Chapter 471: Actions and Consequences

"When I agreed to marry Nyara, Ria was obviously against it. She begged me not to marry anyone, but I had no other choice. She then threatened to kill herself if I married her. But I promised her that I would never have an intimate relationship with Nyara.

And I broke that promise after a few months. I couldn't face Ria; I couldn't look her in the eyes. We still had our incestuous relationship ongoing, but after starting an intimate relationship with Nyara, I couldn't do it with Ria.

I was burdened with guilt and regret. I was afraid Ria would learn about it, so I kept it a secret; I didn't want her to commit suicide. But one day, when we all were having a family dinner, Nyara suddenly announced her pregnancy.

She hadn't told me because she wanted to surprise me, and I was surprised, just in a different way than she had thought. The look on Ria's face at that time killed me from inside.

She acted normally during dinner, but she left early. I chased after her as I knew what she was going to do. But I explained to her. I told her I loved Nyara, and I also asked her to stop our incestuous relationship with her.

Surprisingly, she agreed. She said she loved me and didn't want to see me sad. I was filled with even more regret and spent the rest of my days in guilt.

Then one day, Ria told me that she was getting married to a businessman a few days later. My heart sank after hearing that. At that time, I realized how Ria must have felt when I agreed to marry Nyara.

I wanted to stop Ria's marriage, but I had no right to do that. Even if I had asked her to stop, she would have just replied to me with a taunt. Eventually, the wedding day arrived, and everything worked out well.

I couldn't sleep a wink on that wedding night. My brain kept showing me scenes of Ria having sex with her husband. That night, I had another mental breakdown.

Nyara was close to her delivery date, so she used to sleep with my mother, and the maids looked after her. While I was in another room. I cried and cried. I wanted to get in the car and bring Ria back, but my body couldn't move. I couldn't think of anything.

The following day, my phone rang, and it was Ria. I didn't want to pick it up as I knew what she was going to tell me; I was afraid that she would tell me about her sex session with her husband.

But before I knew it, I had answered her call. We talked normally for a while until she started mentioning her night with her husband. It turned out he didn't even touch her. He had only married her to expand his business using our money.

I was relieved. I asked her to meet me at a place, and when we met later that day, we had sex. We had a lot of sex. That was probably the best sex of my life. And ever since that day, my relationship with Ria continued."

Rusher showed various emotions in his voice and expressions on his face while telling his story. Rudy could feel how it had changed Rusher's life completely.

'Well... this didn't help me a single bit because my case is entirely different here. My mother is not a sadist, nor such a thing would ever happen,' Rudy uttered inwardly.

Rusher smiled slightly and calmly said, "Thank you, Rudy. I felt good after letting this out. I feel like a huge burden has been lifted from my shoulder."

"No, thank you. It must have taken a lot of courage to reveal everything. But I am sure you will be much better once you confess this to your family too."

"I plan to. I will call Ria in the morning and ask her to come to the estate. And I will tell everything to everyone. I am ready for the consequences. I am ready... to take responsibility for my actions. Thank you, Rudy. Really, I mean it."

"Your welcome, father-in-law," Rudy chuckled softly. "Now, you have all my respect."

"I am glad."

A few minutes later, Rudy suddenly said, "They say, 'Learn from your mistakes and never repeat them.' But here I am, learning from your mistakes."

"Don't misunderstand, Rudy. I never thought my relationship with Ria was a mistake," Rusher stated calmly.

"But you said you regretted it. And as long as I am aware, one only regrets their mistakes."

"Yes, I did, and I still do. But I was talking about my actions and choices that led me to regret everything. Had I been more honest and loyal, I could have avoided many things."

"That's true. But hey, I am glad you had committed incest with your sister. Otherwise, Maria wouldn't have been born, and... you know what I am talking about," Rudy chuckled.

"Yeah. It makes me wonder if this was God's doing. I was completely changed after we were sent overseas. Had I stayed here, I am sure I would be long dead by now."

Rudy lowered his gaze from the sky and looked at the far ground.

"Your sister changed, you changed, your father changed... Everyone changed. One choice can change someone's life, so sometimes I wonder about different decisions. Regardless, you never know the outcome, but at least you won't regret choosing one over another.

And as for you thinking that it was God's doing, it could be a demon's doing too. Incest is forbidden everywhere, so why would you even think that? It's funny how someone blames someone if the outcome turned out bad, but if it turned out good, they would come to take credit for it.

My actions surely have many consequences, but I am always ready to take responsibility, whether it be blame or credit. But... I don't think I would be saying the same thing if I didn't have powers. What I am trying to say here is that you do something because you have that opportunity. If you didn't, you would be yearning for it."

Rudy uttered with a distant smile on his face, seemingly wondering and pondering about how much his life has and will change in the future.

Chapter 472: Not a Quick Stop

DING!

Rusher's phone rang as he received a notification.

He read it and said, "Oh."

"..."

"The VVIP Underworld Tournament is postponed to next week because of some 'uncontrollable circumstances'," Rusher informed Rudy.

'Why do I feel like that 'Uncontrollable circumstances' is me?' Rudy uttered inwardly.

"So I will be meeting you next week then."

"That reminds me..." Rusher made a turn on the street as they left the private road and entered the city road.

"Hmm?"

"About your marriage with Maria. Are you serious about it?" Rusher asked in a solemn voice.

"Of course I am. I love her."

"Then, when do you want to marry her? You must tell us in advance so we can prepare for the wedding."

"I am honestly ready at any time. But I am sure your family will be having some issues after you tell them everything, and it will take time for everyone to accept and resolve things."

Rudy moved his hand out of the window to catch the berries from the nearby tree using telekinesis. He tasted one and continued:

"But... the most I can give you is a week. After that, whether you are ready for it or not, I will take Maria with me and marry her."

"What about Ruby, though? She kissed you in front of everyone even though I know she did to make Maria jealous; they have always been teasing each other like that."

"She didn't kiss me. I let her kiss me. Ain't no way someone can touch me without my permission, let alone kiss me," Rudy retorted. "And I am not sure about marrying her. You will have to ask her yourself. But Maria is no longer against it."

