Chapter 961 Ms. Bush Is Really Versatile

After hanging up the phone, Samuel frowned.

He knew that Zayn was a star, but why did he approach Nicole for no reason?

"Ernesto, go and investigate Zayn's background. The more detailed the better."

"Alright, Mr. Green."

After Ernesto left, Samuel still felt that something was wrong. He then called Steven.

"Help me investigate someone."

"Who?"

"Zayn."

Steven paused for a moment before hanging up.

After Nicole hung up the phone, she also felt a little puzzled. How come such a big star with such good resources would come to her?

She didn't feel that she was outstanding. In this society, the future of her filmmaking company would be unpredictable without Samuel's help. How could such conditions attract a first-rate star with his own resources to sign up?

Nicole was not an idiot, and she could think of this.

She took a deep breath and decided to look for Olivia. After such a long time, Olivia had also attracted some popularity.

Nicole then talked to Cara, who prepared something for her later.

She called Olivia and drove over after knowing that she was recording in the Fortune Building.

The Fortune Building was a comprehensive building with many industries here. Nicole knew that Olivia was still recording. It would take more than half an hour before she was available. Moreover, the recording studio was not open to anyone. So she reserved a seat in the restaurant on the fourth floor, intending to have something to eat and wait for Olivia to come down.

Nicole ordered a cappuccino, then took out her phone to browse through Twitter. After all, now that she had set up a filmmaking company, she had to pay attention to the current information. She had to find some reliable resources if she wanted to publicize the newcomers.

Just as Nicole was fascinated by it, a mellow voice rang out above her head.

"May I sit here?"

Nicole was slightly stunned, then she raised her head and saw a handsome man standing in front of her.

She frowned slightly and looked around. The restaurant was doing so well that there were no seats left.

"Suit yourself."

After saying that, Nicole continued to lower her head to browse through her phone, ignoring the man in front of her.

Zayn looked at the little woman in front of him and couldn't help but be amused.

He was afraid of being recognized by his fans wherever he went, but he never expected that he would become a passer-by in Nicole's eyes.

How long had it been since he lost the feeling of ease?

Zayn no longer remembered.

Chapter 962 What Do You Mean?

"Hi, we meet again, Ms. Bush."

Zayn greeted Nicole casually, but Nicole seemed to be uncomfortable.

"Who are you?"

As soon as she said those words, Olivia tugged at her.

"He's Zayn."

Olivia's eyes were filled adoration for him. She loved watching Zayn's TV drama. She didn't expect to see him here.

Nicole was just about to ask who Zayn was when something suddenly occurred to her, and she looked at Zayn in surprise.

Zayn finally felt better for his injured self-esteem.

"Ms. Bush, my assistant Pedro contacted you."

After Zayn said this, Nicole did not say anything else.

Michael couldn't help but be stunned when he heard that Zayn was going to sign up with Wyatt Pictures.

"Zayn, are you serious?"

"That's right. I think Nicole's ability will definitely lead Wyatt Pictures to become dominant in the industry. That's why I want to sign early. Otherwise, there might be no room for me later."

Zayn's half joking and half serious words made Michael a little puzzled, but he also looked at Nicole seriously and smiled, "Well, since Zayn is the guarantee, I have no problem with it. Ms. Bush, let's sign the contract first, and then could you please adjust the zither?"

"Alright, no problem."

Nicole absolutely had no reason to reject the business that had come to her voluntarily.

She glanced at Zayn and found that Zayn was also looking at her, but what was in his eyes made her a little unhappy.

Nicole and Michael signed the contract, and Olivia signed up as well. Then they got down to the recording.

Zayn was only guest starring in this album. Even so, Nicole knew that with Zayn's popularity, it would still be popular.

It was a lyrical song. After getting familiar with the score, Nicole started to play it seriously.

Zayn was sitting opposite her at some point, watching Nicole attentively, and even following her beat dedicatedly.

One staff filmed this scene and posted it online.

Instantly, the Internet was abuzz.

"Eleanore, what are you doing?"

Olivia kept an eye on Eleanore. When she saw that Eleanore walking towards Nicole, she immediately took a step forward and interposed herself between Eleanore and Nicole.

Nicole was unwilling to hide behind Olivia.

She wrapped her arms around Olivia's waist, turned around and kicked Eleanore out with her left foot.

