Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 531 Don't Jinx Her

"It means literally. What else can it mean? Can you hurry? Nicole has fainted for a long time."

Tim was not in the mood to chat with Gabrielle.

Gabrielle glanced at him and then quickly unbuttoned Nicole's coat.

The blood had already seeped through her clothes.

"You go out. I'll undress Nicole and take out the bullet."

Just as Gabrielle finished speaking, Tim became a little anxious.

"Why do I have to go out? I won't look where I shouldn't. Besides, she's so weak. She will die if you take the bullet out in this way!"

"I know whether she will die. I am a doctor, so I know better than you how to save her. Don't you know about Nicole's physical condition? She's weak and now she's bleeding so much. If I don't take the bullet out, the wound will become inflamed and her previous illness will reappear."

Gabrielle rolled her eyes at Tim and hurriedly got up to take the medical kit.

Tim was speechless, and he felt even guiltier.

If he could protect Nicole, Nicole wouldn't be like this.

He sighed, turned around, and left the room, but he stopped at the door.

"Gabrielle, please, you must cure her. She has a tough life all the way down."

"I know."

Gabrielle did not look up, so she didn't notice the guilt and worry in Tim's eyes.

After giving Nicole some anesthetic, Gabrielle started to work.

Nicole was in a coma, but her brain didn't stop working.

Why did Finn want to kill her?

He seemed not to be joking. What exactly happened?

Where was Samuel?

Nicole suffered from violent mood swings, so Gabrielle had less control over the operation. She was quite cautious the entire time. She wanted to wake Nicole up, but Nicole didn't have any awareness of the outside world. She could only watch her struggling in pain.

"Nicole, you'd better let that go. Stay calm when being treated. Do you hear me?"

Although Gabrielle saw little hope, she still whispered a few words in Nicole's ear.

Tim fell silent.

Chapter 532 I'll Get Him to You Safely

Gabrielle suddenly felt sympathy for Tim.

Other people thought that Tim was apathetic, but no one knew that his affection for Nicole was so deep and insistent. However, in the end, Nicole didn't belong to him, and he was destined to end up lonely.

"Tim, you..."

"I agree. I'll go find Samuel."

Tim suddenly spoke.

Gabrielle knew that it was not easy for Tim to make such a decision.

"Think it over. It is..."

"I know. I'll go check on Nicole now. Don't tell her. She will know when Samuel returns."

After Tim finished speaking, he directly walked out.

Gabrielle looked at his back and sighed.

When Tim arrived at Nicole's room, Joseph was sitting quietly by the side of the bed, staring at Nicole, afraid that he would miss something.

Tim touched Joseph's head and said, "Don't worry, your mother will be fine."

"Really?"

Joseph raised his head and looked at Tim. He said worriedly, "You adults always like to lie to us children, thinking that we don't understand anything, but in fact, we know it all. Zoe doesn't really believe Mommy is just tired. She is just trying to make you feel at ease by pretending to be ignorant. Me too. I can see that Mommy doesn't seem to be in good shape. Are you all lying to us?"

"Nonsense!"

Tim patted Joseph's shoulder. Under Joseph's innocent gaze, Tim couldn't keep up the grinning.

"Your mommy is not well. That's true."

"Can you tell me what happened to her? Will my mommy die?"

Joseph had experienced the death of his own mother, so he was very sensitive to the word death. When Joseph said it, his voice was trembling.

Nicole finally heard what Tim said. She was desperate to wake up. But she felt as if she were under the weight of a mountain. No matter how hard she tried, she could not break free, and her eyes were heavy.

Nicole could feel Tim's sorrow, but she had no choice.

There really is a first-mover advantage. She had given her heart to Samuel. Even if Tim treated her so well, she would not be touched.

Nicole also did not think she would be moved by what Tim had just said.

Her presence would only cause Tim great pain. It would be better not to see each other. Perhaps it was also a kind of relief for Tim.

Nicole comforted herself, but she felt sad, as if she had lost a relative.

Tim saw Gabrielle walking over and said indifferently, "No matter what, you must protect her."

"I will!"

Seeing that Gabrielle had agreed, Tim then left.

After leaving the military compound, Tim went straight back to the old mansion of the Louis family.

When Ballard saw Tim, he roared angrily, "Do you even care about this family? If I'd known you were such a jerk, I won't even let you be born!"

