Chapter 731 How Could One Be So Vicious

"No! Tim, no!"

Maia had never hated herself like today for she was powerless to help.

If she were good at fighting, she wouldn't be his burden.

Without him, Tim could have handled these people and avoid being hurt.

But now, Tim bore all these and did not fight back. Even in the case, he looked at her tenderly. Maia couldn't help but burst into tears.

"Don't cry, Maia. Don't cry."

Tim still looked at her gently.

Maia cried and felt hard to breath. She saw Tim fell down, bleeding and twitching. But she could do nothing to help her.

"Stop it! Stop! He will die if you continue! Stop! Please stop!"

Maia struggled to get rid of the man and even bit his wrist. She didn't care if the knife would cut her face. As the blood was spattered, she could feel her skin burning.

All of a sudden, she hit into the man with her head.

The man felt dizzy and almost fell.

He didn't expect a woman could hit him so hard.

Maia broke free from the man's control and immediately crouched down to pick up the phone. Then she immediately called the police.

"Hurry up. We are in the underground parking lot of Hengyu Avenue. They are killing him."

Maia cried out, her voice echoing throughout the parking lot.

They were beating Tim in their excitement. Hearing Maia talking with the police, they stopped and glowered at her.

The man who had controlled Maia before suddenly cried out.

"What are you looking at? We should go!"

"But this bitch..."

"We were ordered to kill this man, not the woman. We should go now!"

Scarcely had he fled away when he said that.

Maia ran up to Tim at once. Looking at Tim who was in a pool of blood, she cried her eyes out.

"Tim, are you alright? Answer me. Please!"

Only then did she realize that she had been deep in love with Tim.

Maybe she fell for him when Tim protected her from being hurt by Liam's people or even earlier before.

Maia had no idea. But she felt so heartbreaking that she could hardly breathe.

Tim felt that every part of his body hurt.

Though not clear about the injury, he could feel his ribs were broken and his lungs were severely injured.

Nicole answered the phone immediately.

"Lucas, did you find anything?"

Hearing Nicole's voice, Lucas paused and said, "Mommy, are you in the hospital? How's Uncle Tim?"

"Not good, but he has transferred to the intensive care unit. How is the thing Daddy asked you to do going?"

Although Nicole was anxious, she could not press Lucas too hard.

Lucas hurriedly answered, "I found out that the car belongs to Jase."

"Jase!"

Nicole looked at Samuel with anger.

Jase was just an emerald tycoon. If it was because of business, Jase didn't have to do this to Tim, right?

"I see. Lucas, stay out of this. Mommy and Daddy will handle it. You and Uncle Blair need to be safe. Do you understand?"

"Got it, Mommy. You and Samuel should also pay attention."

"Alright."

After Nicole hung up the phone, she frowned.

"What's wrong? What did Lucas say?"

"It's Jase. But it's just a business. Why would he do this? Is there something we don't know?"

Nicole asked.

Samuel pondered for a moment and said, "We can ask Maia. Perhaps we can get some clues."

Nicole nodded and went to the ward with Samuel.

Tim, who used to be alive and kicking, was lying there motionlessly.

Not long ago, it was Samuel lying on the hospital bed, but now it turned to Tim.

Nicole felt that she should go burn incense and worship gods. Why would the people around her always be in trouble?

Seeing Nicole enter, Maia hurriedly stood up and asked, "Lady Bush, how's it going?"

"Is there any grudge between Tim and Jase? Do you know about that?"

Maia was shocked by Nicole's question.

"Jase? Are you saying that it was Jase who caused trouble for us and beat Tim?"

"The car is his. As for whether it was planned by him or not, we haven't investigated it yet. We want to know that is there any personal grudge between Tim and Jase?"

"No, if there's one, it's because of me."

Maia bit her lips and told them what Tim had guessed about Jase, including the cause of her parents' death and the encrypted information Lucas had given her.

Nicole frowned slightly.

Samuel said in a low voice, "Tim is still that arrogant. He is not in the Seapolis City now! Did he really think he is the king? He is just messing around."

Nicole's tone was tough. Maia softened her tone for that.

