

Escape Wife 601

Chapter 601 I'm Sorry

"What happened?"

Nicole and Laurel immediately ran up. The moment they opened the door, both of them were stunned.

Joseph broke free from Samuel's embrace and bumped into a flower stand on the side. The vase on the flower stand fell to the ground and broke into two. Meanwhile, Joseph curled up in the corner of the wall with his arms around his knees and his head buried in his knees, feeling extremely insecure like a hurt animal.

A lump suddenly came into Nicole's throat.

"Joseph."

Laurel was also heartbroken when she saw this.

"Joseph, come here. Come to me. I love you most."

However, Joseph still did not respond to anyone no matter what they said.

He sat there like a statue, quiet and expressionless. It was really a heartbreaking scene.

Samuel walked over and squatted down in front of Joseph directly, ignoring the glass fragments of the vase.

"I know how you feel now. You can just cry. You are still a child and don't need to withhold. It's cold on the ground. Let's stand up, okay?"

Samuel's voice was soft and gentle, but Joseph didn't seem to hear it.

Nicole couldn't help but take a step forward and came to Joseph.

"Joseph, let me take you back to rest. It's really cold on the ground. Or do you want Lucas to come back to accompany you?"

Hearing this, Laurel was dumbfounded.

"Right, where's Lucas? Where did Lucas go?"

Their people said, "Young Master went to City A. We haven't heard from him yet."

"What?"

Nicole suddenly became flustered.

They were in such a mess in City A, but Lucas still didn't show up. Did he have any trouble?

"When did he leave? Send people to find him now!"

"Yes!"

After their people left, Nicole looked at Joseph in front of her and felt sorry again.

"Joseph, come to me, will you?"

Joseph resisted.

He was resisting everyone, muttering something.

Only when Nicole got closer did she hear it clearly.

"Is there any news from Lucas? What's going on?"

Nicole hurriedly raised her head.

"Yes, madam. We've got news from Lucas."

The news also made Samuel nervous.

"What happened? Where's Lucas?"

"Mr. Green, Lucas' helicopter ran out of fuel, so he was forced to land. He is waiting for us to deliver the fuel. Lucas is fine. Everything is fine."

Samuel and Nicole breathed a sigh of relief when they heard this.

"It is lucky that the oil ran out. Otherwise, if he had gone over, I do not know what kind of trouble he would make."

Samuel sighed and thought of Joseph.

Nicole was also somewhat depressed.

"Go to bring Zoe back. Let Lucas return by himself."

As soon as Samuel finished speaking, his men went to execute it.

"Nicole, I have to go to the company. Recently, there have been a lot of things. I have to solve the mess left behind by Bruce."

"Alright, but what did you do with the remains of Bruce?"

Nicole knew that Samuel had a lot of objections to Bruce. Especially what happened also hurt Joseph. But Nicole still asked.

Chapter 603 Because You're Not Worthy

"What did you say?"

"What did I say? I said you're good-for-nothing! You don't know anything. You didn't help the Green family at all and brought a lot of trouble. Samuel is so perfect, but he can give up everything for you. Why? Because of your plastic face? Nicole, do you think the reason why I gave Night Elf Empire to you was that I think you have abilities to be a big help to Samuel? I wanted you to see yourself clearly. You're not qualified to be Samuel's wife! But you overestimated yourself and were ridiculously stupid."

Laurel said coldly, "If it weren't for the fact that you risked your life to get the antidote for me and saved me, I would not give you Night Elf Empire. But what if I gave it to you? The mud helps not on the wall. You're a good-for-nothing person anyway!"

Nicole felt that her body was cold.

Nicole thought that Laurel was really good to her. But hearing these words, she felt pain, as if a sharp dagger stabbed deeply into her chest.

"You never told me."

"Don't you know yourself? If it weren't for the fact that the two children love you so much, do you think I would agree you to enter the Green Family? Would I agree you to be Mrs. Green? Look at yourself. Which part of your body is worthy of the name, Mrs. Green? In the five years, Allen helped you to be a designer, a little famous. You're back to get revenge, aren't you? I know. However, Samuel's life has been worse than death. I feel sorry for him. I thought your fate with Samuel was broken after you changed your face. I didn't expect you to come back. Not only did you come back, you also wanted to take a kidney from Samuel. You are an abominable and ungrateful woman!"

