

CEO's Lovely Wife Has Escaped by Anuo

Chapter 26: Another Misunderstanding

Noah remembered how his grandfather had looked all these years. It was as if there was nothing his grandfather couldn't do. Since he was a child, his grandfather had always been his idol, a role model for him.

Before Mia appeared, he had been learning and following his grandfather's footsteps. However, after Mia appeared, his grandfather started to change. When he forced himself to marry Mia, Noah felt that his grandfather no longer loved him. At the same time, he also felt that his grandfather was old. Were all marriage events so rushed?

Hence, all these years, he had been working hard to prove that Old Master had made a wrong decision back then. However, he had not really heard Old Master talk to him about what had happened back then and was prepared to leave. If Old Master was no longer around, then the direction that he had worked hard for all these years would be gone in an instant. Noah felt an unprecedented sadness begin to assault him.

Ding! The door of the operating room opened. Noah, who was deep in thought, woke up immediately. He hurriedly went up to ask Grandma about the situation.

"The patient's condition is stable for the time being. He will be transferred to the intensive care unit for observation for a day. If there's nothing else, he can be transferred back to the ward tomorrow," the emergency doctor said to Noah and Grandma as he took off his mask.

After hearing the doctor's words, Grandma's body softened. Noah held her. "Grandma, Grandpa is fine. Don't collapse. I'll send you back to your room to rest first."

After spending half the night waiting, Grandma did not have much energy left. Hence, she nodded and allowed Noah to help her back to the ward.

When Grandpa was finally pushed back to his room at noon the next day, Noah and Grandma finally felt relieved.

"Brat, what are you doing here? Where's Mia?" Grandpa had just come out of the ICU and was barely able to gather his strength to curse.

Noah felt happy when he saw his grandfather scolding him the moment he opened his mouth. His heart, which had been hanging in the air for the entire night, finally relaxed.

"Old Master, can't you ask about me first?" Noah pretended to be angry and jealous.

Grandma couldn't stand it anymore. She pushed Noah out of the ward. "Don't bother about him. Go back and look after Mia. I'm here with Grandpa."

Noah's heart had already flown to Mia's side when he saw that his grandfather had gotten better. He did not know how Mia's condition was. The driver replied that he had sent Mia to another hospital, but he could not get through to Mia, so Noah was extremely anxious.

After leaving the hospital, Noah got the chauffeur to rush to the hospital that Mia had mentioned yesterday.

Noah, who did not even bother to change his clothes, sped all the way. Once he got out of the car, he rushed to find Mia.

The chauffeur at the back panted and shouted, "President," but his legs were too short to keep up with Noah.

They finally caught up with the CEO when they arrived at the hospital's consultation counter. At this moment, Noah had already been asking if any patient called Mia had been sent over.

However, the nurse at the reception desk kept saying that she did not manage to find anything.

The driver, who was panting as he rushed over, pulled Noah and said, "CEO, yesterday... yesterday Madam found a doctor friend. I think his name is... Leo." The driver panted a few times before he finally finished his sentence.

Noah, who was beside him, was already extremely anxious. He only wanted to stretch out his leg and kick the driver twice. After hearing him finish, he hurriedly asked the nurse, "Is there a doctor named Leo?"

The nurse thought for a while and said, "Yes. If you want to look for him, just turn right to the second room."

Just as the nurse finished speaking, Noah was almost out of sight. The chauffeur was also dumbfounded when he saw the president's speed. Who said that the president had an ambiguous relationship with that female celebrity, Jenny? It was definitely a rumor.

On this side, Noah finally found Leo's room. He didn't care if there was anyone inside, and rushed straight in. The people who were watching were shocked.

Leo was surprised, too. The man who'd barged in was wearing a crumpled suit. He looked disheveled. Even the beard on his face looked like it hadn't been shaved.

"Where's Mia? Where's Mia?" Noah's slightly anxious voice sounded.

So it was Mia's scumbag husband. Leo instantly became enraged.

The anger that he had accumulated the day before had yet to dissipate, and he had just delivered himself to the door. However, there was still a patient in the room, so Leo couldn't flip out. Hence, he glanced sideways at Noah and said, "Mia isn't here. Please knock first."

Noah was already feeling extremely anxious and did not have time to pay attention to Leo's attitude. He only asked again, "Where is Mia?"

"You're asking about your own wife. Sorry, but I'm not sure," Leo said angrily.

Leo's assistant saw that things weren't going well, so he tried to calm the patient down first. "You're looking for Mia, aren't you? She's just been discharged home."

