

Evelyn choked with a hoarse sound.

She became lighter when Martin died, and she felt relaxed as well.

Tim smiled and stroked her head, saying in a low tone, "You are my everything, so you don't have to say sorry. When we got married, I have said to your dad that I will be his son in the future. Anyone cannot deceive him."

Evelyn kept crying and didn't know what to do.

She was not sentimental nor vulnerable, but she then realized sometimes she couldn't help crying.

Tim was concerned about her crying, so he comforted her tenderly. His move embarrassed Nicole and Samuel nearby.

“What are you doing actually? Showing off your romantic love is easy to us, but please mind yourselves.”

Samuel was more or less jealous of them.

Nicole laughed and subconsciously came to Samuel and primmed his sleeves and said quietly, “What should I do? I also kill him. Will you blame me?”

“We are abroad, and I believe Leo must have clarified Davon’s identity after a long time. If he fails, he won’t be qualified to be the king.”

Samuel said confidently.

Nicole kept silent, as she knew it was better to pretend to hear nothing.

“Should we inform Phoenix? They haven’t seen each other for long. She must be excited if she knows my brother is still alive.”

Nicole looked at Samuel, and he smiled, “You have the final say.”

“It is so kind of you.”

Nicole sincerely praised Samuel.

Samuel said proudly, “So I am. Don’t forget your promise. Stay with me tonight, get it?”

He drawled the last word. Nicole didn’t know if she had an illusion, and she flushed when she heard the drawled tone filled with tease and ambiguity.

“Come on.”

She really couldn’t flirt with Samuel in front of Martin’s body, and she had lots of things to solve.

Samuel hurried to give Nicole the phone.

“Answer the call. I have nothing to talk with her.”

“Nope, she’s not calling me.”

Nicole refused and gave the phone back.

Samuel was embarrassed and had to answer it.

“Phoenix, what’s going on?”

“Mr. Green, it is horrifying.”

Phoenix said in an elusive and nervous tone and frightened Nicole.

“What happened? Take it easy. How is it horrifying?”

Nicole’s words calmed Phoenix down and he said hurriedly, “Nicole, someone sends me a birthday gift. It’s exactly what I want, but only Davon knows what I like. So, don’t you think it’s his ghost?”
