Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 411 When Will You Stop Causing Trouble for Us?

Jason looked at Mrs. Don and said word by word, "After you went to the Green's to make a scene, Samuel announced that he would do whatever it takes to destroy the Don family. You may think that the Don family is powerful because of the late martyrs and Capital City will not ignore the Dons. However, you seem to have forgotten that the Green family also has relations in Capital City. I am the only male left in our family but I am disabled. To be honest, I could only wait to be fed by the state. I am living on the honor of my brothers and father. However, the Green family is different from us. Right now, they are still making contributions to the country. Who do you think Capital City will help if we have a conflict?"

Mrs. Don's expression became more desperate.

"Samuel actually declared a battle with against us for Nicole?"

"You want to break their family up. Why can't he do so? Others may respect and fear us, but the Green family won't! Even if you don't care that Nicole is your own granddaughter, you should consider the status quo of the Don family. As Nicole marries into the Green family, and you can admit Nicole's identity, it can only be beneficial for the Don family in both Seapolis City and Capital City. But for such an adopted granddaughter, an outsider, you chase away your own granddaughter. Now you want Samuel and Nicole to divorce and marry your adopted granddaughter. Mom, what are you thinking about?"

Jason's words embarrassed Viola.

It would have been better if Jason and Mrs. Don had said those words without her presence. However, they didn't and Jason was so outspoken. It was as if Viola had been slapped in public, which was almost beyond her tolerance.

"It's all my fault. Jason, don't blame grandma."

"Shut up!"

When Jason saw Viola, he became angry and couldn't help but raise his voice.

"You know it's your fault? If it weren't for you, our family would never be in such a mess. I don't know why you insist on pestering us, nor do I know what you want from the Don family. However, I can tell you now that the Don's stock has dropped to the lower limit. I'm not sure what will happen tomorrow. Every penny has been used to bailing out the stock recycling, but if Samuel continued, the Dons would probably not be able to survive for more than three days. Besides, Samuel's overseas venture capital is also involved. By then, the Dons will soon become heavily indebted. You like to be one of the Dons. This time, you can enjoy your identity! At that time, I hope that you will be able to bear some of the debts of the Dons so as to reward Mrs. Don's deep love for you!"

After Jason finished speaking, he turned around and left.

Mrs. Don was shocked.

"Jason, are you telling the truth? Is the Don family really being targeted by Samuel?"

"Do I need to joke with you?"

Jason was extremely disappointed at Mrs. Don.

He couldn't understand why Mrs. Don could be instigated by an outsider instead of believing in Nicole, who had blood relations with her?

"Mom, do you really think I can do nothing with you? Do you want to see our family decline?"

Jason simply couldn't believe that his mother would say such hurtful things.

His mother used to be an elegant and sensible lady, whose husband and sons were martyrs. People in the Capital City had praised her as a heroine, but why would she become so mean now?

Although Mrs. Don seemed to know that she had gone too far, she still bit her lips and said, "Am I wrong? Clearly, you're taking me as a pain in the ass now. No matter what I do, you'll think I'm wrong. Even when I just wanted to recognize Viola as my granddaughter, you still complained. These past few years, your father and brothers passed away one after another, and I spared no efforts to raise you. But now you say that I'm going to destroy the Don family. Do you dare to say it again before your father and brothers in the ancestral hall?"

"That's not what I meant. Mom, don't you think you're wrong? Don't you think you're too hard on Nicole?"

Jason suddenly realized that his mother had become unreasonable.

"What did I do wrong? It was her who had ill intentions and even spread that she had lost a child in order to save me. How could she tell such a vicious lie? If it wasn't for Viola, I would have died already! We should be grateful to Viola. Am I wrong? Nicole is just a liar, but Laurel seemed to fall under Nicole's spell. I've underestimated Nicole. I don't expect her to be able to manipulate the Greens and even incite them to deal with us! How would I have such a bad granddaughter? Just this morning, she said that she was going to make a move on Viola, and now she even made trouble for us. How could you accuse me for such an ungrateful wretch? I'm your mother! I gave birth to you!"

Mrs. Don got angrier as she spoke, but Jason couldn't stand it any longer.

Everyone said that Nicole had saved Mrs. Don, but she just didn't believe it. Instead, she firmly believed that Viola was her savior. Jason felt helpless facing her persistence.

"Mom, I've already bought you a ticket to the Capital City tonight. Someone will be there to take care of you. Don't worry about the Don family. I'll be here to manage our family business. You should go to the Capital City to lead a comfortable life."

Jason didn't want to do this, but he had to.

