Chapter 71: Evening With Rebecca

Upon reaching home, he noticed that the doors were locked.

"Did mom go somewhere? She promised me that she would only do the night shift at the nearby convenience store," he muttered.

Rudy unlocked the door and walked in. He glanced around the table and the kitchen to see if Rebecca had left any notes, but she hadn't.

"Where did she go?"

Soon, Rebecca walked in the front door.

She was wearing formal clothes as though she had gone to a function or something.

"Where were you?" Rudy asked in a slightly annoyed tone.

"Court," Rebecca replied with a sigh. "I just got married."

"Oh! How did it go?"

Rudy walked to the kitchen and took out a water bottle from the refrigerator. He filled the glass and gave it to Rebecca.

"Nothing much. We simply had to sign on the documents and needed one witness. I was going to call you, but you were at school. So Joe had brought Lucy," Rebecca responded in a calm voice.

"So... when are they moving in?" Rudy asked hesitantly.

"Maybe next week. They got some issue with the landlord of the current apartment they are living in," Rebecca sighed.

"What happened?"

"Apparently, the landlord wants them to pay for the next month too, even though they are leaving at the end of this month," Rebecca stated. "He stated it was stated in the policy or something."

"Should I take care of it?" Rudy muttered.

"Hah?!" Rebecca scoffed and said, "What will you do?"

'She heard me...!'

"Let Joe take care of it. And besides, they have to move their stuff, so it's going to take a week anyway."

"I see..." Rudy nodded.

'Well, in my previous life, it took them a while to move in. But this landlord incident didn't happen.'

"Putting all that aside..." Rebecca turned to Rudy and said, "You are okay with this, right?"

"With what? Rudy played dumb.

"With this marriage, of course." Rebecca sighed and thought, 'This was supposed to happen as written in that diary. I have to follow it. Otherwise, I might change everything, and if that happens... I don't know what it would lead to...'

"Mom?" Rudy called out to Rebecca and said, "What's wrong?"

Rebecca shook her head and said, "I was worried that you might not be okay with this marriage."

Rudy raised his brows with a curious look on his face and asked, "What would you do if I say I am not okay with your marriage? Would you annul it?"

"I think it's too late to do that now." Rebecca smiled wryly and uttered, "So you are not okay with this?"

Rudy held Rebecca's hands in his hands and said in a calm voice: "It's not like that. If it was a normal marriage, I wouldn't have said anything. But you are marrying Joe for selfish reasons, right? You are doing this all for me, right?"

"Well..." Rebecca averted her gaze and replied, "It's more like I have to do it. I already talked to Joe about all this. And he told me that he has no interest in me and our marriage."

'I knew that already.'

"And... it's kind of embarrassing to say, and I am not sure if I should tell you about this, but..." After a brief pause, she said, "We don't plan to make our relationship intimate, so you don't have to worry about... you know..."

'I know that too. But I am glad to hear that Joe is impotent in this world too. I mean, it's bad... but I am glad,' Rudy uttered inwardly.

'Thank god. I cleared this up with him. Otherwise, he would have hated me once he remembered everything,' Rebecca uttered inwardly and sighed in relief.

'I just tried hearing what mom was thinking, but I couldn't hear it. I couldn't hear Alice's thoughts either.'

Rudy sighed and muttered, "I really need to work on my telepathy."

"By the way, you are fine with sharing a room with Lucy, right?" Rebecca asked with a curious and judging look on her face.

"Yeah, it's alright," Rudy replied instantly.

"..."

Rebecca gave Rudy a judging look and said, "Not going to lie, I was expecting you to resist a little or say something like 'can't she sleep in your room' or something. But surprisingly, you agreed to it as though you were already prepared for this."

"I kind of was." Rudy shrugged his shoulders and said, "Since I knew Lucy was going to move in, I expected her to stay in my room. We only have two bedrooms; one is yours, and one is mine. So obviously, you would choose mine."

"That makes sense." Angelica looked at the time and said, "Go take a bath. I will make dinner and then leave for work."

Rudy squinted his eyes at Rebecca and said, "You better not be working too much behind my back."

"I am not, geez! You are so overprotective sometimes," Rebecca groaned.

"I don't want my beloved mother to get hurt or exhausted. Just do one job at the convenience store, and that's enough for us. You should even take a few days off to relax," Rudy suggested.

Rebecca got up and walked to the kitchen after saying, "Go take a bath already."

Rudy grabbed his bag and went to his room. Then, he took out his night clothes from the closet and came downstairs to go to the bathroom.

Rudy was too lazy to take a bath, so he decided to dip into the bathtub and take a short shower later.

He stretched his body in the bathtub and muttered, "So many things happened today."

"I am glad I didn't screw up, and everything turned out well..." he sighed.

'What happened today? Did I miss something important?' Angelica asked from inside Rudy's body.

"You are finally awake? Come out, fast." Angelica came out from Rudy's body and got into the bathtub with him naked.

"So... what happened?"

"Alice and I made out in the park today..."

"What?!" Angelic exclaimed. "What's with the sudden development?"

"I know, right? I myself am surprised," Rudy said with a grin.

"So... how did it end up like this?" Angelica asked with a curious look on her face.

"Well... it just happened... I guess?" Rudy replied with a shoulder shrug.

"I want details!"

Rudy pulled Angelica close to him and kissed her on the lips before saying, "I will tell you everything while exploring your cave with my snake."

"Why are you hard?!"

Rudy swiftly penetrated his snake inside Angelica's cave and said, "After remembering all those kisses from Alice made me hard again."

"Anh~!"

Chapter 72: Two Days Later

"See you tomorrow!" Alice said cheerfully as she entered her house.

Rudy turned around and walked a few steps before stopping.

'Here it comes...' Rudy uttered inwardly.

"Rudy!" Alice called out to Rudy and dashed at him.

'She has been doing this for two days now!'

Alice jumped on him and kissed him on the lips. After a few kisses, she looked into his eyes and said with a smile on her face: "You are ready for tomorrow, right?"

"Yeah. I have been waiting for the weekend to arrive," Rudy replied with a grin on his face. Then, he kissed Alice on the cheek and said, "See you tomorrow."

Alice puffed her cheeks and stared at Rudy with a glare in her eyes.

"What's wrong?" Rudy asked with a mischievous smile on his face.

Alice tapped her finger on her lips and said, "You forgot something."

Rudy chuckled and kissed Alice on the lips. However, Alice still glared at it.

"You forgot to say I love you," Alice uttered in a low voice.