Hearing Laurel's words, Nicole felt as if she had fallen into an ice cellar.

"If it weren't for you, how could Zoe be like that? She can't wait. If it weren't for Zoe, I wouldn't return, and I wouldn't take away Samuel's kidney."

"She is a girl. What matters if she dies? Lucas is well. In the end, the Green family will be handed over to the boys. Even without your children, we have Joseph. Joseph is the son of Vincent. As long as you don't appear, Joseph will naturally become the successor of the Green family and inherit everything from the Green family! You broke all this! It's you!"

The more Laurel spoke, the more excited and angrier she became. However, the more Nicole listened to her, the more scared Nicole was.

"How can you say that? Zoe is a person and a child of the Green family. What if she is a girl? The Green family is rich and powerful. Can't you accept a child?"

"We can accept a child, but it depends. The Green family is completely supported by Samuel. Without him, there is no the Green family. You wanted to ask Samuel to give your daughter a kidney. Are you going to plunge the Green family into an abyss of eternal calamity? Joseph is still young. Vincent is dead. If something happens to Samuel, who will support the Green Family? Since the day you appeared, you haven't brought a good day to the Green family. You always brought trouble. For you, Allen chose to be an enemy of Samuel and the Green family. For you, Samuel gave the market of the United States to the Brook family. Which part of your body is worth so? Do you worth the Green family's effort? Because of the two children you gave birth to? If it weren't for you, there would be many capable women who were willing to have a child for Samuel."

Nicole was so angry that her chest hurt.

She felt that she couldn't listen to Laurel any longer. If she continued, she might want to kill Laurel.

Looking at Joseph who was asleep, Nicole took a deep breath and said to the people outside, "Bring Laurel back to her room! Without my permission, she is not allowed to enter Joseph's room."

Chapter 604 You Better Not Have Done That

Nicole was so furious that her blood throbbed in her temples.

She turned to look at Mrs. Green and said coldly, "You better not have done that."

"It was me!"

Nicole got angry about Mrs. Green's frankness.

"I really want to beat you up!"

Nicole said honestly.

However, Mrs. Green smirked.

"Do you dare? Although Samuel isn't my biological son, he won't allow you to hurt me since I have been taking good care of him. Even if he was angry about me asking Bruce to kidnap you, he didn't revenge on me. Instead, he vented his anger on my assistant. Do you think Samuel won't be irritated if you hit me? Because of the Don family, Vincent died. Isn't he unhappy with that?"

Nicole involuntarily wrung her hands.

She didn't want to talk with Mrs. Green anymore, but she wanted to know why.

"Why did you do that to Samuel? Do you know how desperate he is? As you know, he is strong. However, he fainted from the unbearable pain being betrayed by you. Do you indeed love him?"

Mrs. Green replied coldly, "He asked for that. If he did as the hypnotist said, he would think from the bottom of his heart that you had cheated on him and he wouldn't love you as much as he does now. It's you who make me do that. You destroyed him!"

"Is it me or is it you? He is an individual as same as you and is not a tool of you or anyone else. Do you really love him? Or do you only use him to earn money for the Green family and remain the family glorious? As you don't like me, you want him to hate me. You knew Mark had killed Vincent, but you kept it as a secret and continued to treat me well, fooling me into believing that you protect me because of love. But you've been waiting for the day when Samuel discovered the truth and grew apart with me, right? Unfortunately, you did not succeed. You then became angry as all your conspiracies and sufferings these years proved to be a joke. How ironic! You could hardly stand anymore. In spite of your disguise, you vented your anger on me. However, what can you do? Even if I'm useless, Samuel sees me as his wife, who he is desperate to protect. Do you dare to tell him what you said to me?"

Mrs. Green changed her expression significantly as she heard Nicole.

"Shut up!"

