Don't Try to Escape, My Wife!

Chapter 971 He Is Samuel Green!

Nicole had no idea why she was so unlucky these days. When she and Olivia passed through the alley, they felt somewhat uneasy. Before she could say anything, they were hit unconscious.

She didn't even know what had happened to Olivia.

When Nicole woke up, she was a little unconscious. Her hands and feet were tied to the stool, and her eyes were blindfolded, unable to see clearly.

This darkness made Nicole a little scared, but when she thought of Olivia, she calmed down.

"Anybody here?"

Nicole shouted. It was empty around, and she didn't hear Olivia's voice.

Nicole instantly became uneasy.

If Olivia were locked up with her, Nicole would feel better. Now that she was alone, she didn't know if Olivia was fine or if she had been hurt. For a moment, Nicole felt tortured by fear and anxiety.

Did Samuel go back to the Green's? Did he know that someone had kidnapped her?

At this time, a few names appeared in Nicole's mind. However, when she thought about it carefully, they would not risk it just for the sake of a little grudge.

Who wanted to kidnap her?

Nicole had been waiting for someone to warn her, but nobody appeared. After waiting for a long time, she fell asleep instead.

Meanwhile, Samuel did not go back to the Green's.

Nicole didn't give him any message all day at work, but he did not feel worried. Anyway, everything was under his control. When his subordinates told him that Nicole and Olivia were going to the roadside to eat beef noodles, he was even a little depressed.

Could Nicole really forget about him?

If she and Olivia were out late, what should he do?

Samuel sighed as he looked at the table of dishes he had prepared.

Although he became intimate with Nicole again, he thought that Nicole's attitude towards him was different from before.

However, there were some things he couldn't say, so he could only slowly ease their relationship.

After waiting for more than half an hour, Nicole still didn't come back. Samuel was a little worried.

Didn't she say they would walk back?

That should take less than 20 minutes.

Thinking of this, Samuel no longer hesitated and directly picked up the phone and called Nicole. However, he was told that the subscriber you dialed was power off.

Samuel suddenly became alert.

Her phone died?

He felt that Nicole would not make such a mistake.

Samuel hurriedly asked his subordinates about Nicole's location. Unfortunately, they did not follow Nicole into the alley. They thought that there should be okay with the walk for a few minutes.

Hearing this, Samuel was instantly enraged.

"A few minutes' walk? Investigate it now!"

Only then did his subordinates realize that something happened.

All of them ran into the alley, but Olivia was the only one lying unconscious on the ground.

After they sent Olivia to the hospital, Samuel rushed over immediately.

Olivia was a little confused after being rescued.

"I don't know exactly, but you can go HY Club. It's said that he likes to stay there."

Zayn's words caused Samuel to pause for a moment, and then he hung up the phone.

After finishing the call, Zayn stared blankly at the phone. Seeing this, Pedro couldn't help but ask, "Why do you care so much about Nicole? She's beautiful, but she's a married woman. Why did you do these?"

"You don't understand."

Zayn put away the phone and lifted the blanket to get out of bed.

"What are you doing?"

"Look for Nicole. She can't be in trouble."

Pedro was immediately fumed with anger by his words.

"Look for Nicole? Look at yourself. You're still sick. Besides, her husband would take care of her. Why do you get involved in this matter?"

"I'm not looking for her because I like her. You don't understand what's going on."

"If I don't understand, you can tell me! Zayn, I'm your agent. Don't hide anything from me. If something happened, I need to clean up your messes."

Pedro felt that Nicole was too annoying.

Ever since Nicole appeared, the trust between him and Zayn had plummeted. When did Zayn start to have secrets from him?

Now, Zayn had always revolved around Nicole, even ruining his face and reputation.

They had come this far with great difficulty. He absolutely could not allow Zayn to destroy his future for a woman.

Zayn looked at Pedro's angry eyes and couldn't help but sigh, "Pedro, Nicole is very important to me."

"How important is she? It's just a woman. If you want, you could be with any woman. Why must be Nicole?"

Pedro felt that Zayn was really enchanted, and he couldn't help but hate Nicole.

Zayn couldn't help but be shocked when he saw the hatred flashing through Pedro's eyes.

"Pedro, Nicole's disappearance this time didn't have anything to do with you, right?"

"No, I'm not so mad as to do that."

Pedro said seriously, but Zayn was still worried.

After thinking for a while, Zayn whispered, "Nicole is my younger sister, my family."

Pedro was stunned.

"What are you talking about?"

"Not long ago, I found out that she looked like my mother. You know, my mother passed away a few years ago. Before she died, her only wish was to find my sister."

