Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 551 How Could They Be So Similar

"No, Miss Finger, you should know that there are a few more people here. This pass card is very rare."

Fiona's words made Nicole laugh.

"Yes, a few more people did come, but they probably won't buy one from you. They do have a lot of money, but it won't cost much to buy a pass on a formal occasion, will it?"

Fiona was embarrassed about Nicole's words.

"Miss Finger, you must know that to buy one here is definitely easier than to buy one outside."

"But it costs more here."

"We can discuss about it."

Nicole looked at Fiona as if she was considering it.

"Miss Finger, what about this? I'll give you a price ten percent more than that in the Dungeon. You should at least let me earn some money, right?" Fiona smiled.

Nicole understood that Fiona's pass didn't sell well. But why?

Nicole was doubtful. "I'm a little puzzled. Is this pass real? Why do you insist on selling it to me?"

There seemed to be something in Fiona's mind that she found it hard to disclose.

"What? Manager Fiona doesn't want to say? Fine. I can buy a pass card in the Dungeon anyway."

As she spoke, Nicole was about to turn around and leave.

"Miss Finger!"

Fiona hurriedly stopped her.

"Manager Fiona, what are you doing?"

"To tell the truth, Miss Finger, those who came today are all familiar with this place. They are familiar with everything here, so they naturally won't buy a pass from me. On the contrary, if they go to the Dungeon, they can get some discounts. I thought this is your first time here. The examination in the Dungeon will be very strict. At that time, you might not be able to pass the examination and you might not be able to get in. Although you spend more money buying one pass from me, you can enter freely. I'm helping you save you a lot of time. So, Miss Finger, it would definitely be a wise choice for you to buy it from me."

"Your pass shouldn't be fake, right? What if I won't be able to get in and I'll be driven out? I have spent money, and I can't get in. Then why should I buy it from you?"

Nicole looked extremely conflicted.

Fiona said, "No, no. I can bring Miss Finger there. With my guidance and the pass, Miss Finger will definitely be fine."

"Well, let me think about it."

Nicole once again showed a very conflicted expression.

"Well, five percent. I'll take half a percent more than the Dungeon, okay?"

Nicole saw hope from Fiona's eagerness.

She pretended to be helpless and said, "Alright, I'll buy it from Manager Fiona for the sake of finding the seal for me. There's no need for five percent. There aren't poor people here. I'll still give you ten percent more, but you have to make sure that I can get into the Dungeon."

"No problem, absolutely no problem!"

Fiona nodded over ecstasy.

"Thief? Where is the thief?"

The people beside him immediately became nervous.

Nicole quickly checked her pocket and found her phone was still there, but the seal she had just retrieved was gone.

Shit!

The seal was very important. Although it was an English name, it was enough to represent one's status.

Nicole was very anxious, but everyone was panicked, making it impossible for her to move forward.

When the waiter saw this, he reported it to the security.

The surrounding bodyguards quickly rushed over.

Nicole could not move. She could only stand there although she was very anxious.

It was only when the security captain brought his men over that order was kept.

"What's going on?"

"Captain, this lady lost something. She said that a thief passed by just now."

The waiter said to the captain.

The captain glanced at Nicole and asked, "What did you lose?"

"A rosewood seal."

The captain frowned slightly when hearing this.

"A seal?"

"Yes!"

"Why are you taking a seal with when you go out?"

"Who says I can't take a seal with me when I go out?"

The atmosphere between Nicole and the captain instantly became tense.

The surrounding people were watching this when suddenly someone said this.

"Things can be stolen in the Dungeon. Shouldn't we bring a safe with us next time? There hasn't been such a thing before."

"That's right. Although the seal isn't worth much, it's still a personal item. Who knows what the thief might do with it?"

The captain knitted his brows even harder when he heard what the people around him said.

"Alright, alright. I will handle this. Lady, please leave your information and I'll contact you later if we find the seal."

Nicole told her contact information. This was her phone number in the name of someone else, so she definitely couldn't find her.

This episode passed quickly.

People were dispersed, and Nicole was led to the NO. 3 Private Room by the waiter.

"Ma'am, here's your key. There's everything there. If there's anything need to be auctioned, just press the button."

"I see."

Nicole took the key and walked in.

She noticed that there was someone in the room as soon as she entered.

"Who?"

Nicole subconsciously wanted to make a move, but someone covered her mouth from behind.

