Chapter 691 We Got What We Needed

Nicole hurriedly hung up the phone and sent Gabrielle a message.

"Gabrielle, is there news of Samuel's condition?"

Gabrielle, of course, knew about Nicole's situation, so she hurriedly replied, "Yes. It becomes clearer. I have a senior who is very knowledgeable about this. We can go take a look. He is also where you're now, but he seems to live in Médoc. I'm on a plane heading your way. I'd like to go over there together if we can."

This news was too inspiring for Nicole.

"Alright, I'll have someone to look after Samuel and go with you to take a look. Why don't I pick you up now?"

"No, I'm almost there. Blair gave me the address."

After Gabrielle and Nicole finished communicating, Nicole was particularly excited.

Médoc?

'Isn't that where Tim and Maia are?'

Nicole sent a message to Maia at once, saying, "I'll go over today or tomorrow and sign the contract myself."

As soon as Maia got the news, she said to Liam, "Lady Bush may come over to sign the contract tomorrow."

Tim couldn't help but pause.

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, Lady Bush just replied to me."

Tim didn't say anything else.

When Liam heard that Nicole was coming over, he knew that Alexia's aim was reached. So Liam smiled and said, "Well, since you're all here, let's stay at my villa today. It's got everything, or shall I show you around? Aren't you going to develop tourism? How about taking a look at the scenery here?"

Tim had nothing to do anyways, so he nodded.

Seeing that Tim didn't have a problem with it, of course Maia was fine with it.

Liam sent someone to arrange for the deal. He poured them a cup of tea and said, "Try our black tea."

Tim smelled a fragrance of the tea and got intrigued.

"It smells good."

"Of course. We planted it ourselves. Mr. Tim, if you like it, I'll give you some later."

"No. I can buy some."

Tim smiled faintly.

Tim and Liam drank black tea and kindly talked about romantic affairs.

Maia listened to their conversation and found that Tim and Liam got along. She couldn't help but look at Tim. Birds of a feather really flock together.

It seemed that Tim was a lady-killer.

"I'm going out to take a look."

Maia suddenly felt that staying here was quite embarrassing. Tim and Liam talked about those things but didn't feel shame even if Maia was there.

Was Maia really like a cowgirl?

Seeing Maia leave, Tim hurriedly said, "Don't go far."

"Okay."

With that, Maia went out.

Maia immediately looked around and said, "What excuses can we use?"

"As long as you want to leave, I'll think of an excuse. Liam and his sister are quite wicked. I think Liam pays close attention to you. I'll find other cooperators after I go back because I really don't like him."

Maia was surprised by what Tim had said.

"I noticed that you guys had a lot to talk about, so I assume you are birds of a feather."

"Remember! You can get along with everyone in the business, but don't open your heart to all of them. You should know who is good and who isn't. Although Liam looks similar to me, he is vicious. How can he compare to me? I'm charming and intelligent."

Maia had never thought that Tim would say such narcissistic words. So she ironically pretended to retch.

"Don't doubt me! I am telling you the truth. Sooner or later, you will find out."

While Tim and Maia were chatting nonsense, Liam went in with Alexia.

"Mr. Tim, Miss Maia, let me introduce my sister Alexia,"

Liam said with a smile. Alexia followed behind shyly and timidly.

Tim continued, "We already know each other. Alexia is the designer of our company now."

"Really? It must be fate. Well, I've already asked people to prepare a feast. Let's celebrate tonight."

Just as Liam finished, Tim said apologetically, "Sorry. Nicole called me just now. She will arrive soon. Maia and I are going to pick her up."

"Doesn't she come tomorrow?"

Alexia's face clouded over right away.

"Who knows? Nicole is always fickle. I have to pick her up even if she comes at midnight because I really like her."

Tim's eyes were full of affection.

This was the first time Alexia had seen him like this.

Tim was also nice to Maia, but it was completely different which was incomparable.

She suddenly became jealous.

She was jealous of Nicole, who she hadn't even met.

Did Maia tell truth?

Was Nicole the person Tim really liked?

"How about this? Let me go with you. I also want to meet Lady Bush. I'm very curious about her."

"Nicole doesn't like strangers picking her up. Sorry."

Tim directly rejected Alexia's request, with a sullen face.

Alexia wanted to say something, but Liam stopped her.

"Alexia, since Mr. Tim is busy, let's stop bothering him. We will have chance."

"Liam!"

