Chapter 16 Zul's Blessing

smoothly wiped out all the three dark creatures in the evil cave, and took advantage of the situation to clean up the cave. It was not until the night of the fourth day that they returned to the camp.

It has been a few days since Ethan left this world. After thinking about it, he decided to continue to destroy the blood crow with the two wizards.

Blood Crow Morena, is the female archer that players can choose in Diablo 1, the hero who defeated Diablo and saved the world.

It is a pity that after Diablo was wiped out, the idol of all Rogers slowly fell into the darkness. When the dark power skyrocketed, the blood crow fell completely and became Andariel's thug. And was sent to deal with former comrades in arms.

"For this hero, the only thing we can do is to free her from the control of the dark forces."

how to rescue? Everyone understands that there is only one way.

After a night's rest, two wizards and an apprentice embarked on a journey against the darkness again. This time, it was not as easy as it was before.

The blood crow itself is a powerful hero. After the fall, not only is the strength stronger, but also has the ability to control undead creatures. The blood crows are surrounded by sea-like skeleton soldiers. The blood crow under the layers of defense can fully show the demeanor of its top Roger archer.

Ethan was very embarrassed in the action of "Cracking the Blood Crow". Although he suffered no harm under the protection of the two powerful wizards, he also lost the magic item he had just made by himself—the bracer was shot out. After the arrow is on, the biggest role of the wristband is to resist the attacks of the skeletons at critical times.

One of them was that after the shield was damaged, Ethan hurriedly parried a slash from a skeleton soldier. I have to mention that Chaxi is a very good blacksmith and did not cut corners, so this sword did not cut Ethan's hand. But this one also completely destroyed the fragile magic circle on the wristband.

The other one was when Ethan was in a melee when he was noticed by the blood crow in the distance, and suddenly shot an arrow to kill him directly.

At a critical moment, Ethan suddenly raised a warning sign in his heart. With a high concentration of mental power, his ability to see everything slowed down to the extreme, he was able to accurately block the arrow with his wristband.

Compared to before, it was just chopped, and Zhen's wrist was numb. This time the injury was much more serious. Even the blood crow shot through the wristband. Even though it penetrated the entire wrist and the inner and outer bracers, the arrow still went unabated. Fortunately, Yi Sen tilted his head in time and swung his wrist to reverse the direction of the arrow before he escaped the fatal blow.

After , Ethan watched the two wizards show their mighty power throughout the whole process. His role in this battle was only to eliminate some miscellaneous soldiers at the beginning.

"We must continue to improve our strength!"

Treat wounds and clean the battlefield.

When everything was done, Ethan looked at Zul and Ishandra who returned to him, and smiled helplessly: "It seems that I can only walk here with you."

The two wizards did not open their mouths to stay, just as they did when they did not refuse Ethan's admission. They just smiled and nodded: "Although it is not long, I will remember this time forever."

Isandra asked: "Are you going to stay in Camp Rogge next?"

With Ethan's strength, he can no longer continue to fight against the dark creatures with them. The blood crow is already the limit he can advance. If he continues to encounter stronger demons, the sacrifice is almost inevitable—and Ethan cannot treat the demons. What harm is caused, so this sacrifice is worthless.

If he stays at Camp Rogge, Ethan can do a lot of things. For example, helping Akara gather herbs and even make magic potions, helping Rogers perform simple treatment and bandaging—learned from the nuns; even helping Roger patrol the surroundings and clean up dark creatures, with Ethan's current strength, the darkness in the blood wasteland Creatures will not pose too much threat to him, as long as he is more cautious.

As for going home? Ethan previously said that he came from the east, and now the fortress leading to the east is being occupied by Andariel. If Ethan wants to go home, he may have to wait for himself and Zul to eliminate Andariel or seal them. The Blind Eye Monastery will retake the Eastern Gate Fortress.

It is impossible for her to know that Ethan can stay in this world for only the last two days. Even if his strength is enough, he cannot continue to accompany the two of them to continue to fight Diablo.

In the past few days, he has been thinking of a suitable excuse, and he can just say it at this time.

“Actually, my teacher has located my position through special magic, and will use teleportation magic to bring me back in these two days.”

Ishandra’s eyes widened a lot in an instant, and Ethan vowed that since seeing this female mage, she had never expected her eyes to be so big.

“Can you do such a thing? Your teacher... is really a powerful mage.”

The two wizards didn’t have any doubts about Ethan’s words. In fact, with the improvement of their cultivation level, many wizards will slowly find that their understanding of the mysterious power is only a superficial, so they have a lot of things that sound nonsense. , Will not easily deny.

Of course, there are also some wizards who feel that their understanding of mysterious power has reached the peak, so they deny everything they can’t do.

Fortunately, neither Zul nor Ishandra are such arrogant arrogance. They easily believed Ethan’s words.

Even if they don’t believe Ethan, they don’t care. After two days after they are teleported back to the ocean by the time and space magic circle in front of them, they can’t believe it.

Packed up, the three returned to Camp Rogge again.

The fact that Ethan is about to leave was not hidden from the people in the camp, so whether it was Akara or Kashya, they knew that he was about to leave. Before he left, they all came to say goodbye to him.

“Thank you for everything you have done for us during this time. You will always be a friend of the Blind Eye Order. If you have time, I hope you can come back as a guest.”

Akara sent some medicinal herbs to Ethan. These medicinal materials have undergone simple processing, and most of them are made into powder, so it is not difficult to bring them.