"Is that what she whispered to you before leaving?" Rudy asked curiously.

"Something like that, yes."

That was half truth. Maria had whispered, 'I will talk about Ruby later, and you have got some questions to answer, mister daddy of Lilim.'

"You know, my wife has always been a liberal mother and a wife. She also treated Maria like her own child since Ruby and Maria are of the same age. However, I can't fathom how she would react when I tell her about Ria," he muttered with a sigh and did not try to think more.

"You are mentally unstable, father-in-law. You have had several mental breakdowns, and you now seem to get them frequently, even under mild pressure.

I myself have witnessed you having mental breakdowns three times. The first time was when your father shot me, and you didn't know what to do. The second time was when I threatened you, and the third time was when you were trapped in that ball."

Rusher raised his brows and commented, "There is something definitely wrong with your definition of 'mild'."

Rudy ignored Rusher's remark and continued, "Following that, Ria has a bit of a melancholic personality. And Maria is a mixture of you both, being mentally unstable and a minute inferiority complex."

"She has been smiling a lot and acting lively ever since she met you."

"That's right. Praise me more. I don't get enough praise for my hard work."

Rusher suddenly furrowed his brows and asked, "By the way, when you asked me to drop you off, and I asked Lilim to do that, she called you 'daddy'. What was that about?"

'I saw this coming from miles away, but Rusher never asked this. I thought maybe he didn't hear it or just forgot about it, but this bastard was waiting for a perfect time to ask me this!'

"She calls me that for some reason."

"Correct me if I am wrong, but you wouldn't happen to lay your hands on her, right?" Rusher asked with a judging look on his face.

"No. She laid herself on me," Rudy started with a straight face.

"I knew it! I knew something was going on between you two when Lu Bela kept mentioning Lilim's name with Maria."

"You are overreacting a little. I mean, didn't you change to a new girl every day when you were my age?" Rudy remarked. "I am better than that. I don't throw them away like you did, and I have promised to take care of them. And before you ask, yes, Maria knows about it."

Rusher fixed the rearview mirror while saying, "I don't know what to say when you bring that up."

Half an hour later, Rusher stopped the car in front of his casino and said, "Do you mind if I stop here for a while? I need to check the daily reports as they have been pending for a week."

"How long will it take?"

"I can't say the exact time, but it will take more than thirty minutes, minimum. But if you want, I can drop you at your place and return here."

'Lilim said she needed to take a bath, so i will have some free time.' Rudy looked up at the sky to check the time and said, "It's barely 3 AM right now. I am not in a hurry. You can do your work, I will rest in the car."

"Oh, you can come inside if you want. My office has a bed, an air conditioner, a refrigerator, a television, a full-speed Wi-Fi connection, and I can get your food too," Rusher suggested excitedly.

"Nah, I am good."

"Are you sure? Because I don't want my son-in-law to feel uncomfortable, even for a second."

"Well, I am feeling pretty uncomfortable right now after hearing you calling me your son-in-law," Rudy remarked.

"You can come in if you are bored here." After saying that, Rusher rushed towards the casino.

SIGH!

Rudy used the windows tight and uttered, "You can come out now, Angelica."

Angelica came out of Rudy's body and said, "You two talked too much!"

"We were having a nice conversation, come on. And besides, the same amount of time would have passed even if we weren't talking."

"..."

"So? Are you going to do something or just stare at me like that?" Rudy grinned.

Angelica unzipped Rudy's pants and began sucking him off.

Later that night, a tragedy occurred, and many lives were lost because of Rudy's actions

Chapter 473: Night of the Tragedy

Angelica was eating Rudy's snake with a delightful expression on her face, eagerly waiting for the milk shot.

"Should I message Rusher and say I will go home alone?" Rudy asked Angelica. "We can just teleport and continue this somewhere else. A car isn't the best choice to have fun."

"But you are meeting with Lilim later, and we won't get time to have fun later."

"You are right." Rudy took out his phone and mumbled, "I should let Lilim know that we are at the casino. She asked me to message her when we get to the city."

Rudy messaged Lilim and asked her to leave the underworld after an hour.

"I am going to shoot the load!"

Angelica drank Rudy's milk and licked her lips after kissing the tip of his snake.

"Ahh~ It's been so long since I last got to drink it. I missed this flavor so much~"

"Is that so? Then who was the one sucking me off in the morning when I woke up and then didn't stop until I gave her a load?" Rudy asked with a judging look on his face.

"It's been ages since we last had sex."

"We did it in the school's washroom just today!"

"I miss the time we used to cuddle each other. Now it's all about sex for you," she said with a gloomy face.

"We cuddled and had sex in the bathroom before we left for the underworld!" Rudy gently smacked Angelica on the head and asked, "What's with you?"

Angelica sat on Rudy's lap, facing face to face, and said, "Let me act like a harem member who was forgotten after you got new girls."

"I can't forget you even if I want to. Every morning, I woke up with you giving me the most amazing blowjob in the world. Then the first sex of the day in the bathroom, and break sex in the school's washroom."

Rudy pointed his snake at Angelica's cave and pulled her close as his snake automatically made its way into the cave.

Angelica brought her face close to Rudy's ear and whispered, "Can you be rough today?"

"If I get rough, the car will break down, but that's not the main issue as I can just restore it the next second. The problem is that the car will shake if I am even a little rough, and it will catch people's attention.

And they will come to check it out, and they will see us, and that would be embarrassing as they wouldn't be watching us have sex; they would see me humping my hips in the car."

Rudy and Angelica enjoyed the slow humping, but Rudy got slightly rougher as he got close to shooting his load inside Angelica's cave.

But suddenly, his ears twitched as his head automatically moved towards the direction of the casino.

"What's wrong?" Angelica asked after Rudy stopped moving his hips.

"I just heard a gunshot."

"I didn't hear anything. Are you sure you heard it right? Because a gunshot is pretty loud, and I don't think I would miss that if I—"

"No, it was a silenced shot. Obviously, they are using a silencer, so they don't catch attention."

