Chapter 561: B For Beach

They all ate dinner together, and then Rudy took them out to an ice cream shop to buy them whatever they wanted.

Jessica and Rias were the ones who ate the most. Rebecca and Elena were second to them, while Rudy only ate three cups.

After eating ice cream, Rudy asked Jessica where she wanted to go, and as always, she asked to go to the water park.

"The waterpark is closed today."

"You are lying!"

"I am not. They are adding a few small slides for the kids. So the actual water park is not closed, but the kids' pool is. And I am not letting you or Rebecca swim in the adult pool."

Jessica puffed her cheeks in no time and said, "Then let's go to a different water park."

"There are no water parks in the neighboring cities. And why are you so obsessed with water parks?" Rudy asked with a judging look on his face and commented, "You get all lazy when you have to take a bath every morning."

"Bath is a bath, and water park is a water park!"

"Well, can't deny that." Rudy pondered for a few seconds and said, "How about we go to a beach?"

"A beach...?" Jessica looked at Rebecca and asked, "Is that where the sea and the land meet?"

"Yes."

"Can we swim there?"

"If you want to."

"Will there be slides?!" she asked excitedly.

"Of course not."

"Then I don't want to go."

Rudy grabbed Jessica and picked her up in his arms.

"No~! Put me down! I don't want to go!"

They were still at the ice cream shop, and the people started giving Rudy glares after Jessica yelled:

"I don't want to go! Put me down! I want to go home!"

Rudy stared into Jessica's eyes to scare her off, but that didn't work.

"Alright." Rudy let go of Jessica and shrugged his shoulders before saying, "If you don't want to go, then I cannot force you."

"Hmph!"

"You know the direction to the house, right?" Rudy handed the house keys to Jessica and said, "Here."

"..." Jessica glanced back and forth at Rudy and Rebecca with a confused look on her face.

She took the keys from Rudy and asked, "Why are you giving me this?"

"Because you are going home."

"What about you all?" she asked nervously.

"We are going to the beach."

"Huh? Why?"

"Because we want to?"

"But I am not coming."

"And?"

"You can't go without me!" Jessica jugged Rudy and said, "Stay with me!"

Rudy, once again, received glares from the people around him.

"Rebecca, Elena, and Rias want to go, and you are the only one who doesn't want to go. It's 3:1, so I have to take them to the beach."

Jessica's eyes got teary as she said, "I want to go too!"

'Well, that worked. I kind of feel bad, but I had to teach her a lesson that she can't get everything by demanding or sulking over it. She has also been too much of an attention seeker lately, but I don't mind that in the least,' Rudy uttered inwardly.

"Alright then, let's go to a mall and buy your girls some nice swimsuits for the beach?"

"Didn't we buy one recently?" Rebecca asked.

"What's wrong with getting another one?" Rudy shrugged and turned to Elena and Rias. "I highly doubt Rias has one, and I don't think Elena has bought one recently."

"I haven't." Elena shook her head. "Beaches and water parks are not my things. And I have been alone most of my high school life, so I never got a chance to go out that much. No one likes to go to those places alone, right?"

"It depends, I guess? I am not an extrovert, but I can't say I am an introvert, either. But yeah, I wouldn't go to those places alone unless I am going for a different reason."

Afterward, they went to the mall and bought swimsuits for girls. However, he didn't expect to get pressured by the girl to buy one for himself too.

Rudy didn't plan to swim, so he didn't want one, but he decided to buy one in case he changed his mind.

They then got on the bus and reached the beach within an hour.

"It's almost 4 PM right now. We will leave after watching the sunset, so let's hope we don't get kicked out before that. Some beaches have time schedules."

Even though Jessica wasn't interested in coming to the beach, she was the one who enjoyed it the most.

Rebecca didn't swim much, but she stayed with Jessica to keep her eyes on her. Elena was with them, too, while Rias was with Rudy.

"You don't want to swim?" Rudy asked her.

"I want to, but... there are too many humans around and... I might lose control..." she muttered.

"But you don't feel the thirst for blood like the other vampires, right?"

"Yes, but if you see too much food, you would want to at least take a bite, right?"

"Err... this is my first time hearing you mention humans as food. I am somewhat surprised, to be honest."

"Do you hate me now?"

"Of course not. But if you really want to taste the food so badly, you can have my blood."

"Are you sure?"

"If you want to," Rudy shrugged.

Rias gazed at Rudy's neck and gulped down. She licked her lips as her fangs slowly grew.

"What if someone saw us?"

"Don't worry, I will take care of that," Rudy reassured.

Rias brought her face close to Rudy's neck and opened her mouth to bite Rudy. However, just as her fangs were about to penetrate Rudy's skin, Rebecca yelled his name.

"Wait a minute."

Rudy used his vision ability to see at a distance, and he saw Elena under the water with only her head above the water.

Sure, that wasn't strange, but the water wasn't that deep.

"Something is wrong. I will be right back."

Rudy rushed to the girls and asked, "What's wrong?"

Rebecca pointed her finger at Elena and said, "Her top..."

Chapter 562: Evil Perspective

Rudy turned to Elena and asked, "What happened?"

"I don't know. I was helping Jessica swim, and I felt my top got loose, so I checked and realized that the lace was missing," Elena said while covering her chest and grabbing her top.

"When did it happen?"

"Around two minutes ago?"

'I can't use restoration.'

Rudy hugged Rebecca and teleported to the bathroom of his house.

"...!"

"Why... why did you use your powers in front of everyone?!" Elena shouted in panic.

"I don't care if someone sees me. You are more important to me. And even if someone saw me, it's not like anyone would believe them if they told someone. I doubt someone was recording, and even if they did, here is no internet or anything to spread that clip," Rudy retorted.

"But Rebecca and Jessica... they saw you."

"That's fine. I was planning to tell them about my powers sooner or later, although it sucks that they will have to find out about it in the least interesting way."

Rudy filled the bathtub with water and said, "Anyway, stop thinking about anything else. Go take a dip in freshwater. I will bring the girls here."

"..." Elena hugged Rudy and muttered, "I am sorry. If only I had paid more attention to my..."

