Chapter 140: I am a Poisonous Woman

“Such conditions are very tempting! Now, I’m starting to look forward to Chief Jenkins’ proposal.”

Benjamin Johnson’s voice was full of magnetism, warm and courteous.

He should be a different type of man than Daniel Marshall.

A fox-like man!

Olivia Jenkins slightly raised the corner of her mouth, without saying much.

Moreover, Olivia had a feeling that Benjamin Johnson must have thoroughly understood her.

After leaving the Emerald Pavilion, Olivia returned to the Jenkins Group.

There, in Serene City square, Olivia unexpectedly saw Daniel Marshall, accompanied by a sweet-looking woman with long, gentle, straight hair.

Daniel was carrying a few shopping bags, and chivalrously opening the car door for the woman.

Olivia stepped on the gas and swiftly drove past.

She left that scene behind, her face cooling significantly in an instant.

Reaching the crossroads, Olivia turned towards the Bennett Group.

Upon hearing the front desk report that Olivia Jenkins wanted to see him,

Jordan Bennett couldn't help but furrow his brows, his deep eyes narrowing.

After creating such a scene, this woman still dared to see him and even personally came to the Bennett Group.

What on earth was she up to?

Just how daring could she be?

Was Daniel so indulgent that he allowed his wife to seduce men everywhere? Jordan Bennett's mouth curled in disdain, his eyes illuminated with contempt.

"Let her come up."

Guided by the secretary, Olivia walked into the President's office.

After handing over a cup of coffee, the secretary retreated.

Olivia looked at Jordan Bennett calmly and sincerely said, "President Bennett, I sincerely came to apologize to you. I'm truly sorry for causing you trouble."

Jordan Bennett's gaze was icy as he stared at Olivia, "Well played! Having an innocent face yet full of cunning."

Olivia's expression didn't change, "You can call me a prickly rose, or a poisonous woman... Anyway, I'm already notorious in Serene City, I'm used to it. My skin is so thick that weapons can't penetrate it, I don't care about others' opinions or what they say."

For the first time, Jordan Bennett saw a woman who would demean herself, and couldn't help reassessing Olivia.

Sitting in front of him, this woman was still calm and composed.

One could tell that this woman was really smart.

However, he was not a man she could play with easily, and she didn't want to mess with him either.

"Mrs. Olivia Marshall, I can't accept your apology, please respect yourself!"

"I trust that President Bennett isn't a foolish man who can easily see that this is a trap, and we are both caught in it. The purpose is also clear—to prevent cooperation between the Jenkins Group and the Bennett Group, also to provoke the anger of the Marshall Family and have me thrown out. It seems that I have many enemies, and plenty of people who want to see my reputation in shambles."

Jordan Bennett laughed coldly, "Your affairs have nothing to do with me, and I'm not interested in knowing. I hope Mrs. Marshall will stop bothering me."

Bennett has fallen for me? And then, on learning my identity, he became angry from embarrassment?"

Jordan Bennett's eyes twitched, chuckling, "As long as Mrs. Marshall's willing, all men in Serene City must like you, is that how it's understood?"

"What others think, I'm not interested in, does President Bennett think this way? It cannot be denied that President Bennett has an increasingly large prejudice against me. Otherwise, I don't dare to speculate, I have some good looks, a bit of charm, I have enough self-awareness to know that."

Jordan Bennett pursed his lips, his sharp gaze fixed on Olivia.

Her innocent and beautiful face showed no emotional waves, making it hard for people to guess what she was thinking.

With a whoosh, Olivia stood up, smiling at Jordan Bennett, "Until next time!"