"Do you want me to go and check it out real quick? I am a ghost, so they won't see me, and if there is truly something wrong—"

"Get inside me." Rudy's eyes shined in rainbow color as he spoke, "This might be more serious than I thought."

Angelica went inside Rudy and said, 'I know I don't have to say this, but be careful.'

Rudy got out of the car and stealthily made his way to the casino.

"I am worried about Rusher, not me. There are 41 people inside, and one of them is on the ground; that's probably Rusher."

'How can you be so sure? Your new vision abilities don't let you see in colored vision, right?'

"Well... everyone has a gun, but the guy on the floor doesn't."

Rudy jammed all the incoming and outgoing signals from the casino before entering inside. He could have simply teleported inside as he had been there a couple of times. However, there were chances that they would shoot Rusher upon seeing Rudy.

Rudy already knew the spot where the attackers were standing, so it was easy for him to get rid of them. He wanted to avoid being seen as if they alerted the others in Rusher's office, they would start shooting.

'The guards are already killed by them, and a few people who were present in the casino are dead as well. The dealers and that man on the counter are also dead. All the staff is dead. Seeing the temperature of their bodies, they were killed a few hours ago.

Now that I am inside and the radius of my vision is much smaller, I can identify their genders, age, and everything else. Rusher is in his office as I expected, and there are 16 men with him, aiming their guns at him.

Rusher has already been shot once, so if I don't get there sooner, he will die!

Even though Rudy planned to keep himself stealthy, he severed the heads of everyone in the casino without even moving his fingers— except the ones in Rusher's office.

He slowly made his way to Rusher's office and opened the door with a kick.

"You are—!"

The next moment, Rudy exploded all of their heads like a watermelon. Their blood rained in the room as it spread on the ceiling, floor, and walls, but not a single drop fell on Rudy.

Rudy looked at Rusher, who was lying on the ground, and asked, "Are you okay?"

"Yeah."

"Where did you get shot? Show me."

"Oh... actually..." Rusher unbuttoned his shirt and showed his bulletproof jacket to Rudy.

SIGH!

"I acted like I really got shot, so the attackers reveal their motive, and then I would have taken them by surprise and—"

"There were forty of them. No matter how skilled or trained you are, you can't single-handedly defeat them all."

"You just exploded the heads of 16 men like it was nothing."

"I am me, and you are you."

This was a tragedy for Rusher's enemies, and they all lost their lives because of Rudy's actions.

Chapter 474: Long Night Events

"Anyway, how did you not notice the dead bodies of the staff outside?" Rudy asked with a little annoyed look on his face, seemingly angry at Rusher's carelessness.

"It was dark. All the lights were off, so I assumed they had closed the casino as we didn't have many customers during the tournament week. And I did try to turn on the lights, but it didn't turn on," Rusher responded in an awkward manner.

"You are hopeless, father-in-law," Rudy sighed.

"I think they were here with the motive of stealing everything. They must have assumed I was at the tournament and grabbed the chance to—"

"You are wrong," Rudy interjected. "It's the opposite."

"What do you mean?"

"You weren't at the tournament today, so they would have thought you were here in the casino, alone, with no protection and customers around." Rudy furrowed his brows and continued, "They were here to kill you."

"Wow... I did not think of that."

"Seriously, I am curious how you managed to run a syndicate for all these years... uh... right." Rudy facepalmed himself and muttered, "You didn't do shit except use up all the money in their protection. It's good that there wasn't a war or something, or you would be long dead."

"Usually, the security here is tight too, but everyone has gone to the tournament to try out their luck and make some money in the underworld gambling matches that happen between the other parties."

"Yeah. But think about it, if you had dropped me off first and then came here, there are high chances that you would already be dead. Or... if I hadn't asked you to drop me off." Rudy shrugged. "I am sure you were planning to come here anyway, right?"

"Yeah, I was going to come here in the morning, but I don't think they would have changed things."

Rudy clenched his teeth and muttered, "You should get yourself a bodyguard too."

"I really should..."

Rudy took out his phone and said, "I will ask Lu Bela for one. And they are artificial humans who can't die, so you will never have to worry about a thing."

Rudy told everything to Lu Bela via a text message and asked her to send some Under Blades to Rusher's casino.

"I did the work for you. The Under Blades will take care of these bodies and find out who was behind this attack. I don't think a strong or a big syndicate would try to kill you, because if they wanted, they would have just launched a missile at your estate.

Probably an organization or small gangs were behind this." Rudy turned to Rusher and asked, "Are you planning on staying here?"

"Yeah, I got work to do."

"So work is more important to you?"

"This place is a casino, but it's also the headquarters of the Ross Syndicate outside the Underworld. We plan and run our missions here, and that's what I meant when I said they were here to 'steal'.

There are important documents and missions, undercover agents, and gangs spread across this city. Their name, address, family... Everything would have been exposed if they had gotten their hands on it. So yeah, it is as valuable as my life for me. Because the others' lives would be in danger as well."

Rudy stayed there with Rusher until the Under Blades arrived. After that, he bid farewell to everyone and teleported to the park near his house.

He had also asked Lilim to leave, so he was now waiting for an update from her.

'Rudy, is it a bad time to ask you to finish what we were doing in the car?' Angelica asked hesitantly.

"Obviously not. Come out, I was so close to cumming, and you were too. Let's have some fun until Lilim arrives."

After that, Rudy 'played' with Angelica in the park for half an hour until he received a message from Lilim.

Angelica was satisfied with a few loads, so she went inside Rudy and fell asleep.

In this life, Rudy had never been to the forest near his house after he got his powers, so he first teleported near his house and flew to the forest. He looked at the lonely lake that was filled with waste and junk and muttered:

"This lake eventually dried out completely, and it was later filled with sand to use as land to make more houses. I can buy this land and make a big house here so all my harem members can live, but this land belongs to the government, so I will have to talk it out with them sometime."

Rudy landed in the forest and glanced around to look for Lilim.

"Lilim?"

He used his vision abilities to find Lilim, but Lilim called out to him before he could do that.

"Daddy."

"I am here," Rudy responded.