Rudy kissed her on the lips again and said, "I love you."

They both stared into each other's eyes with alluring gazes. And without speaking a single word, they jumped on each other and started kissing.

They kissed and kissed, and with each kiss, their mood rose.

Alice wrapped her arms around Rudy's neck and continued kissing him. While Rudy slowly moved his hand to Alice's waist and later to her hips.

He gently squeezed her hips which made Alice widen her eyes in surprise.

Rudy grinned at her and kept kissing. Then, he moved his hand forward to touch Alice's sacred place, but Alice suddenly pushed him back.

"I am sorry if I made you feel uncomfortable..." Rudy apologized.

Alice shook her head without saying anything and pointed her gaze behind her.

Rudy looked back to see Alice's father driving towards the house.

"Oh!" Rudy nodded at Alice and said, "I should probably leave."

"I love you!" Alice whispered violently and waved Rudy goodbye.

Rudy walked past Alice's father's car but didn't forget to nod at him from outside.

It has been two days since Rudy and Alice confessed their love to each other. And since that day, they have been kissing whenever they were alone.

However, it was mostly Alice who wanted attention. She was already cheeky and mischievous before that, but now that there were no barriers between their relationship, Alice was more straightforward—although she did get embarrassed from time to time.

Rudy wanted to teleport back home, but he decided to walk since he got in trouble yesterday.

Yesterday, after dropping off Alice, Rudy teleported back home. Everything was well until Rebecca woke up.

They ate dinner together, and when Rebecca was leaving for her night shift, she noticed the doors were locked from the inside.

Sure, that was something weird. But everything was the same as it was when she locked the door.

When Rebecca asked Rudy if he locked the door after returning from school, he replied with yes, but Rebecca wasn't convinced.

"Walking isn't bad either..." Rudy muttered.

Rudy decided to take a shortcut to home through the park.

While he was walking, he looked at the sky and muttered, "The sunset from this park has always been beautiful."

'Is that so?' Angelica uttered.

SIGH!

"Is this your daily schedule now?" Rudy asked with a sigh.

Angelica came out of Rudy's body and immediately hugged him.

"Good morning!"

"It's evening..."

"It's morning when I wake up." Angelica walked beside Rudy and asked, "So, how was your day today? Any development?"

"I guess we are progressing... maybe...?"

"When are you going to fuck Alice?" Angelica asked curiously.

"Slow down, you pervert! We just started dating two... days... ago..." Rudy's voice got lower as he spoke the last words.

Angelica noticed a reluctance in Rudy's voice, so she asked, "What's wrong?"

"Uhhh..." Rudy face-palmed himself and muttered, "I don't know if Alice and I are going out or not."

"According to what you told me the other day, none of you asked each other out. So... you are like... friends with benefits right now?" Angelica wondered.

"Of course not. Get your mind out of a gutter. We both were so lost that day that I forgot to ask her out." Rudy let out a weary sigh and said, "I will ask her tomorrow on our date."

"I expect some development tomorrow," Angelica remarked. "I will be sleeping during the day, so tell me everything in detail at night."

Rudy took out his phone and opened the contact list to search for something.

"What are you doing? Angelica asked in a calm voice.

Rudy didn't reply to her and kept scrolling through the list.

"I see, I see. So this phone is now more important than me." Angelica puffed her cheeks and said, "I am just your sex doll which you used to sate your lust."

"I am not ignoring you. I am just thinking of something while doing something. And don't you dare disrespect yourself or our relationship, never ever. Or I will get real angry," Rudy asserted in a solemn voice.

He looked at Angelica and said, "You have no idea how much I love you. You are an irreplaceable part of me. And I can't live a day without you."

After hearing that, Angelica's face flushed a little, and she went inside Rudy to hide her embarrassment.

'You caught me off guard!' she yelled.

"I was longing to see your flushed face. Now I feel satisfied," Rudy snorted.

'Shut up!' she shouted in embarrassment.

After a while, she asked, 'Did you find what you were looking for?'

"No."

'What are you even searching for anyway?' she asked curiously.

"I am searching for Maria's phone number. I didn't get a chance to check it. I mean, I highly doubt anyone checks their contact list. And since this is 2008, the technology is not as advanced as it was in 2021. I can't even search in the contact list, and I need to scroll down. It's annoying, to be honest, but I have to get used to it," Rudy sighed.

'Do you think Maria lied about entering her phone number and fooled you?'

"Actually, girls do that sometimes. I have seen Anon getting fooled a lot of times. But I don't think Maria would do something like that," Rudy responded. "And besides, I saw her typing the number."

Rudy pondered for a while and said, "What if she saved it with a different name?"

"Found her," Rudy muttered in disbelief. "She added it with a different name."

'What is it?' Angelica asked with a hint of curiosity in her voice.

"Sugar Mama...."

Chapter 73: Dinner With Rebecca

When Rudy reached home, Rebecca was already awake, and she was yelling at someone on the phone. But when she noticed Rudy was home, she hung up the call after saying, "Sue him."

"What's wrong, mom?" Rudy asked with a concerned look on his face. "Is everything okay?"

"Yeah," Rebecca nodded with a sigh.

"Rudy raised his brow and asked with a curious look on his face: "Who was it on the phone?"

"It was Joe."

"Oh. You two just got married two days ago, and now you are already fighting?" Rudy said with a grin on his face.

"No, we don't talk about our personal lives. Rather, it was regarding the issue with the landlord Joe was having." Rebecca sighed and muttered, "If this goes on, they might not move in here."

"Is there anything I can do?" Rudy asked with a serious look on his face.

Rudy genuinely wanted to help out Joe. Not only did Joe do a lot for Rudy in his past life, but he had also taken care of everything by working overtime.

For Rudy, Joe was the best adult he could ever meet. He was the perfect example of a kind adult and a father.

'Anyone who dares to harm or harass my loved ones shall be punished!' Rudy clenched his fists in anger.

'Calm down! You have to control your anger!' Angelica yelled at Rudy.

'I am calm, Angelica...'

"Are you okay...?" Rebecca asked with an anxious look on her face.

"Yeah."

Rebecca caressed Rudy's face and kissed him on the forehead before saying, "Don't worry about anything. You should focus on what you have to do. And let the adults do their work, okay?"

Rebecca pointed her hand at the table in the kitchen and said, "Come. The dinner is ready."

Rudy washed his hand and ate dinner with Rebecca.

Since Rebecca had to go for her night shift job every night, she cooked dinner in the evening, and they ate at around 7 PM.

