Chapter 861 Mr. Green Has Everything Under Control

The man was obviously stunned.

"What are you talking about? If I'm not Samuel, then who else can I be?"

Nicole looked at him and had a stronger feeling that he wasn't Samuel.

Although they looked alike, his eyebrows, temperament, and personality were totally different from those of Samuel.

Previously, she might have been blinded by Olivia's scheme and blamed Samuel for being petty. If Lucas hadn't noticed that something was wrong, she wouldn't have thought of this at all.

Could the person Olivia mentioned be him?

If it was him, where was the real Samuel?

Nicole became worried as she thought about it.

"Who are you exactly? Where's Samuel? What did you do to him?"

Nicole asked three rapid questions.

If Samuel were free to move, he would not have let this imposter treat his children like this.

Nicole sneaked a glance at Lucas, who knew what she meant but was hesitant.

Seeing Nicole's unwavering eyes, the man raised his hand, closed the office door with the remote and locked it.

Nicole's heart sank. She knew that it was impossible to send Lucas out now.

The man leaned back in his chair and said coldly, "Why can't you just be Mrs. Green quietly? Why did you have to come here and find out the truth? You even brought the child with you. Have you ever thought about the consequences?"

Hearing him admit it indirectly, Nicole grew anxious.

"I don't believe you dare do anything to me. Do you think you can act against the Dons and the Shaws behind me?"

"I can't do that indeed, but how do you know the person behind me can't and that you won't listen to me?"

The man sneered, looking every inch a winner.

Nicole's eyes drooped as she coldly asked, "You made the Kent family suffer all this? Did you kill Olivia's mother?"

"If you mean that one in Land City, then yes. I have no choice, because they've irritated my father."

Hearing this, Nicole clenched her fists tightly.

"Your father?"

"Yes, you can call him Uncle Elvis just like Samuel does, but he is indeed your husband's real father."

Although the man didn't detail it, Nicole understood.

She had heard that the Greens were a family of twins. Elvis and Samuel's father were also twins and probably looked exactly the same. But the man said that Elvis was Samuel's father, which confused Nicole.

"You don't need to know why I'm here. Now you just need to go back where you came from."

Samuel had a cold expression.

Gerry looked outside and saw Samuel' people everywhere, narrowing his eyes subconsciously.

"I don't think you would do anything to Father."

"That's your father, not mine. I grew up in the Green's, and it's my dead father who raised me. As for the person you mentioned, he's a madman. You've spent all your time with him, and been just like him now."

Samuel finished and then looked at Nicole again.

"How could you not recognize me? What did he do? Did he bully you?"

Nicole could hear the jealousy in Samuel's tone.

"No, we just had a quarrel."

"Mommy was so angry with him that she almost lost the baby. Even Auntie Gabrielle came to our home because of this."

Lucas shouted outside.

Samuel's anger rose.

"You pretended to be me and quarreled with my wife? I can't even bear to let her suffer. How dare you?"

After saying this, Samuel rushed towards Gerry directly.

Gerry was ready to fight back, but he grabbed an opportunity to divert Samuel's attention and ran out quickly.

"Stop him."

Samuel felt disdainful of him.

How could Gerry not be ashamed of playing tricks with the same face as him?

Zac had Lucas stay aside and gave Gerry a severe blow the moment he ran out.

Gerry probably did not expect Zac to be so powerful. He parried it with his arm, which went numb immediately. Now it was impossible for him to run away.

"Take him away."

Samuel said unfeelingly, showing no mercy at all.

"Alright, as long as you say so."

He stroked Nicole's hair as usual.

Nicole looked at Samuel's gentle eyes and suddenly felt that she had been stupid enough. No one else could fake this gentleness. Why didn't she notice the difference when Gerry looked at her?

"Sorry, I don't seem to love you as much as I imagined. Otherwise, I should have realized it was Gerry, not you."

Nicole said dejectedly.

Samuel smiled and said, "It's fine. As long as your blindness is cured now."

"Samuel!"

Nicole let out a low roar and was immediately hugged tightly by Samuel. He chuckled and said, "Alright, I'm joking. You never go blind. Otherwise, how can you find such a good husband?"

"Are you praising me or yourself?"

Nicole couldn't push him away, so she could only stay in his hug.

Samuel's embrace was still so warm and strong, and she felt very safe.

Being able to hug Nicole again, Samuel also felt very warm.

He pressed his chin against Nicole's head and whispered, "Where should we start with Brian's thing?"