"Lady Bush, of course, I need your help. Tim is your friend. And he has done a lot for you, hasn't he? Now he's like this. You can't sit back and do nothing."

Maia's words made Nicole so angry that she laughed.

"Maia, isn't this interesting? On the one hand, you want me to stay away from Tim and stop contacting him. You can't even let me stay in the same city with him. But on the other hand, you want me to handle Tim's affairs. Do you know you are contradicting yourself? Besides, why is Tim lying there? Is it because of me? And do you have the right to ask me to do anything for Tim? As a matter of fact, Tim didn't even tell me what your relationship is. Do you have the qualification to ask me to leave this place? You have no ability. But you want me to be quite distinct from Tim. If you ask me, I suggest that you stop dragging Tim into your shit!"

After Nicole said this, she turned around and left.

Maia was mad!

Words failed Maria for a long time. After Nicole left the ward, she threw the vase to the ground, which cracked on the ground.

Nicole disliked Maia more.

Not long after Samuel went out, he found that his wallet was on Nicole. So he went back. When he arrived, he saw Nicole sulking in the corridor alone. He was shocked.

"What's wrong? Why are you here?"

"I'm so angry!"

Nicole felt aggrieved the moment she saw Samuel.

"What kind of attitude is that?"

She told Samuel what Maia had said. Suddenly, she saw the edge of a dress by the door.

It was Maia's dress!

She was eavesdropping!

Out of anger, Nicole said loudly, "Let's leave Tim's affairs alone. It's his business. Someone is accusing me of stealing her boyfriend! Since she has asked us to leave here, why should we stay? Why are you looking for Jase? We have our own things to deal with! Let's go home! Lucas is waiting for us."

After saying that, Nicole held Samuel's hand and left.

Maia was anxious.

"Lady Bush, don't leave. What about Tim? You can't just leave like that!"

"Are you kidding? He is your boyfriend. And he got injured because of you! Why should I stay for him? You hate to see me having any contact with him. Isn't this what you want? Also, this money is to cover Tim's medical fee. It's not your salary. And you don't need to work in my company anymore. Since soon you will be Tim's wife, you should work in Tim's company after he wakes up. As for your salary, don't worry, I'll pay you triple wages. That's it. Goodbye."

After saying that, Nicole left with Samuel angrily.

Maia wanted to catch them up. But after some consideration, she didn't do that.

Chapter 734 He Couldn't Be More Jealous

"Mrs. Green, what is it?"

"We'd better keep it a secret. You can go ask Maia."

Nicole grinned as she took the two emeralds. She seemed to be so hooked that she even couldn't put them down.

"Mr. Jase, I'll take them."

"Just take them. I gift them to you."

"No. We agreed that we'll trade gifts."

Nicole smirked, amusement dancing in her eyes.

Seeing Nicole acting, Samuel couldn't help but grin as well. His gaze of affection was always fixed on Nicole.

Jase could tell that he was flattering them right.

Since Samuel doted on Nicole so much, he wouldn't have to worry about their cooperation anymore. These two emeralds paid off.

Jase was mentally rejoiced. He still remembered the treasure that Nicole left with Maia. Perhaps it was more valuable than these two emeralds. After all, Nicole, Samuel's wife, should take something equivalent.

Just as Jase was wondering what it was, Samuel asked, "Mr. Jase, I heard that you are a retired soldier as well."

"Yes. But I'm incomparable to you. You are of noble birth. And I started from scratch. Compared with you, my business is like a small trick."

Jase's words brought Samuel a faint smile.

"Don't mention it. We're the same. Mr. Jase, you know, my wife is fond of these stones. So, I hope we'll have a chance to collaborate. I heard we can gamble on stones here. Why not have fun together?"

Samuel's suggestion fit in exactly with Jase's wishes.

"Of course, but Mr. Green, you know, gambling on stones depends on luck. Especially now that there are few rough stones, whether you can succeed is not decided by money. You might have to be mentally prepared."

Jase stated, afraid that Samuel would be irked by failing to get emerald.

But Nicole replied with a smile, "Mr. Jase, you know, money is the only thing that we can't use up now. The oil fields in Eastern Europe can even support hundreds of people to live for decades. Even if we fail in gambling, so what? Just have fun."