Zayn's voice was choked and the words were disjointed.

Pedro didn't expect the fact to be like this, so he couldn't help but ask.

"You don't look like her at all. How did you know that she was your sister?"

"Do you remember? A few days ago, when I asked you to talk about the contract with her, I let you secretly get her hair?"

Zayn's words caused Pedro to pause for a moment before nodding.

At that time, in order to get Nicole's hair, Pedro deliberately stood up and let the buttons pull onto Nicole's hair, which made Nicole quite unhappy.

Chapter 973 It Was Brutal

When Parker heard that Samuel was asking about Nicole, he frowned.

"Who is she to you?"

As soon as Parker finished, Samuel slapped him in the face.

Parker was dumbfounded.

While Samuel was asking about Nicole's whereabouts, a person quietly came to the place where Nicole was being held.

At last, Nicole heard someone arrive.

"What the hell do you want? If you want to kill me, just do it!"

Nicole was hungry and thirsty, and her voice was hoarse now.

The person didn't say anything and whipped Nicole.

Nicole groaned in pain.

It hurt like hell!

Her clothes were torn apart, and blood splashed in the air.

Nicole's entire body twitched.

Because she was blindfolded, she could not see the person in front of her. The person did not speak, which suggested that it might have a grudge against her, right?

But who was it?

"Who are you?"

Nicole tensed up and asked. The whip landed on her body again.

This whip was much harder than the previous one.

Nicole was about to cry, but she knew she couldn't.

This person wanted to see her cry.

She wouldn't give it what it wanted.

Nicole had a sensitive nose, and she smelled perfume. It seemed like it was a woman.

This perfume smelled familiar.

Nicole's heart skipped a beat.

"Melissa?"

When she said the name, the third whip had landed on Nicole's body.

Nicole nearly fainted.

This whip was barbed, which indicated that she hated her guts.

Nicole was choked with her blood, and she felt the burning pain.

"Melissa! You're Melissa!"

Nicole was very familiar with Melissa's perfume. Melissa was the only one who hated her so much and wished to kill her.

When Melissa heard Nicole say her name, she raised her whip to give Nicole another whip. Footsteps suddenly came from afar.

"Miss Melissa, someone is coming. We have to go now."

Melissa glared at Nicole and said coldly, "I want to kill her!"

"Start targeting all of Major's business. I want him to go bankrupt in a week."

"Got it!"

Ever since Jacob was hospitalized, Ernesto had taken Jacob's place.

Samuel had started to trust him with the business overseas.

"What about Melissa..."

"Don't touch her yet. Get someone to keep an eye on her. When Nicole wakes up, I'll ask her what she wants to do."

As for how to deal with Melissa, the woman who had injured Nicole, Samuel left the decision to Nicole.

He'd realized that Nicole didn't want to be the woman behind him. Now that she wanted to develop her own career, he would help her.

Nicole wanted to improve, and it was a good thing for him, wasn't it?

Ernesto took the order and left.

When Samuel returned to the ward, Nicole was still asleep.

Her dry lips made his heart ache for her.

Although she had never struggled in poverty, she had suffered a lot in her life.

Not long ago, she had just had a miscarriage.

And now, it was this. He was such an incompetent husband.

When Lucas called, Samuel frowned slightly and took the phone outside.

"Samuel, I'm back. Where's Mom? I'm coming over."

"No. Don't come here."

Samuel's words made Lucas frown.

"Why?"

"Your mother has been away for a while. When she's back, I'll tell her to go visit you."

Samuel didn't want his son to see what had happened to Nicole.

Lucas was now with the military. If he did something impulsive because of Nicole, it would seriously affect his future.

Nicole wouldn't want her son to know any of this.

Lucas was skeptical.

"Samuel, are you keeping something from me?"

"No. Your mom is indeed on a business trip. She has just found the company, and there's a lot for her to handle. We'll go visit you someday."

"Is everything alright between you and Mom? I heard that you're not talking to each other recently. Is that true?"

Lucas asked.

"We're fine."

Samuel denied it.

"Go back to the military. A lot of things are happening these days. I don't want your mom to worry about you. You hear me?"

"I see."

Lucas nodded.

"By the way, Samuel, Grandma called me today and invited me to her house."

The stronger a person appeared to be, the more fragile his heart was.

Nicole had indulged her adopted parents for a long time because of the attachments developed over two decades, but now they gave her no choice.

Nicole suddenly felt cold.

She held her arms crossed her chest like a lonely kid.

Samuel opened his eyes and saw this.

His heart ached a lot.

"As long as you say it, I can make them regret it for the rest of their life!"

