Chapter 681 Training a Newbie Is Simple

It was Maia!

Tim wanted to turn around and leave as long as he saw Maia.

Tim did what he thought. He turned around, trying to leave. But Nicole grabbed him.

"Did you hear what I said?"

Nicole gestured.

"I heard you. That tough woman is coming. I am too magnanimous to argue with her. I'll talk to you later."

Tim ran away.

Seeing Tim's disappearing figure, Maia said disdainfully, "Lady Bush, he comes to pester you again? Why is this gigolo so cheeky?"

Nicole smiled.

It seemed that in Maia preferred to call Tim a gigolo instead of his name.

"What are you doing here?"

Nicole didn't know what she could do. She had told Maia to call her name instead of Lady Bush many times. But Maia didn't listen to her and said that a company should have its own system.

Maia took out a set of plans seriously and smiled, "Lady Bush, take a look. This is my blueprint for the investment plan."

Nicole could tell from Maia's face that she was passionate about this industry.

"I don't have much time to manage this. How about this, I'll find an expert for you later. He has a lot of experience in this field. You can ask for his advice."

Nicole's words instantly lit up Maia's eyes.

"Really? Who is that expert? Lady Bush, you are too kind. Please be rest assured. I will do this well."

"Okay, I'll ask him to go to you later. You can go back."

Maia left happily.

Nicole returned to the ward and continued talking to Samuel. Then, Blair called and told her that Gabrielle would be here soon. Gabrielle might bring her the news about Samuel's operation.

Nicole excitedly waited for Gabrielle's arrival.

But before that, Nicole felt that she should deal with Maia's matter.

She invited Tim to dinner, which surprised Tim.

"Did I hear you wrong? You want to invite me to dinner? This only happens once in a blue moon!"

Tim was excited. Meanwhile, he teased Nicole.

"Come on, you sound like I am mean to you. Since I am so mean, why are you still pestering me?"

Facing Nicole's accusation, Tim smiled and said ruthlessly, "Because I want to! I am into self-abusive behavior. Does this answer satisfy you?"

"Fine. But I need your help."

"I knew it. You will never treat me to dinner for no reason. Can you invite me to dinner just for once without asking anything from me? Can you let me feel moved?"

Then she gestured, "I can't afford to let you feel moved. I haven't moved you yet, but you are still pestering

"Maia? How come it is you?"

Tim turned around to leave dejectedly.

Maia heard that Nicole found a master for her, but she didn't expect the person was Tim.

That gigolo?

What a joke!

"I didn't expect it to be you either. Lady Bush must be mistaken. What can you do? I have to give Lady Bush a call. She must have been cheated by you."

Maia called Nicole as she spoke, but Nicole's phone was switched off.

Nicole was not stupid. She already expected what would happen after they met. How could she give them a chance to find her?

"Damn it! If I knew it was you, I wouldn't have come even if you gave me a billion."

Tim's words infuriated Maia.

"One billion? Don't take yourself too seriously. You're not even worth ten! Let me tell you, you are a lemon here!"

Maia's words infuriated Tim.

"I'm warning you. I don't have a principle of not hitting women. Don't think I dare not hit you just because you're Nicole's subordinate. If you cursed me again, I won't let go of you!"

"You are a lemon!"

Maia didn't think that Tim would hit her.

Her provocation angered Tim.

Right now, there was no Nicole here. Tim directly took a step forward, grabbed Maia's collar, and casually threw her out.

Maia immediately fell out like a kite with a broken string.

"Ah!"

When Maia fell to the ground, it was not her ass that hurt, but the self-esteem!

Damn it!

She was actually thrown out by a gigolo!

If it got out, she would never find a boyfriend.

"Tim, I'll fight it out with you!"

Maia didn't care about the pain anymore. She got up and rushed towards Tim.

It had to be said that Maia still had some strength.

Being hit by her, Tim almost fell to the ground.

This woman was like a cow!

She was especially stubborn and strong.

Shouldn't a woman be delicate?

Why was she this strong?

Tim was depressed, but he really didn't dare to use too much strength.

"Don't go too far, otherwise I..."

Tim grabbed the armrest tightly.

Maia said calmly, "It's fine. After all, this is the first time I drive."

"What did you say? This is the first time you drive. You don't have a driver's license?"

"I haven't taken the exam yet. It's too expensive. I want to wait until it's cheaper."

Maia said it for granted, but Tim almost went mad.

"Stop! Stop!"

Tim had never been so scared before!