Eleanore was kicked out and then crashed right into nearby musical instruments, leaving the scene in shambles.

Apart from Olivia, everyone else was stunned. Obviously, they did not expect Nicole to have such skill.

Nicole's eyes flashed with chill.

She looked at Eleanore and said word by word, "I can forgive you for posting the video. But you want to hurt me for no reason, then I can't condone you. Even if I had taken Garina's place, it's not your turn to set me up like this. You still want to hurt me! If I didn't react in time, I guess I would have been disfigured by now. You said you did it for Garina. Are you really doing for Garina or for yourself? You know best, don't you? You like Zayn, and you can't stand him looking at me like that, so you did it out of jealousy."

Eleanore was embarrassed as Nicole's words hit home. Her butt hurt so much, and she felt her face burning.

She subconsciously looked at Zayn. Seeing that Zayn was looking at her coldly, Eleanore couldn't help but cry.

"Nonsense! I did that for Garina! Garina's life is pretty hard. As the boss of the company, you are here to take her position. You are simply too hateful!"

"Then do I know that Garina's life is hard? Can your team keep recording the show if I don't join you? If the whole team stopped working for a few days because of Garina, can you pay for the loss?"

Nicole's words instantly made Eleanore speechless.

Eleanore was crying, as if she was being bullied, while Nicole looked aggressive, as if she was bullying others.

Seeing this, Michael hurriedly stepped forward and said, "Ms. Bush, don't be angry anymore. Leave this matter to me. I promise..."

"Get her out of City B. I don't want to see her again in this lifetime."

Before Michael could finish his words, Zayn directly opened his mouth.

Eleanore couldn't believe her ears.

How could the courteous Zayn on the screen be so ruthless?

"Zayn, I..."

"Shut up! You don't deserve to call my name!"

Zayn was very rude currently, and he was seriously inconsistent with his image on the screen.

Eleanore's mouth widened, and she was stunned in shock.

Nicole had sympathy for Eleanore.

However, she didn't say anything else. She directly pulled Olivia back and said to Michael, "Michael, it seems that we can't be able to film today. Olivia and I will go back now."

"Alright. I'm really sorry. Ms. Bush, I'll take care of it. Let's continue shooting tomorrow."

"Alright."

Nicole smiled and nodded.

"I'll compensate for the loss here. I was impulsive just now. I'm sorry."

Nicole was humble and courteous, then she pulled Olivia out of the studio.

Chapter 964 Have You Thought About the Consequences?

Nicole frowned.

Nicole knew the consequences of Lucas coming here. She couldn't help but suspect that this was Samuel's scheme.

"Let's talk about it later. I'm a little busy. I have to hang up now."

Nicole hung up the phone with a complicated mood.

Olivia woke up when the car arrived at Nicole's rental house.

"Here we are. I'm so tired. I'm going to rest."

Recently, Olivia had been training hard. Now, she relaxed and only wanted to have a good sleep.

Nicole did not stop her and asked Cara to prepare some food for Olivia. She went to the study.

Nicole was not familiar with the staff of zither, so she needed to recall it again. But before that, Nicole remembered about Zayn's signing and called Daisy.

"We refuse to sign a contract with Zayn."

Daisy was a little surprised.

"Ms. Bush, Zayn has a lot of resources. If we sign a contract with him, we will get a lot of benefits."

"There's no such thing as a free lunch. Zayn's resources are not bad, but he will cause the entire entertainment industry and even the whole fans to attack us if anything goes wrong. After all, the gains are not worth the losses, so let's forget it. Our company is too small to sign up a big shot like him."

Nicole's words caused Daisy to be slightly stunned, but she soon understood what Nicole meant.

"Alright. I'll contact Pedro."

Zayn had just finished dealing with the matter on the Internet when he received a phone call from Pedro.

"Wyatt Pictures has rejected our request to sign the contract."

Zayn was stunned.

He couldn't help but recall Nicole's appearance in his mind.

This woman really didn't like him at all.

"I see."

Zayn didn't say anything, which surprised Pedro.

"Do you give up?"

"Or else? They despise us so much. Should we wait for them to drive us away?"

Zayn lit a cigarette and slowly puffed out a cigarette ring.

Pedro couldn't figure out what Zayn was thinking.

"You said you wanted to sign to Wyatt Pictures, but now you just give up. Zayn, why do you have to sign such a small company as Wyatt Pictures? Can you make it clear to me? I'm your agent. Don't keep anything from me."

