

Escape Wife 521

Chapter 521 I'll Wait for the Person You Mentioned

It was actually a strange man who answered the phone!

Nicole was clearer than anyone about who were in the family. Now that there was suddenly a stranger, her heart pounded uncontrollably.

How was Laurel?

Did she also fall under Vincent's control?

If that was the case, wouldn't it be quite inappropriate for her to be with Tim now?

Nicole hurriedly got up, but bumped into Tim who came out of the cloakroom.

"What's wrong?"

Seeing that Nicole's expression was a little unnatural, Tim couldn't help but ask.

"I have to go back. Laurel might be in danger."

Saying that, Nicole got up and was about to leave, but Tim grabbed her by the arm.

"What exactly happened? Since you can come here with me, it means that you have no other choice. Otherwise, you wouldn't risk your reputation, as I know how much you care about Samuel. And your coming with me shows that you cannot return to the Greens for the time being, so what are you going to do now?"

Well, Tim was actually quite smart. Perhaps, if he stopped behaving like a playboy, he could be on a par with Samuel.

Nicole looked at Tim and said thoughtfully, "I shouldn't tell you about the Greens, nor should I trouble you, but now I really have no other choice."

"Tell me. You know I would never flinch at your problems, no matter they're related to the Greens or whomever."

The more Tim said this, the more Nicole felt that she owed him too much. She couldn't give Tim the love he wanted, but she kept dragging him down, which made her very uncomfortable.

"Actually, you don't have to be so good to me."

"I owe my life to you. And I should do whatever I can for you. I know what you're thinking. You're afraid that you will owe me too much and you won't be able to pay it back in the future, right? Nicole, listen carefully. I, Tim, owe you this life. If it wasn't for you when I was little, I would have died in that fire. How could I survive to be this Mr. Tim today? Even if I like you, that's my own business. It has nothing to do with you. You don't need to feel burdened. It's fine if you treat me like a brother or a friend. As long as you still need me, it's the best for me."

Nicole didn't dare to look back at his gaze.

He was so straightforward.

"Thank you."

Nicole had so many to say, but in the end, she could only say these two words to express her feelings.

"It's too much. There's no need for us to thank each other. Tell me, what's going on?"

Tim pulled Nicole to the bedside and sat down.

Nicole's nervousness eased somewhat.

"I'm worried that Laurel might have been controlled."

Chapter 522 I'll Do My Best to Save You

Not caring about what Nicole thought of Vincent, Tim had been concerning about Nicole herself. He frowned as Nicole looked sick and seemed to struggle to stand up straight.

"I'm gonna call Blair. No, it's better to call Gabrielle. I'll ask her to come over and treat you."

As Tim spoke, he took out the phone. But Nicole stopped him to make a call.

"No need. I'm fine."

Nicole looked flustered.

Tim was smart enough to tell at a glance what Nicole was worried about. There would be rumors if others knew she went to the Louis' with him alone.

However, Tim had to set aside her worry now.

Putting away his phone, Tim bent down and beat Nicole horizontal to embrace. Then, he walked to the guest room opposite.

Nicole was shocked for a moment before struggling.

"Tim, put me down!"

"I'll put you down in the room."

Tim said in a determined voice.

Given Nicole was too weak to fight against Tim, she could only give up and close her eyes. When she did so, she still heard Tim's heartbeat, which was clear and fast.

Tim was somewhat surprised at Nicole's sudden silence. He glanced at Nicole and found her eyes closed. With her long eyelashes trembled and her face paled, she looked morbid as well as attractive.

All of a sudden, he was desperate to put Nicole in his arms for the rest of his life and never let go of her again. As the desire got increasingly strong, Tim involuntarily lowered his head and tried to kiss Nicole who was in his arms.

Just as he was about to kiss Nicole on her cheek, he heard someone cough and then he gathered his wits together.

What was he doing?

Nicole trusted him so much. How could he take advantage of her?

Tim flushed with shame and looked up, finding it was his father who stopped him by coughing.

Ballard shot daggers at Tim. He probably was afraid that Nicole would be embarrassed, so he remained silent while glaring at Tim.

As if a child who was caught misbehaving, Tim was embarrassed as well as stubborn. He looked away pretending that nothing had happened and walked out of Ballard's sight with Nicole in his arms.

Given what had happened, Nicole was especially sensitive to phone's ringing now.

Gabrielle seemed to know what she was worried about and whispered, "Do you need my help?"

"No need."

Nicole took a deep breath and refused. She forced herself to be strong and do it on her own, as Samuel was not by her side and Zoe was probably in danger.

