

Escape Wife 441

Chapter 441 She Should Have Known Sooner

"You kidnapped Zoe? Where was she?"

Mrs. Don became nervous.

Nicole had lost a child for Mrs. Don's antidote. The last thing Mrs. Don wanted was for Nicole to lose another child because of her stupidity. If that happened, Nicole would go mad, and Mrs. Don would never forgive herself.

Noticing that Mrs. Don was on edge, Viola said with a smile, "What? Now you are anxious? You remember she is your granddaughter? Hilarious. You used to believe everything I said. You were so cruel to your own granddaughter. Now you feel sorry for her? You want to be nice to her? Do you think Nicole will forgive you?"

Mrs. Don looked unhappy when she heard that.

"Shut up!"

"Me? You used to love listening to me, my dear grandmother."

Viola continued to laugh. Mrs. Don's face burned with anger.

Jason had Viola's mouth covered.

"Let me ask you again. Did you kidnap Zoe? Where did you take her?"

Viola growled and wanted to say something, so Jason told his man to remove his hand.

"How do I know where that girl is? If I had her, how could I waste the opportunity to torture Nicole? I would dry that girl's blood and shoot a video for Nicole. I would enjoy knowing that Nicole was devastated and guilty as hell! It would kill her when she watched her daughter die but couldn't do anything about it!

"You bitch!"

Mrs. Don slapped Viola again.

She couldn't believe she had doted on this monster of a woman!

She must have been blind to not see through this woman's disguise. How she had hurt her own granddaughter!

Hit again, Viola somehow laughed wildly.

"Hit me! Why not kill me? I want to see what you can do when your withdrawal hits. I want everyone in Seapolis City to know that you are on drugs! That the respected Mrs. Don is actually an addict! How amusing!"

Viola laughed again. Mrs. Don was so angry that she almost couldn't catch her breath. Fortunately, Jason had been watching her all this while and hastily patted her back to calm her down.

"Mom, don't be angry. I'll take care of this. Don't worry about it."

It took Mrs. Don a while to recover. She stared at Viola and said fiercely, "Put her in the dungeon. She doesn't deserve an easy death! I will make sure she suffers!"

"I see. Mom, leave this to me. Come with me first. You are in no condition to put yourself through this."

Jason was really worried.

He was afraid that Mrs. Don would fall ill.

Mrs. Don was feeling uncomfortable, but she forced herself to see through this interrogation.

"I'm not going anywhere. I'm home. Get this heartless bitch out of my face. I feel murderous when I see her."

Chapter 442 I Have Something to Discuss with Nicole

As expected, a cold female voice came from the phone. Nicole listened to it over and over again and felt she was a little crazy.

Samuel had been on a business trip before, and she was not delicate. What was wrong with her?

Nicole put down the mic and looked at her phone. She had called Samuel from her landline at home. Staring at her phone, she remembered the shitty things in the Dons and felt even more annoyed.

Nicole threw her phone far away and pulled the blanket over her head to continue sleeping.

Noticing Nicole wouldn't come out of her room, Ms. Bush was somewhat worried. She wanted to say something but was stopped by Dad Bush.

"She is a grown woman. She can take care of her own business. Don't make matters worse."

"I want to ask her if Samuel would come to dinner tonight, so that I can prepare the dishes."

Ms. Bush found a good excuse.

Dad Bush looked at the tightly shut door and said, "Let her rest for a while. She has been exhausted. You can make the food when Samuel arrives. Moreover, we have the ingredients. We don't know what she has been through. Our daughter is considerate and doesn't want us to worry, so she bottles things up. She wouldn't even tell us about the Dons. If I hadn't heard something, I wouldn't know she has suffered so much."

"The Dons are pathetic. They fought us for Nicole at first, but now, they're treating their own flesh and blood like this. I don't know what's wrong with that old woman. Is she getting confused because of old age? I wouldn't treat Nicole that way when I am older."

When Ms. Bush thought of this, she felt sorry for Nicole.

"Alright, we are not that old yet. Go and make her something delicious, so that she can eat when she wakes up. How thin the girl has gotten!"

