Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 671 People Are Driving with Their Eyes Shut

That was a really bad feeling. After arriving at the hospital, Nicole went straight to the intensive care unit. When she saw Samuel was still lying there, she felt unnerved.

"Nurse, can I go in and take a look? Just one look. I'm his wife."

When Nicole saw a nurse walking over, she promptly showed her the words she typed on her phone.

The nurse looked awkward, "I need to go ask the director."

"Please."

Nicole waited anxiously outside the ICU.

When the director came, he could see how anxious Nicole was, so he whispered to her, "The patient hasn't woken up yet. Strictly speaking, no one is allowed in. But I can give you a free pass this time. You must wear an aseptic suit and you can't stay too long. You have to come out in less than half an hour. Deal? Don't make things difficult for me."

Nicole thanked him.

The nurse brought her an aseptic suit. She put it on and walked in.

There was a smell of disinfectant in the ICU.

Nicole knew Samuel hated this smell. Now that he was lying here, Nicole felt a little uneasy.

She walked to Samuel and noticed many small wounds on his face. They must be scratches when he was falling down.

Nicole's hands trembled as she reached under Samuel's nose. His warm breath lifted a weight off her mind.

She sat beside Samuel's bed and watched him like that. She had a lot to say to him, but right now she couldn't utter a word.

Nicole held Samuel's hand and prayed for him to wake up sooner, but Samuel was still lying there.

She took out her phone and went through Samuel's last text message.

He said he loved her.

Nicole smiled with tears in her eyes.

"Samuel, I love you too, more than anyone else in this world."

Her lips were moving but no one could hear her other than herself.

Half an hour passed in a blink of an eye.

When the nurse knocked on the glass door, Nicole knew that she should be out now.

She kissed Samuel on the forehead one last time before turning around.

Samuel was unaware of any of this.

Nicole walked out of the ICU, feeling despondent and gloomy, but she knew she had to be strong.

Samuel needed her, and the children needed her.

She had to stay strong however hard it was.

The director saw her walked out and was marveled by how tough she was.

"Mrs. Green, I need to tell you something."

Nicole nodded.

The blood clot on his head is pressing his nerve. That's why he can't wake up. Another thing is that I found something wrong with his brain nerve. All due respect, I'm wondering if he had suffered any injury on the brain or mental stimulation

Chapter 672 A Bold Plan

"Oh my God! What happened to you, Nicole?"

Booth blurted out as soon as he saw Nicole.

Olivia stood up quickly and looked behind Nicole with concern. Then, she closed the door and asked,
"What happened?"

"Someone wants to kill me!"

Nicole gestured, with a nervous and serious look.

"What? Who's after you?"

Olivia and Booth became nervous instantly. Even Karina stood up and looked at Nicole with a worried look.

Nicole shook her head.

"I don't know. They must be the ones I met when I had a night snack last night. When I just came out of the hospital today, I almost got hit by a car. Then I went to the parking lot and a car was about to hit me from behind. Fortunately, I lost it. They didn't know my background, so their plan failed this time. But I don't know what else is waiting for me next time."

Nicole gestured quickly.

Olivia and Booth got nervous immediately.

"Then what should we do? Call the police?"

"There's no evidence. It's useless to call the police. Besides, the policy here is a bit special. You'll know it later."

Nicole rubbed her temples to relieve fatigue.

Booth handed the warm water in front of him to Nicole in a hurry.

"Nicole, have some water."

Karina wanted to remind Booth that she got the water for him, but now Booth could only see Nicole. In the end, Karina just opened her mouth but said nothing.

She couldn't help but feel a little disappointed.

Nicole took a sip of the water and then heard Booth say, "Why don't we find Kale for help? Maybe he knows how to deal with them."

"Forget it. I don't even know who they are and have no evidence. Don't bother him. Besides, if they really want to kill me, they will come to me again sooner or later,"

Nicole gestured.

Olivia nodded and asked, "Do you have any idea?"

"Well, not a good one. Just wait for their coming. But I don't think they dare to make a move here. Let's take action first tomorrow and lure out the enemy."

A trace of ruthlessness flashed across Nicole's eyes.

She couldn't take this anymore!

She was overwhelmed by sadness because what had happened to Samuel, and now someone even wanted to kill her.

Did they think it was easy to take her down because Samuel was lying in the hospital now?

