Chapter 931 Do You Know Something

"Am I the one abandoning you? Mom, don't you feel ashamed saying so?"

Nicole looked at her mother and suddenly felt that this woman had become so distant and strange. She couldn't help but think of Audrey.

Could blood ties really change everything?

People would only give out everything for their own blood. Once they found out that there was no blood relation between them, they would change into another person in no time.

Was this human nature?

Nicole could not possibly understand but only felt deep pain about it.

Mrs. Bush naturally couldn't look into Nicole's eyes so she didn't speak anymore.

The room was so silent that one could even hear others' breaths.

Finally, Nicole showed a bitter smile and walked out of the ward without saying anything.

They had already abandoned her the moment they found Melissa. She had nothing to hope for.

Nicole's leave made Mrs. Bush and Mr. Bush heave a sigh of relief. Only Melissa looked at Nicole's back with a thoughtful look.

Nicole walked away for a long distance and then she suddenly wondered if her parents had sold the house. If not, they might be in need of money now. No matter what, the two had raised her for more than twenty years. This was the last thing she could do for them as her way to say goodbye.

Therefore, Nicole took out a bank card from her pocket and returned back to the ward. However, before she entered, she heard Mrs. Bush's voice.

"Aren't we going too far with Nicole? Anyway, she is still raised by us. If we ask her sincerely, she might agree to help Melissa for the sake of us."

"If so, she would have done that. Mom, don't be so naïve. She's just an ingrate. Think about this. Did she ever care about you after she found out about her biological mother? Did she ever help you when you lacked money? No, she did nothing. She is just busy with being a rich lady. You are nothing to her."

Melissa said coldly.

"Nicole has her own difficulties. Her life in the Green family is not as glorious as you think."

Mr. Bush argued.

"Dad, what do you mean? I can't believe that you still think well of her now. Then why did you come to me? Last time, when I went to find the violin teacher, Nicole must have done something behind our back. Otherwise, Seuss wouldn't tell me that I was not qualified and refused me. He had already said that we would hear from him soon. Dad, you've also heard this. It must be Nicole. She was the only one we met in the building when we were leaving. She must go to Seuss and played some tricks. She pretended to be very helpful to me on the surface, but pulled strings behind. Why can't you see through such a woman? She wants nothing good for me so that I couldn't take good care of you. She just wants you to rely on her and only her."

She tried her best to restrain her heard from Jacob that it was you and Samuel who gave him the money. His funds were hand time. Even though there was family feud between them, Olivia did not treat her like Melissa

Chapter 932 Wait And See

This brought Nicole back to her senses.

"That's right. How did you know that he became a vegetable?"

Nicole's eyes suddenly emitted a sharp light.

"Do you have anything to do with Jacob's car accident?"

She grabbed Melissa's hand, her heart fluctuating.

She had always known that Melissa was at Elvis' command. But she never pays much attention to such a nobody as Melissa was just the daughter of the Bushes. She did not take it to heart. However, if Melissa is involved in Jacob's car accident, she could not do nothing.

Seeing that Nicole and Olivia both suddenly became serious and aggressive, and Nicole grabbed her by the wrist, Melissa immediately let out a scream.

"Mom and Dad, come quickly! Nicole wants to hit me!"

Hearing this, Mr. Bush immediately ran out, and Mrs. Bush followed in panic with one hand holding the IV drip.

"Nicole, what are you doing? Let go of Melissa!"

Mrs. Bush cried in tears, and Mr. Bush's expression immediately sank.

This was another attack to Nicole's heart and she felt as if it was being torn apart again. But she showed nothing on her face.

"She is involved in a traffic accident. I want to take her to the police station."

Nicole said without any emotions.

Melissa panicked.

"Mom, don't let her take me away. She wants to kill me! Mom, Dad, save me!"

Melissa shouted.

"Shut up! If you really are innocent, I will personally apologize to you." "No need."

Before Nicole could finish her words, Mr. Bush directly stepped forward and slapped off Nicole's hand, causing the back of her hand to instantly turn red and swollen.