Kasha sent a refined sword to Ethan, which can be used with one hand or both hands. The hilt and grid of the sword are simple and without any pattern decoration. It seems to be just an ordinary sword, but when Ethan pulls it out After swinging the long sword, he noticed that the long sword was still exuding magical waves.

“Magic equipment?”

Kaxia smiled and nodded: “This long sword has no special abilities. It is only reinforced by magic means, so it is much stronger than ordinary long swords.”

Ethan heard such a simple 'special effect', not only was he not unhappy, but happier. The most troublesome thing about many weapons is maintenance and non-durability. This bladed weapon is especially easy to be scrapped after a high-intensity battle. In the final analysis, it is not strong enough. Therefore, this simple magic effect is much more practical than fireball, frost, lightning and the like.

Kaxia prepared more than that. He knew that although Ethan had learned simple hand-to-hand combat, he can now use daggers and other weapons in a good manner, but he doesn't know much about longswords and other weapons. Therefore, she also gave an extra handbook.

"Here are basic swordsmanship movements and practice methods, as well as some of my personal understanding and practice experience of swordsmanship. I hope it will be helpful to you."

Ethan took the handwritten note, and then very solemnly thanked Kasha. This was exactly what he needed very much. He didn't expect Kasha to give him this thing. And he is neither Roger nor a disciple of Kasha, this kind of thing can't be given away casually in this world.

Even Akara, who spends more time with him, only sent some medicinal powder to himself, but did not say what magic potion making experience handbook was given.

"Maybe... it's because of my many actions that indirectly saved more Rogers, right?"

After that, other people in the camp also came to say goodbye to Ethan one after another, but Ethandra and Zul did not see a trace. Ethan felt that they might be busy with something, or wait until he leaves tomorrow. appear.

But not as Ethan guessed. Early the next morning, Ethan packed up and saluted, and then came to a clearing with his luggage, quietly waiting for the time to activate the teleportation magic.

At this time, Ishandra and Zul finally appeared, along with the blacksmith Chasi from the camp.

"I thought you wouldn't come to see me off."

"How is it possible, it's just that you are leaving suddenly, so I need some time to prepare the gift, but luckily I made it." Zul opened his mouth first, and then opened his hand to reveal the plain copper ring in his palm.

In this scene, Ethan suddenly wanted to vomit. UU read www.uukanshu.com but didn't know where to start vomiting for a while, so he could only hold back forcibly, "What is this?"

He didn't think that Zul would give him an ordinary copper ring casually. Guessing it by himself would be a waste of time, so just ask.

"This is a ring, Ethan." Zul smiled jokingly: "It's just that I have enchanted a curse on it."

The hand that was stretched out just now shrank back again, Ethan said with a face, 'You actually want to hurt me! Looking at Zul with his expression, Zul was speechless in exchange.

"It is an active spell that you can cast with your own mental power to help you deal with the enemy."

Zul stopped joking with Ethan, and introduced his ring in detail. As he said, this thing is very straightforward and easy to use. Ethan can control the mana stored in the ring with his mental power, and then actively release a curse of weakness to attack the enemy.

Weakness: A curse that can reduce the strength, agility, and durability of the casted object. The specific effect is determined by the opponent's own situation. It is the most entry-level spell of the curse system spells taught by the priests of Rasma.

However, considering the strength of Ethan's mental power and the lack of magic power, this level of curse is the most suitable for him to use.

In addition, this ring can absorb the original magic power from the surroundings spontaneously. It does not require additional energy from Ethan. The only drawback is that the magic power is not stored and can only be cast three times in a row, and it needs to wait for the recovery of the magic power. In fact, this automatic absorption and storage of the original magic is the most difficult part of this small prop.

"Nice props, do you have a name?"

Zul nodded: "I thought of a name last night, called 'Zul's Blessing!' Isn't it very appropriate?"

Chapter 17 Guardian of Ishandra

Ethan looked at the ring on his left index finger, and briefly experimented.

The way to use this ring is really simple. What's more important is that the enchanting magic circle is made especially stable, and it is impossible to lose its effect because of a simple bump.

I remembered the two wristbands I had made before, but they were only chopped off. Even the whole wristband was not damaged, and the engraved magic circle was completely destroyed. This level of difference is not just a little bit.

“Thank you, Zul.”

Zul, who accepted the gratitude calmly, took a step back and gave the position to the waiting Ishandra.

“I made this for you together with Chaxi. Isn't your original pair of braces broken?”

I didn't expect Ishandra to actually make a pair of braces for herself, and it was still very similar to the previous pair, but more delicate wristbands.

“This...”

As soon as he got it, Ethan found that the metal on the watch face was mixed with mithril which was more suitable for magic and spiritual magic. In addition, the precision of the magic circle was much better than that of his previous works. It is more stable and the effect is also greater.

“There is more than one magic enchanted on this wristband?”

tried to inject a little mental energy on it, and Ethan immediately discovered the excellence of this pair of wristbands.

“The one in the left hand can not only inflict freezing damage on the six short arrows on it, but also release an ice shield.”

Ishandra pointed to Ethan if I would use this magic. Ison, who understood the trick after just listening to it, controlled his mental power in the way Ishandra said, against the magic circle in his left wristband. An 'instruction' was given.

An icy cold air radiated from the wristband, and in the blink of an eye, it condensed into a translucent round shield about one meter in diameter.

“In addition to a certain defense, he will also have a certain impact on people close to you.”

