

Escape Wife 401

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 401 I Didn't Have Time

Having been in the Seapolis City for so many years, Tim had always been called a playboy. All of women he had ever dated spoke highly of him. This was the first time that he had been called an impotent man.

His face turned red from anger.

"Samuel, you should keep it for yourself. I heard that you have been left alone recently. I wonder what it feels like. Although I'm single, someone is waiting for me every day. But you are married. Did your wife run away because of your impotence?"

Tim was irritated by Samuel, so he said whatever came to his mind. He completely forgot that Nicole was still with him, and also forgot why Nicole had returned here.

As soon as these words were spoken, the surrounding temperature instantly dropped to a freezing point. Whether it was Jacob or the people beside Tim, they were trembling. After all, Samuel's expression became extremely cold.

"Well, you are really an eloquent speaker. I wonder how good you are at cards."

Samuel said with a cold face.

The phone was still ringing.

Nicole thought that Samuel deliberately didn't answer her phone.

What exactly was this man trying to do?

She had no idea that Samuel and Tim had already started a gamble.

Looking at the number on the phone, Samuel's eyes became even colder.

Now that she called him, it was probably because he had come early in the morning to find trouble with Tim. She wanted to dissuade him.

His wife, his beloved wife, not only lived with Tim, but also wanted to speak up for Tim now. Samuel was by no means in a good mood at this time.

He threw the phone to Jacob and said coldly, "Tell her that I don't have time and ask her to wait."

After saying that, he turned to look at Tim and said, "Come on, let me see how good Mr. Tim's gambling technique is."

After saying that, the two of them began to play the cards.

Jacob didn't know who was calling at all, but since Samuel said so, Jacob didn't dare to go against him. He pressed the answer button and didn't hear anything from the other end of the line. He directly said, "Mr. Green is very busy, so you should call later."

After saying that, Jacob hung up the phone.

Samuel was slightly shocked and looked at Jacob thoughtfully.

Jacob felt that Samuel's gaze was somewhat intriguing. He couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Green, who's calling?"

Samuel did not say anything and turned around to continue the game with Tim.

Jacob wasn't calm anymore. 'Why did Mr. Green look at me with strange eyes? There was a trace of anger in him.'

'An insignificant person shouldn't have Mr. Green's phone number, right? But if it was an important person, why was it from an unfamiliar number?'

The more he thought about it, the more uneasy he felt. Jacob took Samuel's phone and went out. He went to a quiet place and called back.

After Nicole was hung up by Jacob, her entire body trembled with anger.

Damn Samuel. He had tried his best to get her under him yesterday, but today he became indifferent towards her.

And he kept her waiting!

"No, Nicole, you..."

Samuel thought that Nicole was simply going too far.

Nicole took the phone and showed the screen to Samuel. She was really going to call the police.

"Leave now! Otherwise, I will call the police! When the police arrive, I'll see what you can do."

Nicole didn't seem to be joking at all.

Samuel suddenly remembered that he had asked her to wait not long ago. Well, someone really needed to wait now, but it turned out to be him.

"Darling, I am sorry."

Samuel admitted his mistake and apologized.

However, Nicole sneered and said, "If Mr. Green doesn't leave, I will call the TV station. The TV station is probably very interested in your behavior."

As she spoke, she took her phone inside and even closed the curtains.

Samuel had been left out in the cold, which depressed him.

He had to leave and return to the car.

Seeing that he had returned so quickly, Jacob didn't dare to ask anymore. He only asked where Samuel was going.

Samuel said angrily, "Where? How do I know where to go?"

Now that he knew where Nicole was, he didn't want to go anywhere except here. But, he had offended his wife.

Seeing that Samuel was so irritated, Jacob came up with a plan.

"How about buying a bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Green? I heard that women like flowers. Perhaps she will be happy to receive flowers and make up with you."

Samuel looked at Jacob as if he was an idiot and said, "Sending flowers? Are you afraid that others wouldn't know that my wife is living with Tim?"

Jacob didn't know what to say.

"Then..."

"Then what? It's rather troublesome."