Mr. Bush pulled Melissa behind him in a protective manner. He even looked at Nicole angrily and said, "We have already agreed to leave the Seapolis City. What else do you want? Do you want to kill Melissa in front of me and your mom? Nicole, is this now how I have taught you all these years?"

A sense of bitterness pressed down on Nicole throat, making her unable to ignore.

Olivia was a little surprised at Mr. Bush's attitude. Seeing the swollen back of Nicole's hand, she quickly pulled Nicole behind her and said coldly, "Mr. Bush, it's not our business that you want to protect your biological daughter. But you also have to tell the wrong from the right. Nicole doesn't owe you anything. What Melissa said isn't true. Right now, I don't care if she is your daughter or not. If I find out that Melissa is involved in my fiancé's car accident, I will not let it go! It's best that Melissa is clean. Otherwise, I definitely seek justice for my fiancé, and not even Nicole can change my mind."

"Who the hell are you! I heard from my mother that you're just an orphan. If it weren't for my parents supporting you in your studies back then, you are just a low life scum begging for your life day after day. You're as ungrateful as Nicole, and now are trying to threaten my parents. How dare you, Olivia?"

Melissa was still talking nonstop with Mr. Bush behind her.

"Force you to die? Why is that necessary?"

Nicole had given up on them in her heart so she showed no mercy in her words.

"Today, I just want truth. If Melissa has something to do with Jacob's car accident, no matter what you say and whether you are live or not, she will have to pay the price!"

Nicole's gaze made Melissa a little afraid.

"Mom and Dad, let's go. Don't argue with this lunatic."

After saying that, Melissa pulled the Bushes and left.

Olivia looked at Nicole and comforted her while patting her shoulder gently, "It's not worth grieving over someone who doesn't even care."

"I know. It's just too ironic. How do you know that Samuel gave them 10 million? What happened when I was away?"

Nicole looked at Olivia and was determined to get an answer.

However, Olivia pulled her long hair behind her ears and smiled, "You always want to know everything clearly. Don't you feel tired?"

"I have the right to know. I need to know how they think of me."

Hearing Nicole's words, Olivia sighed and said, "After Melissa was taken away by Elvis, they begged Samuel to exchange you for Melissa."

"I know about this. Is there anything happened later?"

"Yes."

Olivia sighed and said, "When Elvis first took Melissa, she had safely returned home. However, after knowing that Seuss didn't want to teach her, Mrs. Bush personally went to Samuel's company and made a scene."

"What? Why didn't I know about this?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

Olivia smiled and said, "Samuel has bought off the media. At that time, Mrs. Bush threatened Samuel with her life, asking you to beg Seuss to accept Melissa as his student. Mrs. Bush cared nothing about you even you were taken away by Elvis. Samuel said that you were still in danger and he would settle this when you came back. However, Mrs. Bush insisted her request and even said that If Samuel did not agree to her, she would die at the entrance of Eternal Group. Then he would be the one hated by you for the rest of your life."

"How could she be like this?"

Nicole felt very uncomfortable now that she found out that Samuel had been forced into such a situation by her mother.

"There is more. Mr. Bush even spread rumors everywhere, claiming that you were ungrateful and used your power to suppress Melissa and that you were cutting off all their retreats. Samuel asked his PR department in his company to deal with this matter, but he was afraid that you would feel sad after knowing about it. So he directly gave them 10 million and a month to leave the Seapolis City. They are not allowed to come back afterwards and should never come after you."

Olivia's words made Nicole feel as if she had fallen into an ice cellar.

Her dad and mom, who had treated her so well before, now spared no effort for their own daughter, and could even lose their dignity and reputation. Of course, the two easily forsook the 20-year-long relationship with her.

Nicole felt pain inside but she also was clear of what she should do in the future.

"I see. Thank you for telling me this."

"We're friends. It's nothing."

Olivia waved her hand.

Nicole looked at her and whispered, "Now you need money. How about... "

"200,000 is enough. It's enough for me to find a job and support them. Don't be so worried. I'm your best friend. I won't embarrass you. I'll stand by your side one day and make everyone envy us."

