Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 461 It's Good for You to Remain Confused

Nicole couldn't bring herself to blame him. She only said indifferently, "I believe that this has nothing to do with the Dons. No matter what, the Dons won't harm me. Mrs. Don doesn't like me, but she has no intention of killing me, so there is something lurking behind. I was kidnapped beside the Crown Club, but I was taken to a club of the Dons. Their connection to the Dons remains unclear. But don't carry too much weight. I'm weak, so I can't think this through. I'll investigate with you when I get better."

Jason felt guilty to hear Nicole say that.

"I'm sorry. I couldn't stop my mother from hurting you and even failed to trap Viola. I've caused you so much suffering. But don't worry. I've sent people to look for Zoe. Once there's any news about her, I'll..."

"Zoe is fine. She has already returned home."

Nicole did not expect Jason was still worried about Zoe.

Samuel indeed broke her heart, but now she didn't want to take it any further.

Jason was puzzled for a moment, but soon it clicked.

"Is this a trap? Was it set up by Samuel?"

"Yes, I'm sorry to have troubled you."

Nicole thought Samuel was way out of line, and she did owe the Dons an apology.

That was right!

If Zoe was really kidnapped, Samuel wouldn't leave the Seapolis City.

If it weren't for Zoe, Nicole wouldn't make a scene in the Don's, they wouldn't catch Viola lying, and Mrs. Don would never know why she was weak.

So, it was not a coincidence.

Only then could all that make sense.

"Is that why Samuel left the Seapolis City?"

"I don't know."

Nicole really did not know. She had no idea what made Samuel so decisive.

Olivia was confused and couldn't help but ask, "What are you talking about? What exactly is going on? Why can't I understand a single word?"

"Remain confused. It's good if you don't understand."

Nicole liked Olivia very much.

She was naive, persistent, and willing to go above and beyond for her friends. The less she knew, the better, and the safer she would be.

However, Olivia felt like a fool, somewhat dissatisfied.

Jason asked in a low voice, "I am still missing something here. Someone must have betrayed the Dons to help Samuel, right?"

Chapter 462 I Chose the Man Myself, Didn't I?

Gabrielle didn't expect that Nicole would suddenly ask this question. She was stunned for a moment, then she smiled and said, "It's not a big deal. You're just weak after the miscarriage. Didn't I say that?"

"Doctor Farley, Gabrielle, there's no need for you to hide the truth from me. You know, I can handle it. If something bad really happens, you must tell me. I don't want to be the last person to know about things."

Gabrielle was speechless for a moment because Nicole called her Doctor Farley and Gabrielle.

It was as if she could see herself in the past from Nicole.

She was so strong, so independent, and she doesn't want to implicate others.

Thinking about Samuel's current situation and that Nicole was fighting alone, Gabrielle wanted to cry.

"I don't want to hide it from you, Nicole. Your health condition is not good."

Gabrielle's words made Nicole's heart skip a beat.

"What do you mean?"

"Last time, you suffered a fundamental injury when you miscarried. Later on, although you were treated well and Mr. Green was very concerned about you, something was still wrong. You are suffering a uterus atrophy, and it is likely to have a massive bleeding. The fact that you have bled a lot during the menstruation this time is a precursor."

Gabrielle's words gave Nicole a terrible blow.

"What does uterus atrophy mean?"

"This disease is very rare. Generally speaking, there are more cases of massive uterine bleeding. I have heard of this phenomenon of uterus atrophy, but I have never seen it in clinical practice. I have tested your blood composition. There is a substance in your blood. It is very strange. It fuses with your blood, but it is very harmful to your body."

Hearing Gabrielle's words, Nicole immediately remembered that Zama had stuffed a pill into her mouth.

Could it be because of that pill?

"When I miscarried, Zama forced me into eating a pill. I don't know what it was, but it might have something to do with the disease."

Nicole was recalling.

Gabrielle's expression became even darker.

"If that's the case, then that would be bad."

"Why?"

Chapter 463 It's Indeed a Life-threatening Challenge for You!

Nicole suddenly paused.

She turned to look at Gabrielle. Seeing Gabrielle's firm and resolute look, Nicole finally felt relieved.

She had always been worried that something bad would happen to Samuel. However, Gabrielle's confident look revealed that she and Blair might know where Samuel was.

