Chapter 761: With Son's Bestfriend

Rudy looked at Eleanor, only to find her shocked too. Seemingly, she had heard the sound too.

A few seconds later, the garage door opened, followed by the car engine's noise.

"Eric is here!" Eleanor exclaimed in shock. "What should we do?!"

"Relax. I can teleport at any instant. What are you so worried about?"

"I told him I was at the office. If he finds out that I am at home—"

"Just tell him that you just returned. Don't overcomplicate things by overthinking. I know I am the last person who should say that since I am an over-thinker too, but the solution to stop overthinking is to find solutions."

"Yeah, I don't understand a word you said." Eleanor got off the bed and rushed to the door to lock it.

"Where are you going?" Rudy asked with a grin on his face.

"To lock the door. I didn't lock it before."

"Oh, okay."

Rudy had already locked the door before he joined Eleanor for the bath, but he let Eleanor get off the bed and walk to the door because he wanted to try something.

When Eleanor noticed the door was already locked, she turned around, but Rudy wasn't on the bed. She glanced around but couldn't see him anywhere. Suddenly, she felt something touching her hips.

She turned around to see Rudy trying to plug his snake into her cave from behind.

"What are you—Anh~!"

Before Eleanor could react, Rudy had plugged her in. He didn't waste a single second and began thrusting his hips back and forth.

"Hey~ Take it out! You are fucking me without my permission, and that's r*pe!"

"You are so tight right now, you know?!"

"Mnh~ Stop! Why does it feel so good~?!"

"Because you are having sex with your son's best friend while he is home."

"No~ That's definitely not the reason. I am not a pervert."

"Heh! You lost the right to say that way back in 1989."

"Mnh~ Stop!" Eleanor whispered loudly. "If I get caught, you will get caught too!"

Even after that, Rudy continued humping Eleanor from behind. In fact, He grabbed her waist and pushed her against the door.

"Mnh~!"

"Whoa~ You got even tighter. You are getting turned on by the thought of having sex with me when Eric is in the house. I can't imagine how tight you would be if we actually had sex in front of him. Too bad, we will never do that."

"I—Anh~ I am cumming~!"

Within a few seconds into the session, Eleanor had already orgasmed once.

"Damn! The twitching on top of his tightness... you will make me cum in no time."

"Yes! Cum for me~ And then stop before Eric comes upstairs."

"I don't think that's possible because he is already on the stairs."

"Then—!" Rudy inserted his two fingers in Eleanor's mouth to shut her up and turned off the room's light.

He moved his face to her ears and whispered, "You can bite onto my fingers if you still can't hold your moans. Or you can suck on them to keep your mouth busy."

Eleanor's body was pressed against the door; her hands, her face, her chest including her boobs, her knees, and her legs too. Only her hips and thighs were pressing against Rudy.

Rudy's fingers were busy playing with Eleanor's tongue inside her mouth while his other hand was squeezing her boobs.

Rudy had activated his see-through ability and was watching Eric. He wanted Eric to walk through the hallway and go to his room which was two rooms after Eleanor's room at the end of the hallway.

Since Eleanor's ear was placed on the door, she could hear the sound of Eric's footsteps. Her heartbeats increased drastically as the footsteps got closer and closer and eventually faded away.

Seemingly, Eric had walked past her room.

Rudy kissed Eleanor on the neck and whispered, "Well done. I will—"

Rudy stopped on his words as he sensed a presence on the other side of the door. He activated his see-through ability and saw Eric standing right in front of him.

"Mnh?" Eleanor asked with a moan.

Rudy felt that if he whispered to Eleanor, Eric might hear him, so he chose to use telepathy to inform her instead. However, he had an amazing idea while doing that and changed his mind.

Instead of using telepathy, he shared his senses. He showed Eleanor what his eyes were seeing. In short, Eleanor was seeing what Rudy was seeing. And after seeing her son standing on the other side of the door, her pussy clenched Rudy's snake so hard that he was having trouble humping her.

Eleanor tried to get away from the door, but she couldn't budge Rudy. Of course, he wasn't forcing her, but her legs and body had become so weak from the pleasure that she had no strength left in her hands.

All Eleanor could do was glare at Rudy, but that, too, turned Rudy on. Eleanor had an orgasmic look on her face, and since Rudy's fingers were playing with her tongue, her mouth was open. Her face was flushed, and her eyes were glaring at him.

Who would want to stop after seeing that look on the girl's face?

But her glare didn't last long as she wanted to watch Eric.

Eric moved his hand to the doorknob to open the door, but of course, it didn't open. He raised his brow with a confused look on his face and tried to open the door again.

"Why is it locked?" he muttered.

He knocked on the door and called, "Mom? Is it you?"

Eleanor looked at Rudy, seemingly asking him what she should do. She knew she had to do something, but she didn't know what.

'If you stay quiet, he is going to get suspicious. He might think someone has broken in and would try to break the door.'

Rudy used telepathy to talk to her.

'But I will surely end up moaning if you let go of my tongue!'

'You won't. You are a master at holding moans. Did you forget how we used to fuck in school, where we were surrounded by students and other teachers?'

Rudy let go of Eleanor's tongue and removed his finger from her mouth.

"Mom?" Eric knocked on the door again.

"...yes~"

Chapter 762: Exciting Round

"Mom?"

"...Yes~"

"Oh! You are home already?!"

"Yes..."

"Why didn't you tell me?"

"I wanted to surprise you~"

"What's... wrong with your voice? What are you doing?"

"I am... exercising..."

"Huh?"

"You see..." Eleanor took a deep breath and moved her hips back and forth as she said, "I have been... so busy for the past few days that I couldn't make time for my daily exercise. So I thought--Mnh~

I thought I should exercise and take a bath before going to bed. Did you...mnh~ Have you eaten yet?"

"Oh, yes. The restaurant I wanted to go to didn't have an empty table, so I got some from the take-in instead. I can wait for you in the living room if you want to eat," Eric said sincerely.

"Nhm~ No~ I don't think so. I am already filled up."

"Uhh... okay... then? How long will it take you...?"

"Mnh~ I don't know. It depends on when the current round ends and what type of bath I take~" She said while looking into Rudy's eyes.