Samuel was depressed.

Right now, Lucas was calling him.

"Samuel, come back. I found something wrong."

"What's the problem?"

"About Mommy's photos."

As soon as Lucas said this, Samuel immediately became spirited.

"Let's go. Drive back to the old mansion."

Jacob immediately followed Samuel's order.

Nicole was still waiting for Samuel to ask for her pardon, but after a while, there was no phone call or message from him, and it seemed that there was no sound outside.

She suddenly pulled open the curtains and found that Samuel had gone.

No matter what, Samuel could not figure out who else was involved in what happened five years ago.

The two of them were silent for a while. Nicole took the photo over again and looked at it carefully.

Then she whispered, "Perhaps I know who this person is."

"Who?"

Samuel immediately became nervous.

Nicole looked at the photo for a while and said, "Riley told me that it was not solely caused by Zama.
Someone else was also involved. That person was her mother, Swift."

As for Swift, Nicole thought that she did not have much contact with her. However, since she returned home five years later, this person did find trouble with her.

After Riley died, Swift seemed to have disappeared as well. The George Family's business in the Seapolis
City was handed over to others overnight, and then Swift disappeared.

In the past, she thought that this woman was hiding because her daughter's death shattered her, but now it seemed that this was not the case.

Perhaps she blamed Nicole for Riley's death.

Right now, she was just hiding in the shadows and waiting for an opportunity to take revenge.

Hearing Nicole's analysis, Samuel quickly called Jacob.

"Arrange for our people to search for Swift with all their might. Anyway, I want to know if Swift is still in the Seapolis City."

"Yes!"

Although Jacob didn't know why they had to search for Swift, he still went to do it immediately.

Nicole's mind was somewhat weighed down.

If it was Swift, this matter would probably worsen.

"I didn't handle it properly. I thought that everything would end when Riley died. I didn't expect that Swift would actually be a fish out of the net."

"No one would have thought that. Me neither. After all, there were too few people who knew about it back then. However, it's best to ask Zac and Petty about it later."

Nicole's words reminded Samuel.

Now, people who knew what had happened back then were exactly these who had been involved in it.

Samuel wanted to call and ask, but Nicole said, "We should ask them face to face. Sometimes the phone is not safe."

"That's true. And living here is not a permanent solution for you. Furthermore, people here are untrustworthy. You..."

Before Samuel could finish speaking, Nicole laughed.

"So you will make trouble with Tim as long as I stay here?"

"Feel sorry for him?"

Samuel immediately became jealous.

Nicole's lips curved even wider.

"Don't be so petty, okay? You know that there's nothing between me and Tim, but why do you care so much about it every day?"

"Swift? What do you mean?"

Petty seemed to have understood something.

Nicole told them about the photos.

Zac suddenly said, "Maybe I know where Swift is. I heard that she had a boyfriend who worked in a casino."

Zac's words reminded Samuel of the reporter who came to the casino not long ago.

"Red Sun Casino?"

"Yes!"

Zac was a little surprised, as if he didn't expect that Samuel could know about this.

Nicole also thought of it.

"So that's the case. Then those people did go for me just now. If I hadn't left..."

Samuel held her hand and said, "It's fine. I'm here with you. I'm your lucky star."

Nicole rolled her eyes at this man for his shameless boasting and was reluctant to say anything.

"Jacob, send someone to catch Swift's boyfriend secretly."

Samuel knew that there was such a person here, so he would definitely not let him go.

Zac gave that person's address to Jacob who went to do it without any delay.

After knowing all of this, Samuel felt a little relieved.

"Do you want to go up and rest? You still have a cold and are so tired. Go to sleep. I'll call you when the meal is ready. This is our home. It's absolutely safe. You can have a sound sleep."

Hearing that, Nicole was somewhat surprised. The only person in the world who knew her best was Samuel.

Nicole nodded and went upstairs.

"Petty, cook some chicken soup for Nicole tonight. She has no appetite outside these days."

"OK, Mr. Green."

Petty and Zac left.