"You won't! Since you rely heavily on Samuel, you're afraid that he will leave you. Without him, you are unable to earn a living. Even though you have resentment towards him, you dread to argue with him. You even want to hide what you have done from him. You can do nothing but come to me. And you even don't dare to offend me openly. How pitiful you are! I at least am Samuel's beloved woman, what about you? You have been plotting cautiously, as you are worried that Samuel will stop supporting you because he is not your biological son. Since I've seen through your minds, do you think I'll fall for it?"

Nicole finally let off her anger.

Without saying anything else, Nicole turned around and walked out of the door. She said to the bodyguards outside, "Send Mrs. Green back to her room. Listen, she is not allowed to get close to Joseph without my permission."

"How dare you!"

"Zoe, what's wrong with you?"

Nicole hurriedly stood up and walked to Zoe.

With dirty clothes and face and messy hair, Zoe looked like she had had a fight.

"What's going on?"

Nicole soon turned to ask the person who went to pick up Zoe.

The man replied, "Miss Zoe happened to be in a fight when I arrived."

"Fighting? Why?"

Zoe had been quiet in Nicole's mind. She had never quarreled with others, apart from because of food. Why did she have a fight?

"It's true, Mrs. Green. Miss Zoe fought with a child, who is a commander's son."

"What?"

Nicole's heartbeat quickened.

"Zoe, what's going on?"

Zoe said in a somewhat aggrieved voice, "Nothing. He is annoying and intentionally bullies me."

"Really? Why?"

Nicole felt it sounded strange.

Zoe pursed her lips and said, "How do I know? He is stupid, and I don't know what's in his mind."

As Zoe refused to explain in detail, Nicole shook her head and took Zoe to wash up. Not long after, Zoe became as clean as before.

After washing up, Zoe looked around and asked, "Mommy, where is Joseph? I haven't seen him for a long time."

"How about I take you to see him?"

"Alright."

Zoe was excited.

Whereas Nicole felt more miserable.

She hoped that Zoe could help Joseph cheer up again.

Nicole entered Joseph's room with Zoe.

As same as before, Joseph curled up on a side of the bed. With his back facing the door, others couldn't see his expression clearly and failed to know how he was.

What Nicole saw wrung her heart once again.

Zoe pulled her hand back and directly ran into the room. After jumping on the bed, she threw back the covers, held Joseph's hand and said, "Joseph, get up! The sun is shining outside! Come on and let's have fun!"

Nicole was afraid that Joseph would be angry and shake off Zoe's hand. Fortunately, Joseph did not.

He looked at Zoe with a somewhat dull expression, neither spoke nor smiled. In fact, Nicole wasn't sure whether he stared at Zoe or not, as his eyes were glassy.

Zoe was dissatisfied with Joseph's response, so she reached out her small hand and shook it in front of Joseph.

"Joseph, wake up. How can you sleep with your eyes open?"

"What else do you want besides water?"
Laurel was surprised at what Nicole said, countering, "I don't know. It must come to me. As a Green, you're on call. Anyway, you don't work or earn money. Do you think you can just take anything for granted?"
She sounded snarkier as she spoke.

Nicole was bigger than that and said to the servant beside her, "Serve her a glass of water."

At that, she left without saying another thing to Laurel.

She could tell she was not welcome here. Laurel would keep jerking her around and even use her to humiliate the Dons.

She had no interest in defending the Dons or standing there waiting to be humiliated by Laurel.

Laurel was enraged by Nicole's arrogance and picked up the cup beside Mrs. Don, throwing it at Nicole's back.

"How rude of you! I asked you to serve me water, but you had the audacity to let a servant do it. What's the point of having you in my house?"

Nicole had just filled the cup with hot tea for Mrs. Don.

Nicole had never imagined Laurel would be so mad, so she didn't see that move coming, and the teacup as well as the hot tea hit her back.

"Nicole!"

Mrs. Don cried out in alarm.

Nicole felt a burning pain in her back.

"Laurel, what have you done? How can you blame Nicole for what Mark did? Does Samuel know you are out of your mind?"

Jason had trouble moving around, but his expression also changed.

Mrs. Don staggered to Nicole and asked with concern, "How is it? Does it hurt? Let's go. Grandma will take you to the doctor."