She appeared to be a woman who wasted money as a hobby.

Jase took a quick glance at Samuel. But Samuel was still gazing at Nicole with full affection. He felt somewhat envious.

Sure enough, he who had wealth spoke louder than others.

"Mrs. Green, you are really straightforward."

"That's right. Compared with the treasure I left with Maia, the money spending on gambles is like a hair of a bull's back. Isn't that right, honey?"

Honey? Samuel felt even his spine was melting.

"Yes."

Blinking, he fixed his eyes on Nicole, wishing he could fill her.

Nicole hurried to avoid his gaze, then turned to Jase, "There's no time like the present. Mr. Jase, why don't we gamble on stones now?"

"Mr. Green...?"

"Miss Maia, stop your lies. Mrs. Green already said that the treasures here are priceless."

"That was nonsense. She didn't give me any treasures at all."

Maia frowned.

"Doesn't Uncle Jase believe me?"

"I don't know about this. If you don't want to give the treasures to me, please come with me and tell Mr. Jase in person. Or I will be punished for not finishing my task."

Maia's expression turned cold because of his words.

"I am telling you, Uncle Jase treats me like his daughter. If you dare to hurt me, I will surely tell him. Besides, my boyfriend isn't awake yet, so I can't leave. You can go back and tell Uncle Jase that Nicole didn't leave anything here."

After Maia finished speaking, she came to Tim's bed.

The man snorted coldly, "Maia, do you think you can boss me? If it weren't for the sake of your parents, Mr. Jase would never even look at you. You should know who you are. You know best how Mr. Jase treated you earlier. Let me tell you clearly. Mrs. Green took two priceless emeralds from Mr. Jase. She said that they are here. You'd better take them out. Don't cause trouble for Mr. Jase."

Maia was so angry that she trembled.

"For the sake of my parents? Is that true? If so, would he treat me like this? Would he treat my boyfriend like this? I know those people in the parking lot were sent by Jase, right? Why must you hurt my boyfriend?"

"I'm not sure. It's better for you to ask Mr. Jase in person. I'm repeating again. Hand in the things, or else you must come with me."

"What if I don't?"

Maia asked angrily.

The man sneered and said, "It's okay if you don't come with me. I'll take you away anyway."

"What are you doing? I'm warning you not to act recklessly! My boyfriend is strong. If he wakes up and finds out you caught me, he would...!"

Maia retreated, but in the end, she could not escape. After struggling with all her might, she was taken away.

Almost at the same time, Nicole heard the news.

"Mrs. Green, Miss Maia was taken away by a man."

"How about Tim?"

"Nobody is taking care of him."

Nicole's expression changed.

Seeing that Nicole's expression was gloomy after getting the phone call, Jase vaguely guessed about the reason.

Nicole glanced at Jase and said in a low voice on the phone, "Hire a reliable nurse. I'll be back in a moment."

"Alright."

After hanging up the phone, Nicole looked at Jase meaningfully and said, "Mr. Jase, your people went to find Maia?"

"Who is it?"

Nicole was caught off guard and thrown onto the windshield in front.

Samuel's eyes were filled with concern.

"Are you alright?"

"Yeah."

Nicole touched her head and felt dizzy from the pain.

Before she could understand what happened, a figure had already pounced over and slapped the car window. She shouted in a ferocious tone, "Nicole, get out of here!"

Nicole was slightly surprised. She raised her head and saw Maia slapping the window like a crazy woman.

"Was she the one who stopped the car just now?"

Samuel's face darkened.

"I'll deal with it."

"No need, leave it with me."

Nicole was already completely sober.

Since it was Maia, she knew what Maia was up to.

Nicole opened the car door. Because of the force of the car door, Maia couldn't help but take two steps back. And thus, Nicole got off the car.

"What's up?"

"Nicole, you are despicable! When did I take your treasure? You actually sent Jase to ask me for it. What do you want?"

Maia looked at Nicole angrily. All her respect and obedience to Nicole had disappeared. Now, all she had was hostility and hatred.

Nicole was puzzled. How did she and Maia end up like this?

Maia became a completely different person. If it weren't for the fact that she was a confirmed atheist, she would have thought that Maia's soul had been substituted.