"Yeah... I guess. Alright then, I will drop by once I have finished eating. Can you ask the maid to come early tomorrow? Too many dirty dishes and utensils have been stacked from the past few days."

"You could have washed them by yourself. It's good manners, you know~?"

"No way. Even I have a few standards, mom. I am not made for housework."

"See you tomorrow~ I think this round is about to end~"

"Good night, mom." Eric went into his room after greeting Eleanor.

Eleanor stayed quiet for a few seconds but continued moving her back and forth.

"Let's... never do anything like this again..." Eleanor managed to mutter.

"Why?"

"Because it feels too good~ And controlling my moans while talking is so hard!"

"Come on, you are a pro at that. You have always been the best at holding your moans compared to the other girls in my harem. Of course, staying completely silent is impossible, but you have to practice.

Ever since our first time, you have been doing that. We used to fuck every night at your house, even when your grandpa and grandma were downstairs. We used to fuck at my house, at school, sometimes at public places-- such as at the beach behind the rocks and mountains, in the cave, in the forest."

"Yes~ But... it's different. I was never scared of grandma and grandpa finding out. Even if they had caught us, they wouldn't have done anything. The same goes for Rebecca and Jessica.

Even at public places, I was never afraid of being seen. I trusted you, and I knew you would teleport us as soon as you sensed someone approaching us. But here... it was my son.. our son... your best friend.

And don't act like I am the only one getting turned on by that. I know your dick has been raging hard ever since Eric entered this house. You are enjoying this as much as I am~"

"Well..." Rudy turned on his piston and increased his humping speed.

"Anh~ Slow down~ I don't want to say 'be gentle' because I like it rough~ But let's not go too wild, or Eric might hear us. I am surprised Eric didn't get suspicious."

"You did well." Rudy grinned and squeezed Eleanor's boobs with both his hands.

"Mnh~ Where is my reward~? I have been longing for it~"

"Let's take you to bed first."

Rudy teleported on the bed without stopping his piston and continued nailing her from behind. Eleanor's legs gave up a few seconds later, and she fell to her knees. Rudy did the same because he couldn't hump her otherwise.

"Your... finger~ Put it in my mouth, please~"

Rudy put two fingers in Eleanor's mouth and played with her tongue.

"Mnh~" Eleanor dropped further after her hands slipped on the bed sheet. She lay on the bed on her stomach with her hips raised so Rudy could keep fucking her.

However, the pleasure was too much, and after orgasming, she could barely stay awake.

Rudy pushed her hips down and climbed on top of her, keeping his piston on.

"How does it feel?" He pulled Eleanor's tongue and asked.

"Good... it feels good~ Please cum fast~"

"I am on it."

The bed creaked every time Rudy pushed his hips down, but it was overlapped by Eleanor's moans.

"I want to drink it..."

"It's a big one, though."

"I will drink it. You can fuck me more after this round."

"If that's what you want..."

Rudy fucked her until his snake was ready to shoot its load.

"Say aah."

Eleanor opened her mouth and took out her tongue so she could seal Rudy's snake completely with her lips.

Rudy placed the tip of his snake inside Eleanor's mouth, and she started sucking it. Just a second later, Rudy released his load, and Eleanor drank it slowly while sucking onto the tip and moving her tongue in a circle.

She didn't let go of his snake until she drank every single drop that came out of it. Thereafter, she turned around on her back and spread her legs for Rudy.

"Go ahead. Fuck me until you are satisfied~"

"This will be the last round."

Rudy fingered Eleanor and slowly penetrated her cave. He rubbed her clit with his hands and plunged his snake in one go.

"Anh~"

As always, Rudy placed with her boobs while Eleanor moved her hips up and down for Rudy. However, she was so tired that she had no energy left. So Rudy used his powers to hold her hips in the air.

He placed Eleanor's legs on his shoulder and turned on his piston on the last gear.

Eleanor's moans got softer and softer and eventually turned into faint moans. Seemingly, she had fallen asleep.

However, since Eleanor had given him permission to fuck her even after she fell asleep, Rudy continued fucking her. Even while sleeping, Eleanor continued moaning, and the tightness of her cave didn't change.

A few minutes later, she orgasmed in her sleep, and a few minutes after that, Rudy released his last load inside her and finished their love session.

He then got dressed and teleported to his room.

Chapter 763: Anxious Rebecca

Rudy wanted to go to bed and have a nice sleep, but he thought he should let Lucy know that he was home.

He decided to go downstairs while making minimal noise of his footsteps descending the stairway.

'I might as well eat.'

When Rudy reached the living room, he saw Rebecca sitting on the couch with an anxious look on her face.

"Mom? You didn't go to your night shift?" Rudy asked calmly.

Rebecca slowly raised her head and looked at Rudy.

"You are back..."

"Uhh... yes?"

"You have never been so late without informing me, so I thought something happened to you..." she muttered.

"Oh, come on. I sometimes never come home. And why were you even worried knowing nothing could happen to me?"

"Well..." Rebecca gulped down nervously and responded, "You left in anger in the morning, so I thought you were still mad at me..."

"Hmm...?" Rudy recalled Lilim's prank in the morning that led Rudy to burst out of the house.

"Right..." He glanced around the house and asked, "Where is Lilim? And... Lucy?"

"Lucy is taking a bath. And... Lilim was too afraid to face you, so she left while I was sleeping..."

"I see." Rudy sat on the couch beside Rebecca and let out a soft sigh. He looked her in the eyes and calmly said, "I am not angry at you."

"But... you yelled at me... and you never yelled at me... like that..."

"No, no. I was just... disappointed. You didn't believe my words, and that made me... a bit angry... I guess. But I am not mad. It was just one of Lilim's harmless pranks. Her intention wasn't to make us fight.

She didn't know anything about house rules and all. She just wanted to tease you, but you reacted in a different way... and so did I."

"Then why did you come so late?"

"I was with Elena," Rudy replied instantly.

"Oh! I didn't know she was back. Usually, she would let me know the moment her flight lands. I guess she was so excited to meet you that she forgot everything."

"Nah... we met in an unimaginable way. She had no time to tell anyone. And besides, that wasn't something she could tell everyone."

