

Escape Wife 71

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 71: Is This the Reason That You Defeat Me?

Jacob saw Swift's panicked eyes and said blankly, "Miss George made a mistake, and Mr. Green sent Miss George back to reflect on herself. During this span, Miss George's expenses will no longer be paid by the Green Family. If Miss George still couldn't understand what she had done, according to Mr. Green, Miss George would not be permitted to go back. The junior Mr. Green is now grown up, Mr. Green will teach him personally, so we don't bother you. Now that I have delivered her to you, Mrs. Jerry, I will leave first."

Having said this, Jacob turned away without any hesitation.

Swift was completely shocked.

How did that happen?

She slapped Riley in her face.

"What the hell have you done that make Samuel so angry? Don't you know that he is our main finance support? It's been five years, you haven't been able to be Mrs Green, and now you even make Samuel disgust you. What the hell are you doing in these five years?"

Swift's slap was very heavy. Riley was unprepared and fell directly to the ground.

She was so aggrieved, and she immediately started crying.

"I didn't do anything! For the past five years, I have been careful. I have done everything for you and for the George Family! But what did I get? Samuel didn't treat me sincerely in his heart! He never looked at me seriously. You thought he loved me and cherished me when I was pregnant with a child and he took me back to Green Family. In the past five years, you were very happy with the allowance of Green Family and the filial piety I gave you. Do you even care how I live the past five years? Samuel has never touched me neither even let me enter his room! I gave birth to Joseph, heir to the Green Family, but until now, they still call me Miss George, not Mrs. Green! Have you asked me what I was doing in the past five years? Did you forget that I am your daughter, not your cash cow?"

Riley couldn't help crying, as if she was really aggrieved.

Swift had never seen Riley like this.

She had always known that her daughter was the most self-reliant one in the family. She never had to tell anybody what she wanted, because she originally had a very clear goal. But now such a decadent, so wronged Riley, Was she really her daughter?

Was she the one who eager to come back and told her that she was going to marry the Green Family and bring their family with a beautiful future?

Swift was completely stunned. It took a while to come back to reality.

"I just slap you when I am really angry. Why are you really crying? You are a mother, what will other people think of you if they see this? Get up and tell me, what the hell is going on?"

Swift lifted up Riley and helped her sit on the sofa.

Being comforted by her mother, she felt even more wronged, but she also knew that she had to tell Swift her current situation and let Jerry help her figure a way out.

When she told Swift everything, Swift frowned tightly.

"You didn't check who that Catherine was and where she came from?"

"Zama!"

Nicole wanted to explain to Zama, but Zama only left her a decisive back.

It seemed that Zama was really offended.

Nicole sighed, not knowing how to deal with Samuel's self-proclaimed decisions.

She came to the kitchen and planned to get some food by herself, but there was nothing in the kitchen and the refrigerator was empty.

How could the huge Green Family have no spare ingredients?

The only explanation is that Zama started to target at her, and she really would not allow her stay at this house.

Nicole felt a little speechless.

She took out her mobile phone and ordered a takeaway on the phone.

While waiting for the takeaway, Nicole continued to conceive the design in the living room.

The concept of Samuel was actually quite close to hers. At least they were mainly based on safety performance and beautiful appearance. Nowadays, the sports car market was very competitive, and with the increase in people's income level, people's demand for cars had also increased, the cars were not only the previous mobility tools, but also the comfort and diverse tools showing off for their personality.

Nicole knew that Green Family's auto industry is aimed at young people. Naturally, its appearance also needed to be gorgeous and stylish, but now there were limited elements in the car. It was not easy to innovate.

She thought hard and drew a few manuscripts aside, and when she planned to pick up for reading, the manuscripts were gone. Missed?

Nicole frowned slightly.

This was the house of the Green Family. It was simply impossible for someone despicable to come in and steal paintings.

Nicole looked around and found Zama standing not far away and watering flowers. Her brow furrowed slightly.

"Zama, have you seen my scripts?"

Nicole walked over in a wheelchair and asked very peacefully.