Rudy had a hard time dealing with that in his past life since he always studied until late at night. He would occasionally get hungry in the middle of the night, and they would have nothing to eat.

However, he was glad about what they had, and he was truly grateful for this life.

Rudy never demanded anything, although he wished for a better life. But he had promised himself to give a better life to those who sacrificed their time and happiness for him.

While eating dinner, Rudy glanced at Rebecca and noticed she was smiling inwardly.

'I want to ask her why she is smiling, but I don't want to look annoying for invading her personal space.' Angelica came out of Rudy's body and said, "I am going to take a bath."

Rudy nodded at her without saying anything.

"If you want to fuck me, finish eating fast and come to the bathroom as soon as possible."

After saying that, Angelica entered the bathroom while hopping and humming a random song.

'I would have eaten fast if I wasn't eating with mom.'

"So... how is the school going?" Rebecca asked curiously.

"As usual," Rudy replied with a shrug.

"Anything new? What about the tests? Your midterms just ended yesterday, right?"

Rudy nodded and said, "We should get the results next week... Probably..."

"How did you do, though? Do you think you can break through the top 10?" Rebecca asked with a grin on her face to tease Rudy.

In his past life, Rudy was good at studying, but not the best. There were students better than him, but Rudy was one of the toppers since the other students had a subject they were bad at. But Rudy was good in all of them, especially mathematics.

After Rebecca married Joe, Rudy focused more time on studying and became the top three and later top 2. He wanted to get a scholarship so Rebecca and Joe wouldn't have to take care of his fees.

However, now, Rudy had all the knowledge and experience, and no one could beat him in anything.

He was not just the best in everything, he was the definition of perfect.

"Forget the top 10. I am going to be top 1 with full points," Rudy answered with a proud look on his face.

"Oh? But you suck at sports, though," Rebecca commented with a smirk on her face.

"..."

'So she is that happy that she is teasing me now. I wonder what happened, though?' Rudy thought.

In the morning, when Rudy came downstairs, he thought Rebecca was sleeping in the room, so he used telekinesis to wash the dishes.

However, Rebecca was in the bathroom after an exhausting day at her job, and she saw Rudy using his powers.

That was the sign that whatever Rebecca was waiting for, was near. That was the reason why Rebecca had been smiling all day.

After eating dinner, Rebecca left for her job. While Rudy finished eating and rushed to the bathroom, only to see Angelica pouting in the bathtub.

"I have been waiting for you for so long!" she yelled with puffed cheeks.

However, Rudy was able to calm her down by injecting her with his injection.

He railed Angelica until she was satisfied. After that, he went to his room and wore his night clothes.

Angelica hugged Rudy from behind and asked, "What are we going to do tonight?"

"Well, in my past life, I always used to study at night. But now, we usually spend our nights fucking like rabbits," Rudy scoffed.

Angelica entered Rudy's body from behind and came out from the front. She immediately hugged him and looked at him with a grin on her face.

"What's wrong?" Rudy asked with a curious look on his face. "It's rare to see you acting all innocent and calm."

"I am just happy realizing how happy my life is..." she uttered while kissing Rudy.

"Do you consider your life happy?"

"I am always with the man I love. I can talk to you anytime I want. We can make love all the time..."
Angelica shrugged her shoulders and said, "What more can I ask for?"

Rudy patted Angelica on the head and said, "You foolish ghost, the life you consider happy is just a start. I am going to make all our lives heavenly. And you would feel like you are living in paradise."

After that, Rudy and Angelica spent an hour having slow sex. Most of the time passed by kissing and playing with each other's body parts.

Rudy would squeeze Angelica's breasts and pinch her nipples. Sometimes, he would suck them and gently bite the nipples. While Angelica played with Rudy's hair.

Rudy looked at the time and noticed it was past 9 PM.

"Angelica." Rudy nudged Angelica— who was counting Rudy's hair for some reason— and uttered, "Hold me tightly. We are going somewhere."

Angelica hugged Rudy from behind and asked curiously: "Where?"

"To check up on Joe and Lucy."

Chapter 74: Rudy's Past Life Struggle

Rudy flew out of the window of his room and stared into the sky above the clouds to ensure no one spotted him flying.

Usually, Rudy would carry Angelica like a princess in his arms, but tonight, she was clinging to Rudy from behind.

"How is the view from behind?" Rudy asked with a grin on his face.

"It looks a lot different. But I prefer to be in your arms since it feels closer to you," Angelica replied.

Rudy was flying at a decent speed while enjoying the beautiful scenery of the night.

The stars looked much better from above the clouds, and the air was clear but thinner.

Rudy was a superhuman, so he wasn't having trouble breathing, while Angelica was a ghost, and she didn't need to breathe.

Suddenly, Rudy stopped and glanced around with a furious look and sharp glare in his eyes.

"What's wrong?" Angelica asked after noticing Rudy acting weird.

"Something just flew by us..." Rudy muttered with a puzzled look on his face. "But we are in the sky..."

"I am facing the same direction as you, and I didn't see anyone. What did you see?" Angelica asked in a calm voice. "Maybe it was a bird or something?"

Angelica never doubted Rudy's words. She would even doubt herself and her words, but Rudy's words were absolute for her.

Angelica's love for Rudy was extraordinary and couldn't be described in words. Things could have been different if Angelica was alive, maybe even normal, but her love would have remained the same.

"I don't know.... I just saw a red light pass by. It was so fast that it wouldn't be an exaggeration if I say it was the speed of light," Rudy stated.

"What if it was a light from an airplane or something? Lights can reflect a lot, right?" Angelica wondered. "I heard about it in your physics class."

"That's possible. Otherwise, it wouldn't make sense for anyone to be up here. I highly doubt..." Suddenly, Rudy paused and muttered, "What if... it was something supernatural?"

After hearing that, Angelica went inside Rudy's body and yelled, "Don't mention ghosts!"

"Why did you assume I was talking about the ghost? Supernatural can mean anything," Rudy scoffed softly. "Something that is natural, but defies all the laws with no logical explanation, can be considered as supernatural."

Angelica came out of Rudy's body and uttered, "Carry me."

Rudy carried Angelica like a princess and flew to Joe's apartment building.

It was a 30 story building with advanced facilities.

"Have you come here before?" Angelica asked curiously.

Rudy landed on top of the apartment building and said, "Yeah. I came here once in my past life to help in moving stuff out."

Rudy glanced around to look for the door to go downstairs. But the door was locked.

He could easily crush the door without even touching it, but he decided to keep it low.