Nicole sneered.

If they did think so, then they would pay the price for that.

When Nicole was with Samuel, he always took care of everything for her. Thus, she didn't need to do anything. However, that did not mean that she was a waste.

When Olivia and Booth saw that Nicole had an idea, they felt relieved.

Chapter 673 This Scary Woman

Nicole, of course, did not know what Olivia was thinking. She rethought everything in her plan and tried to perfect it as much as possible.

It was really a matter of life and death, so she had to be cautious.

It was the first time she knew that she had to live not only for herself.

It was easy to die, but difficult to live. She had to fight for her beloved and close friends.

Nicole checked what Finn had sent over and put on everything she could.

She looked at the picture of her and Samuel. She didn't know when he took this. Gentleness shone in her eyes.

She was asleep in the photo. Samuel leaned beside her. She never knew that she would be like this when she fell asleep. She was very peaceful and beautiful.

Samuel looked so happy beside her, as if there were only the two of them left in the world.

Nicole stretched out her hand and gently touched the screen of her phone. She really hoped that Samuel could wake up quickly.

Olivia and Booth were packing up outside.

When the takeout arrived, they ate quickly, and then Olivia became a little nervous.

"Nicole, can you do it alone? Booth can go with you. He is a new face and they won't find anything strange."

"No need. They saw Booth's face when we had a midnight snack. They would be on guard. No worries. You know how good I am. And your arrangements have been done. Everything will be fine."

Nicole smiled and refused.

Booth whispered, "I have already contacted Kale. As long as they dare to take action, we will arrest them. Not only will we be able to know who is behind this by then, but we can also deal with the hidden risk soon."

"Thank you so much."

Nicole patted Booth on the shoulder and went back her room.

Around ten o'clock in the evening, Nicole changed into a new set of clothes and went out of the hotel alone to a bar not far away.

The nightlife here was just beginning.

She knew that those who wanted to kill her would definitely be waiting in the shadows for an opportunity to take action. They even kept an eye on her at all times.

After entering the bar, Nicole went straight to the bar counter, ordered a cocktail, and then drank it.

She didn't look at anyone else. She drank up the alcohol one after the other, as if she was in a bad mood.

A man walked over. "Beauty, are you alone? Why don't you let me be your company?"

Nicole didn't even raise her head and ignored him.

"Beauty, drinking alone is boring. Everyone comes here for fun. Don't you want any fun?"

As he spoke, the man stretched out his hand and placed it on Nicole's shoulder.

Nicole was stunned and grabbed his wrist, pressing him on the counter.

"It hurts! Beauty, I'm sorry! I'm really sorry! Please spare me."

Gru felt Nicole was about to thrust the dagger into his neck.

He began to shout.

"Don't kill me! I'll tell you what you want to know."

He was so frightened that his body trembled, and then the smell of urine was pervasive in the van.

Nicole frowned, but she didn't put the dagger down.

Gru was a little embarrassed, but in order not to be killed, he said, "Brian has a good relationship with a nurse in the hospital. He is told Samuel may die and it is likely that the operation will fail, so he wants to kill you when you are distracted. And the others may think it's an accident because you are too worried about Samuel. Brian thinks you are just a woman and a woman will be powerless when she loses her husband. Although Samuel is powerful, he is in a coma now. In addition, you are a mute, so you can do nothing, and this is the best time to murder you."

Nicole sneered.

She didn't expect that Brian would be so cunning that he wanted to murder her in this way.

Nicole turns off her phone.

And then Gru's eyes widened.

"What do you want to do?"

Nicole knocked him out with the hilt of the dagger instead of saying anything.

Suddenly, she heard the car's engine.

Kevin and the other gangsters were stunned and asked each other, "Did you hear the car?"

"Seriously? Nobody will come here now."

The others thought Kevin was too cautious.

Kevin shook his head and said, "The car is getting closer and closer. Be quiet."

When the others heard this, they calmed down and listened. And then they heard the engine, and the car was getting close.

"We'd better tell Gru."

Kevin ran fast towards the van.

"Gru, someone's coming!"

Although he was afraid to disturb Gru, he directly pulled open the door. With a gust of wind, he was hit in the nose, and then he got the nosebleed.

"No!"

Before Kevin could shout, Nicole caught his hair and pulled him into the car. Then, she knocked him out with her elbow and threw him towards Gru.

