Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1621 You Are the Best

Tim was also as confused as Samuel. However, they had already quit the military, so they couldn't know many details.

"All right. I'm just telling you about this matter without any other thoughts. You should be prepared. After all, Jacob was your soldier before."

Tim heaved a sigh and patted Samuel on his shoulder.

Right then, Olivia came over.

Seeing Olivia, Nicole stood up happily and walked to her.

"You're pregnant. Why did you insist on coming over?"

"Of course. It's your cousin's wedding. I must come over to send my regards, getting more attention for my career," Olivia said with a smile.

They hadn't met each other for over six months. Nicole could tell that Olivia had gained much weight but smiled more.

For Olivia, it was God's gift for her to have a baby of her own, and the baby's father was Jacob. She was quite satisfied and had no regret in her life.

Nicole hurriedly helped her to sit down. She said to Evelyn who was sitting aside, "Evelyn, you've known each other quite a long time ago, and now you've become mothers at the same time. That's true fate."

Evelyn was also surprised to see Olivia's belly. She said with a smile, "We truly have a fate. When is your expected date of childbirth?"

"In November, almost the New Year."

Upon hearing Olivia's answer, Evelyn paused a bit. In a hurry, she said, "Me too. Which day?"

"The fourth."

"Mine is the fifth."

Evelyn was so surprised to find that her expected date would be so close to Olivia's. The two mothers-to-be started discussing their pregnancy, ignoring Nicole.

Nicole was a bit speechless. Seeing Samuel was standing not far away, she stood up and walked over.

"What happened?" Samuel looked at her and asked.

Nicole heaved a sigh. "I'm ignored by the two mothers-to-be. I'd better come to my hubby."

"I... I keep an eye on her because... Why would I tell you?" Tony stammered.

Then he turned around and trotted away. However, Nicole found that he looked as if he was defeated and fled.

She wondered if Tony did truly have a crush on Olivia.

Right then, Olivia came over.

"What happened? What did you say to Tony? He looked as if he was scared away," said Olivia with a smile.

Nicole recalled what happened to Jacob. Seeing Olivia, she felt quite worried. Then she recalled her guess on Tony and asked, "What's your relationship with Tony now?"

"We are friends. Or what?"

Olivia looked at Nicole in confusion.

Nicole felt it was quite inappropriate to ask such a question but if she didn't, she would feel bothered.

"Does Tony have a crush on you?"

"Are you kidding me? Does he have a crush on me? We are buddies!"

Olivia looked as if she was haunted, which relaxed Nicole a lot.

"But he pays a lot of attention to you..."

"It's because he used to set me up and caused my health problem. Later, I got pregnant, so he felt I might not be safe and afraid that something might happen to my baby. If that happened, he would be a sinner. Hence, he has paid attention to me since he knew I'm pregnant. He also gave me a lot of tonics. Did you just think he has a crush on me? Would the public also misunderstand in this way?"

Olivia felt quite depressed.

"If so, I must distance myself from him. If Jacob heard such rumors, I wouldn't be able to explain to him at all."

"No. That's not the case. It's just me who thought

“I’m finally back!”

Laurence's voice was quite hoarse, making Nicole feel bitter.

She could feel that Laurence had used a lot of strength. It seemed that he was emotionally unstable. He hugged her tightly, trembling slightly. Nicole guessed that it might be because he was freaked out or because of something else.

It was quite rare that Samuel didn't get jealous this time. He didn't separate Laurence and Nicole either. Instead, he was standing next to them, whispering, "I'm so glad you are back."

In the end, Laurence finally released Nicole.

He chuckled and said, "I used to think I might not be able to come back. I thought if I truly became a monster who only knows to kill, what should I do if I hurt you? However, I completely lost control back then. At that time, my reason was damaged little by little. I couldn't see any hope at all."

While Laurence spoke, his eyes were darkened.

Nicole recalled that Laurence's change had something to do with Cara. However, right now, Cara was missing. Nicole wondered how she should tell Laurence about her.

Laurence had experienced the life and death risks. Now he finally survived. If she mentioned Cara again, probably she would stab another dagger into Laurence's heart.

However, Laurence didn't have such a worry as Nicole did. With a bitter smile, he continued, "I've never expected it was Cara who set me up."

Nicole was slightly startled, looking over at Samuel subconsciously.

Noticing her gaze, Samuel said, "Let bygones be bygones. I guess Cara probably had her difficulties."