"I have nothing to hide from you except the unspeakable things. Let's leave this matter for now. We'll talk about it later."

After hanging up the phone, Zayn came to the French window and looked at the traffic outside. The scene that Nicole played the zither was still etched in his mind.

Nicole cried out, immediately attracting Olivia's attention.

"Are you alright? Hurry up and go to the hospital."

Michael saw that Nicole was bleeding, so he naturally didn't dare to delay. He hurriedly asked people to make way.

Seeing this, Zayn paused for a moment, then wanted to step forward, but was pushed away by Olivia.

"Go away."

Her attitude was very unfriendly.

Pedro happened to see this when he came.

"What are you doing? Zayn is also here to help. What's going on?"

Olivia lost her temper.

She snorted coldly and said, "What's going on? You should ask Zayn! Nicole was playing the zither, but Zayn was staring at her. If he didn't stare at Nicole, Nicole wouldn't hurt her face. You'd better pray Nicole would be fine. If there's anything wrong with her face, I won't let go of Zayn. I will let his fans see how bad the man they like is."

If it wasn't for Nicole, Olivia wouldn't have cared what Zayn was thinking. Now that something happened to Nicole, she didn't care who the other party was and scolded directly.

It was the first time that Pedro saw a rookie being presumptuous after Zayn entered the entertainment industry. Pedro was about to lose his temper, but he heard Zayn say, "This is my fault. I'm sorry. I'll pay for all the medical expenses."

"No need. I'm not a person who lacks money. I just hope that Mr. Freeman will stay away from me."

Nicole covered her bleeding face and said coldly.

Zayn was silent.

Hearing what Zayn said, Pedro couldn't help but frown, but didn't say anything else.

Nicole was taken to the hospital. The wound caused by the strings on her face was not small. Fortunately, she did not rely on her face to make a living, which made her somewhat gratified.

Samuel was the first to know that Nicole was injured.

He rushed into the hospital.

"How is Nicole?"

Olivia was grabbed by Samuel.

"Nothing serious. Her face is injured. I guess she'll need some time to recover."

"Who did it?"

Samuel did not believe that Nicole's skills were not good.

Olivia knew that if she said Zayn's name now, Zayn would have been blacklisted by Samuel. But they would offend Zayn. She didn't know what would happen in the future. After all, Nicole and her still had to work in entertainment circles.

Thinking of this, Olivia whispered, "Nicole may not have rested well. She used too much strength when she played the zither."

Samuel narrowed his eyes. The pressure made Olivia somewhat unable to withstand it. Fortunately, he only looked at her for a while and turned his face away.

Olivia heaved a sigh of relief.

Samuel arrived at the ward, Nicole's wound had been bandaged. But even so, Samuel was still

Chapter 966 I Don't Regret What I Did

Nicole did not know what Zayn's gaze meant, nor did she want to know at this moment.

She tugged at Olivia, signaling for her to stop talking.

Because Zayn was beaten in the face, he couldn't continue working. Therefore, Zayn apologetically recommended another artist whose reputation wasn't inferior to his, to Michael to replace him.

The matter had come to this point, so Michael had no choice but to accept it.

After Zayn left with Pedro, people of the team began to complain.

"Someone has bad luck, and even our team is unlucky. Do you think?"

"That's right. Our team was so united earlier, but because of an outsider, Eleanore was fired. Today, she was injured, and Zayn was beaten up. It is unlucky."

Although the few of them were whispering, their voices were so loud that both Nicole and Olivia could hear them.

"What are you talking about?"

When Olivia heard this, she knew that these people were targeting Nicole, so she was immediately angry.

Nicole grabbed Olivia and coldly glanced at the people around her, saying, "I don't think I've offended everyone here."

"So what? You seem to be innocent. However, many things have happened since you came here. Do you dare to say that these things have nothing to do with you?"

Nicole was unable to deny.

These things really weren't what she wanted to happen, but they did have something to do with her.

"You are being unreasonable!"

Olivia felt that these people were too much.

However, Nicole said, "There are some things that I don't want to happen, but they did happen. I can only say that I'm sorry. As for the rest, I won't comment."

Michael came back at the right time. Seeing that everyone had become so disunited because of this matter, he was unhappy.