Rudy checked Elena's top and confirmed that the lace was missing.

'I see....'

Rudy teleported to Rias as he knew that Rebecca and Jessica would have rushed to Rias after witnessing Rudy and Elena disappear.

"Rudy!" Jessica hugged Rudy and said, "I thought you drowned!"

Rudy touched Rebecca and Rias and teleported to the house.

"Wha—!" Jessica ran around the living room and said, "It's our house!"

While Jessica was excited and didn't care about anything else, Rebecca was surprised and confused.

She glanced around and looked at Rudy to ask him what had just happened, but she changed her mind after seeing the look on Rudy's face.

"Is everything okay?" Rias asked Rudy in a calm voice.

"I will be right back." After saying that, Rudy teleported to the beach again.

He activated his vision ability to find the person he was looking for.

'The cut on Elena's top wasn't a defective product. It was cut here. Someone must have done that when they were swimming, and I need to find out who.'

He slowly scanned each and every person to see who was carrying scissors or a cutter that could cut cloth, but Rudy couldn't find one.

'Let's think about it from another perspective. If it was me who had cut the lace, what would I do? Would I stay around and watch the girl getting shamed in public and enjoy the show?

But why would someone do that in the first place? What would they get by humiliating an unknown person? Unless they had a bigger plan.

Thinking forward, what would a girl do after her top slipped? She would find her top, obviously. But if too many people were watching her, she would be too embarrassed to stay there and run away.

However, where would she run? To grab something to cover her body, of course. If she was with someone, like her friends or lover, she would go to them and ask for something to wear.

Still, it's not like they would be carrying an extra pair with them. And even if they did, they would keep it in a bag, which they wouldn't carry around. So the girl would go to the locker room for two possibilities but for the same reason.

Let's say she was alone, so she would go to the locker room to get the clothes she originally wore before changing. Same reason if she was with someone else.

Now, what are the chances that whoever cut the lace was waiting for the girl to arrive in the locker room or changing room to do the unspeakable with her? I know I am stretching it too far, but that's how I am.'

Rudy's habit of overthinking on every matter was helping him understand and find every slight possibility. And this time, he thought everything with a criminal's mindset.

Had he ever decided to become evil, or even if he never had his superpowers, his habit of overthinking wouldn't have changed. He would have become the most wanted criminal in the world.

Meanwhile, in the girl's changing room. There were lockers on the right and changing spots covered by curtains on the left.

Two boys who looked teenagers were hiding behind the curtain of the farthest changing spot, and they were wearing long hair wigs to pretend to be female. They had gotten in using a broken entry on the backside that was connected to the men's changing room.

But the broken entry seemed old, and it was hidden behind the mirror, which was also two-sided. Men and women shared the same mirror from both ends, although the other side was not visible from either side.

"Are you sure she will come here?" one boy asked.

"Yes. It always works, doesn't it?" the other boy answered.

"But what if she wasn't alone?"

"Doesn't matter. She should come to change her clothes here."

"What if she goes to the spot next to us?"

"She won't. I was watching when she came here; her locker is right in front of this spot. So naturally, she would choose this spot to change her clothes."

"Should we hide in the men's changing room now? It would be messy if she saw her."

"Not now. Just keep an eye on the entrance, and if you see any shadows, let me know. We already have our men in the men's changing room to make sure someone else doesn't take the spot."

The first boy rubbed his hand while licking his lips and said, "I can't wait. Why hasn't she come yet!"

"Patience, bro, patience. Her body was so sexy. Our patience will be rewarded when we knock her out. You have the napkin ready, right?"

"Yes." The boy showed the napkin drenched in some liquid and said, "I added more chloroform this time. The last girl had woken up in a few hours and started yelling. We have to make sure the same thing doesn't happen again."

"Yes. I will make sure the same thing doesn't happen again," Rudy asserted in a lifeless voice.

Chapter 563: Cleaning Trash

"Who are you?!" The boys panicked as they stepped back.

"Just a rule-abiding citizen of this world."

"Why are you here?! Don't you know this is the girl's changing room?!" one of the boys asked in a feminine voice.

"I just saw some trash, and as a respectful citizen, it's my duty to take it out."

"Look, mister. You need to leave, or I will call the authorities," the second boy said in a somewhat feminine voice as though he wasn't used to speaking like that.

"Oh, please do. I should show them the trash that reeks in this world."

"What are you—"

Rudy placed one hand on the first boy's shoulder and the other hand on the second boy's shoulder.

He removed their wigs using telekinesis and exposed them.

Their faces turned pale as they gulped in fear. They tried to shrug Rudy's hand from their shoulders, but they couldn't even budge it.

"If your worthless brain didn't get it by now, I was referring to you two as trash."

"What do you want, man? Why are you ruining our plan? We are just looking to have some fun."

"You call r*ping someone fun?" Rudy's gaze turned into a glare as his eyes glowed.

"It's not r*pe if they don't know about it," the first boy said.

"Yeah. We knock them out with chloroform, have some fun with their bodies without buddies, and drop them back here," the second boy said. "We only target the girls who came alone, so no one would ever realize."

"Yeah. We also use condoms, so it's all good."

"It's just some fun," he shrugged. "What's a big deal about it?"

Rudy applied a little pressure on their shoulder and shattered their shoulder bone.

"Argh!" they yelled.

"Something must be wrong with your head if you truly believe what you just said."

"So strong..."

"Why are you so angry, man? You can join us if you want."

"..."

"Yeah... Some are even virgins, and they are so tight. I am sure you will enjoy them."

"For how long have you been doing this?" Rudy asked in an emotionless voice.

"Only six months."

"Ever since we entered high school."

Rudy raised his brow and asked, "How old are you two?"

"Fifteen!"

"We just wanted to have some fun, you know? Enjoy our teenage life!"

"Fifteen years old... and doing something so despicable? What the fuck is wrong with you two?!"

"Why are you so angry? You are also a male."

"Yeah! You should understand how we feel. We need girls for fun, you know?"

"Why else do you think all males have a dick and your females have a pussy?"