Alexia looked at Liam with resentment. She hoped that Liam could say something to let them stay.

Liam smiled and said to Tim, "Since Mr. Tim is busy, let me arrange someone to send you back."

"Holy shit, is this gigolo trying to get himself killed?"

Bob's men mocked Tim. But suddenly, they were not able to laugh.

They couldn't take Tim's attacks at all.

Maia was so worried that she almost called the police in the car. However, Maia then realized that Tim had learned to fight when she saw how nimble he was. Immediately, she got stunned.

Was this really the gigolo she knew?

Bob knew that he was in big trouble when he saw how Tim fought. He quickly stepped forward, but he failed to rescue his men. Even he himself was subdued by Tim soon.

Tim smiled and said, "You punks want to hit me? Didn't Alexia investigate that I had served in the army? You were no match for me. Do you understand?"

Maia was dumbfounded.

Hearing that Tim had retired from the army, Bob immediately regretted it. If he had known earlier, he wouldn't have underestimated Tim so much.

"Well, you look like you're not willing to accept the result. OK, I can beat you to admit that you're defeated," said Tim.

As he spoke, Tim beat the shit out of them until they were completely unable to get up. And someone even had to keep in bed for a month.

"You know what to say to Liam."

After Tim defeated them, he shook himself and got into the car.

Maia looked at him blankly.

"Hey, silly girl!"

Tim felt that he had finally restored his image in front of Maia.

He stroked his hair and smiled, "Find me awesome, don't you?"

Maia subconsciously nodded. Then she suddenly realized that she was misled by Tim. Tim was so triumphant. She couldn't help but say, "How smug you are! Even you defeated them, you are still a gigolo."

"Damn it! Why am I still a gigolo? Are you blind?"

Tim didn't like the word "gigolo".

Maia pursed her lips and smiled, whispering, "Hurry up! Let's go. Otherwise, someone may call the police."

"Don't worry. I'm just defending myself. But they are so lame."

Although Tim said this, he still drove the car out of here.

"Liam and Alexia planned this to attack us, but you beat up their men. Will our project go up in smoke?"

Maia thought about that project on the way.

"You put all your chips on Liam?"

Chapter 694 Why Was He So Good

Tim, on the other hand, was surprised.

Just now, Maia was tugging at his sleeve, as if she was very worried and afraid. However, all in a sudden, she actually began to speak up for him.

Tim looked at Maia. He felt that she had become cleverer.

Luke remained silent. He was pondering over something.

Tim was not in a rush to push him. He was drinking his wine, but then slightly frowned.

"What kind of wine is this? So bland. Maia, go to the front desk and buy me a Lafite. All will do."

"OK."

Maia now had some admiration for Tim.

She hurriedly got up and walked out.

Luke watched as Maia walked out and said worriedly, "Mr. Tim, although this club isn't owned by Liam, it's inevitable that someone who knows Liam will come here. What if Miss Maia meets those people..."

"Don't worry. Maia isn't as stupid as you think."

Hearing this, Luke smiled embarrassedly.

Maia went to the front desk and ordered a Lafite according to Tim's request. When she was about to return to the private room, she suddenly saw a familiar figure.

It was Alexia!

Without knowing why, she followed after her.

Alexia went to another private room.

When Maia was following her at the door, she saw a few men inside. The man in the middle looked tough, with a golden chain around his neck. It seemed that he was a nouveau riche.

When Alexia went in, she said coquettishly, "Mr. Bill, your call was a surprise to me. Why in such a hurry? I had to dress up no matter what."

"You don't need to dress up."

Mr. Bill spoke in a gruff voice.

Maia realized that he wasn't local. Perhaps he was from somewhere else, like Tim.

Why did Alexia come to find this Mr. Bill?

Not long ago, Liam and his men had ambushed her and Tim. 'Why is Alexia here with this Mr. Bill?' Maia said to herself. She felt that something was wrong.

She didn't have the guts to stay, so she quickly returned to Tim's private room with the Lafite.

Tim and Luke had begun to talk about other things such as women.

Maia tugged at Tim's sleeve.

Whenever Maia was tugging at his sleeve, Tim found this woman lovely.

He smiled and asked, "What's wrong?"

"I have something to talk to you about."

Maia whispered.

At this moment, Luke had someone turn on the music and started ordering songs.

The sound of music quickly covered Maia's voice.

"What?"

Tim did not hear her clearly.

