

Escape Wife 321

Chapter 321 I'll Break His If Anyone Dares to Set Her Bones

Finn felt his muscles trembling.

He had never seen a man being so cruel to a woman.

It was as if the woman was dead to Samuel.

Zama was sweating from the pain. One of her arms had been broken.

"Samuel, you bastard! How dare you do this to me for your wife? Aren't you afraid of going to hell?"

"I don't care. I'm unlucky to have a ruthless mother like you. This arm is for my unborn child."

After saying that, Samuel broke one of Zama's legs without blinking an eye.

Zama almost fainted from the pain.

The poison in her body hadn't been cleared. She was hanging on with her willpower. Now, Samuel's cruelty was too much for her to bear.

Samuel did not make things more difficult for her. He said indifferently, "You can faint, but I promise you, the next moment you will wake up. This broken leg is the price you have to pay for being so cruel to Lucas!"

"Samuel, just kill me!"

Zama felt that no matter how vicious and cold she was, she could not compare to Samuel.

He knew that she was his mother, but he still broke her arm and leg. Now Zama had no levers.

Right now, Samuel was like a wild horse that had lost its reins. He was completely out of control. If Nicole was here, she might be able to stop him. But now, even if God was here, he wouldn't be able to stop Samuel from doing anything.

Zama was freaking out.

She refused to admit defeat at any time, but now her son scared the shit out of her.

Among the evil people, there were still more evil.

Her body trembled in pain, but Samuel did not soften on her. Just as Zama was about to faint, he broke her other leg.

Zama let out a screech of pain.

Her miserable scream echoed in the basement, making others feel goose bumps and tremble in fear.

Finn felt lucky that Samuel was not his master. Otherwise, he would probably have a psychological shadow.

Samuel said coldly, "This one is for what you did to Zoe."

"Mr. Green, are you alright?"

Jacob had been paying attention to Samuel. Seeing Samuel couldn't stand up, he immediately stepped forward and helped him up.

Samuel had experienced many changes these years, but he had never been so uneasy and worried.

He didn't even dare to ask anything.

Olivia glanced at him and didn't say anything. She walked forward and asked the doctor, "Doctor, how is Nicole?"

"We couldn't save the baby. But we've cleaned the patient's uterus. She is too weak and she has lied on the cold and humid ground for too long. So, we don't know if she could get pregnant again. If possible, she shouldn't have kids within three years for the sake of her health."

The doctor's words made Samuel relieved.

"Doctor, does she need to do anything other than rest?"

Samuel finally spoke.

The doctor shook his head and said, "No, she just needs to keep a good mood. She can't have any mood swings anymore. After all, she had a miscarriage. We don't know if she can recover from her current condition."

Samuel felt piercing pain in his heart.

Nicole used to be very outgoing and healthy.

But what had she experienced since she got together with him? Olivia was right. It was a disaster for Nicole to fall in love with him.

Samuel nodded with a sinking heart.

When Nicole was pushed out, her face was frighteningly pale.

Samuel was so sad and he felt tears in his eyes.

He held Nicole's hand. It was cold like ice.

Samuel got heartbroken again.

Olivia wanted to step forward, but was stopped by Jacob.

He shook his head at Olivia. Olivia glared at him, but she did not do anything else.

Samuel pushed Nicole back to her room.

It was so quiet in the room that Samuel could only hear the intravenous drip.

Samuel did not know how Nicole held on back then. But when he thought of how sorrowful Nicole would be when she found out that she lost the baby, he just wanted to kill himself.

Shouldn't he be her haven?

Shouldn't he stand up for her and their baby?

Chapter 323 Nicole, I'm Here

"Don't leave me, honey! Don't go!"

Although Nicole was hugged tightly by Samuel, she couldn't wake up from that nightmare.

She cried, struggled and looked desperate.

Samuel burst into tears too.

"Nicole, wake up. You're fine. I'm here. Nicole!"

Samuel whispered Nicole's name, but Nicole could not hear anything.

She could only see the child turning into a pool of blood and questioning her over and over again why she hadn't protected him.

Nicole almost broke down!

If she had known that she was pregnant, she would not have taken such a risk to do that.

But if she did not do so, what would her mother-in-law and grandmother do?

That plan was a double-edged sword. It would always hurt Nicole whether it was achieved or not.

Nicole couldn't wake up from this nightmare. She kept blaming herself and crying like a helpless child.