"You don't know what important thing you took from me? It's priceless by your side, but you didn't notice it?"

"I never took your things! You're slinging mud at me!"

"It's Tim."

Nicole said this name indifferently.

As she spoke, she touched Samuel's chest and twisted it hard.

Samuel let out a painful cry.

He then suddenly leaned back in the seat and said, "I'm injured, I can't drive."

"Stop messing around, Samuel. Hurry up. Her womb is damaged and she will be in danger if it's not treated. Even if you don't do it for Tim, do it for Trevin."

Samuel sat up straight upon hearing Nicole's words.

"You are tough outside but soft inside."

"I did it to return Tim's favor. He has to let it go in his lifetime."

Samuel shook his head and he backed the car.

Maia trembled in pain, but when she discovered that the car returned, she was astounded.

Nicole got off and said coldly, "Get in the car and I'll take you to the hospital."

"I don't need your hypocrisy."

Maia's face paled because of pain, but she still stubbornly looked at Nicole and refused.

Nicole did not look good either.

"I don't do this for you, but for Tim. If he wakes up and something has happened to you, I can't give him an explanation. Aren't you his girlfriend? Shouldn't you serve him? How can you do that with a damaged health? When Tim wakes up, we will leave. So since you admit that you are his girlfriend, get in the car now. I don't have much time for you. "

Nicole's words surprised Maia.

"You will leave? You won't take care of him?"

"He has you, what's the point of me being here?"

Nicole said indifferently.

Maia choked.

"I, I don't have your power, and I can't fight against Jase. What if Jase does something to Tim again?"

"If it weren't for you, Jase wouldn't have done that to Tim, and as long as you stay low, Tim would be fine. You know Tim. He can solve this by himself. He will never ask us for help. You underestimated him. Hurry up and get in the car."

After saying that, Nicole got into the car.

Maia looked at the opened back door and hesitated.

"Tim, you need to rest quietly to recuperate. You'd better lie down."

Maia stepped forward and stood between Tim and Nicole, stopping Tim from looking at Nicole.

Nicole knew that Maia did it on purpose, but she didn't say anything. Just as Tim said, there might be some difference between them in the future.

They could no longer sit together, smiling and jesting with each other. It was not because they were not friends anymore, but they both had found their true love. So they needed to avoid arousing suspicion and cared more about their sweethearts.

Nicole felt a little uncomfortable.

Samuel pulled Nicole closer to him and said gently, "Are you uncomfortable? Or too tired? You haven't had much rest since you got off the plane. Let's go back and rest."

When Tim heard that Nicole did not rest well, he immediately said, "Nicole, don't worry about me. You know that I'm quite strong and have nine lives like a cat. Go back and have a good rest. Samuel, take care of her. Although I can't take her away as her boyfriend, if you bring any more grievances to her, I will take her away from you as her brother. You know. I can do it. "

"I know. Mind yourself. Tim, Nicole and I both wish you happiness. If you don't need us, we'll leave. We just hope that you'll be alright."

Samuel's words stunned Tim.

"What do you mean?"

"Nothing. I suppose Mr. Green doesn't want to disturb us."

Maia was nervous and looked at Samuel.

She had always been on guard against what Nicole would say, but she did not expect Samuel to say that.

In Maia's eyes, Samuel was calm and quiet, and usually he would not interfere in the affairs between women. But what he said just now made Maia deeply alarmed.

Nicole looked at Maia. She really wanted Tim to know Maia's true colors, but she resisted.

Tim had already fallen in love with Maia. He could even forgive Maia for having ulterior motives. What else could she say?

Nicole held Samuel's hand tightly and said to Tim with a smile, "Tim, we're leaving. Take care of yourself. I sincerely wish you happiness. Don't forget to say goodbye to us when you return to the Seapolis City."

"Alright."

Tim also discovered Nicole's reluctance and sadness.

Fine!

Enough!

Although he wasn't as significant as Samuel in Nicole's heart, Tim was still an important person to Nicole. She cared about him. Although it wasn't "love", it was enough for him. He could draw a perfect end to his unrequited love.

"I also wish you two a happy and peaceful life."

"Thank you."

