Chapter 61: Wild Night

Rudy stripped his clothes within a second and pushed Angelica on the bed.

Usually, Rudy would do some foreplay to make Angelica wet, but currently, her cave was dripping with juice.

Angelica spread her legs and said, "Punish me, master~"

Rudy looked at Angelica's face, then moved his gaze to her perfectly carved breasts. He squeezed them for a while but didn't insert his snake in Angelica's cave.

"You can squeeze them while fuking me, too~!" Angelica started moving her body up and down out of desperation.

It seemed as though she would go insane if Rudy didn't inject her with his snake soon.

"I am thinking of what position I should try tonight," Rudy uttered while pinching Angelica's nipples.

"You can think that while fucking me~!"

Rudy laughed out loud after seeing Angelica beg like that. However, that just turned him on even more.

As usual, Rudy rubbed the tip of his snake at the entrance of Angelica's cave, but Angelica was so wet that his snake ended up going all the way into the back of her cave in one go.

"Yes~ I have been wanting this for so long~"

Rudy started thrusting his hips back and forth at a steady pace. He played with Angelica's breasts and said, "Did you forget we had sex for three hours in the mountains just before we went to the casino."

"That was long ago~" Angelica started moving her body up and down for extra pleasure. She wrapped her legs around Rudy's waist and said, "If I don't get injected once in an hour, I will go insane~"

"That sounds like a scary disease. Let me shoot some serum inside your body," Rudy said with a grin on his face.

"Yes~ Shoot it deep inside me~ Fill me up with it~"

After a few minutes of slow humping, Rudy released serum to cure Angelica. However, that made her more horny.

"It was just a warm-up, right?" she asked with an alluring gaze in her eyes.

"Obviously." Rudy sneered and pulled out his snake from Angelica's cave.

"Have you decided what position we are going to try?" she asked.

"I want you to ride me, but let's do what after a few rounds." Rudy turned Angelica around and pulled her lips up.

He placed her on her all fours and adjusted her position to a doggy style.

Angelica twerked and said, "You really like doing me from behind, don't you?"

Rudy plunged his snake inside Angelica's cave and grabbed her by the waist. Then, He moved her body back and forth while he himself thrust his hips in the uniform motion.

Rudy increased his thrusting speed and said, "I can control your body in this position, and I know you like it from behind too."

"Mnh~ I can't get enough of this feeling~" Angelica moaned. "Your dick is magical~ I wouldn't be surprised if you have a super dick too."

"Heh!" Rudy snorted and said, "Funny how my girlfriend— Elise, once said the same thing."

"But it's true. Your dick can make any girl submit to you~"

Rudy moved his hand from Angelica's waist to her breasts and squeezed them.

"You love boobs, don't you?"

"Who doesn't..."

"So you are the boob guy~?" Angelica asked while moaning.

"No."

"So you are the ass guy?" Angelica wondered.

"To be honest, I am not sure myself. But I think I am more of a thigh guy. Thigh supremacy!"

Rudy moved his hand to Angelica's shoulders and pulled her up. He wrapped his arm around her chest and kept humping her.

Angelica looked up and puckered her lips as though she wanted a kiss. But Rudy didn't kiss her and stared at her with a grin on his face.

Angelica frowned her face and said, "I hate this side of you! Why do you tease me like that in the middle of sex?"

"I might be a hidden sadist." Rudy kissed Angelica on the lips and increased his speed as he was about to shoot his serum once again.

After the kiss, Angelica looked at Rudy with slutty eyes and said, "Are you going to cum?"

"Yeah."

"I am going to cum too~ Let's cum together~"

Rudy focused on humping Angelica as he got closer to cumming.

"Anm~ Mnh~ Nn~ Mm~" Angelica moaned in pleasure.

"I will go a little rough."

"Yay~"

Angelica got tight after hearing that. Her cave walls clenched Rudy's snake from all the sides and crushed it.

With every thrust, Rudy rubbed his snake and made his way deeper into Angelica's cave. It was like he was digging a deeper hole into Angelica's cave using his snake.

After a few thrusts, Rudy once again released his load inside Angelica's cave.

"Aan~!" Angelica also orgasmed after receiving the dose from Rudy's injection.

Rudy kept his snake inside Angelica's cave and continued humping her at a slow pace.

"Wait... I am—anh~!"

The moment Angelica came back to her senses, Rudy increased his speed and railed her for a few minutes before creampieing her once again.

"Mmnh~!"

However, Rudy didn't stop there.

He pulled out his snake from Angelica's cave and turned her around on her back.

"Let me take a— mnh~!"

"Even though you are saying that, your pussy is inviting me in," Rudy said with a grin on his face.

"That's because it feels so so good~"

Rudy started pounding Angelica's cave like crazy and railed her senseless. He did what he has sworn to do.

In the next thirty minutes, Angelica orgasmed over five times.

After shooting his load inside Angelica again, Rudy laid down on his back and asked Angelica to ride him. But she could not move after a few rounds, so Rudy took the lead again.

As the time passed, Rudy got rougher, and Angelica's moans got louder and louder.

Rudy was truly glad that no one could hear Angelica. Otherwise, she would wake up the entire neighborhood with her loud and sexy moans.

That night, Rudy was so rough that he broke the bed. However, luckily, he had the restoration ability that allowed him to restore anything as long as it was within the one-minute time limit.

Rudy used the restoration ability on the bed and continued nailing Angelica. They continued their session for the entire night and broke the bed a few times.

Chapter 62: Exciting Morning

It was early morning, and Rudy was lying naked on the bed. Suddenly, he opened his eyes because of a certain feeling.

"..." He grunted in pleasure as he thought, 'What is this heavenly feeling?'

Rudy looked between his legs to see Angelica sucking his snake with a delighted look on her face.

"..."

"Yu wok up?" she said with Rudy's snake still in her mouth.

"This feels incredible..." Rudy grunted and said, "I never thought I would live a day where I woke up while receiving a morning blowjob. This is the dream of all the men in the world."

Angelica pulled out Rudy's snake from her mouth and said, "I don't mind waking you up with a blowjob. But I will be mostly sleeping during this time."

Angelica continued sucking Rudy's snake after saying, "But did your girlfriend not wake you up like this?"

"She never gave me a blow job, remember? I told you before."

"Right." Angelica played with Rudy's snake with her tongue and said, "You have been meeting so many girls recently that I forgot about it."