He actually gave his life to a woman who could not drive. This woman was driving at 160km/h now!

He thought he was crazy.

However, Maia wasn't nervous at all and asked, "Which one is the brake?"

Tim no longer wanted to speak.

He hurriedly squeezed over and stepped on the brake.

The car quickly stopped. With a sudden impact, Tim directly hit the windshield, while Maia accidentally hit Tim.

Tim was hit by Maia and his ribs touched the steering wheel. He felt that his ribs were broken.

He had never been in such a sorry state before, and he was instantly enraged.

"Are you out of your mind? How dare you drive a car without a driver's license? How dare you drive to 160 km/h? You are over speeding! What are you thinking? Even if you want to die, I don't want to die with you."

Tim's voice numbed Maia's ears.

She looked at Tim and said nonchalantly, "What's wrong? I've never driven a car like yours! But I ride an electric tricycle every day. Isn't it the same?"

Tim was so angry that he didn't want to talk to her anymore.

Were Electric tricycles the same as sports cars?

What kind of logic was this?

"Get off the car!"

Tim felt that if he were to stay with Maia again, he would be pissed off.

Maia thought he was going to change seats with her and obediently got out of the car. She did not expect that after Tim moved over from the passenger seat, he stepped on the accelerator and left.

"Hey!"

Maia shouted from behind, but Tim didn't listen and directly returned along the same path.

He went back on his word.

He was going to find Nicole and ask her to take Maia away.

Tim couldn't help her with this.

Maia watched as Tim left without turning back, knowing that she had completely pissed off this man.

"Hey, get in the car!"

Tim would never admit to Maia his fault, and he didn't think he was wrong.

Maia whispered to Tim without looking at him, "You go first. I've said that I'll take the bus. Don't worry. I won't tell Lady Bush. She won't know anything."

Tim curled his lips again.

He was not afraid of Nicole at all.

"Alright, stop messing around. Get in the car! Think about when you can arrive by bus. When there is a market, others will take the opportunity first. In the market, time is money. I'm doing it not for you but for Nicole. I promised her to study the market. If you go by bus, nothing can be done."

Maia was slightly stunned.

"Is it that serious?"

"I'm the teacher, not you. Didn't Nicole ask you to learn from me? If so, you have to listen to me. Get in the car quickly! I don't have time to talk nonsense with you!"

Maia noticed that Tim was really getting impatient. But she really didn't want to get in the car. She also had self-esteem, okay?

But if she didn't get on the car, what if she really lost the initiative as Tim had said?

Nicole treats her so well. She didn't want to ruin Nicole's good fortune.

"I can get in the car. But from now on, don't talk to me if there's nothing wrong."

"Do you think I'm willing to talk to you?"

Tim felt that Maia thought too highly of herself. When did he show that he wanted to talk to her?

Maia bit her lower lip and got into the car.

This time, Maia sat in the back.

"Come and sit in the passenger seat."

Tim became somewhat gloomy.

"I'm fine in the back."

Maia felt it was the most effective way to stop talking to Tim.

Tim was really irritated.

"I'm not interested in being someone's driver."

"But you won't let me drive."

Maia's words got Tim speechless again.

Did she really not know or did she fake it?

"Maia, I don't want to say it again. You'd better do as I say."

Chapter 685 I Gave You a Slap

Nicole hung up the phone and fell into deep thought.

She wanted to bring Maia and Tim together, but never thought about the gap between them. After hearing Tim's words, she suddenly hesitated.

Was this a good thing for Maia?

However, seeing that Maia and Tim had no intention of being together, Nicole didn't want to tell them her plan.

She looked at Samuel and used the conversion software that converted the text into electronic speech, "Samuel, am I doing the right thing? Tim has wasted so much time on me. I really don't want to see him die alone. Everyone has the right to pursue their own happiness. Since I'm not his soulmate, should I pair him and Maia off? I know that they don't fit to each other since they are from different classes.

However, Maia is very good-hearted, kind and upright. Such a woman will fall in love without hesitation once she makes up her mind. I really hope that Tim can have a vigorous love and find his own happiness. Am I doing the right thing?"

Samuel still didn't respond.

Nicole found that Samuel seemed to have been in deep sleep and any sound could not wake him up.

Her words could not rouse Samuel. Perhaps it was because the software gave electronic speech instead of her voice.

Thinking of this, Nicole felt a little sad.

Her voice...

She couldn't help but think of the requirements of the Miller family that Morgan had mentioned.