Hearing that, Ms. Bush sighed. Then she turned around and went to the kitchen again.

Nicole did not know the old couple were worried about her. After sleeping for a while, she felt an acute pain in her stomach. She got up and wanted to drink some hot water to relieve the pain, but she couldn't find any in the room.

She had to go downstairs.

Zoe was taking a nap. Dad Bush was in the study, while Ms. Bush was cooking something in the kitchen.

Nicole couldn't help but smile knowing what a nice family she had.

"Mom, what are you making?"

She went into the kitchen and approached Ms. Bush.

Noticing that Nicole's face was green, Ms. Bush quickly asked, "What's wrong with you? Why do you look so bad?"

"It's fine. I am just having my period. My stomach hurts."

Ms. Bush was even more worried when she heard that.

"First time since the Miscarriage?"

"Yes."

Lastly, he said Mrs. Don was not well and the text messages and hesitated for a moment before replying, "Yes, I understand. I wish the old as he got her text, Jason knew Nicole would anyone with a clear mind would know for a long time, which was a torture to her. She thought about everything she had her text message, she stared at him like a child, hoping to get good news from him. Unfortunately, she knew "She's not coming?" anymore. Besides, Nicole the truth. It was good for her to be hopeful at such the monstrous things I've done. Not to mention Nicole, even I can't forgive "Mom...." has happened. When she needed the help and support of her family the most, I, as her grandmother, turned her down and even caused more trouble repeatedly for an outsider. Not only was I of no help at all, but I also broke her heart. I was so blind. I pushed my own flesh and blood away. It is too late to say anything. I only hope she can "Yes, Mom, I know."

Chapter 443 I'm Also a Woman, so I Understand

Olivia was surprised to hear that.

"What do you mean?"

"Didn't Zoe get kidnapped? Any news? Samuel shouldn't have left the Seapolis City with this going on. Moreover, I haven't heard of any emergencies in the Green's companies recently."

Hearing that, Olivia frowned.

"What exactly is your point?"

Realizing that Olivia wanted to get to the bottom of this, Gabrielle spoke.

"Alright, alright. Let's talk about this later. Don't you want me to check Nicole? Shall we go in first?"

Hearing Gabrielle's words, Jason became anxious.

"What happened to Nicole? What happened?"

"Mr. Jason, you came uninvited. I suggest you not go in. Nicole doesn't want to see a Don now. I can guess why you are here, and so can Nicole. I can only tell you that she is not feeling well. If you care about her, don't force her to do something she hates. Your mother has hurt her enough. Do you want to do the same?"

Although Olivia's voice softened a lot, she still meant to embarrass Jason.

Olivia made her point. He might look bad if he insisted Nicole come to the Don's.

However, he wouldn't feel at ease to leave now.

"Alright, I won't go in. I'll wait here. Can you tell me how she is when you leave? No matter what, I'm her uncle. Now that Samuel is not here, I need to know what is wrong with her."

Olivia softened up when she saw how worried Jason was.

"Fine, if you insist, wait here. However, I can't guarantee Nicole will let us tell you. It's possible you will get nothing."

"It's okay."

Jason forgot about his high status.

Gabrielle looked at Jason and wanted to say something, but she couldn't do it in front of Olivia.

The two women entered the Bush's house.

Ms. Bush welcomed Olivia warmly. She was also thrilled to see Olivia bring a doctor.

"Are you a doctor? Our Nicole is not feeling well. Her father and I planned to take her to the hospital, but I didn't expect Olivia would bring you here instead. I'm sorry for the trouble!"

Gabrielle was flattered by Ms. Bush's hospitality.

"It's fine, Ms. Bush. I just pop by to help. My husband is also a doctor. He and Mr. Green are friends. Mr. Green told me to watch over Nicole before he left. After all, she needs care and rest."

"Yes, yes. Samuel is so thoughtful. Please come in."

Gabrielle looked at the medicine in her hand and frowned, quickly injecting it into the drip bottle. The moment she turned to look at Nicole, she put on a bright smile.