"We are supposed to use it for pleasure."

"We are just waiting for a girl. If you want to have fun, just join us."

Rudy's eyes glowed even more, and he shot lasers from his eyes at the mirror, breaking it into pieces.

"Whoa!"

"What the fuck?!"

The mirror from the other side also broke, and a man peeked through the crack. He had no idea how the mirror broke, but he thought Rudy must have thrown something.

Of course, Rudy knew the man was standing there as he had already scanned everything using his vision abilities. And the man was listening to everything.

"How did you guys get yourself caught like this?!" the man yelled from the other side.

"...!" The two boys were so baffled after witnessing lasers that they couldn't speak.

"Are you their leader?" Rudy asked.

"Something like that. I am a university student, but I use underage kids as a cover. So even if they get caught, or something major happens, they can take all the blame. And they are underaged, so their punishment would be liberal.

Now, if you are done 'being a respectful citizen' or whatever, get out of here. I haven't had any pussy today.

Rudy raised the broken mirror pieces using telekinesis and stabbed the man on the other side.

"Gah!"

Then, Rudy looked at the two boys and smashed their heads against each other so hard that their brains spilled out. However, he healed them the next second before their souls left their bodies.

"...!"

The two boys looked at each other with pale faces as though they were trying to understand what had just happened.

"Oh..." Rudy let out a short sigh and muttered, "I forgot to bring a broom and dustpan with me."

"..."

"But still, I will have to make sure that I don't leave any trash behind. Otherwise, my service will get low stars."

Rudy once again smashed the two boys' heads together and restored them within a second. Their skulls would be slammed, and their brains would spill out with their blood. He repeated the same procedure over a hundred times in less than a minute.

Of course, the boys felt full pain even after their heads were restored. Furthermore, he had made their bodies a million times more sensitive, so to the boys, one time, getting their heads smashed together was the same as getting them smashed a million times.

Rudy stopped after a minute and looked into the boy's eyes before saying, "Unfortunately, I cannot do anything to underaged humans."

He let go of the two boys and looked at the crack.

PHEW!

The boys sighed in relief, but it was still too early to do that.

Rudy used telekinesis and gouged their penis and balls out of their bodies.

"...!"

They screamed in pain, but it was so unbearable that no voice came out of their mouths.

Blood gushed out as their briefs got drenched in their blood.

"I cannot do anything to the underaged humans, but accidents happen, and no one has control over it."

After uttering that, Rudy passed through the crack and entered the men's changing room.

He looked at the dead man and crushed his face under his feet. Then, he walked to a particular curtain and lifted it.

A man was hiding inside, sitting on his knees, praying for his safety.

"What shall I do with you?"

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 564: Elena's Fetish

The man was an innocent bystander who was simply present at the wrong place at the wrong time.

Rudy looked into his eyes and ordered, "Forget everything!"

The man's memory was wiped, and he passed out.

When Rudy teleported back home, Elena had already told Jessica and Rebecca about his powers. But she left out the major details, such as time travel and Jessica's death.

When Elena asked Rudy, "Where have you been?"

"I was worried that someone might have seen me. So I just went there to make sure my secret was safe." Rudy replied with a smile on his face.

"It's sad that we didn't get to see the sunset you were talking about," Rias muttered.

"We can see that some other day. None of us are going anywhere," Rudy shrugged.

"Umm..." Rebecca pulled Rudy's sleeves and asked, "So, who are you? You are not my father's friend, right?"

'Mom is the only person I can't reveal anything to. But I don't want to lie to her.'

Rudy smiled at Rebecca and patted her head gently.

"Yes, I am not your father's friend."

"Then who are you?"

"I... am sent here as your guardian angel. I will protect you two and make you happy."

"Will you leave us one day?"

When Rebecca asked that, Jessica also stared at Rudy to hear his answers.

"Well..." He smiled bitterly and said, "I... I don't know. Really. But I don't want to leave you behind."

"I understand."

"Now, go change your clothes. We will go eat out tonight!"

"Yay!" Jessica jumped in front of Rudy and said, "I want more ice cream!"

"Yeah, yeah."

Rias changed her clothes using magic, while Rudy had to bring Elena's clothes from her house as she was wearing Rudy's clothes after taking a bath.

Once everyone was ready, they went out to eat.

Later, there was breaking news on the television and newspaper about the two boys and a crushed dead body.

The two boys were found in serious condition and immediately rushed to the hospital. One boy died on the same day, while the other one died three days later.

No one knew the mystery behind it, and no one was alive to speak about it, except the man found behind the curtain who had passed out because of a seizure.

After learning about the incident, Elena suspected Rudy, but she couldn't dare to ask him or talk about anything related to it.

Currently, it was nighttime, and as always, Rudy was at Elena's house, naked on her bed, playing with Elena.

Elena was lying naked on top of Rudy, kissing him every few seconds.

"What's wrong?" she asked.

"Nothing," Rudy replied while squeezing Elena's breasts.

"It has been ten minutes since you came here, and your dick is still not inside me. Something must be wrong."

"I am just thinking."

"As always," she chuckled.

Elena kissed Rudy on the lips and sat up. She moved a little back and began Tribbing while holding Rudy's hands and staring into his eyes.

"Hmm~" Rudy hummed in amazement and said, "You have gotten a lot better at Tribbing, not going to lie."

"The best moment is when your dick accidentally slips inside."

"Oh? Then try your best to do that."

A few minutes later, Elena curiously asked, "You have no control over this time traveling, am I right?"

"Yeah."

"So you can literally disappear right now?"

"Let's not jinx it."

"What would happen to me, though? I am touching you right now, so would I also...?"

"No."

"When is your birthday again?"

"It passed a few weeks ago."

"Oh..."

"But that was when we hadn't met, so no need to feel sad."

"So you have already been born?"

"Oh, no. That's next year. And I don't think even my real mother has gotten pregnant yet."

"So if you stay here, you will meet your real parents."

"Yeah, I hope so."

"Imagine if I am actually your mother."

"First of all, that's disgusting, and second of all, that's not how time travel works," Rudy retorted with a soft scoff.