But Zama didn't seem to hear Nicole's words. She kept watering those flowers as if Nicole was not here, she didn't care about Nicole at all.

This was also the first time Nicole had been treated coldly by Zama in the Green Family.

Thinking about the previous Zama, she was so kind and gentle. But now? Did she change? Or did Zama change? Their position was completely different from the beginning.

Nicole took a deep look at Zama and said, "You can look down on me or set me up, but that's the design drawings Samuel needs. You are wrong if you think this can make me awkward in front of Samuel. Without Samuel and the Eternal Group, I can also go back to the United States to be the designer of the H'J GROUP. It has no effect on me, but if Samuel loses this order, you know how much Eternal Group will lose"

Having finished speaking, Nicole pushed the wheelchair back to the room regardless of Zama's reaction.

Zama's face was embarrassed, but she was also hesitating.

When the delivery person arrived, Nicole pushed the wheelchair out to pick up the takeaway, and saw her artwork safely placed in the original position.

She glanced at Zama. Zama was still busy, as if she didn't know about it, but Nicole knew that Zama hadn't changed her attitude toward Samuel.

Chapter 73: Mr. Louis, Please Be Reasonable

Originally Nicole planned to calm down, and did not plan to have any conflict with the previous people. Moreover, she did not want to make enemies, but apparently Zama did not think so.

After changing her face, it seemed that she had changed her identity. Zama no longer treated her as a wife of the Green family, but treated her as if she was a slut woman taken by Samuel from outside.

Petty still want to say something, but was stopped by Nicole.

"Zama, I forgot to tell you. I called Samuel just now, and I haven't hung up yet."

With that saying, Nicole put the phone in her pocket, turned around and pushed the wheelchair back to the room.

Zama was dumbfounded.

What?

Mr. Green heard everything she said?

Zama was tense instantly.

She quickly called Samuel, but Samuel's cell phone was always busy.

Zama was completely scared.

Damn!

Samuel would definitely blame her.

This abominable Catherine was really so bitchy!

Zama stared at Nicole's back bitterly, her vicious eyes were not concealing at all.

Nicole didn't care, as long as she won't be disturbed temporarily.

Petty went to cook at Nicole's instructions.

Samuel had not returned to the Green Family since that day and seems to have been sleeping in the company.

After ten days of salvation by the Eternal Group, those losses were reduced to a minimum, and Samuel had gotten a huge bill for the company, which directly pulled back the loss of data leakage, leaving the shareholders of the board had no excuse to blame him.

After ten days of recuperation, Nicole's legs were recovered. After the doctor's reexamination, the doc said they were all good.

During these ten days, although the Green Family seemed calm on the surface, Nicole knew that Petty and Zama had secretly made many moves, but unfortunately the two were evenly matched, and no one could suppress the other.

For Nicole, this had no effect on her.

This kid was tanned, but he had become much more outgoing, and she could tell that he liked the special training over there, and Joseph had also followed Lucas

Now that he could finally get rid of the wheelchair, Nicole was very happy. She couldn't wait to get out and breathe some fresh air.

Chapter 74: A Conspiracy Designed for Her

Petty and Tim didn't know how, their fight start to engage other people. An old lady suddenly fell to the side of the road.

The old woman exclaimed, and the whole person fell to the ground, trembling, and it seemed that the situation was very bad.

Petty was completely stunned.

Tim frowned slightly and said to the old lady, "Hey, don't feign injury! We didn't touch you."

Petty now realized what happened. She and Tim did not touch the old lady. Why did she fall down?

Nicole walked over quickly.

"Ms. Bush, don't come over!"

Petty quickly spoke, but still a step late.

The old lady hugged Nicole's leg and cried aloud.

"Hey! I was hit! I was hit! This woman asked her to hurt me and wanted to escape. Is there any justice in this world!"

The old lady was so strong that they couldn't tell she was injured, but she was so dying just now.

Nicole later realized that this really meet a fake injury guy.

But she didn't hug Tim and Petty, why did she hug herself?

Nicole wanted to pull out her leg, but the old lady was so hugged that she couldn't help it.