"So..." Rebecca turned to Rudy's side and calmly asked, "Did you talk things out with her?"

"Yes. We had a long... very long chat. She told me everything," Rudy nodded.

"What did she say?"

"I can't possibly tell you everything. We don't have that much time."

"But I want to know what she told you. What if she said something wrong about me, and you hold a grudge against me? I am not saying that she lied to you about anything. But hers and mine perspectives were always opposite whenever it came to you.

She could be right on her side and me at my side. And opposite views and opinions usually create unnecessary misunderstandings. I just wanted to make everything clear, leaving no misunderstanding behind."

"It's okay. I honestly don't care about all that. It was Elena and your personal matter, which you had already solved. And that happened in the past, so there is literally no meaning to dig that up.

Nothing is going to change. All I care about right now is for you two to get along now, in the present where I am present. Of course, I want you to understand and get along with my other harem members too.

I know it won't be easy, and you don't have to be super friendly with each other, either. Uhm..." Rudy scratched the back of his head and said, "All I am trying to say is that you... you need to stop thinking that you are superior to them."

"But I am!"

"You are not," Rudy shook his head.

"I raised you! I have done so many things for you. I deserve to have some kind of authority over you! Every mother does! I am not trying to list my favors, really. I don't care about them, but... I wanted to be special to you..."

Rudy placed his hand on Rebecca's cheek and rubbed his thumb on her lips.

"You are. You have authority over me."

A happy smile appeared on Rebecca's face after hearing that.

"But... as my mother. As my lover and harem member, you are equal to them."

"..." And her smile vanished faster than it appeared.

"Don't sulk now."

"I am not. And your point makes no sense."

"You can order me around and make decisions for my life, just like every mother does for her son. But you can't do the same in my love life and relationships, that's the limit a mother never crosses.

You are both, my mother and my lover. It might be confusing for you, but you will get used to it once we all start living in the same room."

"But this is my house, and everyone needs to follow my rules."

"And that is why I bought a castle."

"...you what?"

"Castle."

"Like... is that a metaphor...?"

"No, an actual castle."

"Why would you do that?!"

"They all can't live in this small house."

"Where do they currently live?" she asked curiously.

"At the pool house; the same waterpark I used to take you and Jessica to when you were kids."

"Then let them live there."

"I promised them their own separate rooms. Also, that land doesn't belong to me, so I can't hoard it for forever."

"So they will live in the castle, but you will continue living here with me... right?"

"What are you talking about? You are coming with me to live in the castle."

"I am not leaving this house."

"Come on, stop being childish now."

"No, this house is important to me. I can't leave it behind."

"Why are you talking as if you are going to demolish this house? We can come here once in a while. You sleep during the day, so you can sleep there. And if you miss this house, I can teleport you at any time."

"What about Lucy and Joe?"

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 764: Mother and Lover

It was Rudy's dream to live with his harem in one room, where he could watch them all and play with them all the time. But Rebecca's refusal came as a shock to him.

"What about Lucy and Joe? You haven't forgotten them, have you?"

"Well... they can stay here. Actually, we can take Lucy there, as well."

"What about Joe?"

"Err... why don't you divorce him? I mean, you only married him because you saw him in the family photo. While Joe married you because he wanted Lucy to have a family. Now that everything is achieved, you no longer have to be married to him.

I know there is nothing between you two, and I am not jealous or anything, but I don't see any reason why you would want to stay married to him."

"If I divorce him... what makes you think Lucy will stay with us?"

"We can ask Joe to let her stay here. I am sure he wouldn't mind."

"Joe and I are legally married. If we divorce, Lucy's custody will go to Joe as he is her biological father."

"Lucy is not a kid. She doesn't need custody."

"She is not an adult either. She will turn eighteen a week after you. So legally, she isn't ready to make her own decision yet."

"Are we truly going to talk about legal and illegal?"

Rebecca shrugged her shoulders and said, "You are the one who started it. You are well aware that there is nothing between Joe and me. So it's not like you need to be anxious about me."

"You yourself said that you and Joe are legally married. Yet, you are in an intimate relationship with an underaged boy, who is also your adopted son. How legal does that seem to you?" Rudy asked with a judging look on his face.

Rebecca averted her gaze to the side and muttered, "You weren't supposed to mention that. And we don't have intimate relationships. Kissing and all is different, so it doesn't count. Until and unless we have sex."

"Is that so? Then what you are doing with me is also considered adultery. You are cheating on Joe, you know?"

"...!" The reaction on Rebecca's face evidently showed that she had never thought of that.

Rudy grinned and continued, "Or would you still say it's not cheating because we are only kissing and haven't had sex?"

"It shouldn't be considered cheating. Joe and I don't love each other, so I am not betraying him. Hence, I am not cheating on him."

"Wow. You find some nice reasonable excuses when it comes to you, huh? But you refuse to understand others even when they have got the point."

"Don't try to divert the topic. Can't you let your harem live in the castle, and you live here with me?" she asked with puppy eyes, seemingly trying to play the family card.

"No can do. I am not sure if I will continue my studies, but I will be with them all the time. And my nights will be nothing but sex sessions with them. You do the night shift, so you won't be available during the night."

"We already don't get enough time to spend with each other, and if you leave this house... we will rarely meet..." she mumbled in a low voice with a sad face.

"You can easily avoid all that if you just stop being selfish and listen to me. Stop working. That way, you will be free all day and night. And if you move into the castle, we will be together 24x7."

"I am thinking about that. But finding employees to work the night shift is hard. If I leave, Eleanor's store will probably be closed down. Rachel and I are the only ones working the night shift now.

The other employees quit. And Rachel can't handle the store alone. We need to find someone who can work the night shift."

"Hmm..." Rudy pondered for a few seconds and nodded, "I will take care of that."

"Thank you. But I won't leave this house. Yes, I might visit the castle for weekends and stuff, but I won't settle there."

SIGH!

"I don't want to be forceful." Rudy bit his lips as he pondered for a solution.

'What if I find a way to connect both houses? But how can I do that...? A passage... portal...? Yeah, the portal could work. Oh, oh! Oh! Teleportation portal.

