Chapter 791 I'm Not Used to It

Something was hid behind the photo!

Samuel frowned.

When he wanted to check, Nicole came back with a broom.

"What are you looking at? The photo was taken a long time ago. I think I was eighteen then. I look much better now. To be honest, I like it when I was young."

Nicole felt somewhat pity.

However, Samuel whispered, "There is something behind this photo."

"What?"

Nicole hurriedly went forward, but was stopped by Samuel.

"Don't move. Give me the broom. I'll clean up the glass pieces first."

Seeing the mess on the ground, Nicole directly handed the broom to Samuel.

After Samuel cleaned up, he sat on the bed with Nicole and took the photo.

There is a piece of paper taped to the back of the photo!

"What is this? Why didn't I know it before?"

Nicole unfolded it. She discovered that it was a paternity test report.

The report was about Dad Bush and a girl named Sue Prisley. The kinship similarity was 99.9%.

Nicole was stunned.

What did this mean?

Dad Bush had found his own daughter?

But why had she never heard of it from Dad Bush and Nicole?

Nicole looked at the date and found that the report was done recently.

In other words, it was very likely that they did not go on a trip, but went to find their own daughter.

But at that time, Audrey said that she gave Nicole to them to raise because their child had passed away. Is there another side of the story that we don't know about?

Nicole frowned tightly.

Seeing that she was upset, Samuel hurriedly said, "Perhaps this is just a misunderstanding, or..."

"My parents never hid anything from me. But this time, they suddenly left and didn't tell me anything. Now, they're turning off their phones. They probably don't want me to contact them. Perhaps they're

Nicole said with a smile, but Samuel could tell that she was sad.

"What voice?"

Samuel hurriedly ran out, and Mark pulled Nicole behind him with a protective posture.

Actually, Nicole also wanted to go out. But Mark protected her so firmly that there was no gap between Mark and her, she could simply stay behind Mark.

After Samuel ran out, he saw another firework soaring into the sky which was accompanied by a "bang, bang" sound.

"Lucas!"

Samuel snapped when he saw Lucas directing an older boy to set off fireworks.

Lucas saw Samuel come out and ran over with a smile.

"Samuel, look, isn't it beautiful? This is my gift to Mommy and my little brother or sister in her belly!"

"Gift my ass!"

Samuel directly clunked Lucas on his forehead.

"Do you know that you almost scared the baby in your mother's belly?"

"What! I just wanted to surprise you and Mommy. Why did you hit me?"

Lucas scrunched up his nose and touched his head, saying in an injured voice.

Samuel took a deep breath and told himself that this naughty child in front of him was his own, his own, his own.

Mark couldn't help but pull Nicole out to take a look because Samuel hadn't been back for a long time. When he saw Lucas, he was stunned.

"Why are you back?"

"I came back by car. I asked the captain for leave."

As Lucas saw Mark, he immediately stood upright and gave a military salute.

"Commander!"

"Alright, put your hand down now. This is at home, don't do this."

Nicole was very happy to see Lucas.

"Lucas? Hurry up and let Mommy have a look. Little brat, you don't even call me. I miss you so much!"

"Mommy, I miss you too."

Lucas ran to Nicole quickly and hugged her tightly.

"Samuel, what are you doing?"

Nicole was anxious to keep pace with him, but Samuel had already brought Lucas into the car.

When Mark heard the voice and came out, he saw Nicole anxiously shouting something. He hurriedly held her.

"What's wrong? What are you doing? Where's Samuel?"

"I don't know. He left Lucas. I don't understand why he went crazy."

Nicole was a little worried.

"What is going on?"

Mark took Nicole into the room.

Nicole shook her head and said, "I don't know. Lucas bought me a jade pendant on the roadside. He said it was a gift for me. When Samuel saw it, his expression changed and he insisted on asking Lucas to take him to look for the person who sold the jade pendant. I don't know whether Lucas had bought a fake. Even if it was, as long as it was bought by Lucas, I would like it."

"I'm afraid it's not that simple. Samuel isn't that kind of man to find the seller just because that thing is a fake, with you being pregnant and all that. That jade pendant is supposed to mean something to him."