Nicole hastily jumped out of the car instead of waiting for the others to save her.

At this moment, Booth and Kale arrived.

Therefore, Nicole knocked out the other gangsters with the help of them.

Seeing this, Kale said in admiration, "Mrs. Green, you are so agile that I wouldn't believe it if I didn't see it with my own eyes."

When Nicole remembered that it was Samuel who had taught her this, she gave a bitter smile.

"Don't give up, Nicole. We don't want Samuel to be like this, but it's the best method presently known. I'll contact my comrades and classmates and ask around to see if there are experts who can treat Samuel. Don't be discouraged."

Seeing Nicole looked pale, Blair comforted her.

Nicole knew what Blair implied.

However, if Blair couldn't find a way to cure Samuel, she didn't know who else could save him.

"I see. Thank you."

Although Nicole was sad and heartbroken, she thanked Blair and the other doctors politely.

"Don't say that. I'm not being very helpful. Well, I'll go back and ask everyone I know to find some famous doctors. I'll notify you as soon as I find them."

Blair was also very anxious.

Nicole nodded.

And then they said goodbye to each other.

Nicole returned to the ward. Looking at Samuel in the bed, she felt miserable.

She hugged Samuel and cried silently for a while. Then, she looked up at Samuel, dried her eyes, held his hand, and thought to herself, 'I will definitely find a way to cure him.'

Nicole told herself not to lose heart and that Samuel would get better.

She gave Samuel a kiss, and heard someone was knocking on the door.

Nicole paused for a moment and quickly got up. When she walked out, she saw Kale and another man were standing outside the door.

She was a little confused.

Kale hurriedly said, "Mrs. Green, there's something I need to tell you."

Nicole nodded. In order not to disturb Samuel, so she led Kale and that man to the courtyard.

"This is Mr. Wilson. He is the vice mayor of the city."

After introducing Colin to Nicole, Kale continued, "Well, you've taken over Soseph's property. Now, her partner, Brian has escaped. According to those gangsters' testimonies, Brian had committed many crimes. The warrants for his arrest have been issued, so the funds belonging to him have been frozen. Mr. Wilson wanted to ask if you are interested in managing the tourism industry. If you are interested, you can pay for Brian, and then the tourism industry will be in the charge of you. If so, the government will offer you some preferential treatment."

Hearing this, Nicole figured out what they implied.

Now that Brian had escaped, there were still so many workers waiting to be paid.

She looked towards Samuel. Samuel could not move, so he might stay here for a while. Although the Greens were rich, she did not want others to know that Samuel was in a coma. Otherwise, the Eternal Group would be in a mess.

However, she had to pay for huge medical expenses.

If she wanted to pay for Brain, she must have the financial resource. Although she could tap the fund of JH Mall in Land City, she couldn't just rely on it.

Nicole knew that she must rely on herself.

Therefore, she typed on her phone, "Alright, I'll invest in this tourism industry, but I'm not familiar with it, so I may ask for help from Mr. Wilson."

"No problem. If you really want to take it over, sign a contract with the government. It's good for both sides, right?"

Hearing this, Nicole nodded.

Nicole knew that it might be inappropriate to talk to Tim about this at this point, but they were friends and she indeed had no other choice.

"What are you talking about? Of course I'll help you. Samuel once gave me some money for the failure of my business and I have always been grateful to him. If you are looking for a doctor for Samuel, don't worry, I will immediately ask everyone I know to help you."

Tim thought that was what Nicole asked him for, so he agreed without hesitation.

However, Nicole shook her head and wrote on Twitter, "It's not about this. I want to borrow some money from you."

"Borrow some money?"

Tim thought he misread it and tried to rub his eyes.

But Nicole was indeed trying to borrow money from him.

He was confused. The Green family was very rich, with money being the last thing they would be short of.

This was also the first time that Nicole had asked someone to lend her money, so she felt somewhat embarrassed.

"Yes, I'm in trouble right now and need two million to stay afloat. I can't tell anyone about this except you. It doesn't matter if it's inconvenient for you. I'll ask someone else."

Nicole typed quickly.

Tim finally realized what was happening.

"Who else do you know and you want to ask? Olivia, that poor office worker? Or Jacob? If you could borrow money from him, you wouldn't have asked me. Then who else? The Don family? Or your parents? You probably don't know how to say that to them, do you? Or more accurately, your parents don't know your situation, do they?"

