

CEO's Lovely Wife Has Escaped by Anuo

Chapter 12: Airport Crisis

Noah, who was surrounded by the crowd, had been trying to break out of the encirclement, especially after seeing Mia's face turn paler.

He could not be bothered to answer the reporters.

Noah had specially given his bodyguard a few days off for this vacation with Mia. He totally did not expect the situation at the airport to be so serious today. Noah, who had only relied on his secretary to block left and right, really could not get out.

After another round of tugging with the reporters, when Noah looked up to look for Mia again, he realized that Mia was trying to hail a cab by the side of the road. Noah immediately became as anxious as ants on a hot pan, but he didn't dare to shout Mia's name out loud. He was worried that if Mia was photographed by the reporters, things would get even more complicated, so he watched helplessly as Mia got into a cab and left the airport.

On the other side, Mia, who was sitting in the car, finally couldn't control her tears and started to drip down.

The driver was scared out of his wits. He had a daughter to, and when he saw this pretty girl crying so sadly, he couldn't help but want to persuade her. "Young lady, you look quite young. What's wrong? You can't cry like this no matter what."

Mia listened to the driver's words without responding.

Seeing that Mia was silent, the driver said, "Little girl, listen to my advice. People have to encounter some sad things in their lives. You will be able to get over it eventually."

The driver saw that Mia did not respond, but she stopped crying. She was deep in thought and he could not help but start nagging again. Although Mia did not respond, as she listened to the driver's advice, she thought of Noah's grandfather. They were both as kind and good. Thinking of his grandfather, Mia could not help but reach out to touch her stomach and think, Yes, I still have a baby. I should be stronger for these people who love me.

Thinking of this, Mia wiped the tears off her face, then raised her head and smiled at the driver. "Thank you, sir. I will remember everything you said."

When the driver heard that the young lady finally responded, he was overjoyed. He hurriedly replied, "Sigh, sigh, as long as you listen to me."

Unknowingly, they arrived near Mia's house.

"Hey, lady, check if this is the place. We're here," said the driver.

Mia had mostly calmed down by now. After getting out of the car, she grabbed her luggage and walked towards Noah's house.

When Noah finally escaped, the sky was almost dark. The secretary alone could not control the situation. Hence, she could only inform the bodyguards to hurry over. When the bodyguards came and escorted Noah into the car, the few of them were already exhausted.

As soon as Noah got into the car, he tugged at his collar, undid his tie, and threw it on the seat. He usually looked like an elite CEO, and his clothes were always so clean and spotless.

Noah's meticulously styled hair was also messed up now. His shoes had been stepped on a few times, and his high-class suit was ruined.

Seeing the CEO like this, everyone did not even dare to take a glance at him. The atmosphere in the car was extremely tense, and afraid that the CEO would be angry, everyone was careful not to speak.

After all, today's incident was really infuriating. Noah, the head of the Reynolds family, was actually surrounded by a bunch of reporters at the airport entrance. It was because of a bunch of gossip news. The most important thing was that the CEO's wife had left in anger. This was serious. If things went wrong, everyone would lose their jobs. Hence, no one dared to speak up.

At this moment, Noah was really furious. His good mood had been completely messed up. It was not easy for Mia to warm up to him after spending a few days together. Perhaps, she would not mention the divorce anymore. In the end, he met this group of reporters who were spouting nonsense. It was really annoying.

"Have you called Madam?" Noah asked after calming down slightly.

"I've already called, but no one picked up." The secretary carefully replied before asking, "Then, CEO, are we going home first?"

Noah replied, "Yes." Noah, who appeared calm on the surface, was actually extremely anxious. He had just coaxed his wife, and he did not know what would happen now. What if she ran away again?

Forty minutes later, the car pulled up in front of the mansion. Noah got out and told his secretary to go first.

As soon as he entered the house, Noah put down his clothes and quickly went to look for Mia. The lights in the living room were not switched on, so Noah went up to the second floor without bothering to turn on the lights. He pushed open the master bedroom door. It was still the same as when they left a few days ago. No one had come in before.

Then, he went to look at the guest room but did not find anyone..