Olivia's confident act moved Nicole very much.

Olivia was always so strong-willed that even if the sky fell, it wouldn't be able to crush her persistence.

"Olivia, don't. Seriously, I'm probably going to be a cripple. Even with the Greatest Global Scalpel as my doctor, my legs might not recover. You'd better keep the money for yourself instead of me."

"Nonsense. You are my younger brother and the future of the Kent family. I am just a woman. The future of our family depends on you. Your priority now is to cure your legs. Before Dr. Ashley declares that your legs are incurable, I won't give up. I will get the money no matter how. Don't worry about the rest."

Olivia said firmly. Booth was almost in tears.

"Olivia, I'm just a cripple. Don't bother for me."

"Nonsense again. With you guys, I feel like I'm still alive. Anyway, I'm cooking for you. Then I'll go to see Dad. Jacob had a car accident, too. He's a vegetable now and needs people to talk to him from time to time. If you do care about me, hurry to get better and help me."

Olivia didn't keep Jacob's crash from Booth, which resulted in Booth's dropped jaw.

"Jacob had a car accident?"

"Yeah. I don't think it was just an accident. There might be something going on. But I haven't had time to look into the matter yet. But don't worry. I will get to the bottom of it."

When Olivia heard the coincidences from Nicole, she had a feeling that Jacob's car accident had been planned. And she had more doubt by Melissa's behaviors.

This was so weird.

"What did Nicole say?"

Booth asked directly.

Olivia paused for a moment before saying in a low voice, "She should be investigating it with Samuel, but I wish I can do something about it. Let's not talk about it now. Wait for a while. I'll go to the hospital after cooking."

"Olivia, you seem to have caught a cold. Have a rest this afternoon if you can't hold out."

Booth didn't have the heart to see her like that.

Olivia waved her hand. "I'm fine. I can handle it."

Her face was red. Obviously, she had a fever.

Before Booth could say anything, Olivia had already head to the kitchen.

After everything was done, Olivia brought some food to the hospital.

Nicole was still there. Seeing Olivia, she frowned slightly.

"Why is your face so red? Did you catch a cold?"

With that, she was about to touch Olivia's forehead. But Olivia dodged her hand.

"I'm fine."

Nicole narrowed her eyes.

"You have a cold? Where did you go? What did you do?"

"I said I'm fine. Keep an eye on Jacob for a while for me. I'm going to see my father first."

Watching Olivia's tottering feet, Nicole felt sorry for her.

She took out her phone and called Ernesto.

Nicole's heart skipped a beat. She wanted to run inside but was stopped by Samuel.

"Stay out here. I'm going in to take a look."

With that, Samuel left Nicole to Ernesto and ran inside.

Nicole looked at his back with concerns.

"Ernesto, follow him. It was so loud. I wonder what happened to them inside. Lillian and Petty are both women and pregnant. And Zac is nowhere to see. Samuel can't handle it by himself."

Ernesto paused at her words.

"But Mr. Green asked me to take care of you."

"I'm fine. How can I be in danger out here? I'll call the police. Hurry up."

Nicole pushed Ernesto and picked up her phone to make a call.

Seeing that Nicole insisted, Ernesto ran into the house to help.

Nicole finished her phone call. Before she could turn around, she saw a figure running towards her. Because of the smoke, she found the person somewhat familiar, but she could not clearly see the face.

"Who are you?"

The figure sprinkled a handful of powder towards Nicole.

Attacked by a sweet smell, Nicole found her eyes darken and she fainted.

By the time she woke up again, she was in the hospital.

"Nicole? Are you alright?"

Samuel looked at her anxiously, haggard.

Nicole shook her head and asked, "What's wrong?"

"You fainted on the roadside. Fortunately, I came out in time. What happened? The doctor says that you have low blood sugar. Did you not eat well? You are weak now, and you eat for two people. Don't skip meals because you want to stay in shape. Did you hear me?"

Samuel wasn't accusing her. He was sorry for her.

Nicole couldn't think straight, and her brain even hurt.

"Wait, you said I fainted on the roadside?"