Samuel had nothing to do now. He accompanied Nicole upstairs. No matter how Nicole pushed him, he insisted on sleeping with Nicole. Nicole's face flushed red, but there was nothing she could do to him.

When Jacob arrived at the Red Sun Casino, the person Zac mentioned was no longer there. The reporters seemed to have never been here before, and there were no traces.

The people from the casino saw Jacob and thought that Samuel had come again. They hurriedly said, "Mr. Tim is still in the company. I'm afraid he won't come here today, so please tell Mr. Green that he can come another day."

Jacob didn't explain much and quickly left Red Sun Casino. He rushed to that person's house. Unfortunately, that person wasn't at home.

Everything in the house was in a muddle, and it seemed that he had got wind and thus run away.

Jacob hurriedly called Samuel.

"Mr. Green, it seems that Ryan has escaped. His home is in a mess, and he isn't in the casino either."

"Samuel, did you know about the arrival of Mrs. Don and Viola today?"

"Samuel, what do you think?"

The reporters rushed forward.

Jacob intended to help Samuel block the reporters, but was stopped by him.

"You can go back. Remember what I said. Don't talk to Nicole about this."

"Yes, but Mr. Green, can you handle it?"

"Of course! They are nothing to me. Just go."

After Jacob left, Samuel looked at the reporters around him and sneered, "You are very concerned about my private life recently. Why? Someone gave you money?"

Hearing this, the reporters immediately shut their mouths and felt extremely embarrassed.

"This is a joke, right?"

"You all know very well whether I am joking or not. You should know what to write and what not to write. I'm not a person to be trifled with. I don't care how much money others give you. And I don't mind if you want to hype up the news. But if you disturb me, I'll show no mercy to you."

After saying that, Samuel did not even look at them and directly came into the old mansion.

When the servant saw Samuel return, she froze for a moment and then hurriedly went forward.

"Samuel, why are you back? Didn't Mrs. Green ..."

"Don't worry."

Samuel smiled faintly and then went into the room.

"Who's here? Why is it so lively today?"

Samuel said that before seeing them.

This was not the first time Mrs. Don had seen Samuel. She did not have a good impression of this person, but for the sake of Viola, she had no choice but to come.

When Laurel saw Samuel coming back, she frowned slightly and said, "Have you finished your work? You come back so soon."

"Yes, so I come back. Hello, Mrs. Don."

Samuel casually threw his coat to the servant. He just sat in front of Mrs. Don carelessly without any respect. As for Viola, he hadn't even taken a look at her.

Viola had never thought that Mrs. Green would say that.

She cast a furtive glance at Mrs. Green and found that she was staring at her with shrewd eyes. Mrs. Green seemed to be able to see through her.

Viola hurriedly lowered her head and cried, "Grandma, forget it. Let's go back."

"How can we just forget it?"

Mrs. Don was angry.

In her view, Viola was an innocent girl. But her virginity had been ruined by Samuel. Even at this moment, she still didn't speak for herself.

"What can we do? Can we really force Samuel to divorce Nicole?"

Viola said in a particularly aggrieved tone.

However, Samuel sneered and said, "Don't call her name. Nicole will feel sick to hear her name from your mouth. You better know what to say and what not to say. You know that I can still do something in the Seapolis City."

"Are you trying to threaten the Don family?" asked Mrs. Don.

She thought Samuel was really a brute.

How could he treat her granddaughter like this?

Samuel shrugged his shoulders indifferently and said, "Mrs. Don, you can see whether I'm threatening you. And it is you who come to my house for humiliation. But now you think my words sting. To put it bluntly, with Viola's poor appearance and figure, even she lies on my bed naked, I wouldn't have a look at her, not to mention have sex with her. Don't think too highly of her! If you want to know who had grabbed her virginity, you'd better ask your good granddaughter herself."

"Now you refuse to admit what you've done, don't you? Alright! Just wait and see!" Mrs. Don said angrily.

She didn't want to stay any longer so she took Viola's hand and was ready to leave.

Actually, Viola didn't want to leave. But in this situation, she could only follow her grandma's actions.