Rudy raised his brows and squinted his eyes at Angelica. He was about to say something, but he heard footsteps approaching his room, so he grabbed the blanket and covered himself and Angelica.

Soon, the door opened, and Rebecca walked in.

"Oh! You are awake!" Rebecca said with a smile on her face. "Come on, get up. I want to talk to you about—"

Rebecca stopped after looking at Rudy and asked with a judging look on her face: "Why... are you sleeping like that?"

"Well..."

Rudy couldn't speak properly because Angelica was still sucking him off without any care in the world, as even if Rebecca caught them, it would be Rudy getting in trouble and not her.

Angelica enjoyed seeing Rudy in problematic situations, after all.

Since Angelica was giving him a blowjob of death, Rudy couldn't lay flat with his back on the bed. Otherwise, Rebecca would easily see the shape from the blanket.

That's why, Rudy laid on the side and spread his legs under the blanket to hide the movement of Angelica's head.

However, it was still suspicious.

Rebecca furrowed her brows and said, "Remove the blanket."

"But it's so cold."

Obviously, that excuse wasn't going to work since Rebecca had caught him naked once, and he said he was feeling hot.

Suddenly, Angelica increased her sucking speed because Rudy's snake had started twitching. She wanted to drink his juice as her morning breakfast. Due to that, the back of Angelica's head accidentally hit the blanket, and it moved.

After noticing the blanket moving from that spot, Rebecca squinted her eyes and uttered, "Please tell me you are not doing what I think you are doing."

Rudy decided to play dumb and said with an awkward smile on his face: "What do you mean?"

Rebecca frowned her face and walked to the bed to pull the blanket.

After seeing that, Rudy's heartbeat got faster as Rebecca got closer to the bed.

'This is bad. If she pulled the blanket, not only would she see me naked, she would also see my dick getting wet and moving up and down with the skin,' Rudy panicked.

Rebecca moved her hand to the blanket, but just as she was about to do that, her phone rang from downstairs.

RING~ RING!

Rebecca stopped and looked at the stairway, but her face looked as though she was expecting the phone call.

She turned to Rudy and stared at him with a judging look on her face.

"I think you should answer the call before it stops ringing," Rudy said in a calm voice.

SIGH!

Rebecca walked out of Rudy's room after saying, "Go take a bath and get ready for school."

After confirming Rebecca had reached downstairs when the phone stopped ringing, he assumed she had reached downstairs.

Rudy threw the blanket to the side and grabbed Angelica's head with his hands. He moved his back and forth, and after a few seconds, he filled Angelica's mouth with his fresh cream."

Angelica slowly swallowed everything and looked at Rudy with a mischievous grin on her face.

Rudy shook his head in disbelief and said, "You promised you wouldn't cross limits."

"But I didn't!" Angelica retorted. "I was sucking you off long before your mom came in."

"But you didn't stop either. Do you have any ideas what would have happened if mom had actually caught us?" Rudy facepalmed himself and muttered, "I honestly don't know either."

"But it was exciting, right?" Angelica asked curiously.

"No, it wasn't."

Angelica grabbed Rudy's balls and said, "But you did cum earlier than usual."

"Take your hands off my ball. You are going to kill my future children," Rudy muttered.

Angelica went inside Rudy's body to sleep since she had been awake for the entire night because of her all-night-long love session with Rudy.

"I didn't get any sleep either," Rudy sighed. "Let's hope I don't fall asleep during class."

Rudy wore his clothes, took a bath, changed his clothes to his school uniform, and ate breakfast with Rebecca.

He glanced at Rebecca from the corner of his eyes and asked, "So, you wanted to talk to me about something?"

"Let's talk about it after we eat breakfast," Rebecca said with a serious look on her face.

'She is all serious. I have never seen her like this. I wonder what she wants to talk about,' Rudy uttered inwardly.

After eating breakfast, Rudy and Rebecca went to the living room.

"Sit," she said.

Rudy sat on the couch and stared at Rebecca with a puzzled look on his face.

"Close your eyes," she ordered.

'What's with her? She is freaking me out!' Rudy panicked and closed his eyes.

"Don't open them unless I say so, okay?"

"Okay...y..."

Rudy gulped down and waited for Rebecca to do something.

'Why is my heart beating so fast?! I feel anxious for some reason.'

Chapter 63: [Bonus] Rebecca's Secret

'Why did mom ask me to close my eyes?' Rudy wondered. 'Didn't she say she wanted to talk about something? So why is there any need for me to close my eyes? I don't understand.'

Rudy was freaking out because something like that had never happened in his past life.

'Wait... could it be that she....' Rudy shook his head as he threw that thought out of his mind. 'What am I thinking?!'

After a few seconds, Rebecca said, "You can open your eyes."

Rudy opened his eyes to see Rebecca standing in front of him with her hands on her back as though she was hiding something in her hands. But why did she ask him to close his eyes?

However, that's not what surprised Rudy the most.

Rebecca was squirming a little with an anxious look on her face as though she was eagerly waiting for something, but she was nervous as well.

Rudy didn't hurry and let Rebecca speak.

Rebecca moved her hands from her back and revealed what she was hiding.

It was an old book that looked like a diary. Its pages had turned yellow, and the condition of the diary showed it was maintained well over the years.

But why was she showing that to Rudy?

"Do you know what this is?" Rebecca asked.

"Ummm... I am not sure I do..." Rudy replied awkwardly, but he chose to answer honestly.

"Do you... remember this book...?" Rebecca asked with an anxious look on her face.

'Why is she acting so nervous? I feel like I would mess up a big-time if I do something wrong.'

Rudy pondered for a while and tried his best to remember the book, but it was useless. It was his first time seeing the book, so it was impossible for him to know what it was or who it belonged to. But Rudy assumed it must belong to Rebecca.

"Is it a storybook or something?" Rudy guessed.

SIGH!

Rebecca let out a weary sigh and said, "It's fine. Don't worry."

"..." Rudy felt a sting in his heart after looking at the disappointed look on Rebecca's face.

"Maybe it's still too early?" Rebecca muttered under her breath, but Rudy's keen sense made him able to hear that.

"What's in it, mom?" Rudy asked with a curious look on his face.

Rebecca hit the book behind her back and said, "It's nothing."

'It's still too early for him to see it. I don't want to create a paradox!' Rebecca uttered inwardly, but Rudy heard it using telepathy.

No, he didn't do it purposely. He would never use his powers on his loved ones, especially on Rebecca.