"Hush! Don't talk! I'll be right here in a moment."

Chapter 553 Stunning Beauty

Just as Nicole was about to say something to Adela, Adela suddenly grabbed her hand and said, "It's him!"

A person was brought out in the auction hall and looked very handsome. If Adela hadn't said it in advance, Nicole would have thought that it was a woman, who was so beautiful that could cause the downfall of cities and countries.

"Is he a man?"

Adela hurriedly nodded.

"Yes. His name is Laurence."

Adela's hadn't taken her eyes off from him since Laurence came out.

The host on the stage began to introduce.

"Everyone, be careful. This beauty is rare in the world. Her blood is blue, the same color as his hair. It is said that his blood can be used as medicine. And look at him. His appearance is also rare in the world."

Laurence was pushed onto the stage. His entire body was powerless. His eyes were staring at the host fiercely, but even so, his gaze was still charming.

"I bid five million."

Someone's started to bid.

"I'll pay 5.5 million!"

The people below started to force up their prices.

Nicole looked at Laurence below. This was the first time she knew that there was such a person in the world. Not to mention whether he was beautiful or not, she had even never heard of the blue blood.

"Is his blood really blue?"

Nicole looked at Adela.

Tears dropped from Adela's eyes as she bit her lower lip. "Yes." He actually had a very bitter life. He was taken to the lab before he was born. His mother died in the experiment, and he survived by laparotomy, but his blood was blue. My dad said it was a genetic change or something, and I don't understand. They all said that Laurence's blood could be used as medicine. Ever since he was a kid, he had grown up in the strange eyes of others. I wanted him to leave. Who knew that he could be captured by these people?"

Nicole looked at Laurence.

His complexion was terrifyingly white, like snow.

If he was a normal person, his skin would definitely not be in such a color.

The host rolled up Laurence's sleeves. On his fair skin, blue blood vessels could be clearly seen.

The bid was even higher.

"Please, Marina, as long as you can help me buy him, you can ask me to do anything for you."

Adela cried so hard.

Nicole whispered, "His bid has been rising. You know this price is not something we can predict."

"Please, okay? I beg you."

Adela grabbed Nicole's hand, and her desiring gaze made Nicole feel a little sad.

Perhaps Adela was afraid that Nicole wouldn't bid, she gritted her teeth and said, "Laurence has another ability, which is he has very acute sense of smell. As long as he smells the scent of your husband, he will definitely be able to help you find him."

"Alright, I will definitely do what I promised you."

Adela earnestly promised.

"No! It's too dangerous. Adela can't stay here."

Laurence disagreed in any case.

Nicole sneered, "Adela can't be here anymore? Adela and I had a deal and this is required to bid for you. It's fine if you can't pay me back. Anyway, I don't lack money. But do you want to go back on your word now? Do you really think I'm a pushover?"

"No, Miss Finger, don't be angry. Laurence is worried about me. But it doesn't matter. I can do it, really!"

Adela quickly pulled Laurence and whispered, "I look very similar to her so I accepted Nicole's condition to save you. Laurence, let me do something for you."

"But..."

"Listen to me, they don't dare to do anything to me. My father will save me. You can go with them and don't worry about me. I have Nicole's pass card and I can leave by myself."

Although Adela was weak, she sounded firm.

Nicole said nothing, nor did she want to know who Adela's father was. Now, Nicole only wanted to find Samuel as soon as possible.

Laurence looked at Adela and said after a long time, "You must be careful."

"Yes, I will!"

Adela smiled brightly.

Nicole knew that it was a lover's smile.

"Alright, I'm leaving. You guys can do whatever you want."

Nicole gave her mask and pass card to Adela.

The moment Nicole took off her mask, Laurence saw her face and was stunned. Even if Laurence was prepared, he didn't expect Nicole and Adela were so similar.

However, Nicole didn't care and directly said, "After the auction ends, you bring Laurence and leave. They won't suspect you."

"I'm not leaving!"

Nicole went blank for a short while.

"What?"

"You bought me, and I am yours. If you want to save Samuel, I will go with you. Although I am not as miraculous as Adela said, I do have the ability to find him. You can bring me along without losing anything."

Laurence looked at Adela and whispered, "Be careful yourself. Leave here when it's over."

"Okay, be careful."

Adela didn't argue on it.

Nicole didn't quite believe Laurence, but she couldn't care too much now. It was good to have an extra pair of hands.