"I don't know either. In the beginning, I only knew he is a shareholder of a travel company and gets along with Soseph. I shouldn't have rushed and should have investigated more. But then, Brian ran away and went to the border. Olivia and Booth also went there. We got no news from them for a long time. Suddenly, Booth broke his leg, and something happened to the Kent family. These two things must have a connection with what happened to Brian."

Nicole slowly went through everything in the past and felt that things were connected in some way. However, she couldn't find the start of it.

Seeing her frown tightly, Samuel immediately comforted her and said, "I'm on it. Don't worry and go to rest. I didn't sleep well last night. Let's sleep together for a while."

"Is it a good time to sleep now? Don't you care about Elvis?"

"No. Zac is on it. What were you busy with last night?"

"I found a doctor for Booth's operation. The doctor was introduced by Blair and is said to be a master. I hadn't come back until the surgery was done. Booth could finally keep his leg. Otherwise, I wouldn't know how to face Olivia for the rest of my life."

Nicole said in a low voice in a bad mood.

When Zoe and Joseph came out, they realized that they didn't wear enough clothes.

"It's so cold!"

Zoe rubbed her small hands and blew on them, her nose turning red from the cold.

Joseph immediately grabbed her.

"Let's go back and grab a jacket."

"No. What if Daddy sees us? He definitely won't let us out. It'll be even worse if he finds out that we're going to see Uncle Blair. Let's go, we'll be there in a while by taxi."

Zoe directly refused.

Joseph knew that Zoe would never change her mind when she was stubborn. He immediately took off his jacket and put it on Zoe.

"Here you go. Don't catch a cold."

Zoe immediately felt much warmer, but she looked at Joseph and asked worriedly, "Joseph, aren't you cold?"

"It's fine. I'm a man and I can handle it!"

Joseph said like a superhero but shivered in the next second.

The two of them ordered a taxi online and left.

After Samuel carried Nicole back to the bedroom, he adjusted the temperature of the air conditioner, took off his clothes, and lay down with Nicole.

Not long after, the two extremely tired people fell asleep, not knowing that the two kids had run out.

After Zac finished his work, he came back with Lucas but didn't see Zoe and Joseph. However, since Samuel had returned before them, he would have noticed it immediately if something had happened to the kids.

Lucas went to the room to take a look and found that Samuel and Nicole were resting. So, he came out.

"Maybe Daddy and Mommy sent them to Grandpa Mark's place."

With that, Lucas went back to his room to study coding.

No one knew that the two children had gone out.

Zoe was still chattering in the taxi, while Joseph listened quietly as usual and read the medical book in his hand. He was annoyed that he was too slow in studying. Neither of them noticed that the navigation of the taxi had been turned off, and they had deviated from the correct route.

After a long time, Zoe suddenly raised her head, only to find that she was not very familiar with this road. So, she hurriedly pulled Joseph.

"Joseph, where are we? I don't think Uncle Blair's home is this way."

Joseph immediately raised his head and found that they were on the wrong way.

"Sir, this is the wrong way."

Joseph immediately said.

The driver sneered. "Really? No way. This is the correct way."

Joseph suddenly sensed danger.

He pulled Zoe into his arms and whispered, "Call the police."

Chapter 865 Please Do Mommy a Favor

Samuel was awakened by Lucas.

He felt depressed under Lucas' unfriendly gaze.

He lost sense of time in his sound sleep because of both the tiredness and Nicole who was still in his arms.

Samuel got up quickly and walked out of the bedroom quietly with his clothes in his hand, as he didn't feel like waking up Nicole. Seeing Lucas was waiting at the door, he couldn't help asking, "What's the matter?"

"It's early evening and I'm hungry. Could you cook for me? Petty and Zac are out for work. I intended to order a takeout, but Grandpa Mark once told us that the takeout were cooked with gutter oil which was not good for health, especially for children. I had struggled and waited for a long time before going find you."

Lucas sounded aggrieved at the end of his explanation.

Samuel checked the time, and it was five o'clock in the afternoon.

He felt sorry and apologized, "I see. I'm sorry about my oversleeping. I'll cook after washing my face."

"Mm-hmm."

After this short response, Lucas walked down the stairs proudly.

Samuel had a feeling that something was wrong.

He finally figured out what his bad feeling was about after putting on his clothes.

"Where are Zoe and Joseph? Why didn't that foodie Zoe come find me?"

