Chapter 1781 You Are Not Lovely at All

"Aren't you going to try it on?" asked Zoe in jest while looking at Lucas.

The latter cast her a glance and said indifferently, "Are you making trouble again?"

"I just want to know if you really have eight abs, as Yasmeen said."

Lucas slightly frowned. "Can you just be a gentlewoman? Besides, leave Yasmeen alone. Don't influence her."

"Gee! Has she influenced me, or have I influenced her? You should know I'm single right now."

Zoe was a bit annoyed.

Lucas answered flatly, "You are single, but it doesn't mean you can't get pleasure by fancying men."

"Lucas!"

Zoe felt his words had hurt her.

With a smile, Lucas asked, "Are you here to tell me about this?"

"Of course not."

Zoe directly sat down opposite Lucas, found a mug, and gave it to him.

"You made the tea?" asked Zoe.

"Ehn."

Lucas nodded in confirmation.

Recently he fell in love with the taste of the tea, so he made some. However, seeing Zoe's frown, he took another tea set and made some tea.

Chapter 1782: Will You Love Her?

Zoe wondered if this matter was good or bad. Looking at Lucas's calm face, she slightly frowned.

"Lucas, so you've accepted Yasmeen because of this matter, haven't you?"

"If a woman was willing to sacrifice her own life to me, why couldn't I accept her? In this world, I'm afraid no other woman will love me with her life as she does."

"Then, do you love her? Or, will you love her?"

That was the question Zoe was concerned about the most.

Yasmeen only loved Lucas all her life. However, if Lucas accepted her only because of her kindness, Yasmeen would never accept it as she was so proud.

Lucas said without hesitation, "Yes. Although my change was quite sudden, I knew what I was thinking after changing my mind. In fact, I had already accepted Yasmeen quite a long time ago, but my habit made me turn her down all the time. Over the years, she has been like my shadow. No matter what I'm doing or where I go, she's always following me no matter how difficult it is. As soon as I look back, I can find her. It's already my habit. When I was dying, I subconsciously looked for Yasmeen, but she wasn't there at that moment."

As he spoke, Lucas paused, looking a bit upset.

"That was the very first time I didn't find Yasmeen behind me. For some reason, I panicked. I was afraid I would never be able to see her in the future. I was afraid I couldn't leave the operation room alive. Honestly, I wasn't missing you guys instead of her at that time. I was wondering what Yasmeen would do after I died during the operation. Would she go to heaven with me? At that moment, I suddenly realized Yasmeen had already entered my heart in the past years. She was like the air and the water, naturally, but I could never live without her. Hence, no matter if it was her kindness or other matters, I can't tell at all. I only know this woman loves me with her life, so I must repay her with my life as well. Since she doesn't want me to know it, I'll pretend not to know it, as long as she's happy. Actually, after she fell in love with me, she didn't seem to be quite happy."

While talking about Yasmeen, his eyes were incredibly tender, quite naturally. It was like the feeling between Samuel and Nicole.

Seeing that, Zoe was utterly relieved.

"All right. I'm relieved to hear you say so. Otherwise, I would always be worried about you guys. You are my older brother, and she's my bestie. If you didn't treat her well, I wouldn't know whose side I should take at all."

"Not necessary. I'll never betray her."

Lucas flicked on her forehead. Then he gave Zoe the newly made Pu'er tea.

Zoe took it over. Thinking about Julian's matter mentioned by Yasmeen, she told him about the deal between Yasmeen and Julian. She didn't tell Lucas earlier because she was afraid Lucas might not know the renal donation, but now she didn't need to hide it.

Upon hearing it, Lucas frowned slightly.

Chapter 1783: Be Polite

Nicole watched her son cook so skillfully, gaping.

Yasmeen wasn't shocked. After all, this wasn't the first time for her to eat the dishes prepared by Lucas.

She held Nicole's arm and said with a smile, “Mrs. Green, let's go sit down in the living room. Don't worry. Lucas is good at cooking.”

“Have you eaten his dishes before?”

“Yeah.”

Nicole felt a bit bitter.

Although she was delighted to see her son and daughter-in-law love each other so much, as Lucas’s mother, how had brought him up, she didn’t know he could cook until now. She had never eaten anything cooked by him before. Hence, she was a bit upset.

“Yasmeen, you should have a daughter with Lucas. A son isn’t so reliable. When he grows up, he will ignore his mother.”