When the frost and cold air is on display, it will inevitably cause a drop in temperature, which will affect people to some extent. However, Ethan, who was guarded by the Frost Shield, was not harmed and felt cool at best.

The disadvantage of Ice Shield is that it must continuously mobilize mental power to maintain it. Before Ethan's mental power is not strong enough, it cannot be released from beginning to end in battle.

But even so, it is also a very good defensive magic equipment. What's more, there are six short arrows on the wrist. These six short arrows can also be attached to frost magic and cause damage to the enemy.

Ethan also tried it, and released an arrow at a stone not far away. The power of the freezing gas was much stronger than he expected, and the whole stone was covered with a layer of frost.

"If you hit someone, you will suffer severe frostbite even if you can't freeze to death, and you will lose your ability to fight."

What's more, the number of arrows on the wristband is three more than the one I made before, and with this power, the combat power is almost doubled.

"what about this?"

I've been introducing the left-hand wristband before, and Ethan is not stupid. How could he not guess that the effect of the right-hand wristband is completely different from that of the left-hand?

"The magic on this wristband is mainly for offense."

Inscribed on the wristband of the right hand is the flame attribute magic circle that Ethan is more familiar with. Before, he inscribed a fire attribute magic circle on his own wristband. It is just the magic circle on this new wristband, both in effect and power. Not Ethan's comparable.

The same thing is that it can only attach fire damage to the short arrows it shoots. It's just that compared to the small flames attached to Ethan that can only cause some interference to the enemy, Ishandrola is much stronger.

A flaming short arrow was launched, and it directly exploded a small pit on the ground. If an ordinary person touched it, it would definitely be dead.

"In addition, this wristband can also shoot five fireballs."

Fireball?

Fireball can be said to be the basic magic that all casters using the elemental system must return. Don't think of it as an entry-level magic, but its power varies greatly depending on the caster.

Isandra is not a mage who specializes in fire magic, but his knowledge of fire elements is enough to make a qualified prop.

The fireball technique engraved on the wristband given to Ethan is not an entry-level small fireball. After the few flame arrows, attaching a small fireball is of little significance. Therefore, each of the fireballs condensed by this magic circle is not small in power, and can be used for range killing. This is still not up to the power of the big fireball she cast.

This is based on Ethan's strength and mental strength. Considering his speed of progress in the future, Ishandrola may have spent a lot of thought before setting a standard.

"thank you!"

I learned about the two wristbands in detail, and then learned the dumbfounding names of these two wristbands:

The left hand can use the Frost Shield, and the one who can shoot Frost Arrows is actually called Isandra's Passion! It means to protect the user with Ishandra's enthusiasm and love; while the right hand can use fireball and shoot flame arrows is called Ishandra's coldness, which means coldness to the enemy.

The two bracers added together are called "Isandra's Guardian", which is a slightly normal name.

"Are these two names reversed?"

But after hearing the implied meaning, I think Ishandro's name is very reasonable and very appropriate.

Ishandrola briefly confessed a few more words and gave up the position to Chasi who came with him.

The blacksmith at Camp Rogge is actually a very enthusiastic person. Ethan had not had much contact with her before, but when she needed help, Chasi put aside what she had at hand and helped Ethan in the shortest time. Created the pair of bracers—even if Ethan said he wasn't in a hurry to use it.

Didn't expect that she would send herself specially, and it seems that she would give her a gift?

"Actually, I didn't have anything to prepare for a while, and I didn't have the right materials to make things for your mage. This set of light armor was made by me mixing some strange metal particles before, and I will give it to you for protection. "

A very lightweight armor consisting of only a few parts.

Breastplate, handguards, and greaves, in addition to protecting the vitals of the chest, they only protect the two parts of the hands and legs that are often used to fight the enemy. It can be said that they are targeted armors.

What surprised Ethan most was that this armor was not heavy at all, it was lighter than leather armor. When worn on the body, it looks like ordinary cloth. This is why Chaxi gave him this light armor, too heavy armor is just a heavy burden for Ethan.

“I don’t know the specific role of that strange particle. I only know that it will make this light armor lighter than a commoner, and it can float on the water. I don’t know if it’s useful for you.”

I was still wondering if I was considered Ethan, who was successfully transferred to the Bronze Saint Seiya job. He almost smiled at the words of Chaxi.

Your own world is full of water, and no one can guarantee that you will always maintain sufficient physical strength or sane consciousness when you will not fall into the water. Having such a ‘life jacket’ will undoubtedly give one’s life more protection.

If Ishandrola and Zul weren’t watching, and Ethan was too excited to behave well, it would look like what they gave. Ethan really wanted to give Chaxi a big hug—of course, With Chasi’s physique, it is not necessarily who is holding whom.

“Also, this weapon of yours, I helped you fix it.”

Chaxi was also very happy to see that Ethan liked his gift, and took out an iron rod from behind him.

That was the iron rod that Ethan had obtained when he cleared the evil cave. After the blood crow was wiped out and returned to the camp, Ishandra took the stick. He didn’t think much about it at the time, and directly handed it over to Isandra.

I really didn’t expect that Ishandra was given to Chasi, and Chasi repaired the iron rod again, dealt with the original fracture of the hammer head, and removed the surface of the iron rod. Various stains, polished and decorated with some patterns.

Silver-white stick body with irregular patterns, and a grip almost completely remade. This appearance is much better than I didn’t know before, plus it possesses good thunder and lightning power, how can I still see the miserable appearance before, UU Reading www. uukanshu.com is simply a brand new weapon.