As she spoke, she held Nicole's hand.

Nicole could feel the bones of her hand.

She remembered Mrs. Don's hands used to be full. It seemed she had suffered a lot from that incident.

Nicole was in a daze for a moment, then pulled out her hand, and said, "I'm fine. Thank you, Mrs. Don."

Tears welled up in Mrs. Don's eyes when she heard what Nicole called her.

She had no one to blame but herself for how things were between her and Nicole.

Nicole's back was killing her. She was too angry to pay attention to Mrs. Don but turned to look at Laurel, asking word by word, "Do you find this entertaining?"

"Yes! It's been fun. What? Are you going to hit me?"

The people around Petty immediately covered her mouth and dragged her away.

Laurel sneered, "I can't? I will tell you I can with my actions! Do you think I am stupid enough to let you inform Samuel? You and Nicole are not in charge here. I'm not dead yet."

Petty blustered, but no one could hear her when her mouth was covered. Besides, Nicole was still sleeping.

Nicole was tucked out.

The injuries on her arm and back exhausted her. She had a lot on her plate, but she really wanted to take a nap.

Petty offered her some sense of security, because she could fight. However, Laurel caught Petty off guard and had her under control.

Laurel said to her men, "Take out those who have sided with Nicole and betrayed me. They must never set foot in Seapolis City again."

"Yes!"

Laurel had fought in the business world by herself for so many years and managed to take the Greens where they were today. She definitely had some tricks up her sleeve.

Everything changed while Nicole was sleeping.

"Mommy! I'm back! Samuel! I'm home!"

Lucas' voice came from outside.

His voice was so crisp and perky, from which one could tell he was eager to see his parents.

Laurel frowned slightly and said to her men, "Go and bring Lucas to my room. Don't make any noise. Just say his mother is injured and resting. Tell him to keep it down."

"Yes!"

Her men immediately got to it.

Just as Lucas entered the living room, he was stopped by Laurel's men.

"Lucas."

"Move aside. I want to see my mommy!"

Lucas just wanted to know if Nicole was okay.

One man said respectfully, "Lucas, Old Mrs. Green is asking for you. Mrs. Green got injured in the Dungeon and is resting. Please lower your voice."

"She was hurt? You said my mommy was hurt? Who hurt her? Where's Samuel? Why did he let my mommy get harmed again? No, I have to take a look."

As he spoke, Lucas was about to go upstairs.

"Lucas, I really can't let you do it. Old Mrs. Green told me no one was allowed to disturb Mrs. Green. Look, Old Mrs. Green wants to see you. She is your grandmother. Shouldn't you say hello to her first?"

"No!"

Nicole suddenly woke up and was drenched in water. She was wet all over and felt freezing.

When she opened her eyes, she understood what had happened. The wounds on her back and arm hurt like hell with the cold water.

Nicole looked sullen.

"Why did you do this?"

"Why? I just wanted to wake you up. The sun is so bright. Who gave you the right to sleep in the day? Do you really think you are here to enjoy yourself?"

Laurel said coldly. Her malicious look would make one nauseated.

It occurred to Nicole that Petty was gone.

Laurel picked up her slightly startled look.

Laurel smiled proudly, "Who are you looking for? Petty? Think about it. She grew up in this house, and Samuel nurtured her with my consent. Now that she is against me, how do you think I will treat her?"

Nicole's heart skipped a beat.

"What did you do to her?"

She slept well because of Petty. But to her surprise, Laurel wouldn't even let Petty off.

It looked like Laurel intended to alienate her.

Everyone who had worked for her was replaced. Nicole knew she had been put in a disadvantageous position while sleeping.

Laurel was quick!

Nicole forced herself to calm down.

She wasn't in the mood to deal with Laurel because of the pain. She got out of bed to find clothes to change, but Laurel stopped her.

"Stop. Did I say you could change your clothes?"

"Are you crazy? Do you think we are still in the feudal society?"

Nicole truly believed there was something wrong with Laurel's head.

Laurel only had Samuel now. Wasn't she afraid Samuel would leave her when he found out what she had put Nicole through?

Laurel flushed slightly.

"You cursed me?"

