Chapter 761 Shut up If You Don't Want to Die

"Who's there?"

Nicole quickly became alert, but there was no sound outside.

Was it her delusion?

Nicole got up and walked gingerly over.

She was in the Don Family. Anyway, Nicole didn't think Maia would be able to make trouble in the Don Family.

Nicole went to the window and discreetly opened it, only to find no one there.

Did she just hear it wrong?

Nicole couldn't help thinking.

Maybe Tim's phone call made her a little nervous.

Nicole heaved a sigh of relief and closed the window, but she got a shock as she turned around.

On the floor behind the windowsill a cardboard box had been thrown in at some unknown time.

Who did that?

Who could come and go with ease in the Don Family?

Nicole frowned, walked gingerly over and gave the box a gentle kick. It didn't make any noise. Then she bent down to pick it up and put it to her ear.

She had to be careful, because she was really afraid of someone throwing in a bomb or something.

There was still no sound inside.

Nicole was both cautious and curious.

Who could have thrown that in?

What was in it?

Nicole slowly leaned over, making sure it wouldn't explode, and opened the box with a wallpaper knife.

In the box was a child's toy, a Barbie doll, which had been cut with a knife and looked a bit scary.

Nicole had always thought this Barbie doll looked familiar.

Suddenly she got a thrill and ran out quickly.

"Uncle Mark, where's Zoe?"

Mark was stunned by Nicole, but soon he said, "Zoe went out with the housekeeper. What's wrong?"

"It's getting dark. Why haven't they come back?"

Nicole's heart fluttered.

Mark looked at the time. It was already past seven.

"I will make a call. I just attended to some business and forgot to check the time."

Mark quickly called the housekeeper, but it couldn't get through.

Nicole's heart sank little by little.

She thought she didn't have to worry about the kid's safety in the Don Family.

"Samuel!"

Nicole screamed, thinking Samuel was going to hit Maia, only to see he stop a dagger.

She paused slightly.

Was this someone trying to kill Maia?

Nicole frowned for a moment and quickly took Maia behind her.

Maia was a bit upset.

Just then, a figure ran out of the room so fast that neither Nicole nor Samuel could see who it was.

When Samuel tried to chase him, he was stopped by Nicole.

"Don't chase it, the police are coming. I have called the police, just let the police deal with it."

Hearing that, Maia was stunned, but did not stop Nicole from calling the police.

Looking at Maia, Nicole sighed and didn't say anything. She disdained someone who kicked people when they were down.

Samuel, fearing that someone else might come out and harm Nicole, did not chase that person. He looked from Maia to Nicole and asked in a low voice, "Are you fine?"

Nicole shook her head.

The police arrived soon.

Samuel made some statements while Maia was loaded into the ambulance.

Nicole hesitated for a long time before she picked up the phone and called Tim and told him what had happened to Maia.

Tim got here quickly.

Maia had been sent away.

Tim's face darkened as he looked at the blood on the floor.

"Do you know who did it?"

Nicole shook her head.

"She didn't tell us and I didn't look it up. It's up to you how to deal with it, but you have to ensure your own safety."

"I see." Tim nodded.

After making the statements, Samuel and Nicole worried about Tim and drove to the hospital immediately.

Tim sat in front of the emergency room, without knowing what he was thinking. When he saw Nicole and Samuel, he whispered, "Go home. I'll apologize for all the trouble this has caused you."

"We're worried about you. Tim, no matter what happens, don't do anything stupid. Just remember, your mother is waiting for you."

Nicole knew Tim's temper. Although she did not like Maia, Tim had paid affection to Maia and he was a man of paying importance to relationship. Now Maia had deeply injured. Even if she was saved, she might be paralyzed in bed all her life.

Nicole didn't know what to say as to such a result. What she was afraid of right now was that Tim would be impulsive and desperately wanted to find out who did this.

Nicole tried to balance herself, but she failed.

Just as she was about to fall to the ground, Samuel caught her from behind just in time.

"What's the matter?"

"Don't you come over here. It's slippery down here, like someone sprayed some oil."

Nicole spoke to Samuel who was about to step in.

Samuel frowned a little.

"What is it?"

"Oil."

Nicole was finally sure.

She slowly crouched down with Samuel's help. And then she rubbed it with her fingers and held it out in front of Samuel.

Samuel sniffed slightly, then frowned more deeply.

"Someone did it on purpose?"

"I don't think it was accidental. This is at the entrance of the corridor. No one would have spilled food oil here, unless someone did it on purpose."

Nicole looked at Martha not far away. She sat on the floor, looking helplessly at Nicole, and then paused for a moment.

"It's just me, Tim and the babysitter. Our nanny is off work today."

"Aunt Martha, I'll take you to the hospital first."