"Argh. Fuck it!" Rudy grabbed Angelica and jumped down the back of the apartment building near the garden where no one was around.

Then, he walked in the normal way, but he was stopped by the woman at the reception.

"Excuse me. May I ask who you are?" the woman asked.

"I live here," Rudy replied casually.

"I know the faces and names of every person who lives in this building. And this is my first time seeing your face." The woman frowned her face and asked, "Now tell me, who are you? Or I will have to call authorities."

'Wow. Talk about unnecessary development.' Rudy sighed and said, "Are you sure you don't know me?"

"I don't."

"Are you really sure? Because I have been living here since last month, and I see you every day... Oh, wait! I actually don't see you from time to time," Rudy asserted nonchalantly.

The woman's face turned pale after hearing that.

'Bingo!'

"Surely, there is no way someone would slack on their job, right?" Rudy asked with a smirk on his face.

"Um... oh! I remember you now! Yes, yes. A new family did rent an apartment a month ago." The woman then pointed her finger at the elevator and said, "The elevator is currently out of service, so you will have to take the stairs."

"Thank you."

Rudy took the stairs, but he was simply hovering over them instead.

Why would he climb the stairs when he can fly?

"I am surprised you knew that the woman was slacking on her job," Angelica commented.

"I didn't." Rudy scoffed and said, "But it's not strange for them to slack off. They do the same thing every day, and they get bored."

"..." Angelica gave Rudy a weird look.

"I am not saying that I promote such activities, but it's understandable." After a brief pause, he continued, "I was doing three part-time jobs when I was in the university. Two of them were the jobs of the receptionist in a hotel."

"Sounds tough...."

"Yeah..." Rudy let out a weary sigh after remembering the hard times of his past life. "You know, I met all types of people when I worked there. Some were good, some were bad, some pretending to be good, and some were just straight up toxic."

"As a receptionist, you need to handle them with patience and take care of the situation without causing a commotion. Because that would attract the attention of the guest sitting at the lobby, which could lead to a bad reputation of the hotel," he stated.

"The job may look simple, but all the jobs are hard, and only the one with personal experience can know the struggle behind it," he added in a disdainful tone. "Once you know the struggle... you have become a mature adult..."

"..." Angelica wanted to say something to comfort Rudy, but she couldn't relate to his past life. Hence, she couldn't make comments on it. It was better to stay quiet rather than give false comfort.

Rudy reached the 22nd floor and stood in front of Joe's apartment.

"I came here, but I don't know what I am going to say or do..." he muttered.

Rudy moved his hand to the doorbell and pressed it.

Chapter 75: Visiting Joe And Lucy

DING~ DONG!

Rudy rang the doorbell, but even a few seconds later, there was no response.

He patiently waited for a minute before ringing the bell again. But this time, he heard footsteps.

However, the footsteps suddenly stopped.

SIGH!

Rudy sighed and activated his see-through ability to see who was on the other side of the door, and it was Lucy in her pajamas.

She was standing in front of the door but hesitating to look through the peephole or use the intercom.

DING~ DONG!

Rudy rang the bell again to let Lucy know that he was still waiting for someone to open the door.

But because of that, Lucy ran away.

"..."

"What happened?" Angelica asked with a curious look on her face after noticing Rudy squinting his eyes.

"It was Lucy..."

"Oh!"

DING~ DONG! DING~ DONG! DING~ DONG! DING~ DONG! DING~ DONG! DING~ DONG!

Angelica rang the bell like crazy.

"Stop it!" he whispered violently.

Rudy had his see-through ability activated so he could see the other side of the door. But even after ringing the bell so many times, Lucy never returned to check on the door.

A few seconds later, Joe walked out of the bathroom in his towel and hurried to the door.

He opened the door and saw Rudy standing there with an awkward smile on his face.

It took a while for Joe to comprehend the situation.

"What.. are you doing here?" Joe asked with a confused and puzzled look on his face.

"Can I come in?" Rudy asked in a calm voice.

"Yeah, sure."

Rudy walked in, and Joe closed the door.

Joe pointed his finger across the hallway and said, "Go wait for me in the living room. I will wear my clothes."

Rudy went to the living room and saw Lucy sitting in the corner of the couch.

"..."

She glanced at Rudy from the corner of her eyes as her eyes widened in surprise.

"Oh!" She first exclaimed and then said meekly: "Umm... hello..."

'She must have thought I was Paul,' Rudy scoffed inwardly. 'Poor guy must be eating rocks and getting his dick shredded between the mountains.'

"Hello," Rudy greeted back with a smile on his face.

A minute later, Joe returned wearing his nightclothes.

"Welcome," he said. "I am sorry I was late to respond to the doorbell. I was taking a bath, and Lucy was... well, she is always like this."

Joe sighed.

"So what's your purpose of coming here late at night in a city 15 kilometers away from your town?" Joe asked with a curious yet judging look on his face.

"Actually... I am here with a friend. He is waiting for me at the lounge. I came here to—"

Lucy brought a glass filled with water for Rudy.

Rudy grabbed the glass from the plate and smiled at Lucy before saying, "Thank you."

He took a few sips and continued, "I wanted to talk to you about the moving process."

"Oh, sure. But may I ask why? Rebecca had warned me not to involve kids in this matter. Did she tell you?" Joe asked.

"Oh, of course not. What are you talking about?" Rudy played dumb. "I just came here to ask how the process of moving out is going. Is something else bothering you?"

Rudy had already expected that Rebecca would have said something similar to Joe, so he played dumb to make Joe tell him everything by tricking him into thinking that he had already let the cat out of the bag.

"Uhh.. well..." Joe glanced at Lucy and said, "Can I have a private talk with him?"

Lucy nodded and said, "I was going to bed anyway."

Lucy went to her room, leaving Joe and Rudy alone in the living room. Of course, Angelica was there too, but she was exploring the apartment.

"So... what's going on?" Rudy asked in a calm voice.

"It's nothing. Just a small matter..." Joe replied while stuttering a little. He had realized that he spilled the beans, and now it was hard to fill them up again.

"You already told me enough," Rudy remarked. "Why not more?"

"Your mother is a scary person, and you should know that since she raised you." Joe sighed and said, "I cannot tell you."

"I didn't want to do this to Joe, but I guess I will have to do this."

Rudy raised his brow at Joe and said, "I will tell mom that you told me."

"But... I didn't..." Joe stuttered.

"You did, a little, though..."

After a brief pause, Rudy said, "I won't tell her if you tell me everything."

Joe squinted his eyes at Rudy and said, "You are not like how Rebecca described you. But I guess everyone has their hidden side they don't want others to see."

