Chapter 1651 How Dare You!

Xander's speech made Cody even more anxious.

"I don't understand what you mean."

"You don't? At first, I don't understand why someone would test our blood before we took on a mission. Back then, even though we thought it was strange, we didn't think twice about it until we found out this whole thing was a scam that trapped us soldiers on the battlefield and took us away. I knew there was something wrong with the blood test."

Cody changed his facial expressions as he listened to Xander.

He continued, "Then I saw Elvis. I kind of had the idea about what happened, but I didn't realize you were behind all of this and he was working for you. That cage deprived us of our dignity and right to live. Even though Mr. Kent died for me, I guessed that was the reason why you started to pay attention to my daughter Nicole?"

"You thought it was me who died. Because of the special blood of the Kent family, you kept an eye on my daughter. But due to Samuel, you couldn't make it too obvious. So you used everyone available to do the job for you, including Harper Town and Martin. In the beginning, I found it strange that the word about the lode of the Harper Town got out so easily."

"That lode is on the back hill of the Harper Town. People of that town usually wouldn't go there. Generations of people didn't know about the lode. How would Zama's generation know about this? There's only one reasonable explanation. Somebody told them that. The discovery of the lode was the reason why the Harper Town was at the risk of getting destroyed."

"And how could you do achieve your goal without being noticed? They must be too busy solving their own problems to have an eye on you. That's why my daughter could be safe under Samuel's protection even though she has been caught up in all kinds of situations. Later you knew that I was saved by the authorities and started to work for them. And you also knew that it was not me but Mr. Kent who died. So you started the investigation on Laurence. After all, Laurence has been a sample of the experiment ever since his mother got pregnant. He manages to survive and control his Berserk Gene, which is why he is of great importance to your research. Meanwhile, you wouldn't let my grandson alone because of his blue eyes and my once special blood. You rather not take any risks than letting my grandson have a happy and free childhood, right?"

Hearing his words, Cody was shocked.

"Did you guess that or do you have any proof?"

"I don't have any evidence and I don't plan to do anything to you. For now, I just want my family to live a safe life. So, Mr. Shaffer, don't push me. I just want my grandson to be safe."

Cody was stunned.

He frowned and thought for a while.

Xander had known so much that Cody started to be afraid!

He could assume what had happened twenty years ago. But he had no proof. But who could guarantee that he wouldn't find any in the future?"

Morty froze when he saw Xander.

"Mr. Don?"

"Tell Blair to come here and check if my grandson's alright!"

Eaton was Nicole's son. If anything happened to him, she would be devastated.

Xander felt his heart was broken when he thought how sad she would be.

He felt bad enough that couldn't do much for his daughter. By the time he wanted to make it up for her, she had grown up.

He thought he wouldn't have the chance for the rest of his life. Thank God that he finally had the opportunity. But he was still afraid.

He was afraid that Eaton might end up like him.

When Lucas saw Eaton, he ran toward him.

"Eaton!"

His eyes got wet.

Eaton looked a lot skinnier than he used to be. His face was dreadfully pale. Lucas remembered that Eaton's arms used to be so chubby and now they were incredibly thin.

Even though he has a couple of mistresses, they just can't have any children. Later, when Cara was born, Mrs. Shaffer was terrified that her little baby girl would be killed too, so she had to have her maid send Cara

After they went back, I had the blood tested and found out she is Cody's daughter. Then, Cara was kidnapped and the Close family didn't win the fight and fled. Xander knew he didn't handle it well. But he didn't want to hide it anymore since things had got so bad.

"I am a mutant, just like Laurence."

Morty was completely shocked by his words. But he seemed to remember something and got up quickly to close the door. He looked around and made sure no one was around.

Lucas knew what was going on from the look on his face. He turned on his computer and started to watch the monitor.

This thing was so huge that Morty's heart started racing.

Mutant?

How come?

Seeing Morty like that, Xander smiled.

“Mr. Morty, you don’t have to worry. I’ve already made plans for the worst. I didn’t plan to go back alive.”

“What are you talking about, grandpa!”

Lucas’s heart was aching.

They finally got together as a family and his mom had just found her parents. He would never allow anyone to ruin this!

Seeing his grandson being so protective, Xander smiled and patted his head, “Don’t worry, your grandpa won’t die so easily. After all, I have sacrificed a lot to be like this.”

His tone was kind of complicated.

Morty frowned and asked, “Mr. Don, what’s going on?”

Chapter 1654 He Finally Did Something Good

What Xander said was top secret and it involved the lives of several families. If anyone with impure motives heard it, it would cause a disaster.

"I wanna go out!"

Just when Lucas walked outside, Morty stopped him. He couldn't let anything happen to Lucas right now.

"Stay with your brother. I'll take care of this."

Morty and his men followed that figure.