Chapter 739 You Aren't Mistaken, Are You?

Nicole and Samuel walked around the city and found themselves tailed by a few men. They looked at each other and smiled.

"Do you think Jase is afraid of your power? Why does he have the nerve to have his men follow us?"

Nicole asked casually.

Samuel said coldly, "He is tired of spending peaceful days.

As he spoke, Samuel picked up a durian and threw it at the person behind him.

"Ouch!"

The man howled and fell down immediately.

Samuel said coldly, "Go back and tell Jase. Don't blame me for being impolite to him if he keeps having his men follow me."

With that, Samuel turned around and saw that Nicole give money to the owner of the fruit stall.

"Boss, I'm sorry. We really can't bear it anymore. Can I give you 200 to buy that durian? Is that enough?"

Originally, the owner of the fruit stall was a little angry, but he calmed down since Nicole offered compensation with a good attitude.

"Too much. You don't need to give me two hundred. That durian isn't worth that much."

"It's alright. Take it. Can we buy some snake fruit and mangosteen?"

Nicole looked approachable, which delighted the owner.

"Of course, you can choose what you like."

"Let me do it."

Samuel took a step forward, but Nicole slapped his hand away and said, "Do you know how to pick the fruit?"

He was shocked.

Samuel really didn't know how to pick fruit.

Seeing him like this, the owner smiled and said, "I can teach you."

Nicole originally wanted to decline. However, seeing that Samuel was listening to the boss with a serious look and picking the fruit, she did not do so.

Samuel didn't play the role of the president of the Eternal Group at this time, and he was like a family man.

Nicole felt very warm and happy for that moment.

"Boss, how much is this?"

Just as Nicole was satisfied with Samuel, she suddenly heard a familiar voice.

She suddenly looked back and saw a familiar figure walking towards the alley at the side.

Nicole quickly followed.

"Thank you. Nicole, pay the money."

Samuel picked up the fruit and turned around, only to find that Nicole had disappeared.

"Nicole? Nicole!"

Samuel immediately became nervous.

Samuel felt a little bit jealous, but he knew that Nicole's concern for Tim had nothing to do with love.

"Alright, tidy up. I'll go and worship Zama."

Samuel patted Nicole on her shoulder and turned around to leave.

Nicole looked at Samuel's back. Although there were many grudges between her and Zama, she did not want to make a fuss about it. After all, Zama passed away.

She went back to her room to get dressed. Then, she came to Zama's grave.

Kneeling down, Samuel kowtowed to Zama.

Nicole did not know what he was talking to Zama. She was just a daughter-in-law.

"I'll kowtow to Zama."

Nicole's words confused Samuel. Then he felt touched.

"You don't have to do so. I know what she did before she died. She did great harm to you and the children."

"You said that she had been cruel to me, but she cured you and me before she died, which offset her misdeeds, right?"

Nicole stepped forward and kowtowed.

Looking at the Zama's photo on her tombstone, Nicole thought of her eight years of marriage, and reminded herself that she must cherish what she had now.

"Samuel, let's go home. I miss the children."

Nicole suddenly felt that no matter who or no matter what happened, nothing would be more important than being together with the family members.

"Alright. We'll be leaving soon."

Samuel and Nicole smiled at each other and clasped their fingers together.

When Trevin found them, Nicole had already packed her things.

"What are you...?"

"Go back to the Seapolis City. I still say the same thing. After graduation, come to the Seapolis City and find me. Since we are from the same place, I'll offer you a job. However, you should be qualified. Otherwise, even if I want to give you a chance, I won't help you."

Hearing Samuel's words, Trevin nodded gratefully.

"I will work hard, Mr. Green."

"See you later!"

"See you later."

Nicole and Samuel left the Harper Town.

Before boarding the plane, Nicole commissioned a lawyer to give the travel agency to Tim. She herself was not interested in it. Now that Tim only wanted to give Maia shares, it would be better to directly give the agency to him.

Nicole was not a person who wronged herself.

She and Maia weren't on the same side, so they naturally wouldn't be together in the future. Rather than becoming directors of a company, it would be better to send the company out directly, so she would never see Maia.

Samuel did not prevent Nicole doing so.
