Chapter 1771 Afraid That You'd Feel Lonely

She was supposed to meet him tomorrow.

Did she like him?

Joseph was surprised as he knew about the news. He panicked a little, and at the same time, he felt warm.

It was a piece of bittersweet and sudden news.

Why did she come back now?

Why did he only know about this now?

Joseph frowned.

He spoke under the pressure of the family members around, "I'm going to marry Mia."

"Why? Because of the baby?"

"Yes."

Zoe felt speechless.

"Joseph, I know you're a responsible man, and I don't care how and why you slept with her, but you need to know that the baby isn't necessarily yours. Have you checked?"

Joseph stared at Zoe and pushed his glasses upwards, "I will when I can."

"Then don't get married first. Wait till everything is confirmed."

"Which is why I'm going for engagement first."

Joseph and Zoe actually were looking in the same direction.

Joseph knocked up a girl and got her pregnant, and he was a responsible man. So, he wanted the child to have a proper family, which was why he wanted to marry Mia in the first place.

Nicole felt bad.

"Joseph, you didn't like Mia?"

"I don't."

Joseph answered frankly.

Samuel put down his chopsticks and raised his voice.

"You didn't like her, but you slept with her? And you even got her pregnant? Joseph, I never know you're a man like this. You should never touch a woman if you didn't like her in the first place. You're..."

Chapter 1772 Women Are Just Like That

Lucas sensed someone at the door and suddenly turned around to see a flash of heartache and sadness in Yasmeen's eyes. But the moment he looked over, she suppressed it and put on a smiling face.

"Are you ready yet? Zoe and I are a bit anxious to wait."

Lucas didn't miss the flash of heartache in her eyes. Thinking about what he'd just done, he understood instantly.

Closing the wardrobe behind him, Lucas walked over and took Yasmeen directly by the shoulders, and whispered, "I remember that you used to be bold and not afraid of anything. What's wrong with you now?"

"What's wrong with me?"

Yasmeen's heart jolted.

She wouldn't have noticed it if Lucas hadn't mentioned it. She used to be spontaneous, and she would make it known even if she liked Lucas. She wouldn't hide anything she was unhappy about. But what was wrong with her now?

She was swayed by considerations of gain and loss.

Lucas was already her boyfriend, and perhaps soon to be her husband. But why, apart from the initial joy, was there something more depressing and sad at the bottom of her heart?

Was it because Lucas had given up the military for her?

Or was it because of her current health condition that she was afraid that she would be with Lucas until the end?

Yasmeen didn't know, and she just felt a little panicky and unsure.

Lucas looked at her. He thought that Yasmeen had changed a lot and was a bit more sentimental than before. Many times she would meditate, and he wondered what was wrong with her.

Lucas was a little distressed that Yasmeen was like this, but didn't know what to do.

"Are you uncomfortable?"

Lucas reached out and touched her forehead.

When the warm, dry hand touched Yasmeen's forehead, all the anxiety and uncertainty in her heart seemed to disappear.

"Okay, okay. Zoe is not a child anymore. What are you doing? If we ever have a daughter, I can't let you control her like that."

Zoe and Lucas both froze when Yasmeen said that.

Zoe gave Yasmeen a thumbs up, while Lucas' lips curled up slightly. Clearly, he was in a good mood.

A daughter?

His and Yasmeen's daughter!

Well, just thinking about it was good.

Preferably a cute girl, who he could spoil however he wanted.

"Yes, we'll have a daughter in the future."

Lucas said this as if he could decide whether to have a boy or a girl, which made Yasmeen dumbfounded.

"Come on, let's go. We're all going to be late."

Yasmeen was really embarrassed and hurriedly dragged Lucas to the car.

Seeing that Yasmeen had her brother firmly in her grip, Zoe couldn't help but snigger.

It seemed that she would have to court Yasmeen for her future freedom of love.

The three of them got into the car and Lucas drove. They quickly arrived at the place they had agreed with Kylie, but she hadn't arrived yet.

Zoe was a bit puzzled.

"Kylie asked us out, and she shouldn't be late. Why hasn't she come now?"