"Right. I want to know what her difficulties were. She used to love me so much and wait for me for such a long time. How could she change just overnight? I remember very well -- she pushed the syringe on me while weeping. I could still recall her struggle, reluctance, and hesitation. However, I don't understand why she had to do that. If she wanted me to die, I wouldn't turn her down. However, she must give me a reason."

Laurence smiled bitterly again.

Nicole also wanted to know the reason. She wondered what on earth could let Cara set up her beloved man.

Right then, Nicole suddenly didn't know what to speak.

She didn't know how to comfort Lauren, and nor did she know what to remark.

Laurence broke the silence.

"Raise your head!"

Nicole's voice was not loud but full of dignity.

The maid was startled. Then she tossed the things from her hands towards Nicole.

Nicole subconsciously blocked them and cried out immediately, "Get that woman!"

The woman pushed the window open and escaped. The guards rushed to follow her.

Upon hearing her cry, Samuel and others rushed over.

"What happened?"

He pulled Nicole over, carefully checking if she had any injury.

Nicole shook her head and said, "I'm fine. Just now, a maid was going to find Laurence, and I found it."

"Laurence?"

Samuel squinted slightly. Olivia and Booth also rushed out of the room. Upon hearing what Nicole said, they were slightly taken aback.

"Was it Cara?"

Olivia had got to know all the stories, so she immediately guessed if it was Cara.

Nicole shook her head.

"No, she wasn't. I could recognize Cara's height and figure if it were she. That woman had a hoarse voice, but her height and figure are different from Cara's."

"Then who was it?"

All of them were confused about this maid.

She wondered why things had become like this.

She knew that Tim was quite upset because of Jacob's matter, but they were trying to hide it from Olivia for certain reasons.

They did that for Olivia's belly and her mood.

Samuel directly lifted his leg and kicked Tim.

Tim was off-guard, staggering. He said in anger, "Who has the death wish? Who kicked me?"

“It’s me. What happened? You are so angry today, aren’t you? Come with me. Let’s go to the training ground. And you, Tony! Come with me!”

Samuel directly called Tony and Tim. Then he rushed over and locked Tim’s neck, dragging him away.

Evelyn was a bit worried, but Nicole stopped her.

“Don’t worry, Evelyn. Samuel knows what he’s doing.”

Upon hearing her words, Evelyn felt relieved.

Tony wasn’t a coward, following them.

Olivia said in anger, “I just can’t understand. Why did Tim target me? Nicole, have I done anything to offend him recently?”

“Don’t overthink. He’s drunk today,” Nicole hurriedly comforted her.

Evelyn had a migraine.

She knew her husband well -- he was a nice man but always acted recklessly. However, she also liked him because of it.

In a hurry, Evelyn said, “Olivia, please don’t mind him. He might have early menopause.”

Tony's eyes widened all of a sudden, he caught Sienna, and kicked Tim on the chest.

"You son of a bitch, do you really want to die?"

Tony's eyes were burning red and he looked like an enraged beast. He was in a state of madness.

"No! Tony!"

Sienna hugged him tightly but still couldn't calm him down.

Tim was dumbfounded.

Why did a woman suddenly pop out?

Samuel was slightly confused too, but he still hurriedly walked there.

"Take her to the doctor quickly!"

"You stay here! If anything happens to Sienna, I won't let you off!"

Tony glared at Tim with burning eyes. He finally turned around, carried Sienna and ran away.

Things happened so suddenly that Tim was startled.

"Hey, who knows a stupid woman would suddenly come in?"

"That 'stupid woman' is Sienna Freeman, Zayn Freeman's sixth sister, the sixth princess of Country F, Davon Sawyer's sister-in-law and Phoenix's sister."

Samuel's words stunned Tim.

"No, wait, what was a princess doing here then?"

"How would I know? All I know now is that you've beaten the sixth princess. You better think of what to do later."

"I didn't say anything."

Tony obviously sounded less confident.

Olivia couldn't bear to hear him say so, so she straightaway grabbed his collar and asked word by word, "Do you dare swear to God that you didn't say anything just now? And you did not mention something's happened to Jacob? Tony, do you think I'm deaf? Or do you think I'm a fool?"

While saying, there were tears in Olivia's eyes.

The woman who had always been so strong suddenly looked like a fragile doll. Tony wanted to give two slaps on his own face.