Samuel couldn't help but sigh when he recalled the timid look of Zoe on his return this noon.

At this question, Lucas turned his head suddenly and said in surprise, "What did you say? Zoe was not sent out by you?"

Samuel was stunned.

"Excuse me, why would I send them out? When I came back, the two of them were watching TV in the living room. When I went back to my bedroom, they also went back to their bedrooms respectively. What happened? Where are they?"

Hearing these words, Lucas ran downstairs and pushed open the door of Zoe's room.

'Her coat is left in the room. Did she go out without a coat?'

Samuel realized something happened.

He followed down in a hurry.

"I'll go get the surveillance video."

"There was a power outage today for the overhaul of the electric wires, so there would be no surveillance video at all."

Lucas' statement made Samuel somewhat uneasy.

"Then what do you suggest?"

They stared at each other for a while, then Lucas ran out with his coat.

"Wait, I'll go with you. But let me tell your mommy first. Otherwise, she should feel worried."

Lucas swallowed his refusal and nodded for Samuel's serious look.

Samuel ran upstairs. Seeing that Nicole was still asleep, he felt sorry to wake her up.

"Nicole, I'm afraid we have to go out."

"What happened?"

Nicole yawned. It was a sound sleep, and she still felt a bit drowsy.

Samuel felt sorry about her, and explained in a low voice, "Zoe and Joseph are out for fun, and not come back yet. Lucas and I are going out to find them."

"Doctor, how are they?"

Nicole felt her voice shaky, and didn't know where to put her hands.

Looking at Nicole and Samuel, the doctor said under his breath, "Miss Zoe is not badly hurt, but has a slight concussion. As for Mr. Joseph, his chest is damaged badly, I am afraid that his physical strength is affected greatly, and he won't be allowed to do serious physical training in future. What's more, there are bruises and congestion in his lung, so he should be hospitalized for observation. We can promise nothing, but will do our best."

Hearing this diagnose, Nicole almost fell down.

"How come Joseph got hurt so badly?"

The doctor looked at Nicole and sighed, "The organs in a child are fragile. And the films show that Mr. Joseph suffered a series of serious strikes, which results in the great damages in his chest and lung. It is supposed that he was kicked by a man. I advise you to call the police. And I should emphasize that Mr. Joseph is not allowed to take part in serious physical training in future."

Samuel was down in spirits, and the doctor did not dare to look straight at him.

"Mr. Green, we did our best. If you still cherish hope in your heart, I will suggest you to transfer Mr. Joseph to another hospital. You know Doctor Blair and Director Gabrielle, perhaps they have a better solution."

Now the doctor was trying to shift the responsibility to others, because he felt that he could not afford the aftermath.

Samuel nodded and began to arrange the transfer immediately.

Joseph and Zoe were transferred to the Military Hospital where Gabrielle was the director. After a series of examinations on the two children, Gabrielle and Blair came to the same conclusion as before.

"Nicole, I know you love Joseph. What happened to him is terrible, but we can do nothing for it now. Joseph should be taken good care of, and no one can tell what will happen in future. For the time being, Joseph should be forbidden to take serious physical training, it is for his sake."

Nicole was stung by regret and self-reproach now, 'How come I let Joseph have such terrible sufferings?'

'He is too pitiful.'

She felt too remorseful to breathe.

Samuel patted her shoulder and comforted her in a low voice, "It is my fault too. I did not look after them well. Don't worry, I will leave Eternal Group to Joseph; as for Lucas, I would like him to start a military career. We owe Joseph too much, for I think Joseph suffered for Zoe."

Nicole made no objection to Samuel's decisions. If there was a time machine to save Joseph from those sufferings, she would spend all her wealth to turn back time. Unfortunately, there was no time machine.

Both Joseph and Zoe were sent into the same intensive care unit, because Nicole felt that Joseph would look for Zoe on his waking up.

Zoe woke up soon because her injuries were not serious. When seeing Joseph, she cried loudly in Nicole's arms.

"Mommy, that evil driver kept kicking even when Joseph spat out blood. I ran over and bit him. Then he pushed me down the slope. Mommy, how is Joseph now? Does he hurt badly?"

Zoe's description incurred the wrath of Nicole.

"That driver kicked Joseph?"

"Yes, Joseph was trying to protect me."

Samuel's voice was cold and deep.

Joseph said word by word, "He looked obscene and was like a mad dog. Also, he was going to catch Zoe. Otherwise, I wouldn't have tried so hard to stop him. Daddy, I think this driver is disgusting."