“This weapon has no name yet, maybe you can make one?”

This seems to be the norm in this world, but Ethan didn't know what name to name it in a hurry.

"One hundred thousand volts?"

"Big generator?"

"The Lord of Thunder and Lightning?"

"Human myth-thunder and lightning come?"

flashed through his mind one name after another related to thunder and lightning, but none of them were reliable.

"I'll think about it slowly, I don't know what to name for a while."

At this moment, Ethan's last time and space energy began to fluctuate violently, and the magic circle pattern appeared out of thin air in the position where he stood, exuding bursts of brilliance.

"My teacher has already started teleporting magic. It seems that I will leave soon."

He quickly picked up a few parcels on the ground. He still remembered that the things he didn't 'carry' on his body could not be taken back. The most important thing here was not that there was not much food and water, but Ah The books and manuscripts that Kara, Isandra and Kashya gave to themselves must not be forgotten to take away.

The few people who wanted to talk to Ethan a little more, they stepped back when they saw it. They didn't know the specific scope of the magic circle. If they were accidentally involved, it's not bad, in case they get stuck. Far away, being torn into pieces by powerful magical energy is really unlucky.

"I am very happy to be a partner fighting side by side with you. I will always remember this time."

The gradually intense light slowly concealed Ethan's appearance. Even Ethan's final farewell words became stronger and more blurred with the fluctuation of the magical power. As the space-time energy finally exploded, Ethan also disappeared. In the dazzling glory.

Chapter 18 Discover the island is back, familiar ship, familiar sea level, and familiar sunlight.

After just staying for a month, Ethan almost forgot what it was like to be covered by the warm sun.

“Although I have gained a lot, I have made some good friends... But I really don't want to go to that cold and dark world anymore.”

Of course, if Ethan is so strong that he is so powerful in the future, he would be happy to go back and help those who have helped him.

“Maybe, they should save their world from the gap between heaven and hell.”

After living for a month, some knowledge has already been popularized by Akara and Zul.

Strictly speaking, there are three spaces in the dark world, the **** where the demons live, the heaven where the gods live, and the human world sandwiched between heaven and hell, which is where he goes.

Rasma taught even earlier that the most important thing in this world is the balance between heaven and hell. The strength of either party will destroy all human beings. This is also the core teaching content of the Rasma religion. It can be said that the existence of Rasmaism is to maintain the survival of the world and mankind.

Until this time, Ethan did not understand why the demons can never be killed-because the heroes dare not completely wipe out the demons, because when the power of the angels takes the absolute advantage, humans will be completely reduced to the slaves of the gods, and they will never end. It's better than being ruled by the devil.

The heaven and **** in that world are essentially two countries ruled by high-end creatures. Human beings just happen to live in a neutral zone between the two countries. Naturally, they have become the target of the two races. Human beings are close to each other. Races check and balance each other to survive under the attack of two high-end creatures.

“Oh ”

Thinking of Ishandra and Zul who are about to embark on a journey to deal with Diablo, they told him directly that the final outcome of these two people would not be too good. Like several heroes in Diablo 1, it is difficult to have a good end.

looked at the cuff on the wrist, the ring on the finger, the light armor on his body, the sword, the iron rod...Almost all the equipment was brought from the dark world.

“I'm owing a lot of favor.”

made a secret decision in his heart, Ethan packed up his mood and began to sort out the harvest.

There are several books, including basic magic pharmacy, basic knowledge of magic circle, introduction to basic element magic, and a basic swordsmanship practice handbook.

There are several equipments, such as bracers, rings, light armor, iron rods, and long swords, all of which are magic equipment with various effects.

Not counting the knowledge that still needs a certain amount of time to digest, only relying on the advantages of the equipment, he can easily slap himself a month ago.

“Moreover, I have accumulated a lot of close combat knowledge and combat experience this month.”

It wasn't until this time that he got rid of the identity of the son of an ordinary fisherman and became a reliable adventurer.

“Unfortunately, I didn't find any space equipment.”

Looking at the pile of big and small bags, Ethan had a headache while tidying up.

He still doesn't know what kind of world he will go to in the future, but if he continues to collect all kinds of information in this way, then it is possible for the book to fill the space on the ship, not to mention looking for resources on various floating islands, even There is no place to store food and water.

“Everything else is easy to say, mainly paper books take up too much space... and in this world full of oceans, paper books are particularly troublesome to maintain.”

The humid air filled with salt can cause great damage to paper books. If you can't take it out often, it will be moldy and damaged soon.

“I don't know what methods are used to save data in this world...”

suddenly remembered the magic stone that the clerk used to fill in his own information when applying for membership. Ethan looked down at the hand strap that was concealed under the wristband. He remembered that there was his own information in this thing, and the Adventurer's Guild also had the means to read it. Isn't this what he wanted?

“The clerk used to write on paper before storing it in the magic stone, indicating that this thing can read information directly from the paper.”

I secretly regretted why I hadn't remembered this before, and I could use the other party to ask for a similar tool to store these books and materials when I had extra resources in my hands.

“I don’t have any extra resources now. If you want to get similar items, you have to look for floating islands.”

Ethan has always been interested in that magical island in this world. He really wanted to see a calm sea where there was nothing, suddenly floated up to an island, and then in just a few days, from a bare reef or coral island to an island with rich resources, what kind of thing is that? What a magical sight.

“It must be spectacular.”