It was from a stranger, and Nicole picked it up directly.

"Who is it?"

As soon as Nicole asked, she heard Mrs. Green on the other end.

"Nicole, no matter how Vincent threatens you, don't come back to the Green's!"

"Mom? How are you? What happened? What has Vincent done to you? Don't worry, I will save you out."

Nicole never thought that it was from Mrs. Green.

She was nervous and anxious. However, Mrs. Green whispered, "Don't worry about me. Except for putting me under house arrest, Vincent won't hurt me. Listen, you'd better forget about me and even the Greens and try to focus on whatever you want to do."

"Mom, what the hell is going on? What's wrong with Vincent?"

Nicole was puzzled at Mrs. Green's remarks and could not help but ask.

"It's not the time to explain to you now. Remember, don't go back to the Green's!"

After saying that, Mrs. Green hung up. When Nicole called back, she found Mrs. Green's phone switched off.

As Nicole didn't know the phone number, she was not sure if it was Mrs. Green's. Besides, Mrs. Green's attitude alerted Nicole to a serious situation.

What exactly happened?

Why didn't Mrs. Green let her go back to the Green's?

Although Nicole failed to figure it out, she knew that Mrs. Green called her to relax her. Now, Nicole knew that Mrs. Green was safe.

Given Nicole looked distressed, Gabrielle helped her put away the phone and whispered, "As Mrs. Green asks you not to go back, what are you going to do? Continue to stay in the Louis'?"

Nicole regained her senses and shook her head, "No, I'm gonna leave. Since Tim is single, it's inappropriate for me to stay here anymore. He needs a girlfriend and I can't get in the way."

"You want to leave with me?"

Gabrielle immediately understood what Nicole implied.

Nicole nodded and said, "You can take me away from the Louis' by telling Tim that I'm going to your house."

"However, you won't go to my house as Lucas is there, right? You won't allow Lucas to get involved. Where are you planning to go? I won't help you without knowing it clearly. Even if there probably will be rumors, it is the safest for you to stay in the Louis' now."

Gabrielle said directly.

"Tim, don't you dare!"

Nicole couldn't remain cool anymore.

"You can try and see."

Tim said with a cheeky smile, but his purposeful eyes showed that he was serious.

Nicole was truly frightened now, for she suddenly thought that Tim almost kissed her in public not long ago.

Seeing that Nicole calmed down, Tim said to Gabrielle, "What are you waiting for? Hurry to put her on intravenous drip. Do you want to see her run out and faint on the road?"

Tim's attitude wasn't good, but Gabrielle didn't care. She knew what kind of people he was. He treated everyone with that attitude, only except Nicole.

Gabrielle sighed and said, "Nicole, could you please listen to us and stay here?"

"No, I can't. Gabrielle, I really have something to do. Joseph sent me his location, and I have to go save them."

"Save yourself first."

Nicole was lost for words to contradict Tim.

While she was wondering what to say, Tim suddenly took her phone away and checked her Twitter.

"Tim, it's my privacy. Can you show some respect for me?"

Nicole didn't know what to do with Tim.

He was totally a rascal.

Tim said, "Privacy? Do you need it in front of me? Besides, don't you want to save Joseph and Zoe? Now that I got the location, I'll go there for you, and you just stay here. If you leave my house before the drip is finished, you'll know if I dare to kiss you in front of the media."

"You are simply a rascal!"

Nicole finally lost her temper for being threatened over and over again.

However, Tim said indifferently, "So what if I'm a rascal?"

"You!"

Nicole was irritated, while Tim just shrugged and left the room.

Gabrielle smiled, "You're so stubborn that only a rascal like Tim can bring you to heel."

"Don't say that. You know, I have no feelings for him...."

"I know, but sometimes he's really manly, just like now. Am I right?"

Gabrielle's statement silenced Nicole.

She didn't want to owe Tim anything, but she seemed to owe him more and more. How could she repay him for what he had done for her?

When Nicole was forced into treatment, Joseph was experiencing something exciting.

Joseph and Zoe were kept in the same room, and their mobile phones already were confiscated by tough bodyguards standing outside.

Zoe sat on the bed and said worriedly, "Joseph, when can we see Mommy? Those people said that Mommy invited us to eat steak, and they were sent by uncle to take us to see Mommy. But it's already afternoon. Why are we still here?"

"Wow! Steak!"

Zoe's excitement stood in contrast to the frown on Joseph's face.

"Miss Zoe and Mr. Joseph, here is the steak. Please enjoy yourself."

A maid brought the freshly cooked steak to Zoe.