Lilim made her way to Rudy's voice and smiled at him after finding him.

"You could have just met me in the sky or something."

Without responding, Lilim rushed to Rudy and hugged him tightly.

"Daddy~!"

"Hey..." For some reason, Rudy felt a little emotional meeting Lilim like that.

'Why did she choose this place of all?'

"I know this is too direct, but can we get to the main deed?" Lilim asked in a muffled voice.

"Sure. We can have a nice chat while doing it."

Lilim dropped to her knees, pulled Rudy's pants, and bit his snake in a playful manner. She sniffed it and muttered, "It smells fresh."

"Yeah. It was working 'hard' mining a cave while I was waiting for you."

And thus started Rudy and Lilim's long night in a forest.

Meanwhile, Lu Bela was checking the reports of the Underworld Tournaments as the head of the UBC.

She was repeatedly glancing at her phone in anticipation of Rudy's message, but Rudy was busy doing something else.

Kim, who was sitting on the couch in the same room, said, "Why don't you message him if you want to talk to him."

"I don't want to talk to anyone. I was waiting for his message about the gold biscuit he gave me. I don't understand why he gave me this..." she muttered while looking at the biscuit.

Rudy had written— $6+9=?$

"The answer is fifteen. Why would he give me such a simple thing to solve?" Lu Bela wondered.

"Again, why don't you message him and ask him yourself?"

Chapter 475: Returning to the Vampire World

Days passed, and it was finally the night of the full moon. Rudy was ready to rock and bang into the vampire world, but it still wasn't the promised time.

Rudy was waiting for the stars to get aligned in the way they were when Jane opened the portal.

"Come on... only a few minutes, and I will get to meet them again..." Rudy was excited as a kid waiting to open his birthday or Christmas gifts.

Angelica was inside Rudy, and she was pulling an all-nighter as she also wanted to meet the vampire gang again.

"Make sure to pass through the portal this time, so you don't get stuck in my body like the last time," Rudy said to her.

'The portal stays open for an hour, so even if I am stuck in your body, it's not a big deal,' Angelica responded instantly. It was almost as though she already had her response prepared in case Rudy told her that.

'Wait, you will be back in an hour, right?' Angelica asked curiously.

"Well... yeah. I just have to get them, grab them, and come here. Why would I stay there?"

"Who knows? Something might happen which forces you to stay there like the last time."

"Don't jinx like that."

Finally, the stars aligned the way they were supposed to, and Rudy patiently waited for the portal to open from the other side. He waited for a minute, two minutes, three minutes... and just like that, five minutes had passed, but the portal didn't open.

'Why don't you open the portal instead of waiting for them?' Angelica suggested. "And why are you moving your hands like that in the air?"

"That's what I am doing. I am copying what Jane did to open the portal. But she had muttered something before doing that, which I am trying to repeat."

'Is that so...'

"You were sleeping when this all happened, so you don't know. But I wonder why they didn't open the portal. Perhaps, the stars aren't aligned yet in the vampire world?"

I can use molecular teleportation, but it will take too long. And even if I can go there, I can't bring them to the human world without the portal. Oh well, I will use my 'find my prey' ability and see what they are up to."

Meanwhile, in the vampire world.

"Are you sure?" a male voice asked.

"Yeah, my spies are always correct."

"They also said the same thing."

"So what should we do now?"

"Are we really going to do this?"

"We have to. This is the best chance we will have."

"But shouldn't we make backup plans in case we fail?"

"No! We won't fail! We have been planning this ever since we killed the incarnation of the last Lord! It has been so many years, and all we have since then is planning, planning, and planning!"

A secret meeting was arranged by the small and big kings in the vampire world. It was at the Rendezvous point where the throne of the Lord was located.

All the vampires from the other kingdoms and the Monarchs of the three continents were planning a full-on attack on the Orion Heart kingdom.

"But we have to think of that!" one of them yelled.

"We are going to fight the three strongest vampires of this world. The cursed child— Jane, possesses unfathomable power for her age. Even though she is not a full vampire. She has the curse of the blue moon, which makes her so strong!"

"What about Virgil?! No one knows his true powers! Whoever dared to challenge him never returned! Are we really going to war against him?!"

"We have hundreds of thousands of troops with us. Even if he is the strongest, he can't possibly win against that many of them. And besides..."

Luis— the king of the Alucard kingdom, was amongst them, conjured a glowing object in his hand, and said, "We have an ace card with us."

"What is that thing?"

"A century ago, I kidnapped a family of an elder dwarf who came to the vampire world from their world. They wanted to taste the Blood moon fruit, so I asked them to make me a device that could seal and contain any and all the powers of a person.

Those foolish midgets believed in me and got to work immediately; they thought I would give them the blood moon fruit. They made several devices, but all of them failed to contain the power for a long time.

They said it was impossible to create such a device, so I locked his wife and daughter and threw him in the cave. I ordered him to make me that device, and I would let his family go.

He agreed like an idiot.!" Luis scoffed out loud. "While he was working hard using his blood and sweat, I was having fun with his wife and daughters. Even as dwarfs, their bodies were surprisingly good.

But I got bored of them after a few years and gave them to the guards, who played with them every night. However, one day the daughter tried to escape, and both his wife and daughter were killed in the process to stop them.

Of course, I didn't tell the elder dwarf about it. And he eventually managed to craft a device that could hold an immense amount of power and nullify every magic.

It took him 96 years to make it! Can you believe it?! And then he asked where his wife and daughter were, and I gave him their broken skeletons after they were eaten by my hounds. I don't know what happened to him afterward, but I let him go as I had no use of him."

"So are you saying that this device can make Virgil weak and we can kill him?" one of them asked curiously and excitedly.

"Forget about Virgil, who is the strongest being in the vampire world. This device can even be used on the Lord!"

"What?!" Everyone exclaimed in unison.

"That's right. We can even kill the Lord if we want to!"

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 476: Enemy of Lord

"We can even kill the Lord using this! We all know he is out there! And the Orion Heart kingdom is hiding him somewhere. Most likely, the incarnation has failed, so he is weak and can't do anything. Once we kill them all, we will get rid of the Lord too!" Luis announced loudly.