"If you can get Garina back, then Ms. Bush can leave. The key is that we need time now. If you can guarantee that the album will be recorded in the shortest time possible, I won't care what you say. But can you do it now?"

Seeing that Michael was angry, the others immediately quieted down. Even if they were dissatisfied with Nicole, they didn't dare to say anything.

Nicole said apologetically, "Michael, I'm sorry."

"It has nothing to do with you. Play the zither well. The person recommended by Zayn will arrive soon. Prepare to begin."

Michael didn't want to say anything more, but Nicole could tell that Michael was also very angry.

Nicole sighed slightly and did not say anything. She sat down and began to play.

With Zayn not around, the recording went unexpectedly smoothly.

Michael's mood turned a little better at the end of the night.

"You all did well today, I hope you can keep it up later. Let's go back and rest early today. Come here at six o'clock tomorrow. We need to speed up the progress."

"Excuse me, I want to buy a zither. Can you give me some advice?"

Nicole glared at Olivia and spoke.

Garina was surprised by her courteous attitude.

"Alright, how much can you afford?"

"I only care about the quality."

Nicole could tell that Garina was in need of money.

Garina tried hard to avoid eye contact with Olivia as she led them to the high-priced area.

"These are expensive, but also of quality, and the strings are hard to be broken."

"Garina, why are you here?"

Olivia asked anyway as there were only few people.

Garina was surprised.

She knew Olivia.

Michael said that he had found a talent who he was going to cultivate with all his might, and he wanted the entire team to support his choice.

Garina didn't want to confront Olivia. After all, the person chosen by Michael must be outstanding. But Garina had no choice now.

"Miss Olivia, I know it's my fault to quit the band, but I really need money."

Now Olivia was embarrassed.

Garina was sincere. She did not pretend not to know them. Thinking of this, Olivia was less angry.

"If you need money, you can make an advance."

"But I can't tell people what it is for."

Garina subconsciously covered her belly as she spoke.

Nicole saw that and immediately understood.

She couldn't help but think of her unborn child.

"Are you pregnant?"

Nicole said in an affirmative way and it startled Garina right away.

"How do you know?"

Olivia was surprised.

"Congratulations! But take your time on the money. You can't be rich overnight."

Garina felt sad.

She murmured, "I can't keep the child."

"Are you going to take an operation?"

Garina nodded.

"Yes. My younger siblings are still at school. I have to support them so I can't rest for too long. I heard that painless abortion doesn't require much time in bed, so I guess that's the best for me. However, it has time limit and I'm running out of time now. If I take the normal abortion operation, I'll have to rest for a month, then everybody will know about it."

Garina started crying.

Olivia didn't expect that and she began to feel anxious now.

Nicole was instantly surrounded by a familiar aura.

Nicole subconsciously wanted to push him away, but Samuel directly held her hands and took her into his embrace.

"You..."

Nicole raised her head slightly. Accidently, her lips touched Samuel's, causing both of them to tremble.

Samuel's eyes darkened as he felt the impulse. He suddenly held Nicole's head and kissed her in a domineering way.

Nicole resisted for a while and then gave up.

After the sex, Nicole went to take a bath.

Looking at her back, Samuel felt at ease for the first time in so many days.

Nicole stood under the shower and let the water flow. She still had feelings for Samuel but she just could not pretend that that thing had never happened.

If Samuel really hadn't cheated on, why would he try so hard to avoid talking about it with her?

Why would that woman die?

Nicole didn't think that she could get over this, but thinking that she had just had sex with Samuel, she sighed.

As she came out, Samuel stared at her with his bright eyes.

"When will you go back to the Seapolis City?"

"I won't go back."

Nicole swung her hair.

Samuel found the hairdryer and walked over. Then he grabbed her hair in his hand.

Nicole was surprised, but she did not stop him.

Then Samuel dried her hair while Nicole leaned against the bed with her eyes closed just like it used to be.

Nicole's hair was very smooth.

Samuel had always liked her long hair, and he was very happy that he could still touch her hair.

"Are you still angry?"

"Having sex with you doesn't mean that I'm not angry. Or maybe I'm not angry and perhaps I just want to know why. Samuel, don't hide it from me, no matter what the truth is. Although I believe that you didn't cheat on me, what exactly happened between you and that woman? Can you tell me?"

Nicole suddenly opened her eyes.