"Hurry up, I'll deal with your condition now."

Nicole gave the antidote to Adela.

"How did you know I could give an injection?"

Adela was puzzled.

"What should we do?"

Nicole was a little anxious.

Laurence looked around. It was a warehouse-like room. There was nothing but some old clothes. Normally, there wouldn't be any mechanism.

Laurence sniffed and whispered, "There should be another exit to this room."

"What?"

Nicole looked at Laurence in confusion.

"I can smell something different." Laurence said.

"Smell? Do you really have the nose of a bloodhound?"

Laurence could hear Nicole didn't mock him. Although what Nicole said was unpleasant to the ear, Laurence still said, "It's a lumber-room. There's a smell of dust, but there's also another smell, like soda."

"Soda?"

Nicole couldn't follow Laurence's train of thought.

'How come there's soda here?'

Laurence ignored Nicole's doubts and quickly searched.

After a few minutes, Laurence stood in front of a wall and frowned slightly.

"What's the matter?"

"This should be the exit, but I can't find the switch."

Hearing Laurence's words, Nicole walked over doubtfully.

Nicole looked up and down and found nothing wrong.

"I think I need to consult someone."

"Who?"

Laurence didn't know that Nicole still had a helper.

Nicole whispered, "My son, who called me just now."

"How old is your son?"

"He's four years old!"

With that, Nicole did not look at Laurence's surprised expression. She directly turned on her phone and called Lucas.

"Lucas, do you think this is the exit? How do I get out of this wall?"

Lucas watched the video and whispered, "Mommy, turn on your phone cable. I need to operate on the computer."

"Alright."

Nicole did exactly as Lucas said.

Laurence stood by and was a little surprised when he saw this. Laurence couldn't even believe that there would be such a talented child in the world. However, when Laurence thought about what he encountered, he became indifferent.

Chapter 556 Your Life Is Mine

However, when Lucas heard that, he heaved a sigh of relief.

Yeah, the one he admired the most in the world was Samuel. Samuel would definitely bring Mommy back safely.

Thinking of that, Lucas felt somewhat at ease. "Mommy, walk along the road in front of you for 200 meters and then turn right. There is a special room. It requires fingerprint verification, but I've already hacked into it. You can open it and get it. You only have a few minutes. Bring them out quickly. I will try to use other systems to stop the people outside for a while. Mommy, you gotta hurry up and leave this place with Samuel," whispered Lucas.

"Alright!"

Nicole dared not waste any time. She knew that Lucas had reached his limit of ability.

He was not Samuel. Although he was a genius, he was just a kid.

Laurence didn't say anything. He followed Nicole to walk 200 meters and turn right as Lucas had said. As expected, he saw a special room.

Opening its door needed a password and fingerprint verification. If it was anyone else, he wouldn't be able to open it, but for them, it was easy for now.

Nicole quickly opened the door and Laurence brought Finn inside.

When Nicole found out that the person lying on the bed was Tim, her eyes instantly became moist.

Was he the same old Tim? The one she had known before?

He was now lying there covered in blood, completely unconscious. He used to be clean and tidy but now he had become a bloody man.

"Tim!"

Nicole quickly ran over and held Tim's hand tightly.

Tim opened his eyes with difficulty. A smile appeared on his face the moment he saw Nicole.

"Thank god. I can actually see you in my fantasy. Well, I have no regrets now for I can see you before I die. Pitifully, my mother will have no one to take care of her."

Tim coughed out another mouthful of blood as he spoke.

"Tim, I am ... I am Nicole. This is not your fantasy, no. Sorry, I'm late. How are you? I'll take you out! I'll take you out now!"

Nicole hurriedly went to support Tim with hand.

She used all of her strength to help him up, but as he could not stand, they both fell to the ground.

"Your legs...."

Nicole looked at Tim's legs in astonishment.

The extreme pain made Tim more conscious.

He grunted in pain. And when he felt the warm hug from Nicole, he opened his eyes wide. He realized that the person in front of him was really Nicole.

"Wait!"

"Wait for what? If we wait for any longer, we can't get out."

Nicole glared at Tim and said, "Didn't I tell you that you can't speak without my orders?"

"If I told you that Samuel was also here, would you not listen to me but shut me up?"

Tim looked at Nicole, saying with tongue in cheek.