Nicole was shocked.

A child molester!

When these words appeared in Nicole's mind, she couldn't help but break out in cold sweat.

To Nicole's surprise, Zoe would be targeted by such a man even though she was less than five years old.

"We mustn't let him go. We must take it seriously."

This was the first time Nicole wanted to kill someone.

She looked at Zoe's innocent eyes and had a panic fear suddenly. If Joseph hadn't risked his life to protect Zoe, what would Zoe be?

Nicole simply couldn't imagine.

"I would like to meet the driver."

She didn't even bother to meet the driver at first, but now she wished she could tear him into pieces.

Samuel thought so and nodded.

'How dare the driver have that filthy idea to her daughter? Does he have a death wish?'

Then Petty arrived and brought some soup and porridge.

Nicole comforted the two children and told them to have a good rest. Then she left the hospital with Samuel.

"You're pregnant. If you would like to do something, just tell me and I'll do it."

Nicole rarely became so furious. Even if Nicole ate the driver, Samuel would believe it.

Considering Nicole's physical condition, Samuel had no choice but to remind her.

However, Nicole said coldly, "Don't worry. I can handle it."

They drove to the Green's.

The driver had been brought back and locked up in the basement by Laurence and the others. Lucas sat on the sofa and looked somewhat tired. Seeing Nicole and Samuel, Lucas stood up and said, "Samuel, Mommy, how are Joseph and Zoe?"

"Zoe is fine, but Joseph probably will be not able to do energetic exercise. When he protected Zoe, his chest and lungs were injured, and the congestion hasn't been removed. It's uncertain if he will be fully restored to health," Samuel said sadly.

Hearing Samuel's words, Lucas' face clouded over.

"I was too kind just now. I'll go in and beat the driver up again."

As he spoke, he was about to stand up but was stopped by Nicole.

It was just their guess. However, when Nicole and Samuel saw the pattern that Jacob sent over, they fell silent.

"I'll ask Gerry about this."

Nicole said after a long time.

"OK. I will handle it."

Samuel took a deep breath.

Samuel cherished his brothers and sisters very much. In the past, Samuel cared about Vincent very much. Now Samuel knew that he had another younger brother. If his younger brother didn't go too far, he wouldn't deal with him.

So many things were related to Gerry and Elvis. Samuel felt depressed and somewhat disturbed. After all, there was nothing in this world that was more unbearable than the confrontation between relatives.

Nicole patted his hand and said softly, "If you find it difficult, I will handle it."

"No need. You're pregnant. Don't worry about it. Take care of yourself. I'll investigate it."

"OK."

Nicole did not argue and nodded gently as if she was not the one who beat up the driver not long ago.

Samuel stayed for a while and went out. Nicole knew that he was going to find Gerry.

Nicole leaned against the bed and narrowed her eyes. 'What does this poppy pattern mean?'

Elvis had competed for the Green family's property. Now Samuel was powerful. What did Elvis want to come back?

Or did Elvis think that Samuel was his son and he could get the property of the Green family as a matter of course?

What did all of this have to do with the Kent family?

Nicole couldn't figure it out.

She had a headache, so she stopped thinking about it. Sooner or later, what was coming would come. She would wait and see.

She received a text message about the preliminary round of the competition. Nicole glanced at it, took a look at some dos and don'ts and put her phone down.

Zoe and Joseph were still in the hospital. Lucas would like to visit them. Nicole cooked some delicious food and went to the hospital with Lucas.

It seemed that Joseph didn't know his physical condition. He talked and laughed with Zoe.

Seeing that, Nicole felt heartbroken as if a needle pricked her heart.

"Joseph, I have made your favorite sweet and sour ribs. You can't eat greasy things, so just have a little, okay?"

Nicole smiled and walked in.

Joseph was especially happy when he saw Nicole and Lucas.

"OK. Mommy, I will listen to you."

It was strange. Zoe, who was a foodie, did not cry for food for the first time. It seemed that she had become more sensible through this incident.

Nicole put the thermos on the cabinet.

Lucas walked over, hugged Joseph and whispered, "Joseph, I will protect you."

"You've said that since we met. Don't worry. I'm your elder brother. I will protect you."

Chapter 869 You Got Kicked in the Head?

Nicole felt an antipathy against the young man's rude behavior and was about to interfere. However, Lucas stood up first and responded coldly, "Are you in charge here?"