Nicole paused as she heard Mark's words.

"Mean something? I haven't heard it from Samuel before."

"We'll ask him when he gets back. Don't worry, Lucas and Samuel will be fine. Samuel is agile and few people can beat him. Take it easy."

Mark comforted Nicole.

However, Nicole couldn't cheer up.

What the hell was going on!

Soon after, Joseph and Zoe also came back. They were especially happy to see Mark here.

Joseph came to Nicole's side and poured a glass of water for Nicole.

"Mommy, you don't seem to be in a good mood today. Did someone make you angry?"

"No, I am just worried about Daddy. He went to pick up Lucas. You two brothers can play together again."

Hearing that Lucas was coming back, Joseph was extremely delighted.

Zoe not far away also heard it.

"Mommy, is Lucas coming back?"

"Yep."

"Wow! That's great!"

Zoe jumped up happily.

The two kids jumped with joy, which alleviated Nicole's worries. She leaned against the sofa and drank hot water, calming herself down.

Soon, Samuel brought Lucas back, but his expression was not good.

Lucas also pouted. When he saw Nicole, he said angrily, "Mommy, Samuel was outrageous. Can't you rein him in a little bit?"

Chapter 794 I'm Staying by Your Side

Nicole and Samuel immediately felt nervous.

Samuel looked at the caller ID. It was an unfamiliar number.

Nicole seemed to have anticipated something.

"Do we need to record the call?"

"Since he dares to call us, he won't show any clues. Perhaps his voices have been specially altered."

Nicole frowned slightly.

"Should we answer it?"

"Yes, why not? I'd like to see what he is planning."

Samuel's eyes were cold as he quickly answered the phone.

A cold mechanical voice came from the other side of the phone. The voice was obviously altered by a voice changer.

Nicole was put on speaker, so she could hear it.

"Samuel, have you received your brother's jade pendant? What do you think?"

The person on the other end of the phone was extremely arrogant.

Samuel said coldly, "Who are you? What is your purpose?"

"I don't know what my purpose is, but I just like to see you worried. Today, I can easily give the jade pendant to your son. Do you think I can easily take your son away tomorrow so that you and your wife will never see him again for the rest of your life?"

Just as the stranger finished speaking, Nicole tightly grabbed onto Samuel's sleeve.

She was worried.

And they didn't even know who he was.

Samuel's eyes became even colder.

"You're a vile wretch who dare not show up. Are you threatening me? There are few people who know that Vincent and I have jade pendants. Even if I am foolish, I can still find out who you are by checking each insider. If you dare to harm my son, you must be crazy. You should inquire about me in the Seapolis City. If anything happens to my children, you'd better pray for your family."

Samuel hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

The phone on the other end had been encrypted and it was impossible to track. His voice had also been altered by a voice changer. Therefore, there was no point in continuing this conversation. It would only make Nicole to be worried and afraid.

"It will be fine. Don't worry. I'll ask Uncle Mark to take the children to study in the military base. Although it's hard for us, it's best for the children to be safe. If possible, you can stay in the military base as well. You're Mark's niece. He should have a way to let you in."

Samuel intended to face the unknown dangers outside alone, but Nicole will not agree to that.

"I don't mind sending the children away, but don't think you can send me away too. I am your wife. I'm staying by your side. Besides, can't you hear the tone of that person's voice just now? He's targeting us! Besides, the design competition is going to start in less than a month. I can't give up. Since we have overcome a lot of challenges, we can overcome this one."

Samuel was especially touched by what Nicole said.

He held Nicole's hand tightly and said, "You should not be in danger in your condition. I'm worried about you."

"Don't worry, I will protect our children well. What happened last time will not happen again. So don't push me away. I want to stay with you."

Lucas wanted to say something, but Nicole stopped him.

"No 'but'. I know you're capable. I also know that you want to share the burden with me and your daddy. But Lucas, you are still young. You have your own business and your own life. I and Samuel will handle our own matters. We will ask for your help if we need to, but we won't rely on you if we can solve it ourselves. We're fine. We just hope you are safe, healthy, and happy. And that will be the best you could do for me and Samuel."