I will set a timer on both sides so that when someone passes through that portal, they will be able to teleport from this house to the castle. Damn, I am a genius! But I should have thought of this before. It took me ten seconds to find this solution.'

"I will take care of that as well," Rudy nodded. "I am taking care of all your mess, mom."

"That's a son's responsibility."

"Oh?" Rudy pushed Rebcca on her back and inserted his finger in her mouth.

"What do you think you are doing to your mother?"

"You are Rebecca, for now. Should we proceed our relationship further?"

"Always using the rules in your favor..." She muttered. "What are you going to do today?"

"Hmm~ Let me squeeze your boobs, bare."

"Aren't you skipping too many steps? I can show them to you, but only for three seconds."

"You do know that I can see you naked using my ability, right? If you tempt me like that, then I will misuse that ability to watch you naked all day."

"Fine... go ahead and squeeze them. But only three squeezes." Rebecca's face flushed.

"Bare?"

"Mm," she meekly nodded. "I have decided to give you freedom."

'I was only kidding, honestly. I would have been happy if she had just let me see her boobs or squeeze them over cloth, but I seem to have hit the jackpot!'

Rudy placed his hands on Rebecca's breasts and said, "Here I go."

He slowly moved his hands under Rebecca's top to remove it, but he heard the bathroom door opening.

'Shit!'

He jumped to the other couch and turned on the television using his powers. Lucy walked into the living room while wiping her hair with a towel.

'Damn, that was close. I totally forgot about Lucy. Her timing has always been the worst,' Rudy groaned inwardly.

'Wait... why do I feel like I am forgetting something else too...?'

Rudy noticed Lucy's school bag on the chair beside him, which reminded him of his school bag that he had forgotten at school.

'Janet...'

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 765: Another Regressor

'I left Janet in the infirmary and never returned...'

Rudy suddenly remembered what he was forgetting.

However, he couldn't be blamed for that. He sat by Janet's side and waited for her to regain consciousness until Eric called him out where he found out about the plane crash.

He had to go save Eleanor, who later asked him to save everyone on the plane. Once he had done that, the only place and person in his mind was Eleanor. Things got steamy with Eleanor, and they ended up spending the afternoon and evening together.

'Well, why am I feeling anxious? So what if I left her there? It's not that big of a deal, is it? I am sure she woke up soon after and then left. She was injured, but it was just a scrape.

She wouldn't have waited for my return. That would be a stupid thing to do. It's already close to 9 PM. There is no way she is still at the school... right?

I mean, the school closes at 7 PM maximum, including all the club activities. The faculties on patrol duties check each and every room of the school before locking them, and then they ultimately close the school for the day.'

"Yeah, I am just overthinking."

"Hey, bro," Lucy greeted Rudy.

"Why do you always wipe your hair after coming out of the bathroom?" Rudy asked with a knowing look on his face.

"Unlike boys, girls have long hair, and it takes forever to dry them. I don't like to stay in the bathroom until my hair is dried. Also, the bathroom has no power outlet, so I can't use my hair dryer there."

"Good point. So why do you use a towel and come to the living room instead of going directly into mom's room and using your hair dryer?"

"Geez. You are being so annoying for no reason. Give me a break. I came to greet you, and here you are, making me angry for no reason."

Rudy squinted his eyes and muttered, "Is this what they call the rebellious phase?"

Even though he said it in a low voice, it was audible enough for Lucy to hear.

Lucy sharpened her glare at Rudy and said, "You know nothing about my rebellious phase."

"Okay, that's enough." Rebecca quipped. "Stop fighting, you two."

Lucy turned to Rebecca, who was sleeping on the couch, and raised her brow.

"Why are you still here? Uhm... I should have phrased it better."

"Yes, you should have," Rudy remarked.

"I was asking why you are not at your job. Are you taking a day off? And why are you lying down on the couch? Are you okay? Do you feel ill?" she asked with a concerned look on her face.

Rebecca slowly sat up and acted as if she had just woken up.

"I thought of lying down after eating and ended up dozing off. I should leave now." She stood up and grabbed her purse from the table. Then, she glanced back and forth at Rudy and Lucy.

"And don't fight while I am away. You both will turn eighteen soon, so you need to learn some maturity."

'You are the most childish one here,' he uttered inwardly.

Rebecca left the house in a hurry, while Lucy went to her room to dry her hair. Soon after, Rudy could hear the sound of the hair dryer revving once in a while.

Rudy was getting bored, so he thought he should mess with Lucy a little bit to make his evening entertaining.

"Hey Lucy!" he called out to her.

"What is it?"

"I heard that using a hair dryer actually damages your hair in the long term. Is that true?"

Lucy immediately stopped and turned off the hairdryer. A moment later, she ran into the living room and stood before Rudy with a puzzled and curious look on her face.

"Is that true?!" she asked.

"If you don't trust me, then you can search for the same on the internet. I am sure you would believe that over my words."

Lucy squinted her eyes and stared at Rudy, seemingly wondering if she should trust Rudy's words or search on the internet.

'I wouldn't mind if Rudy is messing with me, but if he turned out right, he would think that I didn't trust him. What should I do? I don't want to hurt his feelings. I have to be careful of my word choices and phrases... otherwise... I will miss that event.

I tried to trigger it sooner, but I was afraid of messing up the timeline. This time, I will do everything as they are supposed to happen. But it's strange... really. Everything is going differently.

I don't understand. I always make sure that I don't do anything that could divert the happenings... but one after another... the more I notice my surroundings, the more I realize that Rudy is... different.

How should I put this... he is... more honest, blunt, confident, active, handsome, charming, and... the way he looks at me is not the same. Even my seducing moves and suggestive remarks didn't have an effect on him. They should have worked! They totally worked the last time!

Is it because I made a big change by arranging dad and Rebecca's meeting sooner than they were supposed to meet?

I just wanted to meet Rudy sooner, so I assumed if Rebecca and dad met, they would take a few months to get married, but they got married a lot sooner than they were supposed to.

Even then, I only started living together with Rudy after a while. Paul has gone missing in this worldline too, but like... he went missing the next day of the family meeting at the restaurant.