But after fooling around with his telepathic ability, Rudy had learned that he could hear people's thoughts if they were directed to him one way or another, directly or indirectly. And since Rebecca uttered inwardly while targeting her words at Rudy, he heard them.

'What does she mean by it's too early for me? What is in that book?!' Rudy's curiosity for that book was climbing the roof. But since Rebecca didn't want to show him, he wouldn't force his way to look into it.

"You can go now," Rebecca said in a monotonous tone. "I will also sleep. I am exhausted."

"Okay, mom," Rudy nodded and went upstairs to grab his bag.

He came down a second later to see Rebecca was reading the book.

Since Rudy didn't make any noise while coming down the stairs, Rebecca didn't realize Rudy was standing a few feet away from her.

"I am leaving, mom."

Rebecca jolted in surprise after hearing Rudy's voice, and the book slipped from her hand. She tried to catch it, but it bounced on her hand and ended up falling between Rudy's feet.

"...!" Rebecca immediately rushed and grabbed the book before Rudy could see anything.

However, Rudy had already seen something.

On the first page of the book, There was a letter 'R' and 'R' with a heart around them.

After saying 'goodbye' to Rebecca, Rudy left the house and made his way to Alice's house.

Rudy had promised Alice that he would pick her up every morning, so he was walking there.

Rudy wanted to teleport near Alice's house to save time, but since he hadn't visited Alice's house in this life yet, he had to walk all the way to save the location.

'What's 'R' and 'R'?' Rudy wondered. 'Since it looks like a diary, there are chances that one 'R' is for Rebecca and another R for...?'

"Dad's name didn't start with 'R'. So...? Maybe 'R' for Rudy?" Rudy facepalmed himself and muttered, "Why would there be my name? The diary is probably older than I am. And the heart doesn't make sense."

Meanwhile, Rebecca went into her room with the diary in her hand and walked to the closet. She opened the closet, and her gaze fell on the open wooden box.

Seemingly, she had taken out the book from there.

The box itself looked ancient, and it had beautiful carving on it that seemed hand printed. There was an old videotape in the box that needed a recorder to play it.

Rebecca placed the book inside in the box and closed it. Then, she closed the closet door and muttered, "Why doesn't he remember?"

Rebecca got on the bed and curled up under the blanket.

"Even though he promised he would remember me. But if he doesn't, that means now is not the correct time," she muttered.

Rebecca stared at the ceiling and uttered, "I wonder if he has already gotten the powers. He probably hasn't. Otherwise, he would tell me."

Rebecca smiled wryly and murmured, "If Jessica was alive, she would have probably called him a liar and what not."

Suddenly, a tear rolled down from Rebeca's eyes as she said, "I can't fathom how he would react when he gets to know about this. But... I think he knew..."

While thinking about that, Rebecca eventually fell asleep.

Chapter 64: Picking Up Alice

DING~ DONG!

Rudy rang the doorbell of Alice's house and waited for a reply.

[Who is this?] a male voice asked out of the intercom.

"Umm... this is Rudy. You might know me," Rudy said in a calm tone.

[Rudy...]

"Yes..."

[Rudy as in... Rebecca's kid. Am I right?] the voice asked.

"Yes."

[Why are you here? It's been years since you last visited Alice.] The voice was a little raspy, as though the person speaking was exhausted.

"I will be coming here every morning from now on," Rudy said in a confident voice.

[Oh? Did you court my daughter or something?] he asked with a hint of curiosity in his voice.

"Not yet."

[Tch! And I thought you were different. But good luck, I guess?]

"Uhh... how are you doing, uncle?"

[Why are you worried about an old man like me? I am doing good, thanks,] he responded in a calm voice.

"So, where is Alice?" Rudy then asked.

[She went upstairs as soon as the bell rang. So expect her to come— oh! Here she is.]

The front door opened, and Alice walked out of the voice. She looked at Rudy with a little flushed face and said, "Thanks for coming all the way to pick me up."

"No worries," Rudy smiled.

They made their way to the school but decided to go a long way because there was still some time left before the school opened. And besides, they both wanted to spend more time with each other.

Alice was walking with her gaze fixated on the ground and her hands on her bag straps.

'This is not the first time we are walking to school together. Alice always waited for me at the crossway, but this actually feels different.'

'I guess these small moments and feelings are what make the memories so precious.'

Rudy wanted to start a conversation with Alice since he had to progress with their relationship. But he didn't know what he should say.

"How's the school going?" he asked but instantly regretted that.

Alice squinted her eyes at Rudy and said, "We go to the same school, and we sit beside each other in the same classroom. I don't think you should be asking that."

"So I can't know how my precious friend is doing?" Rudy said with a dejected look on his face. "I guess I was just—"

"I am doing good!" Alice immediately answered.

Of course, Rudy was simply acting.

He glanced at Alice from the corner of his eyes and asked, "How's your father doing?"

"Good. He has stopped drinking, and he comes home on time. We watched a movie together last night, but I fell asleep since it was old and boring," Alice replied with a smile on her face.

Rudy looked up at the sky and muttered, "It's been six years, hasn't it?"

"Yeah..." Alice nodded.

Six years ago, when Alice, Rudy, Eric, and Erika were playing hide and seek at Alice's house, an incident happened.

For several days, it was on the news that the police were looking for three wanted criminals who had escaped from the prison. And just like always, the citizens ignored the news because, for them, it was nothing to do with them.

That tragic day, when Alice's mom was cooking lunch in the kitchen, and the kids were playing hide and seek outside, three men broke into the house to hide.

But since the kids were playing hide and seek, none of them realized because they were hiding in a tough spot where no one could find them.

It was Rudy's turn to find everyone, and he sucked at that. He searched for them for a few minutes, but he couldn't find them.

Since he couldn't find them outside, he thought he would find them in the house.

When Rudy walked into the house, he saw Alice's mom dead on the kitchen floor, and her body was covered in her blood.

Rudy froze and couldn't move. He didn't know what to do. He couldn't scream for help or make any moves because Alice and Erika were at the gun points of the criminals.

Eric was nowhere to be seen, but he also wouldn't be able to do anything.

At the same time, a miracle occurred, and Alice's father came home.

He had forgotten important papers, so he had come back to take them. When he parked the car outside, the criminals heard the noise. They hid Alice's mother's body and took Alice and Erika into the room.

"Go and don't let him get suspicious. If he finds out, these two girls will die! And after that, I will kill your family in front of you!" they had said to Rudy.

Rudy was just a kid at that time, and he was a scardey cat.