"So, tell me everything."

"So the previous landlord died in an accident, and his brother took over everything. I wanted to move out, but the new landlord said I would have to pay for the next month's rent too. At first, I was reluctant, but I gave it anyway since I didn't want any drama."

"That was a mistake..." Rudy muttered.

"Then, he came back the next day and said he made a mistake. I asked 'what mistake?' and he said, 'You will have to pay for next year's rent, not next month'. He had also brought the documents where it was mentioned." Joe stated.

"That's ridiculous!" Rudy exclaimed. "Don't tell me you gave him—"

CLANK!

Rudy looked at the source of the noise to see Angelic had dropped a glass.

"..."

"I wonder how that fell..." Joe muttered under his breath.

"I wonder too..." Rudy let out a weary sigh while looking at Angelica. Then, he turned to Joe and said, "You didn't pay, right?"

Joe shook his head and said, "Of course not. And apparently, he had been asking the same thing to a few other tenants. We have decided to file a case of fraud against him in the court."

'For that, they would need strong evidence. The landlord has some kind of document, and they are obviously fake.'

Rudy pondered for a while and decided to give a 'visit' to the landlord.

Chapter 76: Landlord's House

"Are you sure you want to leave?" Joe asked as he dropped Rudy outside of his apartment. "You can stay the night here if you want to. We have a guest room."

"It's the weekend, so you shouldn't have school tomorrow either, right? Just spend the night here. I will let Rebecca know," Joe insisted.

"No, it's fine. I already said I have a friend waiting in the lounge, so I have to go." Rudy turned around and said, "And don't tell mom I was here."

"Why not?" Joe asked with a confused look on his face.

"If you tell her, then she will ask what I do when I come here. And I don't want to lie to her, so I will have to tell her that you told me everything despite her warning you. So it's better if we keep our mouths shut, right?" Rudy asked with a shoulder shrug.

"You have got the point." Joe nodded and walked back into his apartment. But he came out a second later to say, "Be careful on your way—"

However, Rudy was nowhere to be seen.

Joe glanced around the hallway, only to see the ceiling light flickering on and off.

"He must be fast."

Joe thought Rudy walked away, while he had simply jumped down.

"How will you get the landlord's address?" Angelica asked with a curious look on her face. "We don't even know his name."

"I have an idea," Rudy responded as he walked back into the apartment building.

"Oh!" The receptionist exclaimed after seeing Rudy, but she furrowed her brows with a confused look on her face and uttered, "I didn't see you leave... when did you—"

"I need the name and address of the current landlord," Rudy asserted with a serious look on his face.

"Hah?!" The receptionist scoffed and said, "I can't just give you important details—"

Rudy looked into the receptionist's eyes and uttered, "Give me the name and address of the landlord."

The receptionist nodded like a robot and wrote down the address from the computer on paper.

"Here," she said in a monotonous tone.

After that, Rudy left the building and jumped high into the sky before flying away.

He looked at the address on the paper and burned it using pyrokinesis.

The abilities like pyrokinesis— the power to freely control and create fire. Hydrokinesis— The power to freely control and create water. Electrification - the power to control electric signals. And Cryokinesis— the ability to freely control and create ice; all of them were one form of the telekinesis which did the same thing, but it evolved into sub-powers and granted him the ability to create them too.

The more power Rudy used, the stronger his mental resistance got. His powers and control over them also evolved with use.

"Did you mind control that woman?" Angelica asked.

"What? No. I just asked her nicely, and she gave me the address..." Rudy muttered.

"I saw you, and you weren't nice at all. You looked like you were going to eat her alive," Angelica remarked. "I think you subconsciously used mind control on her. Otherwise, how are you going to explain her talking like a robot?"

"I didn't want to use mind control on anyone, to be honest. But maybe it was a lite version of mind control? Like a commandant power or something?" Rudy wondered with an amused look on his face.

"You mean hypnosis... right?"

"That's one way to see it maybe... but let's put them in the mind control section. We will practice later." Rudy cracked his neck left and right and uttered, "Right now, we have an important business to attend to."

Rudy flew to the landlord's house and landed in the drive away.

"Wow..."

The house was a mansion but with no security. The lights in the house were off, so Rudy assumed no one was home.

"Are we going to break in?" Angelica asked with an excited look on her face, as though she was ready to do anything.

"Not breaking in, but we are just inviting ourselves."

Rudy searched for the perfect doors and windows to break in, but he couldn't decide on one.

If he wanted to, he could break the walls by simply blowing air from his mouth, but he decided to keep it low as he didn't want to catch attention, which could interrupt his meeting with the landlord.

Rudy gently broke the window of the top floor, and since it was highly unlikely for someone to come and check on the top floor even if there was someone in the house.

Furthermore, Rudy had made sure not to make any noise that could trigger an alarm or something.

After entering the house, Rudy searched through the rooms, but there were far too many rooms to search, so he used his see-through ability to inspect them.

Then, he went to the middle floor and felt strange for some reason.

"What's wrong?" Angelica asked.

"Something... something is wrong..." Rudy carefully glanced around the pitch-black hallway and kept walking.

He reached the hall and felt even more strange.

"I feel like something is watching us..." he muttered in a voice.

After hearing that, Angelica went inside Rudy's body and said, "This house is already scary enough, and now you are scaring me even more."

"Come on. What are you scared of?" Rudy scoffed out loud. "I don't want to break, but nothing can harm me."

As soon as Rudy said that, he was shot by dozens of bullets from all sides.

However, none of the bullets were able to penetrate Rudy's body.

Rudy frowned his face and snapped his finger.

SNAP~!

All the lights in the mansion turned on and lit the house. He used electrification and sent signals to the circuit of the power line.

"I should have done this from the start..." Rudy muttered with a sigh.

Rudy glanced around with his see-through ability to see who or what shot him. He saw dozens of security traps in the hall that could be triggered from even the slightest movement and voice.

"Why is there such advanced technology in this era...?"

Chapter 77: Unexpected Twist

"Angelica...." Rudy muttered Angelica's name.

'Yes?' Angelica responded from inside Rudy's body.

"Stay inside my body..." he uttered in a low voice with a cautious look on his face.

'But no physical thing can harm me....'

"It's not a physical thing..." Rudy muttered. "I can use electrification and control the electric signals at my will, and yet, I couldn't feel any signals coming from the sensors," Rudy stated. "And besides, this era is far too early to have advanced security that can trigger sensors."

'How is that possible?' Angelica asked.

