Chapter 841 Aren't You Afraid of Karma

"So it was you! No wonder he survived! So you've been on guard against me since then?"

Martha's words irritated Audrey.

"How come you talk about it as if you've done nothing wrong? Aren't you ashamed of yourself?"

"Ashamed? Why should I be ashamed of myself? He has never treated me like his daughter after he retired from the military service. Although he hasn't hurt me, I remember the way he looked at me. I've once hoped that he could give me a little bit of warmth, but he didn't even hug me once. He didn't even let me take his surname, Shaw. Do you know how cruel that meant to me then?"

Martha said angrily. It seemed that after so many years, she still couldn't let it go.

Audrey was so furious that she laughed.

"If you thought that way as a child, it would be understandable because you were still too young. But if you keep thinking that way until today, you will end up nowhere your whole life. I don't want to waste more time on you. To put it simply, you deserve such an ending. You will be punished by the law."

"You think you can stop me? If I mobilize my resources, I'm afraid you won't be able to hide me inside your home."

Martha was quite confident in the situation.

Audrey sneered, "Maybe you are powerful, but have you ever heard of the saying that the good shall prevail over the evil? How long do you think you can still get away with it? I've promised mom that as long as you don't do anything illegal, I won't hurt you. However, if you collude with your biological father to commit crimes, I won't just sit watching. Did you forget my job before?"

"You retired, didn't you?"

"Yes, I did. But I still have connections, consciences, and loyalty to my country! I am a member of the Shaw family. My father has served the country diligently, and I will not disappoint him. He called me and told me everything before you guys came here. Martha, you really have great patience. You've been hiding in the Seapolis City for so many years to protect your father, the terrorist, haven't you? You can sacrifice your marriage, your son, and even your life for him, but you know what? Your father didn't want to take you abroad with him. Laurel contacted not only you, but also your father the moment she was released. Right now, she is rushing to the airport, because your father told her so. But he didn't even leave you a message, did he? Your father has abandoned you and left you here. Your people outside won't get any more help from him. You can't get out now."

Martha's face immediately turned pale as she heard Audrey's words.

"Nonsense! That's impossible!"

"Nonsense? Do you really think that's nonsense? When you removed mom's breathing tube for your father, did you ever think that one day he would abandon you? No. To be exact, he has never taken you as his daughter. He was just using you as a scapegoat."

"Stop it! I don't believe you! I don't believe any word of you!"

Martha immediately got emotional.

She struggled hard. Just when Nicole thought that Martha could not get away with the rope, she suddenly untied the ropes and even rushed towards Nicole in no time.

"Nicole, be careful!"

Audrey's heart was in her mouth.

Although Nicole was surprised by Martha's agility and speed, she managed to counterattack and defend herself subconsciously. She quickly retreated after fighting hand to hand with Martha shortly.

"Where's my mother?"

Nicole was so worried that she let go of Samuel and ran back towards home.

"Nicole, be careful."

Samuel watched her with concern, following her back home.

She couldn't find Audrey anywhere at home and burst into tears.

"My mother doesn't want me anymore. She doesn't want to see me. I know it. She wouldn't have showed up here if grandpa hadn't called her and asked her to do so. She was a soldier and diplomat. It was her duty to come and see me. In fact, she wasn't waiting for me. She was waiting for Martha. Now that Martha has turned herself in, mom disappears again. How can she do this to me? "

Nicole felt so hurt and kept crying.

Samuel couldn't bear seeing her crying like this.

"It's not like that. Maybe she has something else to do and has to leave first. Don't over think about it."

"It is like that. Grandpa said that she wanted to be somewhere that no one knew her, and spent the rest of her life there alone. She has never seen me as her daughter!"

Nicole was acting like a child.

Samuel didn't know what to say or do to make her feel better.

As Nicole cried helplessly, Audrey's voice came from behind her.

"What happened? Samuel, what did you do to her?"

Samuel smiled and didn't know what to say.

When Nicole heard Audrey's voice, she turned around immediately.

"Mom, you are still here."

"Where else am I supposed to be? I have a few words with the captain. What happened to you?"

"I'm glad that you are still here. I thought you had left me again."

Nicole hugged her.

Audrey paused for a moment and started to realize why she was crying. She smiled and said, "You are a mother too now. How can you still cry like a little girl?"

"That's not the point. As long as I am with you, I am always a little girl, your spoiled little girl."

Nicole hugged her tightly, for fear of her mother leaving again.

Samuel shook his head and said, "Mom, I will leave you and Nicole alone. I need to go out and take a look. Martha is not anybody. I guess Mr. Shaw will come here soon to pick her up."