Samuel was heartbroken.

This was the first time he had seen Nicole so sad. He had no choice but to hug her and kiss hard on her cherry lips.

This was no longer a kiss. Samuel was almost biting Nicole wildly.

The pain brought Nicole back to reality.

She seemed to smell a familiar scent.

It was Samuel!

She was so aggrieved that tears flowed down her face.

Not long ago, she had told Samuel that she wanted to have a child. But now, she lost her baby. How could she explain it to Samuel?

Nicole couldn't stop crying. Samuel kissed her tears and whispered, "I'm here, Nicole. I'm here."

He repeated it in Nicole's ears.

Nicole gradually calmed down. Although she was still crying, she was no longer screaming.

Seeing her like this, Samuel felt very bad. He wanted to put her down on the bed, but Nicole consciously grabbed onto his shirt and didn't let him go.

When Olivia saw this, she sighed and said, "You'd better stay with her."

Although Olivia didn't want to admit it, she had to say that Nicole needed Samuel the most now, not her.

Chapter 324 I'll Listen to You

At first, Samuel still tried to comfort Nicole. But she got consumed in her own grief. Samuel could not help but sigh and let her cry.

The doctor also said that being depressed was not good for her after her miscarriage.

After crying for quite a while, Nicole finally calmed down.

Her shoulders trembled and her nose turned red, making her look so pitiful.

Samuel took the napkin and carefully wiped her tears. He said softly, "Vincent has returned. I've asked him to take charge of the company. When you recover, I'll take you and our children on a trip. We can stop caring about everything here. We can live our own lives."

Nicole was shocked.

"Really?"

"Of course. Vincent is very capable. He can handle the Night Elf Empire and the Eternal Group very well at the same time. Besides, Mom will help him. It will be fine. Zoe has never traveled around for so many years. Just think about our children. Let's take them out for a trip and see the world. And we can relax too."

Samuel's words were too tempting.

This has been Nicole's dream.

When she married Samuel, she had hoped that Samuel would take her along with him when he went abroad for business. Then she could travel around. Now that she heard that Samuel had left the company to Samuel, she was very happy.

"Alright, I'll listen to you!"

"Then take good care of yourself. Audrey has come when you were unconscious. Then she went back to make some food for you. And you should have some even if you have no appetite. I know that you are in a bad mood. But for me and our kids, you should get better, okay?"

Samuel tucked her hair behind her ear. He looked so gentle, attracting Nicole to indulge in his blandness.

If they could unload their burden and didn't care about anything, they would be able to travel around like a loving and happy couple. How could she not yearn for such a day?

Nicole knew that everything Samuel did was for her. He wanted her to leave this sad place and forget that unborn child.

This man had concealed his sorrow and tried his best to comfort her. She shouldn't drown in her sadness.

That innocent child was also Samuel's kid!

"It's up to you!"

Nicole was like a docile little sheep now, but it made people take pity on her.

Samuel helped her lie down and whispered, "You should sleep for a while. You don't look well now. And you need to rest more. I'll wake you up for dinner when Audrey comes."

"Who is it?"

Samuel said sharply in a low voice.

The figure suddenly trembled and the face went pale with fear. She wanted to turn around and escape, but Samuel grabbed her by the collar.

"Mr. Green, I'm sorry. I'm just here to see Mrs. Green."

Petty looked at Samuel in panic, not daring to move.

Samuel did not expect it to be Petty.

In his impression, Petty and Nicole didn't get along with each other. He suddenly saw her like this, so he was somewhat surprised.

"You came to see Nicole?"

"Yes!"

In fact, Petty hesitated before coming.

In the past, she really didn't like Nicole. She felt that there was nothing special about her. Why did Samuel treat her so well?

Moreover, Zama was also cornering her. For Zac's sake, she had to pick a side.

However, she was greatly touched by Nicole in these days.

To her surprise, Nicole went into Zama's trap for her. Nicole clearly knew that Zama was only using her as bait, but she still came.

What's more, Nicole even wanted to protect her later.

Petty suddenly felt guilty and she couldn't help but blame herself. She couldn't get over it especially when she saw that Nicole had miscarried because of her.

She was also a woman. She had once conceived a child for Zac, but she had a miscarriage because of her health problem.

She could totally understand the pain of a woman losing her baby. All this was because she was too careless and was caught by Zama. She was responsible for what happened to Nicole.

