Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 851 I Have a Craving for It

Samuel's fingers froze but soon continued to tap dance on the keyboard. The steady beat filled the room as well as Nicole's heart.

Before she could speak her thoughts, Samuel beat her to it.

"Sit down and get yourself a hot cup of water to warm your hands. Other things can wait."

"Alright."

She did exactly as she was told.

She was anxious but knew she had to wait. She had used all her connections to search for Olivia, but it was like looking for a needle in a haystack.

Samuel finished his code and gave the computer commands. However, he found nothing useful.

There wasn't even a misdemeanor in the Kents' files, which feels kind of weird.

"How is it?"

Nicole couldn't help but run over and ask.

"Be careful."

He frowned slightly, and worry crept up on his face.

Nicole got alert and picked her steps. Then she saw the Kents' profiles.

"These are...."

"I have no dirt on them. I got through the Hacker Union's firewalls for this. But do you think it needs that kind of firewalls?"

She sensed something fishy from his sharp question.

"Are you saying the Kents are hiding something?"

"Yes, maybe they have offended someone important. That's what I'm most afraid of. We shouldn't be looking for Olivia blindly. I know you're worried about her. Given how close you guys are, she must not want to get you into trouble or be found. Don't act rashly. We'll try our best."

Samuel turned off the computer.

Nicole nodded and didn't know what else to say.

He looked at her and said softly, "Is there something you want to get off your chest?"

"I'm sorry. I shouldn't have suspected you."

She knew she should tell him that now.

He pulled her to the bed and sat her down, sighing, "I know you. I understand how you must have felt when you saw Olivia and me in that room. But Nicole, I didn't cheat on you."

"I know. I also know why Olivia did that. I am just a little upset."

"I will give that crazy girl what for when I find her. What has she done to cover your ass? Did she ever think about how I would feel?"

Chapter 852 We Won't Run Away

After Olivia left the room, Booth was still hesitating.

Actually, Olivia was no fool. She knew he only wanted her to leave the house, but she didn't want to upset him.

She heard him groping for his phone. She sighed and left, holding his SIM card.

Booth finally plucked his courage and wanted to call Nicole, only to realize his SIM card was missing.

He was stupefied. He had no idea when Olivia took it. He looked at the useless phone and gave a bitter smile.

What was a phone without a SIM card?

She warned him not to order takeout because it might cause trouble. Therefore, she always went out to buy their food. And that was why she had lost a lot of weight in such a short time.

He knew he was holding Olivia down, but he couldn't even die. If he did, perhaps she would lose her will to live, too.

He was breathing for Olivia.

He lay down with a sigh and punched his legs, but couldn't feel them.

Brian!

This name was seared into his brain. One day, he would make him pay!

After Olivia left the house, she saw the Don's and the Green's men were searching the streets. She knew they were looking for her.

She felt they couldn't stay in the Seapolis City any longer. She and Booth needed to leave as soon as possible, not only for Nicole, but also for Booth. No matter what, she absolutely couldn't let anything happen to her brother.

Olivia avoided everyone and saw a military vehicle heading in the direction of the Green's.

She vaguely saw Lucas and Joseph.

Her eyes misted over.

Perhaps she would never see these children again.

Olivia left quickly before sorrow crept up on her.

Lucas was on his phone. Suddenly, he looked up and out of the window.

That startled Zoe.

"Lucas, what are you doing? What are you looking at?"

As she spoke, she also looked outside.

Lucas frowned. He was beginning to have Samuel's vibe.

"Just now, I felt someone was staring at us."

"How could that be? We're in a military car. Who dared to look at us?"

Zoe was much stronger after spending some time in the military.

Lucas did not say anything else and lowered his head to play the game again, but he had a feeling something big was going to happen.

Joseph looked at him and asked,

Seeing them like this, Zoe couldn't help but ask. Joseph also looked at them worriedly.

Nicole and Samuel quickly conceal their emotions. Nicole whispered, "Nothing. You go take a shower and come down to dinner. Daddy and I are gonna answer a call."

"Alright."

Zoe and Joseph went upstairs.