If Mrs. Don stayed here, he was worried that she would cause greater trouble.

He had been hesitating before, since his mother had led a hard life in this lifetime. Now that she was old, Jason didn't want her to leave her hometown. However, it seemed that he had to send her away this time.

Mrs. Don was shocked.

"Do you want to put me under house arrest? You're a bad son!"

She was so angry that she wanted to smash Jason with things nearby, but the servants had already put away things here beforehand.

Jason looked at the furious Mrs. Don and said coldly, "Not only that, Viola has to stay here. All of this is because of her, so she must solve it. Since you recognized her as your granddaughter, she has to make contributions to our family. Mom, don't worry. Luna will go with you to the Capital City, and you'll live happily there."

Viola's expression immediately changed.

"Uncle, I want to go with grandma. She is old, so I'll feel relieved only if I take care of her by myself. Besides, I am just a woman. I can help you with nothing, let alone to deal with the Greens. I'd better stay with grandma."

"No, you stay here! To put it bluntly, even if you are going to die, you have to die here!"

Viola turned slightly pale frightened by Jason's remarks.

"Uncle...."

"What are you doing? Let me tell you, if you dare to do anything to Viola, I won't forgive you!"

Mrs. Don berated Jason.

Mrs. Don looked at the cup of water with confusion and asked, "What is this?"

"Grandma, don't be afraid. I won't harm you. This drug will only temporarily weaken your body. It won't damage your health, but just make you weak. The doctor will tell uncle that you are too weak to go on a long journey, so uncle will give up his plan to send you away. Then we will be fine."

Viola stared at Mrs. Don with her bright eyes, but Mrs. Don hesitated.

After all, this was very risky.

"Viola, is it safe?"

"Grandma, will I harm you? You're so nice to me. Because of me, you even offended the Greens and broke up with Nicole. I will never forget your kindness to me. You're old now, but uncle still decides to send you to the Capital City. He said that he would send people to take care of you, but who knows if he is going to send you to a nursing home? I've heard that such place is just like a jail cell. You'll be watched every day and can't go anywhere. Moreover, you'll feel lonely without your children by your side. Your husband and sons are martyrs, so how can you end up like this? I feel pity for you."

Viola's eyes turned red as she spoke, as if she was truly sad.

Mrs. Don was still hesitating, but she was frightened by the miserable later life that Viola had described.

Nobody in the Don family lived in the Capital City now, so where would Jason send her to? Was he really going to send her to a nursing home just as Viola had said?

Mrs. Don trembled.

"I'm not going! I'm not going to a nursing home! My kin are martyrs, so why should I live in a nursing home?"

"That's right. Grandma, your husband and sons have all died for the country. How can uncle send you to a nursing home so far away just to please Nicole? I heard that many nurses and directors of nursing homes are vicious. If you live there, you can't get help if anything happens to you."

The more Viola said, the more terrifying Mrs. Don felt.

As people got old, they were unwilling to leave their families, let alone go to a nursing home.

She looked at Viola and took the cup from Viola's hand. As she was drinking, she missed the evil smile on Viola's face.

After the drink, she felt dizzy and drowsy.

"Viola, this drug is a little strong. I'm a little dizzy."

"It's fine. Grandma, just have a sleep. I'm here to watch over you."

Viola's voice was sweet. Mrs. Don believed her and slowly closed her eyes.

Nicole naturally didn't know what was going on in the Don's. She had been angry for a long while before she realized that there was no need to be angry.

The Dons had long denied her as a Don, so why should she be upset by her bloodline?

Chapter 414 Give You One More Chance

The phone number was somewhat familiar, and Nicole recognized that it was Swift.

What did Swift want for calling her now?

Hearing the phone ring, Petty and Zac turned around and saw Nicole.

"Madam, why did you get up so early? We were talking nonsense just now. Don't take it seriously."

Petty didn't know how much Nicole had heard, but Nicole looked well now.

Nicole smiled and said, "Don't worry, I'm fine."

With that, she turned around and left.

As for Swift's phone call, Nicole just ignored it.

Since Swift didn't want Nicole to know her whereabouts, it was impossible for Nicole to track her location through the phone now. Nicole was in a good mood today, so she didn't want Swift to ruin it.

Now Nicole only wanted to make a delicious breakfast for Samuel.

She didn't know how busy he was yesterday. To help her vent anger, he even risked the Green Group and his venture capital company. How could she repay it?

Nicole's phone rang for a long time before finally stopping.

Without looking, she put it aside and went to the kitchen to make breakfast for Samuel.