Seeing that they could no longer hide it anymore, Nicole had to come forward and pull Olivia's hand back, comfort her and ask her to sit down. She whispered, "Something's happened to Jacob in the overseas battlefield. Their commando team lost contact after carrying out their mission. It's been three days now, and we didn't hear anything from them, many people think their chance to survive is miniature."

"No way!"

Olivia subconsciously refused to accept it, but her tears were falling down.

Nicole knew she was sad, but there was no other way now. She could only hope Olivia to hold on.

No one knew what to say. The corridor was very quiet at once.

The doctor was stunned when he opened the door, but he still whispered, "The sixth princess is OK, she'll be fine after having a rest."

"Thank you, doctor."

Tony reacted immediately and hurried in.

"Alright, you're already a mother of four kids, stop crying like a baby."

Although Olivia was smiling, tears were welling up in her eyes.

That could be their last time of saying goodbye to each other. Olivia felt sad too, but she knew Nicole's life was already complete with Samuel's protection and her children's company.

And she needed to find and maintain her life, her happiness.

A best friend was to stand up when her friend was suffering and retreated silently when her friend had got her happiness.

She hugged Nicole tightly and whispered, "Bless me, Nicole. If God allows, I hope you can hold a feast when my child turns one-month old."

"Sure! I'll cook! Promise me you'll come back safe and sound!"

Nicole could no longer hold back her tears and her tears flowed down.

Olivia nodded.

They left Country F quietly and didn't attend Zayn's wedding in the end. Zayn didn't blame them.

Tim actually wanted to find Jacob too, but Olivia said that she needed no one.

Jacob was her husband and the father of the child in her belly. She was bound to find Jacob with the child. The rest of them all had families now, and Evelyn and the gang all needed the men's care. Olivia appreciated their kindness, but she refused to let them come along.

When Olivia left, Samuel and Tim were still worried. Both of them called Morty, hoping Morty could send someone to protect Olivia in the overseas battlefield. They also requested to find Jacob on their own.

Morty disagreed. After all, Samuel and Tim had retired. They were the best soldiers and his trump cards which he only intended to use until the last and most critical moment. However, Samuel and Tim had special feelings towards Jacob, and they were particularly assertive in their request. Morty

Chapter 1629 Who Do You Suspect

"You really don't want me to go, do you?"

Samuel clamped his hand on Nicole's slim waist, and excitement surged in his eyes.

Nicole's breathing sped up a little, but she still smiled and said, "I'll give it to you when you come back."

"You little evil thing!"

Samuel's breathing became somewhat disordered. He lowered his head and kissed Nicole's cherry lips.
His kissing was so aggressive that he seemingly wanted to engulf Nicole.

When they had finally ended the French kiss, Zayn's helicopter was ready.

Although Morty had given Samuel and Tim the right to rescue, they couldn't make a big fuss, and could only go from that side of Country F.

Nicole touched Samuel's face and said, "If you dare lose one or two pounds when you come back, you'll know how I'll deal with you."

"Alright."

Looking at Nicole's bright red cherry lips, Samuel really wanted to take her back to the room and get another shot, but he knew he could not.

Tim and Evelyn were saying goodbye to each other. Nicole patted the back of Samuel's hand.
"Remember to keep the drugs with you always. They can help when things become critical."

"Okay."

Tim and Samuel got on the helicopter, and the helicopter flew away shortly, as if it had taken away Nicole and Evelyn's heart too.

Nicole hugged Evelyn and whispered, "Don't worry, Evelyn, they will come back. They will."

"Yes."

Evelyn nodded, she held back her sadness and returned to the palace with Nicole.

She stopped Davon at the corner.

Davon was slightly stunned. He seemed to know something when he saw that it was Nicole.

"I suppose you want to know if I've caught the maid?"

"Yes."

Nicole didn't deny, and she quickly walked towards Davon.

"I want to go check it out with you."

"Let's go then."

Davon didn't refuse.

He knew his sister's character. Even if he disagreed, that girl would still have ways to find it out. Instead of letting her intrude all the places alone, he might as well take her to have a look.

"But you have to be prepared."

"Why?"

Nicole frowned slightly.

Davon whispered, "The maid died, my people found her body in the lake at the back garden."

Nicole was inevitably startled.

She was dead?

Was she killed?

But she didn't do anything. She was just yelled at by him.

Could yelling kill a person too?

Nicole had no idea, but if the person behind this was really Cara...
