

Every Night 147

Chapter 147'. Seeing the Rival in Love, Extraordinarily Jealous

Daniel Marshall and Benjamin Johnson didn't get along, and Daniel warned her multiple times to stay away from Benjamin. He even claimed that Benjamin was only getting close to her to use her against him. However, why was this woman still having dinner with Benjamin?

Didn't Daniel love this woman? How could he bear to see her being so close to Benjamin?

Olivia Jenkins could see that this woman and Benjamin's relationship wasn't simple either.

Squinting slightly, Olivia hid the sharp light in her eyes. She still had a gentle smile on her face, "President Johnson, please, don't be polite. I just brought my assistant here to say hello. Perhaps we could become partners in the future, so we should acquaint ourselves."

Jay Bennett didn't speak but she had glanced at Olivia a few times.

When such a beautiful woman was staring at Benjamin, she felt uncomfortable in her heart and was jealous of this woman who could talk to Benjamin so freely.

Benjamin's eyes were fixed on Olivia, sharp like a hawk's.

He had underestimated Olivia, he hadn't expected her to be so astute.

The corners of Benjamin's mouth curled up into a half-smile, "Chief Jenkins, if you're free someday, let's dine together and have a detailed discussion. I'm really looking forward to cooperating with you."

Olivia nodded slightly, her round and bright eyes twinkling as if stars were shining in them. A confident and arrogant radiance spread across her beautiful features.

Seeing a woman of such presence and powerful aura, Jay pursed her lips and squinted slightly.

To alleviate her own embarrassment, she picked up some dishes to eat.

Olivia calmly watched the woman next to Benjamin. She teased, "President Johnson, is this your girlfriend? She's beautiful, sweet and lovely. You have a great taste!"

Hearing the compliment, Jay looked up at Olivia.

Olivia didn't take back her gaze, however, she was quite surprised.

Judging by this woman's reactions, she didn't even know of her existence. Had Daniel never mentioned his so-called wife to her?

Did this woman not know about Daniel's other affairs?

Riding on what Benjamin knew, had he not told this woman?

What exactly was their relationship?

In just an instant, Olivia had too many questions in her mind.

She really didn't understand Daniel!

Without thinking, Benjamin candidly responded, "She's my sister!" Sister?

Olivia was even more confused and it all seemed more complicated. "President Johnson, sorry! I won't disturb your meal anymore, we'll go over there."

"Alright!"

When Benjamin said that she was just his sister, Jay felt an acrid wrench in her heart and her complexion became slightly pale.

Once Olivia had left, Jay asked Benjamin, "She seems to be quite powerful, what does she do? Have you known her for long?"

Benjamin responded indifferently, "We just met a few days ago. She's the acting CEO of Jenkins Group. By the way, has Daniel ever mentioned his private life to you?"

Jay blinked her bright eyes at Benjamin, "Does Daniel also know her?"

Jay still didn't know that Olivia was Daniel's new wife. Benjamin seemed taken aback, he remained silent, only nodding his head.

"A domineering female CEO, sounds so powerful! She's also very beautiful, with a strong aura and an irresistible charm!"

Benjamin must like this kind of woman, right? Nobody could ignore such a woman!

Jay pursed her lips and laughed at herself.

Benjamin hesitated to speak.

If Jay knew that this woman was Daniel's new wife, and he had abandoned Charmy Bennett's feelings and memories for her, would she still praise this woman?

After some thought, Benjamin finally said, "Don't believe everything Daniel says. Sometimes, you may know a person's face but not their heart!"

"Benjamin, do you still have a big misunderstanding about Daniel? I understand his feelings for my sister and I also comprehend his marriage.."