The servants weren't surprised and assisted her smilingly.

When Samuel opened his eyes, he found that Nicole had already gotten up. But based on the temperature under the quilt, he could tell that she had not left for long.

He could still smell Nicole's sweet fragrance.

He took a deep breath and then went to wash up with a contented smile. After getting changed, he went downstairs and saw that Nicole was busy making breakfast in the morning light.

With a warm and happy smile on her face, she became the most beautiful scenery in the morning and deeply attracted Samuel.

Samuel couldn't help but walk to her.

When the servants saw Samuel, they wanted to say something but stopped by Samuel. They pursed their lips and walked out with smiles, leaving Samuel and Nicole alone.

Samuel hugged Nicole from behind.

Nicole was slightly surprised and smiled after recognizing the person behind her, "You're so clingy. Aren't you afraid that the servants will laugh at you?"

"No. I'm hugging my wife, so who dares to laugh at me?"

Samuel childishly put his chin on Nicole's shoulder, and then was elated by the discovery that all she cooked were his favorite dishes.

"You get up early in the morning to make breakfast for me. Tell me, is there something you're hiding from me? Or are you trying to please me?"

Samuel was just asking, but Nicole nodded seriously.

"In my life, I thought it was the happiest thing to fall in love with you. But now I discover that being loved by you is the happiest thing."

Nicole rarely said sweet words, so her sudden confession of love startled Samuel somewhat.

"Did you catch a cold and have a fever when you slept yesterday?"

"Mr. Green, madam, someone from the Don family has arrived."

Wendy's voice rang out.

Nicole stiffened a little because of the words "the Don family".

"Could it be Jason?"

Nicole thought of Jason firstly.

Mrs. Don was troublesome. It was possible for her to come and cause trouble at this time. However, the one who could take charge in the Don family should be Jason.

Samuel frowned slightly.

"If you don't want to see him, then I could go by myself. After all, I started the war between the Don family and the Green family. I know how you feel about Jason. As long as you say, I will listen to you whatever you decide."

Samuel gave the choice to Nicole.

In other words, if Nicole asked him to give up, Samuel would withdraw all the money and the force to the Don family without hesitation.

His respect made Nicole somehow moved.

"I don't know, but I also don't want to follow Mrs. Don's wishes like this."

Nicole turned her head away.

Samuel immediately understood.

All she wanted was an apology from Mrs. Don.

"Alright, you're tired today. Take a rest first. I'll go down and see him."

"Don't get too angry yourself."

Nicole really didn't want to go down to face Jason.

"No!"

Samuel carried Nicole onto the bed, pulled the quilt over and covered her. He kissed her on the forehead, then got up and walked out.

Nicole was actually a little worried, but she believed that Samuel would handle it well. Nicole was so tired that she directly covered her head and fell asleep.

Samuel walked down the stairs and saw Jason's anxious expression.

"Why Mr. Jason come here today?"

Samuel was in a good mood.

Jason looked behind Samuel. When he didn't see Nicole, he was somewhat disappointed.

"Where's Nicole? Is she alright?"

"Not very well. Recently, she becomes very weak. Nicole was a little angry yesterday, so she can't get up today. Mr. Jason didn't come here just to see my wife, did you? I remember that there is no relationship between the Don family and my wife, right?"

Nicole saw Samuel's slightly frowned expression and heard the sound of car engines outside.

She whispered, "I'll go out and take a look."

"No, just eat."

Right now, Samuel thought nothing was more important than his wife eating.

As he spoke, he added some dishes to Nicole's bowl.

The servants who had been hiding for a long time also came out, especially Petty. She went out to look, and then walked in with a smile.

"Samuel, madam, it's Mr. Green and Miss Green."

Nicole didn't understand Petty at once.

"Who?"

However, Samuel understood and couldn't help but feel disappointed.

"Why are they here? Send them back."

Samuel could finally have some quality time with Nicole. He didn't expect his children to join in the fun, so how could he be happy?

Nicole finally understood who had come, and she was happy immediately.

"Are you saying that Lucas and Zoe are here?"

"Yes!"

"I'll check it out!"

Nicole hurriedly got up, but Samuel grabbed her arm.

"What are you doing? Didn't you hear your son and daughter have come? I'm going to see them."

Nicole was somewhat puzzled by Samuel's reaction.

Samuel said with a dark face, "They are old enough to come back by themselves. You can sit and eat."

"I want to..."

"What do you want? Think about how you walk now."

That made Nicole blush.

"What are you talking about?"

She glanced at Petty who immediately retreated with a tactful smile.