Besides, although Blair was a doctor, the background of the Hawk family was extremely complicated. It even had a lot to do with the commander of a certain military region. Therefore, as long as Blair helped and stood up for Samuel, Samuel would be safe.

At the thought that Samuel was still safe, Nicole finally felt relieved.

"Thank you."

Although she had no idea what Blair and Gabrielle had done for Samuel, she was quite grateful to them now.

Gabrielle was somewhat ashamed of her gratitude.

She whispered, "Don't thank me. There are some things we have to do. When he comes back, you'll understand everything."

"OK."

Nicole did not continue to ask.

It was enough to know that Samuel was doing well.

At present, the only thing she could do was to focus on her recovery. As for the situation Gabrielle had mentioned, she couldn't do anything about it.

Seeing that Nicole was a little sleepy, Gabrielle gave her a few more instructions before leaving.

Nicole fell asleep again. This time, she slept quite soundly and even wore a sweet smile.

Following Tim's instructions, Jacob returned to the Louis'.

Ballard was especially happy to see Jacob back. Jacob's mother was also overjoyed, and she wanted to get more intimate with his son, but Jacob appeared rather indifferent to her.

"I came back to deal with something. Tim said that you know where our secret room is. Is that true?"

Jacob directly looked at Ballard.

Ballard was puzzled. When did Tim get so close to Jacob? And he even told Jacob about the secret room. Could it be that they had made up?

Thinking of this possibility, Ballard was beside himself with joy.

"I know. I'll take you there."

"Jacob, you can stay for lunch. I'll have someone cook your favorite spicy chicken, okay?"

Looking at her son, Mrs. Louis wanted to hold him in her arms. Unfortunately, Jacob had been separated from her since childhood and now he treated her like a stranger.

Jacob shook his head and said, "I still have something to do, so I won't stay here for lunch."

Ballard cursed furiously outside, which was obvious nothing new for Tim.

"He didn't mess around in his own apartment, but came to mess up my kitchen. He did it on purpose!"

Ballard was almost choked from anger.

Ever since Tim was rescued from that kidnap, he seemed to have changed all of a sudden into a different person who would do anything to upset him.

But Tim curled his lips and said, "That's right, I won't put my own apartment into danger. Redecoration won't be easy if a fire destroys it."

These words successfully made Ballard angry enough to black out.

"Ballard! Ballard! Someone call the family doctor!"

Ms. Bush sweated heavily in shock.

However, Tim took a shower and was fairly numb to this whole black-out thing since it happened too often.

Anyway, the family doctor was always there, and the old man himself was not ready to die.

He finished the shower, changed his clothes. Seeing his bald head in the mirror, he found a hat to put on, and left the house.

He entered a barbershop, and told the barber to shave off all his hair.

What else could be done to save it?

He was not used to the chilling scalp when he came out, not to say the straight gaze from everyone who saw him. The gaze made him want to hit the ceiling.

"What are you looking at! You haven't seen a monk, have you?"

Tim cursed in a low roar, scaring away the surrounding people in an instant.

Just as he was thinking about grab something to eat, he received a phone call from Lucas.

Tim answered it and said, "Boy, I heard that you had a cold? You're so lame. Your mom is fine. Don't worry. I just get out of the hospital. She's in good spirits."

Tim's words made Lucas relieved, he whispered, "Uncle Jacob, thank you. I heard that you saved my mother last night."

Laurel didn't even know about it, where did Lucas get the news?

Tim was stunned for a moment. Then, it crossed his mind that Lucas was a genius, he must have hacked into the hospital's computer system.

"Kid, you can't do this. You can't just hack into security systems without permission. Do you know that this is illegal?"

"I was just worried about Mommy."

His hoarse voice, accompanied by bursts of coughing, softened Tim.

After all, he is Nicole's son, but Nicole couldn't take care of him now. Tim could do nothing but say, "I'll drop by with the snacks you like."

"Great! I want durian crisp."

Lucas asked without any bashfulness.

Tim smiled and said, "Alright, I'll go buy it for you."

"Alright, I'll wait for you, Uncle Jacob."

After hanging up the phone, Lucas stood up to change his clothes, but saw Laurel walking in.

Chapter 465 Jealousy Can Drown Him

Hearing Tim's words, Lucas squinted slightly and said in a low voice, "Because you are the only one who really wants to protect Mommy. I believe you will also protect Samuel for the sake of Mommy, right?"