Chapter 843 Don't Waste Your Time on Me

"After knowing the truth of Adela's death, I was afraid that Laurence would ask me about it and I could not hold back from telling him the truth, so I chose to leave the Miller family and hid away. You have no idea what Adela had done for Laurence. Her body was full of pinpricks and I helped her cover them up. Seeing a lively young girl losing her life because of love, I was overwhelmed with mixed feelings. I used to think that I knew what love is about, but after seeing what Adela did for Laurence, I realized that I know nothing about true love."

Morgan sat down beside Nicole, and poured herself and Nicole a glass of water each. She held the glass and took a drink to moisten her throat.

"When I was with Kemp, I thought I loved him. When he chose his business over family, I felt that I was left out and thought he loved his business more than us. But after thinking it through, I realized that I might not love him as much as I imagined. I was indeed sorrowful when he was dead, but I had never thought about whether I would be able to continue my life without him. I felt my heart was numb. Then I met Adela, a young girl, and was astonished by her passion and selflessness to Laurence. Her love for Laurence was pure and sincere. She just simply loved him without weighing gains or losses. When I came to her side, there was nothing I could do for her. My nickname is Satan King, but I'm not a real one. I could not save her, but watch her die slowly for her lover. This was the first time that I felt weak and powerless."

Morgan said in a choked voice.

Nicole felt even worse.

She had thought of many possibilities. She even conjectured that Professor Miller, a cruel person, stopped Laurel from telling them. She didn't expect that Adela who looked gentle and weak would be so brave.

Nicole did not know what to say, nor did she know how to face Laurence.

Morgan patted her on the shoulder and said in a low voice, "Adela's death gave me a huge blow. Then I met your mother and learned her story. I decided that I have to stay alive and do what I want to do for the rest of my life. I must treat the people around me well. As for you, Nicole, you are lucky and live happily, because you have Samuel by your side and you guys love each other. Nothing is important when it comes to death. If it is possible, I think Adela also wants to live. She also wants to accompany Laurence until they grow old, but she has no choice. Cherish your time and live a good life with Samuel. Don't let my disciple worry."

Nicole nodded as she listened. Her heart was heavy.

"Don't worry. I will cherish my current life, and I will treat Laurence well."

Nicole didn't dare to let Laurence know the truth because it was too cruel for him.

She finally stood up and opened the door. To her surprise, Laurence was standing in the corridor with tears all over his face.

"Laurence, you...."

"I originally wanted to inquire about Adela's death. I didn't expect that she died because of me."

Laurence's heart ached so much that he felt he was dying.

How could he deserve all that Adela did for him!

He was originally a dying person, a monster that shouldn't exist in this world. Why would Adela give up her own life to save him?

He was already able to die with satisfaction when Adela could love him. Why was he not the one who died? Why would Adela die?

Didn't she know that it was more painful for him to live alone in this world without her?

Looking at Laurence who was miserable and guilty, Nicole felt her heart broken.

"Laurence, Adela did it all for you. Don't let her down."

suicide. Adela's parents are still alive. If they are not, I might do this. I'm not alone. Adela will live in my heart, forever. She has sacrificed her life for me. How could I not cherish my life? I want to take care of her parents for her and live well. Adela always wanted to travel all over the country when she was alive. Unfortunately, she did not have the chance, nor did she have the time. Cara was missing!

When Nicole found out that, she couldn't find Cara anywhere.

Laurence furrowed his brows tightly. Seeing that Nicole was still searching for her desperately, he couldn't help but say, "She may have left on her own."

"No!"

Nicole replied subconsciously, but then she felt something wrong. She suddenly turned to Laurence and asked, "Why are you so sure?"

"I asked her not to waste time on me. I think that maybe she's a bashful girl and couldn't take it, so she just left on her own."

Hearing that, Nicole was so vexed that she wanted to smash his head with a stone.

"I know that you don't like Cara, but she didn't do anything wrong to you or to me, right? She just likes you, and that's all. Why can't you just wait until we get back to the Seapolis City and then say those things to her?"

To Nicole's question, Laurence answered word by word, "My heart is dead. Compared to giving her false hope and wasting her time, it's better to tell her the truth timely. Perhaps she would find her love somewhere else. I'm not right for her."

"But you don't have to be in such a hurry!"

Nicole was irritated.

Seeing Nicole's reaction, Samuel was a bit worried about her and the baby in her belly. He hurried to comfort her, "Alright, just leave them alone. Since Laurence has told us what happened, let's just call Cara and see if she has booked a ticket."