"It may hurt a little when the needle goes in. Please bear with it."

Gabrielle came off as friendly. Although this was the first time they had met, Nicole felt comfortable around her.

"It's fine. I'm a big girl."

"That's right, Dr. Farley. Stab her hard. She can stand it."

Olivia teased, but Nicole fought back.

"Shut up! I'll beat you up! No, I'll make Jacob too busy to take care of you."

When Nicole mentioned Jacob, Olivia flushed.

"It's so unfair. Don't make this personal! Be careful! I might just ask Jacob to quit. And no one will be minding your crappy business."

"Heavens, you're the boss here? Fine. I will wait here and see if Jacob will listen to you."

Nicole teased Olivia, and the latter's face turned as red as an apple.

"Don't test my temper. Let me tell you. You are only being so smug because Mr. Green is not here. When he returns, I will make sure Jacob hands in his resignation to him."

Olivia snorted coldly, her chin up, looking arrogant. But Nicole laughed despite herself.

Noticing that Nicole was in a good mood, Gabrielle heaved a sigh of relief and smiled. "Mrs. Green, would you like to go to the bathroom to freshen up first? Or should I walk you there when you are on a drip?"

Her words embarrassed Nicole again.

Nicole almost forgot about the awkward thing that was going on around her private parts.

"I'm quite shy about it."

She was blushing.

"It's fine. We're both women. I understand."

Gabrielle smiled. Something occurred to Olivia.

"Holy molly! It is out?"

"Don't say it out loud."

Nicole felt she should gag Olivia.

Gabrielle said with a smile, "Don't feel terrible about it. Every woman has experienced this. Take it easy. I think Olivia should help you get to the bathroom, so that you can take care of it. Leave this to me."

"How can I ask you to do that? I will clean it up later."

How could Nicole bother Gabrielle with the stain?

However, Gabrielle smiled and said, "Relax. We are friends here. Don't be a stranger. Just call me by my name. I am not that much older than you guys."

Nicole and Olivia were naturally happy to hear that.

In the end, Nicole could not win with Olivia and agreed to let her help on the way to the bathroom.

After Gabrielle lifted the blanket, she frowned again when she saw the crimson stain on it.

She took advantage of Nicole's absence and quickly collected a blood sample before changing the sheets.

Chapter 445 We Doctors Are Not Gods

Jason couldn't argue with that.

"Nicole said this?"

"Do you think I would tell Nicole you're here?"

Olivia looked at Jason and sighed, "Mr. Jason, Nicole is utterly disappointed in your family. You guys have done the worst. Is it necessary to want her back now? Your mother is old, and she might have regrets, but so what? The damage is done. Is she counting on her old age to have the young people's pity and forgiveness? Moreover, why is Nicole like this? Others might not know. But I doubt you don't."

"Think about it. How healthy Nicole used to be. Now she's almost like Lin Daiyu (a famous Chinese literary figure who is both sickly and talented). Can you feel how heartbreaking the changes are? You always say that you love Nicole as her uncle, and that you did everything for her own good. But if that is the case, please, please, don't come and bother her again. Let her rest. Haven't your family done enough to hurt her? Dr. Farley said she was weak and developed anemia, and she has a lot on her mind. That's why she is in such poor health. I'm begging you. Please go back. Our Nicole won't be the cure of your mother's regrets."

It would be heartless for Jason to insist when Olivia said that.

He looked in the direction of Nicole's room and whispered, feeling sad, "Don't worry. I won't disturb her again. However, if anything happens to her, please inform me."

"Okay."

Although Olivia made a habit of teasing Nicole, deep down, she cared about her. After learning everything about what the Dons had put Nicole through from Jacob, Olivia had wanted to seek justice for Nicole in the Don's, but Jacob had stopped her.

After all, as outsiders, they wouldn't be of help in the mess between the Dons and Nicole.

But now, Olivia felt she couldn't stand by anymore.

Jason still wanted to say something, but he couldn't do it.

Feeling disappointed, he turned around and left the Bush's with his men.

Olivia breathed a sigh of relief.

