

Escape Wife 811

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 811 I Always Thought You Were Like Me

"Samuel, I have to admit that I'm most satisfied with you among all the children! You make me very proud. But now you're against me for a woman. You think that you can deal with me just because you dominate the Seapolis City? So what if you know that I had Zedd do those things? He was given up by my family. But his death turns meaningful when I know you're such a great son."

But Samuel shook his head.

"No, you have no heart at all. I said that I am familiar with your every move. So, please tell me: are you a part in Vincent's death?"

"No. How could it have anything to do with me? I didn't do anything. I even went to see him before he died. I said goodbye to him for the last time. Besides, I like Vincent so much. How could I kill him?"

Laurel sounded very sincere, but Samuel did not buy it.

"You like him because he relies on you and sees you as his mother. But what did you think of Vincent? I thought that you were really nice to him, but now I know that we were too naive. You are good to him because you want to keep a safety net for yourself. You are merely giving me a warning that I will be replaced by Vincent when I'm out of control. I've built an empire for the Greens. But you don't need a genius like me to keep it, so Vincent became the best candidate. But I don't know why you killed him. Did he find out your secrets?"

Laurel's face went an ugly green.

"Stuff and nonsense. I said that I have nothing to do with his death."

"If I didn't know that you were a Miller and that all the women in your family married with a purpose, perhaps I wouldn't have suspected you. Vincent never took the jade pendant off until he died. As a Green, we live with our jade pendant and get buried with it. But when Vincent died, I didn't see his pendant. I was puzzled at that time. Later, when I got this jade pendant from Lucas, I found that there was something different on it. Do you know what it is?"

Samuel took out the jade pendant from his pocket.

Laurel's face sunk even more.

Samuel knew that she had known it.

"You know it, don't you? A part of the jade pendant shattered. Although you may have found the most famous jade repairman in the world to fix it, I still found the difference. There was a crack here, and blood seeped into it. Although it was repaired, it had been broken. No matter how well it was repaired, it was different from before. If you really liked Vincent, it made sense that you were sad and you found someone to repair it when it shattered on the battlefield. But after I learned of your ambitions, I knew that you wouldn't do such a boring thing. You must have something to do with his death, and you're afraid that others will find it out according to some clues. That was the real reason why you took a lot of efforts to do this. I've also the flow of your funds and found the repairman."

After Samuel said that, Laurel's face twisted in anger.

"Are you investigating me?"

Chapter 812 Laurence, How Dare You Stop Me?

It was Finn!

Perhaps Samuel was too intimidating, or perhaps Laurel's bodyguards realized that she was defeated by Samuel. Anyway, when Laurel was talking with Samuel, they let go of Finn. Maybe Finn was not a threat to them now.

In short, Finn had been prepared after he was free. When he saw Laurel turn around and run away, he only thought that he couldn't let her escape. Otherwise, if Laurel came back on top again, she would make troubles for Nicole.

Finn thought that he owed Nicole too much.

When Samuel saw Finn chasing after Laurel, he was stunned for a moment. Then, he realized something and didn't stop Finn.

"Control these people and find out how many people they've killed. Leave them to the police later," Samuel said coldly.

He did not let them go because they surrendered. To him, these people were all potential threats to Nicole and their children.

The Greens managed to control those people in time.

After Finn caught up to Laurel, he threw her to the ground.

Laurel was so old that Finn's attack almost broke her up.

When she saw that Finn threw her down, she couldn't help but curse angrily. "You ingrate! If it wasn't for me, you would have starved and died in the orphanage. How could you become this successful? You are my dog, yet you want to bite your master. You think that Samuel will treat you nicely? No. You love Nicole. Samuel is jealous and he would not have you around them. You might as well let me go. I promise I'll make you a real big shot if you let me go."

"Forget it. You said that I'm just a dog. Then I'll do what a dog should do. However, I'm not your dog. I'm Nicole's. She's my owner now! Laurel, even if I die, I'll drag you down to hell with me. I won't let you hurt Nicole again."

Finn had exhausted all his strength after pressing Laurel down on the ground. His bones had been broken, and he had caught up with Laurel with all his might. Now, he could no longer move.

A spasm of pain kept sweeping over him, but Finn was happy now. He knew that he might be very miserable for the rest of his life, but he did not care.

As long as he could do something to protect Nicole, it was all worth it.