Although Nicole did not know the specifics, it must have been something bad since the Miller family went to all that trouble.

Nicole had considered whether she could let Morgan examine Samuel. After all, Morgan's nickname was Satan King. However, Nicole failed to dial that number because of the Miller family.

Looking at Samuel who became thinner and thinner and was lying here like a dead man, Nicole was heartbroken.

She could take care of him for the rest of her life, but only when Samuel would be never able to wake up would she make such a decision.

Right now, there was a chance Samuel would regain consciousness, but...

Nicole sighed deeply.

"Samuel, what do you think I should do? Should I go for Morgan? Perhaps she can cure you. I've lost my voice. Our children and I cannot live without you. Samuel, I promise you, as long as you get better, I will do nothing but live a good life with you, okay?"

Nicole looked at Samuel, typed the words that she wanted to say and converted them into electronic speech by software. However, Samuel was still lying there motionlessly. She did not know whether Samuel had taken them in.

Just as Nicole was wondering whether her decision was right or wrong, Tim was very anxious.

'That stupid Maia is still waiting for Mr. Ron in the hall?'

Thinking of this, Tim got up and put on sportswear before leaving the room and walking towards the elevator.

If Maia was still waiting, he would take her to eat something.

Just as the elevator door was about to close, a woman suddenly reached in.

"Wait a moment!"

As she spoke, the fragrance greeted Tim. A beautiful, slender and tall woman squeezed in.

"Sorry."

"Ah!"

As Alexia did not pay attention, Maia directly gave her a slap and she tumbled over.

"How dare you hit me? What a shrew! You're so rude!"

Alexia was so angry that even tears came to her eyes.

In the past, Tim would think that only women like Alexia could be called women, and he would help her up and comfort her. But now, he felt that Maia did a good job. The slap was something he would like to see.

Alexia looked at Tim and whined about her grievances, "Hey, cutie, why do you want be with such a woman?"

"I need her to help me get rid of bad luck."

After he said these words, Tim seized Maia's hand and they left together.

"Let's go. I'll take you out to eat something. The atmosphere here has been ruined."

Then, he held her hand and walked out of the hall directly.

Alexia was so angry that she almost screamed with rage.

Is there something wrong with the guy's eyes?

Looking at Tim holding her hand, Maia was a little stunned.

"What did you just say about me?"

"What?"

Tim immediately pretended to be innocent.

That was a joke. It was impossible for him to repeat what he had said about Maia.

Maia didn't hear it clearly just now. Now that Tim turned the question back, she shook her head and said, "Nothing. Where are we going?"

"Shall we grab a bite to eat or go back now? I guess the waiter hasn't put away the dishes."

Tim was stunned after saying these words.

Was he also influenced by Maia?

He spoke in such an inappropriate manner and his words were just ramblings.

Maia nodded, "I haven't eaten yet. What a feast of dishes! Pitifully, I didn't take a single mouthful of food just now. Is that woman your friend?"

"I don't know who she is. The one we met in the elevator just now was probably a lunatic. Let's go. Since you want to eat, let's go back and eat."

Tim suddenly felt that Maia was a little cute.

She followed him and they returned to the hotel.

Alexia had already left, and the waiter was putting away the dishes.

"Wait, we haven't eaten yet. We just went out for a while. Why did you take our dishes away?"

Maia hurriedly stopped him.

The waiter was slightly stunned.

Tim pulled the waiter aside and said, "Make another portion of these dishes. Don't worry about the money."

Chapter 687 Are You a Ghost?

Just as Maia was still thinking about what to do, Tim had already been fast asleep.

Hearing his steady breathing, Maia gave a sigh.

Taking a deep breath, she had no choice but to help him rise and take off his dirty clothes.

Maia tried her best not to look at Tim's body, but she still saw his powerful muscles.

She didn't expect that he would be so strong since he didn't seem so when he was clothed.

Maia blushed when she realized what she was thinking. Fortunately, Tim was asleep, otherwise she must have been pretty embarrassed.

She then threw Tim in bed and cleaned up the vomit on his body with a hot towel, during which she felt her face burning.

She had never done this for a man before.

When she finished that, Maia was exhausted. She could feel that her back was wet. Her clothes were soaked with sweat. But she didn't notice that until this moment.

Maia looked at Tim who was dead to the world, and found that he was actually quite handsome in the light.

She then shook her head vigorously.

'What are you thinking? '

'This man only cares about Lady Bush.'

Maia cleared her head quickly and went to the bathroom to wash Tim's clothes.