Before I went to the dark world, the island pointer locked on an island. The only uncertainty was that I had been in the dark world for 30 days. How long has this world passed? Is the island still there?

glanced at the pointer, and still pointed firmly in one direction. Although I don’t know if it was the previous one, it proved that there are islands nearby that can be locked by the pointer.

“According to Uncle Wood’s words, the island’s existence time is not fixed, but it will vibrate frequently before sinking and disappearing. The shorter the vibration interval, the closer the time to sinking.”

This is what Wood told him before, and later he also asked the staff in the guild and learned more specific information.

Floating and sinking The island began to give birth to various lives at an astonishing speed. The fastest three days and the slowest may be the slowest. Maybe in the second before sinking, new life will be born on the island.

These lives are mainly plants, and there are relatively few animals—if animals exist on the island, it proves that the island will exist for at least one year.

According to the guild’s records, there is no record of sinking islands where animals existed since they appeared and sank in less than a year.

“I can still imagine plants... how this animal... emerged out of thin air...”

Ethan couldn’t understand even after thinking about it. He felt that many rules of this world were beyond his imagination.

was sitting on the bow of the Aurora Aurora, Ethan was splashed on his face by the waves split by the bow, while thinking wildly while recovering the mental power he had just consumed.

Back in the calm sea, he started his daily practice again, but compared to the boring practice of spiritual power and water creation before, he now has a few more lessons.

has a lot of experience in close hand-to-hand combat, but his foundation is too weak, the time of practice is too short, and he has no qualifications to be proud and complacent.

At the same time, he began to practice the basic swordsmanship that Kasha gave him—all are basic movements. The handbook is full of various precautions in detail, and almost contains all the errors and questions that novices may have.

Practice is very boring. Fortunately, Ethan can't do much on this small boat. He is alone and cannot chat with someone. The only thing he can do every day is practice and practice.

Maybe his mental power increased so fast before, and it was also related to this environment—besides practicing hard and reading and studying, he couldn't find other things to pass the time.

Until now, he still can only use practice to fill his own 'schedule'.

The boring and regular life seems to be very slow. Although he can feel the improvement of his strength every day, he is not resistant to this kind of exercise and even enjoys it. But occasionally, Ethan would hope for some changes, even if the gusts of wind make the waves bigger and cause some trouble for his voyage.

“Sure enough, so many people died in the previous life, but they were all idle!”

With righteous thoughts, a small black spot appeared on the sea surface at the far end. Ethan stared there for a long time. After confirming that it was not his dizziness, he immediately picked up the binoculars to see more clearly.

“It's an island!”

Ethan stood at the bow of the boat and watched it for ten minutes, for fear that he had an illusion in his spare time. He didn't put the telescope down until he was sure that it was the real island.

Compared with the direction pointed by the lower pointer, it was indeed the island that appeared in front. The voyage for more than ten days seemed to have come to an end, and Ethan seemed particularly happy.

“As long as it is no longer the same sea water, it is something to be happy about!”

There are islands. UU reading www.uukānshu.com also means there is food. Ethan brought a lot of food this time. He also added a little ration in the dark world. Sometimes he relied on fishing and even fishing nets to fish some seafood to supplement food, but Continuous sailing still consumes most of the inventory. If the island cannot be found, he must consider adjusting the direction and looking for the next point of space-time energy.

“If the clerk did not lie to me, then I have a high probability of finding the magic stone, and I should be able to exchange it for what I want.”

I don't want to be high-quality magic stones. As long as they are of general quality, they can get enough food and water. Ethan can appropriately reduce the quantity of these materials and exchange them for an item that can be used to record data.

calculated in his heart, the appearance of the island gradually became clear. This is an already formed island with very lush vegetation. Standing on the boat and looking over it, it is green. Because the line of sight is blocked by lush vegetation, it is uncertain whether there are animals on the island.

Ethan controlled the speed of the ship, and at the same time adjusted the direction slightly, so that his ship no longer rushed straight toward the island, but just staggered a bit, and then sailed around the island. This is also convenient for him to observe the waters near the island and find a suitable place to anchor.

Almost no effort, Ethan found a nice place.

It was a small natural harbor. The entrance was not very wide, and there were a few reefs towering up, but the widest place just happened to allow Ethan's boats to enter. The water in the small bay was moderately deep, the water surface was gentle, and clear through It can be clearly seen from the water surface that there is no reef below and it is full of fine sand. Even if the tide is aground, it will not cause damage to the ship.

“A good place!”

Not only did Ethan find a place to stop the boat, the coast can even be used as a temporary camp on this island.

Chapter 19 Yuanjia Road is narrow parked the boat, Ethan turned around near the beach. At first he wanted to set up his camp on the beach by the sea, but after observing for a while, he found that it was too close to the sea. Maybe because the high tide flooded the resting place that I had built so hard, I had to go inside for a while.

looked back, it happened to be a small soil slope, and there was also a certain distance from the woods, so as to avoid suddenly jumping out of the woods to make myself unable to react.

Slightly higher terrain can also avoid the sea water spreading up by the high tide.

“Next I have to build a shed.”

Ethan looked up at the sky. The clear sky didn't know when it started to have dark clouds. It seemed that it would rain in the next second.

If he can't build a shelter from the wind and rain in the shortest time, he can only go back to the boat to rest.

Having been floating in the sea for so long, he really wants to sleep firmly on the land now.

Even the exploration of this island has to be put aside for the time being.

“Fortunately, in the dark world, I learned how to make tents with simple materials.”