He truly hoped that Nicole would leave Samuel behind, but he knew that without Samuel, Nicole would no longer be Nicole and she would just be a living corpse. Perhaps things would be even worse than that.

He wished to see Nicole happily living in this world, even though the man who brought her happiness was not him.

This kind of feeling was painful, but it was also comforting. Pain and happiness coexisted, and he could not tell what it felt like.

Nicole was slightly shocked, and she froze.

She had thought that Samuel was also here, but could she go see him now? She didn't know what it would be like to see him.

Right now, it was already difficult for them to go out. If Samuel was injured seriously like Tim, what should she do?

If there were only her here, she wouldn't care even if she died with Samuel. But now she couldn't let Tim and Finn die with her.

They shouldn't die.

Nicole tightly closed her eyes, feeling a crushing sense of heartbreak. She said in a low voice, "Let's go."

Tim thought that he had heard wrongly. He turned his face to look at Nicole. Only then did he see the painful expression on her face.

He understood instantly.

"You really care so much about Finn's and my life? Aren't you afraid that you won't have a chance to see Samuel again after going out?"

Nicole, of course, had thought about what Tim asked.

She took a deep breath and responded, "Let's go."

"Nicole, I don't need you to do like this!"

Tim wanted to push Nicole away, but failed.

"Stop wasting your breath. Hurry up and go now. Lucas won't last long."

Nicole was heartbroken, but she still made such a choice.

"Nicole! Stop!"

Tim felt that Nicole's sympathy for him was unbearable.

"You think I am a cripple and can only be a burden to you, don't you? So you can't wait to take me out, right? You love Samuel so much. Now he is so close, but you don't even go to see him. Are you afraid that you won't be able to take me out after you see him? Let me tell you, I, Tim, do not need your pity! Leave me behind and take him away! So long as you live happily, I am content."

There was a flicker of great affection in Tim's eyes.

Who'd have thought, he, who used to be a playboy, would be so affectionate?

Nicole looked at him and said word by word, "The happiness of Samuel and I must be created by ourselves. It can't be based on the sacrifice of anyone else. If it is, we would rather have nothing."

"You just don't want to owe me a favor, do you? Nicole, don't think that way. Can't you take me as one of your own? Why can you leave Samuel behind? He is as strong as I am. Don't you want to know how Samuel is now?"

"Shut up."

"Won't you regret it? If something happens to him after you leave, won't you regret it for the rest of your life? For you women, others are secondary to your lovers, aren't they?"

Laurence looked at Nicole in confusion. He could feel her sadness and reluctance, and also he admired her for her choice. If it was Adela, she would probably risk anything to take him away.

Thinking of Adela, Laurence looked a little gloomy.

Nicole did not turn back, nor did she dare to turn back. She could feel that Samuel's eyes had been following her. Once she turned back, she would no longer have the courage to leave.

"Not every woman is what you think."

Nicole got the entrance where there were already some people waiting.

"There you are, Mrs. Green."

Josh stood at the entrance, followed by a few strong bodyguards.

Nicole looked at him and it occurred to her what she had heard at the Emperor Hotel. She asked, "Who did this to Tim?"

"I did!"

Josh answered honestly, but what he said made Nicole involuntarily clench her fists.

"I remember that thanks to Tim, your family's business survived. You are Tim's friend and because of that, everyone in the Seapolis City is courteous to you. Why did you treat him so cruelly?"

Nicole really did not understand why trust between people was fragile. Tim treated him as a friend, but he ruthlessly gave Tim a good beating.

"Mrs. Green, not everyone is as lucky as you." Josh's expression changed slightly.

"What?"

"I said you are lucky. Samuel protects you, and Tim helps you. Even the Dons are your family. You also have a good friend who will risk everything for you. It has to be said, you're preferred by God. You know, as the saying goes, full is a loss. If you didn't have so much, perhaps you would be happily watching the tide rise and fall by a seaside, living a calm and carefree life."

Nicole frowned at Josh's words.

"What do you want to say?"

"What I want to say is that you are implicated by Samuel. All of this is none of your business. If you were not Samuel's wife, you would be good as well as Tim."

Nicole suddenly became angry.

"Are you saying that Tim is implicated by me?"

"Yes."

As soon as Josh finished speaking, Nicole gave him a slap.