It was already three o'clock in the morning when she finally got it done.

She then tidied up the room and went back to hers.

'I'm worn out!'

She fell asleep as soon as she threw herself onto the bed.

When Tim woke up the next morning, he couldn't find his clothes. He went out onto the balcony, and saw his suit drifting in the wind, the corners of his mouth twitching.

Tim clearly knew who did that.

It was Maia. She had hand-washed his suit.

He knew well that she did that with good intentions, but the material of his suit could not be washed by hand!

Although the suit had not been torn, he would rather not to wear it.

Tim took a few deep breaths and told himself that Maia didn't do that on purpose. She did that with good intentions instead.

When he turned around, he saw some pills for hangover and a bottle of hot water on the table. It should be Maia who had prepared them for him.

Tim remembered that he drank a lot yesterday and didn't come back until after midnight. But he couldn't think of what had happened after he came back to his room.

He ran quickly to the bathroom and found that it was clean and tidy. He also didn't smell alcohol on himself.

'It should be Maia,' Tim thought.

He then called the front desk and asked the staff there to buy two sets of clothes for him. After that, he went to take a shower in the bathroom.

Tim was clear that nothing had happened between Maia and him, otherwise he should have felt it. After all, he was not that stupid.

But it suddenly came to him that it seemed not bad to have Maia as his secretary. At least, she could help him so that he wouldn't find himself in an awkward position when he got drunk.

After the shower, Tim took the pills with some hot water. He felt warm in his stomach.

Chapter 688 A Man with a Strong Character

Maia was still not used to walking so intimately with another woman. Besides, this woman had made her look bad not long ago. Although she said that she did not care, she could not really pretend that nothing had happened.

She felt that Alexia also was also not as enthusiastic as she looked.

Maia pulled back her hand from Alexia's grip subtly, and then she moved a little further away from Alexia.

Seeing her like this, Alexia became even angrier. However, she smiled and said, "Miss Maia, are you still mad at me? I have apologized for my mistake. How about this? Miss Maia, you can slap me again and vent your anger on me."

Under this circumstance, how could Maia slap her again?

Alexia was obviously just saying that.

However, Tim said, "Good, it's a good idea. Maia, do it."

Maia was lost for words.

Wasn't this woman a designer of his company?

How could he not care at all?

Alexia was even more stunned by these words that she was totally frozen.

She had investigated Tim last night. It was said that this man was a playboy and had always been gentle and considerate towards women. How could this man in front of her act so indifferently?

Tim didn't care what Alexia was thinking. Seeing Maia stand stiffly, he stretched out his hand and flicked her on her head, saying, "Are you stupid?"

"Ouch! A flick as strong as this could turn Einstein into a dummy. Don't hit my head."

Maia waved her small fists, intending to punch Tim.

Seeing her grinding her teeth, Tim couldn't help but laugh out loud. He smiled all his happiness out, which made Alexia feel so envious for she was not the one making him laugh.

Tim was the perfect choice to be her husband. She was no longer young. Now that she met Tim, she would not let him go. Moreover, he had money, which was the most important thing.

Thinking of this, Alexia hurriedly chimed in, "Miss Maia, Mr. Tim is playing with you."

Originally, the two were talking happily, but because of Alexia's interruption, their moods were damaged.

"Alright, hurry up and buy some clothes. It's time to meet with Mr. Liam later."

Tim finished the conversation.

The three of them headed straight for the mall.

Alexia deliberately took Maia to the upscale area.

Maia looked at the price tags and turned immediately to leave, but was stopped by Tim.

"What are you doing?"

"The clothes here are too expensive. I can't afford them."

Maia was clear about her financial condition. One single piece of clothing here was expensive enough for her to work hard for a long time. She was not buying it.

Tim had never seen a woman who didn't like shopping for clothes.

"You are coming with me for business. We must look decent. Don't worry, you don't need to pay for these clothes."

"Then there's one more reason not to buy them. I'm not related to you, so I can't take advantage of you."

Maia's words surprised Tim slightly. Every woman he had met wanted clothes, bags, cars, houses, and credit cards. This was the first time he had heard a woman say that she couldn't take advantage of him. Tim felt curious about this peculiar woman.

"It's not me but Nicole who will pay for it. It can be considered as your work uniform for a business trip."

"But it's too expensive for a work uniform."

Maia just didn't agree.

Alexia was extremely anxious.

Tim said directly.

Alexia hurriedly explained, "No, no. It's from my brother. I don't have a boyfriend yet."