Tim found it hard to answer Lucas' question.

"Brat, I'm telling you, the person I hate the most is Samuel. I'm not even afraid to tell you that I like your mommy. If something really happens to Samuel, I might be very happy. I won't save him."

Tim didn't care what Lucas thought of him at all. He liked Nicole anyway, so what?

Lucas frowned slightly and said in a low voice, "I know how charming my mommy is, but the person she likes is my daddy."

This time, Lucas didn't even call Samuel's name.

"So what? Who knows where Samuel is now? All I need to do is to stay with your mommy every day. A woman will fall in love with me involuntarily if I'm by her side when she feels vulnerable the most and needs someone to take care of her. Moreover, how could she not like such a handsome guy like me?"

Lucas almost vomited.

He had never seen a more narcissistic person.

He shook his head and said, "It's fine if you don't go. But I'm not sure if your arm will be crippled."

"What do you mean?"

Tim became nervous immediately.

However, Lucas said indifferently, "Nothing. I just added some chili oil to the ointment. You know, once the chili oil touches the wound, it will be miserable."

"You brat! Didn't you say that you gave it to me to thank me for saving your mommy? How could you play dirty on me?"

Tim simply wanted to chop this brat.

He was indeed Samuel's son!

They were both sinister and cunning!

However, Lucas said indifferently, "I did this to thank you. The ointment is indeed useful but just a bit slow. You just have to suffer a little bit. Besides, I can also post photos of you crying online. Many women will definitely like them. Maybe I can sell them for a big price."

"Lucas, do you believe that I will strangle you to death?"

Tim was simply depressed to death.

He was actually tricked by a brat!

However, Lucas smiled cunningly and said, "So, are you going or not?"

"Aren't you afraid that I will take this chance to revenge and swallow up Samuel's business?"

"You won't!"

Lucas said with certainty.

"You know it again?"

"Yeah, because you don't want my mommy to be sad."

Hearing Lucas' words, Tim was speechless immediately.

Tim did not think that he was being nervous. After all, he was a soldier before, so he knew what it was like to be followed.

He calmly parked the car at the airport and then got off. Only then did he buy a ticket and fly to a nearby country.

The person following behind saw Tim board the plane. He immediately checked Tim's flight, and called someone. Having confirmed that a project concerned with the Louis family was indeed going on there and Tim had to sign a contract recently, that stalker felt relieved.

Tim flew directly to the nearby country, and he did not forget to contact Lucas through computer.

"Lucas, I have been followed the moment I left the Seapolis City. Do you know it?"

Hearing it, Lucas frowned slightly.

"Do you fly straight there?"

"Do you think I'm stupid?"

Just as Tim finished speaking, Lucas hurriedly nodded.

Lucas knew that Tim couldn't see it, so he ran wild.

As Lucas was in silence, Tim continued, "I'll go to the company to deal with business first, and sneak out in the middle of the night. However, if the route you give me is wrong and misleading, I will not spare you."

"It won't happen!"

Lucas and Tim talked something more before hanging up.

When Laurel came in, Lucas was playing a computer game. It seemed he was trying to advance to the next round.

"You need to rest. You can't play computer games all the time."

Laurel stroked Lucas' head and said kindly.

"I'll take you to the hospital to see your mommy tomorrow. I think your mommy misses you. Zoe can't go over now. You're the eldest son, so you should keep your mommy company."

Hearing it, Lucas whispered, "I'd better wait for another two days. Grandma, I haven't recovered from my cold yet. I'm afraid I may infect Mommy. Or I can have a video chat with Mommy later."

"That's good. You are a smart child. Since you are afraid of infecting your mother, then do as you say."

Laurel smiled and walked out of Lucas' room.

After leaving the room, Laurel came to the flower bed.

This was her private territory, and very few people were allowed to enter. Laurel made painstaking efforts to take care of all flowers here.

She picked up the sprinkler and watered the flowers, looking very pleased with herself.

Chapter 467 Mr. Tim Seems to Have Fallen into the Sea

Nicole quickly opened her Twitter. When she saw the small red badge, she couldn't help but laugh.

She didn't know how Samuel would reply, but he probably was missing her, right?