"Too bad you didn't, so you're just gonna have to put up with it."

Ballard was irritated by the slovenly attitude of Tim.

"Why did I have such a wicked son!"

"How would I know? I'm not the one who slept with my mother."

"You!"

Ballard was about to hit Tim, but Tim grabbed his wrist.

"I said that you're old. You know you can't beat me, so why bother? You can hit me because I let you, you think I'm really afraid of you?"

Tim's words were bitter but not hostile.

"Old man, I know what you're thinking, don't you just want to acknowledge Jacob? Let me tell you, as long as I, Tim, am alive, I will not allow him to enter our family as a descendant! No matter what, my mother and I are the rightful owners of the Louis Family. Your lover has lived here for so many years. You should be grateful for my kindness. My way or the highway, it's your choice."

Tim pushed Ballard away and said coldly, "I'm going out for a few days. You'd better take good care of my mother, otherwise I don't mind selling the entire family. You know me, I've never given a shit about the family's property. If it weren't for my mother's attachment, do you think this family would still exist in the Seapolis City?"

"You!"

Ballard was steam mad, but he also knew that Tim really dared to do so.

Tim ignored him and directly entered the room. He took some things and went to the dungeon.

Seeing Tim arrive, Swift was a little frightened, but she forced herself to pretend to be calm.

"Josh? Why are you here?"

Tim was quite surprised.

Josh was his good friend, and had always stayed in the Seapolis City. How could he come to such an isolated and poor place? Moreover, he was actually the one who issued the pass cards of the Dungeon?

Tim suddenly remembered that he almost slept with Olivia against her will in the club a few months ago. At that time, only Josh was present.

He didn't know why he suddenly thought of this matter, but he subconsciously took one more glance at Josh.

Naturally, Josh was also surprised. When he saw Tim, he froze for a moment. Then, he smiled awkwardly and said, "Mr. Tim, why are you here?"

"Shouldn't I ask you that? What the hell are you doing here with pass cards to the Dungeon, instead of staying in the Seapolis City? Well? You can't be the owner of this Dungeon, can you?"

"Mr. Tim, you must be joking. Who am I to own this Dungeon? My job is merely giving out these pass cards."

Josh laughed even more awkwardly.

"Giving out those pass cards? To whom? I'm going to the Dungeon now. What do you say? We're friends, aren't we? Do I even have to ask you for a pass?"

Tim stretched out his hand towards Josh.

Josh hesitated.

"Well? What's wrong with the Dungeon? Can't I go? You know what a person I am in the city. I just want to see something new. You can't possibly stop me from that, right?"

Ever since Tim saw Josh here, he had started to think fast.

Earlier, he always felt it strange--why did he almost insult Olivia for no reason? It had been a long time, but he still had no clue. Moreover, he remembered that he really hadn't called Olivia that day. Nevertheless, something irreversible did almost happen, because Olivia came according to his phone call. Now that Tim thought about it, the person who had been beside him that day was Josh.

He had never suspected Josh of anything. Though Josh had been a fair-weather friend, they grew up together. No matter what, he would protect Josh. In a sense, he was like Josh's little boss. Josh would do the things he instructed, and they had never quarreled. He never thought that Josh would be the most suspicious person now.

Josh saw Tim's ugly face, and he noticed from his words that Tim was also in a bad mood. After following him for so many years, he naturally knew Tim's temper. He hurriedly said, "How could it be? There are too many people in the Dungeon. You never know who you'll meet. I'm just afraid that you'll get angry if you go in."

"I've never put up with anything. You know that, right? I'm just going in to watch the fun. If anyone wants to provoke me, well, they should consider the consequences first. Cut the crap. Do you want to give me a pass or not?"

Seeing that Tim insisted, Josh finally took out the pass card and whispered, "It's better for you to keep your head down after you go in there. If you just want to see some fun, don't talk until necessary, and don't cause any trouble. Just watch."

"What are you talking about? Am I a troublemaker?"

Tim disliked Josh's advice. Looking at Tim, Josh did not know what to say.

"Who is it?"

Tim wanted to make a move, but he was covered by the mouth.

"Keep quiet!"

Hearing the familiar voice, Tim froze for a moment. Then, he jabbed against the person with his elbow. That someone let go of Tim involuntarily with a muffled snort.

Tim suddenly turned around and grabbed the person's arm, forcing him to face him.