Yasmeen didn't say anything, but he was also a bit worried.

Chapter 1774 Who Bullied You

She could never have imagined that the man she loved would be marrying Mia after she returned from two years abroad. Not only that, but the two of them were having sex.

Just thinking about this, Kylie felt her heart break.

Her man had been slept with by Mia.

This thought flooded her mind. Kylie suddenly stood up and said to Yasmeen and Zoe, "It's on me today. I'll go first, and I'll contact you later."

After saying this, Kylie turned around and left. The way she looked just gave Yasmeen a bad feeling.

"Kylie isn't going to find Mia, is she? Although we don't know if the baby in Mia's belly is Joseph's, if she did have a miscarriage by Kylie, I'm afraid Joseph won't have a good impression of Kylie."

Zoe was also a little worried.

"Let's follow her and have a look."

"Okay."

The two of them quickly made their way out of the coffee shop. But because Lucas had dropped them off, there was no car at all, and Kylie was in a hurry to get away. For a while, they couldn't actually see her.

"Oh, no. I have a feeling that our family and the Gust family are going to be unsettled."

Zoe shrugged her shoulders. Although she was a little worried about it, she really didn't want Joseph to marry Mia, so if Kylie wanted to make a scene, so be it. She and Yasmeen would back her up.

Instead of going to Mia as they thought, Kylie went straight to Joseph.

Kylie knew exactly where Joseph usually liked to go and where he could be.

Joseph happened to be coming out of the Institute when she arrived. Before he even got into his car, he saw Kylie leaning against his car door looking at him.

Kylie looked like a classical beauty, and she liked to wear white dresses, so she looked like a fairy who had fallen into the mortal world.

Zoe could look good in pure white, but Kylie was an exception. Not only that, but doing here? Didn't we say we'd

She asked very bluntly, without even the slightest pause. However, Kylie's hands were tightly clasped together and her nerves were tense.

She knew that the answer she wanted would probably bring her to her doom, but she was so stubborn to ask.

Joseph looked at Kylie and saw how strong she was pretending to be but how fragile she looked like a lily in the rain, and his heart suddenly ached.

He subconsciously answered her directly.

"No, I didn't have sex with her, or even with any woman."

As soon as he finished speaking, Kylie's tense nerves went slack. She couldn't stand up and fell straight backward.

Joseph quickly held her up and looked at Kylie with concern.

She was too nervous!

In fact, how could Joseph not be nervous?

His palms were also sweating.

Kylie collapsed into a warm embrace and was still in a trance, but she couldn't care so much. She grabbed Joseph's hand straight away and asked nervously, "You didn't have sex with any woman, so the child in Mia's belly isn't yours, is it?"

"Yes."

Joseph met Kylie's anxious eyes and somehow blurted out the truth.

Kylie's tense heart finally loosened up a bit, but she asked with confusion, "If it's not your child, why did you marry her? You know very well that I like you and that I want to marry you!"

Joseph was dumbfounded by Kylie's words.

What did she mean she liked him?

Did she want to marry him?

Why didn't he know anything about it before?

His brilliant brain seemed to have suddenly shut down. Joseph just stared blankly at Kylie, and the last words of Kylie echoed in his head over and over again.

When Kylie saw Joseph like this, she couldn't help but cry out.

"Joseph, you're a fool!"

"Be careful!"

Joseph shielded Kylie in the first place, so much so that his arm hit the windshield.

He frowned slightly but didn't react much, yet Kylie quickly rolled up his sleeve. Seeing the bruises on his wrist, she couldn't help but be distressed.

"Why did you just come over to protect me?"

"It's alright. I'm a man. The bruises will be covered by the clothes and cannot be seen."

"It doesn't hurt if you can't see it?"

Kylie thought there was something wrong with his brain.

Joseph felt her hands roaming over his body, and the tense, worried look on her face did cause him to freeze for a moment. Immediately afterward, boundless tenderness flooded his heart and his heart went soft.

The person who had almost been hit saw that no one had come down to check on her for a long time and couldn't help but go up to the car and tap on the car window, which took Joseph's attention away.

It was a smaller girl, looking pale and unhealthy.