When Alice's father walked into the house, Rudy didn't let him enter the kitchen as there was blood on the floor.

Alice's father asked where the others were, and Rudy replied, "They are hiding because we are playing hide and seek."

However, Alice's father had seen the fear in Rudy's eyes. But he realized something was off— although he decided to act normal.

He went into his room and took the documents he had forgotten. Then he patted Rudy and drove off.

The criminals thought they were safe, but a few minutes later, the entire house was surrounded by police cars.

After driving off, Alice's father checked the footage on his phone, and he saw the footage of her wife getting killed by the criminals.

He immediately went to the police, and they took immediate action. The kitchen had a back door, from where the criminals tried to run.

Of course, the criminals threatened to kill Alice and Erika if they didn't let them go, but there was no guarantee in their words.

The three criminals were brothers, and they had killed many people, including their parents, siblings, and relatives because they didn't let them play their favorite game on the holiday night.

It was a precarious situation, and the cops couldn't afford to take any casualties in their hands. Hence, they agreed to the criminals' demand and asked them to let Alice, Erika, and Rudy go.

Of course, they knew they wouldn't do that. Otherwise, they would be captured again.

But something unexpected happened.

Eric, who had been missing, finally came out of the refrigerator. He had two oil sprays in his hand and he sprayed them on the criminals.

Then, he took out a lighter from his pocket and lit them up.

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 65: Mental Exhaustion

The criminals whose bodies were on fire started screaming in pain and ran out of the house.

The cops took the opportunity and shot the three of them dead.

Sure, it wasn't their say to decide to shoot them. But the three criminals were most wanted. Not only did they kill over 100 innocent people, but they also killed five police officers and escaped the prison right before their hearing in court.

Out of the five officers, one was the chief's son, and it was his first day on duty.

Maybe the chief's grudge was so personal that he ordered his team to shoot the criminals dead. But he was ready to receive any punishment.

The cops awarded Eric with a trophy for his bravery.

Eric had become the town's main attraction after that. He got himself in the newspaper that made him and the story famous.

Normally, anyone would be happy if that happened to them. But Eric was enraged.

When Alice's mother died, Eric was hiding in the kitchen. He saw the criminals kill her, and he couldn't do anything but cower in the corner of the room before hiding in the refrigerator for a few minutes.

Sure, it wasn't his fault, nor could he do anything. But Eric blamed himself because he was the one who entered the house first.

If he hadn't gone inside the house, the doors would still be locked, and the criminals wouldn't be able to break in. And even if they tried to break the door, Alice's mother would have gotten enough time to call the cops and hide.

Alice's father went into depression, and his company shares dropped drastically, which made him more depressed. He started drinking. He came home late. He had become a mess. But he slowly recovered and brought his company back to the top.

After the incident at Alice's house, a crack appeared in their friendship. They started meeting less and never went out to play.

They were still friends, and they still met each other at school, but they never spoke to each other. It took time, but slowly everything went back to normal.

Rudy and Alice were walking on the pavement when he looked at the traffic lights that were green.

It reminded him of the day he got into an accident.

'If I had seen the traffic lights that day, I wouldn't have died...'

Rudy was lost in his thoughts when he heard someone yell: "No!"

Rudy looked to the side to see a woman in her late thirties on the other side of the street.

She yelled because her three-year-old son ran to the middle of the street to grab the ball he was playing.

The lights were green, so of course, the cars were passing back.

HONK~ HONK!

The car honked as it saw the kid in the middle of the street.

The driver hit the break, but it was already too late. So instead, he decided to steer the wheel to the side to save the kid.

However, the side he chose was the pavement where Rudy and Alice were walking with dozens of other passersby.

Rudy activated his telekinesis and stopped the car from hitting anyone.

"..."

It wasn't the kid's fault. They have no intellect to make any decisions.

It wasn't the driver's fault either since the lights were green. He had tried to stop the car, but he couldn't hit the brakes on time. So he decided to steer the wheel to save the kid, but that could have cost more lives.

To save one kid's life, the driver would have accidentally killed more people.

In such cases, who was at fault?

Rudy had the same thought, but his mind wasn't working properly.

Rudy stumbled on his feet and bumped into Alice.

"Are you okay?!" she asked with an anxious and concerned look on her face.

"Yeah. I just... I was scared..." Rudy muttered.

"I was too. But thank god that the car stopped at the right time," Alice sighed in relief.

Rudy was indeed a little scared because the scene reminded him of his past life. But that also triggered his trauma. He still got nightmares whenever he slept, so Angelica mostly took turns while sleeping.

Angelica slept in the day while Rudy was awake, and Rudy slept at night after a few rounds of love sessions. That way, Angelica could keep an eye on Rudy in case he started emitting energy again.

However, that wasn't the case why Rudy was feeling unwell.

Rudy was awake for the past few days, and he barely got any sleep after his sessions with Angelica.

In the past few days, Rudy had constantly been using his powers to get accustomed to them.

He used his powers to do every simple task, such as turning off the lights or grabbing the pen from the desk using his telekinesis.

However, his powers came at a cost. It stressed him mentally and put a lot of strain on him.

While he could cure his physical exhaustion with his powers, he couldn't fix his mental exhaustion.

It was just like a scenario where a patient needed a specific group of blood. And someone suggested using the patient's blood on the patient.

Not only was it dumb and illogical, but it was also useless too. Rudy's powers came from his mental strength, so he couldn't use his mental strength to calm his mental stress.

The amount of mental strain depended on what power Rudy used.

Powers like flight, telepathy and see-through didn't affect him much— as well as all the super senses. But the powers like telekinesis, teleportation, and mind control exhausted him greatly.

The amount of mental exhaustion was the same as one would feel in physical exhaustion. For example, if one is watching television in the living room, and they suddenly want to drink water. So they would get up and drink water.

The exhaustion they felt after getting up and doing work would be the same as Rudy would feel if he used his telekinesis power to get the glass of water, but it would exhaust him mentally.

Of course, the bigger and longer telekinesis was used, the more strained Rudy would feel.

His current condition was because of stopping the car from hitting anyone.

"Are you okay?" Alice asked again.

"How much... time left before school?" Rudy asked.

Alice looked at her watch and said, "Ten minutes."

"Let's go to the park and rest for a bit."

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 66: Exchanging Juice

Alice and Rudy went to the nearby park.

Since it was morning, many people were around doing yoga, exercising, and jogging.