"No. I want to end all of this by myself."

Nicole leaned against Samuel's embrace, and the pain from her wounds made her frown. Samuel caught that.

"Does it hurt?"

"A little bit. I will make Melissa pay a heavy price for the three lashes."

A hint of anger flashed through Nicole's eyes.

"Do you have a plan?"

Samuel turned his body slightly so that Nicole could be more comfortable in his arms.

After leaning over, Nicole whispered, "Melissa has always been fearless. She thinks I couldn't do anything about her because I always have a soft spot for my adopted parents. They've raised me, so I would always forgive them no matter what they do. To be honest, I really didn't have the heart to hurt them before, but they've hurt me too many times, and I've had enough. Now, they want to use my children. How can I tolerate it? I'm going to do what I have to do, even if that makes me an ungrateful daughter."

"Don't be afraid. I'm here. If you can't do it, I'll help you. Let me take the blame."

Samuel meant it.

If Nicole gave him permission, he would end that couple immediately.

However, Nicole shook her head and said, "No, I want to do it by myself. If you do it, they'll still think I'm a pushover and that I'm just lucky to marry you. I want them to know there are consequences to mess with me."

The thought that her innocent children were betrayed and even hurt by the grandparents they trusted make Nicole's heart burned with anger.

"I'm worried that you'll feel painful."

"If they have the heart to do this to me, why would I feel painful for getting revenge? They gave me no choice."

Nicole snorted, "In his early stage, Braden once copied a picture that Ryder Stuart painted before he became famous. Few people know about this. Stuart had already passed away, and few people know about his work created before he was famous. Braden stumbled on that painting by chance and somehow had the idea. When I was a kid, I overheard him tell my adopted mother. Now, Braden has become famous in the art industry, and he's got disciples working in all lines. Some of his disciples are quite influential and can help him. Maybe it's Major who has got Melissa out of prison. But I believe Braden has pulled some strings as well."

When Samuel heard what Nicole said, he hurriedly picked up his phone to call Ernesto.

"I've told Ernesto to start with this. Once we have enough evidence, his reputation as a great artist will be ruined. I will also ask Laurence to contact the descendants of Stuart. As long as they sue Braden for plagiarism, he will be in trouble. Then, my adopted mother will ask Melissa to help save him. Melissa is now abroad. I wonder if she will come back for her biological father."

Nicole's goal was very simple - she wanted to force Melissa to return to the country, and her parents were her weakness. Of course, if Melissa did not care about her parents, Nicole would think of another way to make her come back.

Samuel listened quietly. As long as Nicole could vent her anger, he would support her to do anything.

"Did Braden only copy one painting?"

"I'm not sure. This is the only one I know of. I haven't verified the others."

When Zayn turned around, he saw Nicole looking at him with interest. He felt a little embarrassed.

He coughed, "Well, I'm here to check on you. How are you feeling?"

Zayn couldn't help but frown when he saw Nicole lying in bed.

"Did that bastard Parker do all this to you?"

"Parker?"

Nicole heard an unfamiliar name and puzzled.

"Who is Parker?"

Zayn was surprised, not knowing what was going on.

Samuel wouldn't tell him anything. He couldn't find anything after poking around for a long time. He only knew that Nicole was injured.

As for how badly she was injured, Samuel had blocked the news. He had tried to bribe the doctor with money but failed.

Looking at Nicole's puzzled expression, Zayn was a little uncertain.

"Didn't Parker kidnap you?"

Nicole did not like Zayn much. But the unfamiliar name made Nicole feel that there might be something she did not know about.

"Tell me. What exactly is going on?"

Nicole struggled to get up, and it made her wound hurt. She sweated in pain.

"Let me help you."

Zayn quickly stepped forward and gently supported Nicole.

There was a faint scent of perfume on his body. Unlike Samuel's refreshing scent, it was a little sweet, and Nicole didn't like it.

"I'm good."

As she struggled to get up, the clothes on her shoulders tilted to one side, revealing the terrifying wounds.

Zayn's eyes instantly narrowed.

"They actually used a whip on you?"

As Zayn was about to pull down Nicole's collar, he heard Nicole snapped, "Zayn, don't give me a reason to cut off your hand. You're a man and I'm a woman, don't you realize that?"

These words caused Zayn's hand to stop in the air, and he looked awkward.

"Sorry. I just want to check your wounds."

"Are you a doctor?"

Nicole mockingly asked.

Zayn was more embarrassed.

"No."

"Are you my husband?"

Zayn didn't know how to reply.

"Then what the fuck do you want to check?"

