

Every Night 255

Chapter 255 Wife, I will provide for you!

Daniel Marshall's sexy thin lips curled into a pleased smile, a warm, tender light twinkling in his deep eyes.

Suddenly, he lifted the blanket off Olivia Jenkins' head, blowing air into her ear, "Aren't you going to work today?"

Olivia Jenkins frowned in displeasure, slightly opened an eye to glance at Daniel Marshall, her voice hoarse from having just woken up, exhibiting her lazy charm, "I don't want to work, I wish I could just slack off... Leave me alone, let me sleep for 5 more minutes..."

The smile on Daniel Marshall's lips deepened, he hugged Olivia Jenkins affectionately, his voice low and magnetic, like a bass drum, pleasant to the ears, making one yearn to continue hearing him speak, "Wifey, I'll support you!"

Olivia Jenkins's heavy eyelids trembled, and slowly opened her sleepy eyes.

She didn't say anything but removed Daniel Marshall's hand from her face with her own hand, pushing him away a bit.

Marshall's head tilted backward slightly before coming back to rest against Jenkins again.

He stopped bothering Olivia Jenkins then, forgetting that his back and chest were sore. They both lay in his arms.

Last night, they had each slept on their separate sides of the bed, seemingly distant.

But at some point, the little woman had snuggled over to him.

Not only was she nestled against him, but she had also snuggled into his arms.

That could have been it, but the little woman turned over and faced him, and then hugged him.

Startling him for a long time, he couldn't sleep.

The little woman had just gone too far — completely unaffected, she had no idea how embarrassing her actions were. Sleeping soundly in his arms, he didn't have the heart to wake her up, and let her sleep while hugging him.

To make her sleep more comfortably, he even offered his hand as a pillow for her.

As if treating him as her private property, she would not let go of her hold on him.

And so, he returned the favor and hugged her to sleep in return.

It wasn't long before Olivia Jenkins' phone rang with a second round of the alarm.

Without a second thought, Daniel Marshall immediately shut it off. Olivia Jenkins just wrinkled her brow a bit.

The third round of alarms annoyingly rang again without warning.

Daniel Marshall quickly shut it up, Olivia Jenkins slowly opened her eyes, seeming wide awake now.

Olivia Jenkins shifted a bit, her eyes darting around lively as if she intended to ignore Daniel Marshall who was right beside her.

“Wifey, you're awake!”

Zip — Olivia Jenkins moved away Daniel Marshall's hand, preparing to get out of bed.

In an instant, Daniel Marshall kissed her, grinning roguishly: "Good morning! You... hugged me all night, I swear, it wasn't me forcing you to do it." Olivia Jenkins blinked, wishing she could play innocent.

If two people sleep in the same bed and nothing happens, that would be abnormal.

Although it was something she had anticipated, and she was mentally prepared for it, hearing Daniel Marshall speak of it, Olivia Jenkins was still a bit upset and rolled her eyes instantly.

Olivia Jenkins quickly came up with an excuse, she said in a casual tone as if it was a trivial thing.

"I... I'm used to hugging a pillow when I sleep, so I just treated you like a pillow, you don't need to take it to heart. If you don't like being hugged by me, I can bring a pillow from the guest room to my bed tonight."

Was he only a pillow to her?

The handsome look on Daniel Marshall's face suddenly turned a bit somber, his eyes darkened, "My bed doesn't entertain other things, so, I'd rather you hug me."

Olivia Jenkins stretched and got out of bed.

She herself felt that she had slept deeply last night.

However, after a solid sleep, she woke up in the morning feeling more relaxed.

"It's still early, you continue sleeping. The doctor said you need to stay in bed for a few days."

"I won't sleep, more sleep makes me feel more uncomfortable."

Olivia Jenkins gave Daniel Marshall a cold stare, in an instant, Daniel Marshall changed his tune: "I'm hungry, let's have breakfast first, and then I'll rest.."
