

Every Night 197

Chapter 197: Olivia Jenkins, you broke my heart too much

Instantly, Hannah Jenkins stopped crying.

Benjamin Davis was very gentlemanly, offered her his handkerchief, and sat next to her.

Hannah was stunned for a moment before she wiped her tears with Benjamin Davis' handkerchief. "Earlier, I had wanted to discuss something with you. I guess it's impossible now. I'm in no position to offer you anything."

Benjamin Davis's eyes were deep and mysterious, as he offered a tender smile through the corner of his mouth. "Miss Jenkins, surely you were not planning to discuss Jenkins Group with me?"

As Hannah looked at him, she felt that he was incredibly profound. "You must have seen my mother's scandal. I am no longer fit for negotiations. I'm not even sure if Olivia will let me off. My fate is in her hands now."

"Miss Jenkins, do not overthink. When one road closes, another opens. Once you figure things out, look for me," Benjamin said pulling out a business card for Hannah.

Hannah received the card, glanced at it, and said, "Thank you!"

The smile on Benjamin's lips deepened. "You must pull yourself together. Your fate can be in your own hands."

Hannah seemed a little confused as she looked at him.

Benjamin stood up with an unfathomable smile and then left.

On his way to the elevator lobby from the garden, Benjamin saw Olivia Jenkins waiting for him like she had been waiting on purpose.

Without any hesitation, Benjamin walked nonchalantly toward Olivia. "What a coincidence!"

Olivia squinted at him, "President Benjamin, are you crazy?"

With a reckless smile and squinted eyes, Benjamin responded, "Chief Jenkins, are you mocking me? You are quite humorous. At this rate, I might fall for you." Benjamin's frank and audacious tease did not seem to bother Olivia; she clearly meant to be sarcastic.

"So, did President Benjamin come specifically to see me?"

All of a sudden, Benjamin drew closer to Olivia, whispering in her ear, "Yes, to see you. You know, someone is after me."

Olivia gave him a scornful look, avoided his advances, and burst out laughing, "Thanks for your affection, President Benjamin! But I have to disappoint you, my husband disagrees with our collaboration. Therefore, Jenkins Group will not be collaborating with Zenith Capital." "Are you deferring to your husband?"

"Of course, and it isn't your place to worry about it!"

"Olivia, you have broken my heart!" "I am responsible only to my husband."

"Just now, I wish I was Daniel Marshall."

As Benjamin moved in again, Olivia, while walking away, snidely said: "Too bad, there is only one Daniel Marshall!"

Leaf Fiona walked toward Benjamin, glaring at him threateningly.

Immediately, Benjamin Davis stopped in his tracks, watching Olivia's retreating figure.

Olivia was an interesting woman; such a prime catch, already taken.

If she thought it was over that easily, then Olivia was too naive because he would make her come running back to him!

Upon entering the lobby of Resilient Care Hospital, Olivia saw Bella Thompson.

A crafty shine emitted from Bella's eyes, "Let's talk. There are secrets you still don't know."

Olivia walked by Bella indifferently.

With disdain, Bella sneered, "The old man asked me to talk to you. I hope your grandmother is okay."

Instantly, Olivia glared at Bella, threatening, "If you dare lay a finger on my grandmother, I will not let you off the hook."

"After you!"

Olivia cast one last menacing glance at Bella, and then followed the leading bodyguards.

"Keep your mouth shut, Leaf Fiona, or else the old guy will not spare you," Bella warned menacingly.

With several bodyguards, specifically the old man's men keeping an eye on Leaf Fiona, she dared not act rashly.

In the black Bentley, Bella Thompson began with a laugh, "Olivia, Daniel Marshall definitely didn't tell you that Charmy Bennett was pregnant with his child when she died.."