Nicole’s words made Yasmeen blush. She felt sweet in her heart.

“Mrs. Green, Lucas cares a lot about you and Mr. Green. I’m just an experiment rat for him.”

Upon hearing it, Nicole became happier.

“You are such a sweet talker, Yasmeen. I know you are protective of him. If he bullies you in the future, you might shed tears.”

“No, I won’t. Mrs. Green, you’ll protect me, right?”

Yasmeen leaned against Nicole. They looked like a mother and a daughter.

Nicole was quite joyful.

Soon, Lucas finished cooking and served the dishes.

Looking at the dishes that looked and smelt quite good, Samuel and Nicole didn’t remark. Yasmeen directly called Zoe and Joseph downstairs for lunch.

When meeting his parents’ meaningful gazes, Lucas said, “All right. I’ll tell you frankly. I’ve learned to cook quite a long time ago. Isn’t the kitchen in our family Mom’s territory? I only come home occasionally. I can’t occupy her territory, can I?”

Yasmeen immediately hopped off from his lap. She said shyly, "I'll go check what Mrs. Green is busy with."

Then she fled out.

Looking at her receding figure, Lucas smiled faintly.

The older Yasmeen became, the shyer she was.

He still remembered how domineering she was when they first met. She kept following him without giving up as if she was pretty bold. However, sitting on his lap had scared her away.

His phone was still ringing. Lucas checked the caller ID and found it was Edison.

He was a bit taken aback.

According to the schedule, Edison and Michele were supposed to be on a flight. Lucas wondered why Edison could have time to call him.

In confusion, he swiped to answer quickly.

"What's up?"

"Boss, something happened to Michele. Please come to Capital City as soon as possible."

Edison's voice was trembling.

They had worked with each other for several years, but this was the first time that Lucas heard his voice in that way. Lucas frowned, feeling a bit worried.

"I'll book the flight now. Give me your location."

After hanging up the phone, he received Edison's location instantly.

Yasmeen was still shy while Lucas walked into the room.

Looking at her, he said in a low voice, "Yasmeen, something happened to Michele. I must go back to Capital City now. Please go with me."

Initially, Lucas had planned to fly over and transfer his residential record alone. However, something had happened to Michele, so he would definitely see Michele based on their friendship since childhood.

However, Michele had special feelings for him, so he couldn't go to see her alone.

Yasmeen was taken aback. Before her face returned to normal, she heard such news, so she felt a bit depressed. However, she also knew Lucas treated Michele as treating a younger sister. She thought for a moment and said, "Okay. I'll go pack up."

Chapter 1785: Mental Hypnosis

Yasmeen was still shocked by Michele's suicide. Seeing how cold Lucas looked, she was taken aback. Right then, Edison dragged her and said Michele would continue to do it. Yasmeen felt quite annoyed.

"What is she doing? She can't accept to be defeated, can she? She committed suicide because Lucas had chosen me. If we hold our wedding, will she die at our wedding? I've never thought Michele Hawk is such a woman who can't afford to let go."

When she spoke, she saw a familiar figure hiding from the corner of her eyes at the door. Hence, she raised her voice and continued, "She proposed to a fair competition earlier. Now Lucas has chosen me, but she wants to die. I disdain her! If she wishes to die, just let her be. After she died, I wouldn't need to feel worried anymore. I'll thank her. When her death anniversary came, I would visit her graveyard with flowers."

"Yasmeen Shaw, you wish I'd die so much, don't you? How vicious you are!"

Michele couldn't hold back her anger anymore and rushed out of the ward.

Lucas subconsciously stood in front of Yasmeen.

Michele looked into his cold eyes, shivering. Also, she felt quite wronged. Her eyes reddened instantly.

"Lucas, I..."

"If you don't want to live on, you'd better do it neatly without any hesitation. You can't let others rescue you and get scared because of you. Besides, your life belongs to you only. Even if you truly committed suicide for me, I wouldn't remember you. I would even hate you as you pushed the blame of your death to me. Your parents would hate me to the core. Then the friendship between our two families would be ruined, and we would break up. For us, we might be sad for a while, but life would still go on. I would still marry Yasmeen. After you died, nothing would exist, just like a burned candle. You'd better think about it yourself. Besides, don't tell others you are my soldier in the future. I don't have such a cowardly soldier in my troop."

After speaking, Lucas took Yasmeen's hand and turned away, giving Michele no chance to explain.