With Ethan's current strength, he couldn't easily cut down the big tree, then cut the wood into the material he needed with dazzling swordsmanship, and then built a perfect wooden house with amazing craftsmanship.

His current strength can only allow him to collect and carry some slightly sturdy branches. The thick wrist is already the limit.

The roof of the shed, he found some relatively large and heavy leaves, and then peeled off the bark from the branches and twisted them into a rope. Combine these messy things together to form a simple tent.

Ethan repaired back and forth, and finally looked at the weird-shaped tent in front of him, and he had no choice but to laugh bitterly: “Somehow it can shelter the wind and rain.”

patted it casually. Although the tent is not very beautiful, it is still very strong and should not be blown down by the wind... right...

got into the tent, Ethan stretched fiercely on the “bed” made of big leaves, thinking about where to start exploring the island tomorrow.

“Let's take a look around the island first.”

If possible, Ethan wants to explore every inch of the island, around the island and then approaching the center in circles, so as to ensure that he can walk every part of the island and increase The probability of finding the magic stone by yourself.

But he also knows that this method is undesirable because it is too time-consuming.

After many adventurers find the island, their first choice is always to enter the most central area for exploration. It seems that having the most valuable things in the center of the island has become a common rule.

“It must be wrong, otherwise the person told me that there are magic stones on almost all islands, and it will become common sense that everyone knows.”

But the reality is that an old sailor like Wood, who has been floating on the sea for several years, doesn't necessarily know this.

“Let's find it slowly, first turn around, choose a standard reference object in several directions, and then choose a direction to explore inside.”

Elimination in one direction and one direction, although a little worse than the way of moving closer to the center in circles, is already the most practical way at the moment.

“I'm the only one. It's still a bit of a hassle to do this kind of thing. It would be nice if I could have a helper.”

People are always social creatures. When I first went out to sea, Ethan had just left the village and got along with many people for several years. When I first went out to sea, everything was fresh and I didn't feel much about it.

Later, he was under pressure to survive, and he found that the sea was not peaceful, and he also had an urgent need to improve his strength, so he didn't have the energy to think about these things for a while.

Now that the strength has been improved, the safety has been guaranteed, and the pressure of survival has suddenly been reduced. In addition, I have taken risks with Ishandra and Zul for a period of time. I am used to the existence of teammates and suddenly changed back to one. People inevitably feel a little lonely.

“In my case, teammates are not easy to find.”

In the process of turning over and over again, Ethan fell into his dreamland with the sound of gradually increasing raindrops. In his dream, he had a lot of teammates and a very large ship. A group of partners lived happily on the ship, and were adventurous again and again. Later, finally found the endless land of legend...

When Ethan opened his eyes, the sun had already risen, and the warm sunlight had heated up his simple tent, and the rain that had remained last night was gone.

Walking out of the tent and washing with the rainwater specially stored last night, Ethan remembered his previous dream.

“Why are there all men on Lao Tzu’s boat in the dream? Didn’t even a girl flicker there? What a good boat!”

Angrily threw the leaves in his hands to the ground, and Ethan put on the armor that Chasi had given him.

He wore this armor for a long time except when he first returned to the calm sea, and then he didn’t wear it again. He just took it out for cleaning and maintenance every day.

Armor, even light armor, is not so comfortable to wear.

At the same time, Ethan finally understood why the knights in the Middle Ages, when wearing armor, covered their back with a coat of war robe, and also covered the entire back with a cloak.

“I used to think that the cloak was just for decoration, but it turned out not to be...”

The inevitable thing about metal armor is that it will absorb heat when exposed to direct sunlight. If it is not covered by cloaks and tabards, then in a slightly hot weather, it will be a metal oven that can move.

In winter, metal will absorb air-conditioning, and if it is not wrapped in a thick cloak, it will become a mobile freezer.

The armor that Chaxi gave himself did not have accessories such as tabards and cloaks, so Ethan couldn’t stand it after only wearing it for a long time, so he had to take it off.

This time Ethan will wear it because he can’t know what dangers exist on this small island. It is better to wear all the equipment just in case.

At the same time, except for a walk around the island at the beginning, most of the island is covered with dense woods, covered by leaves to avoid direct sunlight, and Ethan doesn’t have to worry about turning his armor into an oven.

“Alternatively, you can consider installing a temperature-adjusting magic circle on the armor.”

insisted on walking around the island, feeling that his armor was getting hotter and hotter, Ethan had to adjust his route and choose to walk in the shade as much as possible.

Fortunately, this island is not particularly big. In addition, Ethan’s stamina and footwork are not weak now, so he quickly walked around the island and returned to his camp.

“The island is not big. I only walked around in the middle of the night. I can explore the woods while it is still dark.”

By the way, he still needs to find some food. He has already seen some fruit trees along the way. It was a specialty of this world, and he had this kind of fruit in the materials he exchanged for the guild before.

The name of this kind of fruit is fruit. It is a kind of coconut-like fruit. It is smaller than a coconut and has a greenish skin. It is very fragile and can open a crack with a light blow. The interior is hollow, and the water with the aroma of plants is stored inside.

In addition to the water prepared separately, this fruit is the most important source of water in the world. Almost every adventurer’s boat will store as much fruit as possible.

The water in the bucket has been stored for a long time. If there is no water purification magic stone, it will spoil and become undrinkable, but this kind of fruit can be stored for a long time.