Mark looked at them and whispered, "Are you guys in trouble?"

"Yes, a little. We've already told Uncle Jason. Thank you, and don't worry, Uncle Mark."

Nicole laughed, hurriedly picked up the phone and walked outside.

Samuel also frowned and looked worried.

Only then did Mark remember what Samuel had asked him when he came back.

"What's going on?"

"Something happened to a friend, a friend of Nicole. It's a bit tricky."

Samuel whispered.

If possible, he didn't want to have the Don family involved, but those he was faced with were so powerful that he even couldn't find out who they were. It was somewhat frustrated.

Hearing that it was about a friend of Nicole's, Mark immediately stood up.

"What happened? Tell me. Maybe I can help."

"You know what? Why don't you stay and cook for us? You are just right in time." Nicole said jokingly.

What he said made Mark want to punch him.

Cooking for them? Come on!

He asked a Colonel like him to cook for them?

Although Mark wore an angry face when he headed to the kitchen, he was willing to cook for the kids.

Samuel then quickly went outside to find Nicole.

"How's it going? Who made the call?"

"Cold call."

Nicole was very disappointed.

She really wanted to hear from Olivia, even a simple call.

Samuel understood her, but he didn't know how to comfort her.

They stood outside for a while, then Nicole said, "Let's go inside. I don't want the kids to know something's wrong. It's a grown-up stuff."

"OK."

They went back to the living room.

The kids had got out of the shower and come downstairs.

As if something occurred to her, Olivia suddenly looked at Jacob.

"Are you alright? Did I hit you just now? I..."

She didn't finish her sentence.

She remembered.

She was no longer the Olivia of the past!

She had so much to do that she couldn't let her friends and her loved one get involved.

Seeing her like this, Jacob grabbed her hand.

"What exactly happened to you? Can you tell me? Or do you think I can't protect you? Do you think I can't make you feel safe, so you'd rather take it on alone? Am I such a loser to you?"

"Yes! You can't save me. You can't save the Kent family. You're just Samuel's assistant. How can you help me? Your little bit money is nothing to me. It's nowhere near helpful, you understand?"

Olivia suddenly pushed him away, and what she said even made Nicole feel uncomfortable.

"Olivia, you're going too far!"

Her face turned cold.

Olivia knew that she was angry, but so what?

All she wanted was her anger.

"Going too far? I even..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Nicole slapped her on the face.

The slap made a crisp sound. All of them were shocked, especially Booth.

"Nicole, you hit her?"

He was especially shocked, because he knew more than anyone else that Olivia and Nicole had a deep relationship.

"How can you hit my sister?"

Booth's eyes immediately turned red.

He wanted to get up, but there was nothing he could do.

The corner of Olivia's lips was stained with blood.

We've grown up together. You said that we should share ware and woo. You went to the border for me, and Booth lost his legs. Why don't you tell me? Do you see me as your sister? Chapter 855 Samuel Has Been with Me All the Time

Feeling confused, Nicole was about to ask Olivia more. Jacob was frowning and didn't know either why things would have turned out this way. Just at that time, Samuel suddenly said,

"Do the Greens have anything to do with what happened to the Kents?"

Nicole froze at his words.

Jacob was startled.

Olivia stopped crying.

Booth turned his gaze on Samuel.

Looking at them, Samuel said word by word, "Olivia, you asked Nicole to divorce me and Jacob to leave me. Didn't you just want to imply that what happened to the Kents is related to the Green family? I'm don't know why they let me be in charge of the Greens. I wonder what makes you think that I'm the person behind all this."

Nicole was the first one who reacted to his words.

She looked at Olivia and Booth, and then shook her head, "No, Samuel will never do anything bad to the Kents. I can guarantee that with my life."

Olivia didn't turn around, but Nicole could see her shoulders trembling.

Booth looked at Samuel and said in a cold voice, "You guys, leave now." He didn't say anything else.

"Booth, you don't want to tell me what happened either? You said before that you're willing to treat me as your elder sister. Why can't you tell me what's going on?"

