Chapter 261: I Miss Your Brother

"What... What are you doing? I am your sister-in-law! Vincent, don't mess around!"

Nicole was horrified by Samuel.

Oh gosh!

How were the brothers so unreasonable?

Why did they lose temper so easily?

And she didn't say anything wrong just now.

Was it because she said he was too much like Samuel and he didn't like to hear that?

"Well," Nicole said, "You are more handsome than my husband, OK?"

Samuel looked dark now.

How could this heartless woman mistake him as Vincent when he was so obsessed with her?

What was on her mind?

It was her who had him informed that she was here to train. Could it be Vincent to come here?

The more Samuel thought about it, the more he felt annoyed. He could not eat or sleep well these days, but this woman, who had trained here alone and didn't tell him in advance, should mistake him as someone else!

"Hey! I'm your sister-in-law. Let go of me! Don't think just because your brother and you are on good terms doesn't mean you can do anything to me. I'm..."

Before Nicole could finish, Samuel threw her over his shoulder and threw her to the ground.

"Remember, the point of suplex is just like that." Samuel said coldly.

Nicole felt as if all her bones were falling apart.

"How could you do it without telling me? I haven't been ready for that I'm still a green hand, OK? Can't you be tender to a woman? If you are so tough, how could you find a girlfriend?"

Nicole was even surer that he was Vincent.

Samuel would never treat her like that.

She missed Samuel so much that at the moment he leaned up, she almost thought he was Samuel who she had missed.

However, when being thrown down like that, Nicole stopped thinking that way.

Chapter 262: Mistake Him as Someone Else

"Ah! Let me down! Vincent, how can you be in my room!?"

"Shut up!"

Even at this time, Nicole still thought of him as a Vincent. How helpless Samuel was.

"And you're mad at me? I am your sister-in-law! Nicole blew up.

What was wrong with Vincent?

Didn't he know that he should keep a distance from her?

Didn't he know Samuel would be jealous?

She struggled and even began to kick and punch him, oblivious to her pain and exhaustion.

She just had one thing in her heart. She couldn't let Vincent stay here. She couldn't let him keep holding her.

Nicole waved her arms and somehow slapped Samuel in the face, leaving both Samuel and Nicole stunned.

"Well, I didn't mean to do that, but you must let me down. I'm your sister-in-law." Nicole said weakly, with a look that made Samuel angry.

"Shit!" He blurted out the swear word.

Nicole was definitely not normal. She could even force a man of high culture to swear.

But Nicole didn't feel that way.

"How can you swear? I'm your..."

Before Nicole could finish, Samuel threw her onto the bed. The next moment, he was on top of her, and before Nicole could fight back, he quickly kissed on Nicole's lips.

Nicole felt her brain was totally stunned.

What was going on?

She was forcibly kissed by Vincent?

How could that be?

If Samuel found out about this, he would be mad!

Nicole struggled so hard that she even bit Samuel.

A faint smell of blood hung between their lips and teeth.

Samuel was so hurt that he had to let her go.

"Are you a dog?"

"How could you do this to me? Get the hell out of here!"

Nicole lifted her foot and kicked Samuel's crotch. It was so precise and made him scared.

Samuel narrowly avoided Nicole's attack, but Nicole picked up the vase from the table and smashed it right into Samuel's

"Oh..."

Nicole slapped Samuel and felt like she couldn't breathe. Did the man take any medicine today? Why was he so strong?

Just as Nicole felt like she was suffocating, Samuel released her, but not to let go of his hands. He held Nicole in his arms, allowing her to cling to him. This position showed her perfect curve.

Nicole felt hot and whispered, "Let go of me."

"No!"

"Samuel!" Nicole wriggled.

Samuel's voice deepened. "I can't promise I won't do anything to you if you move again. Or do you expect me to do something?"

Nicole was horrified.

In fact, she also wanted to do something with Samuel. He aroused her, and after a long separation, she really enjoyed the time of being with him.

But she was really too tired and couldn't do it now.

Hearing Samuel's threatening words, she naturally did not dare to move. She simply lay on him.

"Why did you come here?" Nicole was asking a pretty heartless question.

Samuel gave her a disapproving stare, but Nicole ignored it. Despite she was a bit fearful of him, she still didn't dodge.

"What on earth was on your mind? You've already been out of danger, but why don't tell you inform me that you are safe?"

"I can't send a message on the ship. The signal had been intercepted. We went up there secretly so we didn't dare send any message"

Samuel felt distressed.

"Does it hurt?"

He stretched out his arm, and Nicole found a comfortable position in his arms, whispering, "It's fine. I thought I was going to die the moment I fell into the sea. I have always felt that I am not afraid of death, but at that moment I suddenly realized that I don't want to die. My mind was full of you and the children. I thought that if I die, and in a few years, you fall in love with another woman, and marry her, then I would suffer great losses. That woman would sleep with my man and would even beat my children. Thinking of this, I don't want to die."