Nicole nodded to Samuel, who went out to find some sand and put it on the stairs, allowing Nicole to walk past and brought Martha out.

Martha was covered with oil.

Nicole had to ask Samuel to buy a suit for her to change into, and then went to the hospital.

Martha had a slight fracture. Because of her age and osteoporosis, she needed to be hospitalized for observation.

Nicole stayed with her.

Samuel whispered, "Aunt Martha, do you know the address of your nanny?"

"Yes."

Martha quickly gave Samuel the nanny's address.

Nicole already knew what Samuel was up to.

"Be careful," she whispered. "Call me whenever you need help."

"Who is this?"

Seeing that it was an unfamiliar girl, Nicole asked.

Martha also looked at Samuel in puzzlement.

Samuel brought the girl in and motioned for her to speak.

The girl was a little shy, but seeing Nicole and Martha, she said in a low voice, "I am Amanda's daughter. My mother is gone."

"Who is Amanda?"

Nicole subconsciously looked at Martha.

Martha quickly explained, "She is our nanny. She said that her daughter is sick, asked for some advance of salary, and left. But what do you mean by saying your mother is gone?"

The girl bit her lower lip and pondered for a while before saying, "My name is Alina Evans. Amanda is my stepmother. She has treated me badly since my childhood. Even when I got sick, she only gave me ginger syrup and rarely sent me to the hospital. Yesterday, a man came looking for her. She went out for a while and said nothing to me after coming back. But this morning she went out and never came back. It wasn't until Mr. Green came to look for me that I realized that she had taken away our passbook and household register."

"What?"

Martha was shocked.

"When I decided to employ Amanda as my nanny, the agency said that she was very considerate and responsible."

Alina whispered, "My father left behind a sum of money after his car accident. She pretended to be good to me in front of others for fear that they would accuse her of maltreating me. But I led a miserable life when she was alone with me at home. My father left the money to me, but it's gone now. She may have run away with the man who came to find her that day. I know him. He used to work as a bar watch. "

Hearing this, Nicole and Martha were convinced that it wasn't an accidental fall this time.

"Who is so hostile to our family?"

Martha had been in the sanatorium for so many years without knowing how malevolent a person could be. Now hearing this, she felt slightly sad and disappointed.

Nicole looked at Alina and asked, "Do you know that man?"

"Sort of. After my father died, he had come to my home a few times, but I didn't like him very much. My mother told me that we might live together in the future, but I hate it. I think she should have run away with this man this time.

"What's this man's name?"

"I don't know, but everyone calls him Zeddy."

Nicole frowned at Alina's reply.

Only then did Samuel speak.

Chapter 765 This Is Not Love

Hearing what Martha said, Nicole and Samuel exchanged glances.

If Maia really wanted to harm Martha, she would not have taken Martha away at that time. Since she could take her away, it meant that she still had Tim in her heart, or she even had known something, so she would secretly protect Tim's mother.

Thinking of this, Nicole whispered, "Forget it. Let's wait and see how things will go."

"That's the only way."

Martha nodded.

After seeing all of this, Samuel said, "I will go look for her with Alina, and I will sent people here. If you need anything, please tell me."

Seeing Samuel's worried expression, Nicole couldn't help but say with a smile, "I got it. Don't worry about me. I'm fine. At most, I'm going to see Tim."

"OK, be careful. I'm gonna go."

Samuel waved his hand and left with Alina.

Martha looked at Alina's back and sighed, "The children with divorced parents are the most pitiful. I'm so worried about Alina. She has no parents. How is she going to do with her life?"

"She only said that her father was gone. She didn't say that her mother was also gone, right?"

Nicole's words stunned Martha.

"Didn't she say that?"

"No, she never said anything about her mother."

Martha frowned and said, "Forget it. Her mother is not important. This child reminds me of my childhood though."

"Your childhood?"

My father wanted my sister instead of me. I didn't know why he didn't like me. It seemed that since I was born, he had never liked me, and my mother has always listened to everything he said. Every time my father lost his temper, my mother would hug me tightly in her arms. But my sister was especially doted by my father. Although my mother also liked her, she favored me more, perhaps because my father's attitude towards me. I've always felt that my sister and I lived a pathetic life. When my parents divorced, I

Martha held Nicole's hand tightly.

Nicole was in a dilemma.

"Martha, I really...."

"Nicole, I'm your aunt. Tim is your cousin. We are of the same blood. Do you have the heart to see him ruin his own life?"

As Martha said like that, Nicole was immediately stuck for words and was unable to utter a single word.

"I promise that I won't hurt Maia. I just want to send her away and not let her be with Tim. No matter what it is, she is kind to me and has saved me. I won't take revenge for her kindness."

Noticing that Nicole was hesitant, Martha persuaded Nicole hurriedly.