I don't care about him in the least, but he is still my brother regardless of how he is and how much I hate him. I am just curious. Was he against marriage or something? But why would he? It doesn't make sense.

Nevertheless, this time... I have to make sure that Rudy doesn't meet Elise, no matter what happens. He will meet her at university, so I have time to be prepared. I will study hard to get into the same university as him and ensure he never interacts with Elise. He can be saved if Elise doesn't enter his life.'

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 766: Dinner With Lucy

"Oi! Did you go into a shock after hearing the truth?" Rudy scoffed softly. "Why don't you search on the internet to confirm it?"

"It's fine." Lucy smiled at Rudy with a soft gaze and uttered, "I trust you. So never lie to me, brother."

Rudy grabbed Lucy's finger and said, "I am hungry."

"I was about to ask you about that. Go sit at the table. I was waiting for you, so I haven't eaten either."

"But I saw dirty plates on the counter. Surely, mom didn't use five plates for dinner."

"You are so perceptive. Yes, Rebecca didn't use them. I had served food on the plates, but the food got cold while I was waiting for you. Rebecca told me that you might not come, so I thought I should put everything in the refrigerator, but... I couldn't fit all the plates in there.

Long story short, the plates are dirty because of that reason. I went to take a bath, and now you are here. If I knew you would come home, I wouldn't have gone through all that trouble for nothing."

She ended the sentence with a short sigh.

"Or Miss Lucy would have just called me."

"Rebecca told me you won't come, so I naturally assumed you informed her."

"Girl, I never knew you worried so much about me."

"It's natural for a sister to worry about her brother, is it not?"

"Oh?" Rudy raised his brow with an amused expression on his face and remarked, "And I thought I was your stepbrother."

"You are! It's my sisterly love for you~"

"Is that so? I must be one lucky man if I have a sister like you."

"That you are. So you must also do the same for me."

"Like what, make sure to eat dinner with you?"

"That's a basic requirement of every family member. You don't have siblings, so you might not know, but it's a brother's duty to fulfill all of his sister's needs."

"I see, I see." Rudy nodded.

Lucy gazed at Rudy seductively and added, "Which includes everything, from A to Z. I hope you can put up with my needs."

Rudy was well aware of what Lucy was trying to say, but he had his dumb mode on, so he needed to act dumb.

"As long as you don't ask for ridiculous things, such as the moon and stars."

Undoubtedly, Rudy could bring the moon and stars for Lucy if she asked him to.

Lucy rolled her eyes and inwardly uttered, 'He is dense as always. Maybe I should be a little aggressive next time? Or... I can simply be more direct instead of beating around the bush.'

Rudy watched Lucy as she heated the food while humming a song.

'In my past life, it was so rare for us to be alone at home like this. Mom used to be out for the night shift, but Joe was always home at night. Good thing I took care of him as soon as I got a chance.'

Rudy helped Lucy with the food, and they sat in front of each other while eating dinner.

Lucy couldn't take her eyes off Rudy while eating, but Rudy, however, was lost in his abyss of never-ending thoughts.

She wanted to have a conversation with Rudy as it was too awkward to eat dinner alone with him.

"Why did you come so late? You told me you have sports week, is it because of that?" she asked naturally while serving gravy on his plate.

"No, I went to Eric's house."

"Ah, I see."

'That was a common thing for him.' Lucy uttered inwardly.

"By the way, I have been wondering about one thing. You always go to Eric's house, but he never comes here. Why?"

"Hmm..." Rudy swallowed the bite he was chewing and drank a sip of water. "That's a good question, actually."

"Do you have an answer to that...?"

"If I have to say... he probably doesn't like coming here. He could enter the house but wouldn't stay for more than ten minutes. He wouldn't eat or drink either. Most of the time, he comes to grab my homework books and assignments or to grab me out of the house."

"He is rich, so... I guess it's natural for him to feel... repulsed... or something. I don't know. I shouldn't judge a person I barely know," She shrugged her shoulders.

"No, you are right. But the word 'repulsed' is too strong. Any rich person would be weirded out to be in a small house. That's not really his fault. It's a natural instinct. For example, a Lion wouldn't like to live on the streets. A vulture wouldn't like to live in buildings.

They are the same thing, but not the place they are supposed to be. I hope it was a good example. My mind is not focused right now."

"You are having dinner with such a beautiful and cute girl like me, and yet you are saying your mind is focused elsewhere? I feel offended," she puffed her cheeks a little.

"I never said I wasn't focused on you."

"...!" Lucy's face flushed.

'I didn't expect a sudden smooth move. Did he do that on purpose? No... Rudy doesn't have skills like that.'

"The food is great too."

"Rebecca made it." Lucy sharpened her gaze and remarked, "You never say that when I cook."

"As always."

"Huh?"

"The food is great, too, as always. You interrupted me in between."

"No, no." Lucy shook her hand and said, "You literally stopped after saying that. I didn't interrupt you. There was a three-second silence in between."

"That's because I stopped to swallow the food."

"..." Lucy didn't trust Rudy, but she was happy regardless after receiving praise.

However, Rudy's mind was truly lost somewhere else. He couldn't stop thinking about Janet. He felt uneasy.

'Should I use my 'Find me' ability to track and see what she is doing? I have already marked her, so I can track her. Let's just hope she is not taking a bath because I don't want to see her naked. Otherwise, I would get a boner in front of Lucy.'

Rudy closed his eyes to track Janet, but for some reason, she was untrackable.

'Uhh...'

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 767: Janet's Whereabouts

'Why can't I track Janet?' Rudy asked himself.

He tracked all the girls and saw what they were doing, except Nyxia.

'I understand why Nyxia is untrackable. She has got experience of thousands of years. Also, she was the freaking Lord. And I am her successor. She is well aware of Lord's ability.'

It wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that she could win against me if we fought... or... maybe not? She is currently the second-strongest vampire in the universe. If Nyxia can beat me... that would mean the first strongest vampire— Virgil, can beat me too.

Yeah, Nah. I don't like the sound of that. Nyxia could have easily beaten me in her prime— that is, if she still had the Lord's powers. Right now, she rusted gem. She has the experience but not even power.

Anyway, I am not, and I never worried about Nyxia as I know she can easily defend herself. But why can't I track Janet?'