In addition, Ethan guessed that the water in this fruit still contains enough vitamins, because in this barren world, many adventurers rely on dried salted fish and temporarily caught seafood as food and intake of green vegetables. There are very few, but none of the various sailing diseases that I know about appear, most probably because of the existence of these fruits.

Before, Ethan relied on his ability to make water, so he didn’t bring much fruit, but now he accidentally found a lot on this island, and he can fill up a warehouse in his ship.

“I wonder if there is anything else?”

In the following days, Ethan’s life became very regular again. I got up every day to wash and eat, and then I started exploring the island according to the previous plan, collecting foods I knew-I took a sample if I didn’t know it, UU Reading www. uukanshu.com is ready to bring it back to the guild for inquiries.

“I made a mistake, I should buy a book of various known food illustrations and the like.”

Ethan does not have much experience after all. He is still exploring a lot of things now. There are many rules in this world that are different from his previous life, which is normal for a while. Fortunately, he will always keep his mistakes in mind and avoid making them again next time.

While exploring like this, Ethan slowly approached the center of the island.

There is nothing strange in the center of the island, just a small soil slope. Compared with the surrounding greenery, it looks a bit desolate and there is no root grass.

Ethan has been here several times before, but never found anything strange.

“Is it underground?”

If that’s the case, it would be troublesome. Ethan didn’t bring any tools for digging. Did he use his long sword to dig the soil? If Kasha knew it, would she cross the plane and stab herself to death?

While Ethan was still hesitating whether to continue exploring other unknown areas or dig here first, there was a sudden sound of footsteps in the woods ahead, and then a few people walked out of the woods. .

Ethan looked up and found that there were acquaintances among them.

It was Rodney among the two people he had saved, and he would leave State Island early, just to notice that Rodney seemed to be malicious towards him.

Sure enough, the next guy’s behavior perfectly confirmed Ethan’s judgment.

“Ha, it turned out to be you! It was really unlucky to be met by us here!” Rodney didn’t seem to expect to bump into Ethan, but he immediately looked excited after a two-second pause. “Captain, this kid! He has the magic stone for battle he got from Wood!”

Chapter 20 Like things together

Ethan looked at Rodney with a look of excitement, and the big man with bright eyes, and he could predict what they would say next.

“Boy! Hand over the magic stone!”

Ethan nodded secretly, and it was exactly the same as he had thought, without even a punctuation mark.

“You have been observing me secretly for a long time, haven’t you?”

didn’t pay attention to the big guy with eyes full of light and winks secretly at his men. He didn’t even bother to pay attention to the two guys who secretly surrounded him and blocked his retreat. Instead, he turned to Rodney.

“You should know that I changed the boat and came out with full supplies, right?” Ethan spread out his hands: “You arrived at State Island with me. You should know that I don’t have any resources to exchange for these things. .”

His meaning is clear. The magic stone you have been thinking about is long gone. What are you going to do next?

Still did not exceed Ethan's expectation, the few people in front of him did not pay attention to their words at all, they surrounded him on their own, and then took out various weapons.

Long swords, long knives and daggers, even Rodney drew out a scimitar: "Boy, don't say I don't believe you, even if you really exchange things with magic stones, today you don't want to escape alive. Here it is."

The meaning is obvious, whether Ethan has a magic stone or not, the other party will kill him and take everything from him. At this time, he suddenly realized that he has a lot of equipment on his body. The cause of the stone.

The exquisite light armor, the brand-new long sword, and the exquisite iron rod that is also inserted in the back of the waist, these have all become the reason for the opponent to do it himself.

"Sure enough, things gather together by kind."

A Rodney, don't thank yourself for saving him, just forget it, just because of a magic stone, it became harmful. And the groups newly joined by such people are all similar robbers. They don't care about the mess when they see good things, so they just grab them and grab them.

"Although I have known this for a long time, I am sure it will strengthen my conviction."

Ethan didn't look down on these stinky sweet potato rotten bird eggs, saying that they were less likely to insult them than zombies, but they really had no advantage compared with Sinking Demon.

After countless battles in the dark world, Ethan is no longer an ordinary boy without the power of a chicken, and it is precisely because of this that he has the confidence to stand here, quietly watching them perform.

At the same time, he didn't want to just make guesses to decide the life and death of others, but once he was sure that the other party was indeed a scum, he would not hesitate and be kind.

After making a decision in his heart, Ethan didn't even bother to talk nonsense. He always believed that in this situation, he should not waste his saliva. It is much more useful to kill the opponent or half to death than to reason.

half-turned fiercely, his right hand quickly raised and shot a short arrow at the guy behind him.

The short arrow on Ethan's wristband is triggered entirely by mental power, and it is very convenient to use. The advantage of this is that the opponent has no time to react. He has been shot by the short arrow before he understands what is going on.

Because the short arrow on the wristband is not powerful, it can only guarantee a certain lethality within ten meters. In addition, the short arrow itself is small. If a similar weapon does not directly hit the throat and other vital points, it is basically difficult to cause too much damage. Can only play a role in interference.

So most people who use this type of weapon will smear poison on the short arrows to make up for the lack of damage.

Ethan did not do this, because his short arrows are more brutal!

Boom!

The sound of the explosion shook everyone, and the flames that erupted even surprised a few people.

These people did not include Ethan. After shooting an arrow, he immediately drew the long sword from his waist, and then slashed directly at another enemy who wanted to block his way without hesitation for half a second.

The sound is almost inaudible. Ethan's sword cut was extremely accurate, and he cut directly from the man's throat. The sharp point of the sword was not obstructed at all, and a slender opening was opened in the enemy's throat.