After Samuel came in, Nicole smiled at him, but there was obviously something else in her eyes.

"You're injured. Why did you meet a guy like him?"

Samuel didn't seem to grasp her point, so he asked directly.

Nicole smiled and asked, "You know Zayn!"

It was not a question, but a confirmation.

"Yes, I do."

Samuel did not deny it and his answer stunned Nicole.

"When did you know each other?"

"When he was delivering fruit to the crew in your name."

Samuel's words shocked Nicole again.

"What?"

"Alright, stop thinking about these boring questions. Does it matter if I know him? Just remember to stay away from the people who have ulterior motives."

Samuel stroked Nicole's head and served the porridge he had prepared.

The aroma made Nicole's stomach growl, but she kept smiling and said, "Why do I smell something else?"

"Well, I'm jealous. It's enough to have me in your lifetime. Other men shouldn't come near you."

Samuel did not conceal his jealousy at all, leaving Nicole lost for words.

He spoiled a good chat.

"Have some porridge. I've asked the doctor. You can't eat other food now. I'll make you a snack at midnight."

"Yes."

Nicole was starving.

She took the porridge and had three bowls in a row. Only then did she feel a little full.

Samuel lovingly handed over the napkin.

"Wipe your mouth."

"Help me."

Nicole pouted like a child.

Samuel felt something familiar surging up within him.

His eyes darkened and his hand moved gently.

Nicole watched him wipe her mouth with satisfaction. She pointed to the water aside and said, "Water."

Samuel stood up and poured a cup of hot water for her. Worried that she would get burned, he found another cup to cool it. He kept pouring it in and out the two cups for several times. He felt it cooler and handed it to Nicole.

Zayn's eyes narrowed.

He never thought about this.

He found out about Nicole's identity by accident, as his nanny mentioned it before. In order to protect Nicole and his nanny, he had someone send the nanny away and secretly protect her.

But would Nicole's identity remain a secret forever?

Zayn became worried.

Pedro knew how he felt and didn't want to disturb him. He just stood up and poured Zayn a glass of water, then quietly left.

Zayn was lost in thought until his cigarette burned to his fingers. Only he was left in the room.

He blinked, took out his phone, found a number and dialed.

"Find out if a woman named Melissa Bush has recently arrived in F Country. Try all the connections you can find to kill her."

At this moment, with his frighteningly cold eyes, Zayn was in stark contrast to his image on the screen.

Perhaps this was what he really looked like.

Zayn knew what he wanted since he was little. He just wanted a life of his own. As for the presidency, he didn't care who took it. For his own safety, he entered the industry just as he came of age, thus leaving his older siblings relaxed about him and unmindful of him.

However, Zayn was a prince after all, so he naturally had his own secret force. He kept them on the alert for his own safety. Now that Melissa hurt Nicole, he would not forgive Melissa, even if revenge would expose how powerful he was.

Unaware that she was being targeted, Melissa was still enjoying her life.

"Major, don't you want to stay with me?"

Melissa hugged Major's arm and asked pitifully.

Major sighed and said, "All my business is all at home, and I don't have business here. Besides, we haven't known how Nicole is doing. I have to go back and take a look."

"Are you hiding something else from me? Did your godfather's business go bust?"

Melissa was talking about Elvis Green.

Elvis was caught and now imprisoned waiting for the verdict, and his business collapsed.

However, Melissa always felt that Elvis left something for him, given the fact that Major could avoid being implicated in this incident in public, even though he was Elvis' grandson who Elvis was proud of.

Major narrowed his eyes and said indifferently, "His business is different from mine. I hope that he had business abroad, but as you can see, I'm so busy and can't recoup his losses. There is five million in this card. Take it. Call me if you need anything. I've arranged a few people for you. You can stay here for now. I'll pick you up when things get better at home."

"But I'm a little worried about my parents!"

Melissa always felt that Major was hiding something from her, but she couldn't find any evidence. Especially after her jail time, Major changed his attitude towards her.

Although he was still concerned about her and met all her demands, she felt that Major was different.

This was a woman's instinct!

He didn't like the way she eyed him, but he said gently, "Don't worry. I'll send them here when I get back. I will keep them safe. Nicole hasn't paid them back for raising her, so she won't harm them."

"I hope so."

Melissa nodded.

Chapter 979 Waiting for Your Decision

"What's going on? Hasn't the trending hashtag changed? Why is my thing a trending topic again?"

Braden almost failed to catch his breath. After he fainted out of anger, Mrs. Bush called Braden's student.

Braden's student did some investigation and knew that it was done by Samuel.

Who didn't know Samuel?