Nicole was a little depressed.

"Samuel, don't talk about this again in front of others."

"Am I not telling the truth? Can you go out and take a look now?"

Samuel said indifferently. His expression made people want to punch him. It was hateful.

However, Nicole also knew that Samuel was right. She couldn't really limp out, could she? How did she explain to the kids?

Finally, Nicole sat down and waited anxiously for the children to come in.

After getting off the car, Lucas and Zoe came in.

Lucas finally failed to stop Zoe from wiping her greasy little hand on his clothes. Five fingerprints instantly appeared on his pure white shirt.

Lucas curled his lips.

"Zoe! You're so dirty!"

"I'm not dirty. My hands are very clean, and my clothes are also very clean. I carry handkerchiefs every day. Lucas, what's wrong with your clothes? You're old enough, but why are you so carelessly?"

Zoe made up and complained first, causing Lucas' face to turn red with anger.

Nicole and the others laughed.

Ever since Zoe recovered, she had become lively, and she was even somewhat naughty.

"Alright, alright. I bought a few clothes for you guys to keep at home a few days ago. Lucas, come upstairs with me to change your clothes."

Samuel looked at Lucas' angry face and couldn't help but feel a little distressed for him.

Lucas stood up with a gloomy face and followed Samuel upstairs, while Zoe kept sticking out her tongue to make a face to Lucas.

"Zoe, you're too naughty. Why are you teasing your brother like this?"

Nicole thought that Zoe was going too far.

Zoe stuck out her tongue and said, "I'm just joking with him. Lucas is too serious. Mommy, don't you think Lucas is like a little old man? He's so boring."

Nicole agreed with Zoe on that.

Lucas was sensible and mature. It was not strange for him to be thought as a little old man. Nicole was worried about him.

Laurel seemed to know what Nicole was thinking. She patted Nicole's hand and said, "Every child has his own choice. What we can provide is usually the most basic things, and there're also many things they have to experience. Besides, Lucas is a boy, so it's fine to experience more. On the contrary, girls need to be nurtured carefully."

"Grandma means that I need to be taken good care of, right?"

Zoe's sweet smile and cute voice instantly made Nicole and Laurel laugh.

"Yes, you are the little princess. Hurry up and eat more."

"Of course I will. Otherwise, I won't be able to eat when Lucas comes back."

Zoe said with grievances as if Lucas usually snatched food from her, but Nicole just smiled.

Laurel looked at them, smiled and said, "Lucas and Zoe miss you. They insist on coming here to see you. I know what you're worried about. The rumors cannot hurt them. Don't worry. If I don't bring them over, I'm afraid they'll complain me all the time."

"No, Grandma. I'll be good. I'm a good girl."

Zoe hurriedly expressed that she was very good.

Nicole smiled and rubbed Zoe's hair. "Alright, you're a good girl. Hurry up and eat."

After saying that, Nicole looked at Laurel and said gratefully, "Mom, you and the Green family have done so much for me. I'm sorry for causing trouble for the Green family."

"What are you talking about? You are the mistress of the Green family. We're a family. You don't have to be sorry."

Lucas could tell Samuel was in anxiety, but he deliberately said, "Actually, it's not getting dark outside. I can sleep with Mommy for a while longer. Also, Zoe hasn't woken up yet."

Samuel's face immediately fell.

"Brat, did you do this on purpose?"

"You're right. I intentionally stayed with Mommy. She is not your personal belonging after all. Why don't you allow us to spend more time with her?"

Hearing this, Samuel didn't know how to respond.

"Anyway, hurry up and leave. She is my wife."

"She is also my mother!"

Lucas was right, and Samuel was rendered speechless.

He suddenly felt that Lucas was born to be against him. After thinking for a while, he said, "Grandma has been waiting downstairs for a long time. Don't you feel sorry for her?"

Speaking of Laurel, Lucas fell silent for a moment.

His grandmother was indeed nice to them. Today, it was she who brought them to visit Mommy. If they expected Samuel to bring them to Nicole, they would have to wait a long time.

Thinking of this, Lucas looked at Samuel with disdain and said, "You stingy man. How could you be even jealous of your own children?"

Samuel did not expect Lucas to say this. After being stunned for a moment, he subconsciously said, "It's none of your business."

Lucas snorted.

He got up and decided not to argue with his father who was even more childish than him.

He kissed Nicole on the cheek. After turning around, he saw Samuel's lips twitching. If he weren't his son, he would have grabbed him by the collar and thrown him out.

It had been a long time since Lucas last saw Samuel's gloomy expression. He couldn't help but feel a little happy.