"Samuel! You bastard!"

He punched Samuel in the face, but Samuel dodged.

"Are you crazy?"

Samuel was slightly angry.

"I'm crazy? No, you are! You're freaking out here by yourself, while Nicole couldn't be more worried about you at home! You keep saying you love her, and that's how you love her, right? If you don't cherish her, let go as soon as possible! I'll take care of her for the rest of her life."

Although Tim came here specially for Samuel, he immediately lashed out at him when he saw that Samuel was fine.

Before Samuel could say anything, the girl behind Tim suddenly grabbed onto Tim and pulled him over. Then, she stood in front of Samuel.

"Heck! You little girl, you like him? He has a wife and a child already!"

Hearing Tim's words, Samuel's face went somewhat ugly.

"What nonsense are you talking about? She is the child trafficked out of the club. I tried to bring her back to the Seapolis City several times but failed."

"You failed? Samuel, who are you kidding? Say, do you think there are many beauties here, and you have money, so you want to enjoy yourself here forever? You don't care about whether Nicole and your son are alive or not, do you? Don't make yourself sound so noble. I don't believe that you can't get out of here if you really want to. Who can stop you? This little girl--she has only known you for a while, yet she tries to protect you so much. Have you done anything to her?"

Hearing Tim's words, Samuel's expression became even uglier, but before he could say anything, the little girl directly stepped forward and bit onto the part between Tim's thumb and index finger. She wouldn't let go no matter what.

"Ouch! You little girl, let go! Holy crap! Are you a dog?! Don't forget, I paid for you just now, and you're mine now! You are actually biting me to help him! How dare you!" Tim shouted.

However, he did not even touch the little girl. Obviously, he truly cared about her condition.

Seeing this, Samuel suddenly felt funny. Tim had always been good at dealing with women, but now, he was helpless against a little girl.

The little girl finally loosened her grip when she felt her teeth a little tired.

Tim swung his hand hard and said with a fierce expression, "Believe it or not, I will sell you to a nightclub and make you stuck in there for the rest of your life."

The little girl trembled. Facing her frightened face, Tim felt a little painful.

He was so finished!

Tim had been living a carefree and leisurely life. He never expected himself to die in a filthy and remote place.

Tim looked desperately at the dagger coming to his chest. He couldn't help but sigh.

Just as the dagger reached Tim's clothes and was about to pierce his chest, it stopped.

Tim was stunned and raised his head. Samuel looked in pain, as if repressing something.

"Run!"

Samuel's voice was a bit hoarse.

"Go with me! I promised Nicole that I would take you back."

As Tim spoke, he grabbed Samuel's hand tight.

Samuel covered his head and said in a low voice, "I don't want to go now. And I can't go out either. You should leave now. Just go!"

"No. No matter what happened, I have to take you away. Don't worry, we've got Blair. He will cure you. Go with me. Nicole can't wait any longer. Do you know what your brother did? He's such a jerk!"

When Tim and Samuel were arguing with each other, the nearby security guards arrived.

"Let's defeat them first."

Samuel suddenly broke free from Tim and started to hit them.

Tim also fought against them with Samuel.

The little girl quickly ran out. On the way, she encountered a security guard and was stopped by him. She took out the pass card that Tim gave her.

The security guard checked it and then let her leave.

The little girl didn't dare to stop. She knew that they were heading towards Tim and Samuel. She looked behind and then headed towards outside.

"Quick! Stop that girl! Don't let her escape!"

Someone shouted, and the girl was so scared that she ran faster.

I couldn't get caught by them!

Absolutely not!

Perhaps she had familiarized herself with this place. She ran across the paths flexibly.

The security guard ran after the little girl. Fortunately, she was good at dodging. Every time she almost got caught, she made it to escape.

The gate was right in front of her. The little girl was happy. However, they started to put it down.

The little girl's expression instantly changed.

Once the gate fell, she wouldn't be able to get out. However, Samuel and Tim were still counting on her.

The girl gritted her teeth and quickened her pace to rush over. When the gate was about to reach the ground, she directly curled up and rolled out.

With a loud sound, the gate separated her and the security guards into two worlds.

Chapter 537 I'll Do What You Said

The little girl was thrown into the sea by Fiona. Poor Tim was still waiting for Nicole to come with people, but no one would come.

As for Nicole, she woke up after the dangerous night.

She was confused and looked around. It was a familiar place.