"What about that old hag Nyxia, though? Her powers are also very tricky, or so I have heard."

"She is currently not in the Orion Heart kingdom. That's why, we must attack them today! This device can only be used on one person, so it's either Nyxia or Virgil."

"That's a nice plan you have got there," a female voice uttered from the dark.

"Obviously. I am the oldest vampire here, and I have seen many—" Luis' face turned pale as he gulped down anxiously and asked, "Wait... who are you?"

"Arara~ Weren't you talking about me just now?"

The vampires used magic to brighten the room so they could see who it was— even though most of them had already recognized her from the voice.

It was none other than Nyxia.

"Eek! It's Nyxia! What do we do now?!" someone yelled.

"Nyxia..." Luis gritted his teeth and asked, "What are you doing here?"

"Why can't I be here? This place doesn't belong to you; it doesn't belong to anyone but the Lord," Nyxia responded nonchalantly even though she was surrounded by dozens of enemies.

"..."

"Moreover, you all should have chosen a different place to plan such a hideous act. Were you seriously planning to kill the Lord in the Lord's chamber?" she scoffed out loud. "Foolish insects."

"Shut up, you hag!" Luis yelled at the top of his lungs.

"You also planned to kill my son and my great-granddaughters, not to mention my darling too. It seems you don't care about your life. You are all going to be annihilated."

"I don't think so." Luis threw the magic device at Nyxia and trapped her in it.

Nyxia's magic and powers were sucked by the device as it changed its color. Then, shackles came out of it and chained Nyxia in a way that she couldn't even move her finger, let alone blink.

The device had stopped all the functions in Nyxia's body, so she couldn't cast or even regenerate her powers. Her current condition was weaker than a human on death's door.

"Do not think I have forgotten the humiliation I suffered because of you that day!" Luis shouted. "I was going to use it on Virgil, but oh well, getting rid of you first makes more sense."

"Yeah, Yeah!" the others seconded Luis.

"And what did you call us? Foolish insects? You are the one who is foolish! You came here in between your enemies who want to kill you! If you had kept your mouth shut, then maybe some of us here wouldn't have even known that you were here!

Yet, you went ahead and made your presence known. Most knowledgeable vampire, my ass! You are just an old hag who has somehow managed to survive all this time with the help of your forbidden magic!

I just told you how powerful this device was, and you got yourself trapped in it. You walked into the death trap on your own, you old hag!"

"What do we do with her now?" someone asked.

"Of course, we kill her," the others suggested.

"Wait a minute..."Luis glared at the other vampires and said, "Who asked you to say anything? I am the one who trapped her, so obviously, I will pass my judgment on her!"

"..."

Luis walked forward and stood in front of Nyxia. He looked down at her and said, "You know, Vlad the twelfth and I were good friends. He always did as I asked him to. He was an idiot who took my advice and trusted me blindly— and that's why I liked him.

I was going to kill him one day and become the king of the Orion Heart kingdom too. I would have been unstable in not only the vampire world but the others too. I would have been the monarch of the two biggest continents of this world.

I had already planned what and how I was going to expand my reach. First, I was going to attack the human world and kill every one of them. They are the impurities of this universe, and they must be annihilated.

They are the reason why everything happened! They should have been exterminated a long time ago! They don't deserve to live! Or that's what I had dreamed of doing!

But one day...."

Luis kicked Nyxia in the face and set her flying to the wall. Nyxia slammed onto the wall and dropped to the ground with a bloody look.

"You came into his life! You ruined everything!" Luis kept kicking Nyxia's face and body again and again as he yelled, "You ruined everything! But alas, I never gave up on my dream.

I first got him killed! Yes! It was my doing! I am the one who killed your husband! But that wasn't my plan. I wanted you dead... but he protected you and died instead! Still, at least he was out of the list.

And now! After I killed his son... your son— Virgil, the so-called vampire monarch, I will have my hands on Orion Heart kingdom. I will launch an attack on the human world and let all the vampires feed on them!

It will be a grand feast for them! Now..."

Luis conjured a glowing red sword in his hand and said, "Let me show you the wonders of the Alucard family, for we were once the strongest and will be the strongest soon."

He looked at his sword and licked it before saying, "Blood manipulation; specialty of the Alucard family. Once again, we will rise and rule over the weak! We will show them why vampires are the most deadly race of all!

Let's start with you first, Nyxia!"

Chapter 477: Waging War

Luis raised his sword and decapitated Nyxia's head from her body. Nyxia's body stayed still for a few seconds before losing its strength. And a few seconds later, her body slowly began to turn into ash.

"Ahahahaha!" Luis raised his sword once again and turned to everyone. "Luis Alucard will show everyone who is the strongest! Come now, my fellow kings and monarchs, we have a war to win!"

"Wait... this seems wrong for some reason. Nyxia was killed so easily..." one of the kings muttered.

"Hah?!" Luis turned to the king and shouted, "Are you saying that this device was just for the show?!"

"I am not. But this was too easy, don't you think?"

"So what if it was?"

"If we think about it..." someone else spoke. "You killed Nyxia in a cowardly way. You didn't fight her head to head. It was just like killing a baby who couldn't do anything."

Luis glared at them and said, "So what? What matters is that they are dead! And how many newborns do you think I have killed?! More than you can imagine! And don't act like you all are saints. You all killed newborns with me.

We were all in this together! We all were afraid that the new incarnation of the Lord would be born, and thus, the ones who were born on the night of supposed-incarnation night, we killed all of them and their families.

Except... from the Orion Heart Kingdom. And guess what happened? They have the Lord's incarnation. We should have waged war against them a long time ago! If we had, the cursed child wouldn't have been born. The Lord's incarnation wouldn't have survived! And we only would have had to worry about two thorns in our way— Nyxia and Virgil."

"Nyxia is dead now, though."

"Yeah! So now we only have to worry about Virgil and the cursed child. The Monarch of the right continent will attack the Orion Heart kingdom from the right with the kings and all their troops. The Monarch of the left will attack them from the left with all the kings of the kingdoms and use all of their forces.