"I said 'imagine,' so go ahead and imagine. What if I get pregnant in the upcoming months, and it turns out that I am your mother? Would you still want to continue our relationship as lovers in the future?" Elena asked curiously.

"I... don't want to imagine something so disgusting."

Elena furrowed her brows and commented, "And yet, you wanted to bang Rebecca even when you didn't know that she is not your real mother."

"Don't bring that up, come on~" Rudy groaned.

"And you even thought that she was in her late thirties. You basically wanted to commit real milf incest."

"..."

"And now that I brought up my question, you find it disgusting?"

Rudy raised his brow and asked, "Why do you even want to know that? Don't tell me you get turned on by that thought."

"I d-don't!" Elena retorted while averting her gaze.

"Wow... why must each and every member in my harem have to have a screw loose? You have an incest fetish, don't you?"

"I don't want to hear that from someone who lusted after his mother."

Rudy and Elena glared at each other for a few seconds before something unexpected happened.

Elena was Tribbing, and while talking with Rudy, her focus slowly changed. After bringing up the topic, her attention was completely diverted to Rudy, and Rudy's snake decided to explore Elena's cave.

"...!" Elena's face flushed as she orgasmed the next second.

"I won," Rudy smirked. "And let's not talk about incest topic."

"Okay," Elena sighed. "I was just curious."

"Don't be."

Elena began to move her hips back and forth as Rudy's snake drilled inside her cave.

"Mnh~"

"You can't live without sex either, can you?" Rudy asked.

"It's your fault. You made me addicted. The second you touch me, I feel like kissing you and... doing other things to you."

"Even when we are in public," she added shortly.

"Thanks for telling me that. I will make sure to touch you even more from now onwards," Rudy chuckled with a grin.

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 565: Precious Memories

Elena squinted her eyes and said, "We have sex for three hours every night. And you always make me orgasm more. Still, you say your libido gets satisfied."

"That's the truth."

"How far have you gone with Rias? Have you two boned yet?"

"No. Of course, not."

"Why not?" Elena raised her brow in confusion and asked, "She is obviously better looking than me. And she looked dazzling in her swimsuit the other day. So how come your dick hasn't tried to penetrate her?"

"Oh, trust me. I am trying my best to abstain."

"I was so jealous when you paid more attention to her than me the other day. But then you showed me everything, and I discovered that I am the extra, not her."

"No one is extra. if you think about it, you have become the oldest harem member, you know?" Rudy pushed Elena back and pinned her down on the bed with his snake still exploring her cave.

"Nmh~ Hey~ Don't do that without letting me know. I just felt like my soul left my body~!"

Rudy licked his lips and said, "I suddenly felt like going rough on you today."

"Really~?!" Elena asked with an excited look on her face. "I wanted the same thing, but I didn't ask you. I also want you to shoot all your loads inside me tonight."

Rudy placed Elena's legs on his shoulder and a pillow beneath her waist.

"Your wish has been granted."

"How many loads today~?"

"How many do you want?"

"I don't know~ But I want you to keep fucking me until I pass out~"

"Well, well. Someone seems more horny than usual today. Did all that incest fetish talk turn you on?"

"Shut up!"

After two hours of a medium rough session and releasing five loads inside Elena, Rudy was once again lying on the bed, but Elena wasn't in the room.

When she orgasmed for the tenth time, she suddenly felt like grabbing snacks and drinks from the kitchen and watching one of the horror movies Rudy had on his phone.

'She is having mood swings today. Are her periods close?' Rudy wondered.

Rudy didn't know much about that, but he was familiar with the mood swings of girls during periods. Elise, his past life girlfriend, with whom he had spent five years of his life, had regular mood swings every month. And she rarely allowed bareback sex.

One could say she was completely adapted to the modern world and trends of that time. Perhaps, that was one of the few things that made Rudy fall for her.

When Elena returned from the kitchen, she was walking slowly while crossing her legs. Seemingly, she didn't want Rudy's precious milk to spill from her cave.

After that, they watched a horror movie together on his enlarged phone screen, but they barely paid attention to it and focused on humping instead.

"Say, when you found out that Rebecca wasn't your real mother and she was only 29, were you relieved?" Elena asked while feeding him fries.

"I would be lying if I said I wasn't relieved. As that would mean that mom would have no reason to push me away once I made moves on her."

"Have you ever wondered why or how Rebecca adopted you? And why did she decide to raise you as her son?"

Rudy shook his head and answered, "No. But that could be related to the diary she had once shown me."

"A diary?"

"Yeah. Maybe it was a journal on how to raise me or something? And you know, mom always asked me if she was a good mother or if I ever felt like she didn't love me. I think she was self-conscious and worried about losing me.

I mean, one day, I would have eventually found out that she wasn't my mother. Perhaps, she was afraid of how I might react? I genuinely have so many questions to ask her.

For example, did she recognize me from this timeline as I grew up? Does she already know everything about me? Why did she decide to marry? And why does she never mention Jessica in front of me? Where was she when Jessica... died?

Where was I when Jessica died? What was I doing? And why do I have no memories of Jessica whatsoever? Not in this life, nor in my past one. Hopefully, I will get all my answers as time passes."

Elena kissed Rudy on the lips and took the lead by pushing him down.

"You are not curious about where I am in the 2008 timeline?"

"I don't know... I am afraid to know... I guess..." Rudy muttered.

"Do you think I moved on or married someone else?"

"Well... that is a possibility, but I don't think you would ever do that. So... there is also a slight possibility that... you are dead..."

"Maybe."

Rudy smiled distantly and uttered, "Knowing the past and future is scary, but not knowing it is scarier."

Elena kissed Rudy once again and said, "I am sure you will find me. Even if I am dead, I bet you will find my soul from the heavens or hells."

Afterward, their session continued for a few more hours, and the time was almost 3AM at night. He usually visited Elena at 10PM at night and left around 1AM, but that night lasted longer as their feelings and emotions went deeper, just like his snake in her cave.

Elena had passed out from extreme pleasure, but just when Rudy was close to cumming. He was conflicted about whether he should continue and cum, or stop and leave. But after pondering for a while, he decided to continue as Elena was still moaning in her sleep.