"Thank god. I thought you wouldn't wake up this time."

Nicole was surprised to hear Gabrielle's voice.

"Gabrielle?"

"Yes, here I am. You are so reckless. I've asked you to have rest. How could you get shot while looking for a child? Fortunately, We're in the military compound. If it was other places, I would have to explain why you got shot. Nicole, can you follow the doctor's instructions, just like other patients?"

Gabrielle shook her head.

Nicole felt embarrassed. She smiled and said, "Sorry. You know. It was an accident."

"Well, it was an accident. But you always get yourself into danger. If you continue to do that, you might die before Samuel comes back."

What she said was a bit mean, but Nicole knew that Gabrielle was worried about her, so she didn't retort.

Nicole suddenly thought of Tim.

"Where's Tim?"

"He has left."

Gabrielle avoided her gaze, but Nicole didn't notice.

"He left? That's good. Anyway, it's not appropriate for him to interfere in the Green family's matters."

Gabrielle looked at her as if wanting to say something, but in the end, she remained quiet.

"I think I heard Tim said something in my ear. But I was too dizzy and didn't hear it clearly."

Nicole felt uneasy.

Gabrielle said casually, "He has stayed by your side for so many days. And he said he wanted to give up on you. Perhaps he has straightened out his thinking and didn't want to go after you anymore."

Nicole paused for a moment and then said, "It would be the best if he let go. I've owed him too much."

"Alright. Forget about it. Zoe and Joseph have come to see you several times. You were in a coma and they were really worried. I should tell them that you've woken up. By the way, Lucas is better now. He has almost recovered. He kept saying that he wants to come back to see you. So, you'd better take care. Don't make Lucas worry. Or you'll regret it. "

After saying that, Gabrielle stood up.

Nicole smiled bitterly.

She didn't want to get hurt, but she didn't have other choices in that situation.

Nicole was still a little sad when she thought of Tim, but she also felt relieved. Gabrielle said that Tim had let go. It would be the best if it was true.

When she struggled to get up, Zoe and Joseph came in.

"Mommy!"

Zoe quickly ran over, throwing herself into Nicole's arms. But she suddenly stopped.

"What's wrong, Zoe?"

Nicole was ready to take Zoe. Seeing that Zoe paused, she asked.

Zoe looked at Nicole's shoulder and said disappointedly, "Mommy lied! Mommy is not a good child!"

"Who?"

Nicole wanted to get up but was controlled by someone.

"Mrs. Green, it's me!"

The voice was somewhat familiar to Nicole and surprised her for a moment.

"Chuck?"

"Yes, it's me."

Chuck let go of Nicole.

"Why are you here?"

Nicole was a little astonished.

The military compound was not an ordinary place. Ordinary people would not be able to enter here. Even Vincent had to come in with the permission of the guard. Why did Chuck come in so easily?

Chuck whispered, "You saved me. Finn sent me here and said that Vincent couldn't find me here. Today, I saw you arrive here and remembered your specific location. Now, I'm here to find you."

Hearing Chuck, Nicole finally understood.

"Did Finn arrange it for you?"

"Yes."

"What else did he say?"

Nicole's question confused Chuck.

"No, he just let me stay here. However, I'm in a hurry, since I really have something to tell you."

If it was before, Nicole would not believe him, but Nicole wanted to know what he wanted to say after experiencing so much.

"What exactly is Mr. Bates?"

Nicole asked.

Seeing that Nicole wanted to know, Chuck hurriedly said, "Mr. Bates is a director of Eternal Group, and he is also Mr. Green's friend. They've shared weal and woe. I don't know what Mr. Green has let Mr. Bates keep. Mr. Green said that if something happens to Eternal Group one day, Mr. Bates will take charge. However, Vincent came to the company and asked Mr. Bates for it. Mr. Bates did not give it to Vincent, so they argued. Later, Mr. Bates got into trouble. Seeing that things weren't going well, he hid somewhere. Mr. Bates only told me to look for Mr. Green and tell him about this. However, Vincent's men watched me so closely that I couldn't find an opportunity. Vincent knew that I was looking for you, so he deliberately brought you out and let me contact you easily. Since I was too anxious then, I didn't realize that it was a trap for us. I even got you in trouble. Otherwise, Vincent wouldn't have done something to you so soon."

"What is so important? Vincent doesn't hesitate to offend his family to get it?"