"Yes."

"I was drugged."

Nicole touched her forehead and said. Samuel's face darkened.

"What are you talking about?"

"I remember very well that I saw a figure running out of the house. I couldn't see his or her face clearly, but somehow this person looked so familiar. I demanded the person's identity, only to be sprinkled with a handful of powder. It smelled very sweet, and then I blacked out."

Nicole tried her best to explain in detail, but the headache still didn't get better.

Nicole sounded a little harsh.

Ernesto shook his head immediately and said, "I can tell you about it. But I'm afraid you'll get angry if I do so."

"I'd be angrier if you don't tell me."

Nicole was amused by Ernesto's simplicity.

Ernesto scratched the back of his head with embarrassment and answered, "The Bushes'... No, your house in the Bush family was sold by Melissa."

"Sold?"

Nicole was a little surprised.

Melissa was bold enough.

Nicole had made it clear that it was her house and asked Melissa to return it. She didn't expect Melissa to make a move that fast.

"Who bought the house?"

Ernesto paused again at her inquiry.

"What? I can't afford to offend the buyer?"

"No, Mrs. Green. It was bought by Mrs. Bradford. Her husband, Mr. Bradford, is one of the four most powerful masters in the Seapolis City."

Hearing Ernesto, Nicole went still.

She had known three of the four most powerful masters of the Seapolis City. One was her Samuel, the second was commander Emory Cawker, and the third was Doctor Blair Hawk. The fourth was rarely mentioned. It was said that Steven Bradford had company in the Seapolis City. But because of some special reasons, Steven didn't live in the Seapolis City. His family was even more mysterious.

But now Nicole's house was bought by Mr. Bradford's wife?

"Can you get in touch with her?"

"It's not easy. It's said that she was the Greatest Global Scalpel, Ashley Shaw. There are tons of people all over the world waiting in line for her to perform surgery for them. No one knows her personal number, and she probably won't answer if we dial her business number. Even if she answers the call, we'll have to wait until next year. Besides, I heard that they have completed the formalities. Melissa has gotten paid already."

Nicole was dismayed at Ernesto's words.

They were so fast, and Ashley was so hard to contact. What should she do?

Wait!

Mrs. Bradford was Ashley, the Greatest Global Scalpel?

Nicole was thrilled all at once.

"Check this Mrs. Bradford, no, Dr. Ashley's personal number for me. I need to meet her."

Seeing Nicole's excited expression, Ernesto couldn't help but say, "Mrs. Green, I really can't do anything about this. But you can have Mr. Green ask Mr. Bradford. He might know his wife's personal number."

Hearing him, Nicole nodded quickly. But Samuel had only been asleep for a while. She shouldn't wake him up.

"I see. I'll tell Samuel about this. You can go now. Right, register a movie and television company for me. As for the capital, start from the lowest level."

Ernesto paused at her order, but he soon nodded and went to handle it.

Seeing Ernesto leave and remembering Booth's legs, Nicole was hopeful again.

It was said that the Greatest Global Scalpel had skillful hands and could even mend bones that were disintegrated. Nicole had been looking for such a doctor, but she didn't expect to come across her in this way.

If Ashley could operate on Booth, Nicole would be glad to give her the house for free.

With that in mind, Nicole was electrified.

"Who dared to do that? That was a slap in my face!"

Samuel's smile was somewhat cold.

Ernesto felt as if the temperature in the room had uncontrollably dropped to freezing temperatures. He could do nothing but nerve himself to say, "He's just returned from abroad and hasn't worked long in the department."

"He seems to know nothing and so fears nothing?"

Samuel chuckled, which however terrified Ernesto.

"I don't know. I failed to do this well. I deserve your punishment."

"It has nothing to do with you. I'll deal with it later. You can leave now."

Hearing this, Ernesto hurriedly retreated.

Seeing how scared Ernesto was, Nicole sighed and said, "Can you restrain your aura? Look how you have terrified Ernesto."

"Do I have any aura? Then why aren't you afraid?"

Samuel walked over and directly wrapped his arms around Nicole's shoulders.