He released his final load inside her cave and kept his snake inside for a few minutes as he didn't feel like taking it out. Later, he cleaned the snacks from the bed and left, hoping Elena would wake up in time for school.

He teleported to his house and jumped on the couch to catch as much sleep as possible. But a few minutes later, his eyes wide-opened when he sensed an immense power coming from the forest, so he decided to check it out. Ultimately, he located the source, which turned out to be coming from Rias' house.

Chapter 566: Kind Threat

Rudy landed in front of Rias' house and rushed inside.

"Rias! Are you okay?!"

However, Rudy was left speechless after seeing Rias with someone none other than Nyxia.

"....!"

Rudy had recognized Nyxia even without looking at her face. Her blonde hair and her scent gave it all.

Nyxia turned around and looked at Rudy.

"A human?" She raised her brow and asked, "What is a human doing here?"

"What are you doing here?" Rudy asked back.

Nyxia furrowed her brows and uttered, "Know your place, human. Or you will regret talking back to me."

It was Rudy's first time seeing Nyxia after a long time. The last time he saw her was when he was in the vampire world, and Virgil took him to the Lord's chamber.

Needless to say, he had missed Nyxia more than any other girl, as he hadn't seen or touched her since. And seeing her in 1989 made him more emotional than he was when he found out about Rias.

However, Nyxia had never mentioned meeting Rudy in 1989. Perhaps, she was simply keeping it a secret and waiting for the right time to tell him. But what Rudy was the most curious about at that moment was:

"Why are you here?" he asked again.

Nyxia frowned her face this time and glared at Rudy.

"Did you not hear what I..." Nyxia stopped midway as her glare softened.

Rudy looked at Rias, who was standing beside Nyxia, and asked, "Are you okay?"

Rias nodded and hugged Rudy tightly in front of Nyxia.

"I am here to take Glorias back to the vampire world," Nyxia asserted.

"But I don't want to go!" Rias bit her lips and said, "I want to stay with Rudy in the human world!"

"Don't be absurd, Glorias. Virgil is furious, and if he learns that you have been fooling around with a human like this, you will be severely punished!"

"No, I won't! Rudy will save me! He is stronger than grandpa Virgil and even you!"

Nyxia let out a weary sigh and looked at Rias in disappointment.

"Tell me the reason you broke the rule and came into the human world."

"Well... I wanted to... meet my parents..."

"And what are you doing now? Is this human your father or your relative?" Nyxia asked with a judging look on her face.

"I know what you are trying to do. You want me to fall for your 'convincing talk' and take me back to the vampire world."

"Come on, Glorias. Virgil sent his best warrior to bring you back, but they all failed. He was going to come next, but I stopped him and came in his stead. If I don't take you back, he will come, and you know what he will do," Nyxia stated calmly.

"I don't care! Rudy is here with me! He will save me from him!"

SIGH!

"Jane is worried about you. And she is missing you."

"I doubt she is." Rias clenched her fist and said, "I have been here for three months, but she never came to meet me once. She had six chances, and she never came to get me back."

She scoffed and continued, "Do you really want me to believe that she is lonely without me?"

"She is busy."

"Yeah, right! Of course, you will take her side and defend her every time! She is your favorite, after all!" Rias yelled.

"That's not true. Why would you even think that? I support you both whenever either of you needs me."

"And what if both of us need you, and you have to choose either of us? Who would you choose? Me or Jane, huh?"

"..."

"I knew it! You don't really care about me, grandma. You just care about your status and image among the royals! You are no different than the ones who have berated me for my entire life!"

"Enough!" Nyxia finally broke her silence and showed her fangs to Rias. "You are taking this too far, Glorias! Do you know what Jane is busy with?! Your duties! You are the direct heir to the throne, and you have much more responsibilities than you think!

And in your absence, Jane has been doing all that without ever cursing or blaming you! You think everyone hates you. That might be true, but Glorias... you are the one who hates yourself the most.

Do you even think how your one action can affect others' lives?! You are hurting the ones close to you! The other royals and nobles have already started to vote on exiling you out of the family, but Jane has been defending your honor!

Do you want to get kicked out of the royal family? Well, of course, you do. You would rather want to stay in the human world, don't you? Guess what? The royals and nobles who have been berating you ever since your birth will finally win!

Do you want them to win?! Do you want Jane to go through all that for you? For once, Glorias, start loving yourself. And fight back! Try to stand up on your own! Stop relying on Jane, Virgil, and me to stand up for you!"

"..." Rias couldn't speak a word after hearing all that.

Rudy also wasn't sure what he should do or say to Rias on that matter. Whatever Nyxia said was, without a doubt, true. Nyxia said all that for Rias' sake and her future, which was needed.

"I..." Rias gulped down and said, "I just want to be happy..."

"..."

"Why can't I do what I want to do? I didn't ask to be born a vampire or a human. All my life, I have done what I was tasked to do. It's a princess' duty, they said. And I did that diligently. But no one ever praised me for doing that.

I thought if I found my parents, I would ask them for answers. If my mother had never left me in the vampire world, Jane and I would have lived like normal humans, like in the human world.

And now that I have finally found someone who doesn't ask anything from me in return and loves me for who I am. And I don't want to lose him."

Chapter 567: Break Up

"I understand everything you said, Glorias. And that's the reason your mother ran away from the vampire world, but you cannot do the same. At least, not right now," Nyxia said calmly.

"Why not? You can return to the vampire world and tell them that you couldn't find me."

"It's not about that... Glorias. I know you don't want to leave this human behind, and you won't, no matter what happens. But he will leave you."

"Are you talking about him growing old and dying? Then that won't happen. He is not a normal human."

"I am not talking about that." Nyxia looked into Rudy's eyes and said, "This human doesn't belong here. And he has to go back."

"...!" Rias realized what Nyxia was talking about. She looked at Rudy and asked, "You have to return to your timeline?"

"Eventually... yes. I have no control over it."

"Then... what about me...?"

"We will meet again."

"When...?"

"...in 2008."