However, Nicole shook her head and said, "She won't leave. Even if Laurence hurt her, she wouldn't leave without saying a word. I know Cara. She is reliable. I'm still here, and her job is to take care of me. She won't leave without telling me."

Seeing that Nicole trusted Cara so much, Samuel frowned.

"Laurence, where did you see Cara last time?"

"In the back alley."

"Let's go to take a look."

Samuel said as he was about to go there. Nicole followed.

"I'll go with you. I just can't rest reassured."

Samuel knew Nicole well enough and didn't stop her. He just put on a coat for her and followed Laurence to the back alley.

It was a little dark and quiet here.

Nicole and Samuel looked around carefully, while Nicole inadvertently stepped on something.

She lifted her foot and checked it after turning on the flashlight on her phone. Only then did she find out that it was Cara's phone.

"It's Cara's phone! If she had left on her own, she wouldn't have left her phone behind!"

Hearing her, Samuel instantly realized what had happened.

"Cara is kidnapped."

"But she's not rich. There is no reason that she got kidnapped."

Chapter 845 You Are Wronged Because of Me

"What happened? What's wrong with Cara?"

Nicole went to Cara's room in a rush and saw her being insane. Cara struggled to attack anyone who wanted to approach her.

"Stay away from me! All of you, get of my room!"

Cara shouted out with her eyes red and her hair messy, seemingly in a bad mental state.

"Cara!"

Nicole wanted to step forward, but was stopped by Samuel .

"She has gone insane. Don't get close to her, or you will be injured."

"It's fine. I can handle it. Don't worry."

Nicole gently pushed Samuel away and walked over.

Laurence watched from the sidelines and frowned, with his eyes full of regret and guilt.

Nicole put her arms around Cara and said in a low voice, "Don't be afraid, Cara. It's me. I'm Nicole, and I'm sorry to be late. It's fine, you're safe now."

Probably because Nicole comforted her in a soft voice or probably because she recognized Nicole, Cara calmed down when hearing Nicole. Then, she began to cry out.

She cried her heart out. Everyone who was present felt bitter as well when hearing her cries.

Nicole couldn't help but feel sorrow and choked up, "I'm sorry. You suffered a lot because of my negligence. Don't worry. Those who hurt you have been arrested. I won't let them off easily."

"Mrs. Green, I'm scared! I'm frightened to death!"

Cara wept and trembled unstopably, like a helpless child. It took a while for Nicole to comfort her and calm her down. At last, Cara was beat and fell asleep.

Since Nicole looked tired, Laurence interrupted, "Mrs. Green, go back and rest. I'll stay here and take care of Cara."

"It's better that I stay here. You go to busy bar."

As Nicole did not turn around and said indifferently, Laurence could tell that Nicole was unhappy. Did she blame him?

Laurence wanted to continue, but Samuel stopped him and took him out.

"If you really want Cara to have a good rest, don't mess up. Nicole doesn't want Cara to see you now."

"Why?"

Laurence was confused.

Samuel sighed, "Cara likes you. She was able to express her affection to you boldly and ask you to be his boyfriend without hesitation. However, it's different now. After the incident, she might avoid you and stop pestering you. You should be happy. After all, you finally can put your heart into loving Adela without interruption. Cara probably will feel even worse when seeing you. I suggest you go to the Seapolis City."

Laurence tried to say something, but he at last failed. Remaining silent, he nodded and left.

He couldn't give Cara what she wanted. Rather than staying here and causing Cara to feel miserable, it was better to listen to Samuel.

Samuel stood up and went to the kitchen after seeing

"What happened? Anything wrong?"

Seeing that Samuel was not in a good mood, Nicole asked.

Samuel smiled, "Nothing. Stay with grandpa. I got something to attend to."

"OK."

Nicole nodded.

Now that Samuel did not say much about the matter, he must have the confidence to fix it.

After Samuel left, Edwin snorted, "He was a prick when in the military. But with you, he is like a meek lamb. I'm not quite used to it."

Audrey coughed, "Dad, what are you talking about? Nicole is your granddaughter. Do you want Samuel to be the impatient with her?"

"Of course not!"

Edwin apologized.

Nicole could tell that grandpa and mom cared for her, so she didn't grandpa's words into heart.

"Well, you don't have to stay with us. You must be tired from this journey. Just go to take a rest."

Audrey looked at Nicole's raccoon eyes and felt distressed.

"I'm not tired. I want to stay with you."