Samuel was startled and whispered, "I told you that we were together because I had to ask her something. I really didn't expect her to have feelings for me."

"What's it?"

Maybe that was the point.

Samuel whispered, "Something about the company."

"Still won't tell me, huh?"

Nicole felt somewhat upset. They had just had sex and now the atmosphere became weird again.

"I have to tune the zither up. You can sleep here if you want."

Nicole withdrew her long hair and went to the study in pajama.

She did not drive Samuel away.

Samuel did not know if he should be happy for that.

Nicole came to the study with an empty mind.

What did you mean?

Samuel's idea?

Nicole was a little depressed. But hearing the joy and gratitude of the crew, she felt that it was not appropriate to say the fruit wasn't bought by her at this moment.

She only smiled faintly and gave out the fruit.

The one who received a gift sold his liberty. Since the staff had received the fruit, their attitude towards Nicole was much better.

Olivia walked over and nudged Nicole, "It is unexpected that your husband is quite good at dealing with people. Was he afraid that you would be excluded from the crew? Yesterday, I was thinking that Samuel was an idiot. You haven't come out to work for such a long time that he didn't even know how to help you. It is beyond expectation that he sent fruit to the crew in your name. It seems like you two talked a lot last night."

Facing Olivia's teasing, Nicole did not know what to say.

"I'll go out and make a phone call."

Before Nicole went out, another group of people came in. The man walking in front of the crowd was Ernesto.

"Mrs. Green, Mr. Green asked me to bring some food to everyone and change a new set of equipment for the crew."

Hearing this, Nicole was instantly stunned.

"Food? Didn't you deliver the fruit by air just now?"

Nicole didn't dare to ask loudly, so she could only ask in a low voice.

Ernesto was slightly stunned and replied, "No, Mr. Green just asked me to send it over. The audio equipment is outside, and we will send it in immediately."

Nicole felt very puzzled instantly.

The fruit just now was not from Samuel, then who would have given it to the crew in her name?

Ernesto looked at Nicole doubtfully, waiting for her next instruction.

Nicole was also embarrassed for blocking the way, so she hurriedly stepped aside.

Ernesto walked in and smiled, "This is from Mrs. Green. Besides, she will renew the equipment for the entire crew. Everyone can choose his own instrument."

This was the idea come up by Ernesto, when Samuel asked him how to help Nicole.

Few people knew that Nicole's zither string had been cut off. Samuel was a computer expert, and he wanted to see if his wife had been bullied in the crew, so he hacked the surveillance network of the crew. He didn't expect to see that Nicole's zither string was intentionally cut off. He was so angry that he wanted to pull the man out of screen and kill him. However, Ernesto said that it would only make Nicole isolated in the crew. He suggested helping Nicole get along well with the other staff in the crew.

"What do you mean?"

Nicole asked with a sullen face.

Pedro said sarcastically, "What? Don't you pretend to be foolish in front of me after your crew ate our fruits? If you really wanted to get rid of us, you shouldn't have eaten the fruit. Do you know how much the fruit cost to deliver by air?"

Not until now did Nicole know who sent the fruit in her name. It turned out to be Zayn.

If she knew from the beginning that the fruit was bought by Zayn, Nicole would not have received it.

Now that she was mocked by Pedro in vain, Nicole was cross.

"How much does the fruit cost? I'll transfer the money to you. By the way, ask Zayn not to do such things anymore. I won't care about his kindness."

As she spoke, Nicole took out her phone and prepared to transfer money.

Pedro sneered, "What? Do you think Zayn is man short of money?"

"What do you mean? What exactly do you want?"

Olivia really wanted to give Pedro a kick.

What a weirdo he was!

He hurried to give gifts, but now he came to ask for favors.

Pedro didn't even look at Olivia and said mockingly, "You're not qualified to talk to me. Not to mention that you're not famous yet. Even if you're famous, you have to be at the same class as Zayn before you're qualified to talk to me."

These words were simply too insulting.

Nicole's face clouded over.

"Is this your word or Zayn's word?"

"Is there a difference? I'm his manager."

"Alright, from now on, I promise not to have any contact with Zayn. Is 100 thousand enough for the fruit?"

After Nicole finished speaking, she directly transferred the money to Pedro and took the screenshot as evidence.

"You..."

Pedro didn't expect Nicole to do what she said so quickly. The notice from PayPal made him distressed.