"That's too long!"

"I know."

"But I will wait for you!"

"Yes..." Rudy caressed Rias' face and smiled wryly at her as he said, "But it would be for the best if... if you wait for me in the vampire world and not the human world."

"But you are not going back to 2008 right now. Please allow me to stay here until you return."

"Rias... it's hard for me to say this, but... I think Nyxia is right. You have your own life, and you have to make it right. Don't let me come in your way to what you are going to achieve in the future.

Think of it as a grace time where we both live our lives and do what we must do before meeting again. And I promise you, my love... no one will ever break us apart once we meet again."

Rias didn't want to agree with Rudy's words, but deep down, she knew Rudy and Nyxia were right. Besides, she couldn't bear to see the sad look in his eyes and his painful smile. She knew it was as painful for him as it was for her. And if he could endure it, she should too.

She nodded at Nyxia and said, "Okay, I am ready to come with you. Just give us a little time to talk."

"I wish I could. I really do. But the portal can only stay open for five more minutes. I will wait outside, so please make it quick."

After saying that, Nyxia left the house and sat on the porch outside.

Rias looked into Rudy's eyes and kissed him a few times.

"Is this what humans call a 'break-up'?" she asked with a slight smile on her face.

"We are not breaking up."

"We technically are. We won't meet each other until 2008."

"Yeah..."

"I will miss you..." Rias was trying her best to hold her tears.

"I will too."

"I... don't know if I would be able to do that, though."

"I have a solution for that."

"What?"

Rudy gulped down before saying, "I will seal your memories."

"No... you can't do that."

"Just hear me out." Rudy placed his hands on Rias' shoulder and looked into her eyes as he explained. "I will seal your memories, but it's not what you think."

"I think the meaning itself is pretty clear. If you seal my memories, I won't remember you."

"That's what I am trying to explain. Listen, if you don't remember me, you won't have to wait for me. However, I don't want you to forget about me. So the seal I will place on you will slowly weaken as time gets closer to 2008."

"And I will remember everything about you in 2008, and we will meet again?" Rias asked to confirm.

"Not exactly. When the time approaches 2008, the first seal will break, but only your feelings for me will return. And when that happens, you will come to look for me in 2008, but you won't know anything else about me.

How do I look, or where do I live? What is my name, or how old am I? How do I sound, and what are my powers? You won't remember anything, but you will know one thing, I study at a certain school in this town.

That's when I will place the second seal, which will break once you hear my name from my mouth. I will come to your house, and you will scare the shit out of me. But once you learn my name, your memories about me will return.

Your wait will end there. However, I won't remember anything, and I will be utterly oblivious to everything as, at that time, I hadn't time-traveled to 1989 yet. But you don't have to worry about that as I will fall in love with you soon.

Moreover, I will place the third seal on you that will seal your memories of everything else. And that seal will break once we kiss. How does that sound?" Rudy asked calmly.

"It's so confusing. What is the third seal for? Won't I remember everything once I learn your name?" Rias asked with a confused and curious look on her face.

"No. You will only remember me, nothing else. And to remember everything else of this timeline, we will have to kiss. It's just to avoid letting you remember about my powers and stuff, as I myself wouldn't be aware of that when I first met you in 2008."

"So, in other words, I will forget about you, but I actually won't. And you are sealing my memories, so I don't cry every night and remember you and our time together. And also to keep everything as it should be in 2008?"

"Exactly. Because time travel is something, no one can understand. Turns out I messed up in this timeline, and the 2008 timeline changed completely. So I will just have to make sure that I fixed everything before I suddenly find myself back in 2008," he chuckled softly to hide his sadness.

"Let's meet again in 2008." Rias kissed Rudy on the lips and closed her eyes. "Go ahead. I am ready."

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 568: Seal of Love and Memories

Rias closed her eyes after kissing Rudy and said, "Go ahead. I am ready."

"I... love you... Rias. And I will love you in every timeline."

"I love you too."

Rudy circled his finger on Rias' forehead and said, "First seal."

He then tapped inside the circle and said, "Second seal."

At last, he kissed her on the lips and muttered, "Third... seal..."

The moment Rudy placed the third seal, Rias' body became lifeless. Seemingly, she had passed out.

Rudy picked her up in his arms and bit her lips to try his best to hold his tears.

'I know we will meet again, but still... it hurts... dammit...'

He carried Rias outside the house and handed her to Nyxia.

"Please take care of her."

"I will."

Nyxia stared into Rudy's teary eyes and said, "Let's meet again."

"Yeah..."

"And where would that be?" she asked.

"In the headmaster's office at the Vampire Academy. During the red moon week after nineteen years."

"Understood," she nodded and flew through the portal, which soon closed after a few seconds.

Rudy now knew exactly why Nyxia was at the Vampire Academy at that time. And even though Jane had asked her, she answered that she was there to meet the headmaster, but Rudy later found out that the headmaster was on leave for a week.

So there was no way someone who was on leave 2 days before could call Jane exactly when she had come to the vampire academy with Rudy.

"I... just realized something..."

Rudy teleported to his house and fell asleep, but he woke up on time and took Jessica to school, where he met Elena at the gate.

"Hey..." She greeted him with a flushed face. "Last night was something else."

"Yes." he smiled wryly.

"What's wrong? You look exhausted. Did you not get enough sleep?"

"No, I did. I slept well."

"You are hiding something. I have known you for long enough to read your patterns." Elena squinted her eyes and asked, "What's wrong?"

"Rias... left."

"What?"

"She... she returned to the vampire world."

"What?!" Elena exclaimed. "How could she just leave without informing any of us!"

"I sent her there," he stated in a lifeless voice.

"Why would you do that? She was so happy when she was with you!"

"I had no other choice. That's how it was supposed to happen. I cannot change what has already happened in the past for the future me in the present."

"I have no idea what you are trying to say, but are you okay? Because you don't look okay."

"I am... not okay. I don't know why this is happening at this time. I have been enduring it just fine all this time. But... I think I can't anymore. I am having a mental breakdown."