It was hard to find an empty bench, so they had to walk for a while in search of one.

After finding the bench, Rudy and Alice sat beside each other.

Alice wanted to ask if he was feeling alright, but Rudy's head was banging from the inside.

His superpowers were going insane in his mind, and he was slowly losing control. It wasn't something dangerous since this had happened once before too.

Rudy simply needed a little rest.

He leaned back on the bench and covered his face with his hands because the sunlight was making him annoyed.

He closed his eyes and slowed down his breath to control the blood circulation in his body.

Alice was getting anxious. She thought Rudy was having a stroke or something.

'I will get something for him to drink!'

Alice got up and dashed to the vending machine to buy drinks for Rudy.

Rudy opened his eyes and saw Alice leave, but his vision was blurry, and he couldn't figure out whether she was carrying her school bag or not.

'I have had a headache before; everyone does. But this is at least tens of thousands of times worse than that. I feel like my brain is boiling and being minced before creating a milkshake.'

Rudy sighed and muttered, "I can literally feel every tiny movement in my brain."

"Maybe I should take a day off?" Rudy wondered. "But today is the first time I am picking up Alice from her house to go to school. I don't want to ruin it for her."

After a few seconds, Rudy heard footsteps approaching him, so he opened his eyes and saw Alice standing in front of him with an innocent smile on her face.

"I bought drinks for you," she said.

Rudy looked at her hands and saw lemon juice in one hand and mango juice in another one.

"Which one do you want?" Alice asked in a gentle voice.

'Mango is my favorite, but Alice likes it too. So I will go with lemon,' Rudy decided and said, "I will go with lemon."

Even in a time like this, Rudy was being considerate of Alice.

He didn't want to repeat the same mistake again as his past life and neglect the girls who loved him. He was going to give them a happy ending, no matter what it took.

After drinking a few sips from the can, Rudy let out a loud groan and sighed deeply.

'I feel a lot better now.' Rudy looked at the ingredients on the can and wondered, 'Could it be that there is an element that can subdue my condition?'

"What's wrong?" Alice asked. She tilted her head to the side and looked into Rudy's eyes before asking, "That was a loud groan. But your facial expression looks a little less painful. Did the juice help you?"

"Yeah, it did," Rudy said with a smile.

"Thank god~!" Alice sighed in relief and started drinking the mango juice from her can.

Rudy watched Alice drink with her juicy red lips, and he couldn't take his eyes off her.

Alice noticed Rudy staring at her lips, but she thought he was looking at the can.

She raised her brows and uttered, "I know mango is your favorite, but I assumed maybe your taste had changed now."

"Nope. Mango is still my number one," Rudy uttered nonchalantly.

"Do you want to drink it?" She asked jokingly with a grin on her face

"Sure." The grin on Alice's face disappeared, and it was replaced with embarrassment.

Her face flushed as she stuttered, "I-I will g-go buy one for you—"

Alice stood up, but Rudy grabbed her hand and pulled her back.

"Can't I drink from yours?" Rudy asked with a grin on his face. "I just want to take one sip."

"Oka...y..." Alice reluctantly gave Rudy her can, but she couldn't stop blushing.

Rudy grabbed the can and searched for the spot from where Alice had drunk. He placed his lips on the same spot and drank one sip.

Then, he glanced at Alice from the corner of his eyes and saw her blushing redder than before.

'Am I going too far? Or maybe this is too early?' Rudy asked himself.

"Here." Rudy gave the can back to Alice and said, "Thank you."

"You... are well..come.."

Alice looked at the can and thought, 'Wasn't this an indirect kiss?! Why was Rudy so calm about it?!'

She glanced at Rudy and saw him drinking lemon juice with a delighted expression on his face.

'Am I the only one who is conscious of all this? I get that we are childhood friends, so he might not find it awkward, but... I want to be more than childhood friends.'

Alice drank a few sips and thought, 'Does he not realize my feelings? Maybe I should tell him?'

'But... I don't want to be direct. What if he doesn't like me back?' she asked herself. 'It will also ruin our friendship, and I will end up losing him.'

'I am happy with how things are right now. And besides, I don't think Rudy is in the mood to date anyone. He broke up with his girlfriend not long ago. I should give him some time.'

Alice always considered others' feelings before her own, which created a mentality in her mind.

'If I do good and be kind with others, good things will happen to me, and everyone will be kind to me too.'

That was Alice's mindset, and it got worse as she grew up.

It gave her false hope and expectations, which shattered, again and again, leaving her heart empty. In the end, that led to severe depression, and she later committed suicide.

'And I don't think he can spend his life if we start dating. I don't mind paying for dates and all, but I am sure he could feel conflicted.'

(Un)Fortunately for Alice, Rudy heard everything using telepathy.

Since Alice was thinking about Rudy, it acted on his telepathic ability.

Rudy smiled wryly and thought, 'She was always considerate of me. Even in small things. She was always by my side, and yet, I never noticed her love.'

'And when she confessed to me, I took that as a joke. I wasn't considerate of her.'

'But not this time...'

Rudy turned to Alice and smiled at her with a sad look on his face.

Alice gathered up her courage and asked, "Do you want to take one more sip?"

Rudy scoffed softly and said, "I will drink it directly from your mouth."

"Huh?"

Before Alice would never process what Rudy had said, she was stopped by a pair of soft lips on her juicy lips.

It took a while for Alice to realize that Rudy was kissing her. But when she did, the kiss had already ended.

Alice stared at Rudy with a flushed face and teary eyes. Her lips trembled as she said, "We are getting late!"

After saying that, Alice grabbed her bag and rushed her way to school.

Rudy looked at the juice can in his hand and muttered, "Did I mess up?"

Chapter 67: Making Up With Alice

When Rudy reached school and made his way to his classroom, he found Alice sitting on a different seat than usual.

She had exchanged her seat with her friend for a day.

"..." Rudy let out a weary sigh and muttered, "Yeah, I messed up."

Rudy wanted to apologize to Alice for kissing her out of a sudden without her permission, so he walked to the desk Alice was sitting at and stood there without saying anything.

Alice had her head resting on her hands on the desk, so she didn't realize Rudy was standing in front of her.

Rudy tabbed on her shoulder without speaking a word.

Alice thought it was someone else, so she looked up and saw Rudy standing in front of her eyes.

"Hey..." Rudy greeted her with an awkward smile on his face.

Alice immediately lowered her head and refused to look at Rudy.