Thinking of this, Nicole hurriedly clicked it, but she did not expect that it was Tim's reply.

"Baby, I'm missing you, too. We must be mentally connected, right?"

Nicole was a little disappointed, but she still replied, "It's a pity that you are not the one I'm thinking about."

"Oops, what a pity!"

Tim looked at the reply on the screen and felt extremely depressed.

Nicole sent a smiling emoji to him. However, she did not have the desire to chat with him anymore.

It was not a good feeling to chat with a wrong person.

She got up and went to the bathroom. Then she turned off her phone and lay down again.

Since Samuel was not available, then she should go to sleep.

Perhaps she could see Samuel in her dream.

They had been separated for six days!

In two days, Samuel would be back.

She really didn't know how she would make it through the remaining two days.

Nicole kept tossing and turning in her bed. She couldn't sleep, so she could only pull over the quilt to cover herself and force herself to sleep.

Tim looked at his phone and thought about what he needed to say to make Nicole feel less disgusted. However, the more he cared about it, the more he couldn't find a suitable word to express himself.

He waited for Nicole's reply, but after waiting for a long time, he still hadn't received one.

Tim looked at the time and thought that Nicole must be sleeping.

Looking at Nicole's selfie on the phone, Tim suddenly laughed.

He carefully saved the photo, feeling that it was the most precious thing he had.

In the middle of the night, it became quieter and quieter.

Tim walked out of the hotel with dark clothes.

He deliberately walked through the back door and got on a car after making sure that no one was following him. He went straight to the top of the mountain five kilometers away.

There was a private jet here.

To maintain secrecy, Tim didn't bring anyone with him and left the city by himself.

Shortly after he left, in a presidential suite in the hotel he stayed in, a few people were quickly typing on the keyboard and said to Finn via computer, "Captain Wood, Mr. Tim has left. The radar has been installed and it has started scanning. The receiver implanted in Mr. Tim's tie is also working."

"I see. Remember, don't touch Tim's phone. It belongs to Mr. Lucas. If he finds out, we'll be screwed."

"Yes!"

Everything was proceeding in an orderly manner.

However, Tim did not know that he was being tracked. According to the route map given by Lucas, he headed towards that unknown territory.

Lucas was also monitoring this, but he always felt that signals from Tim were somewhat disturbed.

Chapter 468 He Is the Toughest Man I Have Ever Seen

Tim felt his heart beating in his throat.

Although Tim didn't like Samuel very much, Samuel was someone that Nicole cared about. If he was really trapped here and couldn't get out, it was no wonder that Nicole couldn't get in touch with Samuel when she needed him.

Thinking that Nicole would feel sad because of Samuel, Tim felt very uncomfortable.

Tim felt that he was simply too great.

He showed his unconditional love for Nicole.

Tim made up his mind, gritted his teeth and ran to the place where the shout came from.

This place was not heavily guarded. Only one person was standing guard outside and was a bit drowsy. He seemed to be accustomed to the screams from inside and didn't have any reaction.

Samuel let out screams like a trapped beast. Tim could not tell Samuel's feelings.

He didn't know what kind of torture Samuel was going through inside. Just as he was thinking about how to get in, he saw a man coming out with a blood bag.

"Did you draw another 800 CC of blood today?"

When the guard saw Arthur come out, he couldn't help but ask.

"Yes, I will have the cook prepare some medicines for him. I wonder if he can still withstand it."

"Can't you take your time?"

The guard sighed and felt pity.

"I want to, but Mr. Green can't wait anymore. He is eager to have the remaining blood taken from his body at once. He doesn't care about his life at all. Alas, he is the toughest man I've ever seen."

Arthur shook his head and left with the blood bag.

Tim was confused about what they talked. He sneaked in when the guard was distracted.

It was so cold inside that Tim trembled as soon as he entered.

Oh my goodness!

It was as cold as outside.

Why didn't they turn on the heater?

Tim muttered as he quickly headed towards the bright place.

Unexpectedly, there was no guard in this room. When Arthur left, only Samuel was left here.

Tim approached Samuel with caution. When he saw Samuel at a close distance, he was shocked.

Tim never thought that Samuel would be locked in an iron cage. He was twitching with his limbs tied to an iron bed.

Samuel howled, as if he was suffering from unbearable torture.

A prick was left on his arm, while the other arm was given blood transfusion.