Petty felt very guilty.

Samuel looked at Petty, who was covered in bruises. How could anyone know she once was an energetic and active girl?

This time, it wasn't just Nicole who changed, Petty did too.

Samuel let go of her and whispered, "Nicole is too weak to see anyone now. You are also injured. Go back and have a good rest. The Green family will pay for everything. Come and see Nicole when you are better. I will send someone to fetch Zac later to keep you company."

After the miscarriage of Nicole, Samuel suddenly realized that no matter how strong and capable a woman looked, she still needed the person she loved the most to be by her side when she was fragile. Only in this way could she feel secure.

This might explain why he suddenly thought of Zac when he saw Petty, so he made the offer without thinking.

Petty was shocked and she found it hard to believe.

"Mr. Green, what did you say? Who will keep me company?"

"Zac!"

Seeing the excited tears in Petty's eyes, Samuel could not help but soften his voice and say, "I promised Nicole that as long as you cooperated, I would send you and Zac away whether the mission succeeded or not. I would give you a sum of money so that you could live a carefree life later on. Although you haven't helped much, you've done your best. I will not go back on what Nicole has promised you earlier. You return and have a good rest. I will have someone bring Zac over to you. "

Chapter 326 Samuel Was Really Open-Minded

Samuel looked at Nicole worriedly and asked, "Are you alright being alone for a moment? I'm telling you; you're not allowed to go back after you pee. Wait for me to come back and carry you. You don't have the strength to walk now. The doctor said that you should not move too much."

"I see. Just go."

Nicole couldn't hold her pee any longer, but Samuel was still here babbling. Did he let her pee or not?

Seeing that Nicole was truly uncomfortable, Samuel turned around and left, even was thoughtful enough to close the door.

Only then did Nicole let out a sigh of relief.

Samuel shook his head and went outside. He asked the nurse for a thin blanket and a pair of pajamas pants for her.

Then he looked around and turned back. He asked the nurse, "Excuse me. My wife had a miscarriage. She has not fully recovered. Can she use a sanitary napkin? I don't think the hospital has prepared it."

As he was speaking, Nicole happened to open the bathroom door. With the door of the ward also open, she heard the conversation in the corridor clearly. Nicole was so embarrassed that she wished the floor would open and swallow her.

Samuel was really very open!

In the past, he would never say such words even if he was forced, but now, he grabbed a young nurse and asked her about it without hesitation. This was simply too embarrassing.

The nurse also paused for a moment. It seemed that being asked such a question by a man was somewhat embarrassing, and her face turned red a little.

"Usually, we don't advise patients to use sanitary napkins for the first few days after the miscarriage, because they are not very hygienic. It's better to use bathroom tissue that comes in large pieces. However, the patient needs to change it frequently, for it's easy to be soaked."

The nurse felt that her face was about to burn when she said these words to such a handsome man. She also felt a little jealous.

If only her boyfriend could be so considerate.

"Thank you, but where can I buy this kind of bathroom tissue?"

Samuel did not feel embarrassed at all and asked seriously.

The nurse was too embarrassed to look at Samuel and whispered, "If Mr. Samuel needs it, I can buy it for you and send it over later."

"Then thank you. It's best if you hurry up. My wife seems to need it right now."

Nicole felt she wanted to rush out and hit him.

What did he mean? She needed it right now?

She actually....

Thinking of this, Nicole was depressed.

She seemed to really need it!

She had already thrown her last pieces of tissue away when she went to the bathroom just now. Now she had nothing to replace it at all.

However, she didn't expect that Samuel would notice such a small detail.

Nicole was both shy and touched.

Samuel was afraid that he would wake Nicole up, so he asked Audrey to take care of her and quickly left the ward with his mobile phone.

In the corridor, Samuel answered the phone.

"Samuel, is there anything wrong with my mommy?"

Lucas' voice came over the phone, carrying a trace of questioning and worry.

Samuel wanted to hide it from Lucas, but he heard him say, "You can't lie to me just because I'm young. I saw my uncle take Zama away with his men just now. Her limbs seemed to be broken. I heard you did it. You don't usually do that unless that old witch did something to my mommy, do you? Where's my mommy now? I called her. Why couldn't I get through?"

Lucas threw out a series of questions, which were difficult for Samuel to answer.

Was it fortunate or unfortunate to have such a smart son?

