

Every Night 30

Chapter 30: My Wife, Jin Xue

Jin Xue knew that there were surveillance cameras at the elevator entrance.

She stood where she was and made a phone call before taking the elevator back to the Thoracic Surgery Department.

She had just started work in the afternoon. Jin Xue was about to go to the hospital payment office to pay for the patient in bed 38 when someone who claimed to be from the special investigation team escorted her away.

“We received a report that you have violated the rules and demanded property from the patient’s family. The money in your hand is evidence.”

As he spoke, the department head showed Jin Xue a few photos.

The photo clearly showed her holding the money in her hand.

Jin Xue calmly looked at the department head. “I’m just an inpatient doctor. I don’t have much experience and don’t have the right to make decisions. I’m not the chief surgeon of the surgery. Isn’t it too stupid for the patient’s family to give me so much money? Since I can’t help, is it worth it for him to give me a stack of money?”

The department head’s expression was a little serious. “It’s a routine investigation. Doctor Jin, please cooperate.”

Jin Xue smiled, a sharp glint in her almond-shaped eyes.

“It’s really not a good thing to be suddenly hit by a pie. If word got out, even the resident doctors in the same department will find it unbelievable. At 1:30 p.m., I was in the underground parking lot, near the elevator near the employee parking space. I met the family of the patient in bed 38. He suddenly gave me a sum of money, turned around, and ran away.”

“I didn’t ask him for anything. I don’t know why he gave me this money. According to my previous communication with the patient’s family, this family’s financial situation isn’t very good. He shouldn’t be able to take out 10,000 yuan. If no one instructed him, he couldn’t bear to give me 10,000 yuan.”

The department head said, “We’ll verify what you told us.”

“When I received the money, I called the director and reported the situation to him. The director suggested that I deposit the money into the hospital account of the patient in bed 38. Because it was lunch break, my colleagues in the hospital payment office had yet to go to work, so I temporarily kept the money.

Department head, I have a recording of the call to testify.”

The department head listened to the recording and looked at the recording time. It was indeed a call between Jin Xue and the director, and it matched the situation that Jin Xue had told him.

“Doctor Jin, you’ve explained it very clearly, but we still have to go through the process and we still need your cooperation. You can only stay in the Medical Education Department for the time being.”

“I understand. I’ll continue to cooperate with the investigation.”

Jin Xue could only leave the Medical Education Department when it was time to clock off.

The hospital had made some adjustments. Jin Xue was no longer the doctor in charge of bed 38.

The department head did not tell Jin Xue the exact situation. He only said that he had investigated thoroughly and that she had indeed not violated the rules by asking for bribes.

Jin Xue did not need to know the exact situation. From the fact that the patient’s family had given her money for no reason, she clearly understood that this was a trap dug for her by others. She would not give anyone a chance to harm her.

When Jin Xue returned to the Pearl Lake Villa, she choked and coughed as soon as she entered.

The spiciness in the room was too strong. She didn't feel comfortable and didn't like it.

Jiang Yu was playing cards in the living room. When the others saw Jin Xue, they were all surprised.

Xiang Fu sized Jin Xue up. 'You're a servant here?'

Jiang Yu said as she played cards, "My wife, Jin Xue!"

The corners of Xiang Fu's mouth twitched in disbelief. "Yu, I didn't hear you mention you were married."

Jiang Yu's damaged lips and the teeth marks on her neck must have been bitten by his wife. Sadness flashed across Xiang Fu's eyes, but she still smiled faintly.

"Let's eat together!"

Jin Xue changed her shoes and ignored Xiang Fu. Aunt Zhen said loudly,

"Madam doesn't like spicy food. I'll cook for Madam."

Xiang Fu looked at Jin Xue provocatively. "Yu likes spicy food and likes my dishes. Next time, I'll cook two more dishes that aren't spicy.."