"Old lady, I wasn't here just now. You can't blame me for this?"

Nicole actually dislikes such people. If she had known she was that kind of people, she would not just come.

The old lady said arrogantly, "It's you, it's you who hit me! Hey, my chest hurts, she hurts me!"

Because of the old lady's shouting, a large number of passers-by were attracted around them. They pointed at Nicole, making Nicole very mad.

"Old lady, it's not too shameful for you to do this kind of thing? Say, how much do you need to let go of me?"

Nicole had no choice but to blame this for bad luck, intending to use money to solve this. Unexpectedly, the old lady shouted louder.

"Have everyone heard? This woman wanted to use money to make me shut up! As an old lady, I has been beaten to the ground and couldn't get up. She didn't want send me to the hospital. She wanted to humiliate me with money. Just kill me, you bitch!"

Although that was said, the old lady had no plans to let go or seek death.

Petty had never experienced such a thing, and for a time she panicked.

Nicole felt that she didn't check out her luck today. Why did he encounter such a terrible thing?

She just wanted to say something, but saw a figure rushing directly over her, kicking it on the old lady's chest.

"You damn moron, trying to blackmail us with you age and identity and you don't buy us your money. Don't you say that someone kicking your chest? I am kicking, what's the matter?"

Chapter 75: Are You Agreed My pursue?

Nicole still felt uneasy after she got on the plane. She always felt that it was not that simple.

She hadn't been out for many days. Although when she was at the Green Family, she is not very close to Zama these days, but life is still OK, after all, there is Petty. But today she encountered such a situation as soon as she went out to breathe some fresh air. Was it really a coincidence?

And the old lady was obviously coming towards her.

If she did not go there, it is estimated that the old lady would also find a way to blackmail her. But she had no impression on that old lady. Who want to hurt her?

Moreover, in this era, if you really encounter a person who tried to use fake crash to blackmail you, as long as you treated it sincerely and was willing to pay her, there should not be too much entanglement, but why did she still feel there was something wrong?

Nicole's mind was a little messy, her brows were tight, and she couldn't think of anyone.

Tim glanced at her and asked with a smile, "Beauty, what do you think? Isn't a man so handsome like me to be around you enough to attract your attention?"

Nicole's thoughts were pulled back by him, and she whispered, "I always think this thing was strange today."

"Well, it's really strange. Do you know the identity of the old lady?"

When Tim said this, Nicole felt even more wrong.

"You know?"

"I just learned that after the incident, and let my people checked the old lady. I took a picture of her. This is the information. You can see it for yourself."

Tim raised his hand and threw his phone to Nicole.

It's common sense that it was not possible to turn on a mobile phone on an aircraft, because there would be signal interference, but she didn't know how Tim handled it. Actually, the aircraft was not affected at all.

For his own safety, Nicole quickly opened the screen, going through those lines, but she was shocked after reading it.

"That old lady turned out to be the mother of an executive?"

"Correct!"

Tim was also quite surprised.

He thought it was an old lady who tried to blackmail them. It was a big deal to lose money after he kicked her. After seeing the identity of the old lady, Tim was tragic.

This was not something that money can solve. He was afraid his dad can break his leg this time.

Obviously, Nicole was also aware of this problem.

"Sorry, I bother you."

Although she hasn't been with Tim for a long time, Nicole thinks he is very good man. He is more arrogant, but he has a clear view of love and hate. He doesn't pretend on what he likes, and who doesn't like. She was happy to know him, but she didn't expect that Tim would be involved in such trouble one day.

Nicole looked at it suddenly, but she still couldn't see clearly in the sky, she can only vaguely saw red dots flickering.

"What is that?"

"UV protection system! It's not easy for us to land, but Samuel should have told the people inside you are coming? With you, we shouldn't have to break in."

Tim started to look for the landing point.

Nicole looked at Tim carefully.

He and Samuel were two types of men, but they were all handsome. If Samuel was calm and restrained and indifferent, then Tim was outgoing and enthusiastic. Both of them had their own benefits, but Tim and Samuel were not ordinary people. Although he looked happily on the surface even little careless, he was quite reliable.