Upon hearing their stimulating blame, Michele burst into tears like a child.

Edison felt so sorry for her, but he dared not to walk up. He could only comfort her in a low voice, "Please don't cry, Michele. You've just been rescued. You can't cry like this."

"How could Lucas criticize me like that? He even didn't listen to my explanation."

Michele cried aloud. However, Lucas didn't stop at all or look back at her. His determined look broke her heart.

Chapter 1786: Meeting Only Once

When Yasmeen heard that Lucas knew where Michele's room was, she was a bit upset. After all, no woman in this world would like to know how familiar her boyfriend was with another girl's bedroom. However, before the discomfort in her heart extended, Lucas took her hand. He said, "Come with me. Your computing skills are quite good as well. You can help me."

Upon hearing it, Yasmeen was stunned a bit. Morty also cast a meaningful glance at Lucas, looking a bit unhappy.

He wondered if Lucas was afraid that he would bully Yasmeen.

They hadn't married yet, but Lucas was so protective of her. Morty was annoyed.

If Lucas were his son-in-law, Morty would feel different.

He heaved a sigh inwardly.

No wonder his daughter couldn't let go of it. Such an outstanding man was stolen by another woman. If he were Michele, he would also feel upset.

"Go ahead. Hurry up and leave."

Morty suddenly felt too angry to let Lucas continue standing here. He waved his hands to send him and Yasmeen away directly.

Lucas didn't care what was in Morty's mind at all. Gripping Yasmeen's hand, he entered Michele's room with her.

It could be seen that the Hill family treated Michele as their little princess. Although Michele was always trained in the military region and only came back occasionally, her bedroom was decorated in pink.

Yasmeen couldn't help but miss her parents. She hadn't been home for a long time.

After donating her renal to Lucas, she wanted to go home, but her health condition stopped her at that time. Moreover, she dared not to tell her family what she had done. Hence, when calling her parents, she was always aggrieved and had to suppress her emotion.

She wasn't home now, so she wondered if Daisy would miss her.

Seeing that Yasmeen was lost in thought, Lucas guessed that she must be homesick. After this matter was done, he decided to accompany her to go home.

"If you are tired, you can sit down for a rest," Lucas whispered.

Yasmeen came back to her senses instantly.

Julian vented his anger on Penny and finally calmed down. On the other side, after Lucas finished his revenge, he turned off the computer. When he looked back, he saw Yasmeen looking at him obsessively. Lucas felt his heart was fulfilled with a man's self-esteem and vanity.

“Am I handsome?”

His voice was magnetic.

Yasmeen nodded unconsciously. However, Yasmeen realized that she wasn't reserved at all, so she blushed as soon as she did it.

Back then, when she was chasing after Lucas, she was pretty bold. Now, she had become his girlfriend, but she was shy.

Lucas curled up his lips into a smile, stood up, and walked to Yasmeen.

The shadow of his tall figure made her heart beat fast.

“Are you done? Shall we leave now?”

Yasmeen hurriedly stood up, but Lucas walked up and trapped her between his chest and the chair.

“What... What are you doing?”

Yasmeen's heart was racing. She could even smile at the pleasant scene from Lucas's body, feeling quite nervous.

Lucas looked at her cowardly face, reached out, and poked her cheek. With a smile, he said, “You are so timid. How dare you declare you want to pursue me?”

“It was me who took the initiative to pursue you in the past.”

Yasmeen lacked confidence while speaking.

Lucas had his kicks when teasing her. He bent over, scaring her to move backward. However, the next second, Yasmeen found that Lucas was carrying her in his arms.

She was taken aback.

“What are you doing?” she asked.

“Carrying you out.”

Lucas breathed faster. Instantly, he held Yasmeen tightly, trying his best to suppress his desire. He said hoarsely, "If you dare to bite me again, I can't guarantee if I could still wait for our wedding day to do something."

Yasmeen blushed while feeling shy. She didn't know that she could bite that spot so coincidentally.

However, thinking that Lucas had always suppressed his desire for her and didn't make love to her, Yasmeen asked uncertainly, "Don't you want to make love to me?"

Lucas was taken aback.

He couldn't believe what kind of question he had heard.

Or was Yasmeen hitting on him?

"Yasmeen, don't push your luck too far. Do you think I dare not to do anything to you here?"