Before she left, she said to Samuel, "I promise that I won't pester you anymore."

"You'd better keep your word. And remember, call me Mr. Green. You are not qualified to call me Samuel,"

Samuel said coldly, not showing her any self-respect.

Mrs. Don was so angry that her entire body trembled, but she had nothing to do with Samuel. She could only take Viola out of the Green family's old mansion.

She suddenly turned her head, but that figure had already disappeared. It seemed as if it was only her illusion.

"What's wrong?"

Seeing that Viola suddenly stopped, Mrs. Don was doubted and looked around to see what she was watching.

Viola hurriedly shook her head and said, "Nothing. I might be too nervous today. I always feel that someone is watching us."

"Silly girl, this is the Don's. They don't dare to act recklessly here. Even if those reporters want to write something, they don't dare to make up stories. Don't worry."

Mrs. Don patted the back of Viola's hand and comforted her with a smile. Then, she brought Viola into the room.

Viola still felt very uneasy.

She made up an excuse and returned to her room.

As soon as she got back to her room, her phone rang.

Looking at the unfamiliar phone number, Viola frowned slightly.

She cooperated with that woman in order to bring down Nicole. After that, that woman did not contact her again. Moreover, she knew that the photo was not enough to cause a big storm. Although people were still talking about Nicole's scandal, it was because Samuel hadn't taken action. She knew that he wouldn't keep silent all the time.

As long as Samuel stepped in, he had many ways to get the turning point of this photo event. At that time, if he found out that it had anything to do with her...

When Viola thought of this, she suddenly realized that she had been used as a tool.

Now that woman contacted her again. She felt a little nervous. She thought it must be extremely risky to cooperate with her.

Who was this woman?

What was the relationship between her and Nicole?

Why didn't she do anything by herself? She always wanted to use her hands to kill Nicole.

Viola thought a lot, and didn't answer the phone.

The phone rang for a while and finally stopped.

Viola heaved a sigh of relief.

It might be good to stop the cooperation relationship with that woman. In her view, that woman might help her to be the young madam of the Green family and defeat Nicole, but she herself was clever and had her own ways, so why did she have to cooperate with that woman?

Besides, that woman didn't help her much.

Just as she was thinking, Viola's phone rang again. It was a multi-media message.

Viola checked it. It was a video of her being raped by the two producers!

Viola was stunned, and her body involuntarily trembled.

How could this be possible?

She had sent people to look for the video, but they didn't find it. She thought that it was Samuel who had taken it away, but now it turned out to be that woman.

This perfume smelt very special. Ordinary people wouldn't use it. Among the people she knew, there was only one person would use it.

Viola!

So Samuel went to meet Viola?

Thinking of this, Nicole felt very uncomfortable.

Previously, she had heard many rumors about Samuel and Viola. Although she believed that Samuel wouldn't rape Viola, she also felt uncomfortable to hear that. It was like a fish bone in her throat. It hurt every time she breathed or swallowed, but it was difficult to pull it out.

The shower was running, and the sound was carrying itself from the bathroom to the bedroom. Nicole was very depressed but Samuel didn't know anything.

Nicole opened the window and looked at the tide outside. Her heart was as if clogged up by a huge stone. She took a breath of the fresh air, but it didn't make her feel better.

"Why did you open the window? Don't you feel cold? You have just recovered. Don't catch a cold."

When Samuel came out, he saw Nicole standing in front of the window.

The sea breeze blew her long hair. She looked elegant and enchanting, just like a fairy from heaven. A myriad of thoughts crowded into Nicole's mind. Samuel could see that she was uneasy but he couldn't see through her.

"What are you thinking?"

He hugged Nicole from behind.

Water dripped from his hair and trickled down his chest.

Nicole hurriedly closed the window and said, "Why don't you wipe your hair dry before coming out? You will catch a cold."

"That's because I miss you."

Samuel leaned on Nicole like a child. The faint fragrance after bathing made her feel a little relaxed.

"Go sit on the bed. I'll help you dry your hair,"

Nicole said to Samuel.