Seeing Finn's gratified smile, Laurel got so angry that she kicked and even bit him. But she still couldn't escape. Finn held her down with his body to buy time for Samuel.

When Samuel saw that Laurel was pressed to the ground, he could not help but shake his head.

"Laurel, you should give up."

"No, I won't! Samuel, you think you won? Just remember it: as long as there is a woman in the Millers, you won't win. I will get out! And I will make you and Nicole live in hell."

Even now, Laurel was still threatening Samuel and Nicole. Perhaps she was accustomed to being superior. She could not tolerate her descendants being so disrespectful to her.

However, Samuel looked at her coldly. "I will not give you the slightest chance to hurt my wife and children."

As he spoke, he had Laurel controlled and handed her over to the police.

Finn had fainted.

Seeing Finn had blacked out, Samuel thought that Nicole was soft-hearted for him. Although Samuel was very unhappy about it, he had someone send Finn to the hospital. But he did not care if Finn could survive.

Samuel let go of Cynthia and the latter panted on the ground like a fish that was out of water.

Laurence squatted down and extended his hand towards Cynthia.

"I'll get you up."

Laurence's words made Cynthia's eyes teary.

"Don't think I will let you go because you've said something nice. If it weren't for you, Adela wouldn't have died."

Cynthia shook off Laurence's hand and cried sadly.

Laurence was heartbroken.

Yeah, if it wasn't for him, perhaps Adela wouldn't have died.

She might not get the love she wanted, but she would live. People had hope only when they were alive, right? Only when she was alive could she do other things, right?

But now, it was because of his love that Adela was killed and Cynthia lost her daughter.

Laurence did not resist Cynthia's accusation.

Samuel didn't care what grudges they had against each other. This time, he came to save Laurence and repay him for his kindness. Now that his debt had been paid off, he wouldn't leave Nicole's matter unsolved because of anyone or anything.

"I'm asking you, you said that you had news of Nicole. Where is she?"

Only then did Laurence look at Samuel and whisper, "Allen took her away. Ernesto found a button on Allen's clothes in the backyard. Owner may have yanked it during the struggle."

Ernesto was the skinny man.

Samuel was stunned. He never thought that Allen would have the guts to do anything to Nicole. Did he really think that Laurel could protect him and the Brook family?

"How can Ernesto be sure that it's Allen's button?"

"It has Allen's fingerprints on it, and Ernesto said that he got today's surveillance clips and found that the buttons on Allen's suit are exactly the same."

Laurence's words softened Samuel's expression.

Chapter 814 No One in This World Wants to Go to Hell with You

Nicole now believed that Allen was crazy!

No!

Not only had he gone mad, he had risked everything.

Nicole twisted the handle, but she couldn't open it no matter what.

Allen couldn't help but be a little furious when he saw that Nicole still didn't want to be with him.

"Nicole, is it that hard to compromise?"

"Love is not about compromise. Allen, why won't you understand?"

Nicole was very anxious.

The temperature was getting lower and lower. She had to keep stomping her feet to keep herself warm, but she also knew that this wouldn't work for long.

Nicole searched for her phone, but Allen had thrown it away.

Seeing Nicole's actions, Allen smiled complacently.

"Our phones were dumped into the sewer. Don't worry, no matter how good Samuel's computer skills are, he can't find us. Maybe he can, but at that time, we should be on our way to hell."

"No one in this world wants to go to hell with you! Allen, you're a madman! Do you know that your family will probably be erased because of your stupid actions?"

Nicole hoped to use Allen's family to sober him up. Unfortunately, Allen didn't care.

"So what my family will survive? I still can't have you. If my family were that powerful, you would have been my wife. I really regret that I didn't do anything to you in the past five years. I even didn't marry you. Even now, I can't bear to force you to do something you don't want to do, but I will never do it again in my next life. I, want, you!"

Allen's madness despaired Nicole.

'Samuel, where are you?'

'If you don't come, the baby and I will die!'

Nicole shouted in her heart. She kept walking back and forth to stay warm.

Samuel felt a sudden pain in his heart, and he had a bad feeling.

"Nicole!"

He searched for Nicole like crazy, but despite the money spent and connections used, he couldn't find Nicole's whereabouts. Even Allen seemed to have disappeared from the world, and he couldn't find where they were.