And I... Luis Alucard, the rightful king of half of the vampire world... will go straight. I will challenge Virgil, so you don't have to worry about a single thing.

Listen, the Orion Heart kingdom doesn't have that many troops, and if they divide them into three parties, they will be even fewer. The cursed child might join the war from one side, and Virgil will join another. But who will defend the third side?

No one! We have already won this war, my brothers! All we have to do is kill everyone who stands in our path!"

"But how do you plan to kill Virgil? You already use that device on Nyxia."

"It doesn't matter. That device was made for Nyxia and Virgil. Even if I had used it on Virgil and killed him, we would still have to find Nyxia and kill her to avoid any possible hurdles in our way.

We just took care of Nyxia first. Nothing else had changed. And I already know how I will defeat Virgil; if he learns about his mother's death, he will surely be sad, and I will choose that moment to strike!

Sadly. I can't take Nyxia's head as a trophy to show him as it will turn into ash soon. But he will realize I am telling the truth once I show him my sword, which is stained by Nyxia's blood.

To be honest, I wanted to keep her alive and have some fun with her body, but it didn't matter. I am not stupid enough to take the risk of letting her live. And besides, I am sure she was just hiding the wrinkles of an old hag behind her charm ability.

However, whatever you do, do not kill the twin princess. They both are valuable assets to us. We can use them to use the Orion Heart kingdom citizen."

"Just admit that you want those girls in your collection," one of them commented.

"Well, you are not wrong. You can chop her hands and legs and make her limbless, but make sure to keep them both alive. If they die, you will be the next!" After a brief pause, Luis gritted his teeth in annoyance and muttered:

"I still haven't received any news from Vesier. Where is he?! If he was here, I would have gained some insider intel, which we all could have used. He wasn't there in the Blood Moon week, either. Did something happen to him?"

"Nah." Luis shook his head and mumbled, "Vesier is the smartest person I know. He is second after me. No one can defeat him. I mean... he was the one who killed Vlad the twelfth."

"Anyway! Let's go! Next time we meet, we will have our rule on the entire Vampire World!" Luis announced.

All of them left the Lord's chamber and marched towards the Orion Heart Kingdom.

Nyxia's body eventually turned into ash and vanished into thin air. Her hair on her also began to disintegrate into nothing.

Suddenly, a pair of hands appeared out of nowhere and grabbed Nyxia's head, eventually turning into ashes.

SNAP!

One of the two hands snapped its finger, and the Lord's Chamber changed. There was no blood on the floor, not even Nyxia's clothes.

"What a foolish lot of vampires..." Nyxia uttered as she walked out from the shadow.

"Did they really think they could kill me?" she scoffed. "All of them were in my Absolute Illusion, and they couldn't even realize that. They will conquer the world, they said. They have no idea who they are dealing with.

Still, that device was dangerous. It's no wonder, after all, it was crafted by the elder dwarf, and it took him 96 years to make it. If I hadn't used an illusion, they would have used that device on Virgil, which could have been life-threatening, but not really. After all, Virgil's power is...

If a child born under the blue moon is a cursed child, then a child named by the Lord itself is a blessed child."

THUNDER! BANG! BOOM!

The clouds roared with thunder as lightning went berserk in the vampire world.

Nyxia chuckled softly and muttered, "Darling is here. And he is... angry."

Chapter 478: First Awakening

Virgil was standing in front of the vampire palace, talking to the soldiers. Seemingly explaining to them a strategy of the war.

"But Vampire Monarch, they are coming from all three sides!"

"I will handle one side, take our strongest soldiers and go to the left side," Virgil ordered.

"What about the right side, then?"

"No one will go to the right side."

"But then they will invade our kingdom!"

"That's fine. I have already ordered everyone to evacuate from there. They are safe at the palace. The right border leads to this kingdom, but the other two have our entire continent.

I also ordered the other kings to get their armies ready. Listen, our first objective is to keep our citizens safe. This war doesn't matter. Also, make sure that the royal families of all the kingdoms of this continent are well protected."

Two soldiers landed near Virgil and knelt in front of him.

"Now is not the time to kneel! Why are you here?" Virgil asked angrily.

"We just received the report from the left and north kingdoms. The enemy's troops have started moving again. It looks like they discussed their plans, and now they are planning to start the war."

"How long will it take them to reach the borders?"

"Less than five minutes!"

"They got here faster than I expected. When I received news that a massive army was marching toward our continent, I suspected they were trying to wage war, but I didn't expect the other two continents to join them.

The Alucard kingdom has always tried to get their hands on this kingdom, but we were on good terms with the other two continents. Luis must have promised them a grand reward, but they have no idea that Luis will cut them down as soon as the work is done."

Virgil flapped his wings and hovered in the air as he looked at the soldiers.

"It is time to do what you were born for, my soldiers. Let's protect our citizens together!"

"Yeah!"

Virgil frowned his face and muttered, "If they want a war... we will serve them war... with dessert at that."

"Grandpa!" Jane dashed out of the palace and stopped in front of Virgil. "Grandpa! Let me participate in this war!"

"You can't, Jane. You have never been to war, and you don't—"

"I am the third strongest vampire in this world! And this is my kingdom too! They are my citizens too! I want to protect them!" Jane yelled with a resolute expression on her face.

"I cannot let you face the danger alone, Jane. If anything were to happen to you, Rudy would obliterate everything. I am not ready to take such a risk," Virgil stated in a disdainful tone. "I know how you are feeling, but there is nothing that can be done."

"Rias also insisted on coming with me, but I locked her in the room and sealed it with magic. She can't leave that room without anyone's help! Please, grandpa, let me participate in this war."

Virgil gazed up at the sky and looked at the white full moon.

"Today is..." He turned to Jane and said, "Today is the full moon day, are you aware of it? Rudy must be waiting for you on the other side."

"I know! But opening the portal will take at least 10 minutes. And only a handful of people can open the portal. We will win this war in thirty minutes and still have time left to open the portal again. And once Rudy—"

"Go open the portal, Jane..." Virgil ordered. "Open the portal and take Rias with you to the human world."