Rudy was back to where he had started.

'Did I not mark her properly? I never confirmed it. That's the only reason I can think of. Oh well, it doesn't matter. Modern problems require modern solutions. I will call her to confirm she is okay.'

Rudy got up from his chair, or so he wanted to, but as soon as he pushed the plate aside, Lucy sharpened her gaze at him and asked:

"What's wrong? Are you going somewhere?"

"I need to make a quick call."

"Where is your phone? I will bring it."

"It's in my..." Rudy paused for a second and thought, 'Where is my phone? It's not in my pockets. Did I leave it in Elena's room? Or... is it in my school bag? Let's hope I didn't drop it somewhere because it has got some of my porno with Lilim, Maria, and Alice— although only blowjobs.'

"Rudy, Where is your phone?" Lucy asked again.

"You know what, forget it. I can make the call once I am done with dinner. It can wait."

Rudy couldn't locate his phone like he could locate his harem member. His marking only worked on living beings as it needed to send signals to Rudy.

'One after another, these screw-ups are making me anxious. I better finish the dinner soon and get my phone first.'

It would make obvious sense that Janet would have returned home by the time the school closed. After all, no one was dumb enough to get locked into the school. The faculties always checked each and every room thoroughly.

However, even after all that, Janet was still in the school's infirmary. She was locked there.

After Rudy left with Eric and Janet regained consciousness, she awaited Rudy's return. But he didn't come back even after the school hours had ended.

Janet had told Judy that she would leave after school hours ended. Janet wasn't there when Judy came to check the infirmary, so she locked the room.

Unbeknownst to her that Janet was sleeping on the bed covered by the curtains. She had dozed off while waiting for Rudy and woke up after a nice nap.

She noticed it was dark outside and realized that she had been locked up. Still, she tried to open the door in the hope that someone might be present in the building who would hear her banging the door.

But even after minutes of trying, no one came to save her. She then remembered that she could call someone for help, so she took out her phone from her bag, only to realize that it was long dead.

She noticed Rudy's bag on the side and checked it, hoping to find his phone, but it wasn't there.

Devastated, she sat on the couch with her head in her hands. It was night, and the only light source was moonlight from the window, but that, too, was obstructed by the tree branches.

She pressed all the switches on the board, but none of them worked. Seemingly, the school's main power source had been turned off— as a safety measure to avoid circuits and accidental fire— after it was locked.

She walked to the window and looked outside, hoping someone might be passing by. But she was on the third floor, and the only thing outside the window was a huge tree and the open playground of the school.

SIGH!

She went back to the couch and took out snacks from her bag.

'It's not a big deal, to be honest. I am always home alone at night, so spending the night at home or getting locked up here doesn't make much of a difference. I can simply wait for the school to open tomorrow.'

She reassured herself while eating snacks.

'I have food and access to mineral water in the infirmary. There is a separate washroom too. I even have a bed. I literally have everything one needs to survive. If... phone isn't... an including factor.'

After eating snacks and drinking water, Janet leaned back on the couch and enjoyed the view of the starry sky outside the window.

'It's not Rudy's fault. I should have left while I had the chance. I should have expected that Rudy might not return, but I never thought he would leave his bag behind. Well, that proves he never came back.

Wait... maybe this is my chance to get back to him? What if I use this event as an excuse to make him feel guilty for leaving me like this? And as compensation... I will ask him to do something for me?

Like what... though? Maybe... a kiss on the lips...?'

She shook her head and muttered, "No, that's too direct. He will surely feel repulsed by it. Perhaps, I should ask for a date? I don't think that's extreme. And isn't it natural for friends to hang out with each other, go to movies, and stuff?

Yeah... let's go with that.'

Janet facepalmed herself and mumbled, "But I have to make sure he doesn't bring Alice along. Because if she joins us, Rudy's attention will be focused on Alice only, and I will end up becoming a third wheel."

While planning and dreaming about her date with Rudy, Janet dozed off on the couch. Time passed, but she didn't wake up. Seemingly, she had fallen asleep.

However, something strange happened.

The shadow of the tree branches that was falling on the room slowly changed its shape. No, it didn't move. Its form changed from a claw-like shadow to a humanoid shape.

It slowly rose up, and a shadow appeared in front of sleeping Janet.

[You... are... an anomaly.] It spoke.

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 768: Anomalous Existence

The shadow was pitch black with no body or facial features. Only its limbs, head, and fingers were shaped, making it look humanoid.

The shadow's shadow fell on sleeping Janet, but it didn't have the abyssal black like the original shadow.

It moved its hands towards Janet and uttered in a deep yet ethereal voice that sounded neither masculine nor feminine.

[You are an anomaly. You shouldn't exist. You were never supposed to exist. Your father... whoever he was, he didn't belong to the timeline he met your mother in. You were never supposed to be born.

Janet Lioussenne... You need to die. You need to cease to exist. You are the reason Rudy has to die. Even in the last timeline, you weren't supposed to exist, but we didn't do anything, hoping you wouldn't be a problem.

We thought you were just one of the thousands of other anomalies which would automatically cease to exist once they were eaten up by the mother universe. But you... were formidable.

Everything was going well in the last timeline, but your interference in Rudy's life messed everything up. Sadly, we had to kill him, but strangely... even after getting hit by a truck at high speed and breaking every bone of his body... he survived.

How did he survive something like that? And he didn't die... he didn't die for days and months. In fact... he was recovering. How? Who was helping him do that? We are the ones who created him!

We are the ones who gave him his powers. We are the ones who decide everything. We are the slaves of the mother universe... and no one can go against our will. We don't follow any rules and laws... they don't exist for us... except one...

We can't interfere or change anything once the said reality has begun. If we wanted, we would have gotten rid of him the night he got into the accident. And then... he gained... no, he was...

We couldn't figure out why everything didn't go as it was supposed to. The Lord in that timeline wasn't Rudy, but it was someone close to him. And she was the slave of her emotions.

Sadly, we had to get rid of her too. We had to erase that timeline since it has become unrepairable. In the current timeline... everything was going the same until you... you made an impact in his life.