Samuel couldn't understand what was going on inside Nicole's head.

He shook his head and said, "I will never marry another woman in my life."

"That's not necessarily true. How many men swear by their oath, but once their wife is gone, they would still miss her in the first few years. However, time is really a terrible thing. It will dilute all the sadness. Maybe ten years, or five years, I can only be alive on the wall or the tombstone." said Nicole plaintively, making Samuel very uncomfortable.

Chapter 264: Reluctant to Leave Her

Looking at Nicole's confused eyes, Samuel suddenly didn't know how to tell her that she was not Mr.
Bush and Mrs. Bush's biological child, but he had to tell her about that. After all, Audrey had lost so much for her.

Seeing Samuel in distress, Nicole whispered, "Is there something I don't know about these days?"

"Do you remember who took you away from the Minister Shaw?"

Samuel didn't want to mention Viola, but he had to. After all, there were things he couldn't hide from Nicole.

"Yes."

Speaking of Viola, Nicole was calm. She wasn't fond of Viola, but she understood why she had given herself to Allen in the first place. Fortunately, she was not too evil and did not treat her too bad.

Samuel saw the dislike in Nicole's eyes and smiled sadly. "You are sisters," he said.

"What?"

Nicole thought she had misheard.

"My parents just gave birth to a daughter, and they haven't stayed in America. Viola has nothing to do with me, so stop joking, OK?"

"Do you think I'm joking?"

Samuel gave a helpless sigh and then told Nicole that Mr. Bush and Mrs. Bush had gone to the police station to have a paternity test, which meant to tell Nicole that Mr. Bush and Mrs. Bush were actually not related to her.

It would be easy to explain to her now. After all, Nicole knew about Xander.

Nicole was silent for a long time, and Samuel didn't disturb her. He just held her in his arms as if when he owned her, he owned the whole world.

After a long time, Nicole spoke.

"Has it been verified that I am the child of the Don family?"

"Audrey had a paternity test. Do you remember drawing blood at the embassy?"

When Samuel said that, Nicole remembered it.

She nodded.

It seemed that the matter had been proved.

She was a bit clam, and she always had a kind feeling for Audrey, but it didn't occur to her that the woman was her mother.

Nicole didn't know what to say when she thought of how much Audrey had suffered these years. Although she knew that Audrey was her mother, she found it difficult to call her mother. Some emotions couldn't be established simply by blood.

She sighed and said, "Did my parents know it?"

"Yes, but they were shocked."

Samuel turned sharply back, but he couldn't find anyone staring him.

He had always been cautious and sensitive, and he was sure what he felt was right. He might not have been so cautious if Nicole hadn't warned him that there were Zama' men at the base.

But as soon as he came out of Macon's room, he realized he was being followed, which was really bad.

Samuel frowned.

He was so worried about Nicole's safety that he wanted to turn around and told her about that, but then he thought of Zoe.

Zoe was still waiting for him, and he needed to get back as soon as possible.

Samuel took out his cell phone and called Lucas directly.

He didn't know how to get in touch with Finn, but he could get Lucas to tell Finn to keep Nicole safe.

Lucas was asleep and hung up the phone when he heard the phone ring.

Samuel felt helpless.

The boy might be sleeping soundly now, and if not necessary, he didn't want to wake him up.

The phone rang again and again. Lucas was very displeased, so he just answered the phone.

"Samuel, what are you doing? It's not daylight yet?"

"I'm at the base and I'm going to go back now, but I'm afraid something might be wrong with your mommy. I can't get in touch with Finn, so give Finn a call and ask him to keep an eye on everything going on at the base and protect your mommy, okay?"

Samuel's voice was not loud, plus he was on the beach and the sea wind was howling, Lucas can hardly hear it.

"Aren't you at the base? Just let Macon take care of mommy."

Lucas yawned, and he still didn't wake up.

Samuel sighed, "I am still worry about her. There would be safe if there of tears is one more person to take care of her."

"All right, I see."

Lucas called Finn after he hung up, but it was strange that Finn's phone didn't get through.

At first Lucas didn't notice anything wrong, thinking that Finn had turned off his phone while he was sleeping, but after three or four calls, Lucas noticed something was wrong.

He didn't feel sleepy by this time.

He called Samuel, but, strangely enough, Samuel couldn't get through either.

The base signal had been blocked by someone!

Who did that?

Who had the power to block the base signal?

Lucas suddenly sat up, quickly turned on his computer, and tried to find Nicole, but unfortunately, her tracking system was gone.

What was going on?