In the end, Nicole acquiesced.

Martha said happily, "Have a rest here for a while. I'll be right back. By the way, call Tim to distract him. Otherwise, I won't be able to do anything, right?"

"Martha, you'd better not...."

"I just beg you for this time. Nicole, you're also a mother. I beg you."

Under Martha's plea, Nicole was really in a dilemma.

Nicole had to call Tim in front of Martha.

"Where are you?"

"I'm still at the emergency room. What's wrong?"

Tim sounded very tired.

Nicole looked at Martha. Martha winked at Nicole and motioned Nicole to help her.

Nicole hesitated for a moment and said, "Can you come over now?"

"What's the matter? Isn't Samuel by your side? Nicole, I'm really not available. You also know Maia's situation. I...."

"Your mother fell and was in the hospital. She is in the Department of Orthopaedics, the First People's Hospital."

Immediately, Tim became nervous for what Nicole had said.

"How is my mother? Why did she fall? Where did she fall?"

"Don't be nervous. She fell down the stairs at home. The doctor said that she needed to be hospitalized. You'd better come over."

Nicole finished speaking in one breath.

Tim was in a dilemma, but he still said, "OK. I'll be there soon. Help me take care of my mother for a while. I'll find someone to take care of Maia."

When Martha heard that her son was still worried about her, she couldn't help but feel a bit delighted.

"It's better to have a son."

After Nicole hung up the phone, Martha said feelingly.

However, Nicole always felt that it was not right.

"Martha, what's your plan?"

Right after Bella went in the room, a doctor hugged her from behind.

"Come on, stop it!"

Bella pushed him away.

He was not willing to stop and hugged her from behind again.

"What's wrong? Do you prefer that old man than me now?"

Nicole was stunned at the moment he raised his head.

He was Cornell, a famous orthopedist in this hospital.

She still remembered that he was considered as an excellent doctor of the hospital and his name was displayed on the wall. But she would never think that he had an affair with Bella.

Nicole felt that she walked into a big secret.

Being Mr. Louis' wife, Bella had a lover and he was a doctor with high income.

So, Nicole surveyed him with her eyes.

Cornell was kind of good looking. He was over forty, but still charming. And as a doctor, many women would be interested in him. But why would he choose to hook up with a married woman, Bella?

Nicole couldn't understand.

Bella pulled off her scarf and said impatiently, "All you can think about is sex or gamble. What else do you care except for these?"

Cornell looked unhappy and his face turned sullen.

"Are you here to give me a cold face today? Bella Miller, who do you think you are? If you act like this again, I will...."

"What will you do? Cornell, you'd better remember that who helped you to get to where you are now. I can make you an honorable a doctor, so I can destroy you too. Don't make me do that."

Bella was totally different from how she was at home. The virtuous wife became an arrogant woman now.

If Nicole did not know her before, she would mistake her for someone else.

Bella was just too different from how she was.

Cornell smiled quickly.

Chapter 768 You Didn't Help Me

"Who is it?"

Bella immediately got tense.

Cornell quickly stood up, fastened his belt, and went to the window.

Nicole blamed herself in heart for being too reckless. And it seemed a little difficult for her to sneak out now.

What should she do?

Just as Cornell was about to push open the window, a knock came from outside.

"Doctor Cornell, the director is looking for you. Please come over."

Cornell paused.

"Wait. I'll be there in a moment."

"It's urgent. She wants you there now. Doctor Cornell, it seems like something about the title."

The nurse outside looked a little edgy.

Bella frowned.

Taking advantage of this impasse, Nicole glided into the next ward. Fortunately, it was empty.

Bella pushed Cornell away and opened the window. A flower pot fell. There was no one outside, but she was still worried.

Cornell looked down and whispered, "Perhaps it's a stray cat or something. It's very noisy lately. This is the 13th floor. Who do you think can peek from a window high up here? Don't be theatrical."

Bella was somewhat uneasy.

"Go and check the CCTV. I can't be at ease, anyway."

"Stop messing around. I told the nurse that I was taking a lunch break here. But now you're asking me to see the CCTV now. What's the excuse? I can't say that I lost something during the break, can I?"

Cornell's words made Bella chuckle. "Why not? What if you did lose something?"

"Get it straight. I turned off the cameras to meet you here. Otherwise, our relationship would have been an open secret, okay?"

Cornell felt that Bella got wires crossed today.

Bella was a little irritated.

"But there was someone there just now."

"Where is it? This is the thirteenth floor! The window on the thirteenth floor. Try hiding out there yourself."

Cornell went hysterical.

At this moment, the nurse's voice came from outside again.

Cornell, are you

"What's going on?"

Nicole instantly became nervous.