It's a good thing we noticed it at an early stage. If we get rid of you now, everything will be fixed!]

The shadow pointed its finger at Janet, and a small dotted black matter appeared on the tip of its finger. Slowly, the matter got bigger and began to suck everything inside as if it was a black hole.

Soon, the border of the black matter turned red, and everything began shaking as lightning came out of it.

[Farewell, Janet Lioussenne. Yes, it is a rule that we cannot interfere directly with the universe. However, you are not a part of this or any universe, to begin with. So we have permission to remove you from existence.

But don't you worry, no one will remember you. Everyone will forget about you, even Rudy. You will be removed from time and space, all your belongings, pictures... everything will disappear with you... just like that little girl from the tunnel. She interfered too much!]

After saying that, the shadow shot the matter at Janet. However, it grabbed it in its hand and closed its fist.

[Tsk! He is here. I will have to finish this job another time. Or better yet, I should wait until he dies and a new Lord is born.]

The shadow disappeared into thin air as though it had never existed, just like the smoke of the fire that vanishes when there is no more fire.

Meanwhile, Rudy finished eating his dinner and went to the washroom as an excuse to take a bath, while in truth, he teleported to Elena's room after locking the washroom door.

There, he found his phone on the table.

'There it is. So it was here, after all. I thought I had left it in my school bag. Well, that would have been fine too. As long as I didn't lose it.'

He used telekinesis to pull the phone in his hands.

'Oh, I have missed calls? That's rare. Let's see...'

Rudy checked the call logs and let out a short sigh.

'It's from Maria and Rias.'

Since Rudy missed their calls, they thought he must be busy, so they left a message instead.

He opened Maria's message and read, "Do you find vampire girls hot, or would you rather try your luck on wolf girls?"

'What the... what's with this question? And did she seriously call me to ask that? Also.. I don't think wolf girls actually exist.'

He then opened Rias' message and read, "Do you find the romance between a vampire and a human better than the romance between vampire and wolf?"

'Seriously... what the fuck are they doing? I bet they found another movie or show about vampires and wolves.'

"Mnh... Rudy..." Eleanor muttered.

Rudy turned to Eleanor, thinking she had woken up because of his voice, but she was speaking in her sleep.

"Harder... Rudy..."

"..." Rudy shook his head and muttered, "I don't want to know what type of dream she is having."

He covered Eleanor's body with a blanket and kissed her on the forehead.

"Sleep well."

He looked at the time on his phone and mumbled, "It's 21:21.. not a bad time to call someone."

Rudy dialed Janet's number to make sure she had reached home, but he was left even more anxious than before when his call didn't get through as Janet's phone was dead.

He instantly teleported to the school's infirmary and saw Janet sleeping on the couch in a sitting position.

"..."

His ears immediately twitched crazily as he heard the siren's sound going off in his brain.

"What is this... feeling...?"

He activated his vision ability and scanned the room.

'What the...'

In the middle of the room, he saw a trail of ashes floating in the air in a spiral shape.

"...Shadow..."

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 769: Shadow's Ash

"Shadow's ash."

Rudy blinked twice to deactivate his vision ability and looked at the spot where he saw the spiral trail of ashes. But of course, it wasn't there.

He activated his vision ability again and inspected the ashes.

"Why is it here? And... how the heck do I know what it is? It should be my first time seeing it... yet, somehow... I knew what it was. Why is it here in the first place, and what does it mean?"

Rudy asked himself.

'Shadow's ash... that literally means the ash of the shadow. But how can a shadow have ash? Is this a metaphor or a word with a hidden meaning? Shadow... shadow... sha...dow...

Rudy moved his hand to touch the spiral ash, but as soon as his hands got near it, the ashes began to reverberate crazily as though they were alive. Nonetheless, that wasn't enough to stop Rudy; he touched the spiral anyway.

He grabbed it in his grasp and muttered, "Reverse."

The next instant, the ashes exploded and obliterated the entire school and a few miles surrounding it. It was so loud and bright that, for a few seconds, it seemed like the sun had risen again.

Smoke and dust clouds were everywhere under the debris and pebbles of what was once a school. The only thing visible was a silhouette hovering in the air.

It was Rudy, and he was carrying Janet in his arms like a princess.

He looked at her with a worried expression on his face. He had stopped breathing, blinking, and thinking. He continued staring at her without changing his facial expression.

It was so silent around that no one would believe there was ever a massive explosion in the area.

Rudy had held his breath and didn't let it out until he heard Janet's heartbeat.

SIGH!

He sighed in relief and smiled a little, but it didn't seem like a happy smile.

His eyes suddenly glowed red, filling his eye sockets with crimson red color. That was his maximum capacity and capability of his vision ability. He glanced around the area and sharpened his gaze with a wry smile on his face.

Since the school ground was massive and no one lived around it, no one was hurt except the security guards on duty, the birds living on the trees, and the stray animals; they all died in the explosion.

It was so deadly that their bodies disintegrated into ash the moment the ashes of the shadow exploded.

"Ah..." Janet slowly opened her eyes and saw Rudy looking at her. She smiled at him and closed her eyes again. Seemingly, she thought she was dreaming, while in truth, she was simply too sleepy to understand anything.

"Janet...?"

Janet opened her eyes again, this time a little forcefully. She stared at Rudy in confusion until she realized she wasn't dreaming.

She looked at her hands and then glanced around, but all she could see was a starry sky and a half moon.

"What's..." She looked down and witnessed a disaster. She was too baffled to say anything.

Just a while ago, she was sleeping on a comfortable couch, and after opening her eyes, she found herself in the arms of the man she loved.

Rudy slowly descended and landed on top of the rubbles.

Janet got down and took a few steps around.

"Where... where are we...? And what happened?"

Rudy looked at his hands and muttered, "Did... I do this?"

Rudy thought he was responsible for the explosion, but that wasn't the case. He wanted to reverse the shadow's ash, hoping it would bring back the source of the ashes. But what he brought back by reversing the shadow's ash was the black matter the shadow had manifested on its finger.

"What's going on?!" Janet exclaimed, finally waking to her senses.

Rudy moved his hand forward and pulled a piece of rock in his hand.

Using telekinesis, he slowly pulled Janet close to him and hugged her with one arm.