However, Joseph stopped Zoe from eating and looked at the maid, saying, "We want to go out to eat steak. This is medium-cooked. Zoe likes medium-well, and the steak must be airlifted from abroad."

"Joseph, I..."

"Shut up!"

Joseph glared at Zoe.

Although Zoe really wanted to eat, she flinched at the sight of Joseph's gaze. However, her eyes were still fixed on the steak, which made her mouth water.

Joseph wanted Zoe to eat steak, but they couldn't eat here.

The maid didn't get angry. Instead, she smiled and said, "Mr. Joseph, the steak was just flown in from abroad. It's very fresh. As for the medium-well steak you mentioned, I'll ask them to make it now. Please wait a moment."

Then the maid took the steak out.

"Hey, my steak!"

Zoe wished she could snatch the steak from the maid, but Joseph grabbed her arm.

"Joseph, my steak!"

"We still have no idea how Mommy is doing. You can only use food to stall them now. I'll go get something."

Joseph was a little worried about Zoe.

She was so innocent that Joseph didn't know if she could hold off those people.

Hearing this, Zoe frowned and said, "You mean that no matter what they bring, I should say that I'm not satisfied and ask them to cook again?"

"That's right! You're really a smart girl!"

Joseph praised, but Zoe pulled a long face.

"Joseph, you're a bad guy! You know that I like food, but you actually asked me to deliberately find fault with those delicacies. You're the worst person in the world!"

Joseph felt uncomfortable and distressed when hearing Zoe's complaint.

"I promise you that if you can resist their temptation three times, I'll treat you to KFC and Dexter three times. Is it okay?"

Because Zoe was in poor health, both Samuel and Nicole forbade her from eating junk food. And they would ration if Zoe must eat. Now that Joseph promised to treat her delicious food, Zoe smiled happily and stretched out her little finger.

"Let's make a pinky promise."

Joseph looked at the chubby little hand and stretched out his finger without hesitation.

"Now we make a pinky promise! Whoever breaks the promise will become a dog!"

"It's not a bomb! I'm not that capable as Lucas. And I just secretly learned a little bit from him."

Joseph quickly stood in front of Zoe and threw a handful of soybeans out of his bag before landing.

At the same time, he poured the olive oil onto the floor. And it was difficult for people to stand on the soybeans. So, the bodyguards who tried to grab them fell to the ground one by one.

"Joseph, you are awesome!"

Zoe landed on the ground, unable to stand steadily. Joseph supported her from behind, and then grabbed her wrist again, taking her over easily.

"Joseph, you haven't told me yet. If that's not a bomb, what on earth is it?"

Zoe still hadn't forgotten the explosion just now, so she couldn't help but ask.

As Joseph dodged those who were ordered to catch them, he explained, "It's very simple. Fill empty bottles with inflammable liquids, like gasoline, and set up specific devices. Then you can detonate them at any time. The lethality is not great, but it can buy us time."

"I don't understand!"

Slightly depressed, Zoe frowned and thought, 'Why can't I understand what Lucas and Joseph say?

But we're of the same age, aren't we?'

Joseph turned around and smiled, "It doesn't matter. You are a girl. Just remember to stand behind us. We will protect you."

"But it makes me too useless!"

As Zoe spoke, she observed the people around her. When she saw a bodyguard struggling to get up not far away, she casually took an apple from the coffee table and threw it towards his forehead.

"Bingo!"

Zoe was so cheered that she wanted to jump. Unfortunately, she forgot that she was being held by Joseph on the ground covered with olive oil. All of a sudden, she fell to the ground.

"Ouch!"

Pulled by Zoe, Joseph also fell to the ground.

At the sight of it, a bodyguard hurriedly shouted, "Hurry! Catch them!"

Joseph felt a little depressed. He looked at the bodyguards struggling over from the side and made up his mind at once. He quickly pushed Zoe away from him.

The olive oil made the floor extremely slippery. Zoe was pushed straight to the entrance of the living room.

"Run! Go back to find Mommy! Hurry up!"

Joseph shouted at Zoe, then turned around and took out other items from his bag, throwing them at the bodyguards. There were cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbages and so on. Almost all the vegetables in the kitchen had been packed in Joseph's bag.

Zoe froze for a second, unable to react.

"Joseph!"

"Run! Leave me alone! Go find Mommy and bring her to pick me up! Didn't you say you wanna protect us? You're a female warrior now. I'm waiting for you to save me."

Joseph tried his best to stop everyone in front of him.