"Umm... I am sorry..." Rudy uttered in a gentle voice but with a sad look on his face.

He was genuinely sad and angry at himself for doing that to Alice. He understood why Alice was angry.

However, Alice wasn't angry. She was simply baffled and embarrassed by a sudden development between her and Rudy.

Soon, the classes started and ended.

Rudy tried to approach Alice again during break time, but she ran away with her friend.

"..."

Eric glanced at Rudy from the corners of his eyes and asked, "Did you do something to her?"

"..."

"You didn't come to school together either," Eric uttered.

"..."

Rudy stayed silent and didn't reply to Eric. However, Rudy wasn't ignoring Eric. Rudy was so lost and focused on his thoughts that he didn't hear Eric.

'This looks serious...' Eric uttered inwardly. 'Should I talk to Alice about it? She loves Rudy, but Rudy is super dense. Maybe he did something stupid again and made her angry.'

'I can't see my two best buds fighting like that.'

Eric pondered for a while and decided not to interfere between them.

'It's her matter. I probably shouldn't butt in like that. It's for the best if they eventually make up because they suit each other, and I want to go to their wedding one day.'

Eric smiled after imagining that and thought, 'Maybe I should find myself a girlfriend too?'

Eric left the classroom after tapping Rudy's shoulders and said, "You can think while eating too."

Rudy followed Eric to the canteen and ate food while thinking about various plans to make up with Alice.

'What if I just confess my feelings to her?' Rudy thought.

Rudy glanced around the canteen to look at the wall that had a clock on it to see the time.

'There are still five minutes left before the break ends. I will quickly finish eating and find Alice.'

DING~ DONG!

'Hah?!' Zach looked at the time, and there were still 3 minutes left for the break to end.

"What's wrong?" Eric asked. "Let's go. We have a test in the next period."

Rudy sighed in disbelief and made his way back to the classroom with Eric. There he saw Alice sitting on her own seat, that was beside Rudy's desk.

'She is back?!'

Rudy was more than happy to see Alice back in her seat. His mood had cheered up, and he had forgotten everything.

Rudy sat on his seat and turned to Alice.

"Listen, I am really really—" Before Rudy could properly apologize to Alice, she stopped him.

"Not now. We will talk about it after school," she said with a smile on her face.

'She is smiling. And her face is a little flushed too. Does that mean she is not angry anymore?' Rudy wondered.

The lecture started, and the teacher distributed the papers.

'I had no idea there was a test today, but it did happen in my previous world. I just forgot about it. I mean, no one remembers the dates of the test of ten years ago,' Rudy scoffed softly and started writing the answers.

"The test is very hard, so I have taken permission from the principal to combine the next lecture too," the teacher asserted. "I am giving you one hour and twenty minutes to complete the test."

A male student raised his hand and said, "Sir, since the test is tough, does that mean the passing marks are also reduced?"

"Hmm..." The teacher hummed in wonder and nodded, "Good point, I didn't think of that."

After pondering for a while, the teacher said, "Alright. I reviewed the paper again and calculated the average score one could get. Out of 80 points, the average score would be around 35. So I am setting the passing marks as 30."

"That's too much, Sir!" a female student uttered.

"Is it? 30 is rather low, to be honest," the teacher remarked.

"Reduce it to 25, Sir. Otherwise, most students would fail, and you would be the one to blame," another male student commented.

The teacher raised his brows in curiosity and asked, "How would that be my fault?"

"You just got this job, Sir. So you might not know that if more than 40% of students in the class fail a subject, the teachers get blamed for poor teaching," a female student explained.

"Is that how it works?" the teacher muttered with a baffled look on his face. "If I knew, I should have made an easy test."

"Alright! I am setting the passing marks to be 25!" the teacher declared in panic.

Everyone tried their hand to solve the answers. Even the toppers were having a hard time since the questions were asked indirectly.

Most of the questions were from the textbook, but the teacher had asked them in a different way that left most students confused.

However, it wasn't tough for Rudy.

The teacher gave them one hour and twenty minutes to finish the test. But Rudy finished it in less than 15 minutes.

After finishing his test, he stood up from his desk.

Everyone's gaze turned to Rudy. But they were bewildered when they saw his answer sheet was filled.

"Rudy? What's wrong?" the teacher asked in a calm voice. "Do you need something?"

Rudy walked out of his desk and placed the answer sheet on the teacher's table.

"I am done, Sir."

Chapter 68: Making Up With Alice (ii)

'What?!' the teacher exclaimed inwardly. 'He finished the test in fifteen minutes? Impossible!'

Rudy went back to his seat and stared at Alice with a smile on his face, but that made Alice anxious. She couldn't concentrate or think straight when her crush was looking at her.

Meanwhile, the teacher was left speechless.

'If I remember his name correctly, his name is Rudy.'

The teacher was only a week old, and it was his third lecture in the class today.

The last teacher was on maternity leave, and he was selected as a substitute.

'Wait a minute. He said he finished the test. But that doesn't mean he actually attended every question,' the teacher thought. He looked at Rudy's answer sheet and muttered, "Let's check it."

The teacher was hoping to see an empty answer sheet with only a few words written, but he was baffled after seeing Rudy had written all the answers— even the ones that were optional.

The teacher turned the pages and wrote every line properly to confirm they weren't just random words. However, the more shocked he got, the more he doubted Rudy.

'Impossible! There is no way anyone can finish the test in 15 minutes! Even if he knew all the answers, it's impossible to write them down in such a short amount of time!'

The teacher was correct, and it was truly impossible to write a 30-page answer sheet in 15 minutes.

However, Rudy was superhuman, and he could do things ten times faster than a normal human. That too, without trying hard.

The pen Rudy used to write also stopped working because the point of the ballpen was handled roughly.

Usually, Rudy would have held back and tried to finish the chapter at the same time as others. But his mind was occupied with Alice, and he forgot about everything else. And before he had realized, he had finished writing the answers.

That wasn't enough for him, so he even submitted the answer sheet. Only after that he realized he had messed up a big time.

Rudy facepalmed himself and thought, 'I am sure he will think I cheated or something.'

'No matter how I look at it, Rudy cheated. But how? There is no way that the questions were leaked, so he couldn't have gotten the answers ready beforehand.'

The teacher could help but rub his head after thinking of various possibilities as to why and how Rudy completed the test so fast.

'Let's assume that he got the questions somehow, and even the answers. But there is no way he could have written everything in fifteen minutes. It's practically impossible!'