Lucas was silent for a while and then nodded.

"OK, I will take good care of myself as well as Joseph and Zoe."

"Good boy!"

Nicole stroked Lucas' forehead and felt that it was good to have a son.

"Alright. How is the food in the military base these days? Do you like it?"

"Yes. It's not as good as Grandpa Mark's cooking, but it tastes not bad. Everything tastes good when I'm hungry."

Although Lucas said with a smile, Nicole felt painful.

"I'll cook stew ribs in lotus root for you. It's your favorite."

"No need, Mommy, you're pregnant. The kitchen is full of the smoke of cooking oil. Just let Samuel and Grandpa Mark cook it."

What Lucas said immediately amused Nicole. She felt that Lucas' tone was the same as that of Samuel.

"I'm just pregnant, not paralyzed. You and your daddy shouldn't treat me as a breakable."

"We should and must protect you well! You are my dearest mommy!"

Lucas' sugared words delighted Nicole.

When Samuel came to the kitchen, he saw that Mark was still busy with cooking, so he quickly rolled up his sleeves to help.

"Oh, you finally come out. I thought you were not coming out before I finish cooking."

Mark said cynically.

Samuel did not mind what Mark said. He whispered, "I have someone in mind for you. She is a doctor in the hospital. She is beautiful and easy-going. If you are interested, I will arrange a blind date for you tomorrow."

"Wait, what do you mean? Do you need my help again?"

Mark hurriedly stopped Samuel.

He was almost fooled by Samuel's sugar bullet.

Samuel looked at Mark and said indifferently, "It's no big deal. I just hope that you can bring Zoe and Joseph with you when you take Lucas away."

"Holy shit. Isn't this a big deal? Samuel, do you think the military base is my place? Do you think I can let anyone go in there?"

"You have guests?"

Mark asked.

Samuel shook his head.

Petty came out at that time.

"Mr. Green, I'll go open the door."

"Be careful."

Samuel nodded.

"Alright."

Petty then walked to the door.

The children seemed to sense the tense atmosphere as well. Joseph asked, "Daddy, is something wrong?"

"No. Mommy is pregnant now, so we have to be more careful. Don't worry. It's fine. "

Samuel smiled and touched Joseph's head gently.

Only then did Joseph get relieved.

"Mommy should be taken good care of."

"Yes, Daddy will."

Zoe and Lucas looked at them and did not say anything.

Since Joseph had already said what she wanted to say, Zoe thought she didn't need to ask again. But Lucas was thinking something else.

Soon Petty came back.

"Mr. Green, it's Madam's express delivery."

"Express delivery? Nicole hasn't bought anything lately."

Just as Samuel finished speaking, he became serious.

"Give it to me. You guys eat now."

Samuel took it to the second floor.

Lucas had a thoughtful look on his face.

Mark was also a little worried. He looked at Lucas and whispered, "Lucas, take Joseph and Zoe to eat. I'll go up and see what happened."

"Alright."

Lucas responded.

Mark also left.

After they all left, Zoe said, "I think that they behaved so strange. What really happened?"

"Don't worry, eat now. Protecting Mommy is the top priority. I heard from Allen that Mommy's health declined much after she gave birth to us. She was bleeding and nearly died that time. Now she is pregnant again, Samuel has a reason to be nervous."

Lucas whispered.

Zoe suddenly put down her chopsticks and looked at Lucas with one hand on her chin. "Lucas, do you miss Allen?"

Lucas paused for a moment.

Inside the express box was a broken Barbie!

Barbie was painted bright red, and her body had been cut into pieces by scissors, which looked horrible.

Samuel's expression was not quite good. He quickly embraced Lucas and covered his eyes.

"Don't look at it."

Lucas was a little scared.

Although he had experienced a lot with Samuel and Nicole, this was the first time he had seen such a thing.

Lucas grabbed Samuel's sleeve tightly and did not calm down for a long time.

Mark's gaze turned cold.

"Is this sent to Nicole? What does it mean?"