She went to the nearby supermarket and bought some things before returning to the Bush's.

Nicole was already asleep.

It had only been a while. She fell asleep fast!

Olivia was puzzled. She looked at Gabrielle and whispered, "Why is she so sleepy?"

"Normally, anyone who has lost so much blood will be listless. This drip is slow, so you have to watch over her for a little longer. I'll go back to the hospital and come back later."

Olivia was slightly shocked to hear that.

"You will come back?"

"Yes, she needs three bottles in a row. You're not a nurse, so you can't help with everything. I have to go back to the hospital to arrange this. And then I will come back."

Hearing Gabrielle's explanation, Olivia relaxed.

Samuel's phone suddenly rang, as if he was telepathic.

He subconsciously glanced at it, finding that it was the landline number of the Bush's. Samuel couldn't help but feel a little expectant and a little scared.

'Is that Nicole?'

If she asked him where he was, how should he answer?

Samuel hurriedly took out the laptop and pretended to be very busy. He even turned on the recording of the video call, and then took a deep breath and picked up the phone.

"Hello," Samuel said cautiously in a trembling voice.

"Daddy!"

Hearing Zoe's sweet voice, Samuel instantly became disappointed. But he still smiled and returned, "Baby, what's wrong? Are you missing Daddy?"

"That's right. Mommy said that you went abroad. But Daddy, you promised you would take us abroad. Why did you go alone? Daddy, you are a liar."

Zoe complained.

Samuel put on a wry smile.

If possible, he didn't want to go abroad now. It was a pity that he had to swallow his suffering.

"Daddy comes out for business. I will be back soon and then take you out for fun, okay?"

"Daddy, you are lying! You said so before, and now you make the same promise. Daddy, you are a liar!"

Zoe obviously did not buy Samuel's explanation.

Samuel felt sorry for letting Zoe down.

"Alright. It's my fault. I'm so sorry. Do you behave yourself at Grandma's house?"

"Yes, I do. I don't even bother Mommy, for she is sick," Zoe said sensibly.

"Is your Mommy sick?"

"Yes, a woman in a white coat comes to our house and helps put Mommy on a drip. Olivia also comes to take care of Mommy. Grandma told me that Mommy was sick and that I should not disturb Mommy. I'm as good as gold. Daddy, does Mommy have a cold? When will you come back? Mommy misses you when you are away, and I miss you, too."

Zoe's words made Samuel somewhat worried.

"Are you sure your Mommy is put on a drip?"

"How can I be wrong? I heard from Olivia that three bottles of intravenous fluids would be injected into Mommy. The female doctor just left and said that she would come back later. Mommy is so pitiful. Her face is pale, and she keeps sleeping."

Hearing it, Samuel couldn't sit still any longer.

"Did you say that all the VC executives had contacted you?"

Nicole's voice was somewhat strange.

"Yes, Nicole, what's wrong?"

Vincent was anxious earlier, so he didn't listen carefully. Now that at the sound of Nicole's voice, he couldn't help but be startled.

"Nicole, Samuel asked me to turn against the Don family secretly before. But now how should I deal with it? I have to figure it out. The Don family and our family have coexisted in the Seapolis City for so many years. Could it be that Samuel really wants to annex the Don family? If not, should I stop? Samuel needs to give me a clear indication. You know, our group can't afford to spend so much money now. This is simply a strategy that will cause damage to both sides. I can't get in touch with Samuel now. This is urgent. Nicole, please contact my brother and ask him to give me a call, okay?"

Vincent was quite anxious.

A great number of employees of the Eternal Group relied on Vincent. He and Samuel had arranged that once Samuel gave an order, he would make a move. Now, the executives of the venture capital companies were unable to withstand the pressure and turned to Vincent one after another. That was why Vincent had no choice but to ask Samuel for a strategy.

However, Vincent couldn't get through to Samuel now.

When Nicole heard Vincent's explanation, her heart sank, and she whispered, "I will try. However, you can't contact Samuel, so I guess I can't either. Make a prompt decision by yourself if you have to."