Chapter 539 Something Happened to Tim

Nicole subconsciously glanced at her phone. It was actually Tim. He called her right on time.

She somewhat didn't know what to say, so she paused for a while before picking up the phone, but Tim's cry suddenly came from the other end.

"Nicole, save me!"

After that, Tim hung up. When Nicole called back, the phone was off.

"What's up?"

Seeing that Nicole didn't look good, Gabrielle hurriedly asked.

"Something happened to Tim."

Nicole put on a serious look.

She didn't know what kind of place it was, but the people she cared about the most went there and never returned.

"I have to go there."

Nicole was firm about it.

"No! You must not leave here. Nicole, don't force me to use tranquilizers on you."

Gabrielle was a little tough against Nicole's decision.

Nicole looked at her and whispered, "I'm sorry."

"What do you mean? Are you really planning to go? Let me tell you, Nicole, if you go, don't blame me...."

Before Gabrielle could finish, she was knocked out by Nicole.

Nicole gently placed Gabrielle on the bed with a guilty look and whispered, "As long as I can save them, it doesn't matter if I lose my life. Samuel is my husband. I must find him. Tim has done so much for me. I can't ignore him when he is in danger. Gabrielle, you are a doctor and don't like patients who don't listen to the doctor's advice. I'm really sorry. If I can come back alive this time, I will definitely listen to you, rest in bed and never exhaust myself. But not now."

Nicole gently covered Gabrielle with the blanket. Then she got changed and got up to leave.

When Nicole walked to the living room, Joseph stood there and seemed to realize something. When he saw Nicole, he was somewhat at a loss.

"Mommy, where are you going?"

"Where are you going?"

Nicole couldn't help but frown when she saw Joseph wearing an outfit.

"I go to find my master."

Hearing Joseph, Nicole frowned slightly.

"Master?"

"I heard it just now. Tim is my master. I promised him that I would take good care of you. At the very least, I need to make sure that you will be well before he returns. Since you are going to save Uncle Samuel and my master, I have to follow you."

Joseph looked at Nicole with a firm attitude.

Nicole was somewhat amused.

"You recognize Tim as your master? What does he teach you? How to pursue girls?"

"He knows a lot of things."

Chapter 540 I Don't Want to See You Now

The car continued to drive in the direction it was supposed to.

When Nicole woke up, she found herself in a strange room.

She looked left and right and realized that no one was there and she herself was safe and sound. So, she stood up.

She recalled what happened before she lapsed into unconsciousness.

Nicole frowned slightly as a trace of doubt flashed through her mind.

Didn't Chuck work for Mr. Bates?

Could it be that everything was a conspiracy?

Or did Chuck bring her to see Mr. Bates?

But if so, was that necessary for him to be so secretive? And what couldn't be said explicitly? Why did he have to knock her out?

A series of questions flashed through Nicole's mind.

She stood up, moved around for a while and discovered that apart from the things she had brought from Gabrielle's house, everything else was there.

Nicole could not understand why Chuck did so. She opened the door and walked out.

This was an independent villa near the sea. There were few inhabitants round the place.

When Nicole walked out of the room, she discovered that there were bodyguards outside. There were quite a few of them. So, it would be difficult for her to defeat them alone.

Her brows furrowed even tightly.

Right now, Chuck walked in.

"Oh, Mrs. Green."

"Chuck, what do you mean?"

Nicole looked irritated.

Ever since she got sick, she seemed to have always been controlled by others. Vincent and Chuck could easily take her down.

She hated her weak body, and she hated the feeling of being controlled. The feeling of being held in others' hand made her feel insecure.

If she couldn't even protect herself, could she protect the children and Laurel?

Chuck seemed to know that Nicole would be angry and said with a smile, "Nicole, I bear you no ill will. Don't be nervous."

"Is that so? Did you bring me here with good will? What are you doing? Tell me quickly. We can talk about it, or just let me go if we can't. Why bother like that?"

"I'm afraid not. Nicole, you have to stay here for the time being. You can't go anywhere. Don't worry, I will take good care of you. I will also try my best to satisfy all your requirements. However, you can't leave this place."

What Chuck said irritated Nicole.

"Is this what you mean or what Mr. Bates means?"

"Nicole, don't ask further. You will understand later. I know that you are not well and I have already brought you the medicine. Don't worry, I won't harm you."