Was Samuel going through exchange transfusion?

Tim frowned.

"I only found out not long ago. At that time, Samuel was talking to you. I found his location according to his waveband."

Seeing that Nicole was angry, Lucas hurriedly confessed.

Nicole gripped her phone tightly, feeling as if all her strength was about to be drained.

"Then why didn't you tell me? Do you know how worried I was about your daddy?"

"I'm afraid you'll get angry. Besides, aren't you sick? I don't want to upset you."

Lucas was a little aggrieved as he grabbed the hem of his clothes. Anyone who saw him would be heartbroken.

Nicole also knew that she shouldn't have blamed Lucas. After all, the boy was thinking for her sake. But when she thought of the video just now, she couldn't help but feel hurt.

"I'm sorry, baby. Mommy's in a bad mood."

Nicole took a deep breath.

Seeing her like this, Lucas couldn't help but walk over.

"Mommy, did Uncle Jacob say something?"

"Did you actually ask Tim to find your daddy? I can't believe it!"

Nicole felt that she could not see through her son.

Lucas whispered, "I'm afraid that the Green family will do harm to you. Uncle Jacob is sincerely good to Mommy and he will not leave Daddy alone."

Hearing her son say this, Nicole suddenly felt guilty.

What did she do as a mother?

The child was so young, yet he actually sensed the ups and downs in the Green family. He was even more thoughtful than his mother.

"Lucas, you can't hold on alone every time. Do you hear me? You have to tell Mommy. Although you are indeed smarter than your peers sometimes, you are still a child. Do you think you can afford all of it if something happens to you, or to Tim, or can I afford it?"

Nicole knew that her son was worried about her and Samuel, but when she thought of those terrible consequences, she trembled.

Seeing that Nicole was no longer angry, Lucas whispered, "I know. I won't do it again."

"Who else knows about this?"

"No one. I didn't even tell my grandmother. Uncle Jacob and I know it. Now, and you, Mommy."

Lucas blinked, whose eyes looked like Samuel's. Seeing her son, Nicole became sad again.

"Don't worry about this from now on, okay? Leave it to Mommy. You should accompany Grandma and study at home. If you really feel bored, you can go to the company with Joseph."

"I haven't seen Joseph for a long time. Uncle took him out before dawn. It's not easy to see him now."

Lucas' words made Nicole feel even guiltier.

"Nicole, I..."

"I'll go find Blair now."

Seeing that Gabrielle was hesitating, Nicole got up and was about to leave, but she was grabbed by Gabrielle.

"Don't go."

"You are a woman, Gabrielle. You should know how I felt when I saw this. I don't want to say anything more. I don't have many merits. The only merit is that I'm too stubborn. So it doesn't matter if you don't tell me. But I hope you won't stop me from searching for the truth that I want."

Nicole said slowly, and Gabrielle was at a loss for words.

"I really don't know where he is. Blair is the only one who knows the place. But I can assure you that Mr. Green is safe. Trust me, OK?"

"I don't believe anyone now. I only believe what I see with my own eyes. I won't believe you unless you bring me there."

Gabrielle was silenced by what Nicole said.

"Can't you wait for two days?"

"I can't wait two more hours. Do you think I can wait that long?"

Nicole did not conceal her anxiety at all.

Gabrielle looked at her and sighed, "I can call Blair in. If you have any questions, you can ask him. However, you must promise me not to be excited. You should know that your physical condition is not very good and you can't be agitated. We are hiding it from you for your own good, and for Mr. Green's good. But you're right. He's your husband and you have the right to know everything about him. I just hope you can be tough. If your condition gets worse because of this, I don't have much confidence that I can control your illness."

"I see. I understand you. No matter what happens, I won't blame you I won't have any regrets. I just want to know about him now. I don't care about anything else."

Gabrielle was moved by Nicole's determination and she choked.

"Sit down. I'll call Blair now."

In the end, Gabrielle compromised with a heavy heart.

They couldn't hide it from Nicole until the end, and they didn't know how Nicole got the video.

When Blair received Gabrielle's phone call, he was reading the research data. When Gabrielle asked him to come over, he did not think there was anything wrong.

"What's the matter? Can't we talk when we get home?"

Blair pushed open the office door and was shocked when he saw Nicole.

"Mrs. Green? Why are you here?"