As he spoke, he approached her. The hard part of his body made Yasmeen blush more. Hurriedly, she lowered her head and whispered, "You always hold back your desire. I thought..."

Lucas didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

"My commanding officer had ever said that making love without the purpose to get married was always indecent. I actually want to make love to you a lot, but I must get the marriage certificate first. Besides, you are the Bradfords' precious baby. I don't want to aggrieve you."

Yasmeen felt warm in her heart.

"I know I've chosen a nice man. It's so kind of you. How smart I am!" she praised herself.

Lucas echoed with a smile, "Ehn. You have the best taste in man as you've picked up the best man in this world."

"Of course."

After finishing her words, Yasmeen realized that Lucas seemed to praise himself just now.

How arrogant he was, but she liked it.

Chapter 1789: You Are Too Impatient

Upon hearing that Lucas's ankle was twisted, Michele didn't care about other things. She jumped off from the handrail of the balcony and ran towards the corridor.

Yasmeen breathed a sigh of relief and rushed up. She slashed on the back of Michele's neck.

Michele was quite brilliant. Sensing the attack from Yasmeen, she reacted quickly. They soon started fighting against each other.

Right after Lucas and Edison started their conversation, they heard the fight in the ward. They exchanged a glance with each other, running back in unison, afraid the two women in the ward would cause considerable damage.

When they arrived, Yasmeen and Michele were fighting fiercely.

Instantly, Edison panicked. Despite that he couldn't win against Yasmeen, he rushed over to help Michel.

Lucas saw that and couldn't believe Edison had the guts to hit Yasmeen.

Hence, Lucas directly rushed to stop Edison, and the two men started fighting at well.

When Yasmeen found they were fighting from the corner of her eyes, she felt so helpless. While gasping for breath, she said, "Stop it! Help me restrain Michele. She got a needle on her neck. She should have been stabbed on her coma acupoint."

Upon hearing it, the two men stopped.

Edison was upset, but he didn't dare to get closer, afraid to hurt Michele. Lucas didn't have so many concerns. He directly hit the back of Michele's neck.

Michel rolled her eyes and fainted directly.

Edison hurriedly rushed over to catch her body and carried her to the bed.

Lucas, however, didn't take care of Michele at all. He directly turned to look at Yasmeen, only to find that she was panting. One of her hands was covering the position of her kidney subconsciously. His eyes were darkened.

"Hold me," said Lucas.

After a few beeps, the other party answered it.

Seeing Lucas, Joseph asked casually, "Didn't you fly to Capital City? Why aren't you with Yasmeen now but Facetiming me?"

"Joseph, do you have any channel to get the renal source?"

Upon hearing it, Joseph was taken aback.

"Is there something wrong with your kidney again? Wasn't the transplant last time a success? Or is there any rejection reaction?"

"Not met. I'm asking about it for Yasmeen."

Lucas told Joseph what Yasmeen had been hiding from them.

After listening to him, Joseph was silent for a long time. In the end, he said, "Lucas, you must have saved the whole galaxy in your last life, so you could be so lucky to meet a woman like Yasmeen this life."

"I also think so. Hence, I must cherish her. She doesn't have many hobbies but is interested in martial arts. However, her current condition has stopped her. She can't do it now. She is like a winter plum tree that has been transplanted into a greenhouse. Although it looks nice but can't live long. Joseph, I want her to be healthy. If possible, I want to continue looking for the renal source that fits mine and give the kidney back to her."

"Do you think the renal transplant is a game? You can enter and quit freely, huh? Don't make yourself a fool!"

Joseph was angry when hearing what he said.

However, Lucas could tell how concerned Joseph was. He asked with a smile, "What do you suggest then, Joseph?"

"Let's make time to get a sample from her. I'll go check the renal sources in the black market. If there's any suitable one, I'll operate on her as soon as possible. According to the situation you described just now, I'm afraid she has a rejection reaction. I need to check her up carefully before doing the operation."

Joseph's words made Lucas frown.

"She doesn't know I've known she donated her kidney to me. I've never told her. Probably she's afraid I'll only appreciate her kindness. She always considers love quite pure and saint. Hence, I always pretend not to know it. If I told her the truth, I'm afraid she would split hairs."

Lucas truly knew Yasmeen well.

Joseph rolled his eyes again while listening to him. He could be so relaxed only when with his younger brother.

"What do you want me to do then? I can't do an operation with the patient's sample."