Nicole didn't want to leave. To be honest, Nicole had no idea about how many more days Audrey had for her. She was afraid that if she left, something might happen to Audrey.

Audrey read through Nicole's mind. She said in a low voice, "Don't worry, I'll be fine, at least before you take part in the competition. You have my word."

Nicole had mixed feelings at Audrey's words.

"Don't worry. Your mother has promised you that everything will be fine. Besides, we have Morgan. By the way, when will Morgan come back?"

Edwin wished Morgan could be with Audrey all the time.

Nicole knew what Morgan was doing. She answered in a low voice, "She would be back soon. I'll go to take a rest."

"Where are you going?"

Edwin asked when he saw Nicole walk out.

Nicole said naturally, "Grandpa, you don't have many rooms here. Now that mom lives with you, I will go back to the Green's."

"We have plenty of rooms! Your mother lives in her original room. I got you your room as well. Let's go upstairs."

Seeing that Nicole was slightly stunned, Audrey asked, "What's wrong? Did Samuel say anything?"

"No. I was just thinking that maybe I was too immersed in drawing just now and didn't hear his call. I'll call him later. Mom, just go to sleep. I'll ask Steve for help. It's late. Don't stay up with me."

Nicole said with a smile.

She did not want Audrey to worry. Even if something happened to Samuel, she did not intend to let Audrey know.

Audrey had been in the officialdom for so many years, so she could clearly see Nicole through. However, since Nicole did this for her, she'd better pretend that she didn't know anything.

She smiled and said, "Alright, I'll go to sleep first. Don't be too late and take care of yourself. You're pregnant."

"I see."

Nicole smiled and watched Audrey out.

After Nicole closing the door, her smile froze.

She took out her phone and found that there were no text messages or phone calls. She became even more nervous.

Nicole called Samuel, but no one answered.

She called him six times in a row, but got the same response.

Nicole was anxious.

She didn't give up and called Samuel again. This time, the call was answered, but a woman's voice rang.

"Hello, who are you looking for?"

Nicole suddenly paused.

Samuel would often go to the clubhouses for some social activities, but he had never had a woman to stay with him. Nicole knew about this. And he would never let someone else to touch his cell phone.

Her gaze darkened.

"Who are you?"

Nicole's voice was cold, making the other woman pause for a moment. Then, she sounded weak and said in a low voice, "I am the princess of the clubhouse."

Nicole knew what the "Princess" meant. Just because of this, she was annoyed.

It wasn't strange for Samuel to go to the clubhouse, but it was strange for him to ask a princess to stay with him, not to mention that the woman was allowed to get access to his phone. Nicole's gaze turned colder.

"What about him?"

The woman swallowed and then said, "You mean Mr. Green?"

"Where is he?"

"Mr. Green is drunk. Someone helped him upstairs to rest. His phone was left here and I came to get his phone."

Hearing this, Nicole could hardly control her anger.

Damn! You bastard, Samuel!

'When you left, I thought something important had happened. But actually, you went to the clubhouse to drink with a princess!'

Nicole was both jealous and angry. Her rationality was about to burn up.

Chapter 848 What Exactly Was Olivia Going to Do?

Nicole's face changed colors.

Steve watched what was going on outside and understood the situation. After he saw Samuel did not react to Nicole's kick, he walked over.

"Nicole, out of the way. I'll beat him conscious."

Steve said, his teeth gritted.

Nicole was Audrey's daughter and the granddaughter of Mr. Shaw. It seemed Mr. Shaw liked them very much, and it was unforgivable for Samuel to let Nicole suffer.

Even though Steve knew that he was not able to fight Samuel off, he was going to challenge him.

Steve rolled up his sleeve, but was stopped by Nicole.

"Nicole, you should be tough. If you forgave the man, he would cheat on you again."

Nicole frowned.

She felt uncomfortable, even miserable, as if she had got a fly in the stomach. She said in a low voice, "Don't you find it weird?"

"About what?"

Steve was stunned by Nicole.

Normally when a girl caught her husband cheating on her, she would cry and even make a fuss. But why was Nicole so calm?

Although he could see hatred and sadness in Nicole's eyes, Nicole looked extremely calm.

"Nicole, be tough. I know you are pregnant and want to suck it up for the sake of the baby. But you don't have to do this. The Shaws can afford to raise a child."

Steve tried to guess Nicole's thoughts and comforted her.

Nicole looked at Steve, frowning deeply.

Why didn't Steve think she can afford to raise a child?

"Steve, you go and uncover the sheets."

Steve froze after he heard what Nicole said.