That figure was fast and was nowhere to be found. When Morty arrived, he saw Xander was standing there, frowning. He couldn't help asking, "Mr. Don, where is that person?"

"He's gone?"

Xander was frowning so hard that his eyebrows were twisted together.

That person was unbelievably fast, which inspired Xander another possibility that the figure was one of the people here.

Because he was so familiar with the surroundings that he hid in a room and it would be hard to search room by room.

Xander was feeling uneasy.

He went back to Morty's room.

"Mr. Don, you didn't catch him?"

Xander shook his head, "I think he's not gone yet and he's just around. But there are too many people around you and it will draw too much attention to take on a thorough investigation. It will be bad for you."

Morty was convinced,

"Who would that be?"

Lucas frowned.

"No matter who that was, Mr. Morty should pay more attention to people around you from now on. I can't stay here for too long. My people are still on the training ground of the Shaffer family. Cody might do something shady. I need to go."

"Take care, Mr. Don."

Chapter 1655 I’m Waiting for You

What was that?

Did he admit it?

Morty frowned.

He was sick and tired of talking with people like Mr. Hill and Chad. They pretended to be mysterious and wanted him to guess.

He was thinking the same as Xander. No one was faster than Xander but Xander couldn’t catch him, which meant that this person was in the yard. And he wasn’t the only one who lived in the yard.

That was why Morty thought of Mr. Morty.

When he knocked on the door, Mr. Hill closed his eyes and said, “Ask what you wanna know. I’m tired.”

“I haven’t asked yet.”

“I don’t wanna listen and I won’t talk to you. If you wanna do something, just do it. You’re young and should have the courage.”

Morty knew he meant something else.

“Even if I turn the Capital City upside down?”

“You’re an adult. You can take responsibility for your behaviors now.”

Mr. Hill was still talking like that, which was pretty awful for Morty.

“Fine, you’re old then take a good rest. Don’t meddle in things you shouldn’t meddle in. As for Chad, tell him I have to do what I have to do.”

“He’s been a soldier for life. He knows better than you. Go away. Don’t bother me.”

Mr. Hill started to push him away.

Morty was kind of upset and went out. Then he found that Michele was standing there, waiting for him.

Chapter 1656 Women Are Terrible

Joseph was suddenly a little nervous.

"I'll get it."

He ran over quickly and answered the phone before the maid did.

Zoe narrowed her eyes slightly.

Why was he in such a hurry to answer the phone?

Something didn't seem right.

She didn't say anything though, just leaned aside and then saw Joseph's brow suddenly furrow.

"Joseph, what's wrong?"

Zoe stepped forward, while Joseph had already put down the phone.

He looked at Zoe and felt a little hesitant.

It had been so many days since Great-grandpa's accident and no one had actually told them. It seemed that everyone really did treat them like children and protected them too well.

In fact, Joseph wanted to go and see his Great-grandpa. But if Eaton didn't come back at this time, then Great-grandpa would not be able to rest assured anyway. Even if he went, it wouldn't help, but it would be much better if Zoe went.

Zoe would not suspect what he was doing out there, and he could stall her.

Thinking about it, Joseph said sadly, "Great-grandpa is in hospital."

"What's going on?"

Zoe was suddenly on edge.

Edwin had been really good to them these past two years. With or without Samuel and Nicole, Edwin had only been more affectionate to them.

Now that she was only going to school for a few days, how could he be hospitalized?

"Joseph, will you come with me to see Great-grandpa?"

"I've booked a flight to the academic seminar and many of the tutors are there. It's not appropriate for me not to go. So, Zoe, I'll trouble you to look after Great-grandpa."

Joseph's words caused Zoe to slightly freeze.

As soon as Edison heard it, he knew it wasn't a good thing. Since Joseph hadn't told Zoe the reason when he left, he naturally didn't want her to know. How could he possibly tell her now?

But if he didn't, Zoe wouldn't let him go, so he couldn't help but feel even more depressed.

"Ouch, my stomach hurts!"

With that, he was about to run for the toilet, but Zoe yanked him by the collar.

"Don't even think about leaving. You really think I'm afraid to go into the gents, don't you? Edison, think carefully, if I go into your bathroom, you'll have to be responsible for me."

As soon as he heard the word "responsible", Edison couldn't help but shiver.

"My God, you're really ..."

Edison couldn't even find the right words to describe her.

Zoe smiled sweetly, "Really what? "

"Forget it, I help you, okay? When Joseph tries to kill me later, you're going to have to protect me. Do you hear me?"

Zoe suddenly said with contempt, "Aren't you ashamed to ask a girl to protect you?"

"No. I didn't want to investigate. You forced me to do it. Shouldn't you be protecting me?"

"Yes. I'll protect you! Just hurry up!"