"Alright."

Samuel smiled and waited for Nicole's service.

After finding the hairdryer, Nicole stood beside Samuel and began to dry his wet hair.

Unlike other men's, Samuel's hair was so soft that even Nicole felt jealous.

His defined facial structure and devilishly handsome features were captivating. His almond-shaped eyes were especially charming. Nicole couldn't move her eyes from them.

At the present, he hugged Nicole tightly and leaned his face against her belly. He blew his warm breath on her skin. A tingling yet prickling sensation flashed her.

"Stop it,"

Nicole said in a hoarse voice.

Samuel held an evil grin.

Chapter 409 How Could She Say That?

Nicole was in a daze with the phone in her hand. She didn't come back to her senses until the phone rang again.

It was still from a stranger.

Nicole felt silly. She thought that others would not be able to contact with her as she changed her phone number. However, in just a few days, she was harassed again. Therefore, there was nothing that one could keep as a secret even if they wanted.

She answered the phone. A strange voice came from the other side.

"Ms. Nicole, the photos are nice. Are you interested in making a hot commercial or a movie?"

It was a vulgar man.

Nicole frowned.

"Do you want to die? If you do, I will let you have it."

With that, Nicole hung up.

How could the Nicolet her phone number?

Did Swift tell him?

It was possible. Now, Nicole had to change another phone number.

Nicole turned off her phone and felt that it was suffocating.

Nicole thus walked out of the room and saw Petty and Zac in the yard. Nicole did not greet them because she wanted to take a walk alone. However, she noticed Mrs. Don standing not far away.

Nicole frowned.

Evidently, Mrs. Don also saw her and waved at her.

Nicole hesitated for a moment before walking to her.

"Why are you here?"

Nicole had broken off with the Dons but she still couldn't manage to ignore Mrs. Don.

Moreover, it was Samuel's private property. Mrs. Don must have used some connections to enter here.

Thinking of this, Nicole frowned.

Chapter 410 Who Do You Want to Kill?

Nicole didn't care about Mrs. Don at all, and now she was even angrier.

Mrs. Don came to persuade her to divorce Samuel for Viola!

How cruel Mrs. Don was so she could say that to Nicole?

Nicole went back to her room angrily.

After Petty and Zac sent Mrs. Don away, they soon called Samuel and told her about it.

Hearing this, Samuel frowned.

Seeing that, Jacob couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Green, what happened?"

"Tell Vincent that we will suppress the Don's property at all costs. I want the Don's property to experience an economic crisis within a day. Together with our venture capital company, we will target the Dons!"

This time, Samuel was infuriated.

Mrs. Don brought Viola to the Green's to force Samuel to marry Viola. He could let it go because he felt that it didn't matter as could handle it. However, Mrs. Don personally found Nicole and forced her to divorce him. This was simply too much!

Hearing this, Jacob did not say anything and immediately went to do it.

Vincent stopped suppressing the Louis family and was targeted at the Don family.

"Boss, I will do what as you command but the Eternal Group has to develop steadily. Do you want me to target the Don family for the long term or the short term? I need to refer to the economic situation of our group!"

Vincent felt that Samuel had been a little too impulsive recently.

Being against the Don family was nothing like being against the Louis family whose major line was commercial activities. Therefore, many funds were invested and remained in projects. Naturally, it would be more convenient to destroy them, because they had limited liquidity. But the Don family was different.

The Don family was a military and political clan, and had only recently invested in business. Although it was quite successful, no one knew exactly how much the Don family had?

Moreover, the Don family had connections from Capital City, so Vincent's considerations were reasonable.

However, Samuel couldn't care about that. He coldly said, "In the long run, it would be better if we can destroy the Dons."

Vincent was shocked by that.

"Didn't you have a good relationship with Jason? Would it be a little..."

"Mrs. Don should be the one to blame. I'm just doing what I have to."

Hearing such an explanation, Vincent understood.

"Sure, I'll arrange it immediately."

As soon as Vincent acted, the venture capital companies in the charge of Jacob started to take actions.