This sword is almost the most perfect sword he has wielded since he learned swordsmanship. Whether it is power, speed or angle, all are just right. Perfect to the point where everyone reacts to what happened, the man is already lying on the ground and convulsing. It's-the throat being chopped off does not die immediately.

Ethan is not a person who likes to torture enemies, so he didn't let this person suffer any more, he just made a sword and ended his life.

Until this time, when the situation turned upside down, the big man on the other side realized what had happened.

"Asshole!"

first jumped angrily, then turned around and slap Rodney's eyes at the gold star.

"Didn't you say that this is a rookie who just came out of a small country island?"

After all, he has been in the sea for several years, and he has done a lot of 'business' but he is still alive and well, relying on never to provoke or provoke the characters' caution.

If Rodney hadn't told himself before, that the man who got the magic stone was a rookie who had just gone out to sea and was a thin young man with little strength, he would never have the idea of grabbing things from the other party.

But now, where is the other kid from the country?

A rookie who just went to sea?

He is not a blind man. The skillful movements of that kid must be a cruel character who doesn't know how many people he has killed. Moreover, at the beginning, the opponent still has magic stone equipment, which is not something he can provoke.

If Ethan knew what was in the other party's heart, he would definitely scream wrong. Although he has been working hard and killed many monsters with Isandra and Zul, it's the first time to kill someone today. What is a cruel character? ?

As for the magic stone equipment? His previous pair of bracers could barely be regarded as magic stone equipment, but now he has a pair of authentic magic equipment, produced by the dark world and carefully crafted by Isandra, quality assurance!

"Man, this is actually a misunderstanding. I am willing to offer half of all the supplies on my ship, as long as you let me go."

Ethan heard these words and almost laughed out of a pig cry.

"If I expressed my willingness to offer supplies before, would you let me leave safely?"

The big man stopped talking. Of course, he could just make up nonsense, of course, but that didn't make any sense. From Ethan's answer, he already understood the meaning of the young man opposite.

"Then there is nothing to talk about."

"There is nothing to talk about."

Ethan didn't let their thoughts go from the beginning. It was Rodney's kind of you who saved him. Instead, he was full of thoughts about the existence of killing you, that he wanted to kill you with a stick. Let go? Isn't that trouble for yourself?

The same is true for several other people. Now that both sides have torn their faces, they have been killed by themselves. Will they not hate themselves?

Cut the grass and root! Eliminate evil!

raised his hand, Ethan seemed to be about to shoot another short arrow while the opponent hadn't dispersed yet.

The other party had been wary of his hand a long time ago. As soon as he raised his hand, several people hurriedly made an evasive action. But what they didn't expect was that Ethan just flicked this time, instead firing a Frost Arrow with his left hand.

The Frost Arrow is not as lethal as the Fire Arrow, but the Frost Arrow has more uses in the auxiliary. Ethan aimed at the feet of two of them who were closer, and the sudden burst of freezing air spread on the ground. There is a layer of hard ice, and the ground is particularly flat, without even roots of weeds.

The next thing did not exceed Ethan's expectations. The two people who stepped on the ice and lost their balance directly fell in front of Ethan who had been waiting there.

Stabbed from the back of the heart, one sword at a time.

Although one of them reacted and wanted to roll aside to avoid him, he was hindered by his companion's corpse and could only be stabbed to death with a sword by Ethan.

The few people brought over, only himself and Rodney were left in the blink of an eye. At this time, the big man also started thinking about running away. And he not only wanted to run, but also acted.

In order to ensure that he could escape smoothly, he pushed Rodney out as a shield, hoping to block Ethan and buy time so that he could escape.

"As long as you can get to the boat."

The place where they landed is not in the same direction as Ethan, and they have deliberately cleared the road along the way, so as long as he rushed up, and Rodney blocked for a while, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com believes Ethan has no way to catch up. Yourself. If Rodney can entangle for a while, he would be safe.

He was still too naive. The moment Ethan saw Rodney rush up, his left hand pulled the iron rod out of his back. The dazzling arc danced happily on Rodney's body, leading Rodney to dance an unknown dance. Let alone entangled Ethan, he couldn't even block him for a moment, and he was electrocuted to the ground and couldn't move.

Looking at the position of the big man, he returned his hand to insert the long sword on the ground, raised his free right hand, and used Ishandra's coldly engraved fireball technique. A watermelon-sized fireball instantly formed in Ethan's hand. Then whistling and chasing the big man.

The big man was secretly happy when he didn't hear the chase behind him, but suddenly felt a heat wave behind him. Realizing that it was not good, he didn't even dare to look back, so he just prepared to fly towards the big tree next to him. .

wanted to hide behind the big tree to avoid the attack, while also being able to get out of Ethan's line of sight, the big man's judgment fully demonstrated his rich combat experience.

Unfortunately, his previous experience cannot help him this time.

The fireball didn't need to hit him completely. The moment he paused, he was approached close enough by the fireball, and then there was a loud bang.

The powerful impact suddenly exploded, and the big man flew out, and slammed into the thick trunk that he originally wanted to use as a cover. The huge force even smashed the big tree into two pieces.

Looking at the big man who was blown up and hit a tree and finally fell to the ground like a rag. After Ethan confirmed that he was dead, the first battle in the Sea of Calm ended.

The enemy had six dead and no injuries, but he... only lost two short arrows.

"It's a perfect battle."