Lucas got upset.

After hanging up the phone, Samuel quickly pulled a kayak from the warehouse and planned to leave in the dark, but he was always uneasy.

Nicole tried to turn away, but it was too late.

She could only lean back as far as she could, when suddenly she hit something.

In desperation, Nicole looked back and saw a barrel lying there, not knowing what was in it.

Nicole slipped in quickly and carefully closed the lid.

It was very damp inside and a bit smelly. It seemed to have been there for a long time.

She frowned slightly, pinched her nose and tried to keep her breathing as quiet as possible.

The footsteps came closer and the voice was more clearly.

Nicole's heart tightened at the familiar sound.

They were Zama and Petty!

Here they were hiding!

So, Macon was Zama's people?

No wonder Samuel looked all over the Seapolis City and could not find Zama and Petty, who turned out to be hidden by Macon.

Nicole really admired Macon's ability.

It wasn't easy to hide under Samuel's eyes for so long.

Nicole remembered that Macon went to help find Lucas when Lucas was missing.

How dangerous it would be. If Macon had found Lucas at the beginning, she didn't know what would happen to Lucas now.

Nicole was afraid, but glad to have Vincent's help in the dark.

"Zama, Macon said that Nicole had escaped' Petty said as she walked, "Where could she hide in the mountains?"

"I don't know, but this woman must die. If it weren't for her, I'd still be here with my son. Not only did she tear my son and me apart, but she became the leader of the Night Elf Empire. What ability does she have to be the leader of the Night Elf Empire?"

Zama said in a dismissive way.

Nicole always knew Zama didn't like her, but she always thought that Zama didn't like her because of Samuel. However, that was not quite the case now.

Petty whispered, "Now will she contact the men of the Night Elf Empire to come here? Since she could escape, it meant she had known Macon's means. It's a pity that we have worked so hard to control Macon for so many years, but now he was found to be helping us. If Mr. Samuel knows about it, then..."

"He won't know. Didn't Macon say that he had already left? I hear that Zoe's going to have surgery in the morning, and Samuel had to go back and saved her. An unlucky chick dared to have my son's kidney? I won't let that happen. Did you arrange the doctor?" Zama said with a note of ferocity.

"Yes" Petty said immediately. "Once she's on the operation bed, she can't get off and she'll die of an accident. Don't worry"

"Don't hurt my son!"

Zama's words shocked Nicole.

Nicole was nervous, so were the women inside, all looking helplessly at Nicole.

For her, it was an accident to come here, and to meet so many poor women was out of her expectations. But could she ignore them?

Nicole denied it immediately.

No matter who was behind Zama, she would not be complicit in the crime.

Fortunately, the two men only searched the area and then quickly backed out, probably in real fear of Zama's return.

How powerful was Zama?

Even the staff in the base were afraid of her?

Or had Zama been around since the base was built?

Nicole wasn't sure, but she was thinking about it all the time.

When the sound of footsteps died away a little, Nicole said to the women behind her, "I'll get you out of here, but I'm not sure if you can get out of here. Everybody just scatter and run when you are out, and do not run in one direction, okay?"

Everyone nodded.

For them, Nicole was the biggest hope for getting them out.

Nicole opened the wooden door. It was cold outside, but very disturbing.

She was the first to come out to check the surroundings, and when she found nobody there, she waved and let the people behind her come out with her.

Nicole remembered the way she had come, and she quickly led the women to a place.

It was getting a little light outside. There must be cameras around here.

Nicole took a look and noticed an electronic eye nearby. She quickly picked up something to hide it.

"Once I do that, they'll soon find out something's wrong here, and then everyone will scatter and run. Just run out of here as much as you can"

"Thank you, girl."

They cried with joy.

They hadn't fled yet, but they saw a glimmer of hope.

Nicole wasn't too sure of their gratitude. It was only the first step.

After telling them the escape route, Nicole quickly blocked the camera and ran out.

There was a little girl in her late teens, not too tall, who ran out with Nicole at the same time Nicole ran out.

Everyone had left, and nobody wanted to stay, except this little girl, who was following Nicole.

Nicole hadn't noticed her at first, but when she found the girl was following her, she was a bit hesitant.

"Girl, you can't follow me?"

Nicole was afraid of dragging her, but the little girl shook her head and did not speak.

Soseph turned around in fright. She went crazy and hit the intruder.

She didn't know much kung fu, but it could tell she was a good fighter. As soon as the man's arm came out, Soseph grabbed her jacket and swung it in his face.

There was a zipper on the coat and it was pointed right in the person's face.

The man stopped a bit because of her movements, and Nicole was struggling to get out and start hitting the man when he whispered, "Nicole, it's me.'

Nicole was momentarily stunned by the familiar voice, and the next moment she stopped Soseph.