"If calling you crazy counts, then I guess I did."

Nicole did not like Mrs. Don and even hated her for what she had done. However, Nicole did not need her to die for her sake. She did not need it!

At that thought, Nicole tried to run out.

"Stop her!"

With Laurel's command, her men quickly blocked Nicole's path.

"Mrs. Green, don't make things difficult for us. Please go back."

"Move aside!"

Nicole's eyes were red.

She had thought she didn't care about Mrs. Don, and after what she had put her through, Nicole didn't want to admit she was a Don. But she didn't want to owe Mrs. Don any favors. She didn't want to at all.

Laurel's men looked at Nicole in embarrassment and said, "Mrs. Green, we are really sorry. But please go back."

Nicole made a move without saying anything.

She could fight but was no match for these men who had been specially trained.

After a few rounds, Nicole was controlled.

"Let go of me! Let go!"

Nicole struggled, but Laurel sneered, "Do you want to stop her? Can you? Mrs. Don died for you. You think she would give up the deal with me? Strangely, didn't she use to look down on you? She wished you had nothing to do with the Dons. What's going on? Why does she care about if you are doing well with us Greens? Why even risks her life to gamble? Is this the power of kinship?"

"You will never understand! You will never know what that feels like. The heavens have cursed you with no child of your own! You will never know what it feels like to have a family! I curse you. I wish you a miserable end!"

Nicole was beyond angry.

Laurel's expression dulled.

Infertility stood a permanent pain in her heart.

If she had had her own son, she wouldn't have been so cautious to please Samuel. She was walking on eggshells around him, which felt terrible. Nicole's words pierced deeply into her chest like daggers.

"Mrs. Green, please don't!"

Hearing the familiar voice, Nicole immediately raised her head and saw Finn walk in from outside.

"You dare to stop me? Or do you now see her as your master?"

Mrs. Green's face showed she wasn't happy.

Finn hurriedly said respectfully, "No, ma'am. What I mean is if someone takes photos of her with wounds on her face, and even worse, if Mr. Green sees them, it won't do anything good to you."

Laurel frowned slightly before putting down her hand.

"You're right. I have promised Mrs. Don to let her go free, and I will do it. Take her to the basement. Without my permission, no one is allowed to visit her or to give her food. A life for a life. If Mrs. Don doesn't want to end her life to rest Vincent's soul, Nicole's life can make do as well."

Hearing Mrs. Green's commend, her men immediately followed it.

Nicole looked at Finn with a sad smile.

"You listen to her now? So, you faked it when you were hypnotized?"

"No."

Seeing Nicole like that, Finn felt terribly sorry for her. But he couldn't do anything right now.

Now that Samuel was not here, Mrs. Green was the boss.

She even controlled the men whom Samuel had left here. What could Finn do alone?

Mrs. Green liked it when Nicole was in pain.

She smiled, "It's true Finn was hypnotized. I asked someone to hypnotize him to kill you. But he didn't succeed. You brought him back, didn't you? Jacob even found some doctors to help him. But no one could dehypnotize him. Finn would be a man of no use if it wasn't for me. So of course, he listens to me. He was my man in the first place. It was me who brought him back from the battlefield and raised him."

Hearing and seeing all of this, Nicole couldn't say anything. She only forced smiles, tears streaming down her cheeks.

With nothing she could do, she felt like she was a piece of trash!

Finn's heart ached, and he said in low voice, "Mrs. Green, we'd better find her a doctor. If her wound is infected..."

"What? Are you worried about her? Tell me, do you take a fancy to her?"

Mrs. Green looked at Finn with a sharp look in her eyes.

Finn quickly lowered his head and said, "No."

"It's alright if you like her. After Mrs. Don pays her debt, I can give her to you as long as you promise Samuel would never see her. If you accept that, I can spare her live."

Nicole's face immediately changed.

"What do you think I am? A thing that you can throw to anyone as you please? Aren't you afraid? You'll be punished one day."

"Punished? I don't care about anything anymore. I'm afraid of nothing. Oh, someone installs a CCTV in the basement, so she can watch Mrs. Don die with her own eyes."