Zoe was practically getting frantic.

Only then did Edison get up slowly and walk towards the study. He winked at the maid as he went, who took his cue and already started to go outside to call Lucas.

Opening the computer, Edison tapped the keyboard quickly.

Lucas froze for a moment as he got the message, then quickly turned on the computer and started chatting in code with Edison on the computer.

"Tell Zoe that Eaton is ill and in a very special condition, and that Joseph is here to take a look. Joseph will be back in a couple of days with Eaton, and Great-grandpa is sick because he's anxious about it, so tell her to take good care of Great-grandpa."

"Is Eaton really sick?"

Edison couldn't help but be a little worried.

"No, it's a kidnapping. the Shaffer family kidnapped Eaton, and I'll get even with them sooner or later."

"The Shaffer family? Is it the Shaffer family in Capital City?"

"Yes. You should be careful. I remember that the Shaffer family has people in the military. You should keep a low profile these days."

"Deal!"

Morty made the decision straight away, which surprised Joseph.

He was so bold, and it was no wonder he was the successor of the Hill family.

The three of them had a good talk and Lucas was even happier. He would not be alone in the army anymore.

Joseph looked at Eaton, and when he saw how thin he had become in just a few days, and after examining his body, his gentle eyes suddenly went much colder.

"The Shaffer family! Damn it!"

Joseph had rarely hated a person so much.

Ever since Nicole and Samuel had taken him in as their own son, since having his younger brothers, Joseph had been changing, and he was even more aware of the heavy burden on his shoulders. But now Daddy and Mummy were away, and he didn't take care of his brothers.

Joseph couldn't help but blame himself for it.

As if he knew what he was thinking, Lucas patted him on the shoulder and said, "It's not your fault. We will grow up, but those people will grow old. Sooner or later, the world will be ours."

"But I can't let anything else happen to my family. What about Grandpa?"

Lucas shook his head.

No one knew where Xander had gone. His whereabouts were so erratic that even Morty's people couldn't find him, let alone the Shaffer family.

"I'm going out."

Joseph went out the door.

Morty wanted to have someone follow him, but Joseph refused.

Lucas was afraid that something would happen to him, so he followed him.

Joseph did not refuse this time.

As the two children walked out of the Hill family, Lucas asked, "Brother, where are you going?"

"To find Grandpa."

"You know where Grandpa is?"

"Crap, it's a person?"

Joseph rarely talked dirty. Since growing up, he had been sophisticated and steady as a young adult, and this time he was really surprised.

Lucas wanted to say crap too, but when he heard Joseph say it, he stopped. But what was going through his mind was the same as his.

Although they were well hidden, the man ran over quickly and picked them up, one by one.

"Hey, hey, hey!"

Joseph rushed up in alarm when he heard the man say in a low voice, "Shut up!"

He did hear whose voice it was.

"Grandpa?"

He hadn't expected them to really draw Grandpa out, but was the fast man from earlier really Grandpa?

Joseph was completely dumbfounded.

Although he had heard Lucas talk about Xander's mutation, there was a difference between seeing it with his own eyes and just hearing it with his ears.

Lucas was much calmer and didn't say much, instead, letting Xander carry him and then just feeling the wind whistling in his ears.

If only he had that kind of speed.

Xander didn't realize how much of a shock he had given the two boys but quickly looked around. People from the Shaffer family were coming soon, so he had to leave with the two children first, just in case.

Joseph and Lucas were taken by Xander to a quadrangle that was very private, but judging by the location, it wasn't affordable for the average person to live in.

Lucas took stock of the house. On the way here, although Xander was fast, Lucas took a look at the surroundings and the environment.

This should belong to a private residence.

Mrs. Shaffer rambled on and on, as if her bruises didn't hurt so much anymore.

Luna looked at her, feeling particularly sad, but decided to tell her the truth anyway.

"No, the young miss is not married and she has not been adopted. She just grew up in an orphanage, but she met Mrs. Green."

Luna told Mrs. Shaffer everything she knew, and when she got to the things Cody Shaffer had done to Cara, Mrs. Shaffer was shocked.

She sat on the floor, looking a little agitated.

"Cody Shaffer found her?"

"Yes."

"He knew who she was?"

"Yes."

"He kept her at the training ground and trying to get her to participate in the mutation program?"

"Yes."

Luna felt her heart ache more with each answer, as Mrs. Shaffer almost couldn't sit still with trembling.

"That bastard! He actually still hurt my daughter! So where is my daughter now? Where is she?"

"She was sent to Mr. Morty by Mrs. Green's father, Xander. Doctor Hawk is said to be curing her."

Mrs. Shaffer was relieved to hear this news.

"Fortunately. She should survive."

Tears suddenly fell on Mrs. Shaffer's eyes and beads of tears trickled down to the floor.
