

Every Night 198

Chapter 198: Taking a Wife

Olivia Jenkins stared at Bella Thompson without blinking.

Her pretty face remained aloof, not a wave of emotion, giving away nothing of what she might be thinking.

Her voice carried a hint of mockery and contempt, "Just this?"

Bella Thompson's pupils contracted slightly, her gaze scrutinizing Olivia

Jenkins, she continued in an aggressive tone, "If Charmy Bennett hadn't died, Daniel Marshall would've married her. The patriarch adored Charmy and had blessed their union."

"Back then, a nursery had already been prepared in Beverly Hills, not to mention a choice selection of maternity nurses and nannies. The patriarch cherished her. When Charmy met with the accident, it was a great pain for him to have the nursery disassembled, and he grieved for a long time."

Olivia Jenkins asked nonchalantly, "So what? I'm the spouse on Daniel Marshall's marriage certificate, I am Mrs. Olivia Marshall! Even now, I am the woman standing by Daniel's side!"

Bella Thompson laughed mockingly, "Olivia Jenkins, are you deluding yourself? You can't even compete with a dead woman! Daniel avoids mentioning Charmy

Bennett to you, and you can't find any trace of her in his life, which shows that Charmy Bennett has deeply ingrained herself in his heart. Even though she's dead, he can't forget her."

"Daniel will never love you. You do not exist in his heart. You are nothing but a decorative wife to him. To put it bluntly, you are nothing more than a tool to satisfy his physical needs, and yet you're still content."

There was a brilliant gleam in Olivia Jenkins' eyes, seeming to see right through Bella Thompson, "Are you suggesting that I should file for divorce?"

"At this point, what are you holding onto? His money or the man himself? Even if you stay at Marshall's, Marshall Corporation won't save Jenkins Group. You better give up."

Olivia Jenkins's gorgeous face donned a scornful smile, her eyes squeezed into mirthful slits.

Although Olivia Jenkins' voice was gentle, it had an undeniable captivating charm.

"Yonder Group is on the verge of bankruptcy, are you planning to stay here for Marshall Corporation? They aren't going to save Yonder Group." Suddenly, Bella Thompson's face turned from green to white.

Her lips were tightly pinched as she glared at Olivia Jenkins.

The disdainful smile deepened and Olivia Jenkins continued her attack.

She spoke the most brutal words in the most calm tone, not giving Bella Thompson any room to maneuver.

"Your father-in-law had a woman before you, even fathered a son with her, yet you married him. What do you want? You live every day with the son of another woman who is also the heir to the Marshall Corporation, does this leave a sour taste?"

Are you sure you can convince him to forget that woman? The missing woman? Even though he doesn't mention her, could he forget her? He thinks about her, still has a place for her in his heart, do you know that? Bella Thompson, are you deceiving yourself?"

"Given your situation, Bella Thompson, why don't you divorce? How can you shamelessly stay in the Marshall household?"

“Are you coveting the Marshall family’s money and power? Are you after the Marshall Corporation, even willing to be a stand-in wife?”

Bella Thompson was so furious that her eyes were aflame and her face turned completely dark.

With a swoosh, she reached out to hit Olivia Jenkins.

Olivia Jenkins was keenly aware, she seized Bella Thompson’s hand with lightning-fast reflexes.

With extreme disdain, Olivia Jenkins shook off Bella Thompson’s hand. Her fierce eyes, filled with intimidating power stared at Bella Thompson, “With words and now actions, such petty behaviour.. Bella Thompson, if you dare to bully me again, I’ll bully your son!”