Elena couldn't bear to look at the painful expression on Rudy's face, so without caring for anything, she kissed him on the lips and hugged him tightly.

But she later thought doing that in front of the school gate, where everyone could see them, wasn't exactly a good idea. So she asked Rudy to take them to the school's rooftop by the water tank.

No one came to the rooftop as it was an elementary school, and the kids were restricted from going to the rooftop. Besides, the door was locked, and only teachers could come there.

Elena had no teaching classes until recess, so she could spend time with Rudy without worrying about anything.

"Hey..." She rubbed his back and said, "I might not be enough for you, but I am always there for you. You pretend to be adult and mature, but come on... you are just a teenager who has all these responsibilities on your head.

You don't have to live like that. I have been trying to say this, but..." Elena bit her lips and said, "I think you should move on from your past life. It's holding you back. This universe is different, and you have done well.

You have already saved their lives. Don't stress yourself over it. We are the same; I also think every opportunity is my responsibility, and when I fail at that, I blame myself. I have no right to say this to you, but... you have no need to worry about the people who don't matter to you.

Your harem loves you, and they are with you... well, not right now, but they are. Stop worrying about others. I will do the same. I will try my best to be there for you. So Rudy... let's enjoy our time together."

"..." Rudy hugged Elena back and said, "I may be a teenager, but I was an adult in my past life."

"You are a young adult who has just finished university. It's no different than finishing high school. You just had a little more experience, and that's all. You may have unimaginable power, but don't forget that you are still a kid compared to many other adults."

"Then you are a kid too."

Elena chuckled and said, "But I am teaching kids while you are... making kids."

"Oh, come on. None of my harem members are pregnant yet."

"Do you do something?" she asked hesitantly.

"Well, most of my harem members are still young— as in, like between nineteen to twenty-three. The vampire gang is not, but it's complicated for them."

Rudy laid down on his back and looked at the sky before saying, "You know, last night, I realized something."

Elena also lay beside Rudy and asked, "And that is?"

"In 2008, Rias wasn't telling Jane that she was aware of everything, which wasn't like Rias. Usually, she would go mad and confront Jane immediately, but she didn't even though she had so many chances to do that.

I.. got annoyed at her for doing that and asked her why she wasn't telling. To which she got angry at me in return. However, now I realized that she was simply stalling."

"Stalling what?"

"Well, Rias already knew about my relationship with Jane and about my harem, as I told her in this timeline, so she was lying to me about how she caught onto that. Rias didn't tell Jane because she was waiting for me to remember everything— to time travel to 1989— as she was aware of the risks of telling me. It was all a misunderstanding."

"But that's not your fault because you didn't know anything either."

"Yup."

Rudy and Elena stared at the sky but avoided looking at the sun.

"Rudy."

"Hmm?"

"Can I request something?"

"Sure."

"I want to have your child."

Chapter 569: Elena's Fear

"..."

"Can you impregnate me?" Elena asked with a resolute expression on her face.

"No."

"Why!? I want to have your baby~!" Elena rolled beside Rudy and said, "Is it because I am only 18?"

"That's one of the reasons, yeah. But the real reason is that I am in 1989. I don't want to impregnate a girl in the past timeline. Imagine, my son or daughter would be around my age in 2008. How fucked up is that?"

"But one day, you will eventually return to 2008 without telling me. Every time I see you and say goodbye to you, I feel like that could be my last time seeing you in 1989. It's scary, you know?"

Elena would surely feel the same way Rudy felt while bidding farewell to Rias. What's more, is that Elena would remember everything, unlike Rias.

"Knowing that you could disappear at any time but not knowing when... that's worse than just saying goodbye." Elena chuckled wryly and continued, "So if I have your child in my womb, I would rest assured. Honestly, all this still feels like a dream to me.

What if you are not real? What if none of this is real, and I am simply dreaming or hallucinating?

You have no way to prove that because you have superpowers and you can do anything.... which.... obviously, isn't normal. Maybe I have just gone insane, and I am seeing things?

I would never know. A Human brain is as complicated to understand as time travel is. And to prove that you are real, I want you to leave something of yours behind. I want you to leave your seed in my womb."

Elena looked into Rudy's eyes and muttered, "Please? I will never ask you anything else."

Rudy smiled forcefully and shook his head.

"I can't. I can't... Elena. I want to... trust me... but... I can't. I know it's very selfish of me to ask you to wait for me for 18 or 19 years. I am sorry, Elena. I wish there could be a way to change that.

Even though I have unparallel powers, I can't do what you want me to do. What good is my power when it can't help me fulfill my lover's wish?

You know... sometimes, when I am sleeping at night, I wonder if I am doing the right thing with you. Had we never met.... you wouldn't be going through all this. You are even doubting your sanity here.

I now realize how much it affects you. I am sorry, Elena. I didn't mean any of that. And I am also sorry for being selfish. I don't regret meeting you and falling in love with you. And I hope you feel the same."

Elena kissed Rudy on the lips and placed her head on his chest.

"No, you have nothing to apologize for. I am the one who should apologize for being so selfish. You are having a hard time, and here I am being annoying to you. And yes... meeting you was the best thing that has ever happened in my life. Please, don't stop loving me.

Even if you were to disappear right now... at this moment, I would cry... but I will wait for you. I would have grown old, and I might have some wrinkles on my face, but I hope you can love me as much as you love me now, even.

I will not ask you to impregnate me, but can you at least leave something behind as a sign?" She asked in a quiet and sweet voice.

"Yes. And I know exactly what I have to leave behind..." Rudy took out the wallet Eric had given him and handed it to Elena.

"A wallet?"

"Yes. This wallet is the reason the time travel was triggered. I found it at Jessica's grave."

Elena inspected a wallet and found the family picture.

"I saw this moment when you shared your memory. Jessica was also standing in front of you, right?"

"Yes. She was quite sad when she didn't appear in the photo."

"Rebecca has become so beautiful. No wonder you have hots for her."

"Please, don't mention it. It's still weird and awkward," Rudy sighed.

"What about Lucy?" Elena asked curiously.

"What about her?"

"Do you have hots for her too?"