Joseph's brow furrowed slightly and he gently rolled down the car window.

"I didn't hit you. You ran into the car yourself. Don't you dare try to scam me! I have a car recorder."

Joseph spoke up in a cold voice before the woman could say anything, which was completely different from when he had just faced Kylie.

The woman froze for a moment and then howled, looking pitiful.

"I know. I ran into the car myself. It's got nothing to do with you. I just wanted to ask if you're Joseph, Lucas' older brother?"

When he finished, Joseph gave a little start.

She'd looked for Lucas?

Now Lucas and Yasmeen were in love. Who was this woman that came out of nowhere?

"Who are you?"

Joseph's voice was cold, and he had no intention of getting out of the car.

Kylie looked at the woman in front of her and frowned slightly. Why did she always feel that this woman looked like a bitch?

Joseph to suddenly ask this, the woman froze for a moment, then said, "My name is Penny, and I'm here to find Lucas. But I can't get through to him on the phone after he retired from the army. All I know is that he's in Seapolis City and you're his older Lucas's eyes narrowed slightly and no one knew what he was thinking. Yasmeen and Zoe wandered around for a while, feeling bored and planning to go home. Then Yasmeen suddenly saw a familiar person.

She paused slightly, which instantly made Zoe a little curious.

"What are you looking at?"

"I saw someone I know."

Yasmeen's eyes were slightly cold.

If it was a coincidence that Penny was badly injured and now she was in the Seapolis City, Yasmeen wouldn't believe it.

She was just about to pull Zoe away when, to her surprise, Penny had seen her and was running quickly towards her.

"Go!"

Yasmeen had a hunch that nothing good could come of this, but before she could pull Zoe away, Penny had already run up to them and blocked their path.

"Miss Shaw, please pity me. You are good-looking, articulate, and agreeable. You can find whatever kind of boyfriend you want in the future. But not me, I can't have children now. I can't find any other man to marry except Mr. Lucas. Please, please, please give him to me. I'm on my knees for you."

With that, Penny knelt down to Yasmeen in front of all those people.

Yasmeen wanted to dodge, but Penny tugged at her trousers, making it impossible for her to move. And she knelt down recklessly that it drew a lot of attention.

"What's going on here?"

The people around them began to murmur.

Yasmeen's face instantly turned a little ugly.

Chapter 1778 Lucas Is A Master Hacker

"What's going on?"

Lucas's face was ugly as hell, but Jaydon was busy enough with his own affairs.

He had only just followed Lucas but had so much business to deal with. To be honest, Jaydon had been busy for a long time. Now that he was questioned by Lucas like this, his brain had a momentary pause.

Seeing Jaydon like this, Lucas only frowned slightly and didn't say anything else, but quickly took the computer and dealt with it directly himself.

Any websites that spread bad information were all hacked by Lucas. Some accounts that published personal remarks were also deleted straight away. In less than a few minutes, all the social commentary about Yasmeen had disappeared without a trace.

Zoe, who was still angry and talking to Yasmeen on her phone, just watched as the news on her phone slowly disappeared and then could no longer be found.

She stared blankly at Yasmeen, feeling like she was hallucinating.

Yasmeen, however, said triumphantly with a smile, "Do you forget Lucas is a master hacker?"

"Oh my God! So you guys are showing affection in front of me again? I was so worried about you."

Zoe was instantly dazed.

It was true. Not many people could match Lucas' hacking skills, but it was a waste to waste his talent on such a petty job.

She silently put away her phone, looked at Yasmeen's obtrusive smile, and said glumly, "Having a boyfriend is great, huh?"

"Well, yes."

Yasmeen was in a particularly good mood.

Knowing that Lucas wouldn't take a good poke out of guilt at Penny made Yasmeen particularly happy.

She wasn't so naive. She'd be the biggest fool if she still harbored sympathy for her after she'd asked her to give up her boyfriend.

"Come on, let's go buy some clothes for your brother."

Yasmeen remembered that Lucas didn't have many clothes or casual clothes that he could wear for formal occasions and couldn't help but take Zoe's hand and go shopping.