"That's what I have to find out."

Rudy flew to one of the traps and pulled it out of the wall. After inspecting it, he said, "As expected, it's not running on electricity."

Rudy glanced around the room and searched the entire mansion at once using his see-through ability, but that drained a little bit of his mental strength.

"There are cameras everywhere. But they are inactive. I wonder if I can find something on the hard drive data."

Rudy went to the monitoring room and found a high-tech computer that should be part of the era.

'Is this running on something else too?' Angelica asked curiously.

"No. This is running on electricity."

Unfortunately, the PC was protected by a strong password, but luckily for Rudy, he could control it too.

He unlocked the PC and played the recent footage that was dated three months ago.

The footage showed an empty room that was dimly lit. Soon after, a man walked into the living room, and another man followed him.

The first man sat on the couch in an arrogant manner, and the second man stood before him.

"What is the meaning of this, brother?!" the second man yelled.

"I have no idea what you are talking about," said the first man with a loud scoff.

'So this might be the previous landlord and his brother,' Rudy uttered inwardly. 'The second man is holding some papers, so this must be the previous landlord, right? The man sitting on the couch is the brother, the current landlord.'

"You clearly know what I am talking about!" the second man threw the documents at the first man and said, "This is your doing, right?! You forged the papers and somehow got my sign on it!"

The first man placed the papers on the side and said, "What do you mean by 'somehow?' Surely, you are not a kid that I fooled you into signing these papers. Unless you signed them yourself."

"Why would I give all my royalties to you!" the second man yelled and took out a gun from his pocket.

The first man raised his hand and stuttered, "Calm down. We can talk about this. There is no need to get—"

Before the first man could even finish what he was speaking, the second man shot him until the gun ran out of bullets.

The first man's body shook every time it was shot, and then it fell on the couch.

"You made me do this!" the second man yelled and ran out of the living room after taking the documents with him.

"..."

After watching the entire footage, Rudy muttered, "Well, that took an interesting turn."

'So I guess I was wrong. Since Joe said the previous landlord died, and his brother took over, the man who shot was the... but...'

Rudy rubbed his hand on his chin and wondered, 'But why was the second man yelling about the documents? According to him, the first man forged the documents, so if he shot him dead, why would...'

Rudy was confused, but it was given since he didn't know anything else on that matter.

'Should we inform the police about this?' Angelica wondered.

"There is no need. Once we meet that killer, I will scare him to death that he will wet his pants and confess everything."

"Oh? Aren't you a little too confident for a thief?" a voice said from behind Rudy.

Rudy was expecting to see the killer who shot the man in the footage, but when he looked back, he saw it was the man who was shot.

He had black hair, black eyes, and a perfect body build. One could easily refer to him as a 'fit' person.

'This guy is giving me bad vibes,' Angelia uttered.

'I didn't even sense him. Or maybe because he didn't make any noise?' Rudy wondered. 'I scanned the entire house a few minutes ago, so it's highly unlikely that he was already in this mansion.'

'And surely, one would make even a little noise, right? And I didn't hear a single—'

The man took out a gun from his pocket and shot Rudy. But of course, Rudy grabbed the bullet with his hand and glared at the man.

"Oh?" The man raised his brow with an amusing look on his face and said, "So you are one of them."

"What are you talking about?!" Rudy asked with a furious look on his face.

"Well, it doesn't matter." The man threw his gun to the corner to the side and said, "I will kill you just like the others."

Rudy frowned his face and uttered, "Who are you?"

The man took a step forward and disappeared from Rudy's sight.

Rudy activated his see-through ability and glanced around to look for the man, but he couldn't spot him.

'So he can bypass my see-through ability?!' Rudy exclaimed. 'That doesn't make sense. No human can... could it be that he is not a human?'

Rudy assumed the man managed to survive the gunshot because he was wearing some protective armor around him. But now, Rudy was convinced that the man wasn't a human.

Rudy left the monitoring room to look for the man, but suddenly, he was hit by a piano.

Of course, the piano was shattered into pieces as soon as it hit Rudy.

However, the couch, table, television, refrigerator, bed— even the small things like a chair, photo frames, pillows, and all the items present in the house— were thrown at Rudy, which buried him under it.

They were coming from all directions at a fast speed that Rudy didn't know where to dodge.

Then, the man stood in front of the mess he had caused and smirked, "Out of all of them, you were the easiest to kill."

A moment later, everything was shot back in all the directions, and some things even hit the man, which caused him to stumble on his feet.

When the man looked back, he saw Rudy hovering in the air, completely unharmed.

Rudy patted his clothes and uttered, "You were saying something?"

Chapter 78: Secret Behind The Powers

"So you are still alive?" the man scoffed out loud and said with a smirk on his face: "Not going to lie, it would have been disappointing if you had died by that."

'This guy is like me? And he can use all the powers well, while it's only been a week since I got them. I can't use them properly during the fight.'

However, Rudy had no need to fight when he could just use his powers.

Rudy raised his hand in the, and the next moment, everything in the mansion started shaking.

"...!"

The man watched with a completely baffled expression on his face as he saw the ceiling on the mansion dropped upon him.

"..." Rudy raised his brows and muttered, "I was trying to pull that chandelier on the ceiling..."

A few seconds later, the man stood up, completely covered in blood.

'So he is not like me.' Rudy smirked and said, "I can't bleed."

The man dashed at Rudy and grabbed him by the neck. Then, he threw him on the wall and punched him in the face, breaking the walls behind him.

However, Rudy didn't feel a thing.

The man tried to punch Rudy again, But this time, Rudy grabbed the man's hand and twisted it to the side, breaking it into two. Then, Rudy grabbed the man by his hair and turned him around.

Now, it was Rudy slamming him to the floor and the walls. He pulled off the man's hand from his body and plucked his legs, making him limbless.

Then, Rudy threw him at the ceiling, but there was no ceiling, so he was sent flying into the sky.

'I was trying to splat him on the ceiling...'

Rudy had no sense of fighting or fighting style. Since he was non-athletic in his past life, he barely took part in the sports or athletic club.

Hence, his current fighting style was barbaric. Besides, it wasn't as though Rudy needed any fighting style when he could easily use his superpowers.

Rudy looked up at the sky to see the man was falling down at high speed.

"I was expecting him to fly, but I guess he is truly not like me, after all. He simply has superhuman speed and superhuman strength. But how?" Rudy asked himself.

'Maybe he was also experimented on?' Angelica wondered. 'What was it? Super Jean or something?'