It seemed that both Olivia and Booth were not going to say more. Nicole couldn't help but feel a bit anxious.

Booth looked at her, tears glittering in his eyes.

"Nicole, I do treat you like my own sister. I have no complaint about losing my legs for you. But you are not my real sister after all. I beg you. Don't hurt my sister anymore, okay? We appreciate your kindness. Please go now."

Nicole was shocked by Booth's words. She felt that her knees became weak.

Everyone knew that Olivia and Samuel hadn't been getting along in the past. For Nicole, she even dared to risk her life to fight with Samuel. But she had never made Nicole feel so scared like how she felt now.

It seemed that she would really lose Olivia this time.

Samuel looked at Booth with his red eyes.

"I need an answer."

"You will get the answer someday. Perhaps you'll get it soon."

Hearing his words, Samuel frowned slightly.

At this moment, Samuel's phone rang. Everyone was a bit shocked by the ringing.

Samuel looked at the phone in his hand and found that it was Lucas.

He took a deep breath and restrained his anger. He spoke in his usual voice, "Lucas, what's wrong?"

"Samuel, could you come back quickly with mom? Someone came to our home and said that he's your father."

"Who?"

Samuel thought that there was something wrong with his ears.

Vincent?

How was it possible?

Both Nicole and Samuel witnessed what happened at that time so she was sure that Vincent had died. The person pretending to be Vincent had also died, hadn't he?

How could there be someone looking exactly like Samuel?

Even Nicole didn't believe that such a person existed now, let alone Olivia. But Samuel indeed had been with her during that period of time.

Nicole was a bit stunned. Looking at her expression, Olivia forced a smile and said, "Hard to believe right? You said that he had been with you all the time. He didn't leave you even for a second? Are you sure about that? I've been with you for so many years, will I make a mistake and take someone else as Samuel? How can I not recognize his words, behaviors and all the expressions on his face?"

Faced with Olivia's questions, Nicole couldn't utter a word.

"There must be a misunderstanding here. You are my best friend, so it's impossible for Samuel to attack your family!"

Nicole tried to argue for Samuel. But it occurred to her that there were indeed several days in which Samuel was not with her.

At that time, Samuel should have been cooperating with Edwin to do something. But could that be related to the Kents?

Olivia didn't want to talk anymore.

She knew best how Nicole loved Samuel. Now she had told Nicole clearly what happened. If Nicole still didn't trust her, there was nothing to be done about it. Olivia said with exhaustion, "Go now. Blair should still be waiting for you outside. Don't contact me from now on."

These words hurt Nicole. She felt pain in her heart immediately with her eyes filled with tears.

"Are you really going to end our friendship? Olivia, we shouldn't go this far."

"I'm sorry. But my mom has been killed. I can't pretend that nothing has happened."

Olivia buried her head in Jacob's embrace. It was obvious that she was really tired.

It seemed that Booth got something to say, but he didn't say anything in the end.

Nicole walked out numbly, feeling that her mind was in a mess. When she saw Blair smoking in the corner, she couldn't help but pause for a moment. Then she asked, "Blair, will Samuel really turn against the Kents? What do you think?"

"What do you mean?"

Blair was confused by Nicole's question. He didn't know why she had such a question suddenly, so he couldn't help but ask her.

Nicole told him what Olivia just said. Hearing Nicole's words, Blair frowned.

"Impossible! Samuel will never attack the Kents! I remember very clearly when he knew that Olivia had gone back to her family, he asked many dealers to do business with the Kents. You just said that he destroyed the Kents with his people? That's nonsense! I don't believe that."

"I don't believe that either. But it doesn't seem that Olivia has lied to me. Why does she accuse Samuel unjustly for no reason? It doesn't make any sense. Also, she's right. She is very familiar with Samuel. She knows as much as I do about him, so she wouldn't have had the wrong person."

"What do you mean? Are you suspecting your husband?"

Gabrielle noticed that Nicole was uneasy, so she said to Blair, "She can't wait until the morning. I think she won't have a good sleep here. You'd better send her back now."

Nicole looked at Gabrielle embarrassedly.