Samuel, Nicole's husband, was naked now. Everyone knew what was like under the sheets.

However, Steve did not dare to disobey Nicole's orders. He even felt that Nicole was too shocked to uncover the sheets herself.

Steve rushed forward and lifted the sheets up directly. But he and Nicole were stunned.

Samuel was well dressed with his trousers. It didn't seem that he had put on the trousers just now.

And Samuel didn't look drunk at all.

It was Samuel.

Samuel was so sharp that he couldn't make such a silly mistake.

Nicole somewhat regained her sense.

But Steve remained confused.

"What's going on? How could he cheat on you without taking off his pants? That woman had obviously had sex. Why?"

As Steve doubted, Nicole was also questioning the same thing.

"Is he awake?" Blair asked quietly.

But he got no answer but a sharp glare from Nicole. To be honest, he had complicated feelings with Samuel now.

Nicole intended to leave. But finally, she stopped.

"We have to go now."

Blair glanced at Nicole. No outsider should be involved in this matter. Too much words would be taken as excuses for Samuel's wrongdoing. They'd better stay out of the way.

Gabrielle saw Blair's point. She looked at Nicole, sighed, and left with Blair.

Extremely tired and uncomfortable, Samuel opened his eyes and got very surprised.

Where was he?

He turned around and looked at the strange room. When he saw Nicole, he was found in a trance.

"Nicole? Why are you here?"

Samuel was wearing a vacant expression.

Nicole heaved a sigh. Although she felt much hurt and upset, she suppressed her anger at the sight of Samuel's expression. With speculations in mind, she walked to the bedside and handed Samuel a cup of water.

"Drink some water. You must have a sore throat after drinking so much wine."

Samuel took the cup and drank it all. After that, some memories were brought back.

His pupils suddenly contracted.

"Something's wrong. Where's Olivia?"

Samuel suddenly sat up; only then did he realize that he was half-naked.

"What happened?"

His brows were tightly knitted together.

Nicole knew the real truth then. If he had slept with Olivia, he wouldn't be so lost, let alone forget everything. Blair said that Samuel had been drugged, so he could do nothing. It seemed to be true then.

"It's no big deal. Put on your clothes."

Nicole handed his clothes to Samuel. She then frowned slightly at the alcoholic smell from the clothes.

"Why did you drink so much?"

Samuel took his clothes and smelled the alcohol too.

"What's going on?"

"Cannot you tell that? You got drunk!"

Nicole was a little puzzled, but she could tell that Samuel really didn't know what had happened, unless he was playing the fool. However, Nicole knew that Samuel would admit if he had drunk wine.

Hearing Nicole's words, Samuel realized that something was wrong.

Chapter 850 I Lost Control Over Myself

When Nicole arrived at the security room, she hesitated. She trusted Samuel and Olivia, but had to find out the truth.

"Mrs. Green? What can I do for you?"

The security guard knew Nicole.

Nicole felt somewhat surprised.

"I want to check the video record."

"Well...."

The security guard was put in a difficult position.

"I have to get permission from my boss."

"Alright."

Nicole leaned against the wall, with the shadow in her eyes bringing about much pressure to others.

The security guard hurried to call his boss.

The boss showed up in no time, probably because of Nicole's identity.

"Mrs. Green, I'm the manager of this clubhouse. May I ask what do you want to check?"

"The video record of Room 1308 and the corridor."

Nicole spoke in a low voice.

The manager asked the security guard to get the record.

The previously deleted videos now showed up in the system, which surprised the security guard. Then he quickly looked down.

Actually, Nicole did not pay attention to the video at all. Instead, when she said that she wanted to check the video, she carefully examined the security guard's looks. Although the guy was calm, the flash of panic on his face was captured by Nicole.

Even the manager was stunned.

Nicole had an idea about what was going on.

"Anything wrong? You look so nervous."

Nicole put on a wooden smile.

She had learned a lot from Samuel, especially his aura. The aura was basically similar to that of Samuel now. The manager felt cold sweat on his forehead.

"Mrs. Green, you must be joking. I'm just a little surprised that you want to check Mr. Green."

The manager kept his head down.

"Is that so? Does this clubhouse belong to the Kent family? Or is it related to the Kent family?"

Looking at their expressions and the video, Nicole knew that Samuel had recovered the video. It was the only explanation.

The manager frowned and said in a low voice, "No, Mrs. Green. This clubhouse has nothing to do with the Kent family."

Nicole sneered. After finishing watching the video, she turned around to leave.

The manager took a deep breath and ordered, "Delete it now."

"Got it."