Samuel thought for a while and said, "Your mother did have an accident. She is currently recovering in the hospital. It's best that you don't come over these few days."

"No! I want to go to see her! I'll ask my grandparents to go with me!"

Lucas' words scared Samuel.

"Lucas, don't tell your grandparents."

"Why?"

After all, Lucas was a child. There were some things he didn't understand.

Samuel rubbed his temples and said, "Your mommy is in a bad condition. She needs to rest. If your grandparents come, they will be sad to see her like this. When they cry, your mommy will also cry. Your mommy can't shed tears at this time, or she'll hurt her eyes, you know? So, it's better to tell your grandparents about it when your mother gets better."

"What happened to Mommy? How could it be so serious?"

Lucas immediately became worried. He cried and insisted on coming to the hospital.

Samuel felt a headache.

If that brat came, he didn't know what would happen.

"Lucas, listen to me. Your mommy has got me here. Can I have mommy make a video call to you later? You really can't come over right now, and I need your help with something."

Samuel had no choice but to say this.

Lucas frowned slightly.

"What is it?"

"It's Zoe. Because I can't let Zoe know about your mother, I sent her to rest elsewhere. You know, she's in recovery now. If she finds out that mommy is not well, she'll be worried. Your mother and I have just decided that when she recovers, we will take you two on a trip. You're the big brother. Do you want to help mommy to take care of your sister?"

What Samuel said was too much for Lucas to take in at once.

"Get out of my way! Do you know who I am? How dare you stop me! Get out of my way!"

Such an arrogant and domineering voice made Nicole frown slightly, and Samuel was somewhat unhappy.

"I'll have someone to deal with it."

Samuel stood up and was about to leave when Nicole grabbed his wrist.

"Don't go. It's Viola."

"Who?"

Samuel felt that this name sounded familiar, but he couldn't remember who she was for now.

Seeing Samuel's confused expression, Nicole whispered, "Minister Shaw's other daughter, Viola."

That did ring a bell for him. But there was a hint of disgust on his face.

"Isn't she in America?"

"We can all go back to the Seapolis City. Why can't she come back? She probably came to look for Minister Shaw."

Nicole once again called Audrey Minister Shaw. It could be seen how sensitive she was to Viola.

Samuel still remembered Viola had pursued him blindly, but he didn't know if Mike had come.

Nicole needs to rest and recuperate now. If she got entangled by Viola, he didn't know what would happen.

Although no one dared to do anything to Nicole in the Seapolis City, Samuel was still worried. After all, there was the saying, better an open enemy than a false friend.

"I'll give Mike a call."

Nicole nodded.

Samuel took the phone and went to the window to call Mike.

"Where are you?"

"Seapolis."

Mike's voice was somewhat helpless.

Samuel sneered and said, "You can't even control a woman?"

Being stimulated by Samuel, Mike almost felt ashamed. But when he thought of Viola, he couldn't help but sigh and say, "I really can't control her."

"Coward. Don't let her disturb my wife and me. You guys can do whatever else you want. I'm telling you; for your sake, I don't want to mention that incident in the United States anymore. If she gets into silly scrapes, don't blame me for being impolite."

After saying that, Samuel hung up the phone.

Mike listened to the busy signal of the phone and looked at Viola who was still shouting in front of him. He rubbed his temples and felt really depressed.

Samuel whispered to Nicole, "Why don't we go somewhere else to recuperate?"

"Good idea! It's not convenient to stay here. I don't know what to say if I meet Grandma by chance. I just don't know a good place to go to."

Nicole immediately agreed.

Chapter 329 I'm Gonna Tear Your Mouth off

"Holy shit! We're not making trouble for her, but she's coming for us! I want to see what kind of rich girl this is. She's so aggressive."

Olivia rolled up her sleeves.

Nicole is afraid that Olivia will get hurt, so she whispers, "Ignore her and let her knock. As long as no one answers, she will leave by herself."

"No. Nicole, since when did you become so weak? Or was it just because she was your half-sister that you tolerated her like this?"

Olivia felt that Nicole was not herself.

In the past, even if she did not ask for trouble, Nicole would not allow herself to be bullied. Now, it was obvious that she was bullied, and she wanted to swallow it. This was simply unbelievable.

Nicole did know what Olivia was thinking. However, she really didn't want to make a scene with Viola. Moreover, she didn't want to get angry for the sake of her health. It was better to avoid the conflict.