Nicole's hesitation and doubt were noticed by Allen.

He smiled and said, "Samuel is a human, not God. He would never know that we would be here. I think he may be crazily searching in every hotel and we will be on our way to hell after he finishes. Good, no one's bothering us anymore. Listen to me. Come here and sit down. Let's talk and die peacefully, shall we?"

Nicole wanted to curse, but now, no matter how angry she was, it was useless.

She had to find a way to tell Samuel that she was here.

Nicole knocked on the door like crazy.

Seeing her like this, Allen couldn't help but feel a little distressed.

"This door is very thick. Even if you smash your hand, no one outside can hear it. You should save your energy to live longer."

Hearing Allen's words, Nicole was utterly desperate.

Would she die here?

When she thought of herself becoming a corpse and her children became motherless, and that baby in her belly didn't even have chance to see the world, Nicole's heart ached.

She had always been grateful to Allen, even if he had done such an outrageous thing like raping her. Nicole remembered his kindness and let him and the Brook family go. But now, she regretted it so much.

Her kindness was exchanged for today's helplessness, which made Nicole understand that not everyone spared would be grateful.

But it was too late.

Nicole leaned against the door and looked coldly at Allen. Her gaze was so cold and strange that Allen was a little scared.

"Nicole, why are you looking at me like this?"

"I regret to have let you go. Allen, whether in this life or in the next, you won't be my beloved. Do you know why I fall in love with Samuel? Because he is not self-centered. As long as I live well, he would be willing to live in grievance for the rest of his life, or he may let go. But you can't! You said that you loved me, but to put it bluntly, you are just unconvinced. You are unconvinced to lose to Samuel. You feel that you are outstanding and not inferior to Samuel. In fact, you are no match for him in everything, be it courage or personality. Allen, I look down on you. I will look down on you in my next life. If there is an afterlife, I only hope that you and I will be strangers and never meet again."

Nicole's words agitated Allen.

"Nicole, I won't allow it! I definitely won't allow you to be a stranger to me! I don't care what you think of me now. As long as I'm with you, die together and be buried in the same grave is enough for me!"

"You wish. Even if we both die, I won't be buried with you."

After Nicole finished, she shut up.

She leaned against the door and sat down, feeling the air freezing her.

Nicole subconsciously touched her belly and thought, "Baby, I'm sorry, Mom can't protect you, but you will be happy to have Mom die with you, right? I just hope that your daddy and your brothers and sisters can be strong and won't change because of our death."

Her eyes glittered with motherly affection.

Right now, she couldn't tell Allen about her pregnancy. Otherwise, it would be harder for Allen to calm down. She would rather leave this world quietly with her child.

Chapter 816 Will a Miracle Happen to Nicole

"Nicole! Nicole! Can you hear me?"

Samuel was shaking terribly.

Never before had he been so fearful. Even when Nicole was poisoned to a mute, he wasn't so desperate and worried.

His eyes were scarlet and swollen.

In a daze, Nicole vaguely heard Samuel. But his voice seemed to come from a distance. Maybe it was from the times of great antiquity.

Was she really dead?

Nicole felt her whole body numb. She was so drowsy that she couldn't open her eyes no matter how hard she tried.

Allen opened his eyes when he noticed someone near.

Anyway, compared with Nicole, he was stronger.

When he saw Nicole in Samuel's embrace, he was enraged.

"Samuel! Are you still a human? Why are you able to find here? Let go of Nicole! Let go of her! She's mine! She's mine!"

Allen struggled to get up, but he couldn't. Then, he tried to crawl over.

Samuel was unable to vent his anger. The moment he saw Allen, he erupted.

He directly kicked Allen away.

"I won't let you die. I will let you live in pain for the rest of your life. You'll pay a high price for what you did!"

Samuel turned around and carefully picked Nicole up, rushing outside.

"Call for an ambulance!"

Laurence had already made the call. But seeing Nicole covered in frost, he couldn't help but feel incredulous.

Perhaps no one would expect Allen to go to the extremes.

Samuel carried Nicole into the ambulance and coldly stated to Laurence, "Don't let Allen die. Save him. I want him to live in regret for the rest of his life!"

"Okay."

Laurence took a step back. Ernesto immediately stepped forward and grabbed hold of Allen.

Allen's whole body was hurting. He wanted to chase after Nicole, but he was too weak to make it. He just shouted.