"It was supergene. There could be other facilities working on the same. But..." Rudy raised his brows and uttered, "But what about the advanced technology? He is surely not from the future or something. It's impossible."

'Why not?' Angelica asked with a hint of curiosity in her voice.

"There were 11 others who were experimented on, but all of them had died before me. I was the last test subject," Rudy asserted in a solemn voice.

"But you know what, I don't think my superpowers have anything to do with—"

Rudy stopped at his words when he saw the man regenerating and growing limbs.

"He has regeneration ability...?"

The man landed in the house, but his legs broke on impact.

"...."

Without wasting any time, Rudy dashed at the man and stomped on him a couple of times, making a mince out of his lower body.

Then, Rudy placed his feet on the man's chest to keep him on the ground and looked into his eyes.

"Who... are you...?" the man asked while coughing blood.

"That's not the right question." Rudy pressed his feet on the man's chest—breaking his ribs and puncturing his lungs— and uttered, "Who are you?"

"I..."

"I don't want to know your name or anything about you. Just tell me how you got this power, the advanced technology, and who were the people you were talking about?" Rudy used his hypnosis power on the man so he would utter everything honestly.

"Fairies..." the man managed to stutter.

"What?" Rudy asked with a confused look on his face.

"Fairies... wish...granting..."

"Wait, wait, wait. Fairies as in the... fairy tales? The magic and myth and all that fantasy things?" Rudy wondered with a puzzled look on his face.

"Three months ago... I was driving by the valley road late at night. And I ran over someone because I was drunk driving. I was about to drive away, but the person I ran over was a beautiful girl. I was charmed by her."

"..."

"I was sure that she would have died. So I thought I would use her body to pleasure myself and later get rid of it to remove all the evidence. So I got out of the car and walked to the woman."

"Her body was something else. It could even give a boner to an impotent man. I couldn't hold myself back or wait to carry her to my car. I stripped her naked, but as I was preparing for the deed, she opened her eyes. Honestly, I should have expected that when she wasn't bleeding."

"..."

"I freaked out and ran to my car, but I was drunk, so I tripped and fell over the hill. I thought I would die, but the girl jumped after me to save me."

"She flew and carried me back to the road. I was sure I was hallucinating because I had drank too much, but that wasn't the case. When I asked the girl, she told me she was a fairy and that she wanted to thank me for saving her life."

"But you didn't... oh, so she thought you were trying to save her life while in truth you were going to r*pe her..." Rudy uttered in disgust.

"She told me that she was on the run because her people were after her. She said she was exhausted, and she used her remaining powers to save me. I took that as an advantage and offered to bring her home."

"She was so innocent that she agreed. After bringing her here, I r*ped her again and again. I kept her unconscious, so she wouldn't wake up, and I r*ped her for nights after nights. Her body was so good that I couldn't get enough of it."

Rudy was barely holding his urge to rip the man apart, but he had to know more things from the man, so he had no choice but to listen to him.

"How did you get power?"

"After raping her countless times for days and night, I ate her."

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 79: Rudy's Judgement

"You... ate her...?" Rudy uttered with a disgusted and baffled look on his face.

"Her skin was so delicate, and her flesh was so soft that it melted in my mouth. Her bones were like crispy crackers."

"..." Rudy felt more and more disgusted as he heard that.

"I didn't mean to eat her. I was simply sucking her breasts, but I guess I bit too hard and ended up taking a bite of her body. And after eating one bite, I couldn't stop myself. Before I had realized it, I had eaten her completely— even her teeth and hair."

'Rudy, you don't have to listen to him!' Angelica yelled.

Since Angelica was inside Rudy's body, she could feel his anger and the urge to kill the man. She was afraid that Rudy might go crazy as he did when he obliterated the entire tunnel.

If the same thing happened here, Rudy would raze the entire neighborhood, killing many lives without even realizing it.

"When I woke up the next day, everything was hazy. At first, I thought that fairy ran away, but when I saw the blood on my clothes and the bed, I remembered everything."

"It took me a while to digest all that. But then I started a day like normal. Later that day, I was shot by my brother. He thought I died, and I thought the same. But my wounds slowly healed."

After a brief pause, the man continued, "That's when I realized that I had gained that fairy's power."

"I ran after my brother. He was on his way to the court, but I killed him and pushed his car— with him inside— down the cliff. Everyone thought it was an accident. And as per the documents, I got all his royalties."

"But I wasn't interested in all that after experiencing the otherworldly power. I wanted more."

"After a few days, a male fairy came to my house. He was humble and kind. He said he was here because my house was the last known location of the missing fairy. I didn't want to think much since logic doesn't work well with magic. But I knew I had to do something."

"Lying was not an option. So I invited the male fairy to my house and told him that the missing fairy was sleeping inside. That foolish believed me, and I took that chance to shoot him with my gun."

"..."

"Honestly, I was expecting him to regenerate, but he didn't. I shot him more times to confirm he was dead. Then, I chopped his body into pieces and slowly ate it over the week."

"Then, I noticed a few changes in my body. I could hear and see far away things, almost as though I had supervision."

"That was the start of my evolution. Week after week, they kept sending me fairies, and I kept killing them. I grew stronger every time I ate them, but even they had gotten suspicious, so they sent me someone with multiple powers. However, in the end, I was the one who won because of my super regeneration."

Rudy crushed the man's chest and buried his feet in his ribs and lungs. However, the man didn't die because he had already started narrating.

Of course, Rudy knew that, but he wanted the man to feel the pain.

"How did you get your hands on this advanced technology?" Rudy asked in a disdainful tone.

"I went to the underworld market and met a dealer. He never talked face to face, but he gave me many appliances. I had so much money, so I kept buying them. But I had to do something about the fairies who kept coming to hunt me. So I talked with the dealer, and he said he would install traps in my house, but the payment would be high."

"In the end, I ran out of money, so I kept asking everyone for money."

'So this is why he wanted Joe and the others to pay him extra and advance...'

Now, Rudy had all the information he needed, and the man was useless to him.

However, Rudy's rage had reached the roof after knowing how the landlord was.

'He met Joe and Lucy. What if he had done something to them?' Rudy asked himself.

The corner of Rudy's face twitched as he glared furiously at the man.

Suddenly, his eyes glowed, and a laser beam came out of Rudy's eyes, penetrating the man's face and melting it beyond recognition.

The man's body stopped moving, but Rudy wasn't satisfied.

He used pyrokinesis to burn the man's body and telekinesis to spread the ashes everywhere. However, he brought them back and formed a dead body made with ashes using his restoration ability.