Chapter 695: It's Not Her Happiness

Tim fell to the ground, his butt aching.

"Hey, watch out, man!"

He was instantly enraged. He jumped up and wanted to teach that man a lesson.

"Tim, what are you doing?"

Right at this moment, a loud female voice came. Tim paused hearing that.

He turned around and saw Gabrielle and Nicole standing at the side looking at him. That voice came from Gabrielle.

Tim was confused.

Shouldn't they be here tomorrow?

Why were they here today?

And in a club?

Maia was especially happy when she saw Nicole. She smiled, ran over and said, "Lady Bush, what a surprise! I thought you wouldn't come here until tomorrow!"

Nicole smiled at her, then came to the man who was knocked down by Tim. She bowed apologetically to him.

"I'm sorry."

She gestured to make an apology.

Tim suddenly felt bitter.

"Nicole, I don't need you to apologize for me. It should be me who makes the apology if it's a must."

He immediately pulled Nicole behind him.

Gabrielle felt somehow helpless. She looked at Tim and Nicole. Then she helplessly smiled.

Nicole also felt helpless.

She pushed Tim away and gestured to that man, "Mr. Neil, I'm sorry. This is my friend. Anyway, nice to meet you."

With that, she extended her hand towards Neil.

Neil smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. I believe he didn't mean to hurt me. Since he is your friend, it's okay. Shall we talk in the private room?"

"Good."

Nicole instantly nodded and happily went to the private room with Neil and Gabrielle.

Tim seemed to have been ignored.

It didn't matter if it was someone else who ignored him. But the one was actually Nicole. He felt uncomfortable about being ignored by her.

"Hey, I want to go too."

Tim said as he was about to step forward, but he was directly shut out by Nicole.

"Nicole, you..."

Tim really wanted to break in, but thinking of Nicole and Gabrielle's attitude towards that Neil, he tried to calm himself down.

Perhaps they were talking about Nicole's voice?

"Hey, come on! Drink it! Why are you looking at me? You can't drink?"

Tim looked at Maia in front of him, and became annoyed due to her expression.

What was that look?

When did he need others' sympathy?

"You are gonna drink or not? Get lost if you don't drink!"

Tim roared in annoyance, and then took up a bottle of beer to drink.

Maia quickly stepped forward, grabbed Tim's hand, and whispered, "Stop drinking. Go back with me."

"You can go back if you want. Don't stop me from drinking."

Tim pushed Maia aside.

He was really heartbroken.

He had kept Nicole in his heart for so long. It was really difficult to let her go. He knew clearly that he couldn't get her love, but he had the fantasy that one day he could replace Samuel.

His heart became broken again and again for he was rejected for so many times. He thought that he was strong enough to face it. But he was wrong. The solid armor that protected his heart had cracks.

The pain crept through these cracks in the armor and went deep into his bones. It was like sulfuric acid that melted his bones. Though he was in great pain, he couldn't shout for help.

He had paid great effort to bear this pain.

He really wanted to give up. But when he thought that he couldn't see Nicole anymore, he hesitated. The pain that he couldn't see Nicole was even more unbearable than that he couldn't get her love.

Tim almost couldn't bear it.

His embarrassment was wholly showed in front of this country woman. For Tim, who was always predominant, this was really too unacceptable. However, he could not do anything to Maia.

This pain could only be resolved by alcohol.

Maybe everything tormented him would become nothing in drinking.

Tim grabbed another bottle and swilled the beer.

Maia felt sad for him.

She understood Tim's feeling because she had also crushed on someone. He made her think of that experience.

She was a country girl, but Tim was so competent and smart. How could he be in such an embarrassing situation?

Maia didn't stop Tim drinking but looked at him. Perhaps, he would go back with her when he was drunk.

When sun rose, another beautiful day would come.

Looking at Tim drinking, Alexia revealed a meaningful smile and quietly left.

Maia was covered all over with blood, but she still held Tim in coma tightly.

Alexia and her men were almost crazy. They threw whatever they could find onto Maia.

Maia was like a rag doll, and she wouldn't let go of Tim.

Nicole was greatly shocked.

The feeling of this moment was incomparably shocking.

Without saying a word, she walked forward and kicked two men away. Then, she kicked Alexia to the ground and directly stepped on her face.

"Bastard! Who is it? Who hits me? Do you know who I am? I am Liam's sister!"

Alexia was shouting while she turned around. Seeing that it was Nicole, she was slightly stunned.