"Little kid, you know quite a bit. Then how dare you come here to challenge me. I was the best one before you came!"

The young man said arrogantly.

Lucas put on his coat which he had taken off for feeling a little hot and then turned to his mother, smiling, "Mommy, let's go."

"Okay."

Nicole originally thought that Lucas would be annoyed and get into trouble. She didn't expect that her son didn't care about that guy at all.

Lucas' neglect provoked the young man.

"You want to go? None of you can get out unless you play the game with me. Do you want to try?"

The young man wouldn't let them go.

Lucas frowned tightly.

"Get away!"

He said in a cold tone.

Being humiliated by such a little child, the young man naturally wouldn't let them go easily.

"Little shit! You've got some nerve. Do you believe...."

Just as he raised his hand, Lucas kicked him on the knee. The man directly went down on his knees.

"Who do you think you are to compete with me? It's good that you know your mistake. You don't have to kneel to me. It's too much for me."

"You're courting death!"

The young man had never been treated like this. He angrily picked up a chair and smashed it towards Lucas.

Nicole hurriedly took a step back to make room for Lucas. She did not plan to help him.

For she knew her son was able to kick the hooligan's ass easily, but the crowds around started to look at her reprovably.

"What are you doing? You are a mother! Your son is going to be beaten up. Why are you still hiding behind?"

"She must be a stepmother. A real mother can't bring her child to the arcade."

Hearing those comments, Nicole somewhat wanted to laugh.

Nicole dodged the attack from the young man and hurriedly spoke for her mother when he heard those accusing words.

"Shut up! Who are you to judge my Mommy?"

"This kid is unreasonable."

The surrounding people began to denunciate them more fiercely.

Nicole was a little angry.

The young man found that Lucas did not fight back after avoiding his attack, so he guessed this child was just a coward and was ready to start a violent attack.

Nicole's expression finally turned cold.

"I don't fight back, not because I'm afraid of you, but because my instructor has told me not to attack the ordinary person. Since you are so stubborn, then don't blame me for teaching you a lesson."

Nicole's eyes became sharp and he moved swiftly.

Chapter 870 All of This Was Supposed to Be Mine

Mr. and Mrs. Bush indeed returned, but they were now next to a woman, currying favor with her like slaves.

"Melissa, here! Eat an orange."

Ms. Bush peeled the orange and looked at the woman expectantly. However, the woman said impatiently, "I don't want to eat it. Can you stop forcing me? I'm not a child. Now you want to treat me well. Where were you before?"

Ms. Bush froze for a moment when she heard this and a trace of sadness flashed through her eyes.

Dad Bush couldn't endure anymore and spoke in a low voice, "Melissa Bush, how can you talk to your mother like this?"

"What? I'm kind enough. You lost me when I was little and raised another child. What kind of life is she living now? And look mine compared to hers! All of this should be mine! However, I'm sitting here like an outsider, so how can you let me talk with you peacefully?"

When Nicole heard that, she was no longer excited about her parents' returning. She suddenly recalled why they had left, as well as the photo behind hers. Melissa was exactly the girl in the picture.

Melissa Bush?

Did she become a Bush now?

So, this woman is the biological daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bush?

Nicole couldn't tell what she was thinking now. Standing here at this moment, she was not sure whether she should enter or not. They used to be her intimate parent, but now they were far to her.

Lucas looked up at Nicole. Although Nicole didn't say anything, he could tell that Mommy was in a bad mood.

He took a deep breath and called out with a smile, "Grandpa, Grandma, you are here."

When Mr. and Mrs. Bush heard Lucas' voice, they hurriedly turned around and saw Nicole held Lucas' hand, standing at the entrance of the living room. They didn't know how long Nicole and Lucas had been standing there. They couldn't help but feel a little embarrassed.

"Nicole, you are back! Come in and have a seat."

Ms. Bush reacted quickly. She hurriedly put down the orange in her hand and called for Nicole.

Suddenly, Nicole had an illusion that she was not at her home, but at Mr. and Mrs. Bush'.

She smiled and nodded, walking in with Lucas.

Melissa stared at Nicole all the time. When she saw that Nicole was more beautiful than her, she said coldly, "You have done cosmetic surgery, right?"

"Melissa!"

Ms. Bush hurriedly tugged at her sleeve.

Others didn't know why Nicole did plastic surgery, but they did. Now, Melissa obviously wanted to make a fuss over Nicole's face, so Ms. Bush hurriedly stopped her.

Melissa was not happy about it.
