

Escape Wife 62

Chapter 62: She Is Just Pretty

Jacob Brown walked away, and the door fell loudly.

Nicole Bush feels scared!

Is he really an assistant?

He got some great temper!

Samuel Green was shocked by Jacob Brown's movements and ran out quickly, obviously relieved when he saw that Nicole Bush was fine.

"What happened?"

He asked with concern.

Nicole Bush shrugged and said, "Your assistant is very grumpy."

"I will talk to him tomorrow."

Samuel Green finished gently and turned back to the kitchen.

When the food was served again, the color was significantly better than the first time.

Nicole Bush saw Samuel Green being scalded with oil stains on the back of his hands, those red bubbles looks scary.

She also knows that this may be the first time Samuel Green has cooked, but she act as if she didn't notice it, she bowed her head and took a sip without commenting.

Seeing that Nicole Bush did not make comment, Samuel Green sat down, picked up the chopsticks and took a bite, but suddenly his face turn pale, and cold sweat also oozed from his forehead.

"Sir, did you have a stomach problem again?"

Seeing this, Zama quickly stepped forward and poured a glass of warm water for Samuel Green. The servant behind him quickly went to get the stomach medicine and took it to Samuel Green.

Nicole Bush just looked at it silently, but she was puzzled.

When she left five years ago, Samuel Green had no stomach problems. Did he get it in the past five years?

Sure enough, he was punished by God because he was too cold blooded?

Nicole Bush bowed her head to eat, not caring about the mess, as if everything next to her had nothing to do with her.

Samuel Green's pain eased a little, only to find that Nicole Bush hadn't given him a glance from beginning to end, and even eat those food happily.

He couldn't help want to cried.

Zama saw Nicole Bush being so indifferent, she wanted to say something, but she was afraid that Samuel Green was uncomfortable. However, she really wanted to say something.

Nicole Bush put down the chopsticks and said with a smile, "I've finished, Mr. Green, take your time."

After that, she pushed the wheelchair directly to the stairs. when she was about to jump upstairs, she felt that she was lifted and she was hugged by Samuel Green.

"Tomorrow I will let the maid move the bedroom down so that you can enter the bedroom more easily."