It was actually Nicole?

"I know you. You are Nicole! You're Maia's boss and here to sign a contract with my brother. I'm telling you, you'd better stay out of this. Otherwise, I'll have my brother drive you out of here. My brother is the real boss here!"

Alexia was not afraid at all, and kept shouting. Thinking of that Tim loved Nicole, she became even more arrogant.

When Maia saw Nicole, she forced a smile.

"Lady Bush, you are here."

She sounded weak and blood oozed out from the corner of her mouth. Before Nicole could say anything, she fell over and fainted.

"Gabrielle!"

Nicole hurriedly gestured to Gabrielle.

Gabrielle stepped forward to check Maia's injuries.

"It's not good. There are many soft tissue contusions and there may be internal hemorrhaging. We need to send her to the hospital as soon as possible."

Gabrielle knew that Nicole was worried about Maia and said hurriedly.

Seeing that Nicole refused to let go of her, Alexia told two men beside her, "Are you dead? Can't you defeat a woman? What does Mr. Bill want with you?"

The two men who were kicked away still felt pain in their backs. They looked at horrible Nicole and took a step back.

"We're just following orders."

Nicole's gaze was as cold as a sharp sword that had just been unsheathed.

She wished she could cut these three people into pieces, but she knew that there were some things that she was not supposed to do.

Nicole kicked Alexia and she fainted. Then Nicole looked at the other two men.

They immediately turned around and ran away.

Nicole did not chase after them but booked a private room and locked Alexia in.

Gabrielle said to the waiter, "If anyone opens this room, I will kill him."

"Who is it? What are you doing in Phoenix Villa? Do you want to die?"

Liam was angry. Now that he heard such an annoying braking sound, he was irritated even more. However, as soon as he came out, he saw that the car stopped and a man opened the door and got out of the car. He walked directly towards him.

"Tim?"

Liam was suddenly amazed and then turned to run.

Tim was here for him, so how could he escape?

Tim pressed the front part of the car with one hand and jumped over. He jumped right in front of Liam and beat him without saying a word.

"Mr. Tim, I can explain!"

Tim beat him so hard that Liam hurriedly dodged and wanted to stall for time. But Tim simply didn't show him any mercy and punched him on his nose.

It hurt! Liam howled, but before he could react, Tim hit him again.

He treated Liam like a sandbag.

When he thought of Maia's bloody wounds, he was so angry that his nerves were jangling.

How could Alexia be so lawless if it wasn't for such a bully as her big brother?

Tim thought that he was powerful enough. He even wanted to watch them fight amongst themselves and take time to torture Liam and Alexia to death. However, he did not expect that his bad mood and his carelessness would push Maia into such a situation.

Alexia deserved to die, and Liam was even more unforgivable. And he himself also was to blame.

He would get it back one by one.

The surrounding people were simply scared.

At first, Liam was still wailing, but then he gradually fell silent. The only thing he could do was breathing in and out.

Liam, who had always been domineering and arrogant here for many years, was actually hit so hard by Tim who was bare-handed. The surrounding bodyguards and his people didn't dare to take a step forward to help him.

Tim's cold gaze swept across the crowd. Everyone took a step back, not wanting to provoke him.

Seeing that they submitted defeat, Tim said coldly, "Blood for blood. I am here for Liam. Who are the two men that followed Alexia to the Conta Club not long ago? Stand out! Otherwise, I'll find you and this will be your end."

Hearing that, everyone shivered.

"They're not here. They are Mr. Bill's men."

"Who is Mr. Bill?"

Tim was so angry that he was determined to get down to the bottom of this.

"Mr. Bill is a person behind Mr. Liam. He is very powerful. It is said that he has something to do with the border."

Tim frowned and said coldly, "Do you have any photos of them?"

"I do."

"Maia will be fine. Don't worry."

Nicole gestured.

"Fine? She's basically drenched in blood."

Tim sat on the bench, battered out of his senses.

He clutched his hair and kept pulling it.

How could he be drunk?

How could he leave Maia facing all this alone?

But it was too late now, no matter how much he regretted it.

Tim was so guilty, while Nicole didn't have a good time, either. She wanted to set Maia up with Tim, but now that Maia was like this, she was so sorry, despite that she knew that it had nothing to do with her.

Gabrielle didn't know how to comfort them, so he could only wait there quietly.

As time passed, the lights in the emergency room finally went out.

Yet, Tim was somehow a little scared.