"I love Mommy the most! I heard that we should kiss the lips of our favorite people."

Lucas leaned down as he spoke, but he suddenly felt that his collar was being grabbed by someone. Turning around, he saw Samuel's face which was as black as thunder.

"Lucas, that's enough! Don't you dare kiss my woman!"

"She is my mum!"

"Even so, you can't kiss her lips! I can only allow you to kiss her cheek! Believe it or not, I'll throw you out from the second floor if you do that!"

Samuel knew that Lucas was doing it on purpose, but he could not help being jealous.

This brat had indeed gone too far!

How dare Lucas kiss Nicole's lips in front of him?

Did Lucas think that he didn't have the heart to beat him up?

Hearing this, Lucas just said with a smile, "I dare you. If you throw me down from the second floor, Mommy will hate you. After all, she cherishes me the most since I am her son."

"You..."

"I'll answer the phone!" Nicole suddenly said.

Her tone sounded a little unnatural, and Samuel was quite startled by her reaction.

"Is there anything wrong with you?"

"I don't know, but I suddenly feel uneasy, as if something bad will happen after I answer the phone."

Nicole did not hide her true feelings from Samuel.

She felt quite strange about her hunch, but she just couldn't help being nervous.

Seeing her like this, Samuel held her in his arms and whispered, "It's fine. I'm with you. No matter what happens, I'll be by your side."

"OK!"

Nicole nodded in agreement. However, she still stared at the phone. Taking a deep breath, she seemed to have mustered up her courage. Then she picked up the phone.

"Hello?"

She didn't even notice that her voice was trembling from nervousness.

Samuel's heart ached when he saw her like this. He wanted to answer the phone for her, but then Jacob's anxious voice sounded.

"Madam, where is Mr. Green?"

"What happened?"

Since the call was from Jacob, Nicole became more unsettled.

Jacob said in a hurry, "Not long after we left the villa, we were followed by some people. At the corner, the car behind us suddenly caught up and forced us to stop. Madam, I'm sorry. It was all my fault. I tried my best to protect Laurel and Lucas, but I didn't expect them to take away Zoe without my noticing. I'm so sorry. Madam, you can punish me at will."

Nicole's hand trembled uncontrollably, and the phone instantly fell to the floor.

"Madam, I've already informed the Greens to come pick up Laurel and Lucas. I will surely find Miss Zoe's whereabouts!"

Jacob continued, but Nicole almost fainted.

"Zoe ... Zoe was snatched away by someone!"

She suddenly grabbed Samuel's arm, with her eyes full of tears.

Not long ago, her daughter was still enjoying her meal in this villa, and she teased that Lucas was rigid like an old man. Nicole even had the illusion that Zoe was still by her side now. How could she be snatched away by someone?

Chapter 420 She Wanted to Kill Someone

Since Samuel did not say anything, Nicole became even more panicked.

"What's wrong? Tell me!"

Nicole grabbed Samuel's arm with great strength. She didn't even notice that her fingernails had cut through his skin.

Knowing that she was worried, he whispered, "They lost track of Zoe."

"What do you mean?"

Nicole was reluctant to believe this.

"The Greens have received special training, right? How could they lose track of her? They only need to follow that car!"

Nicole was on the verge of breaking down.

Zoe was her beloved daughter, but she was kidnapped. Nicole had thought that the Greens were all elites and would definitely bring Zoe back. Even if they failed, they would at least find Zoe's location. Therefore, when hearing this news, she was utterly disappointed.

They had lost Zoe!

Nicole instantly had an emotional breakdown.

"Nicole, calm down."

"It must be the Dons! Only they could get rid of the Greens' tracking. Born into a military family, they are capable of this."

Nicole trembled all over.

She was overcome with anger that she even wanted to kill someone!

Right now, she indeed had the intention of rushing into the Don's with a sharp knife!

Seeing Nicole's fierce look, Samuel became a little worried.

"Nicole, listen to me. Let's go to the Don's now. Don't worry. If they really did this, I won't let them off. But you shall promise me not to lose control of your emotions, okay? I'm scared to see you like this!"

Samuel was telling the truth.

It seemed that Nicole would do anything to avenge her daughter. He was indeed afraid that she would go to extremes!

It was as if she would do anything crazy as long as she could bring Zoe back.

When Lucas disappeared last time, Nicole went crazy. Since she didn't faint after knowing Zoe's accident this time, it could be said that she had become mentally stronger.

Samuel kept comforting himself, but he also kept an eye on Nicole to prevent her from doing any dangerous things.