As she spoke, she looked at Tim shyly.

To be honest, if such a woman like Alexia had ogled him in the past, Tim would enjoy it. But now the way she looked at him only made him deeply uneasy.

"Hurry up and answer your phone."

Tim quickly turned around and saw Maia looking at them with a curious expression. He thought that Maia was really pretty and cute.

Maia had chubby cheeks and he suddenly wanted to rub them.

Tim then put his thoughts into action.

"What are you doing?"

Maia thought that Tim was so strange. She couldn't understand why he rubbed her cheeks. It was painful.

Tim laughed loudly.

"Do you know that you really look like Lucas now?"

"Who is Lucas?"

Maia's question caught Alexia's attention.

Only then did Tim realize that he had spilled the beans, but he smiled and said, "A brat, he's very cute."

Hearing that Lucas was a boy, Alexia immediately felt relieved.

But Maia became interested in the boy.

"Your son?"

"If I had such a son, I would definitely cry every day. Let me introduce you to him."

Tim directly sent a video request to Lucas.

It was quickly connected

"Tim, is there anything you need my help with? It's not free."

Lucas suffered a lot from ennui.

Mommy and Samuel were not here. Zoe and Joseph were here, but they often stayed together with each other. Zoe didn't like to play with him anymore and she always asked Joseph to tell her stories.

Joseph also loved Zoe. Every time she asked for something, he will try his best to achieve it. Compared to him, he could barely function as her brother.

He was so bored that he had hacked several websites. Those websites crashed and hadn't been fixed for more than a week, so he was bored to death. Unfortunately, his leg was in plaster and he had to stay in the hospital.

Even Booth and Olivia were missing. Was there anyone could play with him!

At this moment, Tim sent him a video link and Lucas couldn't be happier to receive it.

Looking at him, Tim smiled and said, "I don't need your help with anything. I just want to introduce a friend to you."

Chapter 690 Tell Tim That He's Done

"Mr. Tim, your car is so great!" Alexia exclaimed.

When she saw Tim's car, her eyes lit up.

Tim ignored her and said to Maia, "Get in the car."

Maia walked towards the back seat.

"What are you doing? Take the front seat. You should feel honored to have me as your driver."

Tim was somewhat disappointed.

Maia caught a glimpse of Alexia and thought of what she told her just now. She said, "Let Alexia take the front seat. I'll just sit in the back."

"What nonsense are you talking about? Why would she take a ride with me? I'm not obligated to do that."

Hearing this, Alexia was in a daze.

"Mr. Tim, I want to go to the Phoenix Villa to find my brother. Can you give me a ride?" She asked.

"No. Do you think I'm a cab driver who would give you a ride as long as you beckoned. You may go wherever you want, but I won't give you a ride," Tim said relentlessly.

He didn't show her any respect.

Alexia was a little depressed. But the colder he was to her, the more she wanted to win his heart.

She glared fiercely at Maia. Then she turned around and left on her high heels.

"Come on! What are you waiting for? If Liam changes his mind, you could only cry,"

Tim shouted.

Maia reluctantly settled into the passenger seat.

Alexia stamped her feet angrily as she watched the car driving away.

"Liam, you must think of a way to take Maia away from Tim!" Alexia phoned Liam.

She considered Maia as an eyesore. Even if Maia wasn't the one Tim loved most, she couldn't just stand by and watch Tim treat her so well.

But for Maia, she didn't think Tim treated her well. After getting in the car, she whispered, "I think it's good to sit in the back seat."

"Are you stupid? You are not a child. When you are bullied by others, don't you know how to fight back?"

Maia was taken aback.

She asked, "What do you mean?"

"What do I mean? Did that woman threaten you? Look at you. Your expressions completely fail to hide your thoughts, and you even want to pretend to be calm. Aren't you a tigress? Why are you so timid facing Alexia?"

Tim had seen all kinds of women.

He could see through them merely from their eyes.

Looking at Maia's expression, he could tell that she had been picked on.

However, what Tim couldn't figure out was that Maia wasn't a lamb. Why would she yield to her? What had happened?

Hearing Tim's question, Maia sighed and answered, "Mr. Liam is Alexia's brother. What if she makes it hot for us?"

"It's no big deal. If things go smoothly, it would be best. But if not, I could only make it in a tough way. Kill Liam and continue our business."

Maia was shocked as she heard that.

"Are you a gangster?"

"If I were, would you be scared?"

Tim asked directly.