"I'm sorry. I..."

"I understand. You won't be able to rest well here. The thing about the Kents is over now. You can go back home. Your children are there. You will feel better to be with them."

Gabrielle was considerate.

Nicole looked at Blair. He nodded and went to start the car.

Nicole packed up her stuff. She called Samuel to tell him that she was going back home. However, she didn't get through.

Nicole frowned slightly. She was anxious.

As she got out with Blair, Nicole felt more worried.

"Blair, send me to the Don's."

"Why?"

Blair was a little surprised.

Nicole shook her head, but she had got a plan in her heart.

Blair couldn't refuse as she insisted, so he drove Nicole to the Don's.

Mark and Jason were surprised to see Nicole return at this time.

"What's wrong? You had a fight with Samuel?"

"No. I just feel confused about something. I want to discuss it with you."

Nicole wrapped her coat tighter. She felt a little cold.

"Come on in."

Mark thanked Blair and asked Nicole to get in.

It was warm indoors, but Nicole still had her eyebrows knitted.

"What happened?"

Jason was very worried and hurriedly asked.

Nicole looked at Mark and asked, "Uncle Mark, when you left the Green's, was Samuel at home?"

"Right. I wanted to ask you about that. You have gone out with Samuel. So why did he come back alone? There seems to be something wrong with the Green family."

"What's it?"

Hearing Mark's words, Nicole clenched her fists nervously.

Mark thought for a moment and said, "Didn't Lucas tell you? A man went to the Green's and said he was Samuel's father. But his father die long ago, didn't he? Anyway, it's a matter of the Green family. I should not get involved, so I decided to leave. I wanted to take the children here, but Samuel went back. He said he would handle it and take care of the children, so I came back alone. What happened? You didn't go to the Green's? "

Nicole came to ask him, so Mark guessed that she didn't go back. Otherwise, she would have known about these things.

Nicole froze on the spot. Since Nicole remained silent, the servants continued to move things out.

"Stop it!"

Nicole suddenly shouted with rage.

What the hell was Samuel doing?

The servants was frightened and stopped, wondering what to do.

"Take them in. No one can move anything out without my permission! I am going to ask him what he wants to do."

Nicole angrily entered the house.

The housekeeper was surprised to see Nicole.

"Mrs. Green, Mr. Green and the children are having their meal in the dining room."

Samuel would not start to eat until Nicole come before.

She was a little sad, but she quickly continued to walk to the dining room.

Samuel had already changed into a new set of clothes, and the children were enjoying the food. They were surprised to see Nicole.

"Mommy, come here."

Lucas hurriedly filled a bowl of rice for Nicole.

Nicole tried her best to suppress her anger and said to the children, "Go to your rooms. I want to talk to your daddy."

"Just say it. They are not vulnerable babies."

Samuel did not raise his head. He said in a cold tone, like what he would do five years ago.

Nicole felt heartbroken.

She even felt that she didn't know him anymore.

"Are you moving out?"

Nicole suppressed her sadness and asked.

"Yes. I need to deal with a collaboration case. I may get distracted at home, so I'm staying out for a few days."

Samuel still had his head lowered.

Nicole felt he was a stranger to her at this moment.

Hearing what they said, Lucas recalled Nicole's call last night. He looked at Samuel and said, "Samuel, Mommy didn't come back last night. Did you ask anyone to take her home?"

Samuel finally raised his head. He gave Lucas a harsh look.

"Shut up. The adults are talking."

Samuel had never been so stern to Lucas.

Nicole thought she had misheard.

"Samuel, what are you doing? He didn't say anything wrong."

"Look at your son! A fond mother spoils the children. They should go to the military region to have training from toady."

Samuel was not asking for their opinions.

Lucas and Joseph were shocked.

Chapter 859 Was It Really Necessary?

Nicole didn't have time to worry about Samuel. She quickly called Gabrielle.

"Gabrielle, I'm bleeding. Is the baby going to be okay?"

Nicole didn't want to trouble Gabrielle at this time. After all, Gabrielle was also pregnant. But she really didn't know who else to turn to.