"Samuel, I will never be done with you! Why? Why won't you give this one last thing that I want? Why? Are you a devil?"

Samuel's gaze was extremely cold.

If it wasn't for Nicole's weak breath, he might have rushed over and strangled Allen to death.

Damn it!

The ambulance quickly drove to the hospital. The doctor and nurses were already waiting at the entrance.

"Why are you standing there? Come to help me!"

Seeing the nurse in a daze, the doctor shouted.

Only then did the nurse react.

After some emergency treatment, Nicole's vital signs were still unstable, making everyone worried.

Samuel, who was waiting outside, was fidgeting as well. He wished he was a doctor, so he could go in and guard Nicole.

At this moment, Ernesto ran over, panting heavily.

"Mr. Green, Laurence asked me to give this to you. He said it might help Ma'am."

When Samuel saw what Ernesto was holding, he couldn't help but be delighted.

It was Laurence's blood!

Blair once said that Laurence's blood was valuable and effective in many ways.

Samuel took the bottle and directly rushed into the emergency room.

"Transfuse this to her! Be quick!"

Samuel's words shocked the doctor.

"What is this?"

"Just listen to me! Hurry up!"

Samuel had no time to explain.

"But if it killed her, we can't afford it."

The doctor was worried.

All of a sudden, the nurse aside took it as she murmured, "I'll take the blame."

As she said, she directly transfused it to Nicole before the doctor could react.

The doctor was so scared that his face turned pale.

"Cara, what are you doing? Can you afford it if she dies?"

The nurse, Cara, stated in a low voice, "Mr. Green loves his wife so much. He will definitely not harm her."

"You know nothing!"

Before the doctor could finish his words, Samuel took a glance at Cara.

She was a plain girl, but Samuel had an idea.

"Your name is Cara?"

"Yes."

"Pack up and resign from the hospital. From now on, you are my wife's full-time nurse. I will pay you twice your monthly salary."

Samuel's words surprised Cara. She quickly nodded with pleasure.

Seeing that Allen wanted to kill himself, Samuel said indifferently, "If you died, I would sell your mother to a remote place. Although your mother is a little old, she can still earn some money for me. I think those people will like her."

Samuel's words promptly stopped Allen from harming himself.

Allen glared at Samuel and said angrily, "Samuel, as a man, you give a woman a hard time. You're too shameless!"

"You are also a man. As a king, you always make it difficult for my wife. I thought you wanted to provoke me and fight me, didn't you? Since that's the case, I won't care about honor or dignity. As long as I can make your life a living hell, it wouldn't matter if I become a villain. I can't bear to hurt my woman myself, yet you actually dare to attack her again and again. Allen, do you really think there's nothing I can do with you? Even if you can be heartless and have no soft spot to be held against, I still have a way to make your life a living hell. Do you know? Laurence's blood can really bring back the dead sometimes. Do you want to have a try?"

Samuel who was like a Satan from hell, chilled Allen.

Allen truly regretted it!

He regretted provoking this Devil!

In the past, he thought that he was a big shot who could compete against Samuel. In the past, he felt that he was not much inferior to Samuel. But now, it seemed that he could not compete with Samuel in terms of ruthlessness, not to mention anything else.

How could he have no soft spots at all?

How could he be heartless to his mother?

His mother had suffered so much for him. Now how could he let his mother live in hell again?

"Samuel, I lost. Please let my mother go!"

"I told you, it's too late."

With that, Samuel stood up and walked out.

Allen shouted at the top of his lungs, "Samuel, I beg you! I can do whatever you want. Don't hurt my mother!"

"When you hurt Nicole, did you ever think about this day?"

Samuel said and walked out.

Laurence had always been outside the door.

When Samuel came out, Laurence glanced at him and said in a low voice, "Rachel wants to see you."

"I don't want to see her. She has the nerves to see me."

With that, Samuel turned around and left.

He had to go see Nicole.

He wondered if Nicole had woken up yet.

Samuel quickly returned to the ward. Nicole was still asleep, and Cara was carefully wiping Nicole's cheeks.

He carefully came to her side and said in a low voice, "Let me do it."

Cara was stunned for a moment, but she quickly handed the towel to Samuel.

"Don't cry. I'm serious. The baby is fine. We haven't lost it."

No matter how Samuel explained it, Nicole felt that he was comforting her.