As soon as he finished speaking, Leo glared at his assistant angrily. The poor assistant didn't know what was going on. He simply felt that if this went on, he was afraid that Leo would start a fight with this man, so he told Noah first.

After getting the answer he wanted, Noah glanced at Leo and left.

Noah, who had returned to the car, tugged at his collar angrily. 'What's been going on lately?'

He'd always see men who cared so much about Mia. Mia was his wife, the little pet he'd always kept. The thought of other people coveting Mia made Noah especially unhappy.

The chauffeur saw the President's irritated expression and asked softly, "President, are we going home now?"

Chapter 27: Escape

Noah didn't respond but just nodded.

The driver started the engine and drove home.

The chauffeur had just parked the car when he saw the President impatiently opening the car door and getting out.

Noah, who opened the door and entered the living room, first looked for Mia but did not find her, then went to the guest room on the second floor.

Noah, who had thought that he would not be able to unlock the door, did not expect that the door would open today with a light twist.

The room was silent, so Noah lightened his footsteps and slowly walked into the room.

When he arrived at the bed, he saw Mia quietly sleeping. Half of her pale face was revealed under the blanket.

Noah did not dare to wake Mia up, but he wanted to see how her wound was. Hence, he tiptoed and gently lifted the blanket. He first saw the thick gauze wrapped around his arm. A little blood seeped out. Noah's heart ached. He did not know how much pain Mia felt. Noah could not help but gently touch Mia's wound.

The wound was still hurting. Mia struggled slightly.

The button on her collar popped open, revealing the Noah family tattoo on Mia's collarbone. It was a delicate moon. This was a match for the sun on his body. Noah's possessiveness rose instantly, and he couldn't resist the urge to lean in and kiss her. This was his woman, the woman who'd been marked by Noah's family, Noah thought.

However, Noah restrained himself in the end. He was afraid that he would wake Mia up, so he only kissed Mia's collarbone lightly before covering Mia with the blanket again. He caressed Mia's forehead before getting up to leave.

Mia was injured this time and stayed at home for a few days. During this time, she was worried about her grandfather's condition and called her grandmother several times. Both parties hid their situation from each other. Mia was afraid that Noah's grandfather would be worried, so she never said that she was injured. Similarly, Noah's grandmother and Noah were afraid that Mia would be worried, so they didn't let Mia know about Noah's grandfather's emergency rescue.

Hence, Mia stayed at home for a few days and avoided Noah.

The words she'd heard the other day when she'd gone to the hospital, and the fact that Noah hadn't shown up all night, made Mia realize once again where she was in Noah's heart. It also strengthened her resolve to get a divorce.

Hence, for the next few days at home, Noah went back to his room after work. Mia would come out after Noah went to work.

Noah was really helpless about this situation. He wanted to express concern about Mia, but he could not even enter the room. He also did not dare to tell his grandfather, so he could only seek help from his good friend.

The friend Noah had found this time was a little more reliable. He gave Noah a lot of advice and finally got Noah to choose a gift for Mia. After so long in their marriage, it did seem like Noah had never given Mia anything before. So Noah took his friend's advice and bought a gift for Mia.

Hence, Noah specially postponed the afternoon meeting and went home early after choosing a gift. When he pushed open the door, he saw Mia clumsily pouring water with one hand.

Mia turned at the sound of the door opening, only to find Noah back. She didn't expect Noah to be back so early today. Mia froze for a moment, then picked up the glass of water with one hand and prepared to head upstairs.

When she passed by Noah, she was pulled back by Noah. Mia did not understand and looked up at Noah.

She saw Noah take something out and pass it to her.

It was a beautifully wrapped box. Mia, not wanting to take it, hesitated.

After waiting for a long time, Mia did not reach out to take it. Noah opened the box and passed it to Mia.

It was a beautifully packaged watch. Mia had seen it before when she was shopping in the mall. At that time, she liked it very much and even tried it on. However, when she saw the string of zeros behind the price tag, she couldn't count how many there were before she was dissuaded.

Mia didn't understand why Noah was giving her such an expensive watch now, so she asked blankly, "This is... divorce compensation?"

Hearing Mia's words made Noah angry, so he pulled a long face. "What divorce? No."

Mia was stunned. "Didn't we already agree? Plus you don't like me."

"Agreed my ass." Noah's expression darkened, and he decided to keep listening to his friend.

His friend said that when a couple quarreled, there was no overnight grudge. When they quarreled, they would reconcile soon. If there was no other choice, he could just find a romantic place to book a room.