When Gabrielle heard that Nicole was bleeding, she hurriedly said, "Wait for me. I'll be right there."

Nicole cleaned herself up and then changed into a clean pair of trousers.

After she dealt with all of this, Lucas happened to come in. Seeing Nicole's pale face, he asked worriedly, "Mommy, is there something wrong? You don't need to worry about Samuel. You should be tough with men."

He said it as if he was a mature man.

Nicole paused for a moment. She was relieved that her son was still on her side at this time. She smiled and said, "It's fine, I won't worry about him."

"Let me get Mommy a glass of water."

Lucas ran to the kitchen and poured a glass of warm water for Nicole.

Nicole took a sip and felt a little better.

"Alright, you can go have a rest now. Auntie Gabrielle will come later. Mommy needs a check-up."

"Is it a regular check-up? Or is there something wrong with my little brother or sister?"

Lucas was especially worried.

Nicole shook her head and said, "No, it's just a routine check. Don't be nervous."

Hearing Nicole's words, Lucas did not say anything and walked out of the room.

Outside, Samuel was sitting on the sofa and smoking, which was unusual.

Lucas went over and directly pulled the cigarette out of his mouth, then pressed it into the ashtray.

"Your wife is in a bad condition and her face is very pale. Did you know that she is pregnant and can't be irritated?"

Lucas said like an adult.

Samuel frowned. It could be seen that he was very fidgety because of Lucas' words. He even wanted to say something to Lucas. But at this moment, Gabrielle arrived.

"What happened to Nicole? Didn't I tell you? She's in the early stage of pregnancy, so she can't be emotional. What's going on between the two of you?"

Gabrielle wasn't nice to Samuel either.

Samuel didn't know how to explain himself. Finally, he stood up and said, "I'll go to the company."

"You don't want to see how the check-up turns out?"

Gabrielle was extremely surprised.

However, Samuel left without looking back and said, "You are here. It will be fine."

"Samuel!"

Lucas shouted behind him angrily, but Samuel ignored him and directly walked out.

Chapter 860 You're Not Samuel

Samuel was working on the computer, but the screen suddenly darkened and everything on the screen stopped moving.

Immediately after, he heard footsteps coming from outside.

"Mr. Green, all the computers in our company are down."

The secretary's face was a little pale.

This firewall of Eternal Group was made by Samuel himself. Normally, no one would be able to attack it. When Lucas attacked it when he first returned to France, Samuel dealt with it by himself.

Now that the entire company's network was down, the secretary hoped that Samuel could solve it quickly.

Samuel looked extremely displeased.

"What is the IT Department for? Do they need me for everything? Tell them to get lost if they can't fix it! Eternal Group wouldn't keep any useless people."

Samuel looked annoyed. His voice was as cold as ice, carrying a trace of anger.

The secretary was so frightened that she hurriedly ran out.

Lucas looked at the computer screen with his hands crossed over his chest.

How dared he bully Mommy?

Did he really think he could treat Mommy like that?

Lucas calculated the time. Samuel's skill was better than his. He couldn't last long, but during the period of time in the military region, he had learned a lot of hacking techniques. Now, he wanted to see how long it would take Samuel to solve the virus he had newly designed.

Time passed by.

The secretary ran into Samuel's office again and said with a trembling voice, "Mr. Green, the IT Department said that they would resign if they had to. This time, they really couldn't solve it."

Samuel frowned.

"Let them continue to work hard. I have rewards for them if they solve the problem."

Samuel waved his hand impatiently and the secretary went out. However, she was a little puzzled. Why didn't Mr. Green do it himself?

Lucas saw that the virus had not been touched. Moreover, almost five minutes had passed. In a few minutes, the important information of the company might really be lost.

Could it be that Samuel was not in the company?

Lucas frowned and quickly checked online.

The other party was still trying to solve the virus, but it wasn't Samuel. He also found that Samuel's office computer was on, and was being used, which meant that Samuel was in the company.

But why didn't Samuel solve the virus by himself?

He definitely knew what would happen to the company if he didn't take action.

Lucas was thinking about it.