'I know this man was a piece of shit, but you killed him without hesitation. I am honestly surprised,' Angelica remarked.

Angelica hadn't made any comments when Rudy turned Paul into a mindless ape because the matter was related to Rebecca. And Angelica knew that anything related to Rebecca was a landmine. One wrong step, and boom!

However, things were different with the man. But Angelica had realized Rudy had gotten furious because Lucy and Joe's lives were at risk too,

What would have happened if Rudy hadn't decided to visit Joe and Lucy?

Joe and the others would have filed a case against the man, and there were high chances that he would have killed everyone using his powers.

Rudy could have lost two important people in his life without ever knowing it.

Furthermore, Rebecca married Joe a month before it was supposed to happen— at least, according to Rudy.

If everything had gone the same way as Rudy's past life, Rudy would have never known about Joe and Lucy in the first place.

'Whatever happens, happens for good.' Rudy recalled what his girlfriend— Elise, had once said to him when he was feeling depressed.

Rudy clenched his fists and looked up in the sky with his eyes closed.

"When I died in my previous life, I asked them to leave me in the forest because I wanted to see the stars even though I was blind. Right now, I am feeling the same," Rudy asserted in a solemn voice.

Angelica couldn't quite understand what Rudy meant, but she didn't want to ask him.

Rudy opened his eyes a few seconds later and used telekinesis to bring down the entire mansion.

He collapsed it to make it look like the man died in a natural disaster.

Rudy was still feeling angry even after that, so he flew to the faraway place and took out all his anger where no one was around.

Then, he teleported back to his room and fell asleep.

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 80: Guilty Pleasure

Rudy had a decent sleep for the first time in his second life.

Partly the reason was Rudy was exhausted after letting out his anger. He used a lot of his mental strength, including the powers he used during the fight.

When Rudy opened his eyes, he saw Angelica sleeping beside him with her arms and legs wrapped around him.

"..."

Rudy shrugged her hands and legs and sat up.

It took him a while to process everything, and then he remembered what had panned last night.

"The sleep was so good that I feel like I slept for years," he chuckled.

Rudy shot a glance at Angelica and saw she was wearing clothes.

'This is my first time seeing her not-naked after waking up...'

Three days ago, Rudy woke up to find Angelica giving him a blowjob. The next day, he woke up to see Angelica riding him.

At first, Rudy was angry because Angelica had no decency, but Angelica told him that she tried to wake him up normally by sucking his snake, but he didn't wake up.

Angelica was telling the truth, and the reason he didn't wake up was that it happened right after the day Rudy had a mental stroke.

The next day, Rudy woke up normally, but they still had sex in the bathroom while taking a bath.

However, today, nothing happened.

"Not going to lie, but... waking up normally feels weird now..." Rudy sighed.

Rudy looked at the time and saw it was 7: 49 AM in the morning.

'Alice and I decided to meet at 9: 30 Am at the pick-up stand. And it would take us around 30 minutes to reach the water park. The park opens at 10 AM, so we will be on time.'

Rudy got off the bed and decided to take a bath and eat breakfast before waking up Angelica.

'I don't want to disturb her sleep... or should I?' Rudy raised his brows and muttered, "She always wakes me up in a weird way. Maybe I should do it too?'

Rudy walked back to the bed and looked at Angelica's juicy lips. Then, he moved his gaze to Angelica's soft breasts.

After looking at her for a few seconds, Rudy rubbed his thumb on her lips before inserting his finger inside her mouth.

Suddenly, something awakened inside Rudy. He looked down to see his little brother pocking his pants as though it wanted to come out.

Rudy face-palmed himself and muttered, "I can't believe I got a boner just by looking at her body..."

'But she is so hot, and her sleeping face looks so innocent and cute....'

Rudy gulped down as he decided to use Angelica's medicine on her own. He grabbed a pillow from the bed and threw it by the door, so in case Rebecca came to wake him up, Rudy would have a little more time to save himself.

Rudy pulled down his pants and grabbed his little brother in his hand.

'It should be okay, right?' He asked himself. 'Angelica does this to me all the time, so it's only fair of me to do it to her too.'

Rudy slowly moved his snake closer to Angelica's mouth and rubbed the tip on her lips. Then, he slowly inserted the tip inside her mouth, but it didn't go in since Angelica's teeth were on the way.

Rudy gently opened Angelica's mouth using his thumb and finger and pushed his snake inside.

'Wow! It feels entirely different! I feel like I am doing something bad, as though I am taking advantage of her....'

Rudy was feeling both guilty and excited; it was a guilty pleasure.

Rudy pushed his snake a little deeper inside Angelica's mouth and slowly moved his hips.

Even in a state like this, he didn't want to hurt Angelica accidentally.

'Who knew I would ever do this...'

Angelica's mouth automatically opened wide whenever Rudy pushed his snake inside and thrust his hips forth.

A few minutes later, Rudy started moving fast as he got closer to shooting his milk.

'Should I come inside her mouth? But she is sleeping. What if she wakes up? No... the correct question is.... Why isn't she waking up after all this?!

While thinking all that, Rudy released his fresh morning milk inside Angelica's mouth.

Rudy wasn't sure if he should pull out his snake or not because he was worried that his milk might spill out. But he had to take it out eventually.

After pulling his snake out from Angelica's mouth, Rudy's gaze fell on her cave.

'I just got more horny....'

Rudy got on the bed and stripped Angelica's panties. Then, he rubbed the tip on his snake on her cake, but she stopped.

He shook his head and muttered, "This can be considered as r*pe..."

"You should have plunged it inside me..." Angelica uttered as she opened her eyes.

"You were... awake this whole time?" Rudy asked with a baffled look on his face. He was feeling stupid for worrying about Angelica when he very well knew that she was a pervert.

Angelica grinned at Rudy and said, "I woke up when you came inside my mouth. The taste of your milk is so strong that it can even wake up the dead."

"That was a horrible example..." Rudy sighed in disbelief and gazed at Angelica's cave.

"Go ahead. Fill me up with your pp," Angelica said with a slutty smile on her face. "Actually, next time, make sure to fuck me when I am sleeping."

"But sex without consent is no different than r*pe. Even if we are lovers, it can still be—"

Angelica interrupted Rudy and said, "Oh, please! Who cares about all that? Don't use your worldly laws or morals on me. I am a ghost and your pet. You can use me however you want to."

"..."

"I also want to wake up with your big dick inside me. But I am satisfied for today since you did have the guts to use my mouth."

Angelica licked her lips and said, "Now, fuck me."