Neil looked at them as he came out, and whispered, "The patient's not very well now."

"How is she?"

Tim asked hurriedly.

He could feel that his hands were trembling, so was his heart.

Nicole also looked at Neil, nervous.

Neil sighed and said, "The patient suffers multiple fractures. Three ribs were broken, and serious congestion is detected all over the body. Fortunately, she was delivered in time. Otherwise, it is very likely that the blood may press her nerve and cause much worse effects. But, most importantly, the patient's uterus is injured."

"What did you say?"

Tim and Nicole opened their eyes wide on hearing this.

"Neil, is that a confirmed diagnosis?"

Gabrielle was also at a loss.

Neil nodded and said regretfully, "Whoever did this was so ruthless. Uterus is the most vulnerable part of a woman. From the looks of it, it may take a long time to recover, which of course, could only be achieved by applying traditional Chinese massage and acupuncture. Western medicine, I assume, may not work. As for how long it will take, I cannot be sure. Maybe a couple of months, or about a year, or perhaps even longer. And it is possible that when her uterus finally recovers, she's already passed her child-bearing age. That's why I need to see her immediate relatives. I need them to sign on some papers."

Tim was completely dumbfounded.

He knew better than anyone how important uterus is to a woman.

Maia had not been married, and she didn't even have a boyfriend. The best of her life was still yet to come; but now she ended up like this just because of him, a douchebag.

No matter how sorry and regretful he felt, he couldn't turn back time.

Tim's silence broke Nicole's heart.

She took out her phone to look for Maia's info, but found that Maia didn't leave any number of her immediate family.

Tim froze.

He looked at Gabrielle for a long time and then said, "I'm unmarried and so is she. What does it have to do with you if I want to marry her or pursue her?"

"But you don't love her. We all know who is the one in your heart."

"Time is the best healer and maybe one day I can make room for her. Gabrielle, this is between me and her. Please don't interfere."

Tim's voice was not loud, but he was very serious.

Gabrielle was surprised.

"Have you decided to give up Nicole?"

"Do I have any other choice? This will be unfair to Maia if I don't do so."

Then he went to the bathroom again.

Watching as Tim walked away, Gabrielle suddenly realized that she had not known Tim well.

Everyone thought that Tim was a playboy and Gabrielle used to think that Tim had had deep feelings for Nicole, but she hadn't expected that Tim would make such a choice now.

Tim didn't care what Gabrielle was thinking as he took out hot water and towels to wipe Maia's face and arms.

Gabrielle was really surprised.

When had Tim, who had always been lofty, ever done anything for others? Apart from Nicole, Gabrielle had never seen Tim treat anyone so gently and considerately.

Perhaps he and Maia were really destined for each other.

"Neil said that Maia's condition is uncertain, so it might not be that serious. However, it's too early to say so. After all, she hasn't received any treatment yet."

"I know. I've got myself all psyched up. Actually, I don't really care if I can have my own children or not. I just care about her."

Gabrielle had never expected him to say so.

"Don't worry. She's safe now."

"Thank you, but we'd better hide it from Maia. You know, Maia is still a young girl. She still has a lot of longings for the future. I don't want to ruin her fantasies. Perhaps she can be cured one day, and then everything will be fine."

Gabrielle hurriedly nodded.

"I see. I will tell Neil. By the way, Nicole and I may have to leave. Now that Maia is in hospital, we are thinking about suspending the cooperation project for now."

"Maia is a responsible person. What she wants most is to do this project well. Because Nicole praises her and values her, she thinks that she has to do her best to work for Nicole, at least in her own familiar field. You guys go. I know that you're not here to talk about the cooperation project. You're here for Samuel, right? Now that Nicole has found Neil, she must be much more at ease. I want to stay to take care of Maia. If she wants to seize the market of the tourism industry here, I will help her, in which way I'm kind of helping Nicole, too."

Tim knew well what they were doing here. He hadn't pointed it out because he used to think that in this way Nicole would treat him better. Now that it had turned out like this and he had already made a choice, he would rather get straight to the point.

Gabrielle looked at Tim seriously for the first time and whispered, "Tim, I have to say that was impressive."

"Thank you, but I didn't do this to please anyone. I just want Maia to be happy."

Then he opened the door. It was obvious that he was suggesting Gabrielle to leave.

This was the first time that Gabrielle had been unwanted. She couldn't help but feel a little upset, and at the same time, she was happy for Maia.