Viola patted the door for a long time and no one paid attention to her. She was so angry that she began to kick the door!

"People inside, listen. Open the door and let me in. I'm just looking for someone. If you are not the person I'm looking for, I'll leave immediately!"

These words were spoken so naturally, as if she should have been like this.

Olivia's eyes darkened a little as she looked at Nicole. She tightly held the sheets with both of her hands. It was obvious that she was holding back her temper.

Seeing Nicole was cornered like this, Olivia felt sorry for her.

Her best friend, the Young Madam of the Green family, was treated like this by a bastard. Even if Nicole could bear it, she couldn't.

"You stay in bed and don't move. Leave this to me!"

"Olivia!"

When Nicole was not paying attention, Olivia stood up and quickly arrived at the door, directly opening it.

Viola didn't expect that the door would suddenly open and almost fell in, but she was kicked out by Olivia.

"Why shouting? Are you a mad dog? This is a hospital. It's not your home. Please behave yourself!"

Viola had been spoiled by her father since childhood. She had never been treated like this. After being kicked by Olivia, she was irritated. When she heard Olivia call her mad dog, she was so angry that she raised her arm and was going to slap Olivia.

"Bitch! You dare to kick me?"

However, before her arm fell off, Olivia was already a step ahead of her. She slapped Viola so hard that her vision blurs.

"You are lucky I just kicked you! My sister is resting inside. You're so noisy here. What if I called the police to arrest you? You wanted to attack me? Try it if you dare to."

Olivia put her hands on her waist in a menacing manner, looking tough.

Viola was beaten up by Olivia twice in a row. She was so angry that she almost jumped up.

"I'll beat you!"

As she spoke, she stood up and pounced towards Olivia.

Chapter 330 Samuel Looked Handsome in the Kitchen

Samuel hugged Nicole tightly. After their car left, Audrey directly pulled Viola out of the hospital. Both of them looked depressed.

"Mom, I had no other thoughts. I just came to see you. I was worried about you."

Viola said in a sobbing voice.

Looking at Audrey, Nicole's eyes turned red. She had been trying to get close to Audrey since her childhood, but she never made it.

Audrey thought a lot about Nicole's words these days. Now that she saw Viola like this, she couldn't help but sigh.

"Viola, you are an adult now. How can you still be so childish? We are in the Seapolis City, not the United States, nor your father's sanatorium. You should not shout in the hospital, and you should not harass the patient here. Do you think your father can protect you even here?"

Hearing Audrey's words, Viola said somewhat wrongly, "But you are here. I'm here for you."

"Since you're here, just have fun. I am too busy to stay with you. Mike is familiar with the Seapolis City. Let him be with you."

After saying that, Audrey turned around and wanted to leave.

Viola grabbed her hand and said, "Mom, I just want to be with you."

"My mother-in-law is in poor health. She needs someone to take care of her. The Don family is famous here, so our relationship could not be exposed in public. I have to take care of my mother-in-law recently. I really don't have time to be with you."

What Audrey said made Viola sad again.

She was her kid anyway, but why did Audrey seem to dislike her?

"I can stay by your side quietly. Really, I promise I won't make any sound. I won't be disrespectful to your mother-in-law."

Viola's sincerity and humbleness made Audrey feel somehow touched.

Thinking that she couldn't find time to spy on Viola, it might be better to let Viola stay by her side.

"That's fine, but don't talk too much, and don't talk about your relationship with me in front of my mother-in-law. Can you make it? If you can't, go back to America immediately!"

Audrey's requirements were rather harsh.

Although Viola felt uncomfortable, in order to stay by Audrey's side, she still nodded and said, "I won't say anything. I promise."

"Then follow me."

Audrey brought Viola back to the hospital.

Mike didn't know whether to follow her or not. Just as he was hesitating, Viola suddenly whispered, "Mike, you can go back. I'll stay here with my mother. It's fine."

"Then take care."

Mike also found it inappropriate for him to stay here. He nodded to Audrey before turning around and leaving.

Samuel brought Nicole to the villa. Jacob was already waiting at the door. He saw that Olivia drove Samuel and Nicole back and felt strange.

"Don't just stand there! Come here and help."

Olivia shouted before Jacob reacted.

"Mr. Green, the villa is ready. But we haven't found the servants yet. I'll handle the matter immediately."

As he spoke, he took the things in Olivia's hands and entered the villa with him.
