

CEO's Lovely Wife Has Escaped by Anuo

Chapter 31: Jenny's Words

The superstar, who was sought after by countless people every day, did not expect to be rejected by Noah.

For a moment, she wanted to get angry, but when she thought of her purpose, she restrained herself. She smiled slightly and put on her best posture. Then, she looked at Noah. "Aren't you going to invite me in to sit? The weather is quite cold."

Noah raised his hand to look at his watch and raised his eyebrows. "Don't you still have to go to the studio? From what I know, photographer Li hates it when people throw their weight around."

"..." Jenny had seen too many big scenes, so she could still handle this small matter with an excuse. Thus, she went with the flow and said, "I just received a notice that there was a malfunction today, so I can't start filming for the time being."

Noah could only respond nonchalantly. After all, she was the spokesperson for his company. He could only let Jenny in.

A sly look of triumph flashed across Jenny's eyes before she walked into Noah and Mia's house with a proper smile.

After entering, she looked around. "Is Madam Mia not at home?"

Noah was fretting about himself and Mia. When he heard Jenny mention it, he felt that it was really a sore spot.

It didn't seem right for a married man to be with a single woman, especially when his own wife was still throwing a tantrum at him. So Noah set her gift down on the table and, without even pouring a glass of water, prepared to ignore his guest and head upstairs, so Jenny would leave.

Jenny was very confident in herself. Before she came, she had specially sprayed the alluring male slayer perfume. It was a new product that had just been released on the market. Jenny had specially found someone to obtain this perfume for today. However, she did not expect Noah to have no reaction. Instantly, Jenny suspected that she had bought a fake.

Jenny held back her anger at being ignored and looked at Noah, who wanted to go upstairs. She used her charm again and called Noah. "Oh right, CEO Noah, I heard someone say a few words during the shoot a few days ago. Have you and Madam Mia been having conflict recently?"

Jenny tilted her head and revealed what she thought was the best smile. Then, she said gently, "Women know women best. If you have any troubles, you can tell me. Perhaps I can help you."

Noah, who was about to go upstairs, paused. Actually, he was a little annoyed with this female celebrity.

The reason why he had asked Jenny to be his spokesperson a while ago was because the previous spokesperson had a scandal. Many people were unwilling to accept a temporary spokesperson change. Only Jenny had asked for a reasonable price and barely fit the image, so he had signed this endorsement contract.

At that time, the two of them knew each other because they saw the drunk Jenny at a drinking party.

At that time, he suddenly felt compassionate and sent the drunk Jenny home. Then, the paparazzi took photos of her. If it weren't for that, Mia wouldn't have misunderstood him until now, and there wouldn't have been so much trouble afterward.

Just thinking about it made him extremely frustrated.

Now, his relationship with Mia was getting worse and worse, the point was that he didn't know why. So the invisible distance between him and Mia irritated Noah.

After Noah got married, he did not have much contact with other women. Other than his business partners, Noah did not care about other women. Therefore, after encountering a problem, he really did not know what women were thinking. If Jenny could provide any help, it would indeed be good. After thinking for a while, Noah sat down.

Seeing Noah's actions, Jenny knew that her words had worked, so she stood up and poured herself a glass of water. Then, after saying a few words of nonsense slowly, she suddenly remembered something and acted like she was hesitant. "I... I don't know if I should say this to you."

Noah's eyelids twitched. His intuition told him that this was definitely not a good thing.

Noah didn't really want to hear it, so he stood up and said, "If you came just to tell me something that I don't care about, you can leave now."

Seeing Noah's expression, Jenny felt that she could not keep him in suspense anymore. Otherwise, she might be chased out by Noah. Hence, she stopped hesitating.

"This matter is related to your wife. That's why I said I don't know if I should say it. Please don't take my words to heart."

When Noah heard the word Mia, his footsteps involuntarily stopped.

"It's just that I wasn't feeling very well a few days ago. I went to the hospital your grandfather was in to see a doctor. The hospital is very private. That's why I went there." Jenny paused and pretended to observe Noah's expression.

Noah said nothing.

Jenny went on, "I met your wife in the garden when I left the hospital after seeing her illness. She seemed to be hugging a man at the time. They were very close.. I didn't get close enough to look, but I vaguely saw that the person was..."

Chapter 32: Jenny's' Medicine '

It seemed to be... who?

Jenny was halfway through her sentence, as if she'd deliberately left Noah to guess.

Noah's expression suddenly darkened, and his face was expressionless and his tone was cold. "Jenny, what do you want?"