Nicole was slightly embarrassed.

"How can he compare to me? I'm your wife."

"That's the point. If you're not afraid of me, why should he? After all, I don't have any feelings for him."

As he spoke, he moved his head closer to Nicole, whose face blushed and heart raced as a result.

"Stop it. Don't you feel uncomfortable as you know you can't do it?"

"It's OK."

Samuel suddenly realized that his wife was quite funny. With some teasing, she got hot under the collar, just like a cute kitten.

"Samuel, I'm busy. I don't have any time to play around with you."

Nicole also noticed that Samuel was simply teasing her. She hurriedly pushed him away, though her heart itched.

Seeing her like this, Samuel stopped teasing her. He pulled her hand and sat on the sofa. Then he whispered, "I'll wait for Steven to tell me the news of Ashley, and I'll also deal with the movie company. You can rest at home and wait for me to manage them before you go to work, okay?"

"I feel it's not good to have you do everything for me. After all, it's my idea to start the movie company. You've been busy enough, so I'll handle it myself. I'd like to see who it is that has rejected me directly."

Nicole's eyes showed that she would not admit defeat.

Although Samuel was worried about her health, he still did not stop her.

"Alright. If you can't handle it yourself, I'm at your service anytime."

"I get it."

In order to prevent Samuel from leaning over again, Nicole hurriedly took a step back. Her careful expression immediately amused Samuel.

"Seriously?"

"Get lost!"

Chapter 938 Steven, What's This for?

Nicole was burning with anger.

She never expected to see such a scene that so many people surrounded Olivia and kicked her.

The weak Olivia curled up on the ground, allowing others to bully her.

It made Nicole's heart ache to see that, and she was also furious at that.

Olivia gently tugged at Nicole's arm and whispered, "It's not the director's fault. This is a show, and I'm playing the role."

"Is that so? As far as I know, you're an extra, right? I've never heard of any extra who need be shot for so many times before it's finished."

Nicole had seen in the car that Olivia performed this scene for several times. Someone must have deliberately had it in for her in the name of filming.

The director looked at Nicole. He naturally knew her, yet instead of flattering her, he just said indifferently, "For an extra with bad performances, it will naturally take many times before the scene is passed. Mrs. Green, you are an amateur, so don't interfere in our job. If you can't bear to see her suffer, then she can just quit. Anyway, we don't lack extras."

Nicole's chest heaved fiercely with anger. She grabbed Olivia's hand and said, "Let's go! Don't do it anymore."

However, Olivia did not move.

"Nicole, let go of me!"

Olivia's gaze was persistent.

Looking at Olivia's bruised face and arms in surprise, Nicole was at a loss for a moment.

"Why do you have to do this?"

"I am just an extra now, but in order to become an actress in the future, I have to suffer some hardships. If I can't stand it now, what should I do with my family? What about my future? You may help me once, but can you help me for the rest of my life? Even if you can, I don't want to live like that. I must rely on myself and shoulder the burden of my family. So leave me alone. You'd better go now. Staying here will only make you feel uncomfortable."

Olivia used to be so high-spirited, but now she actually endured everything for money.

Though Nicole felt painful to see that, she didn't say anything else.

"I'll wait for you to knock off."

Nicole was also stubborn.

Olivia did not try to persuade her, and in fact, she did not have the time. After all, she was just an extra. The director was right. He could replace her at any time, which meant her over-one-hour suffering would be in vain.

She took a deep breath, turned to the director and said, "Sorry, director. We can start now."

The director was surprised.

Originally, he thought that this woman would be unable to bear it and leave, or beg for mercy from him, but to his surprise, she actually managed to endure it.

With Nicole sitting and watching by the side, the director became cautious. Even if he wanted to find some excuse to make it difficult for Olivia, he would not dare to do so blatantly. After all, Samuel was famous for doting on his wife.

"Everyone, let's begin. This time all of you should do your best and pass it just once."

Others naturally understood what the director meant.

Olivia then tried her best to perform the same scene in the same place as before, while Nicole watched her from the side without making any sound.

Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 939 The Voice was Too Familiar

Samuel's voice wasn't loud, and there weren't even any emotional ups and downs, but it inexplicably made Nicole shudder.

She hadn't seen Samuel like this for a long time.

Steven frowned deeply.

"I don't want to fight with you. It's just that Ashley has been in the operation room all day."

After hearing what Steven said, Booth spoke immediately.

"We're not in a hurry. We can do it tomorrow."

Nicole glanced at Booth. She knew that Booth was putting himself in their shoes. And before she could say anything, Steven said, "Alright then, let's do it tomorrow. My wife is exhausted, and today is my daughter's birthday."

In that case, Nicole and them had no reason to continue.

"OK, we'll go to Dr. Ashley tomorrow. Sorry about that, Mr. Bradford. We have no idea that today is your daughter's birthday."

Nicole was afraid that Samuel would be mad, so she hurriedly spoke first.

Steven looked at Nicole and his expression softened.

"Thank you. I'd like to invite you to my daughter's birthday party tonight." he said.

"We will be there."

Nicole answered quickly.

Samuel still looked unhappy.

"Why are you so courteous to him?" Samuel asked.

Saying that in front of Steven made Nicole a little embarrassed.

"Shut up."

She whispered, but Steven heard it clearly. The corners of his mouth turned up in a slight smile.

"Sam, your wife knows better than you."

"Get lost!"

Samuel couldn't bear to be here with Steven for one more minute, so he took Nicole and Booth directly to a nearby hotel.

Steven smiled and said, "You don't need to stay in a hotel. I have a house here."

"Not my business!"

Samuel didn't appreciate it at all. He took Nicole and left quickly, childishly showing his unhappiness completely on his face.

Nicole found that incredibly funny.

"Why are you so childish? After all, he is Dr. Ashley's husband. Besides, we really don't know that today is his daughter's birthday. What gift are we going to buy her?"

Hearing Nicole's words, Samuel harrumphed coldly, "What do you want to buy for his daughter? His daughter is the apple of his eye. It's not surprising even if you get the moon for her. Don't think too much. Just buy something that suits you girls' taste. I'm just a little angry. We used to be friends, and he embarrassed me in front of my wife."

Hearing Samuel's reason, Nicole immediately laughed.

"Really? Are you really this naïve?"

"Yes, I am."

Samuel checked in as he spoke.

"Steven, I have to tell you something."

Samuel intercepted Steven in time.

Ashley glanced at Samuel and then took her daughter away.

Steven frowned and whispered, "Today is my daughter's birthday party. Don't make trouble."

"I'm afraid the troublemaker is not me but someone else."

Samuel showed Nicole's text message to Steven.

Steven frowned harder.

"I'll send someone to help you, but you have to leave my wife and daughter alone."

"I see."

The two of them made a deal, and Samuel retreated.

When Samuel brought his men to the bathroom, Brian and the woman were having sex. They were caught right on site.

The woman screamed, but soon someone covered her mouth and dragged her out.

Brian knew that he was down when he saw Samuel. He wanted to escape, but was quickly punched in the face and passed out.

Nicole climbed down from the vent and looked at Brian. She said coldly, "I need to know what he did exactly to Booth and Olivia back then."

Of course Samuel will help her to find out.

"You go to eat something. I'll ask about it."

Samuel 's words made Nicole hesitate.

"Don't think about it. We're here to celebrate Steven's daughter's birthday. And aren't you looking for Ashley for Booth's leg? This can't wait. As for Brian, don't worry. I will definitely get what you want to know from him."

Hearing Samuel's words, Nicole nodded.

"OK, I'll go ahead. Be careful yourself."

"OK."

After they parted, Nicole became very depressed.

Olivia and Booth chased after Brian because of her, but they all didn't tell her what they had gone through. Nicole first thought that Booth's leg injury hurt her most, but she didn't expect that Olivia had also been poisoned.

Nicole entered the banquet hall in front of her in such a mood.

With Steven around, the atmosphere was lively, and there were many people who came forward to flatter. Nicole didn't have chance to talk to them.

"Madam."