"Soseph, stop.

Soseph stopped.

Nicole looked incredulously at Samuel.

His clothes were wet with dew, even wetter than she was.

"What's the matter with you?"

"I went back. This is not the time to talk. Come with me:

Samuel took one look at Soseph, a trace of doubt slipping through his eyes.

"This is a child I rescued from Zama's cave? Nicole said, "Zama took a lot of women and I set them free. She is called Soseph and she's been following me:

"Come on!"

Samuel didn't say anything for Nicole's sake, but apparently agreed to let Soseph join them.

Nicole nodded to Soseph, and they followed Samuel to the other side.

"Is it possible to get out here?"

"It's a little difficult to get out, but we can wait"

Samuel noticed Nicole's hands cold, and looked back.

The suit Soseph used to beat him happened to be Nicole's.

This stupid woman must have taken off her clothes and given them to Soseph.

Soseph was not very tall, about the height of Nicole's shoulders. She was thin and looked weak, but Soseph's eyes interested Samuel.

The child was so young, but she had such cold eyes. Although Nicole had saved her life, the girl might not be grateful to Nicole.

That was what Samuel thought.

"Is it cold?"

Chapter 269: I Love You

It all happened so suddenly that no one was prepared, especially Samuel.

He froze, Nicole froze, and Soseph nearby froze.

Nicole was the first one to respond. She grabbed her sleeve and wiped Samuel's face. "I'm sorry' she said, embarrassed, "I didn't mean it. I."

"Drink the hot water quickly!"

Samuel took down her arm, not caring much about the drool on his face.

Nicole was even more embarrassed.

"Your face is all over my saliva"

"I know and I have tasted it. Drink water quickly"

With that, he almost forced hot water into Nicole's mouth.

Nicole felt speechless.

Did this man know there was a girl next to him?

What did he mean that he had tasted her drool?

It sounded very ambiguous.

But now Nicole couldn't argue with him, because Samuel had forced her to drink water.

As the hot water flowed down the esophagus, she felt every warm.

After Nicole finished drinking the water, Samuel cleaned his face and said to Soseph lightly, "If you want to drink water, just take it yourself"

Although he was cold and he did not address her, Soseph nodded gratefully and hurried over to pour a cup of hot water into her hand, trying to feel the heat.

Nicole felt a bit distressed at the sight of it.

"She's just a girl. Can't you be gentle with her?"

"What do you mean by letting your man be gentle with another woman? Aren't you afraid of your man cheating on you?"

Samuel glanced at her with an unhappy look.

Nicole was depressed.

Soseph was only 18 or so. Samuel was a little too defensive, wasn't he?

"Do you think you are so handsome that everyone will like you" Nicole said sarcastically.

Samuel gave a confident nod, which made Nicole blush.

How shameless the man was!

She peeked at Soseph and was relieved to see that she was not paying attention to them. She was quietly drinking.

Chapter 270: You Love Me

Nicole didn't want to say anything, but now Samuel reminded her of the most important thing.

She looked at the sleeping Soseph and said hesitantly, "Let's go out to say that"

Samuel's brows knitted together, apparently refusing to go out.

Nicole was now unwell, and he knew she was going to have a fever. If it hadn't been for Soseph, she wouldn't get a cold. If she wanted to say that outside for fearing of waking Soseph, Samuel really wanted to kick Soseph out.

Apparently sensing Samuel's intent, Nicole grabbed him and said, "Why are you so serious with a child?"

"Only you would take her as a child"

Samuel was so helpless. In the end, he carried Nicole out with a quilt.

But as soon as they were out, Soseph opened her eyes and watched them as they left. She was lost in thought but said nothing. And then she closed her eyes again. This time she really felt asleep.

Samuel, of course, was aware of the sight behind him, but he didn't reveal her. Only the silly woman would be worried about what would happen to Soseph.

"Nicole; he said with a slight sigh, "There might be a day when you are betrayed but you are still unknown and unkind to others. What do you think you would do if I weren't around?"

"I'm not that stupid, am I?" asked Nicole gloomily, as he degraded her as nothing.

"I haven't told you anything worse"

"Then why do you like me?"

Nicole was really upset.

Samuel said lightly, "I can't help it. I haven't met any difficulties in my life since I was a child, and I'm not interested in those women who can take care of themselves very well. Maybe I like someone who needs my protection:

"Samuel, are you seeking death?"

Samuel was way too far.

She reached under the covers and tickled Samuel.

Samuel laughed and said, "If I let go of you now, you would fall to the ground"

Nicole just found out what their position was.

She snorted and said, "I'll spare you for the time being.

"Thank you, then"

Samuel carried Nicole outside and sat down on a rock with tenderness.