Nicole was bombarded with Tim's questions and didn't know how to reply.

Indeed, she did not dare to tell her parents about what happened to her, just like five years ago. She just regularly remitted money to them and occasionally sent them a message to tell them that she was fine but a little busy.

If her parents knew that she was dumb, they would definitely be extremely grieved.

She knew that she couldn't hide this from them forever, but she would just take it one day at a time.

Seeing that Nicole went silent, Tim knew that he was right.

He didn't know that Olivia had found her biological parents, so he didn't think too much.

"Give me your account number."

"What?"

Nicole was puzzled.

"You don't understand? Give me your account number. Otherwise, how can I transfer money to you?"

Tim felt that Nicole became a little stupid now.

It was all Samuel's fault!

He cursed inwardly.

Only then did Nicole react and quickly send her account number to him. After that, she added, "Thank you."

Nicole waited with this belief, hoping for a miracle to happen.

News came from Blair from time to time, but it was not good.

Tim finally knew where Nicole was and flew over to see her.

Seeing Tim, Nicole was slightly stunned.

Tim threw his arms around Nicole, his voice breaking.

"Nicole, you've lost weight."

Hearing this, Nicole felt like crying.

She patted Tim on the back.

Wasn't he the same as her?

Tim must have a hard time in another city alone, but he didn't say anything. After the failure of his business, he went to an unknown city alone and started again at his beginnings. How could he live better than her? Perhaps he had experienced many ups and downs.

"I'm fine."

Nicole gestured. After that, she discovered that Tim's eyes went moist.

"Why are you so stupid?"

He stretched out his finger and poked Nicole's forehead hard.

Nicole felt a little pain and frowned.

"It hurts? Then did you learn a lesson? What did you choose to be with Samuel, instead of me? You insisted on staying with him, but looked like this in the end. Are you stupid, Nicole? I don't think you're that thoughtless, but why are you so stubborn in terms of Samuel? Now that he is a vegetable, you might as well be with me."

Tim said bluntly.

Nicole glared at him and gestured, "You're talking nonsense."

"Don't gesticulate at me, I don't understand. Nicole, let me tell you, I don't care about Samuel. You have to cure your throat. Do you hear me? I'll pay for whatever it costs."

What Tim said moved Nicole.

"I'm fine, really,"

She took out her phone and sent Tim a message on Twitter.

Seeing this, Tim threw his phone away angrily.

"Damn it, why would I leave you alone at that time? You must have been helpless with no one around you, right? I even said I liked you and that I would give you happiness. But where the hell was I when you needed me the most?"

Tim kept blaming himself.

Seeing him like this, Nicole stooped down to pick up his phone and put it back in his hand.

She wrote again, "I don't blame you. It's all my fault. You're here to work?"

"What are you talking about? I'm here to see you. I'm going to take you away from Samuel when he is a vegetable. I don't believe he can jump up and hit me right now?"

Tim said loudly as if he wasn't afraid that Samuel would hear it.

Nicole looked at Samuel worriedly. When she saw that he was unresponsive, a trace of disappointment flashed through her eyes.

"What's going on?"

Before leaving, Booth had entrusted Nicole to Kale. So, he naturally attached great importance to Nicole's message.

Nicole briefly repeated the thing and sent a picture with it.

Kale arrived soon.

When Tim brought the nurse to the ward, he Nicole taking care of Samuel with a man. Hot anger immediately coursed through his veins.

"Who, who are you? Who let you in?"

Seeing Tim angry, Nicole hurried to explain.

"Tim, this is my friend's, Kale. He's a police officer. I have reported the maltreatment to the police and asked him for help."

Tim's face darkened.

"Your friend? You've only been here for a few days, right? Why do you have so many friends? Let me tell you, not all people are kind. You should be careful! Why do you never learn a lesson?"

Nicole's lips twitched.

"It's none of your business."

Her gaze at the nurse, who was standing behind Tim, was cold.

Since it was reported to the police, the nurse was so terrified that she confessed her fault in a hurry.

"Sorry, I'll tell you everything. I heard that you asked the doctor about Mr. Green's clothes. So, I thought he might have something valuable. Then, I took advantage of your absence to search him. But I didn't find anything! It's true!"

However, her explanation enraged Nicole more.