He was Vincent's son. Even if he was caught, he would only be beaten up. Vincent wouldn't kill his own son, would he? However, Zoe was different.

Although Joseph did not know what had happened recently, his heart did hurt when he heard Vincent in the club that day.

Chapter 527 Uncle Samuel Is Perfect

Nicole was not making a phone call with others, but she was too anxious to hang up after finishing the call. Therefore, others were unable to get through to her.

When Tim arrived at the location texted by Joseph, the villa had been in a mess. After all, Joseph was still a little boy. In the end, he was caught by the bodyguards.

"Let go of me! You bastards! If you treat me like this, Daddy will punish you later!"

Joseph shouted.

He used to be an innocent child, having no idea of the evil in the world. He had grown up happily under Samuel's protection. Now, after witnessing the bad deeds of his biological mother and experiencing the military training of his biological father, Joseph became especially calm.

He shouted, hoping that his voice could be heard by passers-by. Even if the chances were slim, it was still a glimmer of hope.

Just as Tim stopped the car, he heard Joseph's shout.

He frowned and quickly got out of the car. Without closing the car door, he broke into the villa directly.

"Who are you? This is a private residence. You can't get in!"

Just as the bodyguards outside came to their senses, they saw Tim rushing in. Then they stopped him in a hurry.

"Damn you!"

Without beating around the bush, Tim kicked away the bodyguards who got in the way. The next moment, he took the initiative to attack and knocked down the bodyguards at the door.

After that, Tim rushed in again and happened to see the struggling Joseph. During the struggle, Joseph's wrist and face were slightly bruised.

"Beating a child? How shameless!"

Tim's words attracted everyone's attention, including Joseph's.

"Uncle Tim! Save me!"

Joseph's eyes lit up as he struggled even harder. The bodyguard who had caught Joseph with great difficulty suddenly loosened his grip and Joseph fell to the ground.

"Ouch!"

Joseph cried out in pain, and Tim was enraged.

"Could you be dumber? You can't even hold a child. How did your master train you?"

The bodyguard fell into confusion.

'Who is Tim? Is he here to help us?'

Before the bodyguard could react, Tim and Joseph moved at the same time. Their movements were quick and agile.

Tim looked at Joseph with admiration and took the opportunity to step forward to pull Joseph over.

"Do you know how to lock a car?"

Tim's question caused Joseph to freeze for a second, and then Joseph hastily nodded.

"Good boy! Take the keys and wait for me in the car."

Tim stuffed the car keys into Joseph's hands.

"You live in the military compound? Whose house is it? Blair's?"

Tim knew about Blair. He also knew that Blair had a house in the military compound. Gabrielle was Blair's wife, so Tim just thought of Blair. Nobody knew that Gabrielle's parents were both martyrs, because it had been kept as a secret.

Instead of living in the Louis', Nicole was going to live in Blair's house in the military compound. Tim felt somewhat distressed about it.

Hearing Tim's question, Nicole was slightly stunned. Then she whispered, "No. Don't ask. I'm safe here. You can rest assured."

Tim went depressed. Nicole was saying that as if it was not safe to be with him, but he did not say anything.

"Alright, I'll send Joseph over now. Tell the guard in advance, otherwise we won't be able to get in."

Compared to the Louis', the military compound was indeed much safer. Even if Vincent wanted to find Nicole, he couldn't enter nor do anything to her if she didn't let him come in.

"Alright."

Nicole hung up the phone. Gabrielle smiled and said, "Tim probably hates me."

"Don't say that. Oh, you know a lot of people in the hospital. Just introduce a few girls to him later."

After Nicole said that, Gabrielle shook her head. "You're too naïve. Tim is a famous playboy in the Seapolis City. He has seen all kinds of women, so how would he need me to do that? Do you think he'll put away his feelings for you just by seeing a few other women? Don't be ridiculous. A playboy wouldn't fall in love. But once he does, he just gets entangled. You two have to take your time with it. "

Nicole just sighed.

"Let's talk about it later. I have to look for Zoe. Do you have any extra cars? I need one now."

Gabrielle looked at Nicole and whispered, "Don't even think about driving. You're not feeling well, so I'm quite worried about you. Besides, you're so emotional now. You'd better go out with Tim. Don't worry about Joseph. I've asked our nanny to take care of him. He'll be fine."

"Thank you, Gabrielle."

Nicole wanted to say something, but then she also thought this arrangement was the best.

"You don't need to say that. Take this medicine. If you can't hold on, take one pill. But don't take too many. You're sick. Don't think you are still that healthy. I know you love Zoe. And you're worried because she's missing. But you need to take care of yourself, okay?"

