Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 16 Very Well Meaning

During the time abroad, Nicole had dealt with lots of flashing lights, so she was especially familiar with the reflect light under the sun.

Riley George was as insidious as five years ago. She was begging for pardon seemingly. In fact, however, she already asked someone to film this. If Nicole was not mistaken, not long after she went to the Eternal Group, the video of her bullying Riley would also appear on the Internet.

By then, she would become the target of everyone's gossips like five years ago. To make it worse, she was now a renowned designer in the H'J Group. The embarrassment at that time would not only be for herself.

Riley was indeed "very well meaning".

Nicole sniffed, "Ms. George, what are you doing? Back at the company, you beat me however you want, and now you are here at my door to pretend to be the victim. You even ask someone to film this secretly. I am not sure you are here to apologize or to play rough on me?"

Riley's face paled immediately.

"Ms. Catherine, I Don't know what you are saying. I am really sincerely here to beg you to go back. Sam, I..."

"Ms. George, you are such a good actor. Unfortunately, you seem to forget about what I do for a living. I am a car designer who handles the components of car every day, having many opportunities to know about retroreflector. Next time, Ms. George, if you want to set me up, please be stealthier and tell the cameraman in the dark to hide their cameras better."

Nicole's words made Samuel's eyes squint.

He looked around fast and a shadow rushed onto the street hurriedly.