Everyone in the Seapolis City respected Samuel.

When the student told Mrs. Bush who did this, she knew what was going on.

"It's Nicole! It's actually Nicole! She set us up! Why did she do this?"

Mrs. Bush couldn't accept the fact.

With a dark look, Braden whispered, "When I drew that painting, she was only seven years old. She had such a good memory at such a young age, and she still remembers everything years later. We might underestimate Nicole's cunning."

"Cunning? She was just..."

Mrs. Bush was stunned by Braden's gaze and didn't dare to continue.

"I've heard that she has established a filmmaking company in City B, which is not famous yet. Don't blame me for being cruel. Call the newspaper and tell them that I want to expose her secret."

"What do you plan to do?"

Mrs. Bush was a little worried.

Braden said coldly, "She destroyed me, and I'll do the same to her. I have to consider my own daughter. I'll lose my social position because of her, and someone has to take the blame for the plagiarism. I won't let go of the chance."

Not long after, a piece of breaking news appeared on the Internet again.

It said that the painting accused of plagiarism was painted by Nicole.

Back then, Nicole was only a seven-year-old child. She wanted to try painting. Later, she asked Braden to revise it. In case there would be discussion about the young painter, Braden signed his name on the painting.

After the news came out, it had millions of views.

Braden sincerely explained that he really did not know the idea was from Ryder's painting. He did everything for his daughter. If her daughter's plagiarism couldn't be forgiven, he was willing to take the blame for his daughter.

When Nicole saw the news, she sneered.

How could she never know that Braden was so shameless?

He could even blame a seven-year-old child for his plagiarism. As a former designer, Nicole had shown her talent for painting. Therefore, some netizens believed what Braden said.

Braden's student also testified what he said, naturally pushing Nicole to people's judgment.

Shortly after the news was released, another media reported that Nicole had hired the descendants of Ryder to accuse Braden of plagiarism. Nicole did this out of jealousy because Braden's biological daughter, Melissa, returned and won the attention of her parents.

This influential Twitter user exposed that Nicole seized inheritance to Braden's property with the help of Samuel. She also sent Melissa to jail on unfounded charges. It was Braden who saved his daughter Melissa with a big fortune.

Nicole gently covered the back of Samuel's hand with her little hands, which calmed down his rage.

"I'll deal with it myself. Don't worry, I'll take revenge on Melissa in my own way."

"I didn't protect you well."

Nicole felt especially guilty and his eyes turned red.

However, Nicole smiled and said, "Life is full of accidents. You can't be by my side all the time. Even if you watch over me for 24 hours, you can't promise to shield me from any hurt. Don't put too much burden on yourself. I'm fine, really. The wound just hurts a little."

"I feel heartbroken when you hurt."

Samuel held Nicole's hand tightly and whispered, "I want to tear apart the person who hurt you."

"Come on, we're businessmen. Don't go to extremes. It's not worth it to commit a crime because of such a scum."

Nicole knew that Samuel might fight against the whole world for her. This was the least she wanted to see.

She was sure that she could handle it by herself.

Seeing her insistence, Samuel could only nod.

"I've already recorded the video. I've made a short one. Do you need it?"

"Of course."

Nicole wanted to get up, but accidentally hurt the wound. She moaned in pain.

"Slow down. I'll help you. You should just lie down."

Samuel quickly put down the things in his hand and supported Nicole.

Nicole smiled and said, "I'm fine. I'm not that vulnerable."

She moved to the computer and watched the shorter video. She could clearly see Melissa's vicious appearance.

Nicole asked an entertainment reporter to immediately post the video.

The Internet was overwhelmed with discussion.

"Holy shit, what a breaking news! Didn't he say that Nicole framed Melissa? Why was Melissa the one who was violent?"

"The reversal is so shocking. The Bush family wanted to frame Nicole who was innocent!"

Shortly after, Samuel asked a reporter to post the diagnosis of Nicole's injury.

Netizens quickly found the hospital where Nicole was treated and got the first-hand information.

"Holy shit, might Nicole have hurt herself just to frame Melissa? If so, it costs too much."

"I don't think so. No matter what, Nicole is Mrs. Green. Would she beat herself up like this? I've asked someone to evaluate the authenticity of the video. It's not fake. Nicole must be telling the truth."

"What kind of people are the Bushes? They did such a terrible thing to their adopted daughter. Looks like Nicole is the victim."

Netizens all supported Nicole.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bush saw the news, they became furious.

"We really underestimated her. She framed Melissa so viciously. Why didn't I notice her cruel nature before?"

Mrs. Bush was so angry that she almost broke the bowl in her hand.