"I know."

Nicole did not refuse and put the medicine in her pocket.

Then she called Samuel again, but he still didn't pick it up. She was very nervous and didn't know what to do. It almost drove Nicole crazy.

Samuel had been missing for a whole day.

He met that terrible accident last time he went missing. What would happen this time?

Nicole did not know, and she became more and more worried. What was worse, there was no news of Zoe. Nicole just felt so tired and helpless.

Tim came quickly.

"Dean, we're running out of doughnuts. Dessert chefs won't make some for me. You should talk to them."

When Zoe showed up, Nicole turned extremely excited. She stepped forward and hugged Zoe as she said in a trembling voice, "Zoe! Where did you go? Do you know that Joseph and I are worried about you?"

"Mommy?"

Zoe was a little surprised, but she was very happy at the same time.

"Mommy, how did you find me? You're amazing! Did Dean call you? I also called you, but the line was always busy. Who were you talking to? Daddy? But Daddy isn't yours. You can't talk to him all the time. So, is Daddy back?"

Zoe's questions made Nicole feel a little sad.

Samuel, did you know that your little daughter was also waiting for you?

Although Nicole felt sad, she whispered, "You've been staying at this house since you couldn't get through to me? And you eat so many doughnuts. Honey, you're really heartless."

When Dean realized that Nicole was Zoe's mother, he finally let down his guard.

"Oh, you're Zoe mother. Auntie, do you want to come in and have some tea? I called the police just now, because Zoe said someone kept her in a house."

Nicole was slightly stunned. Then she looked at the policeman beside her and smiled. "My daughter is too sensitive. She must misunderstand something. I'm sorry to make you come for nothing. I'll ask Samuel to send some tea to the police station. You guys should enjoy that."

With Nicole's words, the policeman knew that they did not need to interfere in the problems of the Greens.

Nicole and Zoe belonged to this rich and powerful family. It was difficult for the police to deal with their family problems. They might offend someone, and they could not afford to do that. After hearing Nicole's words, they were happy to leave.

"I see, Mrs. Green. It's good that you're fine. Then we have to go now."

The policeman immediately left after saying that.

Dean frowned slightly. He was not satisfied with the result.

"Auntie, why did you say that? You didn't see Zoe faint beside a trash can. She was kidnapped for real."

Hearing that her little girl fainted next to a trash can, Nicole felt so bad. But she couldn't tell Dean the problems behind it.

"Thank you, Dean. Thank you for saving Zoe. Are your parents home? I want to thank them. I'll have her daddy come over to thank them later."

"No, just me here."

Dean said that casually, but Nicole could tell that he was lonely.

"How old are you?"

"I'm 7 years old."

Dean smiled. He was very polite, which made people feel more upset for him.

"I have to bring Zoe home. Why don't you come over and play with us?"

Nicole knew that she was too weak to take care of another child. But seeing Dean pretend to be strong, she couldn't help but think of Lucas.

"Keep your seats."

After Tim finished speaking, the car accelerated.

"What's the matter?"

Zoe was a little confused. When she wanted to look back, Nicole covered her eyes.

"Don't look."

"Why?"

Zoe did not struggle but leaned on Nicole's arms and asked innocently.

Nicole didn't know how to explain, so she could only say, "I'm afraid you are reluctant to part with Dean."

"That's right, I really can't bear to part with him. Mommy, Dean is really good."

Hearing Dean's name, Zoe beamed.

The car behind them was getting closer and closer. The driver seemed very competent in driving.

Tim and Nicole's faces went an ugly green, but Nicole continued to say, "Is Dean better than your two brothers?"

"They are different for me."

Zoe couldn't explain, so she kept emphasizing this.

Tim teased, "You like someone at such a young age."

"Yes, I like Dean! When I grow up, I will be his bride."

Zoe's bold words depressed Nicole, but she couldn't afford to worry about it, because the car behind had already caught up.

"Tim, you..."

"I know. Just fasten your seat belts."

Tim looked somewhat embarrassed.

It was not easy to catch up with him. Other than Samuel, no one else was more than a match for him.

"You know what? I really want to see the driver. He drives as well as Samuel."

Nicole didn't say anything, but her eyes darkened a little.

Suddenly, the car behind accelerated and crashed into Tim's car.

Tim's car shook violently. Tim quickly turned the steering wheel to stabilize it, but the car behind came again.

"Mommy, what's wrong? Is there an earthquake?"

Zoe was a little scared and held tight to Nicole's arm.

Nicole protected Zoe with a very solemn expression.