Noah thought about it carefully later on. It was a little crude, but the logic was this. In the past, after Mia and him had sex, she would be obedient and sweet. She would lie in his arms and cling to him.

Besides, the two of them had not done it for a long time, and he had been abstinent for a long time. Previously, when he was overseas, he had a perfect plan, but in the end, he did not get to. Now, he could try it out..

Chapter 28: Making Out

Noah thought that he and Mia had not been close for too long. A man full of vigor was together with his beautiful wife. He had been abstinent for so long. If word got out, he would probably be mocked.

At the thought of this, Noah did not hesitate anymore. While Mia was looking down at her watch, he decisively reached out and carried Mia up the stairs. Mia's arm was still injured, so she could not use much strength even if she struggled. She could only be carried by Noah to the room.

When they went upstairs, Noah carefully placed Mia on the bed.

After Mia was placed on the bed, she instantly realized what Noah wanted to do. The two of them had been together for so many years, and Mia knew how Noah looked when he was seeking pleasure. Hence, she hugged her stomach in fear and started to retreat to the bed.

Even though it was almost three months now, Mia's pregnancy image wasn't very stable. When her arm had been injured a while ago, Leo had been telling her to stop the medication. She'd been hesitant the last few days because she was afraid that if she took any more pills, she'd hurt the baby in her stomach. But now, she was showing signs of pregnancy, and she was afraid that Noah would find out that her body had changed. Mia had been struggling with this for days.

When Noah suddenly attacked today, she thought of Noah's M.O in bed, Mia became nervous. Right now, Mia did not dare to let Noah get closer to her.

She could not hide her tummy anymore. If Noah lifted her clothes, he would definitely find out.

So Mia desperately started trying to avoid him. "No, Noah, don't—"

Mia's words and struggles were swallowed together.

Noah sucked on Mia's lips, and he was so gentle that Mia was intoxicated. From the time she met Noah to the time she married Noah, Mia had no experience in love. Hence, she was easily aroused by Noah's teasing.

Her rationality told her not to do this, but her body started to soften under Noah's initiatives.

The disparity between Mia and Noah's body was huge. A large area of smooth skin on Mia's collar started to show. There was also the tattoo that only belonged to Noah's family on her collarbone. When Noah saw the tattoo, his heart started to stir slightly. His possessiveness also started to explode instantly and his actions started to become rough.

Noah's rough actions woke Mia up. Mia felt terrible. Indeed, Noah's gentleness earlier was all a lie. She was so silly that she almost fell for it again.

Mia's sweet scent started to spread again. It was pure, sweet, and enticing to Noah. As he smelled this scent, Noah wanted to hold Mia in his mouth and savor her carefully before eating her.

So Noah began to kiss Mia's soft lips over and over again while ignoring Mia's resistance, especially the large patch of bare skin under her collarbone. It also became a place where Noah wanted to leave a little mark. Noah's lips began to move, first kissing the tattoo where they corresponded, then moving down to her chest while kissing her gently, bit by bit.

His hand also started to behave inappropriately as he slowly reached into Mia's clothes. He first touched her two soft breasts on top. It felt unbelievably good to the touch. They were soft and smooth. Noah felt extremely comfortable, and his heart also started to soften. Hence, his hand's movements became gentler and less rough because he was afraid that he would hurt Mia's delicate skin.

Just as he was about to take it another step forward, he heard Mia's shrill scream. "Don't touch me!"

Noah's excitement seemed to have been splashed with a bucket of cold water. He stopped what he was doing and looked up at Mia.

Mia looked at him with her teary eyes. She looked desperate and helpless, like a pitiful creature that had been bullied.

Noah's heart started to turn cold after being hurt by Mia's gaze. It turned out that Mia actually hated his touch that much. It turned out that he was the only one who had been emotionally invested in her. Noah instantly felt that he was being ridiculous, especially after seeing Mia's resistant and pained expression. He slowly opened his mouth and asked, "Do you hate me touching you that much?"

Mia didn't pay attention to Noah's expression, nor did she notice what Noah was saying. Only when she saw Noah stop what he was doing did Mia relax a little. She quickly crawled away from Noah's body and buttoned her shirt.

Noah's throat constricted at the sight of Mia not saying a word and just adjusting her shirt. He clenched his fists while wanting to say something more, but Mia's refusal was already so obvious, and Noah's pride didn't allow him to do so. So Noah got out of bed, and his voice was cold and husky as he said, "As you wish. I won't touch you again."

Just as he finished speaking, Noah turned around and left. The door closed with a bang..