"Do you know Samuel well?"

"Of course, from a little hostile to now, how could I don't know him, I know him better than Samuel himself."

Tim said triumphantly.

Nicole felt that he was exaggerating.

"Bullshit, if you really got to know him, how could you still be crushed by him for so many years?"

Tim was angry when he heard this.

"What makes me crushed by him? I tell you, Samuel is too insidious. Don't look at him like a gentleman. In fact, his heart is more ruthless than anyone, darker than anyone. You don't know, when this little bastard lost his wife five years ago, and that's when he knew that he had fell in love with his wife. I've never seen him look so decadent and desperate, but I can see him acting like this in my life, I don't think my struggle was in vain."

Nicole frowned slightly when he heard Tim.

"Do you know his wife?"

She can't remember Tim five years ago. Although she has heard it all the time, since she married Samuel, she barely stayed out of the house. She has been around Samuel all day long. She especially had no understanding and contact with people around him.

But what did she hear from Tim just now?

He said that Samuel actually fell in love with her wife?

How can this be?

Nicole thought Tim was exaggerated.

Tim smiled and said, "Of course I know his wife, that's a silly woman!"

He also shook his head.

"She was really silly."

Nicole was bitter.

Even the outsiders could see the folly of her, it's enough to see how humble she was five years ago.

the bitterness flashing through Nicole's face. He followed her words, "You don't know, the woman didn't leave the house all day. But she still thought about Samuel. For no reason they had been married for three years but they had no children. It has been rumored that Samuel was forced to marry her because he didn't love his wife, so he didn't touch his wife. Samuel rushed like crazy to get in there, almost burned himself to death, I heard that his lungs were hurt at that time, which was very bad. Later, Mrs. Green came back and forced him to visit the doctor. Samuel finally got a little bit better, it seemed that the whole person's soul was lost, and he did not go to the company. Nicole certainly knew what Macon Joe thought of her. She was too familiar with this kind of look. She also knew that Macon Joe was bound to tell Samuel everything here, but so what?

She didn't care it at all.

Although Samuel was dealing with the mess for her now, that's because he owed her and their children. All of these couldn't be compensated by these things.

Nicole turned to look at Macon Joe and asked lightly, "Where is Lucas Bush?"

Samuel told the soldiers about the situation in advance, and specifically told them to focus on training Lucas Bush. So, when Nicole asked about Lucas Bush, Macon Joe said without hesitation, "In the camp, please follow me."

Nicole followed Macon Joe and left.

"Beauty, don't forget me!"

Tim said with a sad face, and the expression just made Nicole didn't know whether she should cry or laugh, as if she was really an ungrateful, irresponsible person.

"Got it, hurry back, Samuel may want to go against you."

Nicole waved her hand and turned away.

Tim's eyes narrowed.

Samuel would not give up the opportunity to set him up!

Now that such a good opportunity was in front of him, he would definitely let the trouble go to someone else...

Although he had thought about this for a long time, Tim did not regret it.

He looked at Nicole and smiled.

This favor was what Nicole owed him, the worse he was, the more Nicole would be sympathetic with him.

Tim turned and took out the phone and called his secretary.

"How is the situation at the Seapolis City?"

He asked casually, but the expression in his eyes was very serious and condensed.

The secretary heard Tim's voice and whispered, "Mr. Louis, please come back quickly. The master is very angry now. Many people said that they saw you kicking Mrs. Don, and now the Don Family came to us and threaten the master to surrender you. This matter is not easy to deal with. You know, the Don Family is a hero family of the three generations. We, the Louis Family, can't afford to offend them. How can you..."

Although the secretary didn't say anything later, Tim also understood.

When he kicked that old lady, he didn't expect that such an old lady who came out to blackmail them was actually the old lady of the Don Family, a character similar to the ancient Hera.

The people of Don Family were loyal, and all the males had sacrificed their lives for the country. There was only one little son with a broken leg be the heir of the Don Family. And this legendary Mr. Don had served the family for three generation. Why would she do such a horrible thing?