"I can understand your greed. But you actually let a patient stay scruffy. You are a nurse, right? Besides, why are there pinches on him?"

And it was what her anger directed at.

It was enough to covet the money. She even dared to maltreat Samuel when he was in a coma. It was outrageous!

How could Samuel suffer such an insult?

Since the nurse dodged their gazes, Kale said in a cold tone, "If you keep silent, I will take you to the police office."

"It's not my fault!"

The nurse got flurried and pointed at Tim at once.

"It was him. He gave me some money and asked me to do this. And I thought I might earn more if there was something valuable with Mr. Green. So...."

Nicole's face darkened.

"It's you?"

She was shocked as she stared at Tim.

Since it had come to light, Tim rubbed his chin and admitted it.

"Yes, it's me. So what? I hate Samuel. I was no fighting match for him. So why not bully him when he is in a coma?"

Tim's voice trailed off as he saw Nicole's face went ugly green.

"Nicole, open the door! Who's that woman? Damn it, I'll let her know who I am!"

Tim hadn't lost his temper like this for a long time.

Now it was a matter more about reputation, rather than anger!

A small woman like her dared to boss around a man like him. She was doomed.

He would definitely give her a piece of his mind.

Looking at Maia in confusion, Nicole gestured, "What's wrong?"

"Nothing. Just a gigolo. Don't worry, Lady Bush. I can even throw him out with one hand. He's so weak. I had thought him was a big shot."

Maia said in relief while Nicole was in shock.

With one hand? She was able to throw Tim out?

Heavens!

Tim was a robust man!

"What did you do to him?"

Curiosity seized Nicole.

It had been a long time since Tim paid such attention to a woman, though she didn't regard it as good news.

But Maia just replied in a faint tone, "I didn't do anything. I just pushed him away. He was too weak to steady himself and fell off. I am not to blame for it. Anyway, it was he who overestimated himself. If he lived in my village, he would have been kicked out early! Look at his thin figure, he can't do farming at all!"

Maia was dumbfounded at her words.

She finally realized that they were not talking the same subject.

"No, Maia, he's not an ordinary person. He doesn't need to do farming. He's...."

"I don't care who he is. As long as he is on Lady Bush's way, I will throw him away like garbage."

Maia spoke before Nicole finished gesturing.

Tim could hear her clearly, so angry that his lungs were about to explode.

Throw him away like garbage?

Did she want to die?

Nicole looked at the door and then at Maia, who was indifferent. She couldn't help but feel a little worried.

"OK, Maia, ignore that man."

"Why? Did he threaten you, Lady Bush? Lady Bush, you don't need to be afraid. I'll be here to protect you!"

Maia thought Nicole was afraid, so she patted her chest and hurried to promise.

Although she was small, she can actually offer Nicole security.

Nicole was afraid that Tim would do something rude to Maia, so she hurriedly ran out of the ward. Then she saw that Maia was pushed against the wall by Tim.

Maia was 1.5 meters tall and Tim was 1.85, which somewhat formed a contrast. Besides, Maia's unyielding eyes made her look like an untamed wolf, which could arise one's desire to conquer her.

Nicole suddenly felt that Tim and Maia matched each other.

She stopped because of such a feeling. She stood at the door, watching what was going on between Tim and Maia.

Maia tried to push Tim away. But she failed. So she was a little angry.

"Let go of me!"

"Aren't you quite capable? Don't you have many strengths? Didn't you say that I'm a gigolo instead of a man? Now push me away!"

Tim mocked at Maia.

Her height didn't even reach his shoulders. But she wanted to teach him a lesson?

It was ridiculous.

Maia was so angry that her face turned red.

Tim was too hateful.

She stood on tiptoe and took a bite at Tim's shoulder.

"Ah! Damn it! Are you a dog?"

Tim was caught off guard and took a step back in pain.

Maia took the opportunity and kicked Tim in the crotch.

"..."

Tim covered his crotch and jumped, and his face turned red with anger.

"Damn it..."

Tim twitched in pain.

This woman was ruthless!

Nicole trembled when she saw this.

She knew Tim must feel very painful.

Maia's kick wouldn't lead to Tim's sexual dysfunction, right?

Maia ignored his shouting and said angrily, "If you dare to bully a woman again, I will make you die sonless!"

After saying that, Maia turned around and left.