Tim immediately asked people to protect Martha. He took a look at the emergency room which was lit and said in a low voice, "Nicole, you leave with my mom first."

"No! I won't go. No matter what happens, I'll stay here until I solve the matter between Maia and you."

Tim was a little helpless with Martha's stubbornness.

"Mom, I have told you let me deal with it on my own, haven't I? Please!"

"OK. I'll leave it to you, but you have to promise me that you will never marry her. Apart from that, we can offer her any compensation and assistance. Tim, you can't ruin your life because of such a woman."

Martha showed her hardline stance against their relationship.

Finding Martha's legs a little shaking to support her, Nicole couldn't help but say to Tim, "Tim, your mom's foot is seriously injured."

Tim immediately felt sorry for his mom.

"Mom, don't push me anymore, please! I know what to do."

"Promise me, or I won't leave!"

Martha was pretty firm about getting an answer.

The screams outside grew louder and louder.

Micah quickly ran out to make a check and rushed back soon.

"Mrs. Green, someone is going to jump out. The police have been called and should be here soon. A crowd of correspondents are probably heading here too. We'd better get out quickly or I'm afraid that we will get into unnecessary trouble."

Nicole was very satisfied with Micah's work efficiency. She looked at Tim and urged, "Say something! If the media find Auntie and take pictures, then they will definitely make up something considering her social status."

Tim run his eyes from Nicole to Martha and finally said, "Okay, I promise. Alright?"

"Remember what you said. Tim, don't lie to me. If you dare to break your promise, or give that woman any commitment, I will be hit by a car as soon as I go out!"

"Mom, what nonsense are you talking about? Stop saying such a thing."

Tim put on a worried expression.

Nicole was also a little scared by those words.

"Auntie, you can't say such nonsense anymore."

However, Martha stubbornly gazed at Tim and continued, "Remember your promise. If you deceive me, I will end up like this."

"Mom, I won't. Forever! Is it okay?"

Tim had no choice but to compromise.

Martha had his assurance and then agreed to leave with Nicole.

Nicole said to Tim, "After you're done, come to my home and I have something to tell you."

"Alright."

Chapter 770 I'm Used to It

"It's none of your business. You shouldn't get involved. Otherwise, don't blame me for hurting you and your children!"

This message was from an unknown sender. Nicole didn't block message from strange numbers. So, the message could be successfully delivered to her.

Nicole was being menaced.

The sender should know that she was involved in the matter between Tim and Maia. That was why the sender threatened Nicole.

What Nicole hated the most was people threatening her with her children.

Children were innocent. It was contemptible to harm a child to get his goal achieved.

She dialed the sender's number, but the subscriber quickly refused to answer the call.

Nicole looked at the screen. It showed the phone number attribution was the Seapolis City.

In other words, Nicole was being watched in the Seapolis City.

Who was watching her?

Nicole frowned.

However, she did not pay too much attention to it but only kept it in mind. She was about to investigate it secretly. Then, she called Samuel.

"How's it going? Have you found Zedd?"

Nicole asked after Samuel answered the call.

"Yes, I've found him. I've arranged my men to control him. That servant Amanda is also in my hand. They intended to go abroad. And they squandered most of Alina's father's heritage. Fortunately, there are still tens of thousands money left. It's enough for this child to complete her studies."

Samuel said with some pity.

Nicole had never experienced this, but she knew that it was difficult for Alina to accept this.

"Come back as soon as everything is done. Is Alina by your side?"

"No, she has gone home. She said she wanted to have a talk with her passed father. Alina is a really pathetic orphan. Without parents, she should do everything by herself. We have to value our lives for our children. I can't bear this happening to our children. I feel so sad for Alina."

Samuel seemed to be over-sentimental this day.

Nicole nodded and said, "Come back now. Aunt Martha is at our house and Tim is at the hospital. When we were to leave, a man wanted to jump off the building in the hospital. And a large number of reporters surrounded the hospital. We were almost stuck there. Anyway, we got home. I have something to tell you when you are back."

Hearing this, Samuel immediately said, "Alright, I set off now. Oh, what do you want to eat? I can buy some on the way. I'm a little tired, so I don't want to cook."

"Claudina can do it."

Nicole said casually.

Samuel whispered, "Claudina went home for her grandson's one-month-old celebration. She asked for a day off. And there is no other servant at home. Petty is picking a wedding dress with Zac. They are going to get married. So..."

Only then did Nicole realize that the house was so quiet.

She smiled and said, "Oh, everyone is busy except us. We seem to have nothing to do."

"I'm also busy. I work every day to earn money. You also have your stuff. Aren't you going to participate in the design competition?"

What Samuel said reminded Nicole.

"Oh, you're right. After the thing about Maia is over, I will go all out to get prepared for the competition. Hope I could do well."