The teacher glanced at Rudy and thought, 'Unless... he already had the answer sheet ready...'

The teacher inspected the answer sheet properly to confirm it was fake or altered using cheap tricks. But after checking it and making sure it wasn't fake, the teacher was even more confused than before.

He thought about it until other students also started submitting their answer sheets. However, most of them submitted because they gave up on the test.

Once everyone had submitted the answer sheets, the teacher left, and the next lecture started.

Soon, all the lectures ended, and school was over.

All the students slowly left the class. Eric had club activity, so he left too, leaving only Rudy and Alice behind in the classroom.

Alice glanced at Rudy, but she averted her gaze when she noticed Rudy looking at her.

"So... you said we will talk about this after school..." Rudy uttered in a low voice, making sure not to be forceful or persistent.

"Umm..." Alice wanted to say something, but she got embarrassed and couldn't say it. She stood up and said, "Let's talk about it while walking home."

"Okay."

Rudy and Alice steadily made their way home.

'Even though we walk home almost every day, it feels so weird today...' Alice thought to herself.

She placed her hand on her lips and thought, 'That kiss... I still can't forget that feeling.'

'But... why did he kiss me? Was it by mistake?' she thought.

After walking for a while, they reached the park. But it wasn't on purpose.

Rudy was following Alice's lead, so she was the one who brought him to the park.

"This...is..." Rudy glanced around and asked, "Why are we here?"

Alice didn't say anything but simply stared at him with a flushed face.

'I can't use telepathy on her since she is not thinking anything currently...'

Rudy had a faint idea as to what Alice was trying to convey but couldn't put them into words. But he wanted to confirm. After all, he didn't want to mess up again.

Rudy pointed his finger at the vending machine and said, "I will go get something to drink. What do you want?"

"Mango... juice..."

Rudy walked to the vending machine and bought lemon juice for himself and mango juice for Alice.

"Here." he handed the mango juice to Alice with a smile on his face.

"Thanks..."

Rudy glanced around to find an empty seat, but most of them were either occupied, and some of them were half-occupied— not leaving enough space for two people to sit.

They stood under the shade of the tree where no one was around.

After drinking a few sips from his juice, Rudy looked at Alice and smiled at her.

'She is acting normal again,' Rudy sighed in relief.

Alice gathered up her courage and said, "Do you... want to drink my juice...?"

"Uhh... before that. I want to apologize for kissing you in the morning," Rudy said with his utmost sincerity.

"Why are you apologizing?" Alice asked in a low voice.

"Well, I kissed you without your permission and took your first kiss too..."

"But it wasn't my first kiss, though," Alice muttered.

"...!" Rudy was surprised to hear that. 'Wait, what...!'

He was having a reality crisis.

'Did things go differently in this world?! Who is that piece of shit who laid hands on Alice?!'

However, Rudy had forgotten that Alice had kissed him once before when they were kids. So he was cursing none other than himself.

Chapter 69: Making Out With Alice

"Who... was your first kiss..?" Rudy asked reluctantly.

"I will tell you if you tell me the reason you kissed me in the morning," Alice said with a grin on her face.

'Here she is! The cheeky and mischievous Alice I know!'

'What should I answer with?' Rudy asked himself. 'I can tell her that I kissed her because I love her, but that wouldn't change anything.'

'I have to make her confess to me, or she won't ever change or gain confidence to stand out for herself.'

'It would just be like a rich spoiled brat who gets everything he wants. Then, he thinks that he is the king. He would have a high ego and pride, but that's not the problem. He would think he is always right and others are wrong.'

'If I confess to Alice now, she won't ever change. Sure, I would save her from a bad ending. But it's not all about the ending. The story itself is more important.'

Rudy smiled wryly at Alice and thought, 'She is precious to me. When I heard she committed suicide in my past life, I was devastated. I even missed my important interview— although I never cared about that.'

'I was depressed for days. I couldn't sleep, and Alice's face kept flashing before my eyes. I even started ignoring my girlfriend for days. I visited Alice's grave every day and spent almost the entire day and night there, talking to her.'

'I wanted her forgiveness. I wanted a second chance, a chance to redo everything and save Alice. I wanted to take a different approach and make different choices. And here I am.'

'She is sitting right in front of me. She is smiling at me with her cute face. I thought I would never see her again. When I saw her again in this life, my emotions jumbled up. It took me a while to accept the reality.'

'If I give what Alice wants, she will never grow up mentally. And knowing Alice, she would be happy and satisfied with what she has. She would never ask for more.'

"Rudy? Alice called out to Rudy after noticing him staring at her for a few seconds. "Why are you staring at me with a sad look on your face? Is everything okay? She asked with a concerned look on her face.

Rudy placed his hands on Alice's cheeks and caressed them.

"What are you..." She stopped and closed her eyes.

"..."

Rudy rubbed his thumb on her lips and jumped his forehead on her forehead.

"...."

Alice puckered her lips as though she was waiting to receive a kiss.

'Screw it! Who cares how her story will go. I am going to write our story together. I will give her all the love she deserves. I will make her happy!'

Rudy pressed his lips against Alice's lips and kissed her.

The kiss in the morning was a simple kiss where only their lips touched a little. But this one was different.

Rudy inserted his tongue inside Alice's mouth and kissed her deeper. Alice also started kissing back, and they played with each other's tongues.

After the kiss, Rudy looked at Alice to see her looking at him with an alluring gaze in her eyes as though she wanted more.

Without wasting any time, they both kissed again.

Alice wrapped her arms around Rudy's neck and started kissing him passionately.

Rudy was surprised as he had never expected Alice to be so wild suddenly. But he realized that she might be in the mood.

After kissing for a while and exchanging each other's saliva, they stopped kissing and looked at each other.

Rudy was acting normally, but Alice was embarrassed.

She covered her flushed face with her hands and thought, 'What was that?! I suddenly jumped on him and started kissing him like crazy! But... the kisses felt so good...'

Alice peeked at Rudy from the gaps between her fingers and quickly covered her face again after seeing Rudy was staring at her.

"Alice..." Rudy called out to Alice in a calm voice, but Alice didn't respond.

'I have no idea how it turned out like this. I was supposed to apologize to her for kissing her in the morning, but I ended up kissing her more!' Rudy exclaimed inwardly.

'But she was kissing me back, so... she was okay with it, right? She even wrapped her arms around my neck to keep kissing me.' Rudy asked himself. 'According to my dating experience, if the girl responds with action and doesn't stop you, then that means she is okay with it.'