Jane gritted her teeth and frowned her face furiously.

"Are you telling me to run away?!"

"Jane! Try to understand the situation! All three continents are well aware that the three strongest vampires of this world are from this continent, and yet they still foolishly came here to wage war. They must have something planned, and it can be dangerous."

"I will open the portal and ask for Rudy's help! He is the..." Jane stopped and glanced around at the thousands of soldiers standing around her. She clenched her fist and yelled:

"Rudy is the Lord! And there is no way we can lose this war if Rudy is with us!"

"Their attempt of war might as well be to lure Rudy into the war. Everyone knows the Lord has returned, but they don't know who it is. And Rudy had warned me to not expose his identity as the Lord... which you just did."

"This is ridiculous, grandpa! You are just wasting our time here! Let me open the portal so Rudy can help us!"

THUNDER! BANG! BOOM!

"There is no need for that... my dear wife."

"....!"

Nyxia let out a big sigh and began walking up the stairs to the Lord's Throne. She climbed and climbed and said:

"It's been so long since I last came here. It brings back memories... doesn't it, darling?" she asked herself.

Nyxia reached the last stair and stood in front of the Lord's Throne. She touched it with her hands and smiled wryly.

"There is Lord, who is almighty and all-powerful. And there is something more powerful than the Lord. They shouldn't be fearing the Lord, they should fear that being."

Nyxia turned around and sat comfortably on the throne in a relaxed position. She leaned back and looked down at all the other thrones below her.

"When a vampire is in the forest, they shouldn't fear the bat. When a dragon is in the cave, they shouldn't fear the fox. They shouldn't fear the shark when there is a Kraken in the sea. And they shouldn't fear the Lord when... there is an Overlord in the universe.

The Lord of the Lords, the ancient entity born from the universe to balance and protect itself. The unfathomable power that reigns beyond anyone's imagination. The unrivaled existence defies every logic, fundamentals, principle, and law of the universe.

Such a being is... Overlord. And darling... is that unparalleled existence. This will be his first awakening after sitting on the throne."

If Rudy's existence was to defy the universe, Nyxia's existence was to contradict it. She was the Child and Queen of the Blue Moon, and she was also the Lord.

Chapter 479: Grand Entrance

Virgil, Jane, and the soldiers glanced around to find the source of the voice, but they couldn't see anyone.

Of course, Virgil and Jane had recognized that it was Rudy's voice, but it was his first time hearing someone's voice and not seeing them.

The clouds kept rumbling with thunder as lightning painted the sky. Clouds covered the sky and hid all the moons and stars, and even though there was no sun in the vampire world, without the moons, the world seemed dark, which quite suited the vampire world.

The lightning kept aggravating as it began to illuminate the area. One after another, there were hundreds of lightning going off at the same time.

Suddenly, a few lightning strikes hit the palace and the area around, but no one was hurt. Then, a whirlwind was formed, but it was made with pure lightning.

"What's going on?!" the soldiers panicked.

"If that thing drops on us, this entire kingdom will be annihilated within a second!"

"Why are all the calamities happening today?!"

"Is this Lord's wrath?!"

"Or is this the calamity brought by the cursed child?"

"Hey... don't say that in front of..."

They turned to Virgil and asked, "What should we do about it, Vampire Monarch?!"

Virgil stared at the lightning whirlwind and calmly said, "I will take care of it. You all act according to plan."

"Yes!"

However, before Virgil could even react, the whirlwind formed by pure lightning suddenly descended on Jane and engulfed her in it.

"Jane!" Virgil yelled and dashed to the whirlwind, but he was pushed back by a strong force.

"Jane!" he yelled again.

"Calm down, son."

The whirlwind slowly faded away, and Virgil's eyes widened in astonishment when he saw Jane was unscathed. Even more, she was in Rudy's arms, kissing him passionately.

After the kiss, Rudy glanced at Virgil from the corner of his eyes and smirked at him.

Virgil had so many questions he wanted to ask, but there was something most important that he had to know. He slowly opened his mouth and asked:

"Rudy, why are you naked?"

Rudy was butt naked with not a single piece of cloth covering his body, not even his private parts.

"Well, I had to hurry, and I didn't have time to turn my clothes into the molecular level and then reconstruct them after. So I ditched them and got here in the fastest way possible.

And as for my entry... trust me, I wasn't trying to make it link that. It just happened."

"Lightning and whirlwind don't just happen, at least in the vampire world," Virgil remarked.

"Oh... no. You see, I used molecular teleportation, which allowed me to teleport here on a molecular level. At first, I thought it would be easy as I had already used it, but it turns out using it to teleport to a different world can be... shitty.

Most of my body cells were lost in between, so I remembered a term called 'speed of light.' And light is indeed fast, but I used the speed of lightning. So I just turned my body into lightning so I could travel with lightning speed, quite literally. But it was obviously too fast.

I couldn't control it and my cells spread across this continent. So to gather all of them in a short amount of time, I went up to the sky and created a whirlwind to gather them. And they were still traveling at the speed of light so..."

Rudy shrugged his shoulders and said, "I will not try this again. For real, this time. It's honestly annoying. Anyway, can I get some clothes to wear? I have a war to participate in."

"You don't have to—"

Rudy already knew what Virgil was going to say. So he interrupted him as soon as he opened his mouth and said, "I saw it. I saw everything. Believe me, their army is too big, and you can't let them invade this kingdom."

"...."

"I will take care of the right side. You can go either north or left. And the same for Jane."

"Wait a minute! Are you seriously letting Jane fight a war?!" Virgil shouted in disbelief.

"Yeah. I have fought her, and I know how strong she is. Let her participate in this war, and the others will realize who she is. I don't want her to be recognized or labeled as 'Lord's Wife'.

I want others to recognize her as a child of the blue moon who saved them. I mean... think about it..."

Rudy smirked from the corner of his lips and said, "Wouldn't it be humiliating to be saved by someone who you berated for your entire life? They should remember that feeling well.