And it seemed that she was coming for Nicole!

Tim frowned tightly.

Joseph didn't expect Nicole to ask himself, but he nodded subconsciously, "My mum is very busy, and she only treats me a little bit better when Daddy returns home, she will never act like you. And she never hugged me like this. Auntie, can you hug me?"

With saying, Joseph stretched his arm towards Nicole.

This time Nicole froze.

Why was it so awkward to be asked to hug by the son of enemy?

Before she made a move, Lucas Bush turned him down for her.

"Hello, Joseph, what are you doing? This is my mummy! My mummy's arms belong to me only, don't think about it, and get out of here."

Lucas Bush pushed Joseph aside.

Joseph's small mouth grumbled and said, "You are my good friend, and your mommy is my mommy. What's wrong with hugging?"

"Hey, what the hell is 'my mommy is your mommy'? You are not a poor kid without mommy, go home to find your mommy if you want to hug her. My mommy is mine!"

Lucas Bush finished hugging Nicole tightly. It seemed that he was really afraid that Nicole would be taken away by Joseph. The nervousness made Nicole touched again.

"Okay, Joseph is just playing with you. Don't be so stingy with your friend."

Nicole comforted Lucas Bush, and unexpectedly she didn't feel awkward about Joseph.

After all, he was just a child, isn't he?

Lucas Bush hugged her thigh tightly and said, "No! Although you are my friend, it's impossible to share everything. Mommy is mine, and I won't let anyone touch you!"

Looking at Lucas Bush's possessive look, Nicole laughed.

"Well, that's fine."

Lucas Bush smiled.

Joseph said bitterly, "Lucas is so stingy."

"I'm stingy, so what's the matter? Beat me if you are pissed! If I win, I will let my Mommy hug you."

Lucas Bush provoked Joseph particularly arrogantly.

As soon as Nicole was about to speak of the thinking of solidarity and friendship, he heard Joseph snort and said, "Come on and fight, do you think I am afraid of you? Come on!"

He rolled up his sleeves directly, yelling and ran towards Lucas Bush.

Nicole was a little ignorant.

What's the matter with fighting?

Aren't they brothers?

"Lucas, Joseph."

Nicole wanted to stop, but Lucas Bush let go.

"Mommy, you just look at us. You can check out my training results over the past few days."

Chapter 79: You Still Have a Chance

"I have a plan of this. You are weak. Don't confront Samuel. I involved you with this matter. After returning to the Seapolis City, Olivia, please find another job. I'm afraid he will do something to you.'

This was what Nicole was worried about.

Olivia Kent smiled and said, "I'm not afraid of him, it's a big deal to give him my life, and the Seapolis City is not really under his control."

Seeing Olivia Kent didn't care so much, Nicole was still worried and wanted to say something, but Olivia Kent stopped her.

"Okay, you are my best friend. When I was in college, if you did not sponsor me, now I dont know where the hell I am working in. Without you, I won't have my life today. Say no more. I know what I am doing. Take care of yourself and I will be just fine."

Nicole was immediately moved.

When she was still unmarried at the time, she was still a girl in the Bush Family. At first, she just felt that Olivia Kent's life is too difficult and she decided to help her, but did not expect to get the best girlfriend in this life.

If it was not because she fell in love with Samuel, and if it was not because of the scandal that happened eight years ago, she damaged her family's reputation, then she would not be cast out by the Bush family. She would not be so isolated after marrying into Green Family.

It's too late to say anything now.

The Bush family no longer had a room for her.

The fire happened five years ago broke all her connections with the Bush Family, and now thought of it, Nicole was very distressed.

She once abandoned everything for love, but now she had nothing and lost the children's health. She really regretted all this.

Olivia Kent took her hand tightly and whispered, "Don't be sad, I know you are thinking about the Bush Family, but your parents are not so cold-hearted. The fire shocked the whole Seapolis City five years ago. But the most broadcasted news was that you have attempted to elope with another man and buried yourself in flames.