"Threatening."

Samuel did not look very good.

Mark picked up the box to see the address, but he didn't find the address.

"Who exactly did this?"

Mark frowned tightly.

He and Samuel had thought of countless possibilities, but they didn't expect this. If Nicole saw it, she would probably be greatly scared.

"I'll check it out."

After Samuel said this, he noticed that Lucas was still a little uneasy. He asked, "What about going down and having some water?"

"I'm fine."

Lucas shook his head and left Samuel's embrace. He whispered, "Can you express one thing if you don't have a shipping address and phone number?"

What he said reminded Samuel and Mark.

"There's no address now. What about the phone number?"

Samuel and Mark quickly searched the box, but still didn't see a phone number.

Mark was a little discouraged, but Samuel seemed as if deep in thought.

Mark had the same idea as Samuel.

He grabbed Zedd by the collar and picked him up.

"You don't say, do you? I think you can go to jail and be your sister's companion. Perhaps you guys have more to talk."

Zedd shrank slightly, but he still bit his lower lip and said, "I really don't know what you want me to say. I've admitted that I sent the express. What else do you want?"

"You sent the express, but you don't know what was inside?"

Samuel looked coldly at Zedd, knowing that what Zedd said was just a lie.

Zedd avoided eye contact with Samuel. Actually, he didn't dare to look at Samuel.

"I forget. I can't remember."

"You bastard..."

Mark was so angry that he wanted to beat Zedd. "Forget it. We can't get anything out of him. Let's go," said Samuel.

"Go? It's too good for him. Then what if Nicole receives something strange again?"

Mark was furious when he thought of this.

When Zedd heard they were going to let him go, laughter burst from his lips. Samuel noticed that and sneered, "Mark, we came to see Zedd, but we let him go in one piece. Do you think the guy behind this would believe that Zedd didn't tell us anything?"

Mark understood what Samuel meant.

"Of course not."

Mark sneered and threw Zedd to the ground.

Obviously, Zedd also understood.

"Samuel, you're too relentless."

"Well, this is your own choice. You should thank me for being lazy today."

Samuel said coldly.

"Bullshit! You're not being lazy. You're..."

Zedd suddenly stopped talking.

He realized that he was no match for Samuel, so he shut his mouth.

Now, Samuel knew that Zedd would not say anything.

A look of annoyance flashed across his face.

"Let's go."

After Samuel finished speaking, he walked out.

Mark frowned slightly and followed.

"Hey, are you really going to let him go without getting anything from him?"

Mark asked grudgingly.

Samuel took out a cigarette but did not light it, playing with it in his hand.

"He will either escape or look for help from the guy behind the scenes. Anyway, he will give us some clues. But if we keep him now, it's of no avail and we'll get nothing."

"I got it."

Only then did Mark realize why Samuel chose to let Zedd go.

He was not stupid but he couldn't keep calm as Samuel did when it comes to Nicole's safety.

However, he seemed to be a little dissatisfied with Samuel's calmness. "Do you love Nicole or not?" Mark asked coldly. "You actually can still maintain calm at such a point."

Samuel knew Mark was playing hardball here, so he just shook his head and walked away.

Being dissatisfied, Mark followed along without stopping talking.

"I wonder why Nicole likes a man like you with all her heart. What kind of charm do you have? You pull a long face all day long and rarely speak. You're only like a statue. If I had come back earlier, I would have stopped Nicole from marrying such a sullen man like you."

As Mark spoke, he discovered that Samuel stopped and looked at him coldly.

"Zac! Zac!"

Samuel couldn't keep calm and his shouts were quavering.

"Mr. Green, what's wrong?"

Zac quickly ran up to Samuel.

"Where are they? Where did they go?"

Samuel's face was deathly pale.

He was like a ferocious ghost, making Zac tremble involuntarily.

"I don't know. They were here just now."

"What do you mean by saying that 'they were here just now'? Can persons evaporate in this room?"

Samuel's voice rose.

"Samuel, you're back!"

Nicole's voice suddenly sounded, which made Samuel and Zac confused.

"Nicole? Where are you?"