Chapter 1779 Are You Stupid?

Yasmeen wasn't sure, and she didn't know how to talk about it.

She should have confessed to Lucas about it, but in the end, she couldn't. Now, looking at Zoe's concerned and determined eyes, she knew that once Zoe stepped in, she really couldn't keep her secret.

Zoe was the oldest daughter of the Green Family. Although she usually looked like she only enjoyed eating and drinking and was a blogger who liked to share her food, Yasmeen knew that she also had her own information network and line of contacts.

Thinking about it, Yasmeen said with a sigh, "I don't really know if being related to you is a good thing or a bad thing."

"At least in terms of your and Lucas' safety, I am your security. There are times when those closely involved in some things cannot see as clearly as those outside. If you talk to me, maybe I can give you a piece of advice."

Zoe's words left Yasmeen speechless.

With a sigh, she said, "Let's find a café. I'll tell you slowly."

"Okay."

The two went to the cafe next door, got a single room, and sat down.

Yasmeen just drank the coffee at first, not talking, and Zoe didn't push her. When the cup of coffee was finished, Zoe poured her another cup.

She didn't know how many cups she drank, and finally, her stomach was a little bloated before she said,
"I donated a kidney to your brother."

When she finished, Zoe choked directly on her coffee.

She coughed violently. Yasmeen quickly handed her a tissue and said with a smile, "What's wrong? You didn't expect that?"

Zoe managed to stop coughing and looked at Yasmeen's calm face in shock. Tears suddenly welled up in her eyes.

"Are you stupid?"

She couldn't tell what was going on inside her.

Lucas had looked everywhere for the person who had donated a kidney to him, and his family was prepared to pay back that person for saving Lucas's lives even if they had to give half of the Green Family. But what happened?

The person was Yasmeen!

Yasmeen had a murderous look.

Zoe hastily held her hand and said, "Don't be impulsive. It's against the law to kill someone. And you can't do it until it's absolutely necessary."

"But I always feel that Julian is plotting something. And the day Lucas went on his mission, it was also Julian who called me and asked me to come over, saying that there seemed to be something wrong with Lucas' health report, so I rushed over. But I went there only to find out that it was a kidnap scene. I tried to exit when I met Lucas's eyes. If it hadn't been for my presence, Lucas might not have made the mistake, and Penny would not have been injured and rendered sterile for life. All this now seems like it was designed to happen. But I wasn't sure if the kidnapper and Julian were in cahoots. After all, there is no way to inquire since the person is not on our side."

Yasmeen voiced out her thoughts over the past few days.

Lucas was definitely not incompetent. He had ended every mission perfectly and the only time he had failed was when she appeared at the scene of the kidnapping.

Yasmeen didn't say these things to Lucas. For one thing, she didn't know how to bring up the fact that she and Julian knew each other when she said it, and for another, she had no proof. It wasn't a good idea of her to judge the matter in her present status as a princess of another country.

But Zoe was different.

They were just friends and could talk about it as a casual conversation. And with Zoe's connections, she could find out what she wanted to find out.

It had to be said that Yasmeen's status as a princess of another country was very restricted in Country Z. Her connections and channels could not be used until it was absolutely necessary, lest it would attract the attention and speculation of the government and bring unnecessary trouble to Lucas and the Green Family.

But if Zoe were to check it out, it wouldn't cause too much concern.

"Leave this to me. You stay out of it. Right now, your main task is to have your body properly checked. No, I can't listen to you. You're only reporting good news whenever my brother is involved. How could you still drink coffee when you're in such a state? Do you want to die? Get up and come with me to the hospital. I won't put my mind at ease until you have a medical check-up."

Zoe poured out the coffee in front of Yasmeen and called her people to make an appointment for a medical check-up, and in her name.

Yasmeen was touched but did not refuse.

Perhaps it was the only way to put Zoe's mind at ease.

The two of them went to the hospital for a check-up and Yasmeen's medical report came out.

Zoe was relieved to see that the report was acceptable.

Yasmeen stepped forward and wrapped her arms around her neck, then said with a smile, "You promised to keep my secret."

"I know."