Although your father had claimed he has cut the relationship with you, they often went to the cemetery in recent years. I heard your mother bought a piece in the cemetery, a burial mound has been erected for you, and they visit it every year. They have grown old a lot in recent years. If you have a chance, you can visit them.'

Nicole's tears could no longer be suppressed.

In the past five years abroad, the most helpless five years in her life. In fact, she thought of her mother the most.

She used to be a lady of the Bush family. She was spoiled by her parents, but because of the relationship with Samuel at the banquet being exposed to the media.

She never had a chance to claim herself.

The Bush Family was a well-known family, and a scholarly family. It was absolutely impossible for such a thing to happen.

She understood her parents, but there was no way to make time go back.

If she could know that the love she insisted on was now all broken, she would never marry into the Green Family so resolutely.

Now all the regrets couldn't make up for the harm to their parents.

Nicole couldn't help crying while holding Olivia Kent.

"Olivia, I miss them, I really miss them. But if you look at me now, even if I stand in front of them, they won't recognize me. I'm not a filial daughter, my parents have only one daughter, but I let them suffer the pain of letting the elder watch the youngster dies. People like me are simply not worthy of being children.'

Chapter 80: You Attribute a Dog

Lucas Bush was a little unhappy.

Why Joseph was so troublesome after the mom comes?

"Mommy, you are mine!"

Lucas Bush hugged Nicole's arm tightly, making Nicole somewhat speechless.

"Mommy has always been yours, but don't you think Joseph lacks love?"

"That has nothing to do with us, he has his mummy!"

Lucas Bush knew who Joseph's mother was, and she had no interest in that woman.

Seeing him like this, Nicole didn't say anything.

Olivia Kent took Nicole and Lucas Bush to the cafeteria for launch.

Nicole didn't know what the so-called extra meal was. Until he saw Joseph giving Lucas Bush two big chicken legs unwillingly, he kept staring at the big chicken legs as if he could eat them just by staring like this.

Lucas Bush took it with carelessness and put it in Nicole's bowl. He proudly said, "Mommy, your son has earned them for you.

Eat it quickly. There will be only such a delicious meal at noon in one day."

He said that he took a big bite of chicken drumstick, and his mouth was full of oil.

Joseph couldn't help but swallow his rice.

Although he was the heir of the Green Family, the Green Family was not lack of chicken leg, but after coming here, in addition to the chicken leg at noon, he couldn't even stand the meal here. The food here couldn't be simpler, and the taste was not as good and delicious as the cook made at home.

He thought that the big chicken legs at noon could temporarily satisfy his appetite, but since he has been here, Lucas Bush had bullied him in various ways and dominated his chicken legs. He had been more and more frustrated and brave, but today he was really hungry.

Looking at Joseph's greedy face, Nicole smiled and handed the chicken legs in his bowl to Joseph.

"Eat."

Joseph was stunned, and subconsciously looked at Lucas Bush.

Lucas Bush frowned tightly.

"Mommy, this is what I earned for you. Besides, he admitted that he lost the game."

"Lucas, you have to learn about how to forgive people. Although Mummy knows that you are inspiring Joseph, but the oppressive suppression is not the behavior of a wise person. It should be relaxed and generous. Moreover, this is a chicken leg given to me by you. Mommy has the right to distribute it freely, isn't it?"

Nicole didn't want to spoil Joseph. After all, he was the son of Riley, but she was soft-hearted.

Looking at Joseph's longing eyes, she seemed to see Zoe.

The same charming eyes, similar appearance, but different lives and fate, this may be the arrangement of God, but how innocent was the child?

Nicole's words silenced Lucas Bush.

Joseph also looked at Lucas Bush, as if he didn't speak, he wouldn't eat chicken legs, although he wanted to eat it.

After a while, Lucas Bush whispered, "My mummy gave it to you, you can eat it, but your training today will increase by one hour. You can't match my physical fitness, you can only work hard. No heirs can be wayward or lazy."

"Yes!"

and holding Nicole coquettishly and saying, "Auntie, thank