"This is the reason why you attacked him? You and he are friends growing up. He thinks of everything for you. He could even give you his own woman. But you treat him like this. And now you're telling me it's my fault. Josh, I admit that Tim is implicated by me, but this is not the reason why you can hurt him at will. Today, I will do to you what you did to him."

After saying that, Nicole put down Tim.

Laurence asked in a low voice, "Can you manage it by yourself? There are several people behind him."

"Help if you can. Shut up if you can't. Just take good care of them."

Nicole took off her coat.

"No But. Hurry up and leave!"

Josh directly pushed Nicole and them in.

The bodyguards behind Josh wanted to stop them, but he turned around and stopped the bodyguards.

"Go!"

Tim took a last look at Josh and said to Nicole, "Let's go!"

Nicole knew that she could not hesitate at the point. Even if something had happened to Samuel, she couldn't stay here for the sake of Tim and Laurence.

She took a last look in the direction behind her, then swiftly picked up Tim and ran forward with Laurence.

Lucas rang.

"Mommy, I've already set a few hidden bugs by using computer loopholes. There will be a burst of pipes behind you. You take this opportunity to run."

"I see. Can you help me have a look at the auction?"

Nicole asked as she ran.

Lucas quickly changed the page and replied, "It's almost the end. Your private room is already empty. She's probably left."

Hearing Lucas' words, Laurence heaved a sigh of relief.

"Perhaps in order to avoid attention, Adela left early."

"Is it allowed to leave early at auction?"

Somehow, Nicole felt uneasy.

"Yes, as long as you give them enough money. I suppose she has some money in hand. Though it's not a lot, it's enough to bribe the gatekeepers."

Laurence knew Adela's habits.

Hearing Laurence's words, Nicole felt relieved.

"Let's hurry up and leave."

As they walked along the road, Nicole didn't pay any attention the sound of water pipes bursting and the noises of people behind them.

Her attention had always been focused on Samuel.

After they ran out, they found that they were by the riverside where Karina had been saved earlier.

"So this Dungeon is at the bottom of the river."

Laurence frowned slightly.

Nicole looked around and said, "There's a car near here. I drove it here. Tim's legs are not good, but he can drive. Take them back and help me ask Gabrielle to take care of my children. As for my mother-in-law, I will ask my uncle to look after her."

Chapter 560 You Did Shock Her

"Who are you? What are you doing here?"

When Nicole entered the hospital, a nurse came to block her way.

"I'm here to see Satan King."

Nicole looked at the nurse in front of her. She remembered that there was such a nurse when she left not long ago. So the nurse had returned now?

The originally deserted hospital was now almost overcrowded. Most of the people here were patients and some were security guards.

If it wasn't for Nicole's excellent memory, she would have thought that she had gone to a wrong place.

When the nurse heard Nicole say Satan King, she frowned.

"Watch your mouth. You don't get to call her Satan King. Call Miss Morgan."

Only then did Nicole know that Satan King's surname was Clarkson.

"Miss Morgan? Alright, I'm here to see Miss Morgan."

"Do you have an appointment? If you don't have, you can't see Miss Morgan. She is very busy."

After the nurse finished speaking, she asked the security guards to drive Nicole away.

Nicole sighed and said, "I have a three-day appointment with her. My friend Karina is still here."

"Karina?"

The nurse frowned again. She looked up and down at Nicole and said coldly, "Wait."

After saying that, she directly walked in.

There was a commotion outside. Nicole was somewhat anxious because it was probably caused by the people from Dungeon who chased after her.

Just as Nicole felt that she was about to be discovered by those people, the nurse walked out.

"Come in."

Only then did Nicole let out a sigh of relief.

Laurence looked around and whispered, "So strangely. They've already here. Why don't they dare to move forward?"

Nicole was slightly surprised. She subconsciously looked around and realized that there were people from Dungeon everywhere around the corner.

She sneered, "They don't dare. Come on, let's go in."

After saying that, Nicole took the lead to walk in.

Laurence did not know the reason, but he still followed Nicole in. Just as they entered, a figure quickly climbed over the wall and entered, too.

The nurse brought Nicole to Satan King's office.

Satan King was absorbed in working on something, so she did not notice the arrival of Nicole and the others at all. Karina stood by and when she saw Nicole return, there was a trace of surprise in her eyes.

"I'm back."

Nicole smiled brightly at Karina, but Karina immediately turned her face away to avoid the warm smile.

She thought she was a bad girl.