I want it to be engraved in their minds that every time they hear Jane's name... no, every time they see the Blue Moon in the sky, they remember Jane, and they experience that humiliation again and again and again."

"You truly are an entity befit to be a Lord..." Virgil sighed.

He turned to his soldiers and pointed his finger at naked Rudy.

"Get him clothes!"

Two soldiers left to get clothes for Rudy, but a few seconds later, Niti came flying and stopped in front of Rudy. Her face had mixed expressions of happiness and anxiousness, but her eyes were fixated on Rudy's snake, which was hiding between Jane's legs.

She was busy doing her daily duty, waiting for the portal to open so Rudy could come here. But then she heard Rudy's voice echoing in the sky and realized he had arrived, just not in a way she had expected.

She handed clothes to Rudy and said, "Welcome back."

"Yeah, it's good to be back." Rudy was dressed in less than three seconds and let go of Jane as he no longer had to hide behind Jane.

Rudy was shameless, but he wasn't an exhibitionist who would show his naked body for no reason. He might have done that if there were girls around, but regardless, it wasn't the right time to do all that.

"For some reason, I feel uncomfortable in these clothes." He uttered as he tried to fix his snake inside the clothes.

Chapter 480: Lightning Speed

"Aw shit. My hair also grew again. I did boost the teleportation process, so maybe that also boosted my body processes."

"Niti, can you go and free Rias?" Rudy asked her calmly. "Tell her I have arrived. But keep her at the palace. I will be back in a minute or so."

"Sure," Niti nodded.

Niti smiled at Rudy and moved close to him to hug him, but Jane was staring at her, so she left.

Jane was a little suspicious after seeing Rudy and Niti acting so closely. She still had no idea that Rudy had already laid his hands on Niti a long time ago. Only Rias was the one aware of everything.

Rudy wanted to tell Jane, but Rias had different plans, so he didn't interfere.

"Jane. I am allowing you to take part in this war. But make sure you don't get hurt, okay?"

Jane kissed Rudy on the lips without saying a word.

"You will make me horny if you kiss me like that, and I won't be able to focus on the war."

"I did that so you can return as soon as possible. I don't want you to waste your time on the people who don't matter," Jane responded with another short kiss.

"Is that so...?" Rudy moved his face close to Jane's ears and whispered, "Then how about I finger you and stop before you orgasm?"

"You wouldn't do that in front of everyone."

"Don't test me, my love."

Virgil decided to ignore them both and turned to his soldiers, but they had already left according to his order.

'They realized Rudy is the Lord and couldn't stand in his presence. I wouldn't blame them as I don't want to stay here either... just for a different reason...'

"Ahem!" Virgil cleared his throat to make his presence known and said, "Alucard kingdom is attacking from the north, so I will take care of them. Jane, you to the left side. Our and the armies of other kingdoms of this continent have already begun to retaliate against the war."

"Okay, Grandpa." Jane kissed Rudy for the last time and flew away.

Virgil shrugged his hands and said, "I don't think I need to tell you this, but... be careful."

"Of course. You too, son."

Virgil furrowed his brows and said, "Stop calling me that."

"Technically, I am not wrong, you know? Once Nyxia accepts me, it will turn true."

"You are free to call me when that happens. Now, I will take my leave. My people need me."

After saying that, Virgil flew north.

"Hmm~" Rudy glanced at the palace and muttered, "I kind of want to go and meet Rias, but they already breached the border of this kingdom. I should take care of them first."

Rudy could run, and he could run faster, he flew, and he could fly faster. He had already flown fast enough to match the speed of the light, but he had never flown to match or exceed that speed.

After teleporting his cells at the speed of lightning, Rudy was still nowhere near the actual speed of light.

'Light and lightning are different. But what is light, though? Lightning can't travel as fast as light because it would require infinite energy, which I can provide to a certain extent.

What if I turn myself into a fog of cells again, charge each cell with lightning, and then try to travel at the speed of light? Still, I don't think controlling it would or could be possible unless I learn to handle it properly.

If I remember correctly, Virgil said that this world is ten times bigger than the human world. If someone travels at the speed of light, they would be able to circle around the earth more than seven times in a mere second.

So this world could require a little more than a second to circle this world. Let's stop this thought. I don't want to search for logic and science when I am in a fantasy world. I am the Lord, and if I want to fly with the speed of light, then I shall.'

Rudy turned his body into molecules, but instead of spreading them all over, he kept them in a small radius. He formed a cloud of his cell and charged it with lightning. Then he used wind and telekinesis to travel.

To the bystanders, it seemed like a lightning cloud traveling at a fast speed, but it was easy to differentiate from a normal cloud.

Jane had almost reached the battleground, and Virgil was halfway through. Jane got there faster because she used her vampiric ability and turned herself into a fog. Had she done that when she raced with Rudy, she would have won easily, but since it was a race to show that a vampire was faster than a dragon.

Of course, not all the vampires had the ability to turn into the fog, so Jane raced in a vampire form to prove that even normal vampires were faster than a dragon.

Meanwhile, Rudy was hovering in the air above the vampire army of millions. Male and female, old and young, marching towards the kingdom. Some were on the ground walking while some were riding huge beasts. Some were flying while the rest were flying. However, Rudy was flying the highest.

"Who is that?" one of the kings asked.

"And why is he the only one?"

"Is he maybe someone sent by the vampire monarch?"

"It doesn't matter. As Luis said, one person can't fight the entire army, no matter how strong they are. And if Luis is so confident about defeating the strongest vampire of this world-- Virgil. Then we can effortlessly defeat the others."

"Yeah, he is right."

"So what do we do now? How do we attack him? He is flying so high, and our beast can't fly that high."

One of the elder vampire kings stood up on the beast and said, "Well, we can."

He spread his wings and flew on a level with Rudy.

"Listen, foolish kid, I don't know who you are, but now you are about to die!" He turned his hand into sharp dagger-like claws and dashed at Rudy.

Rudy, however, stared at him nonchalantly. "You don't need to know me."

A large lightning bolt fell on the elder king and fried him alive.

"You are not worthy to stand... or fly on an equal level as me."