"Alice..." Rudy called her name again.

Alice hesitantly looked up at Rudy and muttered, "It was you."

"Hmm?"

"My first kiss... it was with you..." she muttered with a flushed face.

"When...? I don't remember...."

"We were kids." Alice shrugged her shoulders and said, "You were staying at my place, and we were sleeping in the same bed."

"Wait, wait, wait. How old are you talking about?" Rudy asked with a curious look on his face. "If we were old enough to know about what a kiss was, then I should remember it."

'And this should have happened in my past life too, right?' Rudy wondered.

Alice squirmed and said, 'We were seven.'

"Now I am more curious. How did we end up kissing?" Rudy asked.

"You are misunderstanding something." Alice shook her head and said, "I was the one who kissed you."

"Oh..."

"Let me guess..." Rudy squinted his eyes and uttered, "You kissed me when I was sleeping, am I right?"

Alice nodded with a flushed face and muttered, "It was a mistake. Our faces were so close and.. We were kids. We were innocent."

SIGH!

After knowing Alice's first kiss was none other than him, Rudy sighed in relief.

"So..." Alice looked at Rudy from the corner of her eyes and asked, "Why did you kiss me in the morning?"

Rudy smiled gently at Alice and said in a calm voice: "Because I love you."

Chapter 70: Confession

"..."

It took a while for Alice to comprehend what had just happened.

Her face flushed red as she stuttered: "W-w-what did you say?"

Rudy kissed Alice on the lips and said, "I love you."

Alice teared up after hearing that.

"Is this a dream?" she asked. She couldn't believe Rudy truly confessed to her. It was a dream come true situation for her.

Honestly, anyone would react the same way if their crush confessed to them.

"Do you want me to kiss you to prove it's not a dream?" Rudy asked with a soft scoff.

Alice nodded and muttered, "Give me a deep kiss so I can confirm it's not a dream."

Rudy gently brushed his thumb on her lips and said, "What would you do if this truly turns out to be a dream?"

Rudy wanted to know what Alice thought of all that since he wasn't sure if this was too early to make moves on Alice.

"I would be sad." Alice looked into Rudy's eyes and said, "My disappointment would be immeasurable, and my day... dreams would be ruined."

She wrapped her arms around his neck and continued, "Please... don't let this be a dream. And if it is a dream, then never let me wake up from this pleasant dream."

"Such deep words... you deserve much more. I will make your every dream come true."

After saying that, Rudy gently placed his lips on Alice's lips and kissed her. He started slow and steadily picked up the pace.

Alice started kissing him back with an alluring gaze in her eyes. It was almost as though she didn't want Rudy to stop. But Rudy didn't want to stop either.

Rudy was kissing his childhood friend he grew up with. She was almost like a sister to him. They did everything together and even shared clothes.

No, Rudy didn't wear girl's clothes. Alice wore Rudy's clothes.

Sometimes, Alice would stay over at Rudy's house and play a lot with him. She often said she wanted to marry Rudy when they grew up. But as they grew up, Rudy forgot all about that.

However, they were precious moments for Alice, and she remembered most of the things. Her crush on Rudy grew more and more, and it turned into like and later love.

However, she never got a chance to confess to him. Because of her shy nature, she hid her feelings and sarcastically directed them to Rudy, which he failed to pick up. But not anymore.

After the kiss, Alice sniffed with tears in her eyes and said, "This is not a dream."

"It's not," Rudy said in a calm voice and a gentle smile on his face.

"Everything is real..."

"It is," he said with the same expression.

"You are not lying, right?" Alice asked with a judging look on her face.

"Why would I lie about something so serious?" Rudy chuckled. He kissed her again and asked, "What about you? Do you love me?"

Alice didn't say anything but nodded a couple of times in response.

Rudy grabbed Alice's face in his hands and said, "That won't do. You have to say it with your mouth."

Alice gulped down in embarrassment and opened her mouth after gathering up her courage to say, "I... you..."

Rudy shook his head and said, "I want to hear it clearly."

Alice averted her gaze to avoid eye contact with Rudy and said, "I love... you."

"Alice..." Rudy uttered in a gentle voice. "Look me in the eyes and say it."

Alice looked into Rudy's eyes and uttered as her lips trembled: "I I-love..."

Alice stopped after saying that.

"Eli. I already confessed my love to you, right?" Rudy asked in a calm voice.

Alice noticed in return.

"So what are you afraid of? We kissed so many times, which is more embarrassing than confessing love, to be honest," Rudy scoffed.

Alice lowered her gaze but soon looked back into Rudy's eyes and uttered, "I love you, Rudy."

"That's my girl." Rudy grinned and kissed Alice.

Alice ALso kissed Rudy and said, "I love you."

"Yeah."

She hugged Rudy and uttered, "I love you."

"Yeah."

"I.. I love... you!" she said while crying.

"I know."

"I love you..." she sniffed.

"I know."

Rudy kept his voice calm and gently stroked Alice's back. He knew it was a precious moment for Alice.

But for Rudy, it was a life-changing moment. For the first time in his second life, he did something he didn't do in his past life.

Rudy had successfully branched a different story for Alice.

However, how many future events were affected by that?

At that time, Rudy had no idea, but his choice to confess to Alice ended up being one of the major and the best decisions of his life.

Alice kept hugging Rudy for a while, and they exchanged kisses for a while until the park got crowded.

Rudy walked Alice to her doorstep and said, "I will come tomorrow morning to pick you up."

"Yeah. See you tomorrow," Alice waved her hand at Rudy with a bright smile on her face.

Rudy turned around, and he was about to leave, but Alice called out to him.

"Rudy!"

Rudy turned around and asked, "Yes?"

Alice walked out to her house and rushed to Rudy. Then, she hugged him and said, "I love you."

"..." Rudy purposely didn't reply back.

Alice looked up and buried her chin on Rudy's chest.

"I love you," she said again, but this time is a little louder.

"..." However, Rudy still didn't reply.

Alice puffed her cheeks and glared at Rudy.

"I love you!" she yelled.

"You are supposed to kiss when you say 'I love you'," Rudy remarked.

Alice kissed Rudy and said, "I love you."

Rudy kissed her back and replied with a smile on his face: "I love you too."

They shared a few kisses before saying goodbye to each other.

Rudy wanted to teleport home, but he decided to walk since he didn't want his head to go crazy again.

Who knows, he might have ended up teleporting somewhere else?