"I'd better listen to my brother first. Nicole, please."

Vincent hung up after he finished.

Nicole's expression changed completely.

Not knowing what was wrong with Nicole, Olivia asked in confusion, "What's wrong? Who called you? Was it Vincent? Are you involved in the business of the Green family now?"

Nicole looked at Olivia and thought of what Olivia had just said.

'Samuel hasn't gone abroad!'

Nothing happened to the overseas branch!

So where was Samuel?

Why did he lie to her?

Samuel switched off his phone. Why did he refuse to answer anyone's call?

A series of questions flashed in Nicole's mind.

Since Nicole did not speak, Olivia became a little worried.

"Nicole, what are you thinking? What's wrong? Does something happen? Considering your current state of health, you are not suitable for thinking too much. Apart from Samuel, don't worry about anything else, okay?"

"What if I'm thinking about Samuel?"

As soon as Nicole finished, Olivia was astonished.

"What do you mean? Am I right that Samuel cheats on you?"

Olivia couldn't help but want to slap herself. Why did she bad-mouth Samuel just now?

"I'll call Samuel and ask him when he'll be back."

Then Olivia quickly called Samuel. Unfortunately, Samuel's phone was turned off.

Nicole's face sank when she heard the cold female voice on the phone.

Samuel said he wouldn't lie to her again!

Chapter 448 What the Hell Is Going on with Samuel

When Jacob saw Nicole continuously knocking on the table, as if she was thinking about something, Jacob felt a little worried. Nicole's current manner was similar to Samuel's.

"Mrs. Green, don't think too much. Mr. Green may be busy right now. He will definitely call you back when he is done."

"I see!"

Nicole replied nonchalantly. Everyone could tell that she replied with characteristic insouciance.

Jacob wanted to continue speaking, but Olivia stopped him. She signaled for Jacob to leave.

When only Olivia and Nicole were left in the room, Olivia whispered, "Nicole, what are you thinking? Although I don't like Samuel, he has been considerate towards you during this period of time. I believe that he is not that kind of person. He is wiser than to overstep the mark because of that college student. Perhaps he has been kept by something. Don't think too much about it."

Considering Nicole's reaction, Olivia was worried.

Nicole was in poor health. Gabrielle said that she couldn't worry too much. If Nicole was deeply concerned about this trifle, Olivia was afraid that it was not good for Nicole's recovery.

"I'm fine. I also believe that Samuel is not that kind of person. In the past five years, he could have dated any woman. Moreover, in his position, as long as he wants, countless women are willing to have sex with him. However, he hasn't had any affairs in the last five years. So, I don't believe he will abandon his family for that college student."

Hearing it, Olivia finally heaved a sigh of relief.

"It's great that you think so. Samuel must have gone abroad for business. Don't dwell on it."

"Samuel is not in abroad, or he has gone abroad but not for the company. He hides something from me!"

Nicole was certain.

She was not a fool. Samuel's current behavior was too strange. Moreover, even Vincent could not contact Samuel, which meant Samuel was deliberately avoiding these people.

Why did Samuel deliberately do so?

It didn't make sense.

Nicole couldn't figure this out.

Gabrielle came back.

"What's wrong? Why is it so quiet all of a sudden?"

The moment Gabrielle entered the room, she realized that the atmosphere was not right.

Olivia was about to answer, but Nicole spoke first.

"It's alright. Olivia is heartless. She is angry with me for I scold Jacob."

Olivia couldn't believe what she heard.

She had been used as a lightning-rod again.

She didn't deserve this.

Olivia looked reproachfully at Nicole, but Nicole didn't care.

"What's the matter?"

Olivia was worried.

Although Nicole was critical of Samuel now, if something really happened to the Green family, she would choose to go over desperately. Thus, Olivia thought she couldn't tell Nicole it.

Seeing that Olivia was somewhat anxious, Jacob whispered, "Swift has disappeared. She might have been released. But the Green's is well guarded. How does Swift escape?"

Hearing it, Olivia frowned tightly.

"Haven't you cleaned house?"

"Yeah. I'm also very curious."