Jenny froze, but before she could say anything,

Noah narrowed his eyes and said coldly, "Are you trying to sow discord between Mia and me? Who gave you the guts to spread rumors?"

Instantly, Jenny felt the atmosphere around her change.

Noah's oppressive aura started to press down on Jenny. Jenny felt nervous. Under Noah's strong aura, Jenny's expression started to change. Could it be that her information had been transmitted wrongly? Actually, Noah had a very good relationship with his wife, and it was not like what the rumors, Jenny looked at Noah's expression and thought anxiously.

Then she would have to change her strategy quickly, Jenny thought. She was about to explain to Noah when she tilted her head and saw Noah's clenched hands by his side.

Jenny reacted quickly. So that was it. Noah was trying to act tough. He was trying to hide his nervousness. "I knew it. How could any man hear that his wife might have been taken to a private rendezvous by someone else and look like he didn't care?" Jenny was pleased with herself, but she couldn't let Noah know, so she had to keep up the pretense.

Jenny thought for a moment, then stood up slightly and revealed a harmless smile. "I'm sorry, CEO Noah. Perhaps I didn't consider it carefully. I really didn't mean anything else. Madam Mia is definitely not such a person. At that time... I was probably mistaken." Jenny deliberately paused.

After she finished speaking, Jenny saw that Noah still had no reaction and knew that she could not push him too hard. Anyway, she had already achieved her goal for today. Regardless of whether Noah believed her or not, this seed had already been planted. As for the "medicine"...she would do it again and again.

Then, Jenny stood up and bade Noah goodbye.

Noah sent Jenny to the door and came back nonchalantly.

After entering the living room, Noah began to think about how when he saw Jenny coming to the house today, he was worried that Mia might come downstairs and see her. That would make it even harder for him to explain himself. But he didn't expect Mia to not come down at all.

Did she not want to see him that badly? Noah thought.

Noah did not really believe in what Jenny had just said, but after seeing Mia's attitude and their recent communication, Mia was avoiding him even when he was seeking pleasure. Was there really someone else, so she wanted to divorce him?

The more Noah thought about it, the angrier he felt about being betrayed. Right now, he wanted to go upstairs and ask Mia about the situation. Thinking about this, Noah did as he was told.

He quickly walked upstairs and pushed open the door to the guest room. Surprisingly, the door was not locked today. Noah pushed it open immediately and was rather surprised.

When they entered the room, the lights were dim and the curtains were tightly drawn.

Noah saw Mia sleeping on the bed as he walked in. The blanket covered her chest slightly, and her long curly hair was scattered on the bed. Her small and delicate face was red, especially her eyes, which were slightly swollen from crying earlier. She looked even more delicate, and it reminded Noah of Mia crying in the hospital today. She was so helpless and weak.

Noah knew how important his grandfather was to Mia. Back then, the excuse that he used when he didn't agree to move out when Mia brought up the divorce was his grandfather. But now, his grandfather's situation was getting worse and worse. He didn't know how much longer he could last. Thinking of this, Noah couldn't help but reach out and touch Mia's cheeks and forehead.

Noah wanted to pinch Mia's earlobe again, but Mia woke up with a start.

Mia did not expect to see Noah the moment she opened her eyes. She subconsciously hid under the blanket in a hurry and wanted to cover her stomach. After all, her clothes were thin now.

However, just as she hid under the blanket, Mia regretted it again. Why did she want to hide under the blanket? If Noah wanted to lift up her blanket, it would be useless no matter where she hid. Furthermore, Noah's expression did not look too good now. Her actions seemed to have agitated Noah, Mia realized.

Seeing Mia's avoidance made Noah angry all of a sudden. Jenny's words from earlier were still ringing in his ears. Now that he saw Mia's actions, Noah immediately thought of that man. "How dare he hug his woman? He was really too big for his britches," Noah thought sinisterly.

Then, his hands did not stop moving. With a swoosh, Noah reached out and pulled away the blanket on Mia's body. Then, he said slowly and coldly, "Are you avoiding me again?"

When Mia saw Noah like this, her body instinctively sensed danger and began to tremble as she hurriedly explained, "No, I didn't try to avoid you."

Liar!

She was simply avoiding him!

But...

Mia's actions exposed her inner thoughts. She was afraid of him.

"Are you afraid of me?" Noah asked quietly.

Mia's eyelids twitched. She was afraid that she would say something wrong from saying too much, so she didn't refute anymore.

Noah stood by Mia's bed and looked at her silent appearance while feeling even more unhappy.

So Noah suddenly leaned forward, and under Mia's horrified gaze, he braced one arm on the mattress, instantly closing the distance between them..