Just as Samuel didn't know what to do, the doctors and nurses came in.

"Mrs. Green, what's wrong? We just rescued you from the jaws of death. You can't cry like this. Otherwise, you will lose your baby. When the time comes, the gains will really outweigh the losses."

The doctor's words immediately made Nicole stop crying.

"What did you say? I didn't lose my baby."

"Yeah. I have to say, this baby is simply too strong. I'm here to give you the ultrasound report. You can see the gestational sac. Take a look."

As the doctor spoke, he handed a test report to Nicole.

Nicole took the report and looked at it carefully before immediately cracking a smile.

"The baby is still here. Samuel, she's still in my belly."

"Yes, I said just now. But you refuse to believe me."

Samuel felt a little depressed.

At this time, Nicole was in a good mood. She hugged Samuel and giggled, "Alright. I blamed you wrongly. It's good that the baby is still fine. Look, this is our baby."

Nicole handed the report to Samuel.

Samuel looked at the little black thing on the report and couldn't help but recall that five years ago when Nicole went to the hospital to have a check-up alone. At that time, he accompanied Riley and even didn't have chance to see their baby's first pregnancy test report clearly.

If he could stay by Nicole's side at that time, perhaps she wouldn't have to suffer so much.

Luckily, now he had a chance to make up for it.

Samuel carefully put the report in his pocket. Looking at Nicole, he said gently, "Quickly lie down. I'll give you a massage on your limbs."

"Yes. Let Mr. Green give you a massage. Your limbs have frozen stiff for too long, and the blood flow is not good. If you did not pay attention, you will get sick easily in the future."

The doctor said.

Nicole was somewhat embarrassed.

With so many people watching, Samuel rubbed her limbs. Nicole blushed.

"Doctor, quickly examine her. Is there anything else wrong with her?"

Samuel said as he rubbed her limbs.

The doctor hurriedly stepped forward to examine Nicole.

Nicole wanted Samuel to stop several times, but Samuel did not listen to her.

After checking for a while, they found Nicole did not have any major problems, and all her indicators had reached a stable state.

Nicole didn't care much about the commotion outside. She tried to take a nap, but Rachel's voice was so loud that it was difficult for her to ignore it. "Nicole, Nicole, come out! You ungrateful woman! If it weren't for us, you and your children would have died five years ago. You should feel ashamed for treating us like this now!"

Rachel was still clamoring.

Cara figured out the grudge between Rachel and Nicole. She frowned and said to the bodyguards besides, "What are you waiting for? Are you waiting for Mr. Green's order? Or are you going to see Mrs. Green get upset by her nonsense? Hurry up and take her away!"

The bodyguards immediately stepped forward. One covered Rachel's mouth, while the others lifted Rachel's feet and carried her out.

Nicole was going to go out and take a look when it got quiet outside. While she was confused, Cara had already opened the door and walked in.

"Mrs. Green, what are you doing? Are you going to the bathroom? Let me help you."

She quickly came over to Nicole.

Nicole shook her head and said in a low voice, "What's going on outside?"

"It's fine. An old lady was causing trouble. Don't worry about it. Just take a rest."

Cara helped Nicole to lie down.

Nicole looked at her and asked, "Do you know the things going on between me and her?"

"I don't know. But you are my owner, so I have to care about your health. You are not fit to see a guest now, especially such a noisy guest. You need to rest."

Nicole smiled and said, "You're doing great. Keep on with it."

"Yes, Mrs. Green, do you want to take a nap?"

"OK."

Then Nicole lay down and closed her eyes.

Cara tidied up the ward quietly. When she was about to take the garbage out, she saw Laurence standing at the door.

"What are you doing here?"

Cara was excited to see Laurence, her eyes sparkling with desire.

Laurence felt like a piece of fat meat coveted by a wolf. It was so creepy that he even regretted coming.

"Is Mrs. Green sleeping?"

"Yes. She just fell asleep. What's wrong?"

Laurence was somewhat depressed.

When did he have to acquire this woman's admission to see Nicole?

"Nothing. You handled it very well just now. Thank you."

Laurence then turned around and left.

Cara was confused.

"Wait, what do you mean by that? You are responsible for Mrs. Green's safety now?"

Cara tightly grabbed Laurence's hand.

Laurence frowned and said coldly, "Let go!"