"No... what the— what's wrong with you? She is my sister, dammit. Keep your incest fetish to yourself," Rudy retorted.

"She is your step-sister. And the way you retorted makes it more convincing." Elena scoffed softly and muttered, "I wouldn't be surprised if she ended up in your harem."

Elena then took out the paper in which Eric had written the company names for investing money.

"What's this?"

"It's the list of company names which you can invest in. You can keep it. Or even invest money in them. Moreover, this list is future-proof since it's... well, from the future." Rudy scoffed and remarked, "You would probably be a multi-millionaire in 2008 if you invest now."

"Hmm~" Elena looked at the list and muttered, "Maybe I will."

Rudy raised his brow as a sudden thought crossed his mind.

'Could it be that Elena is actually... no, let's not think about it. Not now.'

THUD!

Suddenly, there was a loud thud noise.

Rudy and Elena sat up and glanced around, but only Rudy could see using his vision ability.

"Who are they?" Rudy muttered.

"Hmm?"

"Two people came to the rooftop."

A few seconds later, one male and a female came into Elena's sight.

"Oh. They are teachers here."

"What are they doing on the rooftop? Could it be that these two are..."

"I am not sure. But surely, not everyone is a pervert like us who would do such things anywhere."

The two teachers talked for a while and began making out on the rooftop.

"Yup. They are here to have fun."

Rudy and Elena watched the couple kissing aggressively. Soon, the man unzipped his pants while the female raised her skirt and sat on the man's lap.

"Are they seriously going to have sex on the school's rooftop?" Elena whispered to Rudy.

"Who cares?" Rudy once again laid down with Elena, but the couple started moaning and groaning, so he teleported to a different location with Elena.

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 570: One Year Later

A year had passed since Rudy time traveled to the 1989 timeline, and his relationship with Elena only got better and better over time, and they spent most of their time together with each other.

A few months after Rias returned to the Vampire World, one of the female teachers had taken six-month maternity leave, and the school urgently needed a new teacher.

Rudy grabbed the chance and became the teacher at Jessica's school. And because of that, the two girls were happy. The first one was obviously Jessica, who got to spend more time with Rudy, but she was also annoyed by the fact that Rudy was extra harsh on her.

And the second girl was Elena, who couldn't be happier as she was now working with her lover, but she was also worried about someone else finding out about their relationship.

However, the dean of the school happened to be Anthony, so Rudy wasn't worried in the least.

Every morning, Rudy woke up, got ready, and made breakfast for the girls. He would drop Jessica off, but now he worked at the same place and spent the rest of the day at school with Elena and Jessica.

The school faculties had to stay one more hour after school, so Jessica would wait for Rudy in Elena's office. And that always ruined Elena's plan to have fun with Rudy in her office.

But that didn't stop Elena from spending alone time with Rudy. She would take him on the rooftop in recess, but Jessica one day insisted on eating with them, which later became her routine.

So the only time Rudy and Elena could have fun was when they were alone and didn't have any classes to teach, but that was a rare occurrence as whenever it was a free period for Elena, Rudy had classes.

Elena's hopes soon crashed when she realized that working with Rudy made no difference than not working with him. Some school days even passed when they couldn't see each other because of time restraints, although they would spend the night together.

After school ended, Rudy would leave with Elena and Jessica but soon teleported to the house when no one was around. Jessica enjoyed teleporting so much that she became lazy.

She also demanded many things to eat and places to go, as Rudy could take her there whenever she wanted. Seriously, she was spoiled to the core from the very start.

After reaching home, Elena would spend the rest of the day at Rudy's house. Rebecca would also come home after her school and rest for a while before doing her homework. And since Elena also stayed there, Jessica was forced to do homework every day.

Sometimes, when Jessica and Rebecca were busy doing homework in their room, Elena and Rudy would have fun in secret. But they were once caught on the couch by Rebecca.

No, they weren't being careless or doing anything questionable in the living room. But they were caught flirting and touching each other when Rebecca was supposed to be doing homework in the closed room.

Since that day, Rudy and Elena never flirted unless they were alone. But of course, Elena wasn't content with that. For her, if she was with Rudy and didn't get to flirt with him, then it was the same as not being with him.

Elena's obsession with Rudy had also increased a lot with her love for him, but Rudy had no complaints. After all, he wanted the same thing as Elena.

So eventually, he decided to have his own room upstairs, but it had no bed. Of course, he could just copy the bed from Rebecca's room and paste it into his room, but in 2008, his room had a single bed. And if he got a double bed for his room, there would be no space to put anything else.

Hence, Rudy and the three girls went shopping the following weekend. There were many beds, and Rudy could have bought any of them, but he was looking for a specific bed that matched his bed in 2008.

After spending the entire day going to different shops and neighboring cities, Rudy finally found the bed. But it was expensive as it was a limited edition bed from a popular brand.

Rudy found that ridiculous, but he still bought the bed as he wanted and had unlimited money to spend.

The shop owner said that it would be delivered on the same day, but when Rudy told them the address, and the shop owner realized that it was two cities away, they rejected the delivery.

However, that pissed Elena off, and she started talking about the policies and consumer rights. The owner later agreed to get it delivered but said it would take three to four days, and with extra charges, of course.

But Rudy turned them down and said he would take care of it on his own.

When no one was around, Rudy touched the bed, shrunk it to miniature size, and teleported to the house. Then, he went upstairs to the room and enlarged the bed to its original size.

Now, Rudy had his own room— although Elena seemed more happy and excited than Rudy himself.

Ever since that day, Rudy and Elena would spend their time alone in the room behind the closed door while Rebecca and Jessica did their homework downstairs.

But for some reason, the more time Elena spent with Rudy, the more enraged Rebecca became. She felt like Elena was stealing Rudy from her, and he would eventually leave them behind for Elena.

After spending time with Rudy, Elena would make food for everyone, and Rudy would help her sometimes. Elena also made food for her grandparents at Rudy's house and later packed the food when she returned to her house.

Of course, Rudy would later visit Elena every night and have premium fun for a few hours.

Not only that, but Rudy had also evolved his abilities in the said year.