"Wha...!"

Then, he jumped in the air and restored the school grounds back to how it was before the explosion. And his spot in the air was exactly above the couch of the infirmary.

After restoring everything, he simply sat down on the couch beside Janet and let go of the piece of rock in his hand, and merged it with the missing spot on the ceiling.

"Am I dreaming?!" she asked.

She looked at Rudy and said, "Can you pinch me?"

Rudy slowly moved his hand to Janet's face and placed it on her cheek.

"...."

Janet leaned on Rudy's hand and rested her face on it.

"I don't want this dream to end."

Rudy slowly pulled Janet's face close as he moved closer as well. Then, he gently kissed her on the lips, although only their lips touched.

Janet was lost, staring into Rudy's eyes as though nothing else mattered to her.

"Is it a dream?" she asked without breaking eye contact with Rudy.

"What do you think?" he asked calmly.

"I don't know. This feels like a dream but at the same time... I don't want it to be a dream..."

"I am sorry I left you here. I should have been careful."

Janet shook her head a little and said, "How is it your fault? You didn't do anything wrong. In fact, I should thank you for bringing me to the infirmary after I passed out. We are nothing but classmates.

You have no responsibilities to me. I am the one who is at fault. I didn't leave when I had the chance. It's my fault for falling asleep without being mindful of my surroundings. So you don't have to..."

Halfway through, Janet recalled the plan she was making before she fell asleep. Once again, she bit her lips and cursed her stupidity for missing a golden chance.

"You know what? Now that I think about it, it's partially your fault too! You have to make up for this!" She faked her anger.

"Of course. I will do anything you ask."

Esper Harem in the Apocalypse

Chapter 770: Janet's Yandere-ness

"I will do anything to make it up to you."

"You will have to take me to the kiss!"

"..."

"Uhhh... kiss me to the date... wait, kiss... take me! You have to take me on a date!" Janet felt so nervous that her mind lagged.

"As I said, I will do anything."

"So this is a dream after all?!" Janet raised her brows.

"What makes you think that?"

"The school... fire... sky... what was all that?"

"I thought you were never going to ask that."

Rudy pressed his finger on Janet's forehead and shared all the information about his powers and harem.

"Yeah, this is a dream." Janet nodded twice. "It's too unreal to be real!"

"Relax. I know it's a lot to take in, but everything I showed you is the truth."

"I refuse to believe that you turned into a playboy!"

"I wouldn't call myself a playboy. After all, a playboy is someone who plays with girls for pleasure and then gets rid of them after he is done. I don't do that. I keep them close and never ignore them."

"You don't take pleasure from playing with girls?" Janet asked with a judging look on her face.

"I do. But that goes both ways. The girls also get pleasure. I will love you more than you will ever love me."

"Isn't that just a fake commitment boys make to seduce the girl?"

"That's actually true. But again, I am not one of those assholes. And I always fulfill my commitments. I can make the impossible possible with my powers, so nothing is out of my reach."

"I still...wait..." Janet's eyes suddenly widened as she realized something. "What did you just say?"

"Nothing is out of my reach?"

"No, before that."

"I always fulfill my commitments."

"Not that one. The one about being a playboy."

"I am not one of them."

"No! The one about love!"

"I will love you more than you ever will."

"Yeah, that. Was it... like... a figure of speech?" She asked hesitantly, lowering her gaze and finally breaking her long-term eye contact with Rudy.

"No. I was talking about you."

"You... you love me?"

"I guess I do."

"What type of lackluster answer is that?!"

Rudy was already aware that Janet loved him, even in his past life when she had confessed to him despite having a girlfriend. At that time, she didn't ask for an answer to her confession, as it would have been pointless.

However, Rudy could answer her feelings in this life if she gathered her courage and confessed to him. But she never did. She was afraid of rejection.

Naturally, she didn't want to ruin the friendship they had just begun. She first planned to get close to him and make him fall for her before confessing her feelings. But at the same time, she didn't want him to get close to other girls.

Now, She had achieved what she wanted but also what she didn't want. She had made Rudy fall for her, but he had gotten close with other girls too.

Rudy had decided that he would accept Janet's confession. He himself wasn't sure about his feelings for Janet. He knew she would end up in his harem one day, but he didn't want to add her to his harem with half-assed feelings.

Nevertheless, after nearly losing Janet in the explosion, he realized how tense he was to find out whether she was alive. Sure, he could easily find it out by using his abilities, but he was too afraid to do that.

He didn't want the worst to happen, so he let it happen naturally. He was so relieved after learning that she was alive, and he realized he didn't want to lose her.

That he loved her.

"If you are in love with me... then shouldn't you break up with the other girls you are playing with?"

"I love them as well."

"But you can't keep them all, can you?"

"I can."

"You can't love them all at the same time!"

"I can."

"You can't, logically or practically. It's impossible!"

"Didn't I say I can make the impossible possible?"

Janet clenched her teeth as her face flushed red.

"I am talking about sex! You don't have ten dicks, do you?!"

"Oh... so that's what you were talking about. Well... what do I say... you are right. I can't fuck them all at once or at the same time."

"Exactly. So you have to choose only one."

"But I can fuck them one at a time. Even if I chose only one girl, it's not like I would have sex with her 24x7. I will do what I can when I can. Your logic has a point, but it's not valid."

"You don't understand how a girl feels when she sees her lover talking with another girl, let alone flirting or being in a relationship with them. I don't want to ask you to imagine any of your harem members doing the same thing to you.

But I hope you understand what I am trying to say. No one likes sharing what they love. And it's not food or an object that can be replaced bought again. How can I... I can't even imagine how the girls must be feeling when they see you talking with another girl."

Janet was right from her own perspective, and Rudy respected that. That was the most natural reaction for a girl, after all, who would purposely let their lover cheat on them.

"They all are okay with it. I don't selfishly add them to my harem to tell them to fuck off if they don't agree with my terms. It's totally up to them. They have all the freedom."

"What if they just accepted your terms because they didn't want to lose you? That counts as manipulation, you know?"

"I don't blame you if you think that. I know what's true, but you can agree to disagree," Rudy responded with a shrug.