Samuel couldn't tell his feeling now, but he was relieved.

Nicole opened the bathroom door, only to see Samuel's anxious expression and Zac's frightened expression. She couldn't help but ask.

"What's wrong with you?"

Seeing that Nicole was safe and sound, Samuel hurriedly grabbed her hand and asked, "What are you doing in the bathroom? Where's Lucas? Where's Petty?"

"Lucas had a diarrhea today from whatever he ate. He pooped in his pants just now. He felt embarrassed. Petty and I managed to persuade him to go into the bathroom. I was helping Lucas bathe and Petty was washing his pants. What happened?"

Nicole did not quite understand why Samuel was so nervous.

Hearing what Nicole said, Samuel heaved a sigh of relief.

"Nothing. Maybe I'm too nervous. I thought you guys were gone."

"That's impossible! We are human and we are living here. How could we suddenly disappear? Look at you. You've scared Zac. By the way, Zac, I've heard that you are gonna get married. Have you had your wedding?"

Hearing this, Zac smiled and said, "We've got the marriage certificate, but we haven't even had a wedding yet. Petty said that we didn't need it."

"You guys always don't take it seriously as long as women say that they don't need it. There is no woman in this world who doesn't look forward to her wedding. They all want to marry their man in a beautiful wedding dress. If she says she doesn't need a wedding, it means she just doesn't want you to be extravagant. It never means that she really doesn't need it."

Zac was a little uneasy when hearing this.

"But we are both orphans, and we don't have any relatives. Even if we hold a wedding, there won't be many people coming. At that time, it will look deserted."

"You still have me and Samuel! We are your relatives. Come on. Hold a wedding. You owe Petty this."

As Nicole said this, Zac naturally agreed.

Seeing how enthusiastic Nicole was, Samuel couldn't help but smile when he thought of their own wedding.

"Well, is Lucas alright?"

"Not yet. I'm afraid he will be too embarrassed to come out, since you called him like that."

Nicole rolled her eyes at Samuel.

Chapter 800 They Are So Close

"What happened to Laurence?"

Nicole still remembered the time when Laurence told her the Miller family was so dangerous that she should leave when she went there for the first time. She thought that Laurence should have his way to escape from danger after staying in the Miller family after all these years, but he did not manage to do that.

She touched her stomach. Samuel and she could never have a chance to have this baby without Laurence's help. Now that something had happened to Laurence, she would need to do something. Although she did not feel well, she had to go.

As soon as Samuel saw Nicole's expression, he knew what was in her mind.

He held Nicole's hand and said, "I do not know the details. It was Lucas who told me about it. But I think it should be of high credibility."

"Lucas? How did he know?"

Nicole was surprised.

Samuel hesitated for a moment, "Allen told Lucas through the phone. Although Allen once treated Zoe badly, he really likes Lucas. I cannot deny it. He asked Lucas to tell you that something happened to Laurence. I also sent my people to conduct an investigation. No one has seen Laurence and the Miller House is so quiet. I guess something happened."

Hearing Samuel's words, Nicole frowned tightly.

"Lucas called Allen?"

Nicole still remembered what Allen had done before. Although it was because Allen loved her too much, some things could not be wiped out from her memories.

There was no doubt that Samuel knew what she was thinking. He immediately gave her a hug, "Alright, stop thinking about it. If this is something related to Laurence, I think we should go and take a look. Considering that you are not feeling well, I suggest you stay at home. You're not feeling well now. I suggest you stay at home. Wait, you can go to Gabrielle's place and wait until I come back."

Nicole shook her head.

"I am not going anywhere. I will go and see Laurence with you. Although I feel a bit uncomfortable, I have a feeling that we will find a breakthrough on the things we could not find answers from Laurence's matter."

Samuel looked at Nicole with confusion.

"What do you mean?"

"I am not sure. I told you yesterday that I felt all things that happened were connected somehow. But I was not able to find a reason or anything common in between. However, I have a feeling that there is a person or an organization behind the scenes who did all of these. Regardless of the reliability of the message about Laurence that Allen told Lucas, there was one certain thing."
