

Escape Wife 1833

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 1833 The End

For Kylie's safety, Joseph decided to operate on Julian's son. Before the operation, he had a secret talk with Julian Farley, and they had reached an agreement.

When it was time for the operation, Kylie, as Joseph's assistant, also entered the operating room, while Mr. Frye and Julian stayed outside.

Joseph said to Julian expressionlessly, "Mr. Farley, I need some of your blood, in case of need. Is that okay?"

"Of course."

Julian had been very active in rescuing his son.

After Joseph took Julian's blood, people with no duty went out. But Joseph didn't know if there was a monitoring video inside the operation room.

But he didn't care. After all, no one else could learn his unique skills.

But Kylie looked at him inquisitively.

As a doctor, she knew that they didn't need Julian's blood, but she didn't say anything. She took Julian's blood sample to make a test.

Joseph looked into her eyes, but he didn't say anything.

Julian's son was really in a bad situation.

After Joseph checked it, he already knew what to do. Just when he was about to work, there was a sudden gunshot outside.

What happened?

Kylie's face turned pale.

She was not afraid. She was just reminded how Joseph had fought with Mr. Frye before. She had a vague guess.

Did these people come to rescue Joseph?

She looked at Joseph subconsciously.

But Joseph didn't seem to hear it. He said, "Focus on the operation and finish it. Don't be absent-minded."

"But..."

"Do it, or go out."

Joseph didn't even raise his head. He kept checking the patient's body and recording the data.