Jacob was puzzled.

He whispered, "The person Swift hates the most is Nicole. If she comes out, Nicole may be in danger. You'd better stay close to Nicole for the next few days. If you find anything, feel free to tell me. I'm at nearby."

"Alright."

Olivia returned to Nicole.

After treatment, Nicole got much better, and she stopped bleeding profusely. But she still looked worried.

What exactly was Samuel hiding from her?

Where had he gone?

When Nicole saw Olivia, she frowned and asked, "Did Gabrielle say that my body went wrong?"

"No, I just met Jacob."

"It's quite normal. He always stays nearby."

Nicole knew Jacob's duty, so she replied so.

Olivia stared at Nicole and pondered for a moment before saying, "Although Gabrielle told you to rest, I need to warn you something to prevent you from taking it lightly."

"What is it? You look serious."

Nicole couldn't help but feel a little nervous because of Olivia's solemn expression.

Olivia whispered, "Swift has escaped. She has been taken from the Green's. Logically speaking, Samuel has cleaned house. But something like this still happens. Jacob told me to remind you to be careful. Swift hates you very much. Now that she has escaped, she will be waiting for you somewhere."

Nicole was slightly shocked and then said calmly, "I know. Don't worry. I will protect myself. But you may be in danger by my side. You should go home during this period of time."

"What are you talking about? You're already so sick. I'm not going anywhere. I'll stay with you. I've already asked Jacob to visit Blair. Maybe he will find out Samuel's whereabouts. It'll be best for Samuel to come back."

What Olivia said wasn't very comforting to Nicole.

If Samuel really wanted to hide something from her, Jacob would not be able to get any news from Blair. But Nicole was a little puzzled. Why did Samuel leave her as well as their children, and departed from the Seapolis City?

Since Nicole was in silence, Olivia thought that she was worried about something. Thus, Olivia comforted, "Don't worry. I'll be with you. I won't let anything happen to you."

"That's not what I'm thinking. I want to go back to the Green's."

Chapter 450 He Has to Get Through This

Nicole paused. The kidnapper abruptly grabbed her wrist, and Nicole went numb.

"You...."

Before Nicole finished speaking, the kidnapper knocked Nicole unconscious.

Nicole slowly fell down.

The kidnapper quickly caught Nicole. Looking around, he made sure that nobody paid attention to them, so he picked her up horizontally and threw her onto the van. Then, he drove away from the other side of the alley.

Olivia could see Nicole just now, but in the blink of an eye, Nicole disappeared.

Olivia was thrown into panic.

"Nicole! Nicole! Where are you?"

Olivia wanted to search around. But there were too many people around her, making it impossible for her to move a single step.

Olivia had no choice but to shout, "Someone got killed!"

As soon as Olivia screamed, the crowd immediately spread out.

Taking advantage of this gap, Olivia quickly ran to where Nicole was just now. But Nicole was out of sight.

In panic, Olivia burst into tears.

"Jacob, Nicole is missing. What should I do? She was still there just now. But she disappears all of a sudden."

Olivia hurriedly called Jacob.

Hearing this, Jacob was dumbfounded.

"Where is Nicole missing?"

"Hurry up and come!"

When Jacob heard Olivia cry so hard that she was out of breath, he left the car behind and ran over. But Nicole was out of sight.

The police arrived.

The situation became even more chaotic.

Nicole's identity was special. Jacob directly called the police chief, hoping the latter could check the nearby surveillance cameras so as to find out Nicole's whereabouts.

Hearing that Samuel's wife was missing, the chief did not dare to delay and hurriedly asked a few policemen present to help.

However, the alley behind the Crown Club had no surveillance.

Jacob ran over and found traces of a van's wheels on the ground. It seemed like the kidnapper had just left.

"Get in the car!"

Jacob pulled Olivia into the car. Regardless of whether there was a traffic jam or not, he drove past the flower bed and chased after the tracks of tires in the alley.

Unfortunately, the alley was not far from the intersection, where there was no trace of the van. The intersection was heavy with cars, so it was very difficult to find the